Without prejudice to the provisions relating to Global Notes set out below, title to the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons will pass by delivery. Except as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction or as required by law, the Issuer, the Trustee, the Agent and any other Paying Agent shall (subject as set out below) be entitled to deem and treat the bearer of any Note, Receipt or Coupon as the absolute owner thereof (whether or not such Note, Receipt or Coupon shall be overdue and notwithstanding any notice to the contrary or any notation of ownership or writing thereon or notice of any previous loss or theft thereof) for the purpose of making payment thereon and for all other purposes. For so long as any of the Notes is represented by a Global Note held on behalf of Euroclear Bank SA/NV ("Euroclear") and/or Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg"), each person (other than Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg) who is for the time being shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the holder of a particular nominal amount of such Notes (in which regard any certificate or other document issued by Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as to the nominal amount of such Notes standing to the account of any person shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes save in the case of manifest error) shall be treated by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Agent and any other Paying Agent as the holder of such nominal amount of such Notes for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of principal and interest on such Notes, the right to which shall be vested, as against the Issuer, solely in the bearer of the Global Note in accordance with and subject to its terms (or the Trustee in accordance with the Trust Deed) (and the expressions "Noteholder", "holder of Notes" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly). Notes which are represented by a Global Note will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be.

Any references herein to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system approved by the Issuer, the Agent and the Trustee or specified in the applicable Final Terms.

2. Status of Senior Notes

If the Notes are specified as Senior Notes in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes and the relative Receipts and Coupons (if any) are direct, unconditional and (subject to the provisions of Condition 4) unsecured obligations of the Issuer ranking pari passu and without any preference among themselves and (subject as aforesaid and to any applicable statutory provisions) at least equally with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer.

3. Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes

(i) If the Notes are specified as Dated Subordinated Notes in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes and the relative Receipts and Coupons (if any) are direct and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank without any preference among themselves. The rights of the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders will, in the event of the winding-up of the Issuer or the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer where the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, be subordinated in the manner provided in the Trust Deed to the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer in respect of their respective Senior Claims.

In the case of Dated Subordinated Notes, payments of principal and interest in respect of the Notes are, in the event of a winding up of the Issuer or the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer where the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of payment by the Issuer, and accordingly in such event no principal or interest shall be payable except to the extent that the Issuer could make such payment and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For the purpose of this Condition 3(i), the Issuer shall be solvent if its Assets exceed its Liabilities (other than its Liabilities which are not Senior Claims). A report as to the solvency of the Issuer by its liquidator shall in the absence of proven error be treated and accepted by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders as correct and sufficient evidence thereof.

(ii) If the Notes are specified as Undated Subordinated Notes in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes and the relative Coupons (if any) are direct and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank without any preference among themselves, and the rights of the Noteholders and the Couponholders are subordinated in right of payment in the manner provided in the Trust Deed to the claims of Senior Creditors.

In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, payments of principal and interest in respect of the Notes are, in addition to the right of the Issuer to defer payment of interest in accordance with Condition 5*(f)*, conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of payment by the Issuer, and no principal or interest shall be payable except to the extent that the Issuer could make such payment and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For the purpose of this Condition 3(ii), the Issuer shall be solvent if (1) to the extent that any determination as to solvency falls to be made prior to the commencement of winding up or administration of the Issuer, it is able to pay its debts owed to Senior Creditors as they fall due and (2) its Assets exceed its Liabilities (other than its Liabilities to persons who are not Senior Creditors). A report as to the solvency of the Issuer by two directors of the Issuer or, if the Issuer is in winding up, its liquidator or, if the Issuer is in administration, its administrator, shall in the absence of proven error be treated and accepted by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Noteholders and the Couponholders as correct and sufficient evidence thereof.

In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, if at any time an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up in England of the Issuer (except in any such case a solvent winding up solely for the purpose of a reconstruction or amalgamation or the substitution in place of the Issuer of a Successor in Business (as defined in the Trust Deed), the terms of which reconstruction, amalgamation or substitution (A) have previously been approved by the Trustee in writing or by an Extraordinary Resolution (as defined in the Trust Deed) of the Noteholders and (B) do not provide that the Notes shall thereby become payable) or if, following the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer, the administrator gives notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, there shall be payable on each Note (in lieu of any other payment, but subject as provided in this Condition), such amount, if any, as would have been payable to the holder thereof if, on the day prior to the commencement of the winding up or such administration and thereafter, such Noteholder were the holder of a preference share in the capital of the Issuer having a preferential right to a return of assets in the winding up or such administration over the holders of all issued shares for the time being in the capital of the Issuer on the assumption that such preference share was entitled to receive on a return of assets in such winding up or such administration an amount equal to the principal amount of such Note together with Arrears of Interest (as defined in Condition 5(f)), if any, and any interest (other than Arrears of Interest) which is payable (as provided in the Trust Deed).

N.B. The obligations of the Issuer in respect of Undated Subordinated Notes and the relative Coupons are conditional upon the Issuer being solvent for the purpose of this Condition 3(ii) immediately before and after payment by the Issuer. If this Condition 3(ii) is not satisfied, any amounts which might otherwise have been allocated in or towards payment of principal and interest in respect of the Undated Subordinated Notes may be used to absorb losses.

(iii) Subject to applicable law, no Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder may exercise, claim or plead any right of set-off, compensation or retention in respect of any amount owed to it by the Issuer arising under or in connection with the Notes, the Receipts or the Coupons and each Noteholder, Receiptholder and Couponholder shall, by virtue of being the holder of any Note, Receipt or Coupon (as the case may be), be deemed to have waived all such rights of set-off, compensation or retention.

(iv) For the purpose of this Condition:—

"Assets" means the unconsolidated gross assets of the Issuer and "Liabilities" means the unconsolidated gross liabilities of the Issuer, all as shown in the latest published audited balance sheet of the Issuer, but adjusted for contingent assets and contingent liabilities and for subsequent events, all in such manner as the directors of the Issuer or the liquidator (as the case may be) may determine;

"Senior Claims" means the aggregate amount of all claims which are not in respect of indebtedness of the Issuer the right to repayment of which by its terms is, or is expressed to be, subordinated to (or otherwise ranks after) the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer; and

"Senior Creditors" means creditors of the Issuer (i) who are unsubordinated depositors or other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer, or (ii) whose claims are, or are expressed to be, subordinated (whether only in the event of the winding up or administration of the Issuer or otherwise) to the claims of unsubordinated depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer but not further or otherwise, or (iii) who are subordinated creditors of the Issuer other than those whose claims are, or are expressed to rank, pari passu with, or junior to, the claims of the Noteholders.

4. Negative Pledge (Senior Notes only)

If the Notes are specified as Senior Notes in the applicable Final Terms, so long as any of the Notes remain outstanding (as defined in the Trust Deed) the Issuer will neither create nor have outstanding any mortgage, lien (other than a lien arising by operation of law), pledge or other charge upon the whole or any part of its undertaking or assets, present or future (including any uncalled capital), to secure any Loan Stock of the Issuer or any obligation of the Issuer under any guarantee of or indemnity in respect of any Loan Stock of any subsidiary (as defined in the Trust Deed) of the Issuer without at the same time or prior thereto securing the Notes equally and rateably therewith to the satisfaction of the Trustee or providing such other security for the Notes as the Trustee in its absolute discretion shall deem to be not materially less beneficial to the holders of the Notes or as shall be approved by an Extraordinary Resolution of the holders of the Notes.

For the purposes of these Terms and Conditions "Loan Stock" means indebtedness which is in the form of, or represented or evidenced by, bonds, notes, debentures, loan stock or other securities which for the time being are, or are intended to be, quoted, listed, ordinarily dealt in or traded on any stock exchange, over-the-counter or other established securities market but excluding any such indebtedness which has a stated maturity not exceeding one year.

5. Interest

In respect of Undated Subordinated Notes, payments of interest are subject to the right of the Issuer to defer payment in accordance with Condition 5(f) and subject to Condition 3(ii).

(a) Interest on Fixed Rate Notes

Each Fixed Rate Note bears interest on its outstanding nominal amount (or, if it is a Partly Paid Note, the amount paid up) from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Rate(s) of Interest payable, subject as provided in these Terms and Conditions, in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Maturity Date.

Except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, the amount of interest payable on each Interest Payment Date in respect of the Fixed Interest Period ending on (but excluding) such date will amount to the Fixed Coupon Amount. Payments of interest on any Interest Payment Date will, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, amount to the Broken Amount so specified.

If interest is required to be calculated for a period other than a Fixed Interest Period or if no Fixed Coupon Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, such interest shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to each Specified Denomination, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.

"Day Count Fraction" means in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest in accordance with this Condition 5*(a)*:

(i) if "Actual/Actual (ICMA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms:

(A) in the case of Notes where the number of days in the relevant period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (the "Accrual Period") is equal to or shorter than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the number of days in such Accrual Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year; or

(B) in the case of Notes where the Accrual Period is longer than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the sum of:

(1) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the Determination Period in which the Accrual Period begins divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year; and

(2) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the next Determination Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates that would occur in one calendar year; and

(ii) if "30/360" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (such number of days being calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months) divided by 360.

In these Terms and Conditions:

"Determination Period" means each period from (and including) a Determination Date to (but excluding) the next Determination Date (including, where either the Interest Commencement Date or the Final Interest Payment Date is not a Determination Date, the period commencing on the First Determination Date prior to, and ending on the First Determination Date falling after, such date;

"Fixed Interest Period" means the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date; and

"sub-unit" means, with respect to any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, with respect to euro, means one cent.

(b) Interest on Floating Rate Notes and Index Linked Interest Notes

(i) Interest Payment Dates

Each Floating Rate Note and Index Linked Interest Note bears interest on its outstanding nominal amount (or, if it is a Partly Paid Note, the amount paid up) from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date and such interest will be payable in arrear on either:

(A) the Specified Interest Payment Date(s) in each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; or

(B) if no Specified Interest Payment Date(s) is/are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each date (each such date, together with each Specified Interest Payment Date, an "Interest Payment Date") which falls the number of months or other period specified as the Specified Period in the applicable Final Terms after the preceding Interest Payment Date or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, after the Interest Commencement Date.

Such interest will be payable in respect of each Interest Period (which expression shall, in these Terms and Conditions, mean the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date).

If a Business Day Convention is specified in the applicable Final Terms and (x) if there is no numerically corresponding day in the calendar month in which an Interest Payment Date should occur or (y) if any Interest Payment Date would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day, then, if the Business Day Convention specified is:

(1) in any case where Specified Periods are specified in accordance with Condition 5*(b)*(i)(B) above, the Floating Rate Convention, such Interest Payment Date (i) in the case of (x) above, shall be the last day that is a Business Day in the relevant month and the provisions of (B) below shall apply mutatis mutandis or (ii) in the case of (y) above, shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event (A) such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day and (B) each subsequent Interest Payment Date shall be the last Business Day in the month which falls in the Specified Period after the preceding applicable Interest Payment Date occurred; or

(2) the Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day; or

(3) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or

(4) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day.

In this Condition, "Business Day" means a day which is both:—

(A) a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London and each Additional Business Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(B) either (1) in relation to Notes denominated or payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than London or any Additional Business Centre) and which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively or (2) in relation to Notes denominated or payable in euro, a day on which the Trans-European Automated Real-Time Gross Settlement Express Transfer (TARGET) System (the "Target System") is open.

(ii) Rate of Interest

The Rate of Interest payable from time to time in respect of Floating Rate Notes and Index Linked Interest Notes will be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(A) ISDA Determination for Floating Rate Notes

Where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will be the relevant ISDA Rate plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin (if any).

For the purposes of this sub-paragraph (A), "ISDA Rate" for an Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate that would be determined by the Agent or other person specified in the applicable Final Terms under an interest rate swap transaction if the Agent or that other person were acting as Calculation Agent for that swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the 2000 ISDA Definitions as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. and as amended and updated as at the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the Notes (the "ISDA Definitions") and under which:—

(1) the Floating Rate Option is as specified in the applicable Final Terms;

(2) the Designated Maturity is the period specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(3) the relevant Reset Date is either (i) if the applicable Floating Rate Option is based on the London inter-bank offered rate ("LIBOR") or the Euro-zone inter-bank offered rate ("EURIBOR") for a currency, the first day of that Interest Period or (ii) in any other case, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

For the purpose of this sub-paragraph (A), "Floating Rate", "Calculation Agent", "Floating Rate Option", "Designated Maturity" and "Reset Date" have the meanings given to those terms in the ISDA Definitions.

(B) Screen Rate Determination for Floating Rate Notes

Where Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will, subject as provided below, be either:—

(1) the offered quotation (if there is only one quotation on the Relevant Screen Page); or

(2) the arithmetic mean (rounded if necessary to the fifth decimal place, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards) of the offered quotations,

(expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate which appears or appear, as the case may be, on the Relevant Screen Page as at 11.00 a.m. (London time, in the case of LIBOR, or Brussels time, in the case of EURIBOR) on the Interest Determination Date in question plus or minus the Margin (if any), all as determined by the Agent. If five or more such offered quotations are available on the Relevant Screen Page, the highest (or, if there is more than one such highest quotation, one only of such quotations) and the lowest (or, if there is more than one such lowest quotation, one only of such quotations) shall be disregarded by the Agent for the purpose of determining the arithmetic mean (rounded as provided above) of such offered quotations.

The Agency Agreement contains provisions for determining the Rate of Interest pursuant to this sub-paragraph (B) in the event that the Relevant Screen Page is not available or if, in the case of (1) above, no such offered quotation appears or, in the case of (2) above, fewer than three such offered quotations appear, in each case as at the time specified in the preceding paragraph.

If the Reference Rate from time to time in respect of the Floating Rate Notes is specified in the applicable Final Terms as being other than LIBOR or EURIBOR, the Rate of Interest in respect of such Notes will be determined as provided in the applicable Final Terms.

(iii) Minimum and/or Maximum Rate of Interest

If the applicable Final Terms specifies a Minimum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (ii) above is less than such Minimum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Minimum Rate of Interest.

If the applicable Final Terms specifies a Maximum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (ii) above is greater than such Maximum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Maximum Rate of Interest.

(iv) Determination of Rate of Interest and calculation of Interest Amounts

The Agent, in the case of Floating Rate Notes, and the Calculation Agent, in the case of Index Linked Interest Notes, will, at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, determine the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period. In the case of Index Linked Interest Notes, the Calculation Agent will notify the Agent of the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period as soon as practicable after calculating the same.

The Agent will calculate the amount of interest payable on the Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes in respect of each Specified Denomination (each an "Interest Amount") for the relevant Interest Period. Each Interest Amount shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to each Specified Denomination, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.

"Day Count Fraction" means, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest for any Interest Period:

(i) if "Actual/365" or "Actual/Actual ISDA" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 (or, if any portion of that Interest Period falls in a leap year, the sum of (A) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (B) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a non-leap year divided by 365);

(ii) if "Actual/365 (Fixed)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365;

(iii) if "Actual/360" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360;

(iv) if "30/360", "360/360" or "Bond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360 (the number of days to be calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months (unless (a) the last day of the Interest Period is the 31st day of a month but the first day of the Interest Period is a day other than the 30th or 31st day of a month, in which case the month that includes that last day shall not be considered to be shortened to a 30-day month, or (b) the last day of the Interest Period is the last day of the month of February, in which case the month of February shall not be considered to be lengthened to a 30-day month));

(v) if "30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360 (the number of days to be calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months, without regard to the date of the first day or last day of the Interest Period unless, in the case of the final Interest Period, the Maturity Date is the last day of the month of February, in which case the month of February shall not be considered to be lengthened to a 30-day month); and

(vi) if "Actual/365 (Sterling)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 or, in the case of an Interest Payment Date falling in a leap year, 366.

(v) Notification of Rate of Interest and Interest Amounts

The Issuer will cause the Rate of Interest and each Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relative Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Trustee and to any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to listing and to be published in accordance with Condition 19 as soon as possible after their determination but in no event later than the fourth Business Day (as defined in Condition 5*(b)*(i) above) thereafter. Each Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment or alternative arrangements will be promptly notified to each stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to listing and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19.

(vi) Determination or calculation by Trustee

If for any reason at any time after the Issue Date, the Agent or, as the case may be, the Calculation Agent defaults in its obligation to determine the Rate of Interest or the Agent defaults in its obligation to calculate any Interest Amount in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii) or (iv) above, the Trustee shall determine the Rate of Interest at such rate as, in its absolute discretion (having such regard as it shall think fit to the foregoing provisions of this Condition, but subject always to any Minimum or Maximum Rate of Interest specified in the applicable

Final Terms), it shall deem fair and reasonable in all the circumstances or, as the case may be, the Trustee shall calculate the Interest Amount(s) in such manner as it shall deem fair and reasonable in all the circumstances and each such determination or calculation shall be deemed to have been made by the Agent or the Calculation Agent, as the case may be.

(vii) Certificates to be final

All certificates, communications, opinions, determinations, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the provisions of this Condition 5*(b)*, whether by the Agent or the Calculation Agent or the Trustee, shall (in the absence of wilful default, bad faith or manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, the Agent, the Calculation Agent, the Trustee, the other Paying Agents and all Noteholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders and (in the absence as aforesaid) no liability to the Issuer, the Noteholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders shall attach to the Agent, the Calculation Agent or the Trustee in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by them of their powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

(c) Dual Currency Notes

In the case of Dual Currency Notes, where the rate or amount of interest falls to be determined by reference to an exchange rate, the rate or amount of interest shall be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(d) Partly Paid Notes

In the case of Partly Paid Notes (other than Partly Paid Notes which are Zero Coupon Notes), interest will accrue as aforesaid on the paid-up nominal amount of such Notes and otherwise as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(e) Interest Accrual

Interest (if any) will cease to accrue on each Note (or in the case of the redemption of part only of a Note, that part only of such Note) on the due date for redemption thereof unless, upon due presentation thereof, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused or (in the case of Subordinated Notes) is not made by reason of Condition 3 in which event interest will continue to accrue as provided in the Trust Deed.

(f) Interest on Undated Subordinated Notes

In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, on an Interest Payment Date there may be paid the interest accrued in respect of the Interest Period ending on but excluding such date, but the Issuer shall not have any obligation to make such payment and any failure to pay shall not constitute a default by the Issuer for any purpose. If the Issuer opts not to pay interest on an Interest Payment Date, it shall give not less than 30 days' notice of such option to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19. Any interest not paid on an Interest Payment Date together with any other interest not paid on any other Interest Payment Date shall, so long as the same remains unpaid, constitute "Arrears of Interest". Arrears of Interest may, at the option of the Issuer (subject to Condition 3), be paid in whole or in part at any time upon the expiration of not less than seven days' notice to such effect given to the Trustee and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19, but all Arrears of Interest on all Notes outstanding shall (subject to Condition 3) become due in full on whichever is the earliest of (i) the date upon which a dividend is next paid on any class of share capital of the Issuer, (ii) the date set for any redemption pursuant to Condition 6, or (iii) the commencement of winding up in England of the Issuer.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if notice is given by the Issuer of its intention to pay the whole or part of Arrears of Interest, the Issuer shall be obliged (subject to Condition 3) to do so upon the expiration of such notice. Where Arrears of Interest are paid in part, each part payment shall be applied in payment of the Arrears of Interest accrued due in respect of the relative Interest Payment Date (or consecutive Interest Payment Dates) furthest from the date of payment. Arrears of Interest shall not themselves bear interest.

6. Redemption and Purchase

(a) Final redemption

If this Note is a Senior Note or a Dated Subordinated Note, it will, unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled as provided below, be redeemed at its Final Redemption Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms in the relevant Specified Currency on the Maturity Date. If this Note is an Undated Subordinated Note, it has no final maturity date and is only redeemable in accordance with the following provisions of this Condition 6 or Condition 12.

(b) Redemption for taxation reasons

If the Issuer satisfies the Trustee immediately prior to the giving of the notice referred to below that either (i) on the occasion of the next date for payment of interest the Issuer is or will be required to pay additional amounts as provided in Condition 10 or (ii) (in the case of Undated Subordinated Notes only) on the next Interest Payment Date the payment of interest in respect of the Notes would be treated as a "distribution" within the meaning of the Taxes Acts for the time being of the United Kingdom, then the Issuer may (subject, if this Note is a Subordinated Note, to obtaining Relevant Supervisory Consent (as defined below) and to Condition 3) having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Trustee and, in accordance with Condition 19, the Noteholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) redeem at any time (if this Note is neither a Floating Rate Note nor an Index Linked Interest Note) or on the next Interest Payment Date (if this Note is a Floating Rate Note or an Index Linked Interest Note) all, but not some only, of the Notes at their Early Redemption Amount referred to in Condition 6*(g)* below together, if applicable, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption and, in the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, all Arrears of Interest (if any) as provided in Condition 5*(f)*. Upon the expiry of such notice, the Issuer shall be bound to redeem the Notes accordingly.

For the purposes of these Terms and Conditions "Relevant Supervisory Consent" means the consent to the relevant redemption, payment, repayment or purchase, as the case may be, of the Financial Services Authority or the notification thereof to the Financial Services Authority (and no objection being raised by the Financial Services Authority) (so long as the Issuer is required by the Financial Services Authority to obtain such consent or make such notification).

(c) Redemption at the option of the Issuer (Issuer Call)

If Issuer Call is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may, having (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms) given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Trustee, the Agent and, in accordance with Condition 19, the Noteholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) (subject, if this Note is a Subordinated Note, to obtaining Relevant Supervisory Consent and to Condition 3), redeem all or some only (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) of the Notes then outstanding on the Optional Redemption Date(s) and at the Optional Redemption Amount(s) as specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms, together, if applicable, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the relevant Optional Redemption Date(s) and, in the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, all Arrears of Interest (if any) as provided in Condition 5*(f)*. Upon expiry of such notice the Issuer shall be bound to redeem the Notes accordingly. In the event of a redemption of some only of the Notes, such redemption must be for an amount being the Minimum Redemption Amount or a Higher Redemption Amount. In the case of a partial redemption of Notes, the Notes to be redeemed ("Redeemed Notes") will be selected individually by lot, in the case of Redeemed Notes represented by definitive Notes, and in accordance with the rules of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (to be reflected in the records of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg as either a pool factor or a reduction in nominal amount, at their discretion), in the case of Redeemed Notes represented by a global Note, not more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for redemption (such date of selection being hereinafter called the "Selection Date"). In the case of Redeemed Notes represented by definitive Notes, a list of such Redeemed Notes will be published in accordance with Condition 19 not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption. The aggregate nominal amount of Redeemed Notes represented by definitive Notes shall bear the same proportion to the aggregate nominal amount of all Redeemed Notes as the aggregate nominal amount of definitive Notes outstanding bears to the aggregate nominal amount of all Notes outstanding, in each case on the Selection

Date, provided that any such nominal amount shall, if necessary, be rounded downwards to the nearest integral multiple of the lowest Specified Denomination, and the aggregate nominal amount of Redeemed Notes represented by a global Note shall be equal to the balance of the Redeemed Notes. No exchange of the relevant global Note will be permitted during the period from and including the Selection Date to and including the date fixed for redemption pursuant to this Condition 6*(c)* and notice to that effect shall be given by the Issuer to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19 at least 30 days prior to the Selection Date.

If this Note is a Senior Note and Investor Put is specified in the applicable Final Terms, then, if and to the extent specified in the applicable Final Terms, upon the holder of this Note giving to the Issuer, in accordance with Condition 19, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice (which notice shall be irrevocable), the Issuer will, upon the expiry of such notice, redeem subject to, and in accordance with, the terms specified in the applicable Final Terms in whole (but not in part) such Note on the Optional Redemption Date and at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount as specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms, together, if applicable, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the relevant Optional Redemption Date.

If this Note is in definitive form, to exercise the right to require redemption of this Note the holder of this Note must deliver such Note, on any Business Day (as defined in Condition 5(b)(i)) falling within the notice period at the specified office of any Paying Agent, accompanied by a duly signed and completed notice of exercise in the form (for the time being current) obtainable from any specified office of any Paying Agent (a "Put Notice") and in which the holder must specify a bank account (or, if payment is by cheque, an address) to which payment is to be made under this Condition.

(e) Purchases

The Issuer or any of its subsidiaries may (subject, in the case of Subordinated Notes, to obtaining prior Relevant Supervisory Consent and to Condition 3), at any time purchase or otherwise acquire Notes (provided that, in the case of definitive Notes, all unmatured Receipts and Coupons appertaining thereto are attached thereto or surrendered therewith) in the open market either by tender or private agreement or otherwise, without restriction as to price. Such Notes may be held, reissued, resold or, at the option of the Issuer, surrendered to any Paying Agent for cancellation.

(f) Late Payment on Zero Coupon Notes

If the amount payable in respect of any Zero Coupon Note upon redemption of such Zero Coupon Note pursuant to Condition 6*(a)*, (b), (c) or (d) above or upon its becoming due and repayable as provided in Condition 11 (if this Note is a Senior Note) or Condition 12 (if this Note is a Subordinated Note) is improperly withheld or refused or (in the case of Subordinated Notes) is not made by reason of Condition 3, the amount due and repayable in respect of such Zero Coupon Note shall (subject to Condition 3) be the amount calculated as provided in Condition 6*(g)*(iii) below as though the references therein to the date fixed for redemption or the date upon which such Zero Coupon Note becomes due and repayable were replaced by references to the date which is the earlier of:—

(i) the date on which all amounts due in respect of the Zero Coupon Note have been paid; and

(ii) the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable has been received by the Agent and notice to that effect has been given to the Noteholders either in accordance with Condition 19 or individually.

(g) Early Redemption Amounts

For the purposes of Condition 6*(b)* above and Condition 11 (if this Note is a Senior Note) or Condition 12 (if this Note is a Subordinated Note), the Notes will be redeemed at an amount (the "Early Redemption Amount") determined or calculated as follows:—

(i) in the case of Notes with a Final Redemption Amount equal to the Issue Price, at the Final Redemption Amount thereof; or

(ii) in the case of Notes (other than Zero Coupon Notes but including Instalment Notes and Partly Paid Notes) with a Final Redemption Amount which is or may be less or greater than the Issue Price or which is payable in a Specified Currency other than that in which the Notes are denominated, at the amount set out in, or determined in the manner set out in, the applicable Final Terms, or, if no such amount or manner is so set out, at their nominal amount; or

(iii) in the case of Zero Coupon Notes, at an amount (the "Amortised Face Amount") equal to the sum of:—

(A) the Reference Price; and

(B) the product of the Accrual Yield (compounded annually) being applied to the Reference Price from (and including) the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the Notes to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption or (as the case may be) the date upon which such Note becomes due and repayable, or such other amount as is provided in the applicable Final Terms.

Where such calculation is to be made for a period which is not a whole number of years, it shall be made (i) in the case of a Zero Coupon Note payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of 12 months of 30 days each or (ii) in the case of a Zero Coupon Note payable in euro, on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed divided by 365 (or, if any of the days elapsed falls in a leap year, the sum of (x) the number of those days falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (y) the number of those days falling in a non leap year divided by 365) or (iii) on such other calculation basis as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(h) Instalments

Instalment Notes will be repaid in the Instalment Amounts and on the Instalment Dates. In the case of early redemption, the Early Redemption Amount will be determined pursuant to Condition 6*(g)* above.

(i) Cancellation

All Notes which are redeemed in full will forthwith be cancelled (together with, in the case of definitive Notes, all unmatured Receipts and Coupons attached thereto or surrendered therewith) and such Notes may not be re-issued or resold.

(j) Partly Paid Notes

Partly Paid Notes will be redeemed, whether at maturity, early redemption or otherwise, in accordance with the provisions of this Condition and the applicable Final Terms.

7. Payments

(a) Method of Payment

Subject as provided below:—

(i) payments in a Specified Currency other than euro will be made by transfer to an account in the relevant Specified Currency (which, in the case of a payment in Yen to a non-resident of Japan, shall be a non-resident account) maintained by the payee with, or by a cheque in such Specified Currency drawn on, a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of such Specified Currency (which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively); and

(ii) payments in euro will be made by credit or transfer to a euro account (or any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) specified by the payee or, at the option of the payee, by a euro cheque.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment, but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 10. References to "Specified Currency" will include any successor currency under applicable law.

(b) Presentation of Notes, Receipts and Coupons

Subject as provided below, payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of definitive Notes (if issued) will be made against presentation and surrender of definitive Notes or Coupons, as the case may be, at any specified office of any Paying Agent outside the United States (which expression, as used herein, means the United States of America (including the States and the District of Columbia, its territories, its possessions and other areas subject to its jurisdiction)). Payments of instalments (if any) of principal, other than the final instalment, will (subject as provided below) be made against presentation and surrender of the relevant Receipt. Each Receipt must be presented for payment of the relevant instalment together with the definitive Note to which it appertains. If any definitive Note is redeemed or becomes repayable prior to the stated maturity thereof, principal will be payable only on surrender of such Note together with all unmatured Receipts appertaining thereto. Receipts presented without the definitive Note to which they appertain and unmatured Receipts do not constitute valid obligations of the Issuer.

Payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of Notes represented by any Global Note will (subject as provided below) be made in the manner specified above in relation to definitive Notes and otherwise in the manner specified in the relevant global Note against presentation or surrender, as the case may be, of such global Note, at the specified office of any Paying Agent. A record of each payment made on such Global Note, distinguishing between any payment of principal and any payment of interest, will be made on such Global Note by such Paying Agent and such record shall be prima facie evidence that the payment in question has been made.

The holder of the relevant Global Note (or, as provided in the Trust Deed, the Trustee) shall be the only person entitled to receive payments in respect of Notes represented by such Global Note and the Issuer will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, the holder of such Global Note (or the Trustee, as the case may be) in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the holder of a particular nominal amount of Notes represented by such Global Note must look solely to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, for his share of each payment so made by the Issuer to, or to the order of, the holder of the relevant Global Note (or the Trustee, as the case may be). No person other than the holder of the relevant Global Note (or, as provided in the Trust Deed, the Trustee) shall have any claim against the Issuer in respect of any payments due on that Global Note.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, payments of interest in U.S. Dollars will only be made at the specified office of any Paying Agent in the United States if (a) the Issuer shall have appointed Paying Agents with specified offices outside the United States with the reasonable expectation that such Paying Agents would be able to make payment at such specified offices outside the United States of the full amount of interest on the Notes in the manner provided above when due, (b) payment of the full amount of such interest at such specified offices outside the United States is illegal or effectively precluded by exchange controls or other similar restrictions and (c) such payment is then permitted under United States law without involving, in the opinion of the Issuer, adverse tax consequences to the Issuer.

Fixed Rate Notes in definitive form (other than Dual Currency Notes or Index Linked Notes) should be presented for payment together with all unmatured Coupons appertaining thereto (which expression shall include Coupons falling to be issued on exchange of matured Talons), failing which an amount equal to the face value of any missing unmatured Coupon (or, in the case of payment not being made in full, the same proportion of the amount of such missing unmatured Coupon as the sum so paid bears to the total amount due) will be deducted from the amount due for payment. Each amount of principal so deducted will be paid in the manner mentioned above against surrender of the relevant missing Coupon at any time before the expiry of twelve years after the relevant date (as defined in Condition 10) in respect of such principal (whether or not such Coupon would otherwise have become void under Condition 13) or, if later, six years from the date on which such Coupon would otherwise have become due.

Upon any Fixed Rate Note becoming due and repayable prior to its Maturity Date, all unmatured Talons (if any) appertaining thereto will become void and no further Coupons will be issued in respect thereof.

Upon the due date for redemption of any Floating Rate Note, Dual Currency Note or Index Linked Note in definitive form, all unmatured Coupons and Talons (if any), relating to such Note (whether or not attached) shall become void and no payment or, as the case may be, exchange for further Coupons shall be made in respect thereof.

In relation to any Undated Subordinated Note in definitive form, if any payment is to be made in respect of interest, the Interest Payment Date for which falls on or after the date on which the winding up in England of the Issuer is deemed to have commenced or, where an administrator of the Issuer has been appointed and the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, on or after the date of giving such notice, such payment shall be made only against presentation of the relevant Note, and the Coupon for any such Interest Payment Date shall be void. In addition, any Undated Subordinated Note in definitive form presented for payment after an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up in England of the Issuer or, where an administrator of the Issuer has been appointed and the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, on or after the date of giving such notice must be presented together with all Coupons in respect of Arrears of Interest relating to Interest Payment Dates falling prior to the commencement of such winding up of the Issuer, failing which there shall be withheld from any payment otherwise due to the holder of such Undated Subordinated Note such proportion thereof as the Arrears of Interest due in respect of any such missing Coupon bears to the total of the principal amount of the relevant Undated Subordinated Note, all Arrears of Interest in respect thereof and interest (other than Arrears of Interest) accrued on such Undated Subordinated Note in respect of the Interest Period current at the date of the commencement of the winding up.

(c) Payment Day

If any date for payment of any amount in respect of any Note, Receipt or Coupon is not a Payment Day (as defined below), then the holder thereof shall not be entitled to payment of the relevant amount due until the next following Payment Day and shall not be entitled to any interest or other sum in respect of any such delay. In this Condition (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms), "Payment Day" means any day which (subject to Condition 13) is:—

(i) a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealings in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in:

  (A) the relevant place of presentation;

  (B) London;

  (C) each Additional Financial Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(ii) either (1) in relation to any sum payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealings in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than the place of presentation, London and any Additional Financial Centre and which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland respectively) or (2) in relation to any sum payable in euro, a day on which the TARGET System is open.

If the due date for redemption of any interest bearing Note in definitive form is not a due date for the payment of interest relating thereto, interest accrued in respect of such interest bearing Note from (and including) the last preceding due date for the payment of interest (or from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date, as the case may be) will be paid only against surrender of such interest bearing Note.

(d) Interpretation of Principal and Interest

Any reference in these Terms and Conditions to principal in respect of the Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable:—

(i) any additional amounts which may be payable with respect to principal under Condition 10 or pursuant to any undertakings given in addition thereto or in substitution therefor pursuant to the Trust Deed;

(ii) the Final Redemption Amount of the Notes;

(iii) the Early Redemption Amount of the Notes;

(iv) the Optional Redemption Amount(s) (if any) of the Notes;

(v) in relation to Notes redeemable in instalments, the Instalment Amounts;

(vi) in relation to Zero Coupon Notes, the Amortised Face Amount;

(vii) any premium and any other amounts which may be payable under or in respect of the Notes; and

(viii) in relation to Dual Currency Notes, the principal payable in any relevant Specified Currency.

Any reference in these Terms and Conditions to interest in respect of the Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable, any additional amounts which may be payable with respect to interest under Condition 10 or pursuant to any undertakings given in addition thereto or in substitution therefor pursuant to the Trust Deed.

8. Exchange of Talons

On and after the Interest Payment Date on which the final Coupon comprised in any Coupon sheet matures, the Talon (if any) forming part of such Coupon sheet may be surrendered at the specified office of the Agent or any other Paying Agent in exchange for a further Coupon sheet including (if such further Coupon sheet does not include Coupons to (and including) the final date for the payment of interest due in respect of the Note to which it appertains) a further Talon, subject to the provisions of Condition 13.

9. Agent and Paying Agents

The names of the initial Agent and the other initial Paying Agent and their initial specified offices are set out below. In the event of the appointed office of any such bank being unable or unwilling to continue to act as the Agent, or failing duly to determine the Rate of Interest, if applicable, or to calculate the Interest Amounts for any Interest Period, the Issuer shall appoint the London office of such other bank as may be approved by the Trustee to act as such in its place. The Agent may not resign its duties or be removed from office without a successor having been appointed as aforesaid. The Issuer may, with the prior approval of the Trustee, vary or terminate the appointment of any Paying Agent and/or appoint additional or other Paying Agents and/or approve any change in the specified office through which any Paying Agent acts provided that the Issuer will, (i) so long as any of the Notes is outstanding, maintain a Paying Agent (which may be the Agent) having a specified office in a city approved by the Trustee in continental Europe and, (ii) so long as any of the Notes are listed on any stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority, a Paying Agent (which may be the Agent) having a specified office in each location required by the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or, as the case may be, other relevant authority and (iii) ensure that it maintains a Paying Agent in a Member State of the European Union that will not be obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income or any law implementing or complying with, or introduced in order to conform to, such Directive, unless otherwise agreed by the Trustee because it is unduly onerous to the Issuer or not consistent with then market practice.

In addition, the Issuer shall forthwith appoint a Paying Agent having a specified office in New York City in the circumstances described in sub-paragraph (ii) of the fourth paragraph of Condition 7*(b)*. Notice of any such variation, termination, appointment or change will be given by the Issuer to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19.

10. Taxation

All payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of the Notes, Receipts and Coupons by the Issuer will be made without withholding of, or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatsoever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of the United Kingdom or any political sub-division thereof or by any authority therein or thereof having power to tax, unless the withholding or deduction of such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges is required by law. In that event, the Issuer will pay such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that the net amounts receivable by the Noteholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders after such withholding or deduction shall equal the respective amounts of principal and interest (if any) which would have been receivable in respect of the Notes, Receipts or Coupons (as the case may be) in the absence of such withholding or deduction, except that no such additional amounts shall be payable with respect to any Note, Receipt or Coupon presented for payment:—

(i) by or on behalf of a holder who (a) is able to avoid such withholding or deduction by satisfying any statutory requirements or by making a declaration of non-residence or other claim for exemption to the relevant taxing authority but fails to do so; or (b) is liable to such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges in respect of such Notes, Receipts or Coupons (as the case may be) by reason of his having some connection with the United Kingdom other than merely by reason of the holding of such Note, Receipt or Coupon; or

(ii) more than 30 days after the relevant date save to the extent that the holder thereof would have been entitled to such additional amounts on presenting the same for payment on the last day of such period of 30 days; or

(iii) in the United Kingdom; or

(iv) where such withholding or deduction is imposed on a payment to an individual and is required to be made pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income or any law implementing or complying with, or introduced in order to conform to, such Directive; or

(v) by or on behalf of a holder who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Note, Receipt or Coupon to another Paying Agent in a Member State of the EU.

For this purpose, "the relevant date" means the date on which the payment in respect of the Note, Receipt or Coupon first becomes due and payable but, if the full amount of the moneys payable on such date has not been received by the Agent or the Trustee on or prior to such date, the "relevant date" means the date on which, such moneys having been so received, notice to that effect shall have been given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19.

11. Events of Default and Enforcement relating only to Senior Notes

(a) This Condition shall apply only to Senior Notes.

(b) The Trustee at its discretion may, and if so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders shall, (but, in the case of the happening of any of the events mentioned in sub-paragraphs (ii) to (vii) below, only if the Trustee shall have certified in writing that such event is, in its opinion, materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders), give notice to the Issuer that the Notes are, and they shall accordingly immediately become, due and repayable at their Early Redemption Amount, together with accrued interest (if any) as provided in the Trust Deed, if any of the following events (each an "Event of Default") shall occur and be continuing:—

(i) if default is made for a period of 7 days or more in the payment of any principal due in respect of the Notes or any of them or 14 days or more in the payment of any interest due in respect of the Notes or any of them; or

(ii) if an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding-up of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary (except, in any such case, a winding-up or dissolution for the purpose of a reconstruction or amalgamation the terms of which have previously been approved in writing by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution or a voluntary solvent winding-up or a transfer of all or a material part of the business, undertaking and assets of such Material Subsidiary to the Issuer or any other subsidiary of the Issuer); or

(iii) if the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary stops or threatens to stop payment to its creditors generally or the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary ceases or threatens to cease to carry on its business or substantially the whole of its business (except for the purpose of or in connection with a reconstruction or amalgamation the terms of which have previously been approved in writing by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution or a voluntary solvent winding-up or a transfer of all or a material part of the business, undertaking and assets of such Material Subsidiary to the Issuer or any other subsidiary of the Issuer); or

(iv) if an encumbrancer takes possession or a receiver, administrator, administrative receiver or other similar officer is appointed of the whole or any material part of the undertaking, property and assets of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary or if a distress or execution is levied or enforced upon or sued out against the whole or any material part of the chattels or property of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary and, in the case of any of the foregoing events, is not discharged within 30 days (or such longer period as the Trustee may permit); or

(v) if the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary is unable to pay its debts generally; or

(vi) if any payment in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed (as defined in the Trust Deed) (which indebtedness has an outstanding aggregate principal amount of at least the Specified Amount) of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary is not made on its due date (or by the expiry of any applicable grace period as originally provided) or becomes due and payable prior to its stated maturity by reason of default or if any guarantee or indemnity of any payment in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed of any third party given by the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary is not honoured when due and called upon (except where the aggregate liability under any such guarantees or indemnities does not exceed the Specified Amount); or

(vii) if default is made by the Issuer in the performance or observance of any obligation, condition or provision binding on it under the Notes, Receipts or Coupons or the Trust Deed (other than any obligation for the payment of any principal or interest in respect of the Notes) and, except where such default is or the effects of such default are, in the opinion of the Trustee, not capable of remedy when no such continuation and notice as is hereinafter mentioned will be required, such default continues for 30 days (or such longer period as the Trustee may permit) after written notice thereof has been given by the Trustee to the Issuer requiring the same to be remedied.

"Specified Amount" means the greater of (a) £15,000,000 or its equivalent in any other currency or currencies and (b) such amount in Sterling as is equal to one per cent. of the aggregate of (1) the nominal amount of the share capital of the Issuer for the time being issued and paid up or credited as paid up, (2) the amounts standing to the credit of the reserves (including any share premium account and profit and loss account) of the Issuer and its subsidiaries and (3) any amounts attributable to minority interests in subsidiaries, all as shown in the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and its subsidiaries prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United Kingdom less (4) any amounts, determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United Kingdom, representing distribution of cash or tangible assets declared, recommended or made by the Issuer or any of its subsidiaries (other than any distribution attributable to the Issuer or another subsidiary) out of profits accrued prior to the date of, and not provided for in, the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and its subsidiaries and less (5) any amounts shown in such latest audited consolidated balance sheet (y) attributable to intangible assets and (z) of any debit on profit and loss account.

A certificate of two directors of the Issuer as to the Specified Amount shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on all parties.

"Material Subsidiary" means any subsidiary of the Issuer whose total assets (attributable to the Issuer) represent 10 per cent. or more of the consolidated total assets (attributable to the Issuer) of the Issuer and its subsidiaries, all as more particularly defined in the Trust Deed.

The Trust Deed contains provisions which permit two directors of the Issuer to certify that a subsidiary is a "Material Subsidiary" (i) at the time of issue of every audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and at any other time upon the request of the Trustee, or (ii) as soon as reasonably practicable after the acquisition or disposal of a company which thereby becomes or ceases to be a Material Subsidiary or after any transfer is made to any subsidiary which thereby becomes a Material Subsidiary. Any such certification shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on all concerned.

The Trustee may at its discretion institute such proceedings as it may think fit to enforce the obligations of the Issuer under the Trust Deed and the Notes, Receipts and Coupons, but it shall not be bound to institute any such proceedings unless (1) it shall have been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders or so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding and (2) it shall have been indemnified to its satisfaction. No Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to institute proceedings directly against the Issuer unless the Trustee, having become bound so to proceed, fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing.

12. Events of Default and Enforcement relating only to Subordinated Notes

(a) This Condition shall apply only to Subordinated Notes.

(b) In the case of Dated Subordinated Notes, the Trustee at its discretion may, and if so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders shall, give notice to the Issuer that the Notes are, and they shall accordingly immediately become, due and repayable at their Early Redemption Amount, together with accrued interest (if any) as provided in the Trust Deed if any of the following events (each an "Event of Default") shall occur and be continuing:—

(i) if default is made for a period of 7 or more days in the payment of any principal due in respect of the Notes or any of them or 14 or more days in the payment of any interest due in respect of the Notes or any of them; or

(ii) if the winding-up of the Issuer is commenced (other than a winding-up which has been approved in writing by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders).

If the Notes become immediately due and repayable, the Trustee may at its discretion institute proceedings, but may take no other action in respect of such default, for the winding-up of the Issuer in England (but not elsewhere) to enforce the obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Trust Deed; provided that no payment of interest, repayment of principal or other claim in respect of the Notes may be made by the Issuer pursuant to this Condition, nor will the Trustee accept the same, otherwise than during or after a winding-up or dissolution of the Issuer, save with prior Relevant Supervisory Consent.

For the purposes of this paragraph (b), a payment shall be deemed to be due even if the condition set out in Condition 3 is not satisfied.

(c) In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, if the Issuer shall not make any payment of principal or interest in respect of the Notes for a period of 14 days or more after the due date for the same, the Trustee may institute proceedings in England (but not elsewhere) for the winding up of the Issuer and prove in such winding up.

For the avoidance of doubt, no payment shall be due if the Issuer does not make such payment as a result of the provisions of Condition 3(ii) and no payment of interest shall be due if the Issuer has exercised its right to defer such payment of interest pursuant to Condition 5*(f)*.

(d) No Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to proceed directly against the Issuer unless the Trustee, having become bound so to proceed, fails to do so, in which case the Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall have only such rights against the Issuer as those which the Trustee is entitled to exercise. No Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to institute proceedings for the winding-up of the Issuer, or to prove in any winding-up of the Issuer or any administration of the Issuer, unless the Trustee, having become bound to proceed against the Issuer as aforesaid, fails to do so, or, being able to prove in any winding-up of the Issuer or any administration of the Issuer, fails to do so, in which event any such holder may, on giving an indemnity satisfactory to the Trustee, in the name of the Trustee (but not otherwise), himself institute proceedings for the winding-up in England (but not elsewhere) of the Issuer and/or prove in any winding-up of the Issuer or prove in any administration of the Issuer to the same extent (but not further or otherwise) that the Trustee would have been entitled so to do in respect of the Notes, Receipts and Coupons held by him. No remedy against the Issuer, other than the institution of proceedings for the winding-up in England of the Issuer or the proving or claiming in the winding-up of the Issuer or in any administration of the Issuer, shall be available to the Trustee or the Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders for the recovery of amounts owing in respect of the Notes, Receipts or Coupons or under the Trust Deed.

