INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5 FOR A BROKER-DEALER CLAIMING AN EXEMPTION FROM SEC RULE 15c3-3

The Board of Directors
OFG Financial Services, Inc.:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplementary schedules of OFG Financial Services, Inc. (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13, or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and for the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

McGLADREY NETWORK

An Independently Owned Member

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors
OFG Financial Services, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of OFG Financial Services, Inc. (the Company) as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of OFG Financial Services, Inc. at December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information contained in Schedules 1 through 5 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

OFG FINANCIAL SERVICES, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
Years Ended December 31, 2002 and 2001

1 - Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

OFG Financial Services, Inc. (the Company) is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). The Company concentrates in the marketing of mutual funds and annuities covering an area which includes seventeen states. A substantial part of commission income is generated through one carrier.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all cash and investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be a cash equivalent.

Commissions and Concessions Revenue

Commissions and concessions are recorded as revenue once the carrier or mutual fund company confirms that payment has been received and the commission or concession earned.

Furniture and Equipment

Furniture and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation is provided on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of assets, which are generally five years. Capital leases are amortized over a period not in excess of applicable lease terms. Expenditures for major renewals and improvements are capitalized. Expenditures for maintenance and repair are charged to expense as incurred. When equipment is retired or otherwise disposed of, the related costs and accumulated depreciation or amortization are removed from the accounts, and any gain or loss is reflected in income.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

OFG FINANCIAL SERVICES, INC.

2 - Deposits

The Company routinely invests its surplus operating funds in money market funds. These funds generally invest in highly liquid U.S. government and agency obligations and various investment grade corporate obligations. Investments in money market funds are not insured or guaranteed by the U.S. government or by the underlying corporation; however, management believes that credit risk related to these investments is minimal.

3 - Leases

The Company entered into a residential property lease on January 1, 1997 for the purpose of providing a Topeka residence for the President of the Company. Annual lease payments for 2002 and 2001 were $ 12,000. The lease can be terminated by either party upon 30 days notice.

The Company entered into a three year lease agreement for office space on April 1, 1999. The lease terminated on June 30, 2002. The Company extended the current lease for 60 months which is set to terminate June 30, 2007. Annual lease expense for 2002 and 2001 was $ 61,826 and $ 54,208, respectively.

Minimum future lease payments are as follows:

2003	$ 60,361
2004	62,183
2005	64,032
2006	65,935
2007	33,450
	$ 285,961

OFG FINANCIAL SERVICES, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

4 - Pension Plan

Effective January 1, 1997, the Company adopted the OFG Financial 401(k) Plan (the Plan). Full-time employees must complete one year of service and be at least 21 years of age in order to participate in the Plan. Employees can contribute up to 10% of their salary subject to Internal Revenue Service limitations. The Company provided a discretionary contribution of 10% and 5% in 2002 and 2001, respectively. Both employee and employer contributions are 100% vested upon payment into the Plan. For the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001, the Company contributed $ 84,233 and $ 36,974, respectively, into the Plan. These contributions are included in employee compensation and benefits on the statements of income.

Effective January 1, 2001, the Company adopted the OFG Financial Services Money Purchase Plan (the Purchase Plan). Employees must complete one year of service and be at least 21 years of age in order to participate in the Purchase Plan. The Company contributed 5% of each employee's salary in 2001. Contributions are 100% vested upon payment into the Purchase Plan. For the year ended December 31, 2001, the Company contributed $ 33,633 into the Purchase Plan. Effective December 31, 2001, the Purchase Plan was terminated and the employees' balances were merged into the OFG Financial 401(k) Plan.

5 - Income Taxes

Provision for income taxes reflected on the statements of income represents current taxes. The tax rate is lower than the Federal statutory rate of 34% primarily due to the use of lower rates attributable to the first $ 50,000 of income of the graduated income tax brackets.

6 - Related Party Transactions

For 2002 and 2001, the Company received $ 1,500 per month from an affiliated corporation for use of office facilities and other administrative costs. These receipts are netted against certain operating expenses, including rent, communications, and promotional costs.