(e) The Trustee may at its discretion institute proceedings for the winding-up of the Issuer in England to enforce the obligations of the Issuer under the Trust Deed and the Notes, Receipts and Coupons, but it shall not be bound to institute any such proceedings unless (a) it shall have been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders or so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding and (b) it shall have been indemnified to its satisfaction.

13. Prescription

Notes, Receipts and Coupons shall become void unless presented for payment within 12 years (in the case of Notes and Receipts) and six years (in the case of Coupons), in each case from the relevant date (as defined in Condition 10) therefor, subject to the provisions of Condition 7. There shall not be included in any Coupon sheet issued on exchange of a Talon, any Coupon the claim for payment in respect of which would be void pursuant to this Condition or Condition 7 or any Talon which would be void pursuant to Condition 7.

14. Meetings of Noteholders, Modification and Waiver

The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of Noteholders to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the modification by Extraordinary Resolution of these Terms and Conditions or the provisions of the Trust Deed. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution will be one or more persons present holding or representing a clear majority of the nominal amount of the Notes for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting one or more persons present being or representing Noteholders whatever the nominal amount of the Notes for the time being outstanding so held or represented, except that, at any meeting, the business of which includes the modification of certain of these Terms and Conditions or of certain of the provisions of the Trust Deed, the necessary quorum for passing an Extraordinary Resolution will be one or more persons present holding or representing not less than two-thirds, or at any adjourned such meeting not less than one-third, of the nominal amount of the Notes for the time being outstanding.

An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of Noteholders will be binding on all Noteholders, whether or not they are present at the meeting, and on all Receiptholders and Couponholders.

The Trust Deed provides that the Trustee may agree, without the consent of the Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders, to any modification (subject as provided above) of, or to any waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of, any of these Terms and Conditions or any of the provisions of the Trust Deed which, in the opinion of the Trustee, is not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders or to any modification thereof which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or which is made to correct a manifest error. Any such modification, waiver or authorisation shall be binding on the Noteholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders and, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, any such modification shall be notified to the Noteholders as soon as practicable thereafter in accordance with Condition 19.

In connection with the exercise by it of any of its trusts, powers or discretions (including, but without limitation, any modification, waiver, authorisation or substitution), the Trustee shall have regard to the interests of the Noteholders as a class and, in particular, but without limitation, shall not have regard to the consequences of such exercise for individual Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory and the Trustee shall not be entitled to require, nor shall any Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder be entitled to claim, from the Issuer or any other person any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequence of any such exercise upon individual Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders except to the extent already provided for in Condition 10 and/or any undertaking given in addition to, or in substitution for, Condition 10 pursuant to the Trust Deed.

15. Substitution

(a) Subject as provided in the Trust Deed, the Trustee, if it is satisfied that so to do would not be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders, may agree, without the consent of the Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders, to the substitution of any Successor in Business of the Issuer or a holding company of the Issuer or of a subsidiary of the Issuer or of any such Successor in Business or of any such holding company in place of the Issuer as principal debtor under the Trust Deed, the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons, provided (in the case of the substitution of any company which is a subsidiary of the Issuer or of any such Successor in Business or of any such holding company) that the obligations of the subsidiary in respect of the Trust Deed, the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons shall be guaranteed by the Issuer or such Successor in Business or such holding company in such form as the Trustee may require and provided further that (in the case of the Subordinated Notes) the obligations of such Successor in Business or of such holding company or subsidiary of the Issuer or of any such Successor in Business or of any such holding company and any such guarantee shall be subordinated on a basis considered by the Trustee to be equivalent to that in respect of the Issuer's obligations in respect of the Notes, Receipts and Coupons.

(b) Any such substitution shall be binding on the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders and, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, any such substitution shall be notified by the Issuer to the Noteholders as soon as practicable thereafter in accordance with Condition 19.

16. Further Issues

The Issuer is at liberty from time to time without the consent of the Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders to create and issue further notes ranking pari passu in all respects (or in all respects save for the date for, and the amount of, the first payment of interest thereon) with the outstanding Notes and so that the same shall be consolidated and form a single series with the outstanding Notes.

17. Replacement of Notes, Receipts, Coupons and Talons

If a Note (including any global Note), Receipt, Coupon or Talon is mutilated, defaced, destroyed, stolen or lost it may be replaced at the specified office of the Agent in London, or any other place approved by the Trustee of which notice shall have been published in accordance with Condition 19, on payment of such costs as may be incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Notes, Receipts, Coupons or Talons must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

18. Indemnification

The Trust Deed contains provisions for the indemnification of the Trustee and for its relief from responsibility in certain circumstances including provisions relieving it from instituting proceedings to enforce repayment unless indemnified to its satisfaction.

19. Notices

All notices regarding the Notes will be valid if published in the Financial Times or any other daily newspaper in London approved by the Trustee or, if this is not possible, in one other English language daily newspaper approved by the Trustee with general circulation in Europe. The Issuer shall also ensure that all notices are duly published in a manner which complies with the rules and regulations of any stock exchange or any other relevant authority on which the Notes are for the time being listed. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once, on the date of the first publication or, if required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in each such newspaper or where published in such newspapers on different dates, the last date of such first publication.

Until such time as any definitive Notes are issued, there may, so long as any global Note is held in its entirety on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, be substituted for such publication as aforesaid the delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg for communication by them to the Noteholders and, in addition, for so long as any Notes are listed on a stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority and the rules of that stock exchange or, as the case may be, other relevant authority so require, such notice will be published in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the place or places required by that stock exchange or, as the case may be, or any other relevant authority. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the Noteholders on the seventh day after the day on which the said notice was given to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as appropriate.

Notices to be given by any Noteholder shall be in writing and given by lodging the same, together with the relative Note or Notes, with the Agent. Whilst any of the Notes are represented by a global Note, such notice may be given by any Noteholder to the Agent via Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, in such manner as the Agent and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, may approve for this purpose.

20. The Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

No rights are conferred on any person under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any term of the Notes, but this does not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

21. Governing Law

The Trust Deed, the Notes, the Receipts, the Coupons and the Talons are governed by, and will be construed in accordance with, English law.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds from each issue of Notes will be used by the Issuer for the general funding purposes of its business (which include making a profit). If in respect of any particular issue, there is a particular identified use of proceeds, this will be stated in the applicable Final Terms.

Introduction

The Issuer is a public limited company incorporated and registered in England and Wales under the Companies Act 1985. The Issuer is a specialised mortgage lender whose core business is the provision of residential mortgages in the United Kingdom funded in the retail, wholesale, covered bonds and securitisation markets. The Issuer, together with its subsidiaries and associated companies, also engages in secured commercial lending, personal unsecured lending and distribution of third party insurance products. At 31 December 2005, the Group had statutory total assets of £82.7 billion.

The Issuer is the sixth largest mortgage lender in the United Kingdom based upon loans outstanding and has been consistently in the top three mortgage lenders based on net new loans originated. In the UK mortgage market, the Issuer achieved a market share of 14.5 per cent. on the basis of net residential lending during 2005 of £13.4 billion and a market share of 8.1 per cent. on the basis of gross residential lending during 2005 of £23.6 billion.

The Issuer was originally a building society (a mutual form of organisation existing under English law which engages primarily in residential mortgage lending and deposit taking) prior to its conversion to a public limited company. The Issuer was incorporated as a public limited company on 30 October 1996 (with registration number 3273685) and the conversion became effective as of 1 October 1997. The Issuer currently has the following two principal subsidiaries, each of which is wholly-owned by the Issuer: Northern Rock Mortgage Indemnity Company Limited, a Guernsey limited liability company providing mortgage indemnity services to the Issuer, and Northern Rock (Guernsey) Limited, a Guernsey limited liability company engaging in retail deposit taking. In connection with its securitisation programme, the Group has established a number of special purpose entities for the purpose of issuing securitised loan notes. As at 31 December 2005, 21 material special purpose entities had been established for the purpose of issuing securitised loan notes. In addition, Whinstone Limited has been established for the purpose of the issue of credit linked loan notes following the transfer of around 80 per cent. of the reserve risk fund element of pre 2005 securitisation transactions.

The Issuer's ordinary shares have been admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's market for listed securities and were admitted to the Official List of the UK Listing Authority from 1 October 1997. The registered and principal executive office of the Issuer is at Northern Rock House, Gosforth, Newcastle upon Tyne NE3 4PL, United Kingdom (telephone number +44 845 600 8401). The Issuer's internet address is www.northernrock.co.uk.

References to the "Group" are to the Issuer and its subsidiaries and associated undertakings.

Overview

The 2005 results have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as approved by the International Accounting Standards Board that, under European Union Regulations, are effective or available for early adoption at the Group's first reporting date under IFRS, 31 December 2005 and which differ significantly from UK GAAP used in the preparation of previously reported financial statements.

Analysis of the results is complicated as a result of certain IFRS only having been applied from 1 January 2005. This means that the revised 2004 statutory results only include the impact of certain of the IFRS used in the preparation of the 2005 results. As a consequence the Issuer has included in comparisons set out below, 2004 results prepared on a pro forma basis, incorporating the impact of IFRS where it can be determined what the impact would have been if the accounting changes had been effective in 2004. This impact includes the treatment of interest income and fees and the reclassification of certain funding instruments from debt to non shareholders' equity but excludes the effects of accounting for derivatives under IFRS which differs from that applied under UK GAAP.

As a consequence of the introduction of IFRS, the 2005 balance sheet and income statement are subject to a certain amount of volatility particularly from the accounting for hedges deemed under IFRS rules to be ineffective, plus volatility arising from fair value movements on derivatives taken out in respect of certain financial liabilities and instruments included in non shareholders' equity which themselves are not subject to fair value treatment. Where appropriate, such volatility is excluded in the discussion below to enable management's view of underlying performance to be separately identified.

The Issuer specialises in lending to individuals with a core business of providing residential mortgage loans, funded in the retail, wholesale, covered bond and securitisation markets. The Issuer has achieved rapid growth with total assets, rising from £11.6 billion at the end of 1995 to £82.7 billion (statutory) and £81.1 billion (underlying) at 31 December 2005. During 2005 on a statutory basis total assets grew by 27.5 per cent. and underlying total assets grew by 24.9 per cent. Management have set a strategic target of annual growth in assets of 15 per cent. to 25 per cent. per annum.

Reported statutory profit before taxation for the year increased by 13.5 per cent. to £494.2 million with profit attributable to equity shareholders decreasing by 2.8 per cent. to £300.7 million. On the same basis return on equity was 19.3 per cent. (2004 – 21.6 per cent.) and the return on mean risk weighted assets 1.22 per cent. (2004 – 1.45 per cent.).

Based upon 2005 underlying results and the 2004 pro forma results profit before taxation increased by 14.3 per cent. to £504.6 million with profit attributable to equity shareholders increasing by 13.6 per cent. to £308.1 million. On the same basis return on equity was 20.8 per cent. (2004 – 20.9 per cent.) and the return on mean risk weighted assets 1.26 per cent. (2004 – 1.29 per cent.).

The Issuer is one of the lowest cost providers in its core business. The Issuer's underlying cost to income ratio (defined as recurring administrative expenses divided by total income) was 29.8 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2005. The Issuer's cost advantage is derived from a combination of factors: focus on its core business, a cost efficient distribution network and its geographical base in the North East of England.

Developments in the Group's distribution network have focused on cost efficiency, achieving volume growth of lending and supporting the Group's retail funding objectives. Approximately 90 per cent. of residential mortgage lending is generated through intermediaries with the remainder split evenly between branches and direct business via telephone and e-commerce.

Lending

Residential Mortgage Lending

At 31 December 2005 the Issuer had £62.4 billion of advances secured on residential property, including £38.4 billion of securitised mortgages. Residential lending represents the Issuer's core activity and accounts for 77 per cent. of underlying total assets.

During 2005, total net residential lending amounted to £13.4 billion, a market share of 14.5 per cent. compared to a share of outstanding total UK balances of 6.4 per cent. as at 31 December 2005. A strong year end pipeline of uncompleted lending awards of £5.0 billion will benefit lending in 2006.

The Group's residential mortgage assets are spread geographically throughout the UK. Residential mortgage lending is focused primarily on customers with a credit history and conservative income multiples and loan to value ratios. The quality of the portfolio is good with only 0.39 per cent. of all balances more than three months or more in arrears, significantly below the UK average of 0.96 per cent. as at 31 December 2005.

Commercial Lending

The Issuer has a commercial loan portfolio which comprises two elements:

(a) commercial loans secured on residential investment properties amounting to £814 million as at 31 December 2005. These are included in the £62.4 billion of advances secured on residential property for reporting purposes; and

(b) other commercial loans which are all secured on non-residential property and mainly represent loans to individuals or corporations to support investment in properties for retail, office or industrial use. At 31 December 2005 such lending amounted to £1,523 million of which £780 million is securitised.

Commercial loans provide a diversification of assets and enhance interest margin for the Group. The Issuer intends to continue to grow its commercial loan portfolio while maintaining credit quality throughout the portfolio. At 31 December 2005 only 0.42 per cent. of commercial loans with balances outstanding of £5.8 million were three months or more in arrears.

Personal Unsecured Lending

The Group also engages in personal unsecured lending, both on a stand-alone basis and via credit bundled products called "together". The "together" range comprises a combined secured residential mortgage and unsecured loan which benefits credit quality and enhances product retention. At 31 December 2005 unsecured lending balances were £5.8 billion of which 40 per cent. were "together" unsecured advances. At 31 December 2005 only 0.98 per cent. of personal unsecured loans were three months or more in arrears. Only 0.84 per cent. of "together" unsecured loans were three months or more in arrears.

General Insurance and Life Assurance Distribution

The Issuer distributes a limited range of household insurance and payment protection products primarily to residential mortgage and personal unsecured loan customers, via third party providers. Under arrangements with third party providers, the Issuer receives a commission from policies sold and does not take any underwriting risk. Life assurance products are supplied to the Issuer's customers through a relationship with Legal & General where the Issuer introduces the customer to the insurer and receives a commission for doing so. These products provide a valuable source of other income.

Funding

The Issuer has developed a diversified range of funding sources comprising on-shore and off-shore retail funding, wholesale funding, securitisation and covered bonds.

Retail funding deposits amounted to £20.1 billion at 31 December, 2005 representing 26 per cent. of the Issuer's total funding. The UK retail funding market has been particularly competitive in recent years as a result of new entrants, and the introduction of internet based accounts, which has affected the flow and price of retail deposits. The Issuer has aimed to maintain its retail franchise and achieved an increase in retail deposits in 2005 of £2,809 million. The Issuer operates a wide range of retail deposit vehicles including branches, postal, telephone, internet and off-shore.

Wholesale funding has become increasingly important to the Issuer and at 31 December 2005 amounted to £22.3 billion or 29 per cent. of total funding. During 2005, net new wholesale funds amounted to £2.3 billion. The diversification of sources of funding available to the Group will continue with particular emphasis on Europe and the United States.

Securitisation is the third arm of the Issuer's funding strategy. From 1999 to 31 December 2005, the Issuer has raised £42.6 billion through the issue of residential mortgage backed securities, of which £12.9 billion (excluding £0.4 billion from the Whinstone transaction (see below)) was raised in 2005. In the same period the Issuer has also issued two commercial mortgage backed securities transactions totalling £1.1 billion of which £0.7 billion was outstanding at 31 December 2005.

At 31 December 2005, outstanding securitised notes amounted to £31.2 billion (including the Whinstone transaction) representing 40 per cent. of total funding. Securitisation is expected to remain a significant source of funding for the Issuer, supporting incremental volume growth and capital efficiency. Diversification of investors will continue with issuance in Continental Europe and the United States, as well as in the UK. To date in 2006, a further £9.0 billion issue of residential mortgage backed securities has been completed.

During 2004, the Issuer established a €10 billion Global Covered Bond Programme. The inaugural issue of €2 billion covered bonds was followed in 2005 by two further issues amounting to €3.5 billion. To date in 2006, a further €2.0 billion issue of covered bonds has been completed.

Capital

At 31 December 2005 total capital amounted to £3.2 billion, resulting in a total capital ratio of 12.3 per cent. Tier 1 capital was £2,033 million and the Tier 1 ratio 7.7 per cent.

£300 million of Reserve Capital Instruments ("RCIs") were issued by the Issuer in 2000 and 2001. The RCIs are eligible for inclusion in Tier 1 capital up to a maximum of 15 per cent. of total Tier 1 capital, with any surplus being eligible for inclusion in Upper Tier 2 capital.

The Issuer also issued £200 million of Tier One Notes in 2002, the full amount of which is eligible for inclusion in Tier 1 capital.

In November 2005, the Issuer completed its first Whinstone transaction transferring around 80 per cent. of the reserve fund risk relating to pre 2005 residential mortgage securitisations to third party investors, therefore reducing the potential exposure to downturn credit risk. The transaction reduces the level of core capital required under credit rating assessments of required capital as well as the regulatory capital deduction in respect of the reserve funds, thereby enhancing capital efficiency and more closely aligning regulatory and credit rating capital; an important step in advance of Basle II. By retaining a small portion of the first loss, the Issuer continues to align the interests of securitisation investors and the Issuer and demonstrates its confidence in the credit performance of the mortgage portfolios.

The Northern Rock Foundation

The establishment of The Northern Rock Foundation (the "Foundation") on conversion to a public limited company was intended to express the Issuer's commitment to its mutual history and to the region from which the business has drawn much of its strength. The Foundation has as its primary objective helping to improve the conditions of people disadvantaged by age, infirmity, poverty or other circumstances. It receives 5 per cent. of the annual consolidated profit before tax of the Issuer, paid under deed of covenant. The Foundation has received non-voting and non-dividend-paying Foundation shares which would convert into almost 15 per cent. of the ordinary share capital of the Issuer only in certain circumstances, principally involving a change in control of the Issuer, in which event the deed of covenant would terminate.

TAXATION

United Kingdom Taxation

The following is a summary of the Issuer's understanding of current law and published practice in the United Kingdom relating to withholding or a deduction of tax from interest payable on the Notes. The comments do not deal with other United Kingdom tax implications of acquiring, holding or disposing of the Notes. The comments relate only to the position of persons who are absolute beneficial owners of the Notes and prospective Noteholders should be aware that the particular terms of issue of any series of Notes as specified in the applicable Final Terms may affect the tax treatment of that and other series of Notes. The following is a general guide and should be treated with appropriate caution. The comments below assume that there will be no substitution of the Issuer in accordance with Condition 15. Noteholders who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their professional advisers.

1. Provided the Issuer continues to be a bank within the meaning of section 840A of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 (the "Tax Act") for the purposes of section 349 of the Tax Act and provided that the interest on the Notes is paid in the ordinary course of its business within the meaning of section 349 of the Tax Act, it is entitled to make payments of interest without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax. In accordance with the published practice of the United Kingdom HM Revenue & Customs, such payments will be accepted as being made by the Issuer in the ordinary course of its business unless either:

(i) the borrowing in question conforms to any of the definitions of Tier 1, 2 or 3 capital adopted by the Financial Services Authority whether or not it actually counts towards Tier 1, 2 or 3 capital for regulatory purposes; or

(ii) the characteristics of the transaction giving rise to the interest are primarily attributable to an intention to avoid United Kingdom tax.

2. Where interest is payable on Notes which have a maturity of less than one year (and which are not issued under arrangements the effect of which is to render such Notes part of a borrowing with a total term of a year or more), the interest will not be "yearly interest" for the purposes of the Tax Act and accordingly payments of interest on such Notes may be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax.

3. There is no requirement to withhold or deduct amounts for or on account of United Kingdom income tax from payments of interest made in respect of "quoted Eurobonds". Notes which carry a right to interest will constitute "quoted Eurobonds" provided they are and continue to be listed on a "recognised stock exchange", as defined in section 841 of the Tax Act. The London Stock Exchange is a recognised stock exchange. Under HM Revenue & Customs published practice, securities will be treated as listed on the London Stock Exchange if they are admitted to the Official List by the United Kingdom Listing Authority and admitted to trading by the London Stock Exchange. Provided, therefore, that any Notes remain so listed, interest on such Notes will be payable without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom tax whether or not the Issuer carries on a banking business in the United Kingdom and whether or not the interest is paid in the ordinary course of its business.

4. In other cases, an amount will generally be required to be withheld from payments of interest on the Notes on account of United Kingdom income tax at the lower rate (currently 20 per cent.), subject to any direction to the contrary by HM Revenue & Customs under an applicable double taxation treaty or to any other exemption which may apply. Where interest has been paid under deduction of United Kingdom income tax, Noteholders who are not resident in the United Kingdom may be able to recover all or part of the tax deducted if there is an appropriate provision in any applicable double taxation treaty.

5. Noteholders may wish to note that, in certain circumstances, HM Revenue & Customs has power to obtain information (including the name and address of the payee or, in certain cases, the beneficial owner of the interest) from any person in the United Kingdom (including the Issuer) who either pays interest to or receives interest for the benefit of a Noteholder. These provisions may also apply, in certain circumstances, to payments made on redemption of any Notes where the amount payable on redemption is greater than the issue price of the Notes. Information so obtained may, in certain circumstances, be exchanged by HM Revenue & Customs with the tax authorities of other jurisdictions. The references to "interest" above mean "interest" as understood in United Kingdom tax law. The statements above do not take any account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may be created by the terms and conditions of the Notes or any related documentation.

EU Savings Directive

Under EC Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income, Member States are required to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payments of interest (or similar income) paid by a person within its jurisdiction to an individual resident in that other Member State. However, for a transitional period, Belgium, Luxembourg and Austria are instead required (unless during that period they elect otherwise) to operate a withholding system in relation to such payments (the ending of such transitional period being dependent upon the conclusion of certain other agreements relating to information exchange with certain other countries). A number of non-EU countries and territories including Switzerland have agreed to adopt similar measures (a withholding system in the case of Switzerland).

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

The Dealers have in an amended and restated Programme Agreement dated 19 June 2006 (the "Programme Agreement"), which term shall include any further amendment, supplement or restatement from time to time agreed with the Issuer a basis upon which they or any of them may from time to time agree to purchase Notes. Any such agreement for any particular purchase by a Dealer will extend to those matters stated under "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" and "Form of the Notes" above. The Issuer may pay the Dealers commissions from time to time in connection with the sale of any Notes. In the Programme Agreement the Issuer has agreed to reimburse and indemnify the Dealers for certain of their expenses and liabilities in connection with the establishment of the Programme and the issue of the Notes. The Dealers are entitled to be released and discharged from their obligations in relation to any agreement to issue and purchase Notes under the Programme Agreement in certain circumstances prior to payment to the Issuer.

(a) United States

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except in certain transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

The Notes are subject to U.S. tax law requirements and may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, except in certain transactions permitted by U.S. tax regulations. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and regulations thereunder.

Each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that it will not offer, sell or deliver any Notes (i) as part of their distribution at any time and (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution, as determined and certified by the relevant Dealer or, in the case of an issue of Notes on a syndicated basis, the relevant lead manager, of all Notes of the Tranche of which such Notes are a part, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Each Dealer has further agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that it will send to each dealer to which it sells any Notes during the distribution compliance period a confirmation or other notice setting forth the restrictions on offers and sales of the Notes within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

Until 40 days after the commencement of the offering of any Series of Notes, an offer or sale of such Notes within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with an available exemption from registration under the Securities Act.

Each issue of Index Linked Notes or Dual Currency Notes shall be subject to such additional U.S. selling restrictions as the Issuer and the relevant Dealer or Dealers may agree as a term of the issuance and purchase of such Notes, which additional selling restrictions shall be set out in the applicable Final Terms.

(b) European Economic Area

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a "Relevant Member State"), each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the "Relevant Implementation Date") it has not made and will not make an offer of Notes to the public in that Relevant Member State, except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of Notes to the public in that Relevant Member State:

(i) in (or in Germany, where the offer starts within) the period beginning on the date of publication of a prospectus in relation to those Notes which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, all in accordance with the Prospectus Directive and ending on the date which is 12 months after the date of such publication;

(ii) at any time to legal entities which are authorised or regulated to operate in the financial markets or, if not so authorised or regulated, whose corporate purpose is solely to invest in securities;

Special quorum and special resolution

4. Notwithstanding any provision in these Articles to the contrary (including, without limitation, the provision relating to the quorum at general meetings), a resolution relating to any of the following matters shall only be effective if it is approved as a special resolution passed at a general meeting of the Company at which the quorum shall be 5 per cent. of the total number of members eligible to vote at a general meeting of the Company present in person or by proxy:

This Article shall remain in force until the expiry of the protective period notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Articles, after which this Article shall be deemed to be of no effect. The validity of anything done under this Article before that date shall not be affected and any action taken under this Article before that date shall not be open to challenge on any grounds whatsoever.

Limitations on shareholders

5.1 Without prejudice to any further restrictions which may be imposed by any addition to or amendment of these Articles (and subject always to the provisions of

5.2 Any provision (including any altered provision) of these Articles which is to any extent inconsistent with this Article or section 101(1) of the BSA (as modified or re-enacted from time to time) shall, to that extent, be void and any allotment or registration of a transfer of shares in contravention of this Article or section 101(1) of the BSA (as modified or re-enacted from time to time) shall be void.

No person other than a Permitted Person to hold more than 15 per cent. of votes

This Article shall remain in force until the expiry of the protective period notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Articles. Thereafter this Article shall be deemed to be of no effect, the separate register required under Article 6.2 shall no longer be maintained and any notice calling for a Required Disposal and the powers of the board under this Article in respect of a Required Disposal shall cease to have effect. The validity of anything done under this Article before the expiry of the protective period shall not be affected and any action taken under this Article before that date shall not be open to challenge on any grounds whatsoever.

(ii) the interests referred to in section 209(1)(a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g) or (h) of the Original Act (except those of a bare trustee under the laws of England and Wales and of a simple trustee under the laws of Scotland) or mentioned in section 208(4)(b) of the Original Act (but on the basis that the entitlement there referred to could arise under an agreement within the meaning of sections 204(5) and (6) of the Original Act); and

(iii) any deemed voting concert party interest consequent upon a resolution of the board pursuant to Article 6.5, and Interested shall be construed accordingly;

Original Act means the Companies Act 1985 as in force at the date of adoption of this Article and notwithstanding any repeal, modification or re-enactment thereof after that date (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any amendment, replacement or repeal by regulations made by the Secretary of State pursuant to section 210A of that Act to the definition of relevant share capital in section 198(2) or to the provisions as to what is taken to be an interest in shares in section 208 or as to what interests are to be disregarded in section 209) other than any amendment by regulations made by the Secretary of State pursuant to section 210A thereof to the percentage giving rise to a notifiable interest in section 199(2);

Permitted Person means:

(a) the chairman of a meeting of the Company or of a meeting of the holders of Relevant Share Capital or of any class thereof when exercising the voting rights conferred on him under Article 6.10; or

(b) a trustee (acting in that capacity) of any employees' share scheme of the Company; or

(c) any person who has an Interest but who, if his Interest were governed by the laws of England and Wales, would in the opinion of the board be regarded as a bare trustee of that Interest to the extent of that Interest; or

(d) a Stock Exchange Nominee; or

(e) a Nominee, but only in relation to the shares which he holds in his capacity as such on behalf of third parties and not on his own account; or

(f) a person in respect of, and to the extent only of, Interests which exist only by virtue of an obligation (contingent or otherwise) to take up Shares or shares which would be comprised in the Relevant Share Capital on issue or the acquisition of Shares pursuant to an underwriting agreement or subscription agreement or other similar agreement in each case approved by the board (provided that where any such person disposes of any Shares at any time after acquiring an Interest by virtue of an obligation (contingent or otherwise) pursuant to such an agreement, it shall be deemed to be a Permitted Person in respect of only that number of Shares or shares in which it was Interested pursuant to such agreement less the number of Shares or shares of which it has so disposed); or

(g) the Foundation; or

(h) until the Vesting Date, the Society;

Relevant Person means any person (whether or not identified) who has, or who appears to the board to have, an Interest in Shares (or shares which would be comprised in the Relevant Share Capital on issue or conversion) which carry (or would on issue or conversion carry) more than 15 per cent. of the total votes attaching to Relevant Share Capital of all classes taken as a whole and capable of being cast on a poll (calculated in accordance with Article 6.3). For the purposes of this Article, where (i) the board resolves, pursuant to Article 6.11, that it has made reasonable enquiries and that it is unable to determine whether or not a person has an Interest in any particular Shares or shares comprised (or which would on issue or conversion be comprised) in Relevant Share Capital, or (ii) there is failure to comply with a Disclosure Notice as required by Article 6.6 and the board resolves (as provided in such Article) that such Shares be deemed to be Relevant Shares, then the Shares concerned shall be deemed to be Relevant Shares and all persons Interested in them to be Relevant Persons;

Relevant Share Capital means the relevant share capital of the Company (as that expression is defined in section 198(2) of the Original Act);

Relevant Shares means all Shares in which a Relevant Person has or appears to the board to have or is deemed to have an Interest; and, for the purposes of this Article, where the Interest in question falls within section (i) of the definition of Included Interests, the rights or entitlements referred to in such section (and not the shares which are the subject of the rights or entitlements referred to therein) shall (until such right is exercised) be deemed to be Relevant Shares;

Required Disposal means a disposal or disposals of, or of interests in, such number of Relevant Shares as will cause a Relevant Person to cease to be a Relevant Person, not being a disposal to another Relevant Person (other than a Permitted Person) or a disposal which constitutes any other person (other than a Permitted Person) a Relevant Person;

Share means any share comprised in Relevant Share Capital; and Stock Exchange Nominee means a person in respect of whom, by virtue of section 185(4) of the Act, the Company is not required to comply with section 185(1) of the Act.

6.2 The provisions of Part VI of the Original Act shall apply as if such provisions extended to the Included Interests, and accordingly the Company, its members and all persons Interested in Shares (or shares which would on issue or conversion be comprised in Relevant Share Capital) shall have the rights and obligations referred to in Part VI of the Original Act (including in relation to Included Interests therein), but so that Included Interests shall, when disclosed to the Company, be entered in a separate register which shall be kept by the Company for that purpose and the provisions of sections 210(3) to (6) (inclusive), 211(10), 213(3) (so far as it relates to section 211(10)), 214(5), 215(8), 216 (other than subsection (5)), 217(7), 218(3), 219, 454, 455, 732 and 733 of the Original Act shall not apply in respect of Included Interests.

6.3(a) In calculating (for the purposes of ascertaining whether a person is a Relevant Person) the total votes attaching to Relevant Share Capital (or to shares which would on issue or conversion be comprised in the Relevant Share Capital) of all classes taken as a whole and capable of being cast on a poll at any meeting, there shall be disregarded any votes which, by virtue of this Article, Article 79 or any court order, are precluded (whether temporarily or not) from being cast on a poll at the meeting.

(b) In calculating (for the purposes of ascertaining whether a person is a Relevant Person) the total votes attaching to Relevant Share Capital (or to shares which would on issue or conversion be comprised in the Relevant Share Capital) and in calculating (for the purposes of determining whether an Interest is notifiable pursuant to Article 6.4) the notifiable percentage, where some or all of the Interest in question falls within section (i) of the definition of Included Interests, there shall only be taken into account the Relevant Share Capital and the shares to which the Included Interest in question relates as if all those shares were in issue or conversion in full had been effected.

6.4 Notwithstanding any amendment by regulations made by the Secretary of State pursuant to section 210A of the Original Act to the percentage giving rise to a notifiable interest in section 199(2) of the Original Act, if the notifiable percentage referred to in section 199 of the Act shall exceed three per cent., the rights and obligations referred to in this Article and the rights and obligations referred to in Part VI of the Original Act, except sections 210(3) to (6) (inclusive), 211(10), 213(3) (so far as it relates to section 211(10)), 214(5), 215(8), 216 (other than subsection (5)), 217(7), 218(3), 219, 454, 455, 732 and 733 of the Original Act, shall apply as though such notifiable percentage were three per cent. and as if such provisions extended to Included Interests. If the notifiable percentage referred to in section 199 of the Act shall be less than three per cent., the rights and obligations referred to in this Article shall apply with the substitution of such lesser notifiable percentage for three per cent. and as if such provisions extended to Included Interests. The rights and obligations created by this Article 6 are in addition to and separate from those arising under Part VI of the Original Act or under the Companies Acts.

6.5(a) Without prejudice to the application of section 204 of the Original Act to the definition of Interest in Article 6.1, where it appears to the board that:

(i) there is an agreement or arrangement between two or more persons with respect to, or to the exercise of, voting rights attaching to Shares; and

(ii) the agreement or arrangement is likely to result in those rights being exercised to a material extent in the same way or for the same purpose with a view to the persons being the parties to the agreement or arrangement being able materially to influence or to control the policy of the Company or the management of its affairs, the board may at its absolute discretion resolve that a voting concert party exists and if it so resolves each of the persons who is party to such agreement or arrangement shall be deemed (for the purposes of this Article) to be Interested in all the Shares to which the voting rights in question are attached.

(b) In this Article 6.5, references to an arrangement include references to an understanding or mutual expectation, whether formal or informal, and whether or not legally binding.

(c) Where the board resolves that a voting concert party exists pursuant to Article 6.5(a) above, it shall (if it is so able), within 21 days after the date of such resolution, send to each of the persons who is party to such agreement or arrangement notice of the resolution.

6.6(a) The board may by notice in writing require any member, or other person appearing to be Interested or appearing to have been Interested in Shares or in shares which would be comprised in the Relevant Share Capital on conversion or issue, to disclose to the Company in writing such information as the board shall require relating to the ownership of or interests (including, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, Interests) in the Shares or shares in question as lies within the knowledge of such member or other person (supported if the board so requires by a statutory declaration and/or by independent evidence) including (without limitation):

(i) any information which the Company is entitled to seek pursuant to section 212 of the Original Act;

(ii) any information which the board shall in its absolute discretion deem necessary or desirable in order to determine whether any Shares or rights to subscribe for, or convert into, Shares are Relevant Shares; and

(iii) any information which the board shall in its absolute discretion deem necessary or desirable in order to determine whether any person is or is deemed to be a Relevant Person or otherwise in relation to the application or potential application of this Article.

(b) The board may give a Disclosure Notice pursuant to Article 6.6(a) at any time and the board may give one or more than one such notice to the same member or other person in respect of the same Shares or shares.

(c) Where the holder of any Shares or rights to subscribe for, or convert into, Shares, or any person appearing to be Interested in such Shares or rights, fails to comply with a Disclosure Notice within 21 days (or such lesser period as the board in its absolute discretion considers appropriate in the circumstances) of service of such Disclosure Notice, the board may (in addition to any other remedy it may have under any provision of these Articles, the Companies Acts or otherwise) resolve that such Shares or rights be deemed to be Relevant Shares and/or that all persons Interested in such Shares or rights be deemed to be Relevant Persons.

6.7 If to the knowledge of the board any person other than a Permitted Person becomes or is deemed to be a Relevant Person, the board shall serve a written notice on the registered holder(s) of the Relevant Shares and on any other person or persons who appears to it to be a Relevant Person in relation to those Shares or the relevant rights or entitlements. Such notice shall set out the restrictions referred to in Article 6.10 and call for a Required Disposal to be made within 21 days (or such lesser period as the board in its absolute discretion considers appropriate in the circumstances) of the service of such notice on the registered holder or other such person. The board may extend the period in which such notice is required to be complied with and may withdraw any such notice (whether before or after the expiration of the period referred to) if it appears to it that there is no Relevant Person in relation to the Shares or rights or entitlements concerned. Upon the giving of such notice, and save for the purpose of a Required Disposal under this Article 6.7 or Article 6.8, no transfer of any of the Relevant Shares may be registered until either such notice is withdrawn or a Required Disposal has been made to the satisfaction of the board and registered.

6.8 If a notice served under Article 6.7 has not been complied with in all respects to the satisfaction of the board and has not been withdrawn, the board shall, so far as it is able, make a Required Disposal and shall, so far as it is able, give written notice of such disposal to those persons on whom such notice was served. The Relevant Person(s) and the registered holder(s) of the Shares or other rights or entitlements disposed of shall be deemed to have irrevocably and unconditionally authorised the board to make such Required Disposal. The manner, timing and terms of any such Required Disposal made or sought to be made by the board (including but not limited to the price or prices at which the same is made and the extent to which assurance is obtained that no transferee (with the exception of a Permitted Person) is or would become a Relevant Person) shall be such as the board determines, based upon advice from such bankers, brokers or other persons consulted by the board for the purpose as the board considers appropriate, to be reasonably practicable having regard to all the circumstances including but not limited to the number of Shares or other rights or entitlements to be disposed of and the requirement that the disposal be made without delay; and the board shall not be liable to any person for any of the consequences of reliance on such advice.

6.9 For the purpose of effecting any Required Disposal in the case of certificated shares or other Interests or rights evidenced by a certificate or other document of title (certificated securities), the board may authorise any person to transfer the Shares, Interests or rights in question and may enter the name of the transferee in respect of the transferred Shares, Interests or rights in the appropriate register notwithstanding the absence of any share or other relevant certificate being lodged in respect thereof and may issue a new certificate to the transferee and an instrument of transfer executed by such person shall be as effective as if it had been executed by the registered holder of the Shares, Interests or rights and the title of the transferee shall not be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings relating thereto. In the case of uncertificated shares or other Interests or rights which are permitted to be held or transferred in uncertificated form pursuant to the Regulations, the board may do all acts and things it considers necessary or expedient to effect the transfer of the securities to, or in accordance with, the transferee's directions. The net proceeds of such disposal shall be received by the Company whose receipt shall be a good discharge for the purchase money, and shall be paid (together with interest at such rate as the board considers appropriate and after deduction of any expenses incurred by the board in connection with the sale) to the former registered holder (or, in the case of joint holders, the first named joint holder thereof in the register for the purpose), together with, if appropriate, a new certificate in respect of the balance of any certificated securities to which he is entitled, upon surrender by him or on his behalf of any certificates in respect of the Relevant Shares (or Interests or rights, as the case may be) sold and formerly held by him.

6.10 A registered holder of a Relevant Share on whom a notice has been served under Article 6.7 shall not in respect of such Relevant Share be entitled, until such time as such notice has been withdrawn or the notice has been complied with to the satisfaction of the board, to attend or vote at any general meeting of the Company or meeting of the holders of any class of share capital of the Company and the rights to attend (whether in person or by proxy), to speak and to demand and vote on a poll which would have attached to such Relevant Share had it not been a Relevant Share shall vest in the chairman of any such meeting. The manner in which the chairman exercises or refrains from exercising any such rights shall be entirely at his discretion. The board shall inform the chairman of any such meeting as aforesaid of any Share or other right or entitlement becoming or being deemed to be a Relevant Share.

6.11 Without prejudice to the provisions of the Original Act and subject to the provisions of this Article, the board may assume without enquiry that a person is not a Relevant Person unless the information contained in the registers kept by the Company under Article 6.2 appears to the board to indicate to the contrary or the board has reason to believe otherwise, in which circumstances the board shall make reasonable enquiries to discover whether, and the extent to which, any person is Interested in Relevant Shares. If the board resolves that it has made reasonable enquiries and is unable to determine whether or not a person is Interested in any particular Shares (or shares which would on issue or conversion be comprised in Relevant Share Capital) then that person shall be deemed to be a Relevant Person and those particular Shares (or, as the case may be, the relevant rights or entitlements) shall be deemed to be Relevant Shares.

6.12 The board shall not be obliged to serve any notice required under this Article to be served upon any person if it does not know either his identity or his address. The absence of service of such a notice in such circumstances as aforesaid and any accidental error in or failure to give any notice to any person upon whom notice is required to be served under this Article shall not prevent the implementation of or invalidate any procedure or act under this Article.

6.13 The provisions of Articles 157 to 162 inclusive shall apply to the service upon a member of any notice required by this Article to be served. Any notice required by this Article to be served upon a person who is not a member or to a person who is a member but whose registered address is not within the United Kingdom and who has not given to the Company an address within the United Kingdom for service of notices shall be deemed validly served if it is sent through the post in a pre-paid cover addressed to that person at the address (or, if more than one, at one of the addresses), if any, at which the board believes him to be resident or carrying on business or to his last known address as shown on the register of members. Service shall in such a case be deemed to be effected in accordance with the provisions of Article 161.

6.14 Any resolution or determination of, or decision or exercise of any discretion or power by, the board or any director or by the chairman of any meeting under or pursuant to the provisions of this Article 6 (including, without limitation, as to what constitutes reasonable enquiries or as to the manner, timing and terms of any Required Disposal made by the board under Article 6.8) shall be final and conclusive and any disposal or transfer made, or other things done, by or on behalf of, or on the authority of, the board or any director pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this Article shall be conclusive and binding on all persons concerned and shall not be open to challenge, whether as to its validity or otherwise on any ground whatsoever. The board shall not be required to give any reasons for any decision, determination or declaration taken or made in accordance with this Article 6.

6.15 The Company shall ensure (and shall, so far as it is able, procure that every other company shall ensure) that any securities which are issued having rights to subscribe for, or convert into, shares which would on issue or conversion (as the case may be) be comprised in Relevant Share Capital shall be so issued on terms that such rights are subject to the provisions of this Article.

7.1 The share capital of the Company on the adoption of these Articles is £204,625,000 and €25,000,000, divided into 614,000,000 Ordinary Shares of £0.25 each (as consolidated or sub-divided from time to time, Ordinary Shares), 104,469,920 Foundation Shares of £0.25 each (as consolidated or sub-divided from time to time, Foundation Shares), having the rights set out in Article 8 below, and 100,000,000 undesignated sterling preference shares of £0.25 each, and 100,000,000 undesignated euro preference shares of €0.25 euros each (in each case as consolidated or sub-divided from time to time, respectively the Sterling Preference Shares, and the Euro Preference Shares and together, the Preference Shares), having, subject to the provisions of Articles 7.2 and 7.3 below, the rights set out in Article 8A below.

7.2 The Sterling Preference Shares shall be comprised of two classes of share:

(a) redeemable Sterling Preference Shares (the Redeemable Sterling Preference Shares); and

(b) non-redeemable Sterling Preference Shares (the Non-redeemable Sterling Preference Shares);

In the case of Sterling Preference Shares that are initially created as undesignated Sterling Preference Shares the board shall upon allotment determine whether they are to be allotted as Redeemable Sterling Preference Shares or Non-redeemable Sterling Preference Shares.

7.3 The Euro Preference Shares shall be comprised of two classes of share:

(c) redeemable Euro Preference Shares (the Redeemable Euro Preference Shares); and

(d) non-redeemable Euro Preference Shares (the Non-redeemable Euro Preference Shares);

In the case of Euro Preference Shares that are initially created as undesignated Euro Preference Shares the board shall upon allotment determine whether they are to be allotted as Redeemable Euro Preference Shares or Non-redeemable Euro Preference Shares.

FOUNDATION SHARES

Ownership

8.1 The Foundation Shares may be held only by one or both of the Society and the Foundation and shall not be transferable by the Foundation.

Rights

8.2 The Foundation Shares shall rank pari passu in all respects with the Ordinary Shares save as otherwise provided in these Articles or in the terms of issue of the Foundation Shares.

Right to participate in profits

8.3 Prior to conversion in accordance with Article 8.6, the Foundation Shares shall not, save as set out in Articles 8.4 to 8.25, carry any right to participate in the profits of the Company.

Rights on winding up

8.4 On a return of capital on the winding up of the Company, the Foundation shall be treated for the purposes of any distribution of the assets of the Company as if the Foundation Shares had been converted into Ordinary Shares immediately prior to the date of commencement of the winding up as determined in accordance with section 129 of the Insolvency Act 1986.

[redacted] rights

8.5 Subject to Article 15.1, prior to conversion in accordance with Article 8.6, the Foundation Shares shall not carry any right to attend or vote at any general meeting of the Company.

Conversion events

8.6.1 Each issued and unissued Foundation Share shall ipso facto be converted into and redesignated as (and references in these Articles to the conversion of the Foundation Shares shall be construed accordingly) one Ordinary Share:

(a) on the date specified by not less than three years' notice in writing given by the Company to the Foundation at any time at least ten years after the Vesting Date; or

(b) if an offer (the Offer) is made to some or all of the ordinary shareholders (other than by way of a Scheme, as defined in Article 8.7) of the Company which is a takeover offer within the meaning of section 428(1) of the Act to acquire the whole or any part of the issued ordinary share capital of the Company and the right to cast more than 50 per cent. of the votes which may ordinarily be cast on a poll at a general meeting of the Company (prior to the conversion of the Foundation Shares) becomes unconditionally vested in the offeror, on the date such right becomes unconditionally vested in the offeror.

8.6.2 Following a conversion in accordance with Article 8.6.1(b), the Foundation shall be bound to accept the Offer in respect of all of the Ordinary Shares into which the Foundation Shares have been converted, provided that the Offer is expressed to extend to such Ordinary Shares.

Rights attaching to shares resulting from conversion

8.6.3 The Ordinary Shares resulting from conversion shall carry the right to receive all dividends and (unless an adjustment shall have been made in respect thereof) other distributions declared, made or paid on the ordinary share capital of the Company in or in respect of the accounting period in which the conversion occurs (and whether or not they have been paid prior to such conversion), not being dividends in respect of any earlier accounting period, and shall rank pari passu in all other respects and form one class with the Ordinary Shares then in issue and fully paid.

Schemes of Arrangement

8.7 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, without the Foundation's prior written consent approve (either by a board resolution or by an ordinary resolution of the members of the Company in general meeting) any scheme of arrangement under the Companies Acts in relation to the Ordinary Shares unless the scheme of arrangement extends to the Foundation Shares on the same terms as apply in relation to the Ordinary Shares, and such that the Foundation will receive no less favourable consideration than it would have received had the Foundation Shares converted into Ordinary Shares immediately prior to the scheme of arrangement becoming effective in accordance with section 425(3) of the Act (a Scheme). The Foundation shall be bound to consent to such a Scheme.

Consolidation or sub-division

8.8 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, effect any alteration in the nominal value of the Ordinary Shares by means of a consolidation or sub-division, unless the Foundation Shares are at the same time consolidated or sub-divided in like manner and to like extent.

Capitalisation issues

8.9 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, make any issue of Ordinary Shares credited as fully paid to the holders of Ordinary Shares in their capacity as such (not being an issue which results from (a) the exercise by a shareholder of an option to take a share or shares in lieu of a cash dividend in accordance with Article 147 or (b) the application of Article 153.2 (in which case the provisions of Article 8.12.2 shall apply)) by way of capitalisation of profits or reserves (including any share premium account and capital redemption reserve) unless at the same time the Company makes a bonus issue of Foundation Shares to the Foundation in the same proportions as the bonus issue of Ordinary Shares.

Rights issues

8.10.1 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, offer or grant by way of rights to holders of Ordinary Shares (i) any new Ordinary Shares, (ii) any options, rights or warrants to subscribe for or purchase new Ordinary Shares, (iii) any convertible loan stock of the Company or (iv) any convertible loan stock issued by a subsidiary of the Company which carries rights to subscribe or exchange for or convert into Ordinary Shares, unless the Company either (as the board may in its absolute discretion, subject to Article 8.13, determine):

(a) in the case of any such offer or grant, makes a like offer or grant at the same time to the Foundation as if the Foundation Shares had been converted in accordance with Article 8.6, such that the Foundation has the right to acquire the relevant number of new Ordinary Shares, options, rights or warrants, or the relevant nominal amount of convertible loan stock on the same terms as any holder of Ordinary Shares in the Company; or

(b) in the case of any offer of new Ordinary Shares in the Company or of convertible loan stock for which the final conversion date is less than 12 months from the date of the offer (together, the Securities), increases the number of Foundation Shares in the manner specified in Article 8.19 by:

$$\frac{A \times C}{B + C} \text{ Foundation Shares}$$

where:

A equals the number of Securities which would have been offered to the Foundation had the Foundation Shares been converted immediately before the record date of that offer;

B equals:

(i) in the case of an offer of Ordinary Shares, the price per Ordinary Share at which the new Ordinary Shares are being offered to the holders of the Ordinary Shares; or

(ii) in the case of an offer of convertible loan stock, the price per unit of loan stock divided by the number of Ordinary Shares into which a unit of loan stock will convert once fully paid; and

C equals the average of the middle market quotations (derived from the Daily Official List of the London Stock Exchange) for:

(i) in the case of an offer of Ordinary Shares, nil paid rights to an Ordinary Share for all dealing days during the Reference Period; or where Reference Period means all the dealing days on which such rights are dealt in on the London Stock Exchange.

(ii) in the case of an offer of convertible loan stock, nil paid rights to a unit of loan stock for all dealing days during the Reference Period divided by the number of Ordinary Shares into which a unit of loan stock will convert once fully paid

8.10.2 Any adjustment made in accordance with Article 8.10.1(b) shall become effective, in the case of an offer of Ordinary Shares, on the date on which the new Ordinary Shares are unconditionally allotted or, in the case of an offer of convertible loan stock, on the date on which such loan stock is converted into Ordinary Shares.

Other offers

8.11 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, make any offer of new Ordinary Shares to holders of Ordinary Shares in their capacity as such, other than by way of rights, unless either (as the board may in its absolute discretion, subject to Article 8.13, determine):

(a) the Company makes a like offer to the Foundation as if the Foundation Shares had been converted in accordance with Article 8.6, such that the Foundation has the right to acquire the relevant number of new Ordinary Shares on the same terms as any holder of Ordinary Shares in the Company; or

(b) the number of Foundation Shares is increased in the manner specified in Article 8.19 with effect from the date on which the new Ordinary Shares are unconditionally allotted by the number of new Foundation Shares which in the opinion of the board is fair and reasonable (taking into account in particular the dilution of the conversion rights then applicable as a result of the issue of the new Ordinary Shares and the price at which the new Ordinary Shares are offered).

Vesting Date

8.12.1 The provisions of Article 8.10.1 and Article 8.11 shall not apply on or before the Vesting Date.

Issue of Free Shares after the Vesting Date

8.12.2 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, allot or issue any Ordinary Shares credited as fully paid to any person in accordance with the provisions of Article 153.2 unless the Company at the same time issues to the Foundation:

$$\frac{A}{85} \times 15 \text{ Foundation Shares}$$

where A equals the number of Ordinary Shares allotted and issued in accordance with Article 153.2.

Offer during final 12 months of notice period

8.13 If the Company makes any offer or grant of a kind contemplated by Articles 8.10 and 8.11 during the period of twelve months before the date specified in the notice given by the Company to the Foundation pursuant to Article 8.6.1(a), only the provisions of Articles 8.10.1(a) and 8.11(a) respectively shall apply, and no increase in the number of Foundation Shares will be made without the prior written consent of the Foundation.

Special dividends

8.14.1 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, make any special dividend to holders of Ordinary Shares in their capacity as such (whether on a reduction of capital or otherwise, and unless and to the extent that Articles 8.10 and 8.11 apply), unless a corresponding distribution of an amount determined to be appropriate by the board is made to the Foundation at the same time as if the Foundation Shares had been converted at the record date for such special dividend.

8.14.2 For the purposes of this Article 8.14, special dividend shall mean any cash dividend or distribution of any kind which the board reasonably determines is "special" or is not paid or made in the ordinary course. If any cash dividend or other distribution is declared, paid or made which is "special" or is not paid in the ordinary course, but if paid or made in a lesser amount would not be a special dividend, only the excess shall be a special dividend for the purposes of this Article. If any dispute arises as to whether or the extent to which a cash dividend or distribution is "special" or not paid or made in the ordinary course, the matter will be referred to the auditors, acting as experts and not as arbitrators, whose certificate shall be conclusive and binding on all concerned in the absence of any manifest error.

Demergers and other dividends in specie

8.15 On any distribution in specie prior to the conversion of the Foundation Shares, the Foundation Shares shall carry the right to be treated, for the purposes of such distribution, as if the Foundation Shares had been converted into Ordinary Shares as at the record date or time for the distribution.

Reduction of share capital

8.16.1 The Company shall not, while any Foundation Shares remain outstanding, make a reduction of any of the following (otherwise than by way of a Scheme to which Article 8.7 applies) which involves the repayment to any shareholder of any amount paid up on any of its shares or the diminution of any liability in respect of unpaid share capital:

(a) its share capital; or

(b) its share premium account; or

(c) its capital redemption reserve,

unless the reduction is a permitted reduction as defined in Article 8.16.2 or the Company makes at the same time a proportionate reduction in the amount paid up on the Foundation Shares.

8.16.2 A permitted reduction (whether or not it involves the repayment to any shareholder of any amount paid up on any of the shares of the Company or the diminution of any liability in respect of unpaid share capital) means a reduction:

(a) of the Company's share capital on conversion or redemption or purchase of any of its shares; or

(b) of the Company's share capital as authorised by section 146(2) of the Act; or

(c) of the Company's share premium account as authorised by sections 130(2) and 160(2) of the Act; or

(d) of the Company's capital redemption reserve as a result of its application in paying up unissued shares in the capital of the Company to be allotted to under section 170(4) of the Act.

Other variations

8.17 If the board determines that any other event (not being an event specified in Articles 8.7 to 8.16) has occurred which has a dilutive, concentrative or other effect on the Foundation Shares which in the opinion of the board is inappropriate, then following each such event the board may determine to make such adjustments to the number of Foundation Shares in issue as, in the opinion of the board, are appropriate to account for the dilutive, concentrative or other effect of the relevant event and which adjustments shall be conclusive and binding on all concerned in the absence of any manifest error and shall be effective as of the date determined by the board.

Certification and notice of adjustment

8.18 If and whenever any one or more of the events or circumstances specified in Articles 8.7 to 8.17 above shall occur or exist, any adjustment shall be such as shall be determined by the board and notified to the Foundation. In the case of any dispute, the adjustment shall be such as shall be certified by the auditors, acting as experts and not as arbitrators, to be fair and reasonable to take account of the relevant event or circumstances. This determination shall be conclusive and binding on all concerned in the absence of any manifest error.

Issue of additional Foundation Shares

8.19 If, as a result of any of the provisions set out in Articles 8.7 to 8.17, the number of Foundation Shares is to be increased, the Company shall issue, by way of a bonus issue to be paid up out of such reserves as the board may determine, additional Foundation Shares to the Foundation. Fractions of Foundation Shares shall not be allotted, but shall be taken into account in any subsequent adjustment.

Purchase of Foundation Shares

8.20 If, as a result of any of the provisions set out in Articles 8.7 to 8.17 above, the number of Foundation Shares held by the Foundation is to be reduced, the Company shall re-purchase such shares from the Foundation at a price of 1p per Foundation Share, to be paid out of such reserves as the board may determine.

Protective provisions

8.21 For so long as the provisions of Article 5 (the protective provisions) apply, shares in the Company will not be offered or allotted to the Foundation and the Foundation shall not be invited to subscribe for shares in the Company (whether pursuant to Articles 8.9, 8.10, 8.11, 8.12.2, 8.16, 8.17 and 8.19 or otherwise) if, and to the extent that, such offer or allotment or subscription would give rise to a breach of the protective provisions, but such shares shall be offered or allotted to the Foundation or the Foundation shall be invited to subscribe for the same, as the case may be, as soon as such allotment is possible without breaching the protective provisions unless the Final Date (as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Deed of Covenant to be entered into between the Foundation and the Company on or before the Vesting Date) has passed, in which case no offer, allotment or invitation to subscribe shall be made to the Foundation.

Procedure on conversion

8.22 The directors shall forthwith upon conversion in accordance with Article 8.6 direct that appropriate entries be made in the register and that written notice of such conversion be sent within 14 days after the date of such conversion to the Foundation. Forthwith upon receipt by the Company from the Foundation of a certificate or certificates for the Foundation Shares held by it on the date of conversion the Company shall deliver to the Foundation free of charge a new certificate for the Ordinary Shares to which the Foundation shall then have become entitled. In the meantime transfers will be certified against the register.

Application to list following conversion

8.23 If the Ordinary Shares in issue on the date of conversion are listed on the London Stock Exchange or any other recognised stock exchange the Company shall forthwith on conversion make application and take such other action as may be required to list on such exchange the Ordinary Shares arising on conversion of the Foundation Shares.

No deemed variation of rights

8.24 Neither the passing of a resolution of the Company to disapply the requirements of section 89 of the Act or to authorise the allotment of any class of shares in or other securities of the Company, nor the allotment or issue of any such shares or securities, shall constitute a deemed variation of the rights of the Foundation Shares.

Authorities to make necessary adjustments

8.25 The board shall not take any action which will give rise to an adjustment to the number of Foundation Shares held by the Foundation unless the requisite shareholder authorities to give effect to such adjustment are already in place or are granted simultaneously with such action, and it is otherwise lawful for such adjustment to be effected.

Preference Shares

8A.1 All of the Preference Shares shall rank pari passu inter se to the extent that they are expressed so to rank and shall confer the rights and be subject to the limitations set out in this Article 8A. They shall also confer such further rights (not being inconsistent with the rights set out in this Article 8A) as may be attached by the board to any Series (as defined below) of such shares prior to allotment of such series and in particular (but without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing) the board may, pursuant to the authority given by the passing of the resolution to adopt this Article, consolidate and divide and/or sub-divide any Preference Shares into shares of larger or smaller amount (and so that the provisions of Articles 50 and 51 shall, where relevant, apply to any such consolidation, division or sub-division). Whenever the board has the power under this article to determine any of the rights to be attached to any Series of the Preference Shares, the rights so determined need not be the same as those attached to the Preference Shares which have then been allotted or issued. The Preference Shares, including any class of Preference Shares, may be issued in one or more separate series (each, a Series) and each Series shall be identified in such manner as the board may determine without any such determination or identification requiring any alteration to these Articles. Each of the Preference Shares shall, subject to the terms and conditions of issue as the board may determine prior to the issue of any relevant Series of Preference Shares, confer the following rights as to participation in the profits and assets of the Company, attendance at meetings, voting and, in the case of Redeemable Preference Shares, redemption:

(a) Preference Shares shall (subject to the further provisions described below) entitle the members holding the same to receive a preferential dividend (hereinafter called the Preference Dividend), payable at such rate or rates (whether fixed or variable) and on such dates (Preference Dividend Payment Dates) to be determined by the board before allotment on the amounts from time to time paid up or credited as paid up thereon and on such other terms and conditions as may be determined by the board prior to allotment thereof and in particular (but without prejudice to the foregoing) the board may determine whether the rights of such shares as regards participation in profits are cumulative or non-cumulative. Unless otherwise determined by the directors prior to allotment, any Preference Dividends on Sterling Preference Shares shall be payable in sterling, and any Preference Dividends on Euro Preference Shares shall be payable in euros. Subject to sub-paragraph (f) below, Preference Shares shall carry no further right to participate in the profits and reserves of the Company other than the Preference Dividend;

(b) Unless otherwise determined by the board prior to allotment thereof, Preference Shares shall rank as regards participation in profits pari passu inter se and with any other shares that are expressed to rank pari passu therewith as regards participation in profits and otherwise in priority to any other shares of the Company.

(c) If it shall subsequently appear that any dividend which has been paid to holders of Preference Shares should not have been so paid, then provided the board shall have acted in good faith, the directors shall not incur any liability for any loss which any shareholder may suffer in consequence of such payment having been made.

(d) The following provisions of this paragraph (d) shall apply in relation to any particular Series of Preference Shares (a Relevant Series) if so determined by the board prior to the allotment thereof:

(i) if the board determines prior to the allotment of a Relevant Series that this Article 8.1.1(d)(i) shall apply to that Relevant Series then dividends shall only be payable on the Preference Shares of such series, when, as and if declared by the board, but without prejudice to paragraph (e) below; or

(ii) if the board determines prior to the allotment of a Relevant Series that this Article 8.1.1(d)(ii) shall apply to that Relevant Series then the following provisions shall apply to that Relevant Series:

(A) if, in the opinion of the board, the distributable profits and distributable reserves of the Company are sufficient to cover the Preference Dividend in respect of the Relevant Series (including any arrears or deficiency of dividend that are cumulative in form) and also the payment in full of all other dividends stated to be payable on such date on any other Series (including any arrears or deficiency of dividend on any such other shares that are in cumulative form) expressed to rank pari passu as regards participation in profits, then, subject to sub-paragraph (D) below, the Preference Dividend on all such Series shall be declared and paid in full;

(B) if, on any Preference Dividend Payment Date the distributable profits and distributable reserves of the Company are, in the opinion of the board, sufficient only to enable partial payment of the Preference Dividend in respect of the Relevant Series (including any arrears or deficiency of dividend that are cumulative in form) and, if applicable, of any dividends payable on such date on any other Series (including any arrears or deficiency of dividend on any such other Series that are in cumulative form) ranking pari passu with the Relevant Series as regards participation in profits (together, the Participating Shares), then, subject to sub-paragraph (D) below, the directors shall apply such distributable profits and distributable reserves in paying dividends to the holders of the Participating Shares pro rata to the amount of dividend on the Participating Shares accrued and payable (including any arrears or deficiency of dividend that are in cumulative form) on or before the relevant Preference Dividend Payment Date.

(C) if, on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, the distributable profits and distributable reserves of the Company are, in the opinion of the board, insufficient to enable payment to be made of any of the Preference Dividend in respect of the Relevant Series (including any arrears or deficiency of dividend that are cumulative in form) and, if applicable, of any dividends payable on such date on any other Series (including any arrears or deficiency of dividend that are cumulative in form) ranking pari passu with the Relevant Series as regards participation in profits, then the Company shall not pay the Preference Dividend in respect of either Series;

(D) if, pursuant to the provisions of sub-paragraphs (B) and (C) above, on any occasion a Preference Dividend in respect of a Relevant Series which is not expressed to have a cumulative right as regards participation in profits (or any part thereof) is not paid, the holders of shares of the Relevant Series shall have no claim in respect of such shortfall;

(E) if a Preference Dividend due on any Preference Dividend Payment Date in respect of any Relevant Series which is expressed to have a cumulative right as regards participation in profits is not paid in full (a Preference Dividend Shortfall) (or a sum is not set aside to provide for its payment in full), and no additional preference shares have been allotted pursuant to sub-paragraph (G), the Company may not (without the written consent of three-fourths in nominal value of, or the sanction of an extraordinary resolution passed at a separate general meeting of, the holders of shares of the Relevant Series) thereafter:

(I) redeem, reduce, purchase or otherwise acquire for any consideration any Parity Obligations or Junior Obligations (and may not set aside or establish any sinking fund for any such redemption, reduction, purchase or other acquisition); or

(II) subject to the provisions of sub-paragraph (f) below, pay or declare any dividend on any Parity Obligations or Junior Obligations, until such time as the Preference Dividend Shortfall has been paid or a sum has been set aside for its payment in full.

(F) if a Preference Dividend due on any Preference Dividend Payment Date in respect of any Relevant Series which is not expressed to have a cumulative right as regards participation in profits is not paid in full (or a sum is not set aside to provide for its payment in full), and no additional preference shares have been allotted pursuant to sub-paragraph (G), the Company may not (without the written consent of three-fourths in nominal value of, or the sanction of an extraordinary resolution passed at a separate general meeting of, the holders of shares of the Relevant Series) thereafter:

(I) redeem, reduce, purchase or otherwise acquire for any consideration any Parity Obligations or Junior Obligations (and may not set aside or establish any sinking fund for any such redemption, reduction, purchase or other acquisition); or

(II) subject to the provisions of sub-paragraph (f) below, pay or declare any dividend on any other Parity Obligations or Junior Obligations, for such period following the relevant Preference Dividend Payment Date as may be designated by the board prior to issue.

(G) the provisions described in this sub-paragraph shall apply if determined by the board prior to allotment of the Relevant Series and then only where the Preference Dividend

(including any arrears or deficiency of dividend that are in cumulative form) due on any Preference Dividend Payment Date in respect of any Relevant Series is not paid in its entirety pursuant to sub-paragraph (C) (the Relevant Dividend) and the amounts (if any) standing to the credit of the profit and loss account of the Company together with the amount of the reserves of the Company available for the purpose are sufficient to enable the allotments of additional preferences shares referred to in the further provisions of this sub-paragraph to be made in full:

(I) provided that the Company has sufficient authorised but unissued share capital and that the directors are authorised in accordance with section 80 of the Companies Act 1985 to allot the appropriate amount of relevant securities (for which purposes the directors shall, if necessary, call as soon as practicable a general meeting of the Company at which the appropriate resolutions to create such share capital and to obtain such authority are proposed), each holder of shares of the Relevant Series shall, on the date for payment of the Relevant Dividend had such dividend been paid in cash, be allotted such additional nominal amount of preference shares of the same class, denominated in the same currency and carrying identical rights and limitations as the Relevant Series in question, credited as fully paid, as is equal to an amount determined by multiplying the cash amount of the Relevant Dividend (exclusive of any associated tax credit) that would have been payable to him had such dividend been payable in cash by a factor to be determined by the board prior to allotment of the Relevant Series and rounding the resulting sum down to the nearest integral multiple of £1 (in the case of Sterling Preference Shares) and of €1 (in the case of Euro Preference Shares). A holder of Preference Shares receiving an allotment of additional preference shares in accordance with this sub-paragraph shall not be entitled to receive any part of the Relevant Dividend relating to Relevant Series in cash;

(II) subject to the provisos in sub-paragraph (G)(II) above, for the purpose of paying up preference shares to be allotted on any occasion pursuant to this sub-paragraph, the directors shall capitalise out of the sums standing to the credit of the profit and loss account of the Company and/or to the credit of the Company's reserve accounts (including share premium account) available for the purpose, as the directors may determine, a sum equal to the aggregate nominal amount of the additional preference shares then to be allotted and apply the same in paying up in full the appropriate amount of unissued preference shares of that class or classes in question;

(III) the additional preference shares so allotted shall rank pari passu in all respects with the Relevant Series in respect of which the additional preference shares were so allotted, save only as regards participation in the Relevant Dividend; and

(IV) the board may undertake and do such acts and things as it may consider necessary or expedient for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions described in this sub-paragraph (G).

(e) if, in the opinion of the board, the payment of any Preference Dividend would breach or cause a breach of capital adequacy requirements from time to time applicable to the Company under the UK capital adequacy regime then none of such Preference Dividend shall be declared or paid;

(f) In any calendar year, whether or not any Preference Dividend on any particular Preference Shares has been paid in full and notwithstanding any other provision of these Articles, the board may, if it so resolves, pay (or set aside a sufficient sum for payment of) a special dividend (a Special Dividend) not exceeding (in the case of Sterling Preference Shares) one penny per share or (in the case of Euro Preference Shares) one cent per share on any shares in the capital of the Company in respect of which no dividend has previously been paid in that calendar year. References elsewhere in this article 8A to any dividend payable on any Preference Shares shall not be treated as including a reference to any Special Dividend paid on any particular Preference Shares pursuant to this sub-paragraph (f).

8A.1.2 Capital

(a) On a distribution of assets on a winding-up of the Company or return of capital (other than on a redemption or purchase by the Company of any of its share capital), members holding Preference Shares shall in respect thereof be entitled to receive, out of the surplus assets remaining after payment of the Company's liabilities, an amount equal to the amount paid up or credited as paid up on the Preference Shares together with such premium (if any) as may be determined by the board prior to allotment thereof (and so that the board may determine that such premium is payable only in specified circumstances). Unless otherwise determined by the board prior to allotment, such amount in respect of Sterling Preference

Shares shall be payable in sterling, and such amount in respect of Euro Preference Shares shall be payable in euros.

(b) In addition to the amount repayable on the Preference Shares in accordance with sub-paragraph (a) above there shall be payable a sum equal to the Preference Dividend which would have been payable by the Company in accordance with paragraph (1) above (together, in the case of Preference Shares which are expressed to have a cumulative right as regards participation in profits, with any arrears or deficiency of Preference Dividend), calculated at the annual rate determined by the board before allotment of the Preference Shares in question, in respect of the number of days included in the period commencing with the day following whichever Preference Dividend Payment Date shall most recently have occurred prior to the date of commencement of the winding-up of the Company or return of capital and ending with such date of commencement of winding-up or return of capital, as though such period had been one in relation to which a Preference Dividend would have been payable pursuant to the provisions described in paragraph (1)(a) above and the terms of issue of the Preference Shares in question, but subject always to the provisions described in paragraph (1)(d)(i), (ii) and (iv) above and to the terms on which any particular Preference Shares are issued.

(c) With respect to the amounts payable or repayable under sub-paragraphs (a) and (b) of this paragraph in the event of a winding-up of the Company or return of capital, Preference Shares shall rank pari passu inter se and with any other shares that are expressed to rank pari passu therewith as regards participation in surplus assets and otherwise in priority to any other share capital of the Company. Save as may be determined by the board prior to the issue of any particular series of Preference Shares, the holders of Preference Shares shall not be entitled in respect thereof to any further or other right of participation in the assets of the Company upon a winding-up or return of capital.

The holders of any series of Preference Shares will only be entitled to receive notice of and to attend any general meeting of the Company:

(1) if the Preference Dividend on the Preference Shares of such series has not, at the date of the notice of the general meeting, been paid in full in respect of such dividend periods as the board may prior to allotment determine, in which case the holders of the Preference Shares of such series will be entitled to speak and/or vote upon any resolution proposed thereat; or

(2) if a resolution is proposed at the general meeting:

(i) for, or in relation to, the winding-up of the Company; or

(ii) varying, altering or abrogating any of the rights, privileges, limitations or restrictions attached to the Preference Shares of such series, in which case the holders of the Preference Shares of such series will be entitled to speak and/or vote only upon such resolution; or

(3) in such other circumstances, and upon and subject to such terms, as the board may determine prior to allotment.

On a show of hands every holder of Preference Shares who is entitled to vote and who (being an individual) is present in person or (being a corporation) is present by representative shall have one vote. On a poll each holder of Preference Shares present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote shall have such number of votes in respect of each Preference Share as the board may determine prior to the allotment of such shares.

8A.1.4 Redemption of Redeemable Preference Shares

(a) The Redeemable Sterling Preference Shares and the Redeemable Euro Preference Shares (together, the Redeemable Preference Shares) shall, subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts and to the other provisions of this paragraph (4), be redeemable at the option of the Company in whole or in part on any day by the Company giving to each of the holders of the Redeemable Preference Shares to be redeemed not less than fourteen days' prior notice in writing (a Notice of Redemption) and by the Company complying with the other requirements of this paragraph (4).

(b) In the case of a partial redemption under sub-paragraph (a) of this paragraph (4) of this article 8A, the Company shall for the purposes of ascertaining the particular Redeemable Preference Shares to be redeemed cause a lot to be drawn at the office (or at such other place as the board may determine) in the presence of the auditors.

(c) A Notice of Redemption shall specify the particular Redeemable Preference Shares to be redeemed, the date fixed for redemption (the Redemption Date), the amount payable in respect of each such Redeemable Preference Share on redemption and the place in the United Kingdom at which documents of title in respect of such Redeemable Preference Shares are to be presented and surrendered for redemption and payment of redemption moneys is to be effected. Upon such presentation and surrender and against the receipt of such holder for the redemption moneys payable in respect of such Redeemable Preference Shares, the Company shall pay to such holder the amount due to him in respect of such redemption and shall cancel the documents of title so delivered. No defect in the Notice of Redemption or in the giving thereof shall affect the validity of the redemption procedure.

(d) There shall be paid on each Redeemable Preference Share so redeemed the amount paid up or credited as paid up thereon, together (to the extent permitted by the Companies Acts) with any premium paid on issue.

(e) The provisions of this sub-paragraph (e) and the following sub-paragraphs (f) and (h) shall have effect in relation to Redeemable Preference Shares for the time being issued and registered in the Register of Members (Registered Shares) and represented by certificates (Certificates) and in relation to Redeemable Preference Shares which, in accordance with Article 9, are for the time being issued and represented by a warrant (Bearer Shares). Payment by the Company in respect of the amount due on redemption shall be made, in the case of a Redeemable Sterling Preference Share, by a sterling cheque drawn on a bank in London, and, in the case of a Redeemable Euro Preference Share, by a euro cheque drawn on a bank in England or Frankfurt, or, upon the request of the holder or joint holders not later than the date specified for the purpose in the Notice of Redemption, by transfer to in the case of a Redeemable Sterling Preference Share, a sterling account maintained by the payee with a bank in London, or in the case of a Redeemable Euro Preference Share, a euro account maintained by the payee with a bank in London or Frankfurt. Such payment will, in the case of a Registered Share, be against presentation and surrender of the relative Certificate at the place or on one of the places specified in the Notice of Redemption and if any Certificate so surrendered includes Redeemable Preference Shares not to be redeemed on the relevant Redemption Date the Company shall within fourteen days thereafter issue to the holder, free of charge, a fresh Certificate in respect of such Redeemable Preference Shares. Such payments will, in the case of a Bearer Share, be made against presentation and surrender of the Warrant and all unmatured dividend coupons and talons (if any) at the place or places specified in the Notice of Redemption. Upon the relevant Redemption Date all unmatured dividend coupons and any talon for additional dividend coupons appertaining thereto (whether or not returned) shall become void and no payment will be made in respect thereof. If the Warrant so surrendered represents any Redeemable Preference Shares not to be redeemed on the relevant Redemption Date the Company shall issue, free of charge, a fresh Warrant representing such Bearer Shares which are not to be redeemed on such Redemption Date. All payments in respect of redemption monies will in all respects be subject to any applicable fiscal or other laws.

(f) As from the relevant Redemption Date the dividend on the Redeemable Preference Shares due for redemption shall cease to accrue except on any such Redeemable Preference Shares in respect of which, upon the due delivery of the Certificate or, as the case may be, the Warrant and all unmatured dividend coupons and talons (if any) in respect thereof, in accordance with sub-paragraphs (c) and (e) above, payment of the redemption moneys due on such Redemption Date shall be improperly withheld or refused in which case the said dividend, at the rate then applicable, shall be deemed to have continued and shall accordingly continue to accrue from the relevant Redemption Date to the date of payment of such redemption moneys. Such Redeemable Preference Shares shall not be treated as having been redeemed until the redemption moneys in question together with the accrued dividend thereon have been paid whereupon such Redeemable Preference Shares shall be treated as having been redeemed.

(g) If the Redemption Date for any Redeemable Preference Share is not, in the case of a Redeemable Sterling Preference Share, a day on which banks in London are open for business and on which foreign exchange dealings may be conducted in London (a Sterling Business Day), or, in the case of a Redeemable Euro Preference Share, a day in which banks in London and Frankfurt are open for business and on which foreign exchange dealings may be conducted in such cities (a Euro Business Day), then payment of the amount payable on redemption will be made on the next succeeding Sterling Business Day or Euro Business Day as the case may be, and without any interest or other payment in respect of such delay unless such day shall fall within the next calendar month, whereupon such payment will be made on the preceding Sterling Business Day or Euro Business Day, as the case may be.

(h) The receipt of the holder for the time being of any Registered Share (or, in the case of joint registered holders, the receipt of any one of them) and the receipt of the person delivering any Warrant to the place or one of the places specified pursuant to sub-paragraph (c) above in respect of the monies payable on redemption on such Registered Share or, as the case may be, such Bearer Share, shall constitute an absolute discharge to the Company in respect thereof.

(i) Upon the redemption or purchase of any Redeemable Preference Shares, the directors may (pursuant to the authority given by the passing of the resolution to adopt this article) consolidate and divide and/or sub-divide the authorised, but unissued, Redeemable Preference Share capital existing as a consequence of such redemption or purchase into shares of a larger or smaller amount (and so that the provisions of articles 50 and 51 shall, where relevant, apply to any such consolidation, division or sub-division).

8A.1.5 Further Shares

(a) Save as provided by the terms of issue of any particular Preference Shares, the Company shall not create or issue any further shares ranking as regards participation in the profits and assets of the Company in priority to the Preference Shares.

(b) Any series of Preference Shares or other shares ranking pari passu in some or all respects with the Preference Shares then in issue may (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the Preference Shares then in issue), without their creation or issue being deemed to vary the special rights attached to any Preference Shares then in issue, either carry rights identical in all respects with such Preference Shares or any of them or carry rights differing therefrom in any respect. Unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue, the rights attaching to any Preference Shares shall not be deemed to be varied or abrogated by the purchase, redemption or cancellation by the Company of any of its shares ranking as regards participation in the profits or assets of the Company pari passu with or after such Preference Shares.

SHARE RIGHTS

res with
cial rights

9.1 Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts and without prejudice to any rights attached to any existing shares or class of shares, any share may be issued with such rights or restrictions as the Company may by ordinary resolution determine or, subject to and in default of such determination, as the board shall determine.

Share warrants to bearer

9.2 The board may issue share warrants to bearer in respect of any fully paid up shares under a seal of the Company, or in any other manner authorised by the board. Any share while represented by such a warrant shall be transferable by delivery of the warrant relating to it. In any case in which a warrant is so issued, the board may provide for the payment of dividends or other moneys on the shares represented by the warrant by coupons or otherwise. The board may decide, either generally or in any particular case or cases, that any signature on any such warrant may be applied by mechanical means or printed on it or that the warrant need not be signed by any person.

Conditions of issue of share warrants

9.3 The board may determine, and from time to time vary, the conditions on which share warrants to bearer shall be issued and, in particular, the conditions on which:

(a) a new warrant or coupon shall be issued in place of one worn-out, defaced, lost or destroyed (but no new warrant shall be issued unless the Company is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the original has been destroyed); or

(b) the bearer shall be entitled to attend and vote at general meetings; or

(c) a warrant may be surrendered and the name of the bearer entered in the register in respect of the shares specified in the warrant.

The bearer of such a warrant shall be subject to the conditions for the time being in force in relation to the warrant, whether made before or after the issue of the warrant. Subject to those conditions and to the provisions of the Companies Acts, the bearer shall be deemed to be a member of the Company and shall have the same rights and privileges as he would have if his name had been included in the register as the holder of the shares comprised in the warrant.

No right in relation to share

9.4 The Company shall not be bound by or be compelled in any way to recognise any right in respect of the share represented by a share warrant other than the bearer's absolute right to the warrant.

Section 80 authority

10.1 The board has general and unconditional authority to exercise all the powers of the Company to allot relevant securities up to an aggregate nominal amount equal to the section 80 amount, for each prescribed period.

Section 89 disapplication

10.2 The board is empowered for each prescribed period to allot equity securities for cash pursuant to the authority conferred by Article 10.1 as if section 89(1) of the Act did not apply to any such allotment, provided that its power shall be limited to:

(a) the allotment of equity securities in connection with an issue in favour of the holders of relevant shares where the equity securities respectively attributable to the interests of all the holders of relevant shares are proportionate (as nearly as practicable) to the respective numbers of relevant shares held by them, but subject to such exclusions or other arrangements as the board may deem necessary or expedient in relation to fractional entitlements or any legal, regulatory or practical problems under the laws or regulations of any overseas territory or the requirements of any regulatory body or stock exchange; and

(b) the allotment (otherwise than pursuant to Article 10.2(a)) of equity securities up to an aggregate nominal amount equal to the section 89 amount.

tment after ry

10.3 Before the expiry of a prescribed period the Company may make an offer or agreement which would or might require equity securities or other relevant securities to be allotted after such expiry. The board may allot equity securities or other relevant securities in pursuance of that offer or agreement as if the prescribed period during which that offer or agreement was made had not expired.

dual tment ers

11. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts relating to authority, pre-emption rights or otherwise and of any resolution of the Company in general meeting passed pursuant to those provisions, and, in the case of redeemable shares, the provisions of Article 12:

(a) all unissued shares for the time being in the capital of the Company shall be at the disposal of the board; and

(b) the board may allot (with or without conferring a right of renunciation), grant options over, or otherwise dispose of them to such persons on such terms and conditions and at such times as it thinks fit.

eemable es

12. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, and without prejudice to any rights attached to any existing shares or class of shares, shares may be issued which are to be redeemed or are to be liable to be redeemed at the option of the Company or the holder on such terms and in such manner as may be provided by these Articles.

Commissions

13. The Company may exercise all powers of paying commissions or brokerage conferred or permitted by the Companies Acts. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, any such commission or brokerage may be satisfied by the payment of cash or by the allotment of fully or partly paid shares or partly in one way and partly in the other.

Trusts not recognised

14. Except as required by law and except to the extent expressly provided in Articles 150 and 164 in relation to the trustee to whom shares may be issued in accordance with the terms of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company, the Company shall recognise no person as holding any share on any trust and (except as otherwise provided by these Articles or by law) the Company shall not be bound by or recognise any interest in any share (or in any fractional part of a share) except the holder's absolute right to the entirety of the share (or fractional part of the share).

VARIATION OF RIGHTS

Method of varying rights

15.1 Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, if at any time the capital of the Company is divided into different classes of shares, the rights attached to any class may (unless otherwise provided by the terms of allotment or issue of the shares of that class) be varied or abrogated, whether or not the Company is being wound up, either:

(a) with the consent in writing of the holders of three-quarters in nominal value of the issued shares of the class, which consent shall be by means of one or more instruments or contained in one or more electronic communications sent to such address (if any) for the time being notified by or on behalf of the Company for that purpose or a combination of both; or

(b) with the sanction of an extraordinary resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares of the class,

(but not otherwise).

When rights deemed to be varied

15.2 For the purposes of this Article, unless otherwise expressly provided by the rights attached to any share or class of shares, those rights shall be deemed to be varied by:

(a) the reduction of the capital paid up on that share or class of shares otherwise than by a purchase or redemption by the Company of its own shares; and

(b) the allotment of another share ranking in priority for payment of a dividend or in respect of capital or which confers on its holder voting rights more favourable than those conferred by that share or class of shares,

but shall not be deemed to be varied by:

(c) the creation or issue of another share ranking equally with, or subsequent to, that share or class of shares or by the purchase or redemption by the Company of its own shares; or

(d) the Company permitting, in accordance with the Regulations, the holding and transfer of title to shares of that or any other class in uncertificated form by means of a relevant system.

UNCERTIFICATED SHARES

ertificated res

16.1 Subject to the provisions of the Regulations, the board may permit the holding of shares in any class of shares in uncertificated form and the transfer of title to shares in that class by means of a relevant system and may determine that any class of shares shall cease to be a participating security.

separate s of shares

16.2 Shares in the capital of the Company that fall within a certain class shall not form a separate class of shares from other shares in that class because any share in that class:

(a) is held in uncertificated form; or

(b) is permitted in accordance with the Regulations to become a participating security.

rcise of npany's tlements in pect of ertificated res

16.3 Where any class of shares is a participating security and the Company is entitled under any provision of the Companies Acts, the Regulations or the Articles to sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of, forfeit, re-allot, accept the surrender of or otherwise enforce a lien over a share held in uncertificated form, the Company shall be entitled, subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, the Regulations, the Articles and the facilities and requirements of the relevant system:

(a) to require the holder of that uncertificated share by notice to change that share into certificated form within the period specified in the notice and to hold that share in certificated form so long as required by the Company;

(b) to require the holder of that uncertificated share by notice to give any instructions necessary to transfer title to that share by means of the relevant system within the period specified in the notice;

(c) to require the holder of that uncertificated share by notice to appoint any person to take any step, including without limitation the giving of any instructions by means of the relevant system, necessary to transfer that share within the period specified in the notice; and

(d) to take any action that the board considers appropriate to achieve the sale, transfer, disposal, forfeiture, re-allotment or surrender of that share or otherwise to enforce a lien in respect of that share.

SHARE CERTIFICATES

Members' rights to certificates

17. Every member, on becoming the holder of any certificated share (except a recognised person in respect of whom the Company is not required by law to complete and have ready for delivery a certificate) shall be entitled, without payment, to one certificate for all the certificated shares of each class held by him (and, on transferring a part of his holding of certificated shares of any class, to a certificate for the balance of his holding of certificated shares). He may elect to receive one or more additional certificates for any of his certificated shares if he pays for every certificate after the first a reasonable sum determined from time to time by the board. Every certificate shall:

(a) be executed under the seal or in accordance with Article 138 or in such other manner as the board may approve; and

(b) specify the number, class and distinguishing numbers (if any) of the shares to which it relates and the amount or respective amounts paid up on the shares.

The Company shall not be bound to issue more than one certificate for certificated shares held jointly by more than one person and delivery of a certificate to one joint holder shall be a sufficient delivery to all of them. Shares of different classes may not be included in the same certificate.

Replacement certificates

18. If a share certificate is defaced, worn out, lost or destroyed, it may be renewed on such terms (if any) as to evidence and indemnity and payment of any exceptional out-of-pocket expenses reasonably incurred by the Company in investigating evidence and preparing the requisite form of indemnity as the board may determine but otherwise free of charge, and (in the case of defacement or wearing out) on delivery up of the old certificate.

LIEN

Company to have lien on shares

19. The Company shall have a first and paramount lien on every share (not being a fully paid share) for all moneys payable to the Company (whether presently or not) in respect of that share. The board may at any time (generally or in particular cases) waive any lien or declare any share to be wholly or in part exempt from the provisions of this Article. The Company's lien on a share shall extend to any amount (including without limitation dividends) payable in respect of it.

Enforcement of lien by sale

20.1 The Company may sell, in such manner as the board determines, any share on which the Company has a lien if a sum in respect of which the lien exists is presently payable and is not paid within 14 clear days after notice has been sent to the holder of the share, or to the person entitled to it by transmission, demanding payment and stating that if the notice is not complied with the share may be sold.

Giving effect to sale

20.2 To give effect to that sale the board may, if the share is a certificated share, authorise any person to execute an instrument of transfer in respect of the share sold to, or in accordance with the directions of, the buyer. If the share is an uncertificated share, the board may exercise any of the Company's powers under Article 16.3 to effect the transfer of the share to, or in accordance with the directions of, the buyer. The buyer shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money and his title to the share shall not be affected by any irregularity in or invalidity of the proceedings in relation to the sale.

plication of ceeds

20.3 The net proceeds of the sale, after payment of the costs, shall be applied in or towards payment or satisfaction of so much of the sum in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable. Any residue shall (if the share sold is a certificated share, on surrender to the Company for cancellation of the certificate in respect of the share sold and, whether the share sold is a certificated share or uncertificated share, subject to a like lien for any moneys not presently payable as existed on the share before the sale) be paid to the person entitled to the share at the date of the sale.

CALLS ON SHARES

ver to make s

24. Subject to the terms of allotment, the board may from time to time make calls on the members in respect of any moneys unpaid on their shares (whether in respect of nominal value or premium). Each member shall (subject to receiving at least 14 clear days' notice specifying when and where payment is to be made) pay to the Company the amount called on his shares as required by the notice. A call may be required to be paid by instalments. A call may be revoked in whole or part and the time fixed for payment of a call may be postponed in whole or part as the board may determine. A person on whom a call is made shall remain liable for calls made on him even if the shares in respect of which the call was made are subsequently transferred.

e when call le

25. A call shall be deemed to have been made at the time when the resolution of the board authorising the call was passed.

bility of joint lders

26. The joint holders of a share shall be jointly and severally liable to pay all calls in respect of it.

erest payable

27. If a call or any instalment of a call remains unpaid in whole or in part after it has become due and payable the person from whom it is due and payable shall pay interest on the amount unpaid from the day it became due and payable until it is paid. Interest shall be paid at the rate fixed by the terms of allotment of the share or in the notice of the call or, if no rate is fixed, the rate determined by the board, not exceeding 15 per cent. per annum or, if higher, the appropriate rate (as defined by the Act) but the board may in respect of any individual member waive payment of such interest wholly or in part.

emed calls

28. An amount payable in respect of a share on allotment or at any fixed date, whether in respect of nominal value or premium or as an instalment of a call, shall be deemed to be a call duly made and notified and payable on the date so fixed or in accordance with the terms of the allotment. If it is not paid the provisions of these Articles shall apply as if that amount had become due and payable by virtue of a call duly made and notified.

Differentiation on calls

29. Subject to the terms of allotment, the board may make arrangements on the issue of shares for a difference between the allottees or holders in the amounts and times of payment of calls on their shares.

Payment of calls in advance

30. The board may, if it thinks fit, receive from any member all or any part of the moneys uncalled and unpaid on any share held by him. Such payment in advance of calls shall extinguish the liability on the share in respect of which it is made to the extent of the payment. The Company may pay on all or any of the moneys so advanced (until they would but for such advance become presently payable) interest at such rate agreed between the board and the member not exceeding (unless the Company by ordinary resolution otherwise directs) 15 per cent. per annum or, if higher, the appropriate rate (as defined in the Act).

FORFEITURE AND SURRENDER

Notice requiring payment of call

31. If a call or any instalment of a call remains unpaid in whole or in part after it has become due and payable, the board may give to the person from whom it is due not less than 14 clear days' notice requiring payment of the amount unpaid together with any interest which may have accrued and any costs, charges and expenses incurred by the Company by reason of such non-payment. The notice shall name the place where payment is to be made and shall state that if the notice is not complied with the shares in respect of which the call was made will be liable to be forfeited.

Forfeiture for non-compliance

32. If that notice is not complied with, any share in respect of which it was sent may, at any time before the payment required by the notice has been made, be forfeited by a resolution of the board. The forfeiture shall include all dividends or other moneys payable in respect of the forfeited share which have not been paid before the forfeiture. When a share has been forfeited, notice of the forfeiture shall be sent to the person who was the holder of the share before the forfeiture. Where the forfeited share is held in certificated form, an entry shall be made promptly in the register opposite the entry of the share showing that notice has been sent, that the share has been forfeited and the date of forfeiture. No forfeiture shall be invalidated by the omission or neglect to send that notice or to make those entries.

Sale [redacted]feited shares

33. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, a forfeited share shall be deemed to belong to the Company and may be sold, re-allotted or otherwise disposed of on such terms and in such manner as the board determines, either to the person who was the holder before the forfeiture or to any other person. At any time before sale, re-allotment or other disposal, the forfeiture may be cancelled on such terms as the board thinks fit. Where, for the purposes of its disposal, a forfeited share held in certificated form is to be transferred to any person, the board may authorise any person to execute an instrument of transfer of the shares to that person. Where, for the purposes of its disposal, a forfeited share held in uncertificated form is to be transferred to any person, the board may exercise any of the Company's powers under Article 16.3 to effect the transfer of the share to that person. The Company may receive the consideration given for the share on its disposal and may register the transferee as holder of the share.

34. A person shall cease to be a member in respect of any share which has been forfeited and shall, if the share is a certificated share, surrender the certificate for any forfeited share to the Company for cancellation. The person shall remain liable to the Company for all moneys which at the date of forfeiture were presently payable by him to the Company in respect of that share with interest on that amount at the rate at which interest was payable on those moneys before the forfeiture or, if no interest was so payable, at the rate determined by the board, not exceeding 15 per cent. per annum or, if higher, the appropriate rate (as defined in the Act), from the date of forfeiture until payment. The board may waive payment wholly or in part or enforce payment without any allowance for the value of the share at the time of forfeiture or for any consideration received on its disposal.

35. The board may accept the surrender of any share which it is in a position to forfeit on such terms and conditions as may be agreed. Subject to those terms and conditions, a surrendered share shall be treated as if it had been forfeited.

36. The forfeiture of a share shall involve the extinction at the time of forfeiture of all interest in and all claims and demands against the Company in respect of the share and all other rights and liabilities incidental to the share as between the person whose share is forfeited and the Company, except only those rights and liabilities expressly saved by these Articles, or as are given or imposed in the case of past members by the Companies Acts.

37. A statutory declaration by a director or the secretary that a share has been duly forfeited or surrendered on a specified date shall be conclusive evidence of the facts stated in it as against all persons claiming to be entitled to the share. The declaration shall (subject, if necessary, to the execution of an instrument of transfer or transfer by means of the relevant system, as the case may be) constitute a good title to the share. The person to whom the share is disposed of shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money, if any, and his title to the share shall not be affected by any irregularity in, or invalidity of, the proceedings in reference to the forfeiture, surrender, sale, re-allotment or disposal of the share.

TRANSFER OF SHARES

38. The instrument of transfer of a certificated share may be in any usual form or in any other form which the board may approve. An instrument of transfer shall be signed by or on behalf of the transferor and, unless the share is fully paid, by or on behalf of the transferee. An instrument of transfer need not be under seal.

39. The board may, in its absolute discretion and without giving any reason, refuse to register the transfer of a certificated share which is not fully paid, provided that the refusal does not prevent dealings in shares in the Company from taking place on an open and proper basis.

40.1 The board may also refuse to register the transfer of a certificated share unless the instrument of transfer:

(a) is lodged, duly stamped (if stampable), at the office or at another place appointed by the board accompanied by the certificate for the share to which it relates and such other evidence as the board may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer;

(b) is in respect of only one class of shares; and

(c) is in favour of not more than four transferees.

Transfers by recognised persons

40.2 In the case of a transfer of certificated shares by a recognised person, the lodging of a share certificate will only be necessary if and to the extent that a certificate has been issued in respect of the share in question.

41. The board may refuse to register the transfer of an uncertificated share in any circumstances permitted by the London Stock Exchange, the Regulations and the rules and practices of the Operator of the relevant system. Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the directors shall have the right to refuse to register any transfer which would give rise to a breach of the protective provisions set out in Articles 5 and 6.

Notice of refusal to register

42. If the board refuses to register a transfer of a share in certificated form it shall send to the transferee notice of the refusal within two months after the date on which the transfer was lodged with the Company.

Suspension of registration

43. The registration of transfers of shares or of transfers of any class of shares may be suspended at such times and for such periods (not exceeding 30 days in any year) as the board may determine, except that the board may not suspend the registration of transfers of any participating security without the consent of the Operator of the relevant system.

No fee payable on registration

44. No fee shall be charged for the registration of any transfer or other document relating to or affecting the title to a share.

Retention of transfers

45. The Company shall be entitled to retain an instrument of transfer which is registered, but an instrument of transfer which the board refuses to register shall be returned to the person lodging it when notice of the refusal is sent.

TRANSMISSION OF SHARES

Transmission

46. If a member dies, the survivor, or survivors where he was a joint holder, and his personal representatives, where he was a sole holder or the only survivor of joint holders, shall be the only persons recognised by the Company as having any title to his interest. Nothing in these Articles shall release the estate of a deceased member (whether a sole or joint holder) from any liability in respect of any share held by him.

Elections permitted

47.1 A person becoming entitled by transmission to a share may, on production of any evidence as to his entitlement properly required by the board, elect either to become the holder of the share or to have another person nominated by him registered as the transferee. If he elects to become the holder he shall give notice to the Company to that effect. If he elects to have another person registered and the share is a certificated share, he shall execute an instrument of transfer of the share to that person. If he elects to become holder or to have another person registered and the share is an uncertificated share, he shall take any action the board may require (including without limitation the execution of any document and the giving of any instruction by means of a relevant system) to enable himself or that person to be registered as the holder of the share. All the provisions of these Articles relating to the transfer of shares apply to that notice or instrument of transfer as if it were an instrument of transfer executed by the member and the death or bankruptcy of the member or other event giving rise to the transmission had not occurred.

47.2 The board may at any time send a notice requiring any such person to elect either to be registered himself or to transfer the share. If the notice is not complied with within 60 days, the board may after the expiry of that period withhold payment of all dividends or other moneys payable in respect of the share until the requirements of the notice have been complied with.

hts o sons ed transmission

48. A person becoming entitled by transmission to a share shall, on production of any evidence as to his entitlement properly required by the board and subject to the requirements of Article 47, have the same rights in relation to the share as he would have had if he were the holder of the share, subject to Article 148. That person may give a discharge for all dividends and other moneys payable in respect of the share, but he shall not, before being registered as the holder of the share, be entitled in respect of it to receive notice of, or to attend or vote at, any meeting of the Company or to receive notice of or to attend or vote at any separate meeting of the holders of any class of shares in the capital of the Company.

ALTERATION OF SHARE CAPITAL

erations by linary olution

49. Subject to the provisions of Article 8, the Company may by ordinary resolution:

(a) increase its share capital by such sum to be divided into shares of such amount as the resolution prescribes;

(b) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into shares of larger amount than its existing shares;

(c) subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, sub-divide its shares, or any of them, into shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the Memorandum and the resolution may determine that, as between the shares resulting from the sub-division, any of them may have any preference or advantage as compared with the others; and

(d) cancel shares which, at the date of the passing of the resolution, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person and diminish the amount of its share capital by the amount of the shares so cancelled.

(a) subject to all the provisions of these Articles including, without limitation, provisions relating to payment of calls, lien, forfeiture, transfer and transmission; and

(b) unclassified, unless otherwise provided by these Articles, by the resolution creating the shares or by the terms of allotment of the shares.

Fractions arising

51. Whenever any fractions arise as a result of a consolidation or sub-division of shares, the board may on behalf of the members deal with the fractions as it thinks fit. In particular, without limitation, the board may sell shares representing fractions to which any members would otherwise become entitled to any person (including, subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, the Company) and distribute the net proceeds of sale in due proportion among those members. Where the shares to be sold are held in certificated form, the board may authorise some person to execute an instrument of transfer of the shares to, or in accordance with, the buyer's directions. Where the shares to be sold are held in uncertificated form, the board may do all acts and things it considers necessary or expedient to effect the transfer of the shares to, or in accordance with, the buyer's directions. The buyer shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase moneys and his title to the shares shall not be affected by any irregularity in, or invalidity of, the proceedings in relation to the sale.

Power to reduce capital

52. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, the Company may by special resolution reduce its share capital, capital redemption reserve and share premium account in any way.

PURCHASE OF OWN SHARES

Types of general meeting

54. All general meetings of the Company other than annual general meetings shall be called extraordinary general meetings. The board shall convene and the Company shall hold general meetings as annual general meetings in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Acts.

On the requisition of members pursuant to the provisions of the Companies Acts, the board shall promptly convene an extraordinary general meeting in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Acts. If there are insufficient directors in the United Kingdom to call a general meeting, any director of the Company may call a general meeting, but where no director is willing or able to do so, any two members of the Company may summon a meeting for the purpose of appointing one or more directors.

NOTICE OF GENERAL MEETINGS

All business that is transacted at an extraordinary general meeting shall be deemed special. All business transacted at an annual general meeting shall be deemed special except:

(b) the consideration and adoption of the accounts and balance sheet and the reports of the directors and auditors and other documents required to be annexed to the accounts;

(c) the appointment and re-appointment of directors;

Article 59.3 arrangements

58.3 The notice shall include details of any arrangements made for the purpose of Article 59.3 (making clear that participation in those arrangements will not amount to attendance at the meeting to which the notice relates).

General meetings at more than one place

59.1 The board may resolve to enable persons entitled to attend a general meeting to do so by simultaneous attendance and participation at a satellite meeting place anywhere in the world. The members present in person or by proxy at satellite meeting places shall be counted in the quorum for, and entitled to vote at, the general meeting in question, and that meeting shall be duly constituted and its proceedings valid if the chairman of the general meeting is satisfied that adequate facilities are available throughout the general meeting to ensure that members attending at all the meeting places are able to:

(a) participate in the business for which the meeting has been convened;

(b) hear and see all persons who speak (whether by the use of microphones, loudspeakers, audio-visual communications equipment or otherwise) in the principal meeting place and any satellite meeting place; and

(c) be heard and seen by all other persons so present in the same way.

The chairman of the general meeting shall be present at, and the meeting shall be deemed to take place at, the principal meeting place.

Interruption or adjournment where facilities inadequate

59.2 If it appears to the chairman of the general meeting that the facilities at the principal meeting place or any satellite meeting place have become inadequate for the purposes referred to in Article 59.1, then the chairman may, without the consent of the meeting, interrupt or adjourn the general meeting. All business conducted at that general meeting up to the time of such adjournment shall be valid. The provisions of Article 65.2 shall apply to any such adjournment.

Other arrangements for viewing/hearing proceedings

59.3 The board may make arrangements for persons entitled to attend a general meeting or an adjourned general meeting to be able to view and hear the proceedings of the general or adjourned general meeting and to speak at the meeting (whether by the use of microphones, loudspeakers, audio-visual communications equipment or otherwise), by attending a venue anywhere in the world not being a satellite meeting place. Those attending at any such venue shall not be regarded as present at the general meeting or adjourned general meeting and shall not be entitled to vote at the meeting at or from that venue. The inability for any reason of any member present in person or by proxy at such a venue to view or

59.4 The board may from time to time make any arrangements for controlling the level of attendance at any venue for which arrangements have been made pursuant to Article 59.3 (including, without limitation, the issue of tickets or the imposition of some other means of selection) which it in its absolute discretion considers appropriate, and may from time to time change those arrangements. If a member who, pursuant to those arrangements, is not entitled to attend in person or by proxy at any particular venue, he shall be entitled to attend in person or by proxy at any other venue for which arrangements have been made pursuant to Article 59.3. The entitlement of any member to be present at such venue in person or by proxy shall be subject to any such arrangements then in force and stated by the notice of meeting or adjourned meeting to apply to the meeting.

59.5 If, after the sending of notice of a general meeting but before the meeting is held, or after the adjournment of a general meeting but before the adjourned meeting is held (whether or not notice of the adjourned meeting is required), the board decides that it is impracticable or unreasonable to hold the meeting at the declared place and/or time, it may change the place and/or postpone the time at which the meeting is to be held. If such a decision is made, the board may then change the place and/or postpone the time again if it decides that it is reasonable to do so. In either case:

(a) no new notice of the meeting need be sent, but the board shall, if practicable, advertise the date, time and place of the meeting in at least two newspapers having a national circulation and shall make arrangements for notices of the change of place and/or postponement to appear at the original place and/or at the original time; and

(b) a proxy appointment in relation to the meeting may, if by means of an instrument, be delivered to the office or to such other place within the United Kingdom as may be specified by or on behalf of the Company in accordance with Article 86.1(a) or, if contained in an electronic communication, be received at the address (if any) specified by or on behalf of the Company in accordance with Article 86.1(b) at any time not less than 48 hours before any new time appointed for holding the meeting.

any reason of any such notice or notification or form of proxy by that person, whether or not the Company is aware of such omission or non-receipt, shall not invalidate the proceedings at that meeting.

Security

60.2 The board and, at any general meeting, the chairman may make any arrangement and impose any requirement or restriction it or he considers appropriate to ensure the security of a general meeting including, without limitation, requirements for evidence of identity to be produced by those attending the meeting, the searching of their personal property and the restriction of items that may be taken into the meeting place. The board and, at any general meeting, the chairman are entitled to refuse entry to a person who refuses to comply with these arrangements, requirements or restrictions.

PROCEEDINGS AT GENERAL MEETINGS

Quorum

61. No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum is present, but the absence of a quorum shall not preclude the choice or appointment of a chairman, which shall not be treated as part of the business of the meeting. Save as otherwise provided by these Articles, two persons present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the business to be transacted shall be a quorum.

If quorum not present

62. If such a quorum is not present within five minutes (or such longer time not exceeding 30 minutes as the chairman of the meeting may decide to wait) from the time appointed for the meeting, or if during a meeting such a quorum ceases to be present, the meeting, if convened on the requisition of members, shall be dissolved, and in any other case shall stand adjourned to such time and place as the chairman of the meeting may determine. The adjourned meeting shall be dissolved if a quorum is not present within 15 minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting.

Chairman

63. The chairman, if any, of the board or, in his absence, any deputy chairman of the Company or, in his absence, some other director nominated by the board, shall preside as chairman of the meeting. If neither the chairman nor any deputy chairman nor such other director (if any) is present within five minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting or is not willing to act as chairman, the directors present shall elect one of their number to be chairman. If there is only one director present and willing to act, he shall be chairman. If no director is willing to act as chairman, or if no director is present within five minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the members present and entitled to vote shall choose one of their number to be chairman.

Directors entitled to speak

64. A director shall, notwithstanding that he is not a member, be entitled to attend and speak at any general meeting and at any separate meeting of the holders of any class of shares in the capital of the Company.

Adjournments: chairman's powers

65.1 The chairman may, with the consent of a meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting), adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place. No business shall be transacted at an adjourned meeting other than business which might properly have been transacted at the meeting had the adjournment not taken place. In addition (and without prejudice to the chairman's power to adjourn a meeting conferred by Article 59.2), the chairman may adjourn the meeting to another time and place without such consent if it appears to him that:

(a) it is likely to be impracticable to hold or continue that meeting because of the number of members wishing to attend who are not present; or

(b) the unruly conduct of persons attending the meeting prevents or is likely to prevent the orderly continuation of the business of the meeting; or

(c) an adjournment is otherwise necessary so that the business of the meeting may be properly conducted.

Journments: cedures

65.2 Any such adjournment may be for such time and to such other place (or, in the case of a meeting held at a principal meeting place and a satellite meeting place, such other places) as the chairman may, in his absolute discretion, determine, notwithstanding that by reason of such adjournment some members may be unable to be present at the adjourned meeting. Any such member may nevertheless appoint a proxy for the adjourned meeting either in accordance with Article 86 or by means of an instrument which, if delivered by him at the meeting which is adjourned to the chairman or the secretary or any director, shall be valid even though it is given at less notice than would otherwise be required by Article 86. When a meeting is adjourned for 30 days or more or for an indefinite period, notice shall be sent at least seven clear days before the date of the adjourned meeting specifying the time and place (or places, in the case of a meeting to which Article 59.1 applies) of the adjourned meeting and the general nature of the business to be transacted. Otherwise it shall not be necessary to send any notice of an adjournment or of the business to be transacted at an adjourned meeting.

endments to olutions

66. If an amendment is proposed to any resolution under consideration but is in good faith ruled out of order by the chairman, the proceedings on the substantive resolution shall not be invalidated by any error in such ruling. With the consent of the chairman, an amendment may be withdrawn by its proposer before it is voted on. No amendment to a resolution duly proposed as a special or extraordinary resolution may be considered or voted on (other than a mere clerical amendment to correct a patent error). No amendment to a resolution duly proposed as an ordinary resolution may be considered or voted on (other than a mere clerical amendment to correct a patent error) unless either (a) at least 48 hours before the time appointed for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting at which the ordinary resolution is to be considered, notice of the terms of the amendment and the intention to move it has been delivered by means of an instrument to the office, or to such other place as may be specified by or on behalf of the Company for that purpose, or received in an electronic communication at such address (if any) for the time being notified by or on behalf of the Company for that purpose or (b) the chairman in his absolute discretion decides that the amendment may be considered and voted on.

Methods of voting

67. A resolution put to the vote of a general meeting shall be decided on a show of hands unless, before or on the declaration of the result of a vote on the show of hands or on the withdrawal of any other demand for a poll, a poll is duly demanded. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, a poll may be demanded by:

(a) the chairman of the meeting; or

(b) at least five members (including proxies) who are present and who have the right to vote at the meeting; or

(c) any member or members (including a proxy or proxies) who are present and who represent not less than one-tenth of the total voting rights of all the members (including proxies) having the right to vote at the meeting; or

(d) any member or members (including a proxy or proxies) who are present and who hold shares (or who have been appointed to represent a member or members in respect of shares) conferring a right to vote at the meeting being shares on which an aggregate sum has been paid up equal to not less than one-tenth of the total sum paid up on all the shares conferring that right.

A demand by a person as proxy for a member shall be the same as a demand by the member.

Declaration of result

68. Unless a poll is duly demanded (and the demand is not withdrawn before the poll is taken) a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried or carried unanimously, or by a particular majority, or lost, or not carried by a particular majority shall be conclusive evidence of the fact without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against the resolution.

Chairman's casting vote

69. In the case of an equality of votes, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, the chairman shall be entitled to a casting vote in addition to any other vote he may have.

Withdrawal of demand for poll

70. The demand for a poll may be withdrawn before the poll is taken, but only with the consent of the chairman. A demand so withdrawn shall not be taken to have invalidated the result of a show of hands declared before the demand was made. If the demand for a poll is withdrawn, the chairman or any other member entitled may demand a poll.

Conduct of poll

71. Subject to Article 72 a poll shall be taken as the chairman directs and he may, and shall if required by the meeting, appoint scrutineers (who need not be members) and fix a time and place for declaring the result of the poll. The result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the meeting at which the poll was demanded.

When poll to be taken

72. A poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment shall be taken at the meeting at which it is demanded. A poll demanded on any other question shall be taken either at the meeting or at such time and place as the chairman directs not being more than 30 days after the poll is demanded. The demand for a poll shall not prevent the continuance of a meeting for the transaction of any business other than the question on which the poll was demanded. If a poll is demanded before the declaration of the result of a show of hands and the demand is duly withdrawn, the meeting shall continue as if the demand had not been made.

tice of poll

73. No notice need be sent of a poll not taken at the meeting at which it is demanded if the time and place at which it is to be taken are announced at the meeting. In any other case notice shall be sent at least seven clear days before the taking of the poll specifying the time and place at which the poll is to be taken.

ectiveness of cial and raordinary olutions

74. Where for any purpose an ordinary resolution of the Company is required, a special or extraordinary resolution shall also be effective. Where for any purpose an extraordinary resolution is required, a special resolution shall also be effective.

VOTES OF MEMBERS

75. Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any shares, on a show of hands every member who is present in person shall have one vote. A proxy appointed, in respect of all or part of such shareholding, by a member who holds shares in the Company pursuant to a written agreement with the Company on behalf of a third party or a number of third parties (a Nominee Proxy) shall on a show of hands also have one vote (and, for the avoidance of doubt, any such proxy will, on a show of hands, be entitled to one vote only, even if that proxy is himself a member or is acting as proxy for more than one member). Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any shares, on a poll every member present in person or by proxy shall have one vote for every share of which he is the holder.

A member in respect of whom an order has been made by a court or official having jurisdiction (whether in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) in matters concerning mental disorder may vote, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, by his receiver, curator bonis or other person authorised for that purpose appointed by that court or official. That receiver, curator bonis or other person may, on a poll, vote by proxy. The right to vote shall be exercisable only if evidence satisfactory to the board of the authority of the person claiming to exercise the right to vote has been deposited at the office, or at another place specified in accordance with these Articles for the delivery of proxy appointments, not less than 48 hours before the time appointed for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting at which the right to vote is to be exercised.

lls in arrears

78. No member shall be entitled to vote at a general meeting or at a separate meeting of the holders of any class of shares in the capital of the Company, either in person or by proxy, in respect of any share held by him unless all moneys presently payable by him in respect of that share have been paid.

Section 212 of the Act, restrictions if in default

79.1 If at any time the board is satisfied that any member, or any other person appearing to be interested in shares held by such member, has been duly served with a notice under section 212 of the Act (a section 212 notice) and is in default for the prescribed period in supplying to the Company the information thereby required, or, in purported compliance with such a notice, has made a statement which is false or inadequate in a material particular, then the board may, in its absolute discretion at any time thereafter by notice (a direction notice) to such member direct that:

(a) in respect of the shares in relation to which the default occurred (the default shares, which expression includes any shares issued after the date of the section 212 notice in respect of those shares) the member shall not be entitled to attend or vote either personally or by proxy at a general meeting or at a separate meeting of the holders of that class of shares or on a poll; and

(b) where the default shares represent at least ¼ of one per cent. in nominal value of the issued shares of their class, then the direction notice may additionally direct that in respect of the default shares:

(i) no payment shall be made by way of dividend and no share shall be allotted pursuant to Article 147;

(ii) no transfer of any default share shall be registered unless:

(A) the member is not himself in default as regards supplying the information requested and the instrument of transfer when presented for registration is accompanied by a certificate by the member in such form as the board may in its absolute discretion require to the effect that after due and careful enquiry the member is satisfied that no person in default as regards supplying such information is interested in any of the shares the subject of the transfer; or

(B) the transfer is an approved transfer; or

(C) registration of the transfer is required by the Regulations.

Copy of notice to interested persons

79.2 The Company shall send a copy of the direction notice to each other person appearing to be interested in the default shares, but the failure or omission by the Company to do so shall not invalidate such notice.

When restrictions cease to have effect

79.3 Any direction notice shall cease to have effect not more than seven days after the earlier of receipt by the Company of:

(a) a notice of an approved transfer, but only in relation to the shares transferred; or

(b) all the information required by the relevant section 212 notice, in a form satisfactory to the board.

80.1 For the purposes of Article 79:

(a) a person shall be treated as appearing to be interested in any shares if the member holding such shares has given to the Company a notification under section 212 of the Act which either (i) names such person as being so interested or (ii) fails to establish the identities of all those interested in the shares and (after taking into account the said notification and any other relevant section 212 notification) the Company knows or has reasonable cause to believe that the person in question is or may be interested in the shares;

(b) the prescribed period is 14 days from the date of service of the section 212 notice; and

(c) a transfer of shares is an approved transfer if:

(i) it is a transfer of shares pursuant to an acceptance of a takeover offer (within the meaning of section 428(1) of the Act); or

(ii) the board is satisfied that the transfer is made pursuant to a sale of the whole of the beneficial ownership of the shares the subject of the transfer to a party unconnected with the member and with any other person appearing to be interested in the shares; or

(iii) the transfer results from a sale made through a recognised investment exchange as defined in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 or any other stock exchange outside the United Kingdom on which the Company's shares are normally traded.

tion 216 of Act

80.2 Nothing contained in Article 79 limits the power of the Company under section 216 of the Act.

ors in voting

81. If any votes are counted which ought not to have been counted, or might have been rejected, the error shall not vitiate the result of the voting unless it is pointed out at the same meeting, or at any adjournment of the meeting, and, in the opinion of the chairman, it is of sufficient magnitude to vitiate the result of the voting.

Objection to voting

82. No objection shall be raised to the qualification of any voter except at the meeting or adjourned meeting or poll at which the vote objected to is tendered. Every vote not disallowed at such meeting shall be valid and every vote not counted which ought to have been counted shall be disregarded. Any objection made in due time shall be referred to the chairman whose decision shall be final and conclusive.

Supplementary provisions on voting

83. On a poll, votes may be given either personally or by proxy. A member entitled to more than one vote need not, if he votes, use all his votes or cast all the votes he uses in the same way.

PROXIES AND CORPORATE REPRESENTATIVES

Appointment of proxy: execution

84. The appointment of a proxy, whether by means of an instrument or contained in an electronic communication, shall be executed in such manner as the board may approve. Subject thereto, the appointment of a proxy shall be executed by the appointor or his attorney or, if the appointor is a corporation, executed by a duly authorised officer, attorney or other authorised person or under its common seal. For the purpose of this Article and Articles 85 and 86, an electronic communication which contains a proxy appointment need not comprise writing if the board so determines and in such a case, if the board so determines, the appointment need not be executed but shall instead be subject to such conditions as the board may approve.

Method of proxy appointment

85. The appointment of a proxy shall be in any usual form or in any other form which the board may approve. Subject thereto, the appointment of a proxy may be:

(a) by means of an instrument; or

(b) contained in an electronic communication sent to such address (if any) for the time being notified by or on behalf of the Company for that purpose, provided that the electronic communication is received in accordance with Article 86 not less than 48 hours before the time appointed for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting (or any postponed time appointed for holding the meeting pursuant to Article 59.5) or, where a poll is taken more than 48 hours after it is demanded, after the poll has been demanded and not less than 24 hours before the time appointed for the taking of the poll.

The board may, if it thinks fit, but subject to the provisions of the Act, at the Company's expense send forms of proxy for use at the meeting and issue invitations contained in electronic communications to appoint a proxy in relation to the meeting in such form as may be approved by the board. The appointment of a proxy shall not preclude a member from attending and voting in person at the meeting or poll concerned. Subject to Article 87.2, a member may appoint more than one proxy to attend on the same occasion, provided that, in any such case, the member must state in the appointment of each such proxy the number of shares in respect of which the appointment of that proxy is made.

(ii) in any form of proxy sent by or on behalf of the Company in relation to the meeting, not less than 48 hours before the time appointed for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting (or any postponed time appointed for holding the meeting pursuant to Article 59.5) at which the person named in the appointment proposes to vote; or

(b) in the case of an appointment contained in an electronic communication, where an address has been specified by or on behalf of the Company for the purpose of receiving electronic communications:

(i) in the notice convening the meeting, or

(ii) in any form of proxy sent by or on behalf of the Company in relation to the meeting, or

(iii) in any invitation contained in an electronic communication to appoint a proxy issued by or on behalf of the Company in relation to the meeting,

(c) in the case of an appointment contained in an instrument or of an appointment contained in an electronic communication, where a poll is taken more than 48 hours after it is demanded, be delivered or received as aforesaid after the poll has been demanded and not less than 24 hours before the time appointed for the taking of the poll; or

(d) in the case only of an appointment contained in an instrument, where a poll is not taken forthwith but is taken not more than 48 hours after it was demanded, be delivered at the meeting at which the poll was demanded to the chairman or to the secretary or to any director.

86.2 Any power of attorney or other written authority under which a proxy appointment is executed or an office or notarially certified copy or a copy certified authority shall be:

(a) delivered personally, by post or facsimile transmission to the office or to such other place within the United Kingdom as may be specified by or on behalf of the Company in accordance with Article 86.1(a) not less than 48 hours before the time appointed for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting (or any postponed time appointed for holding the meeting pursuant to Article 59.5) at which the person named in the appointment proposes to vote; or

(b) where a poll is taken more than 48 hours after it is demanded, be deposited as aforesaid after the poll has been demanded and not less than 24 hours before the time appointed for the taking of the poll; or

(c) where a poll is not taken forthwith but is taken not more than 48 hours after it was demanded, be delivered at the meeting at which the poll was demanded to the chairman or to the secretary or to any director together with the proxy appointment to which it relates.

86.3 A proxy appointment which is not delivered or received in accordance with Article 86.1, or in respect of which Article 86.2 has not been complied with, shall be invalid. No proxy appointment shall be valid more than twelve months after the date stated in it as the date of its execution. When two or more valid proxy appointments are delivered or received in respect of the same share for use at the same meeting, the one which was executed last shall be treated as replacing and revoking the others as regards that share; if the Company is unable to determine which was executed last, none of them shall be treated as valid in respect of that share.

Validity of proxy appointment

87.1 A proxy appointment shall be deemed to include the right to demand, or join in demanding, a poll and, in the case of a Nominee Proxy only, to confer the right to speak at a meeting. A proxy who is not a Nominee Proxy shall not, except with the permission of the chairman, have any right to speak at a meeting. The proxy appointment shall also be deemed to confer authority to vote on any amendment of a resolution put to the meeting for which it is given as the proxy thinks fit. APPOINTMENT AND RETIREMENT OF DIRECTORS

mber of ectors to ire

91. At every annual general meeting one-third of the directors who are subject to retirement by rotation or, if their number is not three or a multiple of three, the number nearest to one-third shall retire from office; but:

(a) if any director has at the start of the annual general meeting been in office for more than three years since his last appointment or re-appointment, he shall retire; and

(b) if there is only one director who is subject to retirement by rotation, he shall retire.

Which directors to retire

92. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts and these Articles, the directors to retire by rotation shall be those who have been longest in office since their last appointment or re-appointment. As between persons who became or were last re-appointed directors on the same day those to retire shall (unless they otherwise agree among themselves) be determined by lot. The directors to retire on each occasion (both as to number and identity) shall be determined by the composition of the board at the date of the notice convening the annual general meeting. No director shall be required to retire or be relieved from retiring or be retired by reason of any change in the number or identity of the directors after the date of the notice but before the close of the meeting.

When director deemed to be re-appointed

93. If the Company does not fill the vacancy at the meeting at which a director retires by rotation or otherwise, the retiring director shall, if willing to act, be deemed to have been re-appointed unless at the meeting it is resolved not to fill the vacancy or unless a resolution for the re-appointment of the director is put to the meeting and lost.

Eligibility for election

94. No person other than a director retiring by rotation shall be appointed a director at any general meeting unless:

(a) he is recommended by the board; or

(b) not less than seven nor more than 42 days before the date appointed for the meeting, notice executed by a member qualified to vote at the meeting (not being the person to be proposed) has been received by the Company of the intention to propose that person for appointment stating the particulars which would, if he were so appointed, be required to be included in the Company's register of directors, together with notice executed by that person of his willingness to be appointed.

Separate resolutions on appointment

95. Except as otherwise authorised by the Companies Acts, the appointment of any person proposed as a director shall be effected by a separate resolution.

Additional powers of the Company

96. Subject as aforesaid, the Company may by ordinary resolution appoint a person who is willing to act to be a director either to fill a vacancy or as an additional director and may also determine the rotation in which any additional directors are to retire. The appointment of a person to fill a vacancy or as an additional director shall take effect from the end of the meeting.

Appointment by board

97. The board may appoint a person who is willing to act to be a director, either to fill a vacancy or as an additional director and in either case whether or not for a fixed term, provided that the appointment does not cause the number of directors to exceed the number, if any, fixed by or in accordance with these Articles as the maximum number of directors. Irrespective of the terms of his appointment, a director so appointed shall hold office only until the next following general meeting and shall not be taken into account in determining the directors who are to retire by rotation at the meeting. If not re-appointed at such general meeting, he shall vacate office at its conclusion.

98. A director who retires at an annual general meeting may, if willing to act, be re-appointed. If he is not re-appointed, he shall retain office until the meeting appoints someone in his place, or if it does not do so, until the end of the meeting.

99. No person shall be disqualified from being appointed or re-appointed a director, and no director shall be required to vacate that office, by reason only of the fact that he has attained the age of 70 or any other age nor shall it be necessary by reason of his age to give special notice under the Companies Acts of any resolution. Where the board convenes any general meeting of the Company at which (to the knowledge of the board) a director will be proposed for appointment or re-appointment who at the date for which the meeting is convened will have attained the age of 70 or more, the board shall give notice of his age in years in the notice convening the meeting or in any document sent with the notice, but the accidental omission to do so shall not invalidate any proceedings, or any appointment or re-appointment of that director, at that meeting.

100. A director shall not be required to hold any shares in the capital of the Company by way of qualification.

ALTERNATE DIRECTORS

101. Any director (other than an alternate director) may appoint any other director, or any other person approved by resolution of the board and willing to act, to be an alternate director and may remove from office an alternate director so appointed by him.

102. An alternate director shall be entitled to receive notice of all meetings of the board and of all meetings of committees of the board of which his appointor is a member, to attend and vote at any such meeting at which his appointor is not personally present, and generally to perform all the functions of his appointor (except as regards power to appoint an alternate) as a director in his absence. It shall not be necessary to send notice of such a meeting to an alternate director who is absent from the United Kingdom.

103. A director or any other person may act as alternate director to represent more than one director, and an alternate director shall be entitled at meetings of the board or any committee of the board to one vote for every director whom he represents (and who is not present) in addition to his own vote (if any) as a director, but he shall count as only one for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present.

104. An alternate director may be repaid by the Company such expenses as might properly have been repaid to him if he had been a director but shall not be entitled to receive any remuneration from the Company in respect of his services as an alternate director except such part (if any) of the remuneration otherwise payable to his appointor as such appointor may by notice to the Company from time to time direct. An alternate director shall be entitled to be indemnified by the Company to the same extent as if he were a director.

Termination of appointment

105. An alternate director shall cease to be an alternate director:

(a) if his appointor ceases to be a director; but, if a director retires by rotation or otherwise but is re-appointed or deemed to have been re-appointed at the meeting at which he retires, any appointment of an alternate director made by him which was in force immediately prior to his retirement shall continue after his re-appointment; or

(b) on the happening of any event which, if he were a director, would cause him to vacate his office as director; or

(c) if he resigns his office by notice to the Company.

Method of appointment and revocation

106. Any appointment or removal of an alternate director shall be by notice to the Company signed by the director making or revoking the appointment and shall take effect in accordance with the terms of the notice (subject to any approval required by Article 101) on receipt of such notice by the Company at, in the case of a notice contained in an instrument, the office or, in the case of a notice contained in an electronic communication, such address (if any) as may for the time being be notified by or on behalf of the Company for that purpose.

Alternate not an agent of appointor

107. Except as otherwise expressly provided in these Articles, an alternate director shall be deemed for all purposes to be a director. Accordingly, except where the context otherwise requires, a reference to a director shall be deemed to include a reference to an alternate director. An alternate director shall alone be responsible for his own acts and defaults and he shall not be deemed to be the agent of the director appointing him.

POWERS OF THE BOARD

Business to be managed by board

108. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, the Memorandum and these Articles and to any directions given by special resolution, the business of the Company shall be managed by the board which may pay all expenses incurred in forming and registering the Company and may exercise all the powers of the Company whether relating to the management of the business of the Company or not. No alteration of the Memorandum or Articles and no such direction shall invalidate any prior act of the board which would have been valid if that alteration had not been made or that direction had not been given. The powers given by this Article shall not be limited by any special power given to the board by these Articles. A meeting of the board at which a quorum is present may exercise all powers exercisable by the board.

The board may co-opt on to any such committee persons other than directors, who may enjoy voting rights in the committee. The co-opted members shall be less than one-half of the total membership of the committee and a resolution of any committee shall be effective only if a majority of the members present are directors. Subject to any conditions imposed by the board, the proceedings of a committee with two or more members shall be governed by these Articles regulating the proceedings of directors so far as they are capable of applying.

Any appointment or delegation made pursuant to this Article may be made on such terms and subject to such conditions as the board may decide. The inclusion of the word "director" in the designation or title of any such office or employment shall not imply that the holder is a director of the Company, and the holder shall not thereby be empowered in any respect to act as, or be deemed to be, a director of the Company for any of the purposes of these Articles.

138. The seal shall only be used by the authority of a resolution of the board or of a committee of the board. The board may determine who shall sign any instrument executed under the seal. If they do not, it shall be signed by at least one director and the secretary or by at least two directors. Any instrument may be executed under the seal by impressing the seal by mechanical means or by printing the seal or a facsimile of it on the instrument or by applying the seal or a facsimile of it by any other means to the instrument. An instrument executed with the authority of a resolution of the board, by a director and the secretary or by two directors and expressed (in whatever form of words) to be executed by the Company, has the same effect as if executed under the seal. For the purpose of the preceding sentence only, secretary shall have the same meaning as in the Act and not the meaning given to it by Article 2.

The board may by resolution determine either generally or in any particular case that any certificate for shares or debentures or representing any other form of security may have any signature affixed to it by some mechanical or electronic means, or printed on it or, in the case of a certificate executed under the seal, need not bear any signature.

144. Subject to the provisions of the Companies Acts, the board may pay interim dividends if it appears to the board that they are justified by the profits of the Company available for distribution. If the share capital is divided into different classes, the board may pay interim dividends on shares which confer deferred or non-preferred rights with regard to dividend as well as on shares which confer preferential rights with regard to dividend, but no interim dividend shall be paid on shares carrying deferred or non-preferred rights if, at the time of payment, any preferential dividend is in arrears. The board may also pay at intervals settled by it any dividend payable at a fixed rate if it appears to the board that the profits available for distribution justify the payment. If the board acts in good faith it shall not incur any liability to the holders of shares conferring preferred rights for any loss they may suffer by the lawful payment of an interim dividend on any shares having deferred or non-preferred rights.

145. Except as otherwise provided by the rights attached to shares, all dividends shall be declared and paid according to the amounts paid up on the shares on which the dividend is paid; but no amount paid on a share in advance of the date on which a call is payable shall be treated for the purpose of this Article as paid on the share. All dividends shall be apportioned and paid proportionately to the amounts paid up on the shares during any portion or portions of the period in respect of which the dividend is paid; but, if any share is allotted or issued on terms providing that it shall rank for dividend as from a particular date, that share shall rank for dividend accordingly.

146. A general meeting declaring a dividend may, on the recommendation of the board, by ordinary resolution direct that it shall be satisfied wholly or partly by the distribution of assets, including without limitation paid up shares or debentures of another body corporate. The board may make any arrangements it thinks fit to limitation (a) the fixing of the value for distribution of any assets, (b) the payment of cash to any member on the basis of that value in order to adjust the rights of members, and (c) the vesting of any asset in a trustee.

Scrip dividends: authorising resolution

147.1 The board may, if authorised by an ordinary resolution of the Company (the Resolution), offer any holder of shares the right to elect to receive shares, credited as fully paid, instead of cash in respect of the whole (or some part, to be determined by the board) of all or any dividend specified by the Resolution. The offer shall be on the terms and conditions and be made in the manner specified in Article 147.2 or, subject to those provisions, specified in the Resolution.

Scrip dividends: procedures

147.2 The following provisions shall apply to the Resolution and any offer made pursuant to it and Article 147.1.

(a) The Resolution may specify a particular dividend, or may specify all or any dividends declared within a specified period.

(b) Each holder of shares shall be entitled to that number of new shares as are together as nearly as possible equal in value to (but not greater than) the cash amount (disregarding any tax credit) of the dividend that such holder elects to forego (each a new share). For this purpose, the value of each new share shall be:

(i) equal to the average quotation for the Company's ordinary shares, that is, the average of the middle market quotations for those shares on the London Stock Exchange, as derived from the Daily Official List, on the day on which such shares are first quoted ex the relevant dividend and the four subsequent dealing days; or

(ii) calculated in any other manner specified by the Resolution, but shall never be less than the par value of the new share.

A certificate or report by the auditors as to the value of a new share in respect of any dividend shall be conclusive evidence of that value.

(c) On or as soon as practicable after announcing that any dividend is to be declared or recommended, the board, if it intends to offer an election in respect of that dividend, shall also announce that intention. If, after determining the basis of allotment, the board decides to proceed with the offer, it shall give notice to the holders of shares of the terms and conditions of the right of election offered to them, specifying the procedure to be followed and place at which, and the latest time by which, elections or notices amending or terminating existing elections must be lodged in order to be effective.

(d) The board shall not proceed with any election unless the Company has sufficient unissued shares authorised for issue and sufficient reserves or funds that may be appropriated to give effect to it after the basis of allotment is determined.

(e) The board may exclude from any offer any holders of shares where the board believes the making of the offer to them would or might involve the contravention of the laws of any territory or that for any other reason the offer should not be made to them.

(f) The dividend (or that part of the dividend in respect of which a right of election has been offered) shall not be payable in cash on shares in respect of which an election has been made (the elected shares) and instead such number of new shares shall be allotted to each holder of elected shares as is arrived at on the basis stated in Article 147.2(b). For that purpose the board shall appropriate out of any amount for the time being standing to the credit of any reserve or fund (including without limitation the profit and loss account), whether or not it is available for distribution, a sum equal to the aggregate nominal amount of the new shares to be allotted and apply it in paying up in full the appropriate number of new shares for allotment and distribution to each such holder of elected shares as is arrived at on the basis stated in Article 147.2(b).

(g) The new shares when allotted shall rank equally in all respects with the fully paid shares of the same class then in issue except that they shall not be entitled to participate in the relevant dividend.

(h) No fraction of a share shall be allotted. The board may make such provision as it thinks fit for any fractional entitlements including without limitation payment in cash to holders in respect of their fractional entitlements, provision for the accrual, retention or accumulation of all or part of the benefit of fractional entitlements to or by the Company or to or by or on behalf of any holder or the application of any accrual, retention or accumulation to the allotment of fully paid shares to any holder.

(i) The board may do all acts and things it considers necessary or expedient to give effect to the allotment and issue of any share pursuant to this Article or otherwise in connection with any offer made pursuant to this Article and may authorise any person, acting on behalf of the holders concerned, to enter into an agreement with the Company providing for such allotment or issue and incidental matters. Any agreement made under such authority shall be effective and binding on all concerned.

(j) The board may, at its discretion, amend, suspend or terminate any offer pursuant to this Article.

ermitted eductions and tentions

148. The board may deduct from any dividend or other moneys payable to any member in respect of a share any moneys presently payable by him to the Company in respect of that share. Where a person is entitled by transmission to a share, the board may retain any dividend payable in respect of that share until that person (or that person's transferee) becomes the holder of that share.

Interest not payable

149. No dividend or other moneys payable in respect of a share shall bear interest against the Company unless otherwise provided by the rights attached to the share.

Payment procedures

150.1 Any dividend or other sum payable by the Company in respect of a share may be paid by crediting any account which the holder, or in the case of joint holders, the holder whose name stands first in the register, has with the Company, whether in the sole name of such holder or the joint names of such holder and another person or persons, unless the Company has received not less than one month's notice in writing from such holder or joint holders directing that payment be made in another manner permitted by this Article. Any such dividend or other sum which has been paid by crediting such an account shall be treated as having been paid upon such account having been credited with the amount of such dividend or other sum. Any such dividend or other sum may also be paid by cheque or warrant sent by post addressed to the holder at his registered address or, in the case of joint holders, addressed to the holder whose name stands first in the register in respect of the shares at his address as appearing in the register or addressed to such person and at such address as the holder or joint holders may in writing direct. Every cheque or warrant shall, unless the holder or joint holders otherwise direct, be payable to the order of the holder, or in the case of joint holders, to the order of the holder whose name stands first in the register in respect of the shares, and shall be sent at his or their risk and payment of the cheque or warrant by the bank on which it is drawn shall constitute a good discharge to the Company. In addition, any such dividend or other sum may be paid by any bank or other funds transfer system or, if agreed by the Company, such other means and to or through such person as the holder or joint holders may in writing direct, and the Company shall have no responsibility for any sums lost or delayed in the course of any such transfer or where it has acted on any such directions. Any one of two or more joint holders may give effectual receipts for any dividends or other moneys payable or property distributable in respect of the shares held by them. Where a person is entitled by transmission to a share, any dividend or other sum payable by the Company in respect of the share may be paid as if he was a holder of the share and his address noted in the register was his registered address. In respect of an uncertificated share, the making of payment in accordance with the facilities and requirements of the relevant system (which, if the relevant system is CREST, shall be the creation of an assured payment obligation in respect of the dividend or other moneys payable in favour of the settlement bank of the member or other person concerned) shall be a good discharge to the Company.

150.2 Dividends payable in respect of shares transferred by the Society to holders as a consequence of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company in respect of which satisfactory registration details have not been received by the Company from such holders or any persons entitled by transmission to such shares, and dividends payable in respect of shares transferred by the Society to a trustee in accordance with the terms of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company, shall be paid into a separate account in the name of the Company and shall not be paid to such holders, or persons entitled by transmission to such shares, unless and until the Company has received such details from them or, in the case of any such shares transferred by the Society to a trustee as aforesaid, from the person entitled to such shares under the terms of the trust. Pending the receipt of satisfactory registration details as aforesaid, each dividend paid into such separate account in the name of the Company shall be treated as unclaimed and unsatisfied for the purposes of these Articles. No trust shall be created in relation to the amount from time to time standing to the credit of this account and no interest shall be payable in respect of it and the Company shall not be required to account for any moneys earned therefrom, which may be employed in the business of the Company or as it thinks fit.

151. Any dividend unclaimed after a period of twelve years from the date when it became due for payment shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Company and the payment by the board of any unclaimed dividend or other sum payable on or in respect of a share into a separate account shall not constitute the Company a trustee in respect of it.

152. The Company may cease to send any cheque or warrant through the post or employ any other means of payment for any dividend payable on any shares in the Company which is normally paid in that manner on those shares if either (a) in respect of at least two consecutive dividends payable on those shares the cheques or warrants have been returned undelivered or remain uncashed or that means of payment has failed, or (b) following one such occasion reasonable enquiries have failed to establish any new address of the registered holder. Subject to the provisions of these Articles, the Company may recommence sending cheques or warrants or employing such means in respect of dividends payable on those shares if the holder or person entitled by transmission requests such recommencement by notice to the Company and provides such new or corrected information as the Company shall reasonably require.

in paying up in full unissued shares, debentures or other obligations of the Company of a nominal amount equal to that sum but the share premium account, the capital redemption reserve, and any profits which are not available for distribution may, for the purposes of this Article, only be applied in paying up unissued shares to be allotted to members credited as fully paid;

(f) authorise any person to enter into an agreement with the Company on behalf of all the members concerned providing for either:

(i) the allotment to the members respectively, credited as fully paid, of any shares, debentures or other obligations to which they are entitled on the capitalisation; or

(ii) the payment up by the Company on behalf of the members of the amounts, or any part of the amounts, remaining unpaid on their existing shares by the application of their respective proportions of the sum resolved to be capitalised,

(a) subject to Article 10.1, allot and issue Ordinary Shares credited as fully paid at any time in order to satisfy a claim for shares by a person whom the board considers to be entitled thereto under the terms of the Transfer Agreement or, if that person has died, to such person to whom the board considers the right to such shares has been transmitted by operation of law; and

(b) in order to issue such shares credited as fully paid, resolve to capitalise any undistributed profits of the Company (whether or not they are available for distribution) or any sum standing to the credit of any reserve or other fund, including without limitation the Company's share premium account and capital redemption reserve, if any, and apply that sum in paying up in full the requisite number of unissued Ordinary Shares of a nominal amount equal thereto.

(c) the Company has not at any time during the relevant period received:

(i) in the case of holders of shares transferred by the Society as a consequence of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company, satisfactory registration details from the holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares or, in the case of such shares transferred by the Society to a trustee in accordance with the terms of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company, from the person entitled to such shares under the terms of the trust; or

(ii) in the case of holders of shares to whom sub-paragraph (i) above does not apply, so far as the Company at the end of the relevant period is then aware, any communication from the holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares; and

(d) the Company has caused advertisements giving notice of its intention to sell the shares to be published (i) (in the case of shares transferred by the Society as a consequence of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company other than shares in respect of which satisfactory registration details have been received by the Company) in two daily newspapers with a national circulation, and (ii) (in any other case) one in a daily newspaper with a national circulation and another in a newspaper circulating in the area of the address shown in the register of the holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares, and (in either such case) a period of three months has elapsed from the date of publication of the advertisements or of the last of the two advertisements to be published if they are published on different dates; and

(e) the Company has given notice to the London Stock Exchange of its intention to make the sale, and any shares which are proposed to be sold under this Article may be selected by the Company at its discretion and any advertisements published by the Company need not refer to the individual names of the holders or individually identify the shares in question.

For the purposes of this Article:

the qualifying period means the period of twelve years immediately preceding the date of publication of the relevant advertisements referred to in sub-paragraph (d) above or of the first of the two advertisements to be published if they are published on different dates except that, in relation to shares transferred by the Society as a consequence of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company (other than shares in respect of which satisfactory registration details have been received by the Company), such phrase shall have the foregoing meaning but with the substitution of the period of three years for that of twelve years; and the relevant period means the period beginning at the commencement of the qualifying period and ending on the date when all the requirements of sub-paragraphs (a) to (e) above have been satisfied.

For the purpose of (i) sub-paragraph (c)(i) above, a statutory declaration that the declarant is a director of the Company or the secretary and that the Company had not, at any time during the relevant period, received satisfactory registration details in respect of the shares from the holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares or, in the case of any such shares transferred by the Society to a trustee in accordance with the terms of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company, from the person entitled to such shares under the terms of the trust, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts stated in that declaration as against all persons claiming to be entitled to the shares, and (ii) sub-paragraph (c)(ii) above, a statutory declaration that the declarant is a director of the Company or the secretary and that the Company was not aware at the end of the relevant period of having at any time during the relevant period received any communication from the holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares shall be conclusive evidence of the facts stated in that declaration as against all persons claiming to be entitled to the shares.

If, after the publication of either or both of the advertisements referred to in sub-paragraph (d) above but before the Company has become entitled to sell the shares pursuant to this Article, the requirements of sub-paragraph (b) or (c) above cease to be satisfied, the Company may nevertheless sell those shares after the requirements of sub-paragraphs (a) to (e) above have been satisfied afresh in relation to them.

If during any relevant period further shares have been issued in right of those held at the beginning of that relevant period or of any previously so issued during that relevant period and all the requirements of sub-paragraphs (b) to (e) above have been satisfied in regard to the further shares, the Company may also sell the further shares.

165.2 The manner, timing and terms of any sale of shares pursuant to Article 165.1 (including but not limited to the price or prices at which the same is made) shall be such as the board determines (and may, without limitation, include a term that the price is payable in instalments), based upon advice from such bankers, brokers or other persons as the board considers appropriate which are consulted by it for the purposes, to be reasonably practicable having regard to all the circumstances including the number of shares to be disposed of and the requirement that the disposal be made without delay; and the board shall not be liable to any person for any of the consequences of reliance on such advice. Provided that a sale is made in accordance with this Article, the validity of the sale shall not, for any purpose, be affected by the fact that the method of sale may confer a benefit on the Company or any of its subsidiary undertakings.

165.3 To give effect to any sale of shares pursuant to Article 165.1 the board may:

(a) when the shares are held in certificated form, authorise any person to execute an instrument of transfer of the shares to, or in accordance with the directions of, the buyer; or

(b) when the shares are held in uncertificated form, exercise any of the Company's powers under Article 16.3 to effect the transfer of the shares to, or in accordance with the directions of, the buyer.

An instrument of transfer executed by that person in accordance with paragraph (a) above shall be as effective as if it had been executed by the holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares. An exercise by the Company of its powers in accordance with paragraph (b) above shall be as effective as if exercised by the registered holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares. The transferee shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase moneys nor shall his title to the shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings relating to the sale.

165.4 The net proceeds of sale shall belong to the Company and, upon their receipt, the Company shall become indebted (the debt being payable not earlier than the date or dates on which the proceeds of sale are received by the Company) to the former holder of, or person entitled by transmission to, the shares or, in the case of shares transferred by the Society to a trustee in accordance with the terms of the transfer of the business of the Society to the Company, to the person entitled to such shares under the terms of the trust for an amount equal to the net proceeds. No trust shall be created in respect of the debt and no interest shall be payable in respect of it and the Company shall not be required to account for any moneys earned from the net proceeds which may be employed in the business of the Company or as it thinks fit. For the purposes of calculating the net proceeds, the Company shall be entitled (i) to deduct any costs or expenses incurred by it in connection with the sale and to charge for any services (including, without limitation, the provisions of any guarantee, indemnity, other assurance or support) provided by the Company or any of its subsidiary undertakings in connection with the sale; (ii) to make provision for any taxation which may arise in relation to the sale; and (iii) to deduct any other amounts to which the trustee referred to above may be entitled or for which it may be required to account under the terms of the trust.

The Preference Shares are also redeemable (at the option of the Bank) in whole, but not in part only, at a make-whole redemption price at any time prior to the First Call Date if the Preference Shares no longer qualify as tier 1 capital for the purposes of the then applicable capital adequacy regulations. Under existing requirements of the Financial Services Authority (FSA), the Bank may not redeem, purchase or substitute any Preference Shares unless the FSA, having been notified by the Bank, has confirmed that it has no objection to such redemption, purchase or substitution.

The Preference Shares will rank (i) in priority to ordinary shares in the capital of the Bank and (ii) equally among themselves and with the most senior ranking non-cumulative preference shares of the Bank.

INCORPORATION BY REFERENCE

The audited consolidated financial statements of the Bank for the years ended 31 December 2004 and 31 December 2005 and the Memorandum & Articles of Association of the Bank are incorporated by reference in this Prospectus. Copies of documents incorporated by reference in this Prospectus can be obtained from the Bank's registered office and, in the case of the audited consolidated financial statements, from the Bank's website at www.northernrock.co.uk

	Payment Date, then, as resolved by the Board, none or, as described under "Partial Payments" below, the Relevant Proportion only of such Preference Dividend shall be paid. The Board shall not be bound to give its reasons for exercising such discretion. If, in the opinion of the Board, the payment of any Preference Dividend would breach or cause a breach of capital adequacy requirements from time to time applicable to the Bank under the UK capital adequacy regime, then none of such Preference Dividend shall be declared or paid.
Ranking for Dividends:	Holders of the Preference Shares will rank as regards participation in the profits of the Bank pari passu with each other, in priority to holders of the ordinary shares of the Bank and pari passu with Parity Obligations.
Partial Payments:	If on any Preference Dividend Payment Date Preference Dividends are not paid in full on the Preference Shares or dividends or other distributions are not paid in full on any Parity Obligations of the Bank, but the Board determines that there are sufficient distributable profits and distributable reserves so as to allow payment in part, the Board may determine to pay the Relevant Proportion of any such Preference Dividend. To the extent that any payment of the Relevant Proportion of a Preference Dividend or of the distribution or dividend on any Parity Obligation would otherwise exceed the amount of distributable profits and distributable reserves immediately before such payment, such Relevant Proportion shall not be payable.
Dividend and Capital Restriction:	In the event that less than the full amount of any Preference Dividend is paid on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, the Bank will not declare and pay any distribution or dividend on any Junior Obligation until the then applicable Dividend Stopper Period has expired. In the event that no Preference Dividend is paid on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, during the then applicable Dividend Stopper Period, the Bank will not declare and pay any distribution or dividend on, and will procure that no distribution or dividend is declared and paid on, any Parity Obligation. In the event that the Relevant Proportion of a Preference Dividend is paid on a Preference Dividend Payment Date, during the then applicable Dividend Stopper Period, the Bank will not declare and pay an amount exceeding, and will procure that no amount is declared and paid exceeding, the Relevant Proportion (subject as set out under "Partial Payments" above) of any distribution or dividend on any Parity Obligation. In the event that no Preference Dividend, or less than the full amount of any Preference Dividend, is paid on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, then until the end of the Dividend Stopper Period the Bank will not cancel, redeem, purchase, reduce or otherwise acquire any Junior Obligation or any Parity Obligation.
Redemption:	The Preference Shares are perpetual securities and have no maturity date. However, the Preference Shares are redeemable in whole, but not in part only, at the option of the Bank, if the FSA has indicated that it has no objection to such redemption, on the First Call Date or any Preference Dividend Payment Date thereafter at a price per Preference Share equal to the aggregate of £1,000 per Preference Share and any Preference Dividends accrued since the immediately preceding Preference Dividend Payment Date.

	(a) if the Preference Dividend on the Preference Shares has not, at the date of the notice of the general meeting, been paid in full in respect of one Dividend Period ending before the First Call Date or four Dividend Periods ending after the First Call Date, in which case the holders of the Preference Shares shall be entitled to speak and/or vote upon any resolution proposed at that general meeting; or (b) if a resolution is proposed at the general meeting: (i) for, or in relation to, the winding-up of the Bank; or (ii) varying, altering or abrogating any of the rights, privileges, limitations or restrictions attached to the Preference Shares, in which case the holders of the Preference Shares will be entitled to speak and/or vote only upon such resolution. At any general meeting of which holders of Preference Shares are entitled to receive notice and at which they may attend, every holder of Preference Shares who is present in person and entitled to vote shall have one vote on a show of hands. On a poll, each holder of Preference Shares present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote shall have one vote in respect of each Preference Share.
Listing:	Applications have been made to the UK Listing Authority for the Preference Shares to be admitted to the Official List and to the London Stock Exchange for the Preference Shares to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's gilt edged and fixed interest market.
Form:	The Preference Shares will be issued in definitive registered form.
Use of Proceeds:	The net proceeds of the issue of the Preference Shares, after the deduction of commissions and expenses, are estimated to amount to approximately £396,730,000 and will be used for general business purposes.
Taxation:	The terms of the Preference Shares do not contain any grossing up provision.
Risk Factors:	Deferral or waiver of payment on any Parity Obligations may prevent both the payment by the Bank of Preference Dividends on, and the redemption or purchase by the Bank of, the Preference Shares. Preference Dividends on the Preference Shares are discretionary and will only be declared or paid if the Board so resolves in respect of any Dividend Period. Dividends on the Preference Shares are non-cumulative. If the Bank is wound up, distributions to holders of the Preference Shares will be subordinated to the claims of creditors. The claims of holders of the Preference Shares will rank equally with each other and with the claims of holders of Parity Obligations. There is no limitation on issuing senior debt securities or Parity Obligations. The Preference Shares have limited voting rights. The Preference Shares are perpetual securities. The Preference Shares may be redeemed or substituted at the option of the Bank if the FSA has indicated that it has no objection to such redemption or substitution. Payments of dividends in respect of, and transfers of, Preference Shares may give rise to certain United Kingdom taxes.

Prospective investors in the Preference Shares should carefully consider the following information in conjunction with the other information included in this Prospectus.

Risk factors associated with the Preference Shares

Deferral or waiver of payment on any Parity Obligations may prevent both the payment by the Bank of Preference Dividends on, and the redemption or purchase by the Bank of, the Preference Shares.

The Bank's outstanding £300,000,000 Reserve Capital Instruments and its outstanding £200,000,000 Tier One Notes are Parity Obligations and contain provisions to the effect that the deferral or waiver of payment on such Parity Obligations will result in the Bank being subject to a restriction so that, while the restriction is in effect, the Bank may not pay Preference Dividends on, or redeem or purchase, any of the Preference Shares.

The terms of Parity Obligations issued or entered into from time to time in the future by the Bank may also include terms restricting payments relating to the Preference Shares, including restrictions on the payment of Preference Dividends on the Preference Shares, and on redemptions, purchases, reductions or other acquisitions of Preference Shares, in circumstances such as a deferral or non-payment of a dividend on such Parity Obligations.

Preference Dividends on the Preference Shares are discretionary and will only be declared or paid if the Board so resolves in respect of any Dividend Period.

The Board of the Bank may resolve, in its absolute discretion, on or before any Preference Dividend Payment Date not to pay in full, or at all, the Preference Dividend on the Preference Shares for the Dividend Period to which that Preference Dividend Payment Date relates.

In any event under English company law the Bank may pay dividends on the Preference Shares only if payment can be made in full out of the profits and reserves of the Bank available for distribution and permitted to be distributed.

Dividends on the Preference Shares are non-cumulative.

The dividends on the Preference Shares are non-cumulative. Accordingly, to the extent that any Preference Dividend or any part thereof is on any occasion not declared and paid for any reason, holders of Preference Shares will not have a claim in respect of the Preference Dividend accrued for the relevant Dividend Period or for interest on the Preference Dividend, whether or not Preference Dividends on the Preference Shares are declared for any future Dividend Period. However, the Bank will be subject to a dividend and capital restriction in such circumstances, see "Description of the Preference Shares – Dividends – paragraph 2(xii)".

If the Bank is wound up, distributions to holders of the Preference Shares will be subordinated to the claims of creditors. The claims of holders of the Preference Shares will rank equally amongst themselves and with the claims of holders of Parity Obligations.

On a winding-up of the Bank, whether voluntarily or involuntarily and whether in connection with insolvency proceedings or otherwise, holders of Preference Shares will be entitled to distributions in liquidation only after the claims of creditors, except as provided in the next paragraph, of the Bank and its subsidiaries have been satisfied.

Claims in respect of Parity Obligations rank pari passu with the claims of the holders of the Preference Shares.

No limitation on issuing senior debt securities or Parity Obligations.

There is no restriction on the amount of debt which the Bank may incur which ranks senior to the Preference Shares or on the amount or terms of securities which the Bank may issue or guarantee which obligations rank pari passu in some or all respects with the Preference Shares. The issue of any such debt or creation of such obligations may reduce the amount recoverable by holders of the Preference Shares on a winding-up or other return of capital of the Bank or may increase the likelihood of a suspension of distributions in respect of the Preference Shares.

The Preference Shares have limited voting rights.

The holders of the Preference Shares will only be eligible to vote at general meetings of the Bank in limited circumstances (see "Description of the Preference Shares – Voting – paragraph 9").

Impact of Regulatory Changes

The Bank is subject to financial services laws, regulations, administrative actions and policies in each location that the Bank operates. Changes in supervision and regulation, in particular in the UK, could materially affect the Bank's business, the products and services offered or the value of its assets. Although the Bank works closely with its regulator and continually monitors the situation, future changes in regulation, fiscal or other policies can be unpredictable and are beyond the control of the Bank.

(vi) If, on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, the distributable profits and distributable reserves of the Bank are together insufficient to enable payment to be made of the instalment of the Preference Dividend payable on that date and, if applicable, of any payment payable on such date on any Parity Obligations of the Bank, then the Board shall resolve that none of the said instalments shall be paid or, if sufficient distributable profits and distributable reserves are available and the Board so resolves, the Relevant Proportion of such instalments shall be paid.

(vii) Subject to and notwithstanding the availability of distributable profits and distributable reserves as provided in paragraph (vi), any Preference Dividend is payable only if the Board shall resolve to make payment of such instalment.

If the Board in its sole and absolute discretion resolves prior to any Preference Dividend Payment Date that the Preference Dividend, or part thereof, shall not be paid on that Preference Dividend Payment Date, then, as resolved by the Board, none, or as described under (viii) below the Relevant Proportion only, of such Preference Dividend shall be paid.

The Board shall not be bound to give its reasons for exercising such discretion.

(viii) If, whether by reason of paragraph (vi) or (vii) above or any equivalent article or term of any Parity Obligation, on any Preference Dividend Payment Date Preference Dividends are not paid in full on the Preference Shares or dividends or other distributions are not paid in full on any Parity Obligation, but the Board determines that there are sufficient distributable profits and distributable reserves so as to allow payment in part, the Board may determine, subject to paragraph (ix) to pay the Relevant Proportion of any such Preference Dividend.

(ix) To the extent that any payment of the Relevant Proportion of a Preference Dividend or of the distribution or dividend on any Parity Obligation would otherwise exceed the amount of distributable profits and distributable reserves immediately before such payment, such Relevant Proportion shall not be payable.

(x) If, in the opinion of the Board, the payment of any Preference Dividend would breach or cause a breach of capital adequacy requirements from time to time applicable to the Bank under the UK capital adequacy regime, then none of such Preference Dividend shall be declared or paid.

(xi) If less than a full Preference Dividend is to be paid, the Bank will notify any stock exchange on which the Preference Shares are listed and give notice in accordance with "Notices" below by no later than the tenth Business Day before the relevant Preference Dividend Payment Date. Such notification will specify the amount, if any, of the Preference Dividend that will be paid on such Preference Dividend Payment Date.

The Preference Shares shall carry no further right to participate in the profits and reserves of the Bank other than the declared Preference Dividend or, subject to paragraph (ix), declared Relevant Proportion. If on any occasion an instalment of the Preference Dividend is not paid for the reasons described above in this section "Dividends", the holders of the Preference Shares shall have no claim in respect of such instalment.

(xii) In the event that less than the full amount of any Preference Dividend is paid on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, the Bank will not declare and pay any distribution or dividend on any Junior Obligation until the then applicable Dividend Stopper Period has expired.

In the event that no Preference Dividend is paid on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, during the then applicable Dividend Stopper Period, the Bank will not declare and pay any distribution or dividend on, and will procure that no distribution or dividend is declared or paid on, any Parity Obligation.

In the event that the Relevant Proportion of a Preference Dividend is paid on a Preference Dividend Payment Date, during the then applicable Dividend Stopper Period, the Bank will not declare and pay an amount exceeding, and will procure that no amount is declared and paid exceeding, the Relevant Proportion (subject to paragraph (ix) above) of any distribution or dividend on any Parity Obligation.

In the event that no Preference Dividend, or less than the full amount of any Preference Dividend, is paid on any Preference Dividend Payment Date, then, until the end of the Dividend Stopper Period, the Bank will not cancel, redeem, purchase, reduce or otherwise acquire any Junior Obligation or any Parity Obligation.

6. Purchases

The Bank may at any time purchase, or cause to be purchased for its account, all or any of the Preference Shares, subject to the provisions of the Companies Act, the Articles and the applicable rules of any stock exchange or exchanges on which any of its Preference Shares are listed from time to time, at any price. No purchase of Preference Shares will be made by or on behalf of the Bank without the FSA having indicated that it has no objection to such purchase.

7. Form and Transfer

The Preference Shares will be in definitive registered form. Title to the Preference Shares will, subject to and in accordance with the Articles, pass by transfer and registration on the Register. Each exchange or registration of transfer of Preference Shares will be effected by entry on the Register kept by the Registrar at its office in the UK.

No fee shall be charged on the registration of any instrument of transfer or other instrument relating to or affecting the title to the Preference Shares, but the person requesting such registration will be required to pay any related taxes, stamp duties or other governmental charges.

The Bank will only be affected by, or recognise, a current and absolute right to whole shares. The fact that any share, or part of a share, may not be owned outright by the registered owner is not of any concern to the Bank, for example if a share is held in any kind of trust. The only exception is for any right which is expressly given by the Articles or which the Bank has a legal duty to recognise.

If a shareholder acquires more Preference Shares, he is entitled, without charge, to another certificate for the extra shares. If a shareholder transfers part of his shares covered by a certificate, he is entitled, free of charge, to a new certificate for the balance. The Bank does not have to issue more than one certificate for any share, even if that share is held jointly. When the Bank delivers a certificate to one joint shareholder, this is treated as delivery to all of the joint shareholders. The Bank can deliver a certificate to a broker or agent who is acting for a person who is buying the shares, or who is having the shares transferred to him.

Share certificates can be signed by one or more Directors, sealed with the seal and/or printed in any way with a copy of the seal or with a copy of the signature of one or more Directors.

A share certificate will state the number and class of shares and distinguishing numbers (if any) to which it relates and the amount paid up on those shares.

The time limit for the Bank to provide a share certificate under the Legislation is: two months after the allotment of the Preference Shares (or any longer period provided by its terms of issue); two months after a transfer of Preference Shares is presented for registration.

If a shareholder has two or more share certificates for shares of the same class, he can ask the Bank for these to be cancelled and replaced by a single new certificate. The Bank must comply with such request.

A shareholder can ask the Bank for a new certificate if the original is damaged or defaced or said to be lost, stolen, or destroyed. If a certificate has been damaged or defaced, the Bank can require the certificate to be delivered to it before issuing a replacement. If a certificate is said to be lost, stolen or destroyed, the Bank can require satisfactory evidence, and an indemnity, before issuing a replacement. The Directors can require the shareholder to pay the Bank's exceptional out of pocket expenses for issuing any replacement share certificates. Any one joint shareholder can request replacement certificates.

8. Payments

Preference Dividends may be paid by the Bank by crediting any account which the shareholder, or in the case of joint shareholders, the shareholder whose name stands first in the register, has with the Bank, whether in the sole name of such shareholder or the joint names of such shareholder and another person or persons, unless the Bank has received not less than one month's notice in writing from such shareholder or joint shareholders directing that payment be made in another manner permitted by the Articles.

Any such Preference Dividend may also be paid by cheque or warrant sent by post addressed to the shareholder at his registered address or, in the case of joint shareholders, addressed to the shareholder whose name stands first in the register in respect of the shares at his address as appearing in the the Preference Shares in issue, or with the sanction of an extraordinary resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Preference Shares.

To every such separate meeting the provisions of the Articles relating to general meetings shall apply but so that the necessary quorum shall be two persons holding or representing by proxy at least one-third of the total nominal value of the Preference Shares in issue. At any adjourned separate meeting such a quorum will be one member or his proxy holding Preference Shares. Any Preference Shareholder present in person or by proxy may demand a poll.

The rights attached to the Preference Shares shall be deemed to be varied by:

(a) the reduction of the capital paid up on the Preference Shares otherwise than by a purchase, redemption or cancellation by the Bank; and

(b) the allotment of another share ranking in priority for payment of a dividend or in respect of capital or which confers on its holder voting rights more favourable than those conferred by the Preference Shares,

but shall not be deemed to be varied by:

(c) the creation or issue of another share ranking equally with, or junior to, the Preference Shares or by the purchase or redemption, without prejudice to paragraph 2(xii), by the Bank of its own shares; or

(d) the Bank permitting, in accordance with the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001, the holding and transfer of title to the Preference Shares of any other class in uncertificated form by means of a relevant system.

12. Notices

Notices given by the Bank will be given by the Registrar on its behalf unless the Bank decides otherwise. A notice may be given by the Bank to any holder by sending it by post to the holder's registered address. Service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing, prepaying and posting a letter containing the notice, and to have been effected on the day after the letter containing the same is posted. Where a holder's registered address is outside the United Kingdom, all notices shall be sent to him by air mail post.

A notice may be given by the Bank to the joint holders of a Preference Share by giving the notice to the joint holder first named in the Register.

A notice may be given by the Bank to the extent permitted by the Legislation and the UK Listing Authority by electronic communication, if so requested or authorised by the holder, the holder having notified the Bank of an e-mail address to which the Bank may send electronic communications, and having agreed to receive notices and other documents from the Bank by electronic communication. If a holder notifies the Bank of an e-mail address, the Bank may send the holder the notice or other document by publishing the notice or other document on a website; and notify the holder by e-mail that the notice or other document has been published on the website. The Bank must also specify the address of the website on which it has been published, the place on the website where the notice may be accessed and how it may be accessed, and where the notice in question is a notice of a meeting, the notice must continue to be published on that website throughout the period beginning with the giving of that notification and ending with the conclusion of the meeting, save that if the notice is published for part only of that period then failure to publish the notice throughout that period shall not invalidate the proceedings of the meeting where such failure is wholly attributable to circumstances which it would not be reasonable to have expected the Bank to prevent or avoid.

In addition, for so long as the Preference Shares are listed and admitted to trading on any stock exchange, notices shall be given in accordance with any requirements of such exchange.

13. Registrar and Paying Agent

The Bank's company secretarial department will maintain the Register and the Bank will act as Registrar and Paying Agent.

14. Governing Law

The creation and issue of the Preference Shares and the rights attached to them are governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law.

(i) any other series of preference shares issued by the Bank ranking pari passu as to dividends with the Preference Shares; or

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds of the issue of the Preference Shares, after the deduction of commissions and expenses, are estimated to amount to approximately £396,730,000 and will be used for general business purposes.

The Bank specialises in lending to individuals with a core business of providing residential mortgage loans, funded in the retail, wholesale, covered bonds and securitisation markets. The Bank has achieved rapid growth with total assets, rising from £11.6 billion at the end of 1995 to £82.7 billion (statutory) and £81.1 billion (underlying) at 31 December 2005. During 2005 on a statutory basis total assets grew by 27.5 per cent. and underlying total assets grew by 24.9 per cent. Management have set a strategic target of annual growth in assets of 15 per cent. to 25 per cent. per annum.

Reported statutory profit before taxation for the year increased by 13.5 per cent. to £494.2 million with profit attributable to equity shareholders decreasing by 2.8 per cent. to £300.7 million. On the same basis, return on equity was 19.3 per cent. (2004 – 21.6 per cent.) and the return on mean risk weighted assets 1.22 per cent. (2004 – 1.45 per cent.).

Based upon 2005 underlying results and the 2004 proforma results, profit before taxation increased by 14.3 per cent. to £504.6 million with profit attributable to equity shareholders increasing by 13.6 per cent. to £308.1 million. On the same basis return on equity was 20.8 per cent. (2004 – 20.9 per cent.) and the return on mean risk weighted assets 1.26 per cent. (2004 – 1.29 per cent.).

The Bank is one of the lowest cost providers in its core business. The Bank's underlying cost to income ratio (defined as recurring administrative expenses divided by total income) was 29.8 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2005. The Bank's cost advantage is derived from a combination of factors: focus on its core business, a cost efficient distribution network and its geographical base in the North East of England.

Developments in the Group's distribution network have focused on cost efficiency, achieving volume growth of lending and supporting the Group's retail funding objectives. Approximately 90 per cent. of residential mortgage lending is generated through intermediaries with the remainder split evenly between branches and direct business via telephone and e-commerce.

Lending

Residential Mortgage Lending

At 31 December 2005, the Bank had £62.4 billion of advances secured on residential property, including £38.4 billion of securitised mortgages. Residential lending represents the Bank's core activity and accounted for 77 per cent. of underlying total assets at that date.

During 2005, total net residential lending amounted to £13.4 billion, a market share of 14.5 per cent. compared to a share of outstanding total UK balances of 6.4 per cent. as at 31 December 2005. A strong year end pipeline of uncompleted lending awards of £5.0 billion will benefit lending in 2006.

The Group's residential mortgage assets are spread geographically throughout the UK. Residential mortgage lending is focused primarily on customers with a credit history and conservative income multiples and loan to value ratios. The quality of the portfolio is good with only 0.39 per cent. of all balances more than three months or more in arrears, significantly below the UK average of 0.96 per cent. as at 31 December 2005.

Commercial Lending

The Bank has a commercial loan portfolio which comprises two elements:

(a) commercial loans secured on residential investment properties amounting to £814 million as at 31 December 2005. These are included in the £62.4 billion of advances secured on residential property for reporting purposes; and

(b) other commercial loans which are all secured on non-residential property and mainly represent loans to individuals or corporations to support investment in properties for retail, office or industrial use. At 31 December 2005 such lending amounted to £1,523 million of which £780 million is securitised.

Commercial loans provide a diversification of assets and enhance interest margin for the Group. The Bank intends to continue to grow its commercial loan portfolio while maintaining credit quality throughout the portfolio. At 31 December 2005, only 0.42 per cent. of commercial loans with balances outstanding of £5.8 million were three months or more in arrears.

Personal Unsecured Lending

The Group also engages in personal unsecured lending, both on a stand-alone basis and via credit bundled products called "together". The "together" range comprises a combined secured residential mortgage and unsecured loan which benefits credit quality and enhances product retention. At

By retaining a small portion of the first loss, the Bank continues to align the interests of securitisation investors and the Bank and demonstrates its confidence in the credit performance of the mortgage portfolios.

The Northern Rock Foundation

The establishment of The Northern Rock Foundation (the "Foundation") on conversion to a public limited company was intended to express the Bank's commitment to its mutual history and to the region from which the business has drawn much of its strength. The Foundation has as its primary objective helping to improve the conditions of people disadvantaged by age, infirmity, poverty or other circumstances. It receives 5 per cent. of the annual consolidated profit before tax of the Bank, paid under deed of covenant. The Foundation has received non-voting and non-dividend-paying Foundation shares which would convert into almost 15 per cent. of the ordinary share capital of the Bank only in certain circumstances, principally involving a change in control of the Bank, in which event the deed of covenant would terminate.

UNITED KINGDOM TAXATION

The following is a summary of the current United Kingdom taxation treatment of the Preference Shares. It is not exhaustive. It relates only to the United Kingdom taxation position of persons who are the absolute beneficial owners of the Preference Shares who are resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes unless otherwise indicated and may not apply to certain classes of holders, such as dealers in securities, collective investment schemes, investment managers or certain investors. Further, this summary does not constitute tax or legal advice. Holders who are in any doubt as to their tax position or who may be subject to tax in a jurisdiction other than the United Kingdom should consult their professional advisers.

Taxation of Dividends

The Bank will not be required to withhold tax at source when paying a dividend.

Subject to the paragraph under the sub-heading "Finance (No. 2) Act 2005" below, corporate holders of Preference Shares (other than share dealers) who are within the charge to UK corporation tax will not normally be liable to UK corporation tax on any dividend received from the Bank.

Holders of Preference Shares who are resident outside the UK for tax purposes will not generally be able to claim repayment of any part of the UK tax credit (equal to 1/9th of the amount of the cash dividend) attaching to dividends paid by the Bank, although this will depend on the existence and terms of any applicable double tax treaty between the UK and the country in which the holder of the Preference Shares is resident for tax purposes. In most cases, the amount that can be paid to non-UK resident holders of Preference Shares in respect of any dividend payment will be reduced to nil as a result of the terms of the relevant double taxation treaty. A holder of Preference Shares resident outside the UK may also be subject to foreign taxation on dividend income under local law. A holder of Preference Shares who is not resident in the UK should consult his own professional adviser concerning his tax liabilities on dividends received from the Bank.

Taxation of Capital Gains

The sale, or other disposal, of Preference Shares may give rise to the realisation of a chargeable gain or allowable loss for the purposes of UK taxation of chargeable gains.

Subject to the paragraph under the sub-heading "Finance (No.2) Act 2005" below, a corporate holder of Preference Shares who is resident in the UK for tax purposes and who realises such a gain, may be liable to UK corporation tax on chargeable gains, depending on the holder's circumstances and subject to any available exemption or relief.

A holder of Preference Shares who is not resident in the UK for tax purposes and who carries on a trade in the UK through a branch or agency or, in the case of a company, a permanent establishment, may be subject to UK capital gains tax or corporation tax (as the case may be) on a disposal of Preference Shares which are used, held, or acquired for the purposes of the branch, agency, or permanent establishment, subject to any available exemption or relief.

Finance (No. 2) Act 2005

Under certain provisions of the Finance (No. 2) Act 2005, it is possible that a holder of Preference Shares subject to UK corporation tax would be taxed on a fair value income basis, and the positions outlined in the preceding paragraphs under sub-headings "Taxation of Dividends" and "Taxation of Capital Gains" would not apply. These provisions would not apply where the holder does not hold its Preference Shares for an "unallowable purpose".

UK Stamp Duty and Stamp Duty Reserve Tax (SDRT)

Issue of the Preference Shares

Provided that the Preference Shares are not issued (a) to, or to a nominee or agent for, a person whose business is or includes the provision of clearing services or (b) to, or to a nominee or agent for, a person whose business is or includes issuing depositary receipts, no stamp duty or SDRT should be payable on the issue of the Preference Shares.

Agreements to transfer, and transfers of, the Preference Shares

Any subsequent transfer on sale of a Preference Share will be liable to ad valorem stamp duty, generally at the rate of 0.5 per cent. (rounded up to the next multiple of £5.00) of the consideration paid. UK stamp duty is normally the liability of a purchaser or transferee of the Preference Shares.

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

Barclays Bank PLC and Lehman Brothers International (Europe) (together the Managers) (acting as agents of the Bank and not as principals) have, pursuant to a Subscription Agreement (the Subscription Agreement) dated 26 June 2006, jointly and severally agreed to procure a subscriber(s) for the Preference Shares at the issue price of 100 per cent. of the principal amount of the Preference Shares, less a combined management and underwriting commission of 0.75 per cent. of the principal amount of the Preference Shares. The Bank has agreed to indemnify the Managers against certain liabilities, incurred in connection with the issue of the Preference Shares. The Subscription Agreement may be terminated in certain circumstances prior to payment to the Bank. The Managers have represented in the Subscription Agreement that, in the event that they subscribe as principals for the Preference Shares, they do not so subscribe as a nominee or agent for any person whose business is or includes the provision of clearing services or issuing depositary receipts.

UNITED STATES

The Preference Shares have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except in certain transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

Each Manager has agreed that, except as permitted by the Subscription Agreement, it will not offer or sell the Preference Shares (a) as part of their distribution at any time or (b) otherwise until 40 days after the later of the commencement of the offering and the Issue Date within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons and that it will have sent to each dealer to which it sells any Preference Shares during the distribution compliance period a confirmation or other notice setting forth the restrictions on offers and sales of the Preference Shares within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. The Preference Shares are being offered and sold outside of the United States to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S. Terms used in this and the preceding paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of the offering, an offer or sale of Preference Shares within the United States by any dealer that is not participating in the offering may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

UNITED KINGDOM

Each Manager has represented, warranted and agreed that:

(i) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated, and will only communicate or cause to be communicated, any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of section 21 of the FSMA) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Preference Shares in circumstances in which section 21(1) of the FSMA would not, if the Bank was not an authorised person, apply to the Bank; and

(ii) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to such Preference Shares in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

EEA

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a Relevant Member State), each Manager has represented, warranted and agreed that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the Relevant Implementation Date), it has not made and will not make an offer of Preference Shares to the public in that Relevant Member State prior to the publication of a prospectus in relation to the Preference Shares which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, all in accordance with the Prospectus Directive, except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of Preference Shares to the public in that Relevant Member State at any time:

Such listing and admission is expected to occur on or about the Issue Date.

The reports of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP dated 22 February 2005 and 28 February 2006 in respect of the Bank for the years ended 31 December 2004 and 31 December 2005 respectively stated that the reports, including the opinions, had been prepared for and only for the Bank and the members of the Bank to which the reports related, as a body, in accordance with Section 235 of the Companies Act 1985 and for no other purpose.

9 March 2006

Dear Shareholder,

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING 2006

The Annual General Meeting of Northern Rock plc (the Company) will be held at the Marriott Gosforth Park Hotel, High Gosforth Park, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE3 5HN on Tuesday, 25 April 2006 at 11.30 am.

The Notice of Meeting is set out on pages 4 to 5 of this document.

Resolution Nos. 1 to 10

These resolutions, which are deemed to be routine business, relate to matters commonly considered at annual general meetings of listed companies and are explained in the notes on pages 8 to 10. Brief biographical details of those directors who are proposed for re-election (Resolutions 4 to 6) appear on page 11 of this document.

Resolution No. 11: Authority to purchase own ordinary shares

At last year's Annual General Meeting a resolution was passed authorising the Company to make market purchases of its own ordinary shares as permitted by Article 53 of the Company's Articles of Association (the Previous Authority). The Directors consider it appropriate for the authority to be renewed. The renewal authority, which is set out in Resolution 11, is expressed to run from the date Resolution 11 is passed until the Company's next Annual General Meeting or 18 months from the date Resolution 11 is passed, whichever is earlier, and limits the total number of ordinary shares which can be purchased pursuant to the authority to 10% of the Company's issued ordinary share capital. The price paid for an ordinary share purchased pursuant to the authority must not exceed the higher of (i) 105% of the average of the middle market quotations for an ordinary share in the Company as derived from the London Stock Exchange's Daily Official List for the five business days immediately preceding the date on which the ordinary share is purchased and (ii) the higher of the price of the last independent trade of an ordinary share and the highest current independent bid for an ordinary share as derived from the London Stock Exchange Trading System, but at a price not less than 25 pence per ordinary share. Purchases will only be made on the London Stock Exchange and only in circumstances where they are, in the opinion of the Directors, in the best interests of the Company. The Directors intend to seek renewal of this authority at subsequent Annual General Meetings.

Resolution No.12: Approval of a contingent share purchase contract and authority to purchase Foundation Shares

At last year's Annual General Meeting, shareholders approved a contingent share purchase contract (the Previous Contingent Share Purchase Contract) which permitted the Company to purchase a proportionate number of Foundation Shares as and when ordinary shares were purchased pursuant to the Previous Authority. These purchases of Foundation Shares were to be made in order to maintain The Northern Rock Foundation's (the Foundation) shareholding at just under 15% of the issued share capital of the Company. As the Previous Contingent Share Purchase Contract only permits the Company to purchase Foundation Shares following a purchase of ordinary shares made pursuant to the Previous Authority, Resolution 12 will be proposed to approve a new contingent share purchase contract which would permit the Company to purchase a proportionate number of Foundation Shares as and when ordinary shares are purchased pursuant to the authority sought by Resolution 11.

Any purchase of Foundation Shares under the new contingent share purchase contract would only be made as and when the Company has purchased ordinary shares pursuant to the authority sought by Resolution 11 in order to maintain the Foundation's shareholding at just under 15% of the issued share capital of the Company.

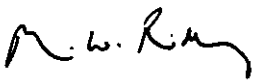
Each of these resolutions is explained in the notes on pages 9 to 10.

Action to be taken

Enclosed is a form of proxy for use at the Annual General Meeting. If you do not intend to be present at the Annual General Meeting, please complete, sign and return the form of proxy as soon as possible (and, in any event, so as to be received not later than 11.30 am on Sunday, 23 April 2006), in accordance with the instructions printed on it. Completion of the form will not preclude you from attending and voting in person if you so wish.

In addition to returning your form of proxy by post, you may also appoint a proxy via our shareholder website. For CREST participants, we have introduced CREST proxy appointment. Details of these choices appear on page 6 of this document.

If you have received more than one mailing of this Notice of Annual General Meeting, this is because currently you are the first named shareholder in respect of more than one shareholding.



Please note that if your dividends are paid directly to a bank or building society account, a tax voucher for the 2005 dividend payments on your Northern Rock plc shares is attached to your form of proxy. Please keep this voucher safe as you may be required to supply the information to HM Revenue & Customs.

If you do not already do so, and you would prefer to receive your dividends paid directly to a bank or building society account, please complete, sign and return the enclosed Request for Payment of Interest/Dividend form.

Recommendation

The Directors consider that all the resolutions to be proposed at the Annual General Meeting are in the best interests of shareholders as a whole. Accordingly, the Directors unanimously recommend shareholders to vote in favour of the resolutions set out in the Notice of Annual General Meeting, as they intend to themselves in respect of their own beneficial shareholdings.

Yours faithfully

Dr Matthew White Ridley
Chairman

Explanatory Notes

Resolution No. 1: Report and Accounts
The Directors must present to shareholders at the Annual General Meeting the Report of the Directors and the Accounts of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2005. The Report of the Directors, the Accounts, and the Report of the Company's Auditors on the Accounts are contained within the Annual Report and Accounts and, in an abbreviated form, in the Summary Financial Statement.

Resolution No. 2: Approval of the Directors' Remuneration Report
The Directors' Remuneration Report Regulations 2002 require that the Directors' Remuneration Report of listed companies be put to a shareholder vote each year. The shareholder vote will be advisory only.

The Board is therefore asking shareholders to approve the Directors' Remuneration Report as set out on pages 18 to 31 of the 2005 Report and Accounts of the Company at the Annual General Meeting this year.

Resolution No. 3: Declaration of final dividend
Final dividends must be declared by shareholders, but must not exceed the amount recommended by the Directors. By passing this Resolution, shareholders may declare the final dividend of 20.7 pence per ordinary share recommended by the Directors.

Resolution Nos. 4 to 6: Re-election of Directors
The Company's Articles of Association require that all Directors should be subject to re-election at intervals of no more than three years. In accordance with the Articles of Association, Sir George Russell, Sir Derek Wanless, Sir Ian Gibson and Adam John Applegarth are retiring by rotation. Sir George Russell will be retiring from the Board following the conclusion of the Annual General Meeting and, accordingly, is not offering himself for re-election. Sir Derek Wanless, Sir Ian Gibson and Adam John Applegarth are seeking re-election at the Meeting.

Pursuant to good corporate governance as it relates to Non-Executive Directors, the Chairman confirms that following formal performance evaluation of those Non-Executive Directors offering themselves for re-election, the performance of Sir Derek Wanless and Sir Ian Gibson continues to be effective and they continue to demonstrate commitment to their roles.

Resolution Nos. 7 and 8: Re-appointment and Remuneration of auditors
It is a requirement that the auditors of a company are re-appointed at each general meeting at which accounts are presented. Following a formal recommendation by the Audit Committee that PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP should be re-appointed, Resolution 7 therefore proposes their re-appointment as the Company's auditors for a further year. In accordance with standard practice, Resolution 8 proposes that the Directors be authorised to determine the auditors' remuneration.

Resolution No. 9: Allotment of shares
Under the Companies Act 1985, the Directors of the Company may only allot unissued shares of the Company or certain rights to acquire such shares (relevant securities) if authorised to do so by the members in general meeting. The existing authority (the existing section 80 authority), was conferred on 26 April 2005, and although it would not ordinarily expire until 25 April 2010 the Board is seeking to replace the existing section 80 authority with a new authority to allot relevant securities up to an aggregate nominal amount of £41,296,625. This amount represents the aggregate amount required to allot (a) relevant securities equivalent to a further one-third of the Company's total ordinary share capital in issue as at 28 February 2006, and (b) the number of additional Foundation Shares which the Company may be required to issue consequent upon the allotment referred to in (a). The authority sought by this Resolution will last for a period of 5 years. The Directors intend to seek annual renewal of this authority, as appropriate, at each subsequent Annual General Meeting. This is in accordance with recommended market practice. The Directors intend to issue relevant securities under the employee share scheme, which are not subject to the above statutory restrictions. Otherwise, there are presently no plans to allot any other relevant securities.

Resolution No. 10: Disapplication of pre-emption rights

The Directors were empowered on 26 April 2005 to make limited allotments of unissued equity shares of the Company or certain rights to acquire such shares (equity securities) for cash other than in accordance with the statutory pre-emption rights, which require a company to offer all allotments of equity securities for cash proportionately to existing shareholders first (the existing section 89 disapplication). By replacing the existing section 80 authority, the existing section 89 disapplication will automatically be revoked. Therefore, the Directors are seeking to renew this power. This will continue to provide the Directors with the flexibility to act in the best interests of shareholders when opportunities arise, so that:

(a) the Company can follow normal practices in the event of a rights issue, and

(b) equity securities may be issued wholly for cash (other than pursuant to a rights issue) up to a maximum of 5 per cent of the Company's total ordinary share capital in issue as at 28 February 2006.

There are presently no plans to allot equity securities wholly for cash otherwise than in connection with the employee share schemes. Shares allotted under an employee share scheme are not subject to statutory pre-emption rights.

The power sought by this Resolution will last until the expiry or termination of the authority conferred on the Directors pursuant to Resolution 9 above. The Directors intend to seek annual renewal of this power, as appropriate, at each subsequent Annual General Meeting. This is in accordance with recommended market practice.

This Resolution, which will be proposed as a special resolution, renews the authority granted at last year's Annual General Meeting which expires on the date of the Company's forthcoming Annual General Meeting. The Resolution seeks to give the Company authority to make market purchases of up to an aggregate of 42,122,600 ordinary shares of 25 pence each (10% of the issued ordinary shares at 31 December 2005) at a price not exceeding the higher of (i) 105% of the middle market quotation of the ordinary shares in the 5 business days preceding such purchase and (ii) an amount equal to the higher of the price of the last independent trade of an ordinary share and the highest current independent bid for an ordinary share as derived from the London Stock Exchange Trading System, but at a price not below 25 pence per ordinary share.

Purchases will only be made on the London Stock Exchange and only in circumstances where they are, in the opinion of the Directors, in the best interests of the Company. Such purchases will be financed out of distributable profits and will only be made in circumstances which, in the opinion of the Directors, should result in an improvement in earnings per share. Any ordinary shares purchased in this way will be cancelled and the number of ordinary shares in issue will be accordingly reduced.

As at 31 December 2005 no market purchases of shares had been made under the authority given at last year's Annual General Meeting pursuant to which the Company was authorised to purchase up to 42,122,600 ordinary shares. If Resolution 11 is approved, the Company will be authorised to purchase up to 42,122,600 ordinary shares. The Directors do not have any current intention of invoking the authority to purchase these shares. If given, this authority will expire at the conclusion of the Company's next Annual General Meeting or 18 months from the date of passing of this Resolution, if earlier. The Directors intend to seek renewal of this power at subsequent Annual General Meetings.

The total number of options and warrants to subscribe for ordinary shares that are outstanding at 28 February 2006 (being the latest practicable date prior to publication of this document) is 10,163,442 representing approximately 2.41% of the existing issued share capital of the Company. If the Company fully exercises the current authority to purchase its own ordinary shares, this will increase the proportion of options and warrants to subscribe for ordinary shares that are outstanding at the date given above as a percentage of issued capital to 2.68%. If the renewal of the authority for the Company to purchase its own ordinary shares which is being sought at the Annual General Meeting is approved by shareholders and that authority is also fully exercised, this will also increase the proportion of options and warrants to subscribe for ordinary shares that are outstanding at the date given above as a percentage of issued capital to approximately 2.68%.

Resolution No. 12: Approval of a contingent share purchase contract and authority to purchase Foundation Shares

This Resolution authorises and approves the execution of the contingent share purchase contract proposed to be entered into between the Company and The Northern Rock Foundation (the Foundation) in relation to the off-market sale and purchase of Foundation Shares. Any such sales and purchases will only be made after the Company has made market purchases of ordinary shares and in order to maintain the Foundation's shareholding at just under 15% of the issued share capital of the Company.

This Resolution proposes the approval of a contingent share purchase contract with the Foundation to permit purchases of a proportionate number of Foundation Shares at a price per share equal to the average price paid for any ordinary shares acquired by the Company. The Company nevertheless reserves the right to proceed with a purchase of ordinary shares even if no Foundation Shares are purchased.

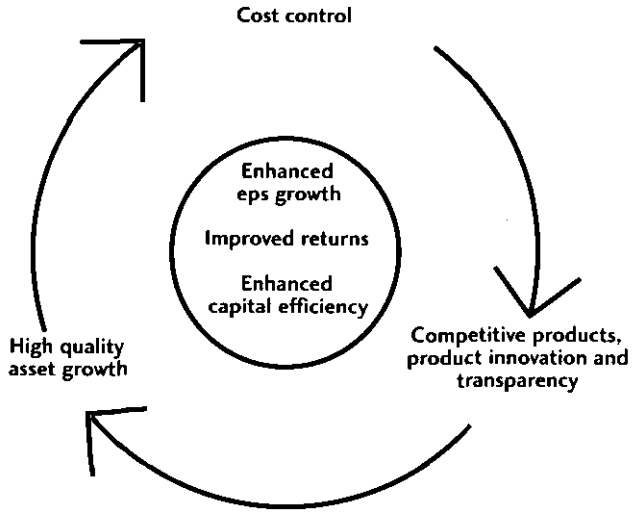
Summary Annual Report 2005

MISSION STATEMENT

Northern Rock is a specialised lending and savings bank which aims to deliver superior value to customers and shareholders through excellent products, efficiency and growth.

COMPANY STRATEGY



Northern Rock is a specialised lender providing funds for residential mortgages, secured commercial lending and personal finance. We obtain funds from both on-shore and off-shore personal savings, wholesale money markets, covered bonds and from the securitisation of mortgage assets.

The Northern Rock strategy encompasses efficiency, growth and value for both customers and shareholders.

Efficiency is paramount to the Northern Rock business strategy. Cost efficiency is enhanced by low cost, effective distribution and enables competitive pricing. Capital efficiency is achieved by optimising the use of debt and equity capital.

By growing lending and improving the mix of higher margin products, Northern Rock aims to grow earnings and improve returns to shareholders, at the same time as providing innovative and consumer friendly products to our customers.

THE VIRTUOUS CIRCLE

Northern Rock's results for 2005 further reinforced our position as the most cost effective mortgage lender in the UK. We remained focussed on residential loans, commercial lending and personal credit, raising funds through our four main funding arms – retail funding, wholesale funding, securitisation and covered bonds. Once again, we hit all of our strategic goals and grew both assets and profits to record levels. I congratulate the executive team on another impressive performance despite strong competition and increased regulation.

As one of the lowest-cost lenders in Europe, we can run our business on some of the tightest interest margins in the world, giving both savers and borrowers excellent value. Since 2001 Northern Rock has halved its interest margin while improving its cost to income ratio.

As I remarked last year, Northern Rock is a global company in terms of where it raises funds, a national company in terms of where it lends but a regional company in terms of where it mainly employs people. During 2005 we opened a capacious extension to working facilities at Northern Rock House in Gosforth, which will be developed further in the coming years, and announced the development of a new office complex at Rainton Bridge in Sunderland. The first phase is planned to open in 2007.

ECONOMIC AND MARKET BACKGROUND

The UK economy looks set to continue growing in 2006. With the Bank of England Base Rate still low by historical standards, continued low unemployment, well controlled inflation and stable economic growth, the residential mortgage market remains liquid. House price inflation has eased, but we still see little prospect of a severe correction in house prices, given that mortgages remain comparatively affordable and that credit quality remains good.

We fund our lending from retail deposits, wholesale funding, securitisation and covered bonds. All four funding arms are working well, and give us access to large international markets so that the supply of affordable funding does not constrain the growth of high quality lending.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Northern Rock's primary social responsibility remains to prosper and share that prosperity with shareholders and other stakeholders. By offering competitive rates, we benefit customers. By achieving sustainable growth, we can create employment mainly in our regional base, offer excellent working conditions and contribute to the local economies in which we operate.

We believe that Northern Rock will prosper by recruiting from all sections of the community, by adopting flexible employment practices that suit those who want to balance life and work, by providing good facilities for staff and by minimising harmful impacts on the environment from our activities. There is therefore no conflict between creating shareholder value and being socially responsible. To ensure that we set the highest possible standards of personal and corporate ethics, provide good customer service and give employees a good working environment, we encourage assessments by external agencies and support Diversity and Work-Life Balance Initiatives.

The significant expansion of our Head Office in Gosforth provided the region with around 500 new jobs during 2005 and the new office development in Sunderland will create capacity for an additional 2,500 new jobs in the region.

We also remember those not benefiting directly from our prosperity. In 2005, Northern Rock was the second most charitable FTSE 100 company, because of its donation of 5% of pre-tax profits to The Northern Rock Foundation. In 2005 this amounted to a remarkable £24.7 million, allowing the Foundation to continue its empowerment of charities and community causes in the North-East and Cumbria. I am particularly pleased that in addition to our corporate stance, our staff continue to take part in voluntary initiatives, fund-raising, mentoring and secondment programmes, and that the Foundation now doubly matches staff giving.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

We continue to comply in full with the Combined Code on Corporate Governance except where disclosed in the Corporate Governance Statement. The Board's procedures and practices ensure that it identifies and controls risks to the business in a transparent and accountable way. The results of our Board evaluation and appraisal process are summarised in the Corporate Governance statement.

Sir Ian Gibson will succeed Sir George Russell as the Company's Senior Independent Director on 25 April 2006, at the conclusion of the Company's AGM, when Sir George will retire from office. Sir Ian became a Non-Executive Director of the Company in September 2002. I would like to thank Sir George sincerely for 21 years of outstanding service on the Board of Northern Rock plc and Northern Rock Building Society before that.

We intend to hold another Corporate Governance day in London in October 2006, to review Corporate Governance with our major shareholders.

TREATING CUSTOMERS FAIRLY

The high-level principles set out by the Financial Services Authority require that all regulated firms treat their customers fairly. I am pleased to report that the fair treatment of customers is already embedded in the culture of Northern Rock. This is clearly demonstrated through our open, transparent approach and through our various customer pledges – which are unique in the industry – as well, of course, as our competitive prices. However, we will continue to develop our methods to ensure we comply in full with all key principles. Consumer confidence is of great importance to our business and we remain committed to fair and decent treatment of our customers.

DIVIDEND

Your Board is recommending a final dividend of 20.7 pence per share, making a total for the year of 30.1 pence – an increase of 13.6% on 2004.

CONCLUSION

We have once again grown the company strongly in 2005. Our strategy remains to keep costs low, invest in product and process innovation, give our customers transparency and so add low-risk assets to our balance sheet to provide attractive returns to our shareholders. We fund this growth through retail, wholesale, covered bonds and securitisation.

I pay tribute to all the employees of Northern Rock who contributed to this success in 2005.

2005 has been another good year for Northern Rock. In a competitive environment, we have continued to deliver against our strategic targets and we are pleased to announce results that once again show strong growth, record profit and improved underlying earnings per share.

These results reflect our clear strategy. Our focus is to deliver shareholder value through high quality growth, driving down unit costs to improve cost efficiency, and delivering a strong return on equity. This has been achieved whilst maintaining high credit quality, through responsible lending and our commitment to retaining existing customers. We have also kept good customer service levels. The principles of transparency and treating customers fairly are well embedded in the culture and operations of our business.

Cost efficiency remains key to our strategy. Effective cost control drives down unit costs, which allows us to offer an excellent range of innovative, price driven products that enhance our ability to attract and retain high quality customers.

Our core products, mortgages and retail savings, all performed well in 2005, supported by our multi-channel distribution strategy. We continued to expand our franchise throughout the year, opening several specialist mortgage branches in key cities. We strengthened links with mortgage clubs and expanded our mortgage operation to Northern Ireland, where we offer our full range of competitive lending products.

Our core products are complemented by the sale of protection products, offered in conjunction with our insurance partners. These are sold on a needs-driven basis, offering choice and transparency to our customers.

During 2005, we invested significantly in people, systems and premises, to support increased business volumes. We have continued to expand our e-business links with both intermediaries and direct customers. At the end of 2005, over 50% of all mortgage applications were being submitted online, enhancing customer service and further improving cost efficiency.

The introduction of the new 'Northern Rock Online' system for intermediaries offers instant online decisions and excellent case tracking facilities, which improves service and efficiency. Our aim is to have the majority of intermediaries using the system as their main channel for business with Northern Rock.

In addition to the expansion of our Gosforth headquarters, we announced the development of a new office complex at Rainton Bridge, in Sunderland. When the first phase opens in 2007, the new facility will have potential for up to 2,500 new jobs.

LENDING

During 2005 we once again delivered record levels of low risk lending. Gross lending was £26,879 million, an increase of 15.2% over the previous year, with net lending of £14,555 million, an increase of 12.6%. We achieved gross residential lending of £23,618 million, an increase of 17.8% over 2004 and net residential lending of £13,350 million, an increase of 17.3%, which represented 14.5% of the UK market.

In residential lending, we continued to apply the proven stance of mixing competitively priced mortgages with lifestyle and bundled credit products. Our mix during the first half of 2005 reflected customers' preference for fixed rate products, which shifted in the second half towards our lifestyle range, including Together.

We expect the gross mortgage market to remain competitive and whilst interest rates remain low by historical standards, there is still a considerable incentive to refinance existing loans. As a result the remortgage market, which accounted for around 45% of UK gross lending in 2005, will remain strong. Our transparent product stance and competitive pricing will enable us to attract and retain a high proportion of these customers.

Appetite to lend must be adapted to economic conditions and as a result, we adopted a more cautious approach to both commercial and personal unsecured lending during 2005. Even so, we achieved growth in both of these books, maintaining good quality and an appropriate balance relative to our overall assets.

2005 saw a strong performance in each of our four funding arms – retail funding, wholesale funding, securitisation and covered bonds.

Retail funding remains important to us. We attract funds through our broad distribution platform, offering attractive savings products through branch, postal, telephone and online channels. We funded strongly during the year, attracting £2,809 million of new retail funds – a record full year performance – resulting in total retail balances of £20.1 billion at the year end. We displayed particular strength in fixed rate bonds and Silver Savings accounts for the over 50s. Our contractual guarantees and unique savings pledge ensure we remain at the forefront of the industry in treating customers fairly.

Our Treasury operations achieved a good balance of traditional wholesale funding. It is not a separate profit centre and is predominantly engaged in managing interest rate risk and currency risks for the business. We have continued to develop our non-retail funding in international markets setting up a Canadian Commercial Paper programme in May 2005, to complement our established programmes in Europe, the US and the Asian markets.

Our securitisation programme continued to provide a strong source of funding, reflecting investor appetite and the high quality of our loan books. During 2005 we issued £13.5 billion of securitised notes, with issuance from residential and commercial loan portfolios. We also enhanced our ability to fund by issuing our first private placement. Advances to customers subject to securitisation now amount to £39.1 billion, representing 56% of our lending portfolios. In addition, we also undertook two Covered Bond transactions broadening the geographical distribution and timespan of our funding.

As leading innovators, we executed 'Whinstone', a first deal of its type in the UK securitisation market during 2005. This involved the transfer of a substantial proportion of the residual risk in securitisations, completed up to the end of 2004, to third party investors. We are committed to continue this process going forward. In recognition of this and the low risk nature of our assets, Standard & Poor's rating agency moved Northern Rock's long term credit rating to 'positive outlook'.

CREDIT QUALITY

The credit quality of our assets remains strong. Asset quality is key to our strategy and therefore, our asset growth has not been achieved at the expense of quality. Through well controlled, targeted lending, we have achieved high growth, whilst maintaining quality and controlling arrears.

We use scorecards in residential and personal lending, with rigorous underwriting controls focussed on higher risk and marginal cases. These are supported by tests for consumer indebtedness and affordability. Our behavioural rescoring models ensure that emerging default and loss profiles are identified quickly and fed back into the front end underwriting process. No significant credit deterioration was identified in 2005.

The arrears performance of our residential lending book reflected this combination of sound lending controls, with 0.39% of accounts three months or more in arrears compared with 0.37% in December 2004. Our residential arrears remain below half the industry average.

The proportion of personal unsecured loan arrears and commercial loan arrears also remain very low, reflecting our consistent policy of attracting only high quality lending in these areas. Our provisioning policies (using data from our Basle II capital models) remain prudent.

Our strategy is predicated on high quality asset growth supported by low operating costs and low cost of bad debt. We do not compromise the stance on quality to achieve asset growth.

BASLE II

Northern Rock expects to benefit from the new capital requirements of Basle II and we continue to make good progress towards meeting all of the necessary criteria. We intend to adopt the Internal Ratings Based (IRB) approach for credit risk and have implemented the core credit models to ensure compliance with Pillar 1 of the accord. The models are now embedded within our risk management processes. Given the high quality of our balance sheet and our responsible lending policies, we continue to expect a reduction in risk weightings under the new rules.

OUTLOOK

As we expected, the housing market has been resilient. UK economic fundamentals are set to remain supportive. Interest rates and unemployment are both likely to remain at low levels. Household incomes should continue to grow and housing demand is likely to outstrip supply in the medium-term. Low debt servicing costs means that mortgage affordability remains good. Against this background, we anticipate little change in the overall credit quality and performance of our lending. Remortgaging is likely to remain active going forward as borrowers continue to manage household budgets.

I am pleased to be able to report another year of sustained business performance. We are focussed on delivering our strategic targets, which remain unchanged. We continue to build on the foundations of our unit cost advantage, together with our proven ability to attract and retain high quality customers. Our international funding platform, multi-channel distribution platform and sustained investment in buildings, systems and people give us confidence that our business model will continue to deliver high quality growth and enhanced shareholder value.

DIRECTORS' REMUNERATION

Details of the remuneration policy are set out in the Directors' Remuneration Report in the full copy of the Annual Report and Accounts. A summary of the key features of this report and Directors' individual remuneration is set out below.

REMUNERATION POLICY FOR EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

The Remuneration Committee believes that the continuing improvement in the performance of Northern Rock depends on individual contributions made by the Executive Directors. For this reason, the remuneration policy is designed to provide competitive packages to motivate, reward and retain Executive Directors of high quality and to align their interests with those of shareholders.

The Board has adopted, on the recommendation of the Remuneration Committee, a remuneration policy with the objectives set out below. It is intended that this policy should continue to apply for 2006 and subsequent years:

(i) The remuneration packages for Executive Directors are designed to be competitive in terms of market practice;

(ii) Performance-related remuneration should seek to align the interests of Executive Directors with those of the shareholders through the imposition of stretching corporate performance targets and the satisfaction of most short and longer term incentives in the form of shares; and

(iii) To motivate for future achievement, a significant proportion of remuneration should be based on operational and financial performance both in the short and long term together with the individual contribution made by the Executive Directors.

ELEMENTS OF REMUNERATION

Remuneration comprises: basic salary, annual bonus, pension benefits and benefits in kind. In addition, Executive Directors and senior executives participate in certain share based incentive schemes, comprising the bonus matching plan, deferred share scheme and long term incentive plan. These share-based incentive schemes, and the annual bonus, are performance-related, and the Remuneration Committee regards them as a key element in the Executive Directors' remuneration package.

As a result of changes to the performance-related elements of remuneration in recent years (including, from 2005, the imposition of a corporate performance condition on awards vesting under the bonus matching plan and deferred share scheme, and the increase in annual bonus potential), the performance-related element of total potential remuneration has materially increased in recent years.

BASIC SALARY

The Committee's objective is that Executive Directors' basic salaries should be paid at an appropriate level to take account of both personal performance and of salaries within a comparator group of financial institutions. The Committee considers that exceptional performance, whether corporate or individual, should be rewarded through bonus and incentive schemes rather than basic salary.

Salaries are reviewed annually for each Executive Director, and revised salaries took effect from 1 January 2006 as follows:

A J Applegarth	£690,000 (2005 – £625,000)
D F Baker	£455,000 (2005 – £390,000)
R F Bennett	£455,000 (2005 – £390,000)
K M Currie	£365,000 (2005 – £270,000 from 5 January 2005)
A M Kuipers	£365,000 (2005 – £270,000 from 5 January 2005)

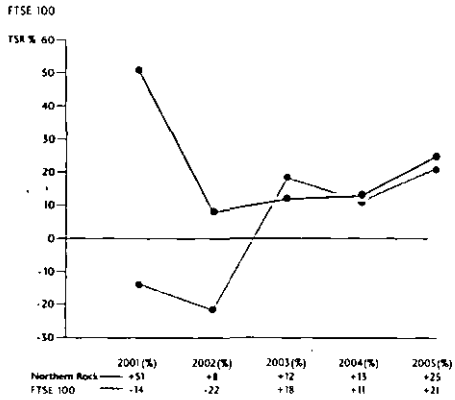
PENSION BENEFITS

Each of the Executive Directors currently participates in the Northern Rock Pension Scheme, a contributory pension scheme which provides a pension of up to two-thirds of pensionable salary on retirement, dependent upon service. On death in service the scheme also provides for a dependant's pension and a lump sum of four times basic salary. This pension and life assurance is provided from the scheme (to the extent permitted by legislation) and otherwise from separate arrangements.

In accordance with the terms agreed upon his appointment as Group Finance Director, the Board has approved the maintenance of pension and life assurance benefits of Mr Bennett in respect of his eligible earnings in excess of the pensions earning cap.

POLICY ON EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS' SERVICE CONTRACTS

It is the policy of the Company that Executive Directors' service contracts can be terminated by 12 months' notice given to an Executive Director at any time. Each Executive Director can terminate his employment by giving 6 months' notice.



All of the Executive Directors' contracts may be terminated immediately by Northern Rock either with (for Mr Baker and Mr Bennett) the payment of liquidated damages equal to 12 months' salary and the value of annual bonus and benefits or (for Mr Applegarth, Mr Kuipers and Mr Currie) a payment in lieu of notice equal to such amount. Mr Applegarth, Mr Baker and Mr Bennett would, in the event of a change of control of Northern Rock, be entitled to terminate employment and receive a liquidated damages payment calculated on the same basis. The terms of reference of the Remuneration Committee make it clear that the Remuneration Committee seeks, in appropriate circumstances to mitigate the amount of termination payments made to Executive Directors.

PERFORMANCE GRAPHS

The performance graphs set out below illustrate the Group's Total Shareholder Return ("TSR") performance over the preceding five years, 2001 to 2005, compared with that of the FTSE 100 Index of which Northern Rock has been a constituent since September 2001, and that of the FTSE 350 Index of which Northern Rock was a constituent prior to September 2001.

The FTSE 350 Index has been included because members of this index comprise the comparator group for long term incentive plan purposes for 2004 and prior. The performance graphs have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations.

REMUNERATION OF THE CHAIRMAN AND NON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

The remuneration of the Chairman is determined by the Remuneration Committee and that of the other Non-Executive Directors is determined by the Board as a whole, on the basis of external independent advice.

The Chairman's annual fee is £300,000 (2005 – £250,000). The Senior Independent Non-Executive Director's annual fee is £67,000 (2005 – £55,000). Non-Executive Directors receive an annual fee of £44,000 (2005 – £40,000). The fee payable for membership of each of the Audit, Nomination, Risk and Remuneration Committees is £5,000 (2005 – £3,500) or, where a Non-Executive Director is chairman of a Board Committee, the additional annual fee payable to them is £15,000 (2005 – £13,000).

These revised fees for the Chairman and Non-Executive Directors were determined after consideration of an extensive report by Watson Wyatt LLP on the fees paid for similar roles at banks in the FTSE 100 Index, and for Companies positioned 51–100 in the FTSE 100 Index. The Chairman and Non-Executive Directors serve the Company under letters of appointment, which are terminable by the Company at any time without liability for compensation; they do not have service contracts. The Chairman and Non-Executive Directors are entitled to fees from the Group and it is the Group's policy that they do not participate in bonus, incentive or pension schemes. However, Sir George Russell, who also served on the Board of Northern Rock Building Society, is a member of a non-contributory pension scheme established by Northern Rock Building Society under which pension entitlement accrued for each complete year of qualifying service subject to a maximum of 60% of qualifying fees. This scheme ceased to accrue benefits after 30 June 1997.

INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS

The 2005 results have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as approved by the International Accounting Standards Board that, under European Regulations, are effective or available for early adoption at the Group's first reporting date under IFRS, 31 December 2005 and which differ significantly to UK GAAP used in the preparation of previously reported financial statements.

Analysis of the results is complicated as a result of certain IFRS only having been applied from 1 January 2005. This means that the revised 2004 statutory results only include the impact of certain of the IFRS used in the preparation of the 2005 results. As a consequence we have included in comparisons set out in the Summary Financial Review, 2004 results prepared on a proforma basis, incorporating the impact of IFRS where it can be determined what the impact would have been if the accounting changes had been effective in 2004. This impact includes the treatment of interest income and fees and the reclassification of certain funding instruments from debt to non shareholders' equity but excludes the effects of accounting for derivatives under IFRS which differs from that applied under UK GAAP.

As a consequence of the introduction of IFRS the 2005 income statement is subject to a certain amount of volatility particularly from the accounting for hedges deemed under IFRS rules to be ineffective, plus volatility arising from fair value movements on derivatives taken out in respect of certain financial liabilities and instruments included in non shareholders' equity which themselves are not subject to fair value treatment. Where appropriate, such volatility is separately identified and excluded from underlying results.

It is the Board's view that the 2005 underlying and 2004 proforma results provide a more appropriate assessment of the ongoing performance of the business.

NORTHERN ROCK GROUP ANNUAL RESULTS

Introduction

Statutory Results
The 2005 Preliminary Results have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as approved by the International Accounting Standards Board that, under European Regulations, are effective or available for early adoption at the Group's first reporting date under IFRS, 31 December 2005. Certain of these IFRS are only effective from 1 January 2005, and therefore have not been used to restate the 2004 statutory based results. The results included on pages 22 to 38 represent the statutory results of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2005 and include the statutory comparatives reflecting only those standards which permit or require retrospective adoption, reflecting the voluntary exemptions of IFRS1.

Proforma Results
As a result of some IFRS not being required to be implemented until 1 January 2005, to aid comparability of the 2005 results with those of 2004, 2004 results have also been prepared on a proforma basis, incorporating the impact of IFRS where it is possible to determine what the impact would have been if the accounting changes had been effective in 2004. The proforma results, included on pages 44 to 57, include the impacts of changes to accounting rules relating to effective interest rate and the reclassification of certain financial instruments from debt to equity, but exclude the effects of hedge accounting under IFRS which differs from that applied under UK GAAP.

Underlying Results
The 2005 statutory results include the full effects of the introduction of fair value and hedge accounting following the adoption of IAS 32 and 39 with effect from 1 January 2005. Where appropriate, certain aspects of the results for 2005 are presented to reflect management's view of the underlying results for 2005 excluding the effects of fair value volatility and hedge ineffectiveness to provi a clearer representation of the underlying performance of the Group, in addition to the statutory results.

Adam J Applegarth, Chief Executive, said:

"In 2005, Northern Rock continued to achieve its strategic targets and is well placed to continue to do so. Lending, dominated by low risk residential mortgages, has been strong resulting in underlying total balance sheet assets growing to £81.1 billion, an increase of 24.9%. Underlying pre tax profits rose by 14.3% to £504.6 million, attributable profit grew by 13.6% to £308.1 million and return on equity on the same basis was 20.8%. All this was achieved in a year when income was deferred and cost write-off accelerated under IFRS, meaning 2005 was a year of very good performance.

We do not expect to see a significant deterioration in credit quality going forward. We have low levels of arrears, strong credit risk management and a low using our Basle II based impairment models.

Capital efficiency and risk management have been enhanced following our innovative Whinstone transaction resulting in the sale of the majority of first loss positions previously held in respect of our pre 2005 securitisations. We expect similar transactions going forward which will mitigate the risk of credit default and enable a closer alignment of regulatory and credit rating levels of capital as Basle II is introduced.

Northern Rock submitted its waiver application for IRB approval before the year end and is well positioned to take advantage of the introduction of Basle II. Our business model remains extremely robust and continues to deliver good shareholder value."

OPERATIONAL REVIEW

Introduction

The 2005 Preliminary Results have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as approved by the International Accounting Standards Board that, under European Regulations, are effective or available for early adoption at the Group's first reporting date under IFRS, 31 December 2005 and which differ significantly to UK GAAP used in the preparation of previously reported financial statements.

Analysis of the results is complicated as a result of certain IFRS only having been applied from 1 January 2005. This means that the revised 2004 statutory results only include the impact of certain of the IFRS used in the preparation of the 2005 results. As a consequence we have included, on pages 44 to 57, 2004 results prepared on a proforma basis, incorporating the impact of IFRS where it can be determined what the impact would have been if the accounting changes had been effective in 2004. This impact includes the treatment of interest income and fees and the reclassification of certain funding instruments from debt to non shareholders' equity but excludes the effects of accounting for derivatives under IFRS which differs from that applied under UK GAAP.

Full reconciliations of the effect of the introduction of IFRS together with full details of the accounting policies for 2005 will be included in the full 2005 Annual Financial Statements and were included in the Interim Results released on 28 July 2005. The Interim Results are available on the Company's website www.northernrock.co.uk.

As a consequence of the introduction of IFRS the balance sheet and income statement are subject to a certain amount of volatility particularly from the accounting for hedges deemed under IFRS rules to be ineffective, plus volatility arising from fair value movements on derivatives taken out in respect of certain financial liabilities and instruments included in non shareholders' equity which themselves are not subject to fair value treatment. Where appropriate, such volatility is separately identified in the review of financial and operating results to enable management's view of underlying performance to be separately identified. Further detail is given on page 14.

Overview

Strong lending volumes continued throughout 2005 resulting in underlying total assets of £81.1 billion at the year end, an increase of 24.9% compared with 31 December 2004. Estimated residential net lending market share at 14.4% for the full year, exceeded both the 11.2% share achieved in 2004 and the 13.5% achieved in the first half of 2005, confirming Northern Rock's ability to achieve growth targets in a competitive mortgage market. Commercial lending and standalone personal unsecured lending grew more slowly reflecting our low appetite for risk. Asset quality also remained robust across all loan portfolios.

The strong performance of our retail funding seen in 2004 and the first half of 2005 continued, resulting in net inflows for the year of £2.8 billion. Our successful securitisation issues raised a net £8.8 billion and contributed further to our capital management. Capital efficiency has also been enhanced by the sale of a significant part of our securitisation vehicles' retained first loss risk in the Whinstone transaction, following which our senior unsecured credit rating outlook was changed from neutral to positive by Standard & Poor's.

Profit before tax (underlying) rose by 14.3% and profit attributable to shareholders (underlying) rose by 13.6% from last year - ahead of consensus. Underlying return on equity at 20.8% remained well within our strategic target range of 19% to 22%.

Lending

During 2005 Northern Rock again achieved record levels of total lending. Total gross lending was £26,879 million, an increase of 15.2% (2004 - £23,342 million), with total net lending of £14,555 million, an increase of 12.6% (2004 - £12,932 million). Prospects for 2006 are good, with a total opening pipeline of £5,300 million (1 January 2005 - £5,105 million) including a residential lending pipeline of £5,005 million (1 January 2005 - £4,891 million). The 2006 opening pipeline reflects a 6% improvement in the time applications remain in the lending pipeline. Improved customer retention reduces the need to grow gross lending significantly as we move towards achieving the centre of our asset growth target range.

The composition of our lending portfolios has continued to be low risk. At 31 December 2005, 90% of our loans to customers were residential secured loans (31 December 2004 - 89%), 2% commercial secured loans (31 December 2004 - 3%) and 8% (31 December 2004 - 8%) within our personal unsecured portfolios. This mix is not expected to change significantly going forward.

An analysis of new lending by portfolio is set out in the following table:

2005
Gross	23,618	408	2,853	26,879
Net	13,350	5	1,200	14,555
2004
Gross	20,051	499	2,792	23,342
Net	11,383	182	1,367	12,932

Residential - UK market

The UK residential lending market improved in the second half of 2005 resulting in estimated gross lending for the year of £287 billion, broadly unchanged from the £291 billion recorded in 2004. Gross lending associated with housing transactions and equity withdrawal represents around 55% of lending with 45% driven by remortgage activity. Whilst the former will vary with volumes of home moving transactions and house price inflation, the latter does not due to increased market liquidity following the removal of overhanging early repayment charges. The two components will continue to provide a substantial and robust gross lending market for us to be able to achieve our lending targets. The slow down in the housing transaction market during 2005 has, however, resulted in estimated net lending being down 9% at £92 billion (2004 - £101 billion). UK house prices remained stable throughout 2005. Although the latter part of 2005 saw an increase in housing transactions, we expect 2006 transactions to be similar to those achieved in 2005, with low single digit house price appreciation, in line with the growth in average earnings.

Residential - Northern Rock performance

Against this background, we achieved gross residential lending of £23,618 million (2004 - £20,051 million) and net residential lending of £13,350 million (2004 - £11,383 million), representing increases of 17.8% and 17.3% respectively. Our estimated share of UK gross residential lending for 2005 was 8.1% and our market share of net residential lending was 14.4%. This compares with 8.0% and 13.5% respectively for the first half of 2005, and 6.8% and 11.2% for 2004 in total. Our share of redemptions for the year was 5.2% (2004 - 4.5%), again lower than our closing share of mortgage stock of around 6.4% (31 December 2004 - 5.5%). This reflects the continued success and strengthening of our pro-active customer retention process and our fair and transparent policy of allowing existing customers, subject to their contractual terms, to transfer their loan to any product available to new borrowers.

In 2005, 90% of our gross residential lending was originated via the indirect market (2004 - 88%). This reflects the increasing importance of mortgage clubs and networks, with whom we are even more closely aligned following the introduction of statutory mortgage regulation in the last quarter of 2004, and improvements in service levels and access through our on-line trading platform.

The profile of our new lending has remained low risk despite strong growth in volumes. There was a slight increase in the proportion of lending to first time buyers to 24% (2004 - 21%) reflected in increased volumes of "together" lending. 76% (2004 - 79%) of new customers continued to have a proven payment track record. The impact of this trend has been to increase the average Loan to Value ratio ("LTV") of new lending in 2005 to 78% compared with 76% in 2004. Similarly new lending at or below 90% LTV was 70% (2004 - 77%) of completions. The average indexed LTV of our mortgage book is now 58% (31 December 2004 - 53%) which continues to provide strong cover in the event of default. We have minimal exposure to large loans with only 3.4% of new loans over £500,000 (2004 - 3.5%) and have a good spread of geographic risk.

We offer customers a wide range of innovative and attractive products including lifestyle products and traditional price-led products. Most of our products also have inbuilt flexibility giving customers the opportunity to overpay, make redraws and subject to advance agreement and after a qualifying period, take payment holidays. Our lifestyle products comprise our "together" family of products, Lifetime and residential Buy to Let mortgages. The "together" products combine a secured and unsecured loan at one interest rate and one monthly payment. Gross lending of "together" products amounted to £7.0 billion of which £6.1 billion were advances secured on residential property representing 28.7% of new residential lending, excluding further advances. Outstanding balances of "together" mortgages have increased to 20.6% of our mortgage portfolio (31 December 2004 - 18.2%).

Our Lifetime range is aimed at homeowners aged 60 and over who wish to utilise equity in their homes to enhance their lifestyle. Such lending accounted for 1.4% of gross new residential lending (2004 - 1.8%), with outstanding Lifetime balances representing 3.0% (31 December 2004 - 3.1%) of our mortgage balances.

Residential Buy to Let lending is focussed on lending to private investors secured on good quality residential properties with low LTVs. Such lending accounted for 4.9% of our mortgage portfolio at 31 December 2005 (31 December 2004 - 4.0%) and for 7.1% (2004 - 6.4%) of gross new residential lending.

In total our family of lifestyle products, which are margin enhancing, represented 37.2% (2004 - 28.9%) of our gross new residential lending and 28.5% of mortgage balances at 31 December 2005 (31 December 2004 - 25.3%).

Of our traditional price-led mortgage products, fixed rate mortgages remained the most popular with 25.5% (2004 - 40.4%) of total new [illegible] short term fixed rate products up to two years, and 28.8% (2004 - 7.5%) by longer term fixes, normally up to five years. The increased demand for longer term fixed rate products reflected competitive pricing led by attractive longer term swap rates.

Unsecured

Our personal unsecured credit portfolios comprise the unsecured element of "together" lending and standalone unsecured loans not linked to a residential mortgage. An analysis of lending volumes on the separate elements of our unsecured portfolios is shown in the following table:

£ millions	Standalone Unsecured	Together Unsecured	Total
2005
Gross	1,970	883	2,853
Net	744	456	1,200
2004
Net	1,104	263	1,367

Standalone unsecured gross lending has slowed in line with the number of borrowers who satisfy our credit score and our risk appetite. Net lending has shown a further reduction as the portfolio matures and redemptions and repayments naturally increase.

Volumes of new "together" unsecured lending increased below the rate of growth of "together" mortgage lending due to the cap of £30,000 on the value of the unsecured element of "together" loans. At 31 December 2005, our unsecured lending balances were £5,789 million (31 December 2004 - £4,581 million) of which 40.0% (31 December 2004 - 40.3%) represented "together" unsecured advances.

Commercial

Competition in the commercial secured lending market remained strong throughout 2005 with certain lenders being particularly aggressive on price and LTV levels at which they are prepared to lend. Both gross and net lending within our commercial lending portfolio slowed as a result of maintaining our emphasis on quality rather than volume of lending. Gross lending in the year amounted to £408 million (2004 - £499 million) with net lending of £5 million (2004 - £182 million).

Arrears and Possessions

The arrears position of each of our personal lending portfolios based upon numbers of accounts three months or more in arrears is set out in the following table:

	Residential	Standalone Unsecured	Together Unsecured	CML Residential Average
31 December 2005	0.39%	0.98%	0.84%	0.87%

Note: CML Residential Average arrears shown at 30 June 2005 and 31 December 2004. Source: Council of Mortgage Lenders.

Residential accounts three months or more in arrears at 0.39% remained well below half the CML residential average of 0.37% at 30 June 2005 (30 June 2004 - 0.80%) and only marginally ahead of the equivalent figure of 0.37% at the end of 2004. The "together" secured three months plus arrears.

increased to 0.84% at 31 December 2005 (31 December 2004 - 0.77%) but remained around the CML average for residential lending.

At 31 December 2005, properties in possession had increased to 576, representing only 0.09% of all accounts compared with 181 (0.03%) at the end of 2004 in line with our policy of rapid movement towards recovery where it is clear the borrower is unwilling to maintain payments and where we have higher risk.

Standalone personal unsecured loan arrears remain significantly better than industry average, reflecting our policy of attracting high quality lending and use of our bespoke scorecard to avoid lower quality lending. Three months plus arrears finished the year at 0.98%, below that reported at the half year and at the end of December 2004, although greater collections activity was required compared with 2004. On an industry-wide view indebtedness of customers seems to have stabilised. In our loan portfolios indebtedness has begun to decline and collection activity in the last quarter became a little easier.

At 31 December 2005 only 10 of our commercial loans (0.42% of accounts) with balances outstanding of £5.8 million were three months or more in arrears compared with 8 accounts (0.31%) with outstanding balances of £6.3 million at 31 December 2004.

Funding

Northern Rock has established four distinct funding arms enabling it to attract funds from a wide range of customers and counterparties on a global basis. Flows of new funding and closing balances are shown in the following table:

£ millions	Retail	Non-Retail	Securitisation	Covered Bonds
Net flow	2,809	2,317	8,831	2,378
Closing balances	20,104	22,253	31,156	3,830
2004
Net flow	896	2,770	7,234	1,341
Closing balances	17,290	19,740	22,090	1,339

Note: Net flow in 2005 represents net cashflows excluding fair value adjustments. Closing balances at 31 December 2005 are stated including fair value adjustments.

Retail

Retail funding comprised a total inflow of funds of £2,809 million, including interest credited of £565 million and builds on the successful funding in the first half of 2005 of £1,716 million, again demonstrating the strength and diversity of our retail franchise. 2005's net inflow represents over three times the net inflow of £896 million achieved in 2004.

Funding during the year was largely into our Silver Savings account for the over 50s, launched in September 2004 and supplemented in 2005 by the introduction of a 30 day notice account. Balances in our Ireland based operation rose 63% to £1,026 million (31 December 2004 - £628 million), with £1,940 million (31 December 2004 - £1,871 million) in our Guernsey based off-shore vehicle.

Closing balances of £20.1 billion represent 65.8% of our non-securitised lending portfolios (31 December 2004 - 52.6%).

Non-Retail

Our non-retail funding provides a balanced mixture of short and medium term funding with increasing diversification of our global investor base. During the first half we repaid net £2.2 billion, mainly short term funds, following securitisation issues. In the second half we raised a net £4.5 billion, leaving a full year net funding of £2.3 billion.

During the year, we raised £2.6 billion medium term wholesale funds from a variety of globally spread sources, with specific emphasis on the US, Europe and Asia. This included a US$1.75 billion Extendible Quarterly Securities issue sold to domestic US investors and a US$1.5 billion Floating Rate Notes issue sold in Asia and Europe. In January 2006, we have raised a further US$2.0 billion Extendible Securities, with over 60% of funds raised from investors new to the Northern Rock Extendible programme.

Key developments in short term funding included the establishment of a CAD$2 billion Canadian Commercial Paper programme which provides access to domestic Canadian investors. This programme had outstanding balances of CAD$850 million at 31 December 2005.

Securitisation

Funding through securitisation has remained an integral part of Northern Rock's funding strategy. During 2005 four residential mortgage-backed issues were completed raising £12.9 billion through our Granite vehicles. The characteristics of the mortgages securitised, in terms of product type, LTV and geographic distribution remain similar to those of our non-securitised mortgages. We continue to diversify our investor base aided by comprehensive global investor roadshows. A second commercial mortgage securitisation (Dolerite) raising £600 million was also completed.

The last Granite issue of 2005 (a £3.75 billion deal) was priced at the lowest spread we have ever achieved, even tighter than previous deals completed in the year and significantly below the cost of older deals being replaced.

Already in 2006 we have completed a £6.0 billion residential mortgage-backed securitisation issue, which was heavily oversubscribed. (Details are set out in a separate Stock Exchange announcement released today - 25 January 2006.)

At 31 December 2005 advances to customers subject to securitisation amounted to £39.1 billion (31 December 2004 - £21.9 billion), representing 56% (31 December 2004 - 40%) of our total lending portfolios.

Covered Bonds

In 2005 we raised €3.5 billion (£2.4 billion) from two further issues from our €10 billion covered bond programme established in 2004. This provided further ongoing diversification of the investor base. The second transaction raised funds with a maturity of 15 years priced at mid swaps plus 11bps helping to lower the average cost of new funding. The covered bonds are secured by a pool of ring-fenced residential mortgages. The credit risks associated with these loans have subsequently been transferred into the capital markets by means of synthetic securitisation transactions (Graphite) providing further capital benefits.

Assets

Total assets on a statutory and underlying basis (excluding fair value adjustments) are set out in the following table:

£ millions	31 December 2005	31 December 2004
Statutory	82,709	64,881

Underlying

On an underlying basis total assets are 24.9% higher than at the previous year end and on a statutory basis have increased by 27.5%.

Treasury

Our Treasury operation continues to raise wholesale funds, manage interest rate and currency risks, and manage a portfolio of investments primarily for liquidity purposes. It is not a separate profit centre and does not operate trading portfolios. At 31 December 2005, 97% (31 December 2004 - 96%) of our Treasury investment portfolios comprised assets which are rated single A or better. We continue to have no exposure to emerging markets or non-investment grade debt.

Total Income and Margins

The introduction of IFRS in 2005 results in significant changes in the presentati and reporting of interest and non-interest income. Upfront lending fees are now spread over the expected life of a loan and included in interest income resulting in a deferral of reported income. Introducer fees are also now recognised within interest income and spread over the expected life of a loan, rather than the life of the customer relationship, resulting in an acceleration of the recognition of the cost. Mortgage incentives continue to be offset against interest income but are now spread over the expected life of a loan rather than over the early repayment charge period. In addition, following the re-classification of certain instruments from debt to equity, the coupon payable on these instruments is now excluded from interest expense. As these accounting changes were introduced on a statutory basis with effect from 1 January 2005 we have prepared comparable 2004 figures on a proforma basis as well as on the statutory basis.

The following table shows net interest income and total income on a statutory and proforma basis for 2004 and on a statutory (excluding hedge ineffectiveness) and underlying basis (see notes 3 and 4) for 2005.

	Statutory	Underlying	Statutory	Proforma
£ millions	2005	2005	2004	2004
Net interest income	752.3	706.8	466.9	612.7
Other income	129.0	129.0	252.3	111.8
Total income	881.3	835.8	719.2	724.5

On a statutory basis, total income in 2005 amounted to £881.3 million (excluding hedge ineffectiveness) representing an increase of 22.5% over statutory total income in 2004. On this basis the ratio of total income to mean total assets at 1.19% compares with the 2004 ratio of 1.23%. Total income as a proportion of mean risk weighted assets at 3.34% compares with the 2004 ratio of 3.37%.

On an underlying basis total income in 2005 amounted to £835.8 million representi an increase of 15.4% over proforma total income in 2004. On this basis, the ratio of total income to underlying mean total assets at 1.15% compares with the 2004 ratio of 1.24%. Total income as a proportion of mean risk weighted assets at 3.41% compares with the 2004 ratio of 3.43%.

Underlying interest margin at 0.97% compares with the 2004 ratio of 0.82% on a statutory basis and 1.07% on a proforma basis. The proforma basis is considered to be a more appropriate comparator as it is calculated on the same basis as the 2005 figures, including the impact of effective interest rate changes under IFRS. On this basis, interest margin for 2005 is 10bps lower than the full year in 2004 but only 3bps lower than in the first half of 2005. During 2004, 3 month Libor was on average 26bps higher than Bank Base Rate. Although this differential reduced to 11bps on average during 2005, there continued to be an adverse on the price of our Libor related funding.

At 31 December 2005, the net value of fees deferred to future periods amounted to £292.0 million, compared with £238.2 million at 31 December 2004 on a proforma basis. This deferred income returns to the income statement over the life of loans, reducing the future dependence of income growth on volume growth.

Other income primarily comprises commission generated on sales of third party products such as building and contents and payment protection insurance together with administration fees not included within interest margin. During 2005, we improved our product range and sales process for payment protection insurance. By offering a wider range of products which better match customer needs and by lowering prices we have arranged better protection to more customers.

Expenses

Total operating expenses amounted to £249.4 million representing an increase of 14.2% over statutory operating expenses of £218.3 million and 15.0% over proforma operating expenses of £216.9 million for 2004. The increase of 15.0% compares with an increase in underlying assets of 24.9% over the year and a rise in underlying total income of 15.4%, resulting in a cost to asset ratio of 0.34% (2004 statutory - 0.37%, proforma - 0.37%) and a cost to underlying income ratio of 29.8% (2004 statutory - 30.4%, proforma - 29.9%).

At the half year stage the cost to underlying income ratio had risen to 30.1% as a result of incremental regulatory costs being incurred in the first half of 2005 with no corresponding cost in the equivalent period in 2004. In the second half of 2005, underlying income growth of 17.5%, compared with the second half of 2004, exceeded cost growth of only 12.4%, resulting in a 2005 second half cost to underlying income ratio of 29.6%.

Included in the 2005 operating expenses are approximately £10 million of recurring incremental costs (2004 - £3.6 million) in relation to the full year impact of increased regulatory requirements. These have been absorbed in our cost base and so going forward we expect the rate of cost growth to slow, cost growth to be at the bottom end of the one half to two thirds of asset growth range and income growth to exceed cost growth.

Social Responsibility - The Northern Rock Foundation

Northern Rock donates 5% of pre tax profit to The Northern Rock Foundation under a deed of covenant. Such donations are used to support community and charitable causes mainly in the North East of England and Cumbria. The covenant from 2005 profits amounts to £24.7 million (31 December 2004 - £21.6 million), resulting in approximately £145 million having been donated since its inception in 1997 as an integral part of Northern Rock's conversion to a plc.

Loan Loss Impairment

Although there are similarities between the bases for determining loan loss impai provisions under UK GAAP and IFRS, the latter is more prescriptive. In 2005, we enhanced our loan loss impairment methodologies incorporating risk and performanc data captured in and generated by our Basle II capital systems. As stated at the half year stage, following the introduction of the improved methodologies, a reassessment of loan loss impairment provisions was made to reflect more accurate the risk profile of our loan portfolios. Following this one-off reassessment, loa loss impairment provisions were reduced by £10.3 million for the residential port and by £9.8 million in our commercial lending portfolio and increased by £20.1 mi in respect of our unsecured loans.

The 2005 charge for loan loss impairment amounted to £56.6 million (2004 - £48.5 million) representing 0.09% of mean advances to customers (2004 - 0.10%). The combination of high quality lending, low interest rates, low arrears and continue strong average LTV of the portfolio have continued to contain the levels of loan loss impairment provisions required for residential mortgages. Provisions for the commercial secured lending portfolio are consistent with portfolio performance and economic conditions for this sector.

The growth in loan loss impairment provision balances against our personal unsecured credit portfolios reflects growth in balances and the maturing nature of the portfolios. As a result, total loan loss impairment provision balances for these portfolios have increased to £87.1 million (31 December 2004 - £78.4 million) with total cover of 1.48% (31 December 2004 - 1.68%).

Hedge Ineffectiveness

Following the introduction of IFRS, all derivatives entered into by Northern Rock, which under UK GAAP were held off balance sheet, are now recorded on the balance sheet at full fair value with any fair value movements being taken to the income statement. Where effective hedge relationships can be established, the movement in the fair value of the derivative instrument is offset in full or in part by opposite movements in the fair value of the underlying instrument being hedged. Any ineffectiveness arising from different movements in fair value will trend to zero over time and so any recorded ineffectiveness in any accounting period is excluded from underlying results in that accounting period.

In addition, Northern Rock enters into certain derivative contracts, which althou efficient economically, cannot be included in effective hedge accounting relation Consequently, although the implicit interest cost of the underlying instrument and associated derivative are included in net interest income in the income statement, fair value movements of future cashflows on such derivatives are recorded in "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses" on the face of the income statement and are excluded from underlying results as these fair value adjustments are not realised in the current accountin period. The same treatment also applies to the revaluation at each balance sheet date of economically hedged foreign currency liabilities.

The over-riding objective of the presentation of underlying results is to show the underlying interest income / expense of hedged instruments and to exclude future fair value adjustments from current performance measurement.

In 2005, the income statement shows "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealis fair value gains and losses" as a negative figure of £56.4 million. This reduces to £10.9 million negative after the cost of interest implicit in forward exchange contracts is transferred to underlying net interest income. At 30 June 2005 the equivalent figures were £33.3 million positive and £57.6 million positive respect

The effective tax rate in 2005 was 29.3% (2004 - 28.9%). We continue to anticipate, with a corporation tax rate of 30% and HMRC's stance on tax planning, that the ongoing effective tax rate will trend towards 30.0% in the medium term.

Profits and EPS

To aid comparison of the 2005 results with those of 2004 we have prepared 2004 comparatives on a statutory basis and on a proforma basis. In addition, management's view of the underlying 2005 results is also presented. Details of profit before tax, profit attributable to shareholders and earnings per share on these bases are set out in the following table:

	Statutory 2005	Underlying 2005	Statutory 2004	2004
PBT £m	494.2	504.6	435.3	441.5
Attributable profit £m	300.7	308.1	309.5	271.2
EPS p/share	72.5	74.3	74.9	65.7

The reconciliation between 2005 statutory and underlying results is set out in note 2 of the Preliminary Results (page 28 statutory results, page 48 proforma results).

Underlying 2005 profit before tax of £504.6 million represents an increase of 14.3% over 2004 proforma profit before tax, with underlying attributable profit rising by 13.6% to £308.1 million. Compared with the 2004 statutory results, 2005 statutory profit before tax of £494.2 million represents an increase of 13.5% over the equivalent figure for 2004 and an increase of 11.9% over the 2004 proforma figure

Return on equity for 2005 was 20.8% on an underlying basis and 19.3% on a statutory basis compared with 20.9% in 2004 on a proforma basis and 21.6% on a statutory basis.

Whinstone Transaction

In November 2005, Northern Rock completed its first Whinstone transaction transferring around 80% of the reserve fund risk relating to pre 2005 Granite residential mortgage securitisations to third party investors, therefore reducing the potential exposure to downturn credit risk. The transaction reduces the level of core capital required under credit rating assessments of required capital as well as the regulatory capital deduction in respect of the reserve funds, thereby enhancing capital efficiency and more closely aligning regulatory and credit rating capital; an important step in advance of Basle II. By retaining a small portion of the first loss, Northern Rock continues to align the interests of securitisation investors and the Company and demonstrates its confidence in the credit performance of the mortgage portfolios.

Net interest income, total income and pre tax profits were affected by the interest cost of this transaction for two months in 2005 and will be affected on a full year basis thereafter. This additional cost will be largely offset by savings in appropriations due to not having to raise subordinated debt to support securitisation capital deductions. Underlying attributable profits will therefore not be significantly affected by this transaction.

Following the announcement of the transaction Standard & Poor's changed the Northern Rock senior unsecured credit rating outlook from neutral to positive. The £423 million transaction, included within securitised notes in issue, is by f the largest transaction of its type ever completed in the international markets and has been awarded European Securitisation deal of the year by IFR magazine. It is our intention to continue to utilise this type of transaction on an ongoing

Dividends

In line with our dividend policy of a payout ratio of approximately 40% of sustainable underlying attributable profits, cover of 2.5 times, the proposed final dividend is 20.7p per share payable on 26 May 2006 to shareholders on the register on 28 April 2006. This, combined with the interim dividend of 9.4p, results in a total dividend for 2005 of 30.1p per share, an increase of 13.6% over the 2004 total dividend of 26.5 pence per share.

Capital

At 31 December 2005, total capital amounted to £3,224 million resulting in a total capital ratio of 12.3%, comfortably above regulatory and internal requirements. Tier 1 capital was £2,033 million and the Tier 1 ratio 7.7%. The restated equivalent ratios at 31 December 2004 on a statutory basis were 14.0% and 8.7% and on a proforma basis were 13.5% and 8.0% respectively.

In December 2005, we submitted our application seeking waiver from the FSA to permit us to adopt the Retail Internal Ratings Based approach to Basle II, which is planned to commence on 1 January 2007. We intend to initially adopt the Standardised Approach to Operational Risk.

Our low risk balance sheet means that we expect to achieve significant reductions in the levels of our total regulatory risk weighted assets for credit exposures compared to current levels. This should result, subject to consultation with the FSA and credit rating agencies, in future capital efficiencies. In the first three years of the operation of Basle II, transitional arrangements will apply such that any capital relief will be introduced gradually with a potential maximum 20% reduction in capital by the end of the transition period.

Pension Fund

Whilst almost fully funded on an actuarial basis, the average deficit of the Northern Rock Pension Fund throughout 2005 using the IAS19 basis of calculation was £65.0 million. At the end of 2005, this deficit would have grown to around £74.4 million without corrective action, reflecting in particular volatility arising from the use of point in time assumptions about return on assets and discount rates. The defined benefit element of the fund is a closed fund, and as we get closer to the end of the fund's life, the IAS19 deficit will become realised. Consequently, we have decided to eliminate the average 2005 deficit. This has been achieved by an initial additional contribution of £20.0 million in December 2005, with the balance of £45.0 million paid in January 2006.

As a result of the above, the IAS 19 deficit at 31 December 2005 is £54.4 million, which reduces by £45.0 million to £9.4 million after the payments made in January 2006. The impact of these contributions will be minimal on the Group's earnings but will reduce the risk of significant increases in pension cost in the future.

Outlook

We expect UK gross residential lending in 2006 to be similar to 2005 at around £300 billion, underpinned by a stable housing market and sustained remortgage activity. Economic conditions will remain fundamentally supportive, with interest rates remaining low during 2006.

Following two years of growth of assets at the top of our strategic range of 20% +/- 5% we intend that over the next two to three years the rate of growth of asse will move to the centre of the range, assisting both operational and capital efficiency. Also as income deferred under IFRS is recognised in the income statement and margins stabilise we expect to see underlying earnings growth move back to at least the centre of our strategic range of 15% +/- 5%. Our strategic target for return on equity of 19% to 22% is also confirmed.

Cost efficiency ratios should continue to improve as cost growth returns to below income growth and at the lower end of the target of one half to two thirds of asset growth despite continuing our usual policy of investing in new infrastructure for the future.

Risk management and credit quality remains paramount to Northern Rock's business, which will remain dominated by good quality prime residential mortgages. Whilst the extremely benign credit conditions of the last few years are unlikely to continue they are not expected to deteriorate significantly. This, together with increased focus on arrears management and sound provisioning policies, should ensure that loan loss impairment provisions will not increase markedly.

Capital efficiency will continue to benefit from further sales of securitisation reserve fund risk and in the future by the reduction in capital risk weightings under Basle II.

Our business model remains on track to deliver all of our strategic targets in terms of asset and profit growth, returns on equity and cost efficiency. This will benefit employees, customers and shareholders.

NOTES TO THE STATUTORY RESULTS

1. Basis of Preparation

The 2005 Prelijminary Results have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as approved by the International Accounting Standards Board that, under European Regulations, are effective or available for early adoption at the Group's first reporting date under IFRS, 31 December 2005. The accounting policies adopted for use in the preparation of the 2005 Preliminary Results and for the 2005 Annual Financial Statements were included in the Interim Results released on 28 July 2005. The preparation of financial estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses.

2. Underlying Results

Underlying results for 2005 are reconciled to the IFRS statutory results in the following table.

	Profit before	Profit for the year	Profit attributable to equity shareholders
IFRS statutory results	494.2	349.3	300.7

Underlying results include the interest related fair value movements on forward exchange contracts and exclude the hedge accounting ineffectiveness on derivatives where fair value hedge accounting has been obtained, together with gains and losses on non-hedging derivatives excluding interest flows to the extent that these are not offset by translation gains and losses on underlying instruments in economic hedging relationships.

forward exchange contracts and excludes the hedge accounting ineffectiveness on derivatives where fair value hedge accounting has been obtained, together with gains and losses on non-hedging derivatives excluding interest flows to the extent that these are not offset by translation gains and losses on underlying instruments in economic hedging relationships.

Underlying total assets exclude the effect of fair value adjustments.

4. Net Interest Income

Interest margin has been calculated by reference to average interest earning assets excluding fair value adjustments. For assets denominated in foreign currencies, where these have been economically hedged, average balances are based on the contract rate implicit in the associated hedging instrument. Average balances have been calculated on a monthly basis.

Interest spread represents the difference between interest receivable as a % of average interest earning assets, excluding fair value adjustments, and interest payable as a % of average interest bearing liabilities, excluding fair value adjustments. For assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, where these have been economically hedged, average balances are based on the contract rate implicit in the associated hedging instrument.

Interest implicit in forward exchange contracts represents the difference between the sterling cost implicit from the exchange contract and the currency coupon on the foreign currency liability translated at spot exchange rates. This is regarded as the interest element of the forward exchange contract. The remainder of the contract is the difference between the full fair value of the contract and the interest element of the contract and represents the currency fair value element of the contract.

The full fair value of foreign exchange contracts, including both the interest and currency elements, is included in "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses" in the statutory results (note 5).

Included within interest income is an adjustment of £3.3m with respect to the unwind of the discount included in the impairment allowance under IFRS.

The Group enters into certain derivative financial instruments which although highly effective as economic hedges are not included in hedge accounting relationships. These derivatives include hedges on certain foreign currency within non shareholders' funds, forward currency contracts and previously effective hedges which no longer meet the hedge accounting criteria and consequently have been de-designated.

The fair value movements of future cashflows excluding interest flows on such derivatives are separately identified within "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses"; together with the translation gains and losses on underlying instruments arising from the revaluation from foreign currency into sterling. The deemed interest flows on such derivatives are included within interest income or expense, as appropriate.

Net hedge ineffectiveness excluding interest flows on fair value hedges represents the difference between changes in the fair value of future cashflows excluding interest flows of the hedging derivatives and the changes in the fair value of future cashflows excluding interest flows of the underlying hedged item

Weighted average number of shares in issue	414.6m	413.0m

Diluted EPS	72.0p	74.3p

The fully diluted EPS figures are calculated using the weighted average number of Ordinary shares in issue together with 3.3 million (31 December 2004: 3.6 million) potentially dilutive Ordinary shares resulting from options granted under employee share schemes.

Foundation shares held by The Northern Rock Foundation have been excluded from the EPS calculations as they carry no rights to dividends. The Foundation shares can convert into Ordinary shares only under specified circumstances which are considered to be remote. If conversion were to take place the shares would rank for dividend but the covenant to the Foundation would cease.

PROFORMA INFORMATION

In order to aid comparability of the 2005 results with those of 2004, the following pages show the 2004 results on a proforma basis, incorporating to the extent described in detail on page 48, the impact of IFRS. In particular, the proforma results include the impacts of changes to accounting rules relating to effective interest rate and the reclassification of certain financial instruments from debt to equity but excludes the effects of hedge accounting under IFRS, which differs from that applied under UK GAAP.

The 2005 statutory results include the full effects of the introduction of fair value and hedge accounting following the introduction of IAS 32 and IAS 39 with effect from 1 January 2005. Certain elements of the results for 2005 are also presented excluding the effects of fair value volatility and hedge ineffectiveness to provide management's view of the underlying performance of the Group.

NOTES TO THE PROFORMA RESULTS

1. Basis of Preparation

To enable a more meaningful presentation of results, in addition to the statutory comparatives for the 2004 accounts, proforma comparatives have been prepared and are set out on pages 44 to 57. These show how the 2004 results would have looked, assuming the full application of IAS 32, and the application of IAS 39 excluding the fair value accounting volatility. The Group has not shown the full impacts from all the IAS 39 accounting rules as hedges and financial assets to be fair valued were only designated and documented from 1 January 2005.

2. Underlying Results

Underlying results for 2005 are reconciled to the reported results in the following table.

	Profit before taxation	Profit for the year	Profit attributable to equity shareholders
	£m	£m	£m
Reported results	494.2	349.3	300.7
Underlying net hedge ineffectiveness ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses (note 5)	10.9	10.9	10.9
Impact of covenant to The Northern Rock Foundation	(0.5)	(0.5)	(0.5)
Associated taxation		(3.0)	(3.0)
Underlying results	504.6	356.7	308.1

Underlying results include the interest related fair value movements on forward exchange contracts and exclude the hedge accounting ineffectiveness on derivatives where fair value hedge accounting has been obtained, together with gains and losses on non-hedging derivatives excluding interest flows to the extent that these are not offset by translation gains and losses on underlying instruments in economic hedging relationships.

3. Total Income

	2005 £m	2004 £m
Reported total income	824.9	724.5
Adjustment:
Underlying net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses (note 5)	10.9
Underlying total income	835.8
Mean total assets	73,709.5	58,260.6
Mean total assets (underlying)	72,883.6	n/a

Underlying total income : mean total assets (underlying)	1.15%	n/a
Underlying total income : mean risk weighted assets	3.41%	n/a
Reported total income : mean total assets	1.12%	1.24%
Reported total income : mean risk weighted assets	3.36%	3.43%

Underlying total income includes the interest related fair value movements on forward exchange contracts and excludes the hedge accounting ineffectiveness on derivatives where fair value hedge accounting has been obtained, together with gains and losses on non-hedging derivatives excluding interest flows to the extent that these are not offset by translation gains and losses on underlying instruments in economic hedging relationships.

Underlying total assets exclude the effect of fair value adjustments.

4. Net Interest Income

Interest margin has been calculated by reference to average interest earning assets excluding fair value adjustments. For assets denominated in foreign currencies, where these have been economically hedged, average balances are based on the contract rate implicit in the associated hedging instrument. Average balances have been calculated on a monthly basis.

Interest spread represents the difference between interest receivable as a % of average interest earning assets, excluding fair value adjustments, and interest payable as a % of average interest bearing liabilities, excluding fair value adjustments. For assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, where these have been economically hedged, average balances are based on the contract rate implicit in the associated hedging instrument.

Interest income
Secured advances	3,220.2	2,397.5
Other lending	337.0	317.1

Average interest earning assets excluding fair value adjustments	72,730.0	57,222.3
Average interest bearing liabilities excluding fair value adjustments	70,250.7	55,111.8

Underlying interest spread	0.81%	n/a
Interest margin as reported	1.03%	1.07%
Interest spread as reported	0.87%	0.91%

Interest implicit in forward exchange contracts represents the difference between the sterling cost implicit from the exchange contract and the currency coupon on the foreign currency liability translated at spot exchange rates. This is regarded as the interest element of the forward exchange contract. The remainder of the contract is the difference between the full fair value of the contract and the interest element of the contract and represents the currency fair value element of the contract.

The full fair value of foreign exchange contracts including both the interest and currency elements is included in "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses" in the reported results (note 5).

unwind of the discount included in the impairment allowance under IFRS.

5. Net Hedge Ineffectiveness and Other Unrealised Fair Value Gains and Losses

Fair value movements of future cashflows excluding interest flows on non-hedging derivatives	1,675.6	-
Translation gains and losses on underlying instruments	(1,693.7)	-

Underlying net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses	(10.9)	-

The Group enters into certain derivative financial instruments which although highly effective as economic hedges are not included in hedge accounting relationships. These derivatives include hedges on certain foreign currency assets and wholesale funding recorded at amortised cost and instruments included within non shareholders' funds, forward currency contracts and previously effective hedges which no longer meet the hedge accounting criteria and consequently have been de-designated.

The fair value movements of future cashflows excluding interest flows on such derivatives are separately identified within "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other unrealised fair value gains and losses", together with the translation gains and losses on underlying instruments arising from the revaluation from foreign curren into sterling. The deemed interest flows on such derivatives are included within interest income or expense, as appropriate.

Net hedge ineffectiveness excluding interest flows on fair value hedges represents the difference between changes in the fair value of future cashflows excluding interest flows of the hedging derivatives and the changes in the fair value of future cashflows excluding interest flows of the underlying hedged items

Weighted average number of shares in issue	414.6m	413.0m
Basic EPS	72.5p	65.7p
Underlying EPS	74.3p	n/a

The weighted average number of Ordinary shares in issue has been determined after deducting shares held in trust for employee share schemes.

Diluted weighted average number of shares in issue	417.9m	416.6m
Diluted EPS	72.0p	65.1p
Underlying diluted EPS	73.7p	n/a

The fully diluted EPS figures are calculated using the weighted average number of Ordinary shares in issue together with 3.3 million (31 December 2004: 3.6 million) potentially dilutive Ordinary shares resulting from options granted under employee share schemes.

Foundation shares held by The Northern Rock Foundation have been excluded from the EPS calculations as they carry no rights to dividends. The Foundation shares can convert into Ordinary shares only under specified circumstances which are considered to be remote. If conversion were to take place the shares would rank for dividend but the covenant to the Foundation would cease.

These loans provide security to issues of covered bonds made by Northern Rock, which are included within debt securities in issue amounting to £3,830.4 million (31 December 2004 - £1,339.0 million). Northern Rock retains substantially all the risks and rewards associated with these loans and therefore these transactions do not qualify for derecognition under IAS 39.

Adam J Applegarth, Chief Executive, said:

"Northern Rock has had a good first half in 2006. We achieved all of our strategic targets, with our performance very much in line with the guidance we gave at the beginning of the year. In addition, we have put in place some key building blocks for the longer term, including a preference share issue, a second Whinstone transaction as well as bringing on-stream major new IT systems.

Another strong lending performance has contributed to an increase in underlying profits attributable to shareholders of 16.1%, generating a return on equity of 21.5%. These results are in line with our objective of seeing our rate of asset growth trending towards the centre of the 20% + / - 5% range over the next two to three years.

Given the proven robustness of our business model, we also announce today that we are changing our strategic target range for annual growth in underlying profits attributable to shareholders upwards to 20% + / - 5%, on a like for like basis (from 15% + / -5%) recognising that it is likely to take a couple of years to achieve the centre of this range."

OPERATIONAL REVIEW

Introduction

Following the introduction of IFRS, the balance sheet and income statement are subject to a certain amount of volatility. This particularly arises from accounting for hedges which although economically effective are deemed under IFRS rules to be ineffective. In addition, volatility arises from fair value movements on derivatives taken out to minimise risk in respect of certain financial liabilities and instruments included in non shareholders' equity which themselves are not subject to fair value treatment. Where appropriate, such volatility is separately identified in the review of financial and operating results to enable underlying performance to be separately identified. Underlying total assets also exclude the fair value of derivative instruments due to volatility in such values.

reflect changes to the treatment of certain hedge accounting adjustments. There is no impact on the 2005 underlying Interim Results nor on any aspect of the 2005 full year results.

Overview

Strong lending volumes continued in the first half of 2006 resulting in underlying total assets of £88.0 billion, an increase of 23.6% compared with 30 June 2005. Residential net lending market share at 14.3% to the end of May 2006, is similar to the 14.5% share achieved in 2005 and ahead of the 13.5% achieved in the first half of 2005. Our lending portfolios continue to be dominated by residential mortgage lending representing 89.3% of all outstanding loans (31 December 2005 - 89.5%).

The strong performance of our retail funding in the last few years continued in the first half of 2006 resulting in net inflows of £1.7 billion. Two successful securitisation issues raised £9.0 billion with a further £1.4 billion from our covered bond programme. Capital ratios have been enhanced by a second Whinstone transaction resulting in the transfer of a further £169 million of our securitisation vehicles' retained first loss risk and by the issue of £400 million of preference shares.

Profit before tax (underlying) grew by 14.4% and profit attributable to shareholders (underlying) of £173.5 million grew by 16.1% compared with the first half of last year. Underlying return on equity at 21.5% (30 June 2005 - 20.7%) remained within the top half of our strategic target range.

Lending

During the first half of 2006 Northern Rock again achieved record levels of total lending. Total gross lending was £14,807 million, an increase of 28.3% (2005 first half - £11,543 million), with total net lending of £7,276 million, an increase of 22.0% (2005 first half - £5,965 million). Prospects for the remainder of 2006 are good, with a pipeline of £5,482 million (31 December 2005 - £5,300 million) including a residential lending pipeline of £4,955 million (31 December 2005 - £4,779 million). Improvements in processing efficiency and continued attention to customer retention means that our 2006 lending and asset growth targets are consistent with the level of pipeline at the end of the half year.

The composition of our lending portfolios has continued to be low risk. At 30 June 2006, 89.3% of our loans to customers were residential secured loans (31 December 2005 - 89.5%), 2.1% commercial secured loans (31 December 2005 - 2.2%) and 8.6% within our personal unsecured portfolios (31 December 2005 - 8.3%). This mix is not expected to change significantly going forward.

Residential - UK market

The UK residential lending market was stronger in the first half of 2006 compared with the equivalent period in 2005, continuing the improvement in activity levels seen in the second half of 2005. Increased levels of housing transactions together with above anticipated levels of house price increases, skewed by central London, contributed to increases in gross residential lending of 27% and net residential lending of 25% in the first five months of the year. Whilst we do not expect this rate of growth to continue for the full year, we expect both gross and net lending to be ahead of levels seen in 2005 of £288 billion and £91 billion respectively. We also expect to see house price inflation slow in the second half of 2006 and over the medium term be in line with increases in earnings. Housing transactions are expected to be higher than 2005 partly reflecting the gradual return of first time buyers to the market. Gross lending also continues to be supported by remortgage activity which accounted for approximately 40% of gross lending by value so far this year. The gross market remains key to Northern Rock achieving its growth targets, and economic conditions remain supportive with low inflation, relatively low unemployment, low interest rates and consequently good affordability.

Residential - Northern Rock performance

Against this background we achieved gross residential lending of £12,711 million (2005 first half - £10,224 million) and net residential lending of £6,351 million (2005 first half - £5,610 million), representing increases of 24.3% and 13.2% respectively. Our share of UK gross residential lending for the first five months of 2006 was 8.1% and our market share of net residential lending for the same period was 14.3%. This compares with 8.0% and 13.5% respectively for the first half of 2005, and 8.1% and 14.5% for 2005 in total. Our share of redemptions in the first five months of the year was 5.3%, identical to the first half of 2005 and again lower than our closing share of mortgage stock of around 6.7%. This continues to reflect the success of our pro-active customer retention process and our fair and transparent policy of allowing existing customers, subject to contractual terms, to transfer their loan to any product available to new borrowers.

In the first half of 2006, 89% of our gross residential lending was originated via the indirect market (2005 full year - 90%) reflecting the importance of mortgage clubs and networks to our distribution strategy. Of our awards, the proportion of indirect business was 88% and has fallen further since the half year. By the end of the first half around 80% of indirect applications were being processed via our on-line trading platform, resulting in improvements in service levels as well as our own operational efficiency. We currently operate 80 loan originating branches and aim to broaden this distribution network to around 100 by 2010 via a programme of opening new branches in major urban areas.

The profile of our new lending has remained low risk despite the strong growth time buyers increased to 27% (2005 full year - 24%). 73% (2005 full year - 76%) of new customers have a proven payment track record. The impact of this trend has been to slightly increase the average Loan to Value ratio ("LTV") of lending in the first half of 2006 to 79% (2005 full year - 78%) although we have increased the proportion of new lending at or below 90% LTV to 76% (2005 full year - 70%). The average indexed LTV of our mortgage book is now 60% (31 December 2005 - 58%) which continues to provide strong cover in the event of default. We continue to have a good spread of geographic risk and minimal exposure to large loans with only 3.9% of new loans over £500,000 (2005 full year - 3.4%).

We offer customers a wide range of innovative and attractive products including lifestyle products and traditional price-led products. Our lifestyle products comprise our "together" family of products, Lifetime and residential Buy to Let mortgages. The "together" products combine a secured and unsecured loan at one interest rate and one monthly payment. Gross lending of "together" products amounted to £4.7 billion of which £4.1 billion were advances secured on residential property representing 35.4% (2005 full year - 28.7%) of new residential lending, excluding further advances. Outstanding balances of "together" mortgages increased to 22.7% of our mortgage portfolio (31 December 2005 - 20.6%).

Our Lifetime range is aimed at homeowners aged 60 and over, who wish to utilise equity in their homes to enhance their lifestyle. Such lending accounted for 1.2% of gross new residential lending (2005 full year - 1.4%), with outstanding Lifetime balances representing 2.9% (31 December 2005 - 3.0%) of our mortgage balances.

Residential Buy to Let lending is focussed on lending to private investors secured on good quality residential properties. Such lending accounted for 5.6% of our mortgage portfolio at 30 June 2006 (31 December 2005 - 4.9%) and for 8.8% (2005 full year - 7.1%) of gross new residential lending.

In total our lifestyle products, which are margin enhancing, represented 45.4% (2005 full year - 37.2%) of our gross new residential lending and 31.2% of mortgage balances at 30 June 2006 (31 December 2005 - 28.5%).

Of our traditional price-led mortgage products, fixed rate mortgages remained the most popular with 25.2% (2005 full year - 25.3%) of total new lending accounted for by short term fixed products up to two years, and 23.5% (2005 full year - 28.8%) by longer term fixes normally up to a maximum of seven years. The demand for longer term fixed rates eased as pricing increased in response to higher swap rates.

Our residential lending remains focussed on prime mortgage customers. There is a market for near or sub-prime and self certified lending, but we have avoided this market due to concerns over the risk reward relationship and we have no need to move down the credit curve to achieve our lending volumes. This on-balance sheet appetite has not changed. However, we recognise that offering such products would add to the portfolio available through our sales distribution network and so we intend to work in partnership with Lehman Brothers to introduce directly such loans to them. In return, we will earn fee income but will not take any credit risk, nor will we administer the loans post completion. We anticipate the venture will be on-stream by the end of the current year, benefiting earnings next year.

Unsecured

Our personal unsecured credit portfolios comprise the unsecured element of "together" lending and standalone unsecured loans not linked to a residential mortgage. An analysis of lending volumes on the separate elements of our unsecured portfolios is shown in the following table:

£ millions	Standalone Unsecured	Together Unsecured	Total
2006 1st Half
Gross	1,182	655	1,837
Net	458	395	853
2005 Full Year
Gross	1,970	883	2,853
Net	744	456	1,200
2005 2nd Half
Gross	1,209	543	1,752
Net	570	306	876
2005 1st Half
Gross	761	340	1,101
Net	174	150	324

Standalone gross lending was at a similar level to that achieved in the second half of 2005 with net lending lower as the portfolio matures and redemptions and repayments increase.

Volumes of "together" unsecured lending have increased in conjunction with the increase in volume of "together" secured lending. At 30 June 2006 our unsecured lending balances were £6,638 million (31 December 2005 - £5,789 million) of which 41.1% (31 December 2005 - 40.0%) represented "together" unsecured advances.

Commercial

Competition in the commercial secured lending market has remained strong in the first half of 2006 with certain lenders remaining aggressive on price and LTV levels at which they are prepared to lend. We have continued to grow our commercial lending portfolio gradually, maintaining our emphasis on quality rather than volume of lending. Gross lending in the first half amounted to £259 million (2005 first half - £218 million) with net lending of £72 million (2005 first half - £31 million).

Arrears and Possessions

The arrears position of each of our personal lending portfolios based upon accounts three months or more in arrears is set out in the following table:

	Residential	Standalone Unsecured	"Together" Unsecured	CML Residential Average
30 June 2006	0.45%	1.08%	0.97%	n/a
31 December 2005	0.39%	0.98%	0.84%	0.97%
30 June 2005	0.35%	1.02%	0.82%	0.87%

Note: CML Residential Average Arrears shown at 31 December 2005 and 30 June 2005. Data at 30 June 2006 not yet available. Source: Council of Mortgage Lenders.

Our residential arrears continue to be below half the industry average as reported at 31 December 2005, the latest available data. Northern Rock's arrears data is calculated more conservatively than the CML data, for example we include all loans three months and over in the three month category whereas the CML definition is only above three months in arrears. There has been an increase in arrears in line with default levels across the sector with Northern Rock's arrears returning to levels seen in 2004, which at the time were historic lows. One reason for the increase since the beginning of the year reflects the increased proportion of "together" lending within the residential portfolio. The "together" secured three months plus arrears increased to 0.95% (31 December 2005 - 0.84%) but remain below the industry average for secured residential loans. The three months plus arrears figure for our standard loan portfolio has increased to 0.29% (31 December 2005 - 0.26%).

At 30 June 2006, properties in possession had increased to 628, representing 0.09% of all accounts compared with 576 (0.09%) at the end of 2005. New possession cases in the first half of 2006 amounted to 838; broadly stable compared with 804 cases in the second half of 2005.

Standalone personal unsecured loan arrears remain significantly better than industry average and only marginally ahead of the position 12 months ago, reflecting our policy of attracting high quality lending and use of our bespoke scorecard to avoid lower quality lending. We continue to monitor and adjust our scorecard ratings in response to tighter conditions in the unsecured market ensuring a balanced approach to price, volume and risk. Unsecured loans within the "together" brand continued to perform in line with the "together" secured advances and similar to traditional residential secured loans.

At 30 June 2006, only 3 of our commercial loans (0.26% of accounts) with balances outstanding of £3.2 million were three months or more in arrears compared with 10 accounts (0.42%) with outstanding balances of £5.8 million at 31 December 2005.

Funding

Northern Rock has established four distinct funding arms enabling it to attract funds from a wide range of customers and counterparties on a global basis. Flows of new funding and closing balances are shown in the following table:

£ millions	Retail	Non-Retail	Securitisation	Covered Bonds
Net flow	1,666	(2,329)	5,834	1,382

Net flow	1,716	(2,245)	6,138	1,025
Closing balances	19,008	17,520	27,706	2,430

Note: Net flows represent net cashflows excluding fair value adjustments. Closing balances are stated including fair value adjustments.

Retail

Retail funding comprised a net inflow of funds of £1,666 million including interest credited of £314 million and builds on the successful funding in 2005, again demonstrating the strength and diversity of our retail franchise.

Funding during the six months was largely into our 30 day Silver Savings notice account. Balances in our Ireland based operation rose to £1,341 million (31 December 2005 - £1,026 million), with £2,218 million (31 December 2005 - £1,940 million) in our Guernsey based off-shore vehicle. We intend to supplement our retail offshore activities by opening a new retail funding operation in Denmark early in 2007.

Non-Retail

Our non-retail funding provides a balanced mixture of short and medium term funding with increasing diversification of our global investor base. As in 2005, demands on our non-retail funding programmes were restrained during the first half due to the volumes taken from our other funding arms, resulting in a net outflow of £2.3 billion of non-retail funding.

During the first half we raised £2.0 billion medium term wholesale funds from the US, Europe, the Far East and Australia. This included US$2.0 billion Extendible Quarterly Securities sold to domestic US investors and A$1.2 billion raised under a newly established Australian debt programme, targeted at both domestic Australian investors and the Far East. This transaction was the largest debut deal in this market for a single A rated financial institution and demonstrates our strategy for diversification of Northern Rock's investor base.

Securitisation

Funding through securitisation remains an integral part of Northern Rock's funding strategy. During the first half of 2006 two residential mortgage issues were completed raising £9.0 billion through our Granite vehicles. The January deal at £6.0 billion was our largest to date. Diversification of our investor base continued with 75% of the securitised bonds being issued in US dollars or euros. The characteristics of the mortgages securitised, in terms of product type, LTV and geographic distribution remain similar to those of our non-securitised mortgages.

We have continued to see the spreads on our securitisation deals improve, with the May transaction achieving our cheapest pricing to date, over 10bps cheaper than the maturing deals in part being replaced.

At 30 June 2006 advances to customers subject to securitisation, including the Whinstone transactions, amounted to £36.6 billion (31 December 2005 - £39.1 billion).

Covered Bond

In the first half of 2006 we raised €2.0 billion (£1.4 billion) from a fourth issue from our €10 billion programme established in 2004. This provided further diversification of the investor base as around a third of the participants were new to Northern Rock. The covered bond is secured by a pool of ring-fenced residential mortgages.

Total assets on a statutory and underlying basis (excluding fair value adjustments) are set out in the following table:

Statutory	88,821	72,435	82,709
Underlying	88,035	71,211	81,057

On a statutory basis, total assets are 7.4% higher than at the previous year end and 22.6% higher than 12 months ago. On an underlying basis, growth in total assets was 8.6% and 23.6% respectively.

Treasury

Our Treasury operation continues to raise wholesale funds, manage interest rate and currency risks, and manage a portfolio of investments primarily for liquidity purposes. It is not a separate profit centre and does not operate trading portfolios. At 30 June 2006, 96% (31 December 2005 - 97%) of our Treasury investment portfolios comprised assets which are rated single A or better, continuing our strategy of seeking security and not increasing credit risk. We continue to have no exposure to emerging markets or non-investment grade debt.

Total Income and Net Interest Income

The following tables show net interest income and total income on a statutory and underlying basis (see notes 5 and 6). The underlying basis excludes volatile hedge ineffectiveness as management considers that our hedging is economically effective and that movements in fair value on individual hedges and underlying instruments will offset over time and do not form part of operational performance.

Statutory basis	6 months ended		Year ended
Net interest income	401.9	369.3	752.3
Other income	77.7	50.5	129.0
Hedge ineffectiveness	8.5	(1.3)	(56.4)
Total income	488.1	418.5	824.9

Underlying basis	6 months ended		Year ended
£ millions	30 June 2006	30 June 2005	31 December 2005
Net interest income	389.2	345.0	706.8
Other income	77.7	50.5	129.0
Total income	466.9	395.5	835.8

On a statutory basis total income in the first half of 2006 amounted to £488.1 million representing an increase of 16.6% over total income in the first half of 2005. On this basis the ratio of total income to mean total assets at 1.14% in the first half compares with the 2005 full year and half year ratios of 1.12% and 1.22%. Total income as a proportion of mean risk weighted assets at 3.65% compares with the 2005 full year and half year ratios of 3.34% and 3.58%.

On an underlying basis total income in the first half of 2006 amounted to £466.9 million representing an increase of 18.1% over underlying total income in the first half of 2005. On this basis the ratio of total income to underlying mean total assets at 1.10% in the first half compares with the 2005 full year and half year ratios of 1.15% and 1.16%. Total underlying income as a proportion of underlying mean risk weighted assets at 3.49% compares with the 2005 full year and half year ratios of 3.41% and 3.41%.

underlying interest spread at 0.79% in the first half compares with the full year and half year ratios of 0.81% and 0.80% on an underlying basis. On this basis, interest spread is 6bps lower than the full year in 2005 and 7bps lower than in the second half of last year. This reduction is primarily attributable to the costs of the Whinstone transactions and the effect of the Libor Bank Base Rate differential. The interest costs in respect of Whinstone are offset by containing the growth in the appropriation line by not having to raise additional Tier 2 capital resulting in the impact on profit attributable to shareholders being minimal. During the first half of 2006, 3 month Libor remained on average 14bps higher than Bank Base Rate compared with 7bps in the second half of 2005 and so has continued to adversely affect the price of our securitisation and non-retail funding. Mortgage spreads have remained the same as throughout all of 2005. Total spreads on all loans to customers were lower by 3bps compared with 2005, due to tighter pricing on commercial and unsecured lending.

At 30 June 2006 the net value of fees deferred to future periods amounts to £324.2 million, compared with £292.0 million at 31 December 2005 and £268.7 million at 30 June 2005. This deferred income returns to the income statement over the life of loans, reducing the future dependence of income growth on volume growth.

Other income primarily comprises insurance commission generated on sales of third party products such as building and contents and payment protection insurance together with administration fees not included within interest margin. Other income at £77.7 million was similar to the £78.5 million achieved in the second half of 2005.

Costs

Total operating expenses amounted to £135.0 million representing an increase of 13.5% over the £118.9 million in the first half of 2005. The increase of 13.5% compares with an increase in underlying assets of 23.6% over the twelve months and a rise in underlying total income of 18.1%, resulting in a cost to underlying asset ratio of 0.32% (30 June 2005 - 0.35%) and cost to underlying income ratio of 28.9% (30 June 2005 - 30.1%).

Our cost performance is in line with achieving for the full year the bottom of our strategic target of cost growth being 1/2 to 2/3rds the rate of growth of assets. We also expect cost growth to be noticeably lower than either income or profit growth leading to falling cost to underlying income and cost to underlying asset ratios. This is despite substantial expenditure on new IT systems (particularly for self-service processing for new and retained customers) and spend on our central administration sites.

Social Responsibility - The Northern Rock Foundation

Northern Rock donates 5% of pre tax profit to The Northern Rock Foundation under a deed of covenant. Such donations are used to support community and charitable causes mainly in the North East of England and Cumbria. The covenant from 2006 first half profits amounts to £14.7 million (2005 first half - £14.7 million), resulting in donations of approximately £160 million since its inception in 1997 as an integral part of Northern Rock's conversion to a plc.

Loan Loss Impairment

The charge for loan loss impairment amounted to £44.5 million for the first half (2005 first half - £25.5 million) representing 0.12% of mean advances to customers (2005 first half - 0.09%). The impairment allowance ... loans and advances to customers at 17bps remains similar to the 18bps coverage at 31 December 2005.

The combination of high quality lending, low interest rates, low arrears and continued strong average LTV of the portfolio have continued to contain the levels of loan loss impairment provisions required for residential mortgages. Loan losses have increased in line with higher levels of possessions and a slowdown in house price inflation. This impact is reflected in an increased impairment charge maintaining the impairment allowance coverage at 5bps.

The growth in loan loss impairment provision balances against our personal credit portfolios reflects the combined effects of the growth in balances, the maturing nature of the portfolios and the impact of better quality newer standalone unsecured lending following revisions to credit acceptance criteria. As a result, total loan loss impairment provision balances for these portfolios have increased to £92.6 million (31 December 2005 - £87.1 million) with total cover of 1.38% (31 December 2005 - 1.48%), well below industry average in line with lower than industry average arrears.

We expect to see a lower impairment charge in the second half than in the first half of 2006, although the extent of the reduction is likely to be affected by the levels of personal bankruptcies and individual voluntary arrangements. Whilst we have seen an increase in such arrangements in the last 12 months, the impact continues to be mitigated by improved collection activity and underwriting policies.

Hedge Ineffectiveness

Following the introduction of IFRS all derivatives entered into by Northern Rock are recorded on the balance sheet with any fair value movements being taken to the income statement. Where effective hedge relationships can be established, the movement in the fair value of the derivative instrument is offset in full or in part by opposite movements in fair value of the underlying instrument being hedged. Any ineffectiveness arising from different movements in fair value will offset over time and so any recorded ineffectiveness in any accounting period is excluded from underlying results in that accounting period.

In addition, Northern Rock enters into certain derivative contracts, which although efficient economically, cannot be included in effective hedge accounting relationships. Consequently, although the implicit interest cost of the underlying instrument and associated derivative are included in net interest income in the income statement, future fair value movements on such derivatives are recorded in "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other fair value gains and losses" on the face of the income statement and are excluded from underlying results. The same treatment also applies to the revaluation at each balance sheet date of economically hedged foreign currency liabilities.

The over-riding objective of the presentation of underlying results is to show a more appropriate net interest /cost of hedged instruments and to exclude future fair value adjustments from current performance measurement.

In the first half of 2006 the income statement shows "Net hedge ineffectiveness and other fair value gains and losses" as a gain of £8.5 million (2005 first half £1.3 million loss (restated - see note 2)). This increases to £21.2 million gain (2005 first half - £23.0 million gain (restated - see note 2)) after the cost of interest implicit in forward exchange contracts is transferred to underlying net interest income.

Taxation

The effective tax rate for the first half was 29.2% (30 June 2005 - 29.3%). We continue to anticipate, with a corporation tax rate of 30%, that the ongoing effective tax rate will trend towards 30.0% in the medium term.

Statutory profit before tax of £293.9 million for the six months ended 30 June 2006 represents an increase of 13.3% over the equivalent statutory figure for 2005. Statutory profit attributable to shareholders for the first half of 2006 was £187.8 million, an increase of 14.7% over the 2005 statutory result for the same period.

Compared with the 2005 first half underlying results, the underlying 2006 profit before tax of £273.7 million represents an increase of 14.4%, with underlying attributable profit rising by 16.1% to £173.5 million.

Return on equity for the first half of 2006 was 23.3% on a statutory basis and 21.5% on an underlying basis compared with 21.6% in the first half of 2005 on a statutory basis and 20.7% on an underlying basis.

Dividends

Maintaining our policy of increasing dividends in line with sustainable growth in profit attributable to shareholders, the proposed interim dividend is 10.9p per share payable on 27 October 2006 to shareholders on the register on 29 September 2006, a 16.0% increase over the 2005 interim dividend of 9.4p.

Capital

At 30 June 2006 total capital amounted to £3,656 million resulting in a total capital ratio of 13.4%, comfortably above regulatory and internal requirements. Tier 1 capital was £2,490 million and the Tier 1 ratio 9.2%. The equivalent ratios at 31 December 2005 were 12.3% and 7.7% respectively.

Tier 1 capital and total capital have been enhanced by the issue on 29 June 2006 of £400 million (£397 million net of issue costs) of perpetual non-cumulative callable preference shares. Dividends on these shares are discretionary and subject to Board approval will be first paid on 4 July 2007 and then annually thereafter at a rate of 6.8509%. The issue supports the future growth of lending as well as improving the mix of our capital base.

In the first half we also completed a second Whinstone transaction £169 million of the reserve funding risk relating to the 2005 and the first 2006 Granite residential mortgage securitisations to third party investors. The Whinstone transactions reduce the level of core capital required under credit rating assessments of required capital as well as the regulatory capital deduction in respect of the reserve funds, thereby enhancing capital efficiency and more closely aligning regulatory and credit rating capital.

Following the submission in December 2005 of our application to use the Retail Internal Ratings Based approach to Basle II we have continued to assess our Basle II systems in response to the FSA's CP06/3 and emerging interpretation of requirements. We continue to aim for adoption of Basle II with effect from 1 January 2007 which if achieved will be ahead of the majority of the sector, which is not expected to adopt Basle II until 1 January 2008. As a low risk lender we continue to anticipate significant savings in regulatory credit risk capital under Pillar I which will be partly offset by Pillar II requirements. Realisation of the benefits will be phased in over the three year transition period in conjunction with our internal and rating agency assessments of our capital requirements.

Outlook

The first half of 2006 saw strong mortgage lending on the back of higher levels of housing transactions and house price inflation. Although we expect growth in lending to moderate in the second half we remain comfortable with our forecast of a £300 billion gross UK residential lending market for both 2006 and 2007.

Our view of the economy is that with rising worldwide interest rates, higher energy costs and higher European unemployment, the UK will experience a slowing economy over the next few years. This is likely to result in a moderate deterioration in credit risk across the retail banking sector. Our low risk appetite to such risk means that we expect our residential arrears to remain below half the industry average.

We confirm our strategic asset growth target of 20% + / - 5%. We are performing towards the top of this range but expect to move towards the centre over the next couple of years. In addition, as we see our underlying profits attributable to shareholders move through the centre of the existing 15% + / - 5% range we are lifting this target on a like for like basis to 20% + / - 5%, aiming to move towards the centre of this new range over the medium term.

The range of underlying attributable profit expectations for 2006, excluding any fair value and hedge accounting gains or losses, as provided by 18 of the major bank research analysts, is £339 million to £363 million, with a mean of £355 million, growth of 15.2% compared to the 2005 underlying figure. Northern Rock remains comfortable with this consensus mean.

NORTHERN ROCK PLC

TRADING STATEMENT
FOR THE 3 MONTHS TO 31 MARCH 2006

INTRODUCTION

Northern Rock informs the market of its continued strong trading performance - in line with guidance given at the time of the 2005 Preliminary Results and its strategic intention of achieving annual growth in assets of 20% (+/- 5%) and growth in profit attributable to shareholders of 15% (+/- 5%).

STRATEGY

Northern Rock's strategy remains unchanged. It is based on sector leading, low cost operations, transparency and customer driven distribution to produce attractive products at competitive prices. Backed up by strong retention, this generates strong growth in high quality assets to provide low risk, attractive returns to shareholders. Our strategic target is to maintain Return on Equity in the 19-22% range.

ECONOMIC BACKGROUND AND MARKET OUTLOOK

UK economic fundamentals are sound despite a slowdown in GDP growth. Whilst unemployment is increasing, it remains at historic low levels, and inflation is under control. We expect these trends to continue and therefore that interest rates and debt servicing costs will be relatively low.

This backdrop will continue to provide support for the UK housing market, especially when combined with the long-standing preference for home ownership in a market where housing demand outstrips supply. The latter stages of 2005 and the start of 2006 have seen a small but encouraging increase in the number of First Time Buyers returning to the housing market. We expect this gentle trend to continue, providing increased support to the home moving market, which is expected to see a slight increase in the number of housing transactions compared to 2005.

As households continue to reorganise their finances, demand for remortgage products will remain high, supporting gross loan volumes in 2006. Remortgaging is expected to represent around 45% of gross lending in 2006.

Combining our outlook for the UK housing and mortgage markets, our expectation is for a gross mortgage market in 2006 of around £300 billion, compared with £288 billion in 2005. Northern Rock remains confident of its ability to achieve its lending targets within this context.

LENDING

Our strong lending performance continued in the first quarter of 2006. During the first three months of 2006, total net lending was 26% higher than the same period last year, due to a combination of a good gross mortgage market share, enhanced by customer retention. In Q1 2006, gross and net lending market shares have been in line with those for 2005 as a whole.

Going into the second quarter, Northern Rock's total lending pipeline stood at £5.7 billion; an increase of 15% over the same time last year and 8% higher than at the start of 2006.

Net residential lending during the first three months of the year was 14% higher than at the same point in 2005. This is encouraging, as the first quarter of 2005 saw strong lending following the introduction of mortgage regulation. Northern Rock's policy of offering existing mortgage customers the same products available to new customers, combined with active promotion and dedicated retention resources, has led to a continued good retention performance. At 31 March 2006, Northern Rock's residential lending pipeline was £5.1 billion, 14% higher than the same time last year.

The risk profile of residential lending during the first quarter was consistent with that seen in 2005. The proportion of Together, Buy-to-Let and HERM products are at similar levels to H2 2005. Higher Together sales reflect the drift back into the housing market of First Time Buyers.

Total unsecured lending represents a small but consistent proportion of Northern Rock's overall loan book, at around 8% of commercial assets. Total unsecured lending so far this year - both in net lending and share of pipeline - maintains this lending mix. The proportion of new unsecured lending which is mortgage-linked has increased, in line with Together sales in the first three months of the year. Unsecured loans linked to a mortgage demonstrate a similar performance profile to the secured element of the loan. We target quality rather than volume in both our personal unsecured and commercial secured lending. The growth in our commercial secured book remains quieter, as seen in H2 2005.

At this early stage, Northern Rock's lending performance during the first quarter of 2006 is consistent with the company achieving asset growth in the top half of the strategic range.

CREDIT QUALITY

Credit quality at Northern Rock remains tightly monitored and controlled. Our strong underwriting criteria, the high proportion of borrowers with a proven payment track record and the targeting of low risk sectors ensure credit quality remains robust. Despite the backdrop of modestly increasing arrears in the mortgage industry and within some areas of consumer lending, Northern Rock's arrears profile remains low.

All of our loan books have shown little movement in their arrears profile since the end of 2005. Our residential arrears (3 months plus) remain below half the industry average, which at December 2005 was 0.92%, according to CML data.

Reflecting our view of the economy and our expectation for broadly flat house prices, we will continue the policy of 2005 in seeking quicker crystallisation on defaulting loans - secured and unsecured - where they are higher risk loans. Combined with the introduction of Basle II-style impairment models, this will mean a shift in the relationship between provisions and write-offs, a trend already evidenced in 2005's figure.

Funding volumes across our diversified funding platform remained strong in the first quarter of 2006.

We continue to develop our retail funding arm, building on last year's performance, and are attracting further strong net inflows of retail savings, which is expected to be the pattern for 2006 as a whole.

January saw the first of Northern Rock's residential mortgage-backed security (RMBS) issues for 2006. As with previous transactions, the issue was heavily oversubscribed leading to the issue being increased to £6 billion. This deal was achieved at an all-in cost of Libor +19bps, comparable with recent deals despite substantial upsizing, reflecting the strength and liquidity of this market and the appetite for Northern Rock's paper.

The first quarter of 2006 also saw the fourth issue from Northern Rock's €10 billion Covered Bond Programme as we further develop this funding stream. The €2 billion issue (at an all-in cost of Libor + 2bps) was also oversubscribed reflecting the significant appetite for this type of investment. We expect to raise further funds through the Covered Bond Programme in 2006.

We recently completed our first Australian dollar medium term note issue totalling
A$1.2 billion, further expanding our wholesale franchise and making us a genuinely global player in the wholesale funding markets.

COSTS

Costs at Northern Rock continue to be tightly controlled. As we noted at the 2005 Preliminary Results, we expect cost growth to be at the bottom of our strategic range of 1/2 to 2/3 of asset growth in 2006, thus improving the cost: asset ratio. We expect to see the cost:income ratio improve in 2006, (reflecting positive "jaws") and so further improve our relative cost position as incremental regulatory cost growth moderates and further efficiency gains are realised.

CAPITAL

We expect to be a major beneficiary of Basle II, given the low risk nature of our lending assets, and we will be well prepared for the introduction of Basle II from January 2007. We were one of the first banks to apply at the end of 2005 to the FSA for approval to adopt the Retail Internal Ratings Based approach under the new regulations and we intend to move from the Standardised Approach for Operational Risk to the Advanced Methodology as quickly as possible.

We continue to manage capital actively and, as part of our capital management plans, we intend to complete another Whinstone transaction in 2006, further transferring residual risk in securitisation issues. We believe this further strengthens our capital position, particularly ahead of Basle II, both with our regulator and the credit rating agencies.

INCOME & PROFITS

As asset growth slows to the middle of our strategic target of 20% (+/- 5%) over the next 2-3 years, we expect to see attributable profit growth move towards and then above the mid-point of its target range of 15% (+/- 5%). This will, in part, reflect the gradual unwinding of the initial income deferral caused by IFRS. It also reflects the fact that we have repriced our retail backbooks and that our asset spreads largely reflect the general stability of front end lending margins. With Other Income expected to grow in line with the type of lending with which it is associated, all this should result in strong income growth in 2006.

This year will see further movements within the geography of the profit and loss account. Whinstone costs will be a deduction from income (in 2006 there will be a 12 month impact versus the 2 months in 2005) with the benefit primarily being lower growth in the appropriations line.

£339 million to £361 million. At this early stage, Northern Rock remains comfortable with this consensus average of £352m, growth of 14%.

Growth in EPS and DPS will continue to be consistent with growth in post-tax attributable profits.

COMMENT

Adam J Applegarth, Chief Executive, commented:

"We have started 2006 strongly, with lending performance and pipeline ahead of the good numbers of the comparable period last year, and entirely in keeping with our expectation of being in the top half of the asset growth target range."

"Credit quality remains robust, with arrears well below industry averages, demonstrating the ongoing high quality of our lending."

"Based on the enduring strengths of our business model, we are comfortable that we are again set to deliver against all our strategic targets in 2006."

Further, more detailed, information on Northern Rock's 2006 trading performance will be produced at the Interim Results announcement on Wednesday, 26 July 2006.

NORTHERN ROCK PLC

FIRST RMBS ISSUE 2006

Northern Rock plc priced its latest residential mortgage backed securitisation ("RMBS") issue out of Granite Master Issuer plc on 18 January 2006 and expects to close the transaction today. This transaction represents the Company's eighteenth residential mortgage-backed securitisation (the fifth from Granite Master Issuer plc) and, at £6 billion sterling equivalent, is the Company's largest deal to date. The transaction was initially marketed at a size of £4 billion but following exceptional investor interest and heavy over subscription levels, the deal was upsized to £6 billion and still priced at the tightest end of price guidance.

The notes were heavily over-subscribed with low margins achieved across all ratings and maturities. The weighted average margin on the transaction at launch was 10.72bps for a weighted average life of 3.98 years with overall pricing being at around the same levels as the public deals in 2005 despite the transaction size which was one third greater than the previous highest issue.

The lead managers on the transaction are Barclays Capital, Deutsche Bank and Merrill Lynch.

NORTHERN ROCK

Post-Stabilisation Notice

Citigroup Global Markets Limited (contact: Syndicate Desk; telephone: 020 7986 9000) hereby gives notice that no stabilisation (within the meaning of the rules of the Financial Services Authority) (See Note 1) was undertaken by the Stabilising Manager(s) (See Note 2) named below in relation to the offer of the following securities.

Issuer:	NORTHERN ROCK
Aggregate nominal amount:	EUR€500,000,000
Description:	Covered Bonds Notes due March 2013
Stabilising Manager (s)	Citigroup Global Markets Limited
	ABN AMRO Bank N.V., Hypovereinsbank AG.
Stabilisation started:	March 22nd 2006
Stabilisation last occurred:	March 22nd 2006

Notes

1 The notice refers to FSA rules rather than the Regulation as some stabilisation may occur before application is made for admission to the regulated market.

2 The Co-ordinating Stabilising Manager is likely to prefer to restrict the information on stabilisation to that given to it by the Stabilising Managers.

<Although stabilisation offers were made, no stabilisation transactions were carried out> (See Note 3)

<For each of the dates during which stabilisation transactions were carried out, the price range (See Note 4) was as follows (See Note 5)>

22/3/06	99.285	99.37

Notes

3 The definition of stabilisation includes both purchases and offers to purchase. Therefore, it is possible that stabilisation occurs but no stabilisation transactions are carried out.

4 The prices stated should be absolute prices e.g. expressed as a percentage of nominal value.

5 The references in article 9(3)(d) to stabilisation transactions suggests that the announcement need only include information with respect to transactions actually carried out. Additional information may be necessary if the stabilising managers undertook stabilisation transactions in any associated instruments.

The Programme provides that Covered Bonds may be listed and/or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on such other or further stock exchanges or markets as may be agreed between the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee (as defined below), the Security Trustee (as defined below) and the relevant Dealer(s). The Issuer may also issue Covered Bonds which are not to be listed and/or admitted to trading on any market. The relevant Final Terms in respect of the issue of any Covered Bonds will specify whether or not such Covered Bonds will be admitted to the Official List and to trading on the London Stock Exchange's Gilt-Edged and Fixed Rate Interest Market (or any other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system, if applicable).

An investment in Covered Bonds issued under the Programme involves certain risks. See Risk Factors for a discussion of certain factors to be considered in connection with an investment in the Covered Bonds.

The Covered Bonds and the Covered Bond Guarantee (as defined below) have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act), and may not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the benefit of, U.S. persons unless such securities are registered under the Securities Act or pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. See Form of the Covered Bonds for a description of the manner in which Covered Bonds will be issued. Registered Covered Bonds are subject to certain restrictions on transfer, see Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions.

The Issuer and the LLP may agree with any Dealer and the Bond Trustee that Covered Bonds may be issued in a form not contemplated by the Terms and Conditions of the Covered Bonds herein, in which event (in the case of Covered Bonds admitted to the Official List only) a supplementary prospectus, if appropriate, will be made available which will describe the effect of the agreement reached in relation to such Covered Bonds.

The Covered Bonds issued under the Programme are expected on issue to be assigned an "AAA" rating by Standard & Poor's Rating Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc., an "AAA" rating by Fitch Ratings Ltd. and an "Aaa" rating by Moody's Investors Service Limited. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organisation.

Structure Overview

- Programme: Under the terms of the Programme, the Issuer will issue Covered Bonds to Covered Bondholders on each Issue Date. The Covered Bonds will be direct, unsecured and unconditional obligations of the Issuer.
- Intercompany Loan Agreement: Under the terms of the Intercompany Loan Agreement, the Issuer will make Term Advances to the LLP in an amount equal to the gross proceeds of each Series or, as applicable, Tranche of Covered Bonds. Payments by the Issuer of amounts due under the Covered Bonds are not conditional upon receipt by the Issuer of payments from the LLP pursuant to the Intercompany Loan Agreement. Amounts owed by the LLP under the Intercompany Loan Agreement will be subordinated to amounts owed by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee.
- Covered Bond Guarantee: Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the LLP has provided a guarantee as to payments of interest and principal under the Covered Bonds. The LLP has agreed to pay an amount equal to the Guaranteed Amounts when the same shall become Due for Payment but which would otherwise be unpaid by the Issuer. The obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee constitute direct and (following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, the service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer and the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP or, if earlier, the service on the Issuer and the LLP of an LLP Acceleration Notice) unconditional obligations of the LLP, secured as provided in the Deed of Charge. The recourse of the Covered Bondholders to the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee will be limited to the assets of the LLP from time to time.
- The proceeds of Term Advances: The LLP will use the proceeds of the Term Advances received under the Intercompany Loan Agreement from time to time (if not denominated in Sterling, after swapping the same into Sterling under the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement) (i) to purchase the Initial Portfolio and each New Portfolio, consisting of Mortgage Loans and their Related Security, from the Seller in accordance with the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement and/or (ii) to invest in Substitution Assets in an amount not exceeding the prescribed limit and/or (iii) (subject to complying with the Asset Coverage Test (as defined below)) to make a Capital Distribution to a Member and/or (iv) if an existing Series, or part of an existing Series, of Covered Bonds is being refinanced (by the issue of a further Series or Tranche of Covered Bonds), to repay the Term Advance(s) corresponding to the Covered Bonds being so refinanced and/or (v) to make a deposit in the GIC Account. To protect the value of the Portfolio under the terms of the LLP Deed, the LLP and the Members (other than the Liquidation Member) will be obliged to ensure that the Asset Coverage Test (as described below) will be satisfied on each Calculation Date.
- Consideration: Under the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement, the consideration payable to the Seller for the sale of Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP on any Transfer Date will be a combination of (i) a cash payment paid by the LLP to the Seller and/or (ii) the Seller being treated as having made a Capital Contribution to the LLP (in an amount up to the difference between the Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans sold by the Seller as at the relevant Transfer Date and the cash payment (if any) paid by the LLP) and (iii) Deferred Consideration.
- Security: To secure its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee and the Transaction Documents to which it is a party, the LLP has granted security over the Charged Property (which consists principally of the LLP's interest in the Portfolio, the Substitution Assets, the Transaction Documents to which it is a party, the LLP Accounts and the Authorised Investments) in favour of the Security Trustee (for itself and on behalf of the other Secured Creditors) pursuant to the Deed of Charge.
- Cashflows: Prior to service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee the LLP will:
    - apply Available Revenue Receipts to pay interest due on the Term Advances (the proceeds of which the Issuer may apply to pay interest due on the Covered Bonds) and to pay Deferred Consideration to the Seller in respect of the Mortgage Loans sold by the Seller to the LLP. However, these payments will only be made after payment of certain items ranking higher in the Pre-Acceleration Revenue Priority of Payments (including certain expenses and amounts due to the Interest Rate Swap Provider). For further details of the Pre-Acceleration Revenue Priority of Payments, see Cashflows below; and

- apply Available Principal Receipts towards making Capital Distributions to the Members but only after, inter alia, acquiring New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security offered by the Seller to the LLP. For further details of the Pre-Acceleration Principal Priority of Payments, see Cashflows below.

  Following service on the LLP of a Notice to Pay (but prior to an LLP Event of Default and service of an LLP Acceleration Notice on the LLP) the LLP will use all monies (other than Third Party Amounts) to pay Guaranteed Amounts in respect of the Covered Bonds when the same shall become Due for Payment subject to paying certain higher ranking obligations of the LLP in the Guarantee Priority of Payments. In such circumstances, the Seller (as a Member of the LLP) will only be entitled to receive any remaining income of the LLP after all amounts due under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of the Covered Bonds have been paid in full or have otherwise been provided for.

  Following the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default and service of an LLP Acceleration Notice on the LLP, the Covered Bonds will become immediately due and repayable (if not already due and payable following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default) and the Bond Trustee will then have a claim against the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee for an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount in respect of each Covered Bond together with accrued interest and any other amounts due under the Covered Bonds other than additional amounts payable by the Issuer under Condition 7 and the security created by the LLP over the Charged Property will become enforceable. Any moneys recovered by the Security Trustee from realisation of the Charged Property following enforcement of the Security created by the LLP in accordance with the Deed of Charge will be distributed according to the Post-Enforcement Priority of Payments.

- Asset Coverage: The Programme provides that the assets of the LLP are subject to an asset coverage test in respect of the Covered Bonds. Accordingly, for so long as Covered Bonds remain outstanding, the LLP and the Members (other than the Liquidation Member) must ensure that on each Calculation Date, the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount will be in an amount equal to or in excess of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds from time to time. The Asset Coverage Test will be tested by the Cash Manager on each Calculation Date. A breach of the Asset Coverage Test will constitute an Issuer Event of Default to the extent that the same has not been cured on or before the next Calculation Date, which will entitle the Bond Trustee to serve an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer and, upon the service of such notice, the Bond Trustee shall serve a Notice to Pay on the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

- Amortisation Test: In addition, following service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP (but prior to service of an LLP Acceleration Notice) and, for so long as Covered Bonds remain outstanding, the LLP and the Members (other than the Liquidation Member) must ensure that on each Calculation Date following an Issuer Event of Default, the Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount will be in an amount at least equal to the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds from time to time. The Amortisation Test will be tested by the Cash Manager on each Calculation Date following an Issuer Event of Default. A breach of the Amortisation Test will constitute an LLP Event of Default, which will entitle the Bond Trustee to declare the Covered Bonds immediately due and repayable and entitle the Security Trustee to enforce the Security over the Charged Property.

- Extendable obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee: An Extended Due for Payment Date may be specified as applying in relation to a Series of Covered Bonds in the applicable Final Terms. This means that if the Issuer fails to pay the Final Redemption Amount of the relevant series of Covered Bonds on the Final Maturity Date (subject to applicable grace periods) and if the Guaranteed Amounts equal to the Final Redemption Amount of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds are not paid in full by the Extension Determination Date (for example because, following the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, the LLP has insufficient moneys available in accordance with the Guarantee Priority of Payments to pay in full the Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the Final Redemption Amount of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds) then payment of the unpaid amount pursuant to the Covered Bond Guarantee shall be automatically deferred and shall be due and payable one year later on the Extended Due for Payment Date (subject to any applicable grace period). The LLP will pay the Guaranteed Amounts constituting Scheduled Interest on each Original Due for Payment Date and on the Extended Due for Payment Date.

- Servicing: In its capacity as Servicer, Northern Rock has entered into the Servicing Agreement with the LLP and the Security Trustee, pursuant to which the Servicer has agreed to provide administrative services in respect of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold by the Seller to the LLP.
- Further Information: For a more detailed description of the transactions summarised above relating to the Covered Bonds see, amongst other relevant sections of this Prospectus, Summary of the Programme, Terms and Conditions of the Covered Bonds, Summary of the Principal Documents, Credit structure, Cashflows and The Portfolio, below.

Specified Currency: Subject to any applicable legal or regulatory restrictions, such currency or currencies as may be agreed from time to time by the Issuer, the relevant Dealer(s), the Principal Paying Agent and the Bond Trustee.

Redenomination: The applicable Final Terms may provide that certain Covered Bonds may be redenominated in euro. If so, the redenomination provisions will be set out in the applicable Final Terms.

Maturities: Such maturities as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) and as indicated in the applicable Final Terms, subject to such minimum or maximum maturities as may be allowed or required from time to time by the relevant central bank (or equivalent body) or any laws or regulations applicable to the Issuer or the relevant Specified Currency.

Issue Price: Covered Bonds may be issued at par or at a premium or discount to par on a fully-paid basis.

Form of Covered Bonds: The Covered Bonds will be issued in bearer or registered form as described in Form of the Covered Bonds. Registered Covered Bonds will not be exchangeable for Bearer Covered Bonds and vice versa.

Fixed Rate Covered Bonds: Fixed interest will be payable on such date or dates as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) and on redemption and will be calculated on the basis of such Day Count Fraction as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) (as set out in the applicable Final Terms).

Floating Rate Covered Bonds: Floating Rate Covered Bonds will bear interest at a rate determined:

(i) on the same basis as the floating rate under a notional interest rate swap transaction in the relevant Specified Currency governed by an agreement incorporating the ISDA Definitions; or

(ii) on the basis of a reference rate appearing on the agreed screen page of a commercial quotation service; or

(iii) on such other basis as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s), as set out in the applicable Final Terms.

The Margin (if any) relating to such floating rate will be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) for each issue of Floating Rate Covered Bonds.

Index Linked Covered Bonds: Payments of principal in respect of Index Linked Redemption Covered Bonds or of interest in respect of Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds will be calculated by reference to such index and/or formula or to changes in the prices of securities or commodities or to such other factors as the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) may agree (as set out in the applicable Final Terms).

Other provisions in relation to Floating Rate Covered Bonds and Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds: Floating Rate Covered Bonds and Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds may also have a maximum interest rate, a minimum interest rate or both (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms). Interest on Floating Rate Covered Bonds and Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds in respect of each Interest Period, as agreed prior to issue by the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s), will be payable on such Interest Payment Dates, and will be calculated on the basis of such Day Count Fraction, as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s).

Dual Currency Covered Bonds: Payments (whether in respect of principal or interest and whether at maturity or otherwise) in respect of Dual Currency Covered Bonds will be made in such currencies, and based on such rates of exchange, as the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) may agree (as set out in the applicable Final Terms).

Zero Coupon Covered Bonds: Zero Coupon Covered Bonds may be offered and sold at a discount to their nominal amount unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Redemption: The applicable Final Terms relating to each Tranche of Covered Bonds will indicate either that the relevant Covered Bonds of such Tranche cannot be redeemed prior to their stated maturity (other than in specified instalments, if applicable, or for taxation reasons or if it becomes unlawful for any Term Advance to remain outstanding or following an Issuer Event of Default or an LLP Event of Default) or that such Covered Bonds will be redeemable at the option of the Issuer upon giving notice to the Covered Bondholders, on a date or dates specified prior to such stated maturity and at a price or prices and on such other terms as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) (as set out in the applicable Final Terms).

The applicable Final Terms may provide that Covered Bonds may be redeemable in two or more instalments of such amounts and on such dates as are indicated in the applicable Final Terms.

Extendable obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee: The applicable Final Terms may also provide that the LLP's obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee to pay the Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the Final Redemption Amount of the applicable Series of Covered Bonds on their Final Maturity Date may be deferred until the Extended Due for Payment Date. In such case, such deferral will occur automatically if the Issuer fails to pay the Final Redemption Amount of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds on their Final Maturity Date (subject to applicable grace periods) and if the Guaranteed Amounts equal to the Final Redemption Amount in respect of such Series of Covered Bonds are not paid in full by the Extension Determination Date (for example, because the LLP has insufficient moneys to pay in full the Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the Final Redemption Amount in respect of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds after payment of higher ranking amounts and taking into account amounts ranking pari passu in the Guarantee Priority of Payments). To the extent that the LLP has received a Notice to Pay in sufficient time and has sufficient moneys to pay in part the Final Redemption Amount, such partial payment shall be made as described in Condition 6(a). Interest will continue to accrue and be payable on the unpaid amount up to the Extended Due for Payment Date in accordance with Condition 4 and the LLP will make payments of Guaranteed Amounts constituting Scheduled Interest on each relevant Due for Payment Date and Extended Due for Payment Date.

Denomination of Covered Bonds:	Covered Bonds will be issued in such denominations as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) and as indicated in the applicable Final Terms save that the minimum denomination of each Covered Bond will be such amount as may be allowed or required from time to time by the relevant regulatory authority or any laws or regulations applicable to the relevant Specified Currency and save that the minimum denomination of each Covered Bond admitted to trading on a regulated market within the European Economic Area or offered to the public in a Member State of the European Economic Area in circumstances which require the publication of a prospectus under the Prospectus Directive will be €1000 (or, if the Covered Bonds are denominated in a currency other than the euro, the equivalent amount in such a currency at the time of issue). Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Final Terms, the minimum denomination of each Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bond will be U.S.$500,000 or its approximate equivalent in other Specified Currencies and the minimum denomination of each Definitive Rule 144A Covered Bond will be U.S.$100,000 or its approximate equivalent in other Specified Currencies.
Taxation:	All payments in respect of the Covered Bonds will be made without deduction or withholding for or on account of United Kingdom taxes, subject as provided in Condition 7. If any such deduction or withholding is made the Issuer will, save as provided in Condition 7, be required to pay additional amounts in respect of the amounts so deducted or withheld. Under the Covered Bond Guarantee, the LLP will not be liable to pay any such additional amounts payable by the Issuer under Condition 7.
Cross Default:	Each Series of Covered Bonds will cross accelerate as against the LLP at the same time.
Status of the Covered Bonds:	The Covered Bonds will constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and will rank pari passu without any preference among themselves and (save for any applicable statutory provisions) at least equally with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, from time to time outstanding.

Covered Bond Guarantee:	Payment of Guaranteed Amounts in respect of the Covered Bonds when Due for Payment will be irrevocably guaranteed by the LLP. The obligations of the LLP to make payment in respect of the Guaranteed Amounts when Due for Payment are subject to the condition that an Issuer Event of Default occurs, an Issuer Acceleration Notice is served on the Issuer and a Notice to Pay is served on the LLP. The obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee will accelerate against the LLP upon the service of an LLP Acceleration Notice. The obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee constitute direct obligations of the LLP secured against the assets from time to time of the LLP and recourse against the LLP is limited to such assets.
Listing and Admission to trading:	Application has been made to the UK Listing Authority for Covered Bonds issued under the Programme during the period of 12 months from the date of this Prospectus to be admitted to the Official List and to the London Stock Exchange for such Covered Bonds to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's Gilt-Edged and Fixed Interest Market. Covered Bonds may be listed and/or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on such other or further stock exchange(s) or markets, as may be agreed between the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee and the relevant Dealer(s) in relation to each issue. Covered Bonds which are neither listed nor admitted to trading on any market may also be issued. The Final Terms relating to each Tranche of the Covered Bonds will state whether or not the relevant Covered Bonds are to be listed and/or admitted to trading and, if so, on which stock exchanges and markets.
Governing Law:	The Covered Bonds will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law.
Selling Restrictions:	There are restrictions on the offer, sale and transfer of any Tranche of Covered Bonds in the United States, the European Economic Area (including, the United Kingdom, the Republic of Italy and Germany) and Japan. Other restrictions may apply in connection with the offering and sale of a particular Tranche of Covered Bonds. See Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions.
Risk Factors	A description of certain factors that may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under Covered Bonds issued under the Programme is set out under Risk Factors below and includes exposure to credit risk and market risk. In addition, there are certain factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with Covered Bonds issued under the Programme, see Risk Factors.

Risk Factors

This section describes the principal risk factors associated with an investment in the Covered Bonds. Prospective purchasers of Covered Bonds should consider carefully all the information contained in this document, including the considerations set out below, before making any investment decision. This section of the Prospectus is divided into three main sections – General Risk Factors, Risk Factors relating to the Issuer and Risk Factors relating to the LLP.

GENERAL RISK FACTORS

Issuer liable to make payments when due on the Covered Bonds

The Issuer is liable to make payments when due on the Covered Bonds. The obligations of the Issuer under the Covered Bonds are direct, unsecured, unconditional and unsubordinated obligations, ranking pari passu without any preference amongst themselves and equally with its other direct, unsecured, unconditional and unsubordinated obligations.

The LLP has no obligation to pay the Guaranteed Amounts payable under the Covered Bond Guarantee until the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, service by the Bond Trustee on the Issuer of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and on the LLP of a Notice to Pay or, if earlier, following the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default, service by the Bond Trustee of an LLP Acceleration Notice. The occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default does not constitute an LLP Event of Default. However, failure by the LLP to pay amounts when Due for Payment under the Covered Bond Guarantee would constitute an LLP Event of Default which would entitle the Bond Trustee to accelerate the obligations of the Issuer under the Covered Bonds (if they have not already become due and payable) and the obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee and the Security Trustee to enforce the Security.

Obligations under the Covered Bonds

The Covered Bonds will not represent an obligation or be the responsibility of any of the Dealers, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or any other party to the Programme, their officers, members, directors, employees, security holders or incorporators, other than the Issuer and the LLP. The Issuer and the LLP will be liable solely in their corporate capacity for their obligations in respect of the Covered Bonds and such obligations will not be the obligations of their respective officers, members, directors, employees, security holders or incorporators.

Covered Bonds issued under the Programme

Save in respect of the first issue of Covered Bonds, Covered Bonds issued under the Programme will either be fungible with an existing Series of Covered Bonds or have different terms to an existing Series of Covered Bonds (in which case they will constitute a new Series). All Covered Bonds issued from time to time will rank pari passu with each other in all respects and will share in the security granted by the LLP under the Deed of Charge. If an Issuer Event of Default occurs in respect of a particular Series of Covered Bonds, the Covered Bonds of all Series outstanding will accelerate at the same time against the Issuer (following service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice) but will be subject to, and have the benefit of, payments made by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee (following service of a Notice to Pay). If an LLP Event of Default occurs, following service of an LLP Acceleration Notice the Covered Bonds of all Series outstanding will accelerate against the Issuer (if not already accelerated following an Issuer Event of Default) and the obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee will accelerate. In order to ensure that any further issue of Covered Bonds under the Programme does not adversely affect existing Covered Bondholders:

- the Issuer will be obliged to apply the proceeds of any issue of Covered Bonds to make a Term Advance to the LLP. The LLP will use the proceeds of such Term Advance (after swapping the same into Sterling if necessary) (i) to acquire Mortgage Loans and their Related Security from the Seller and/or (ii) to acquire Substitution Assets up to the prescribed limit, and/or (iii) (subject to complying with the Asset Coverage Test (as defined below)) to make a Capital Distribution to a Member; and/or (iv) if an existing Series, or part of an existing Series, of Covered Bonds is being refinanced by such issue of Covered Bonds, to repay the Term Advance(s) corresponding to the Covered Bonds being so refinanced and/or (v) to make a deposit in the GIC Account; and

- the Asset Coverage Test will be required to be met both before and immediately after any further issue of Covered Bonds; and
- on or prior to the date of issue of any further Covered Bonds, the Issuer will be obliged to obtain written confirmation from the Rating Agencies (addressed to the Issuer, the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee) that such further issue would not adversely affect the then current ratings of the existing Covered Bonds.

Security Trustee's powers may affect the interests of the Covered Bondholders

In the exercise of its powers, trusts, authorities and discretions (other than in relation to any enforcement action, when the Security Trustee shall only have regard to the interests of the Covered Bondholders), the Deed of Charge requires the Security Trustee to consider the interests of each of the Secured Creditors (other than the Seller). In the event that with respect to the exercise of any of its powers, trusts, authorities or discretions (other than as aforesaid) the Security Trustee determines in its absolute discretion that any of the Secured Creditors (other than the Seller) would be materially prejudiced thereby, or any such Secured Creditor (other than the Covered Bondholders) (acting reasonably) informs the Security Trustee in writing that it would be materially prejudiced thereby, the Security Trustee shall only exercise the same with the written consent of such Secured Creditor(s) and provided that the Security Trustee is satisfied that such exercise will not be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Covered Bondholders. In the exercise of its powers, trusts, authorities and discretions (other than as aforesaid), the Security Trustee may not act on behalf of the Seller.

If, in connection with the exercise of its powers, trusts, authorities or discretions, the Security Trustee is of the opinion that the interests of the holders of the Covered Bonds of any one or more Series would be materially prejudiced thereby, the Security Trustee shall not exercise such power, trust, authority or discretion without the approval of such Covered Bondholders by Extraordinary Resolution or by a written resolution of such Covered Bondholders of at least a clear majority of the Principal Amount Outstanding of Covered Bonds of the relevant Series then outstanding.

Extendable obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee

Following the failure by the Issuer to pay the Final Redemption Amount of a Series of Covered Bonds on their Final Maturity Date (subject to applicable grace periods) and if following the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP (by no later than the date which falls one Business Day prior to the Extension Determination Date), payment of the Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the Final Redemption Amount in respect of such Series of the Covered Bonds are not paid in full, then the payment of such Guaranteed Amounts may be automatically deferred. This will occur (subject to no LLP Event of Default having occurred) if the Final Terms for a relevant Series of Covered Bonds (the relevant Series of Covered Bonds) provides that such Covered Bonds are subject to an Extended Due for Payment Date.

To the extent that the LLP has received a Notice to Pay in sufficient time and has sufficient moneys available to pay in part the Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the relevant Final Redemption Amount in respect of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds, the LLP shall make such partial payment in accordance with the Guarantee Priority of Payments and as described in Condition 6(a). Payment of the unpaid amount shall be deferred automatically until the applicable Extended Due for Payment Date. The Extended Due for Payment Date will fall one year after the Final Maturity Date. Interest will continue to accrue and be payable on the unpaid amount in accordance with Condition 4 and the LLP will pay Guaranteed Amounts constituting Scheduled Interest on each Original Due for Payment Date and the Extended Due for Payment Date. In these circumstances, except where the LLP has failed to apply money in accordance with the Guarantee Priority of Payments, failure by the LLP to make payment in respect of the Final Redemption Amount on the Final Maturity Date (or such later date within any applicable grace period) shall not constitute an LLP Event of Default. However, failure by the LLP to pay Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the Final Redemption Amount or the balance thereof, as the case may be, on the Extended Due for Payment Date and/or pay Guaranteed Amounts constituting Scheduled Interest on any Original Due for Payment Date or the Extended Due for Payment Date will (subject to any applicable grace period) be an LLP Event of Default.

Absence of secondary market

There is not, at present, an active and liquid secondary market for the Covered Bonds, and there can be no assurance that a secondary market for the Covered Bonds will develop. The Covered Bonds have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act or any other applicable securities laws and are subject to certain restrictions on the resale and other transfer thereof as set forth under Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions. If a secondary market does develop, it may not continue for the life of the Covered Bonds or it may not provide Covered Bondholders with liquidity of investment with the result that a Covered Bondholder may not be able to find a buyer to buy its Covered Bonds readily or at prices that will enable the Covered Bondholder to realise a desired yield.

Ratings of the Covered Bonds

The ratings assigned to the Covered Bonds address:

- the likelihood of full and timely payment to Covered Bondholders of all payments of interest on each Interest Payment Date; and
- the likelihood of ultimate payment of principal in relation to Covered Bonds on (i) the Final Maturity Date thereof or (ii) if the Covered Bonds are subject to an Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Covered Bond Guarantee in accordance with the applicable Final Terms, on the Extended Due for Payment Date thereof.

The expected ratings of the Covered Bonds are set out in the relevant Final Terms for each Series of Covered Bonds. Any Rating Agency may lower its rating or withdraw its rating if, in the sole judgement of the Rating Agency, the credit quality of the Covered Bonds has declined or is in question. If any rating assigned to the Covered Bonds is lowered or withdrawn, the market value of the Covered Bonds may be reduced. A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time.

The Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee may agree to modifications to the Transaction Documents without, respectively, the Covered Bondholders' or Secured Creditors' prior consent

Pursuant to the terms of the Trust Deed and the Deed of Charge, the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee may, without the consent or sanction of any of the Covered Bondholders or any of the other Secured Creditors, concur with any person in making or sanctioning any modifications to the Transaction Documents:

- provided that (i) the Bond Trustee is of the opinion that such modification will not be materially prejudicial to the interest of any of the Covered Bondholders, (ii) the Security Trustee is of the opinion that such modification is not materially prejudicial to the interests of any of the Secured Creditors (other than the Seller) (in which respect the Security Trustee may (without further enquiry) rely upon the consent in writing of any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) as to the absence of material prejudice to the interests of such Secured Creditor) or, if it is not of that opinion in relation to any such Secured Creditor or any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) acting reasonably has informed the Security Trustee in writing that such modification will be materially prejudicial to its interests, such Secured Creditor has given its written consent to such modification and (iii) the Security Trustee has not been informed in writing by any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) acting reasonably that such Secured Creditor will be materially prejudiced thereby (other than a Secured Creditor who has given its written consent as aforesaid); or
- which in the opinion of the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee are made to correct a manifest error or an error established as such to the satisfaction of the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee or of a formal, minor or technical nature or are made to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

Certain decisions of Covered Bondholders taken at Programme level

Any Extraordinary Resolution to direct the Bond Trustee to serve an Issuer Acceleration Notice and a Notice to Pay following an Issuer Event of Default, to direct the Bond Trustee to serve an LLP Acceleration Notice following an LLP Event of Default and any direction to the Bond Trustee or Security Trustee to take any enforcement action must be passed at a single meeting of the holders of all Covered Bonds of all Series then outstanding.

European Monetary Union

If the United Kingdom joins the European Monetary Union prior to the maturity of the Covered Bonds, there is no assurance that this would not adversely affect the realisable value of the Portfolio or any part thereof or pending such realisation (or if the Portfolio or any part thereof cannot be sold), the ability of the LLP to make payments of interest and principal on the Covered Bonds.

It is possible that prior to the maturity of the Covered Bonds the United Kingdom may become a participating member state in the European Monetary Union and that the euro may become the lawful currency of the United Kingdom. In that event, (a) all amounts payable in respect of any Covered Bonds denominated in pounds Sterling may become payable in euro; (b) the law may allow or require the Covered Bonds to be re-denominated into euro and additional measures to be taken in respect of such Covered Bonds; and (c) there may no longer be available published or displayed rates for deposits in pounds Sterling used to determine the rates of interest on such Covered Bonds or changes in the way those rates are calculated, quoted and published or displayed. The introduction of the euro could also be accompanied by a volatile interest rate environment which could adversely affect a Borrower's ability to repay its Mortgage Loan as well as adversely affect investors. It cannot be said with certainty what effect, if any, adoption of the euro by the United Kingdom will have on investors in the Covered Bonds.

Changes of law

The structure of the issue of the Covered Bonds and the ratings which are to be assigned to them are based on English law and, in relation to the Scottish Mortgage Loans, Scots law in effect as at the date of this Prospectus. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible change to English law or Scots law or administrative practice in the United Kingdom after the date of this Prospectus.

Insolvency Act 2000

Significant changes to the United Kingdom insolvency regime have recently been enacted, including the Insolvency Act 2000. The Insolvency Act 2000 allows certain "small" companies to seek protection from their creditors for a period of 28 days for the purposes of putting together a company voluntary arrangement with the option for creditors to extend the moratorium for a further two months. The moratorium provisions of the Insolvency Act 2000 do not expressly state that they apply to limited liability partnerships (such as the LLP). However, as these provisions were introduced by making amendments to the existing insolvency legislation (which does apply to limited liability partnerships), the provisions will apply to the LLP as if it were a company.

A "small" company is defined as one which satisfies two or more of the following criteria: (i) its turnover is not more than £5.6 million, (ii) its balance sheet total is not more than £2.8 million and (iii) the number of employees is not more than 50. The position as to whether or not a company is a "small" company may change from time to time and consequently no assurance can be given that the LLP will not, at any given time, be determined to be a "small" company. The United Kingdom Secretary of State for Trade and Industry may by regulation modify the eligibility requirements for "small" companies and can make different provisions for different cases. No assurance can be given that any such modification or different provisions will not be detrimental to the interests of Covered Bondholders.

Secondary legislation has now been enacted which excludes certain special purpose companies in relation to capital markets transactions from the optional moratorium provisions. Such exceptions include (a) a company which, at the time of filing for a moratorium, is a party to an agreement which is or forms part of a "capital market arrangement" (as defined in the secondary legislation) under which a party has incurred, or when the agreement was entered into was expected to incur, a debt of at least £10 million and which involves the issue of a "capital market investment" (also defined but generally a rated, listed or traded bond) and (b) a company which, at the time of filing for a moratorium, has incurred a liability (including a present, future or contingent liability and a liability payable wholly or partly in a foreign currency) of at least £10 million. While the LLP is expected to fall within one of the exceptions there is no guidance as to how the legislation will be interpreted and the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry may by regulation modify the exceptions. No assurance can be given that any modification of the exceptions will not be detrimental to the interests of Covered Bondholders. Correspondingly, if the LLP is determined to be a "small" company and determined not to fall within one of the exceptions, then certain actions in respect of the LLP may, for a period, be prohibited by the imposition of a moratorium.

Enterprise Act 2002

On 15th September, 2003, the corporate insolvency provisions of the Enterprise Act 2002 came into force, amending certain provisions of the Insolvency Act. These provisions introduced significant reforms to corporate insolvency law. In particular, the reforms restrict the right of the holder of a floating charge to appoint an administrative receiver (unless an exception applies) and instead give primacy to collective insolvency procedures (in particular, administration). Previously, the holder of a floating charge over the whole or substantially the whole of the assets of a company had the ability to block the appointment of an administrator by appointing an administrative receiver, who would act primarily in the interests of the floating charge holder.

The provisions of the Insolvency Act were applied to limited liability partnerships by the Limited Liability Partnerships (LLP) Act 2000 but subject to the amendments set out in the Limited Liability Partnership Regulations 2001. As the corporate insolvency provisions of the Enterprise Act 2002 take effect by amending the Insolvency Act, many of the changes which were effected by the Enterprise Act 2002 (including the restrictions on the appointment of an administrative receiver) will also apply to the LLP. However, pursuant to paragraph 3(3) of the Enterprise Act 2002 (Commencement No. 4 and Transitional Provisions and Savings) Order 2003, the former administration provisions in Part II of the Insolvency Act continue to apply to limited liability partnerships and the new administration provisions referred to below do not yet have effect in relation to the LLP. The DTI has indicated, in response to oral enquiries, that it intends to extend the new administration provisions, with suitable modifications, to limited liability partnerships although no time period has yet been given in this regard.

The Insolvency Act contains provisions which continue to allow for the appointment of an administrative receiver in relation to certain transactions in the capital markets. These provisions apply to the LLP as if it were a company. The relevant exception provides that the right to appoint an administrative receiver is retained for certain types of security (such as the Security) which form part of a capital market arrangement (as defined in the Insolvency Act), which would include the issue of covered bonds, and which involves indebtedness of at least £50,000,000 (or, when the relevant security document (being in respect of the transactions described in this Prospectus, the Deed of Charge) was entered into, a party to the relevant transaction (such as the Issuer) was expected to incur a debt of at least £50,000,000) and the issue of a capital market investment (also defined but generally a rated, listed or traded bond). The Secretary of State may, by secondary legislation, modify the capital market exception and/or provide that the exception shall cease to have effect. No assurance can be given that any such modification or provision in respect of the capital market exception, or its ceasing to be applicable to the transactions described in this Prospectus, will not be detrimental to the interests of the Covered Bondholders.

The Insolvency Act also contains a new out-of-court route into administration for a qualifying floating charge-holder, the directors or the relevant company itself. These provisions do not currently apply to the LLP and changes would have to be made to the provisions (and, in particular, the use therein of the expression "director") in order for them to apply to a limited liability partnership. The relevant provisions provide for a notice period during which the holder of the floating charge can either agree to the appointment of the administrator proposed by the directors or the company or appoint an alternative administrator, although a moratorium on enforcement of the relevant security will take effect immediately after notice is given. If the qualifying floating charge-holder does not respond to the directors' or company's notice of intention to appoint, the directors' or, as the case may be, the company's appointee will automatically take office after the notice period has elapsed. Where the holder of a qualifying floating charge within the context of a capital market transaction retains the power to appoint an administrative receiver, such holder may prevent the appointment of an administrator (either by the new out-of-court route or by the court based procedure) by appointing an administrative receiver prior to the appointment of the administrator being completed.

The new administration provisions of the Insolvency Act give primary emphasis to the rescue of a company as a going concern and achieving a better result for the creditors as a whole. The purpose of realising property to make a distribution to secured creditors is secondary. As noted above, these new administration provisions do not currently apply to the LLP. If the provisions were to be applied to limited liability partnerships, no assurance could be given that the primary purposes of the new provisions would not conflict with the interests of Covered Bondholders were the LLP ever subject to administration.

In addition to the introduction of a prohibition on the appointment of an administrative receiver as set out above, section 176A of the Insolvency Act provides that any receiver (including an administrative receiver), liquidator or administrator of a company is required to make a "prescribed part" of the company's "net property" available for the satisfaction of unsecured debts in priority to the claims of the floating charge holder. These provisions apply to the LLP as if it were a company. The company's "net property" is defined as the amount of the chargor's property which would be available for satisfaction of debts due to the holder(s) of any debentures secured by a floating charge and so refers to any floating charge realisations less any amounts payable to the preferential creditors or in respect of the expenses of the liquidation or administration. The "prescribed part" is defined in the Insolvency Act 1986 (Prescribed Part) Order 2003 (SI 2003/ 2097) to be an amount equal to 50 per cent. of the first £10,000 of floating charge realisations plus 20 per cent. of the floating charge realisations thereafter, provided that such amount may not exceed £600,000.

This obligation does not apply if the net property is less than a prescribed minimum and the relevant officeholder is of the view that the cost of making a distribution to unsecured creditors would be disproportionate to the benefits. The relevant officeholder may also apply to court for an order that the provisions of section 176A of the Insolvency Act should not apply on the basis that the cost of making a distribution would be disproportionate to the benefits.

Floating charge realisations upon the enforcement of the Security may be reduced by the operation of these "ring fencing" provisions.

Exchange of the Covered Bonds following any Covered Bond legislation coming into force in the United Kingdom

The Conditions of the Covered Bonds permit the Issuer to exchange, without the consent of the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or the Covered Bondholders, any existing Covered Bonds then outstanding for new Covered Bonds following the coming into force in the United Kingdom of any legislation similar to covered bond legislation in force in any other European Union country or any rules, regulations or guidelines published by any governmental authority that provides for bonds issued by United Kingdom issuers to qualify for the same benefits available pursuant to covered bond legislation in force in any other European Union country provided that, amongst other things, each of the Rating Agencies then rating the existing Covered Bonds confirms in writing that any such new Covered Bonds will be assigned the same ratings as are then applicable to the existing Covered Bonds. Any such new Covered Bonds will qualify as covered bonds under such new legislation, rules, regulations or guidelines and will be in identical form, amounts and denominations and will be subject to the same economic terms and conditions as the existing Covered Bonds then outstanding.

EU Savings Directive

Under EC Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income, Member States are required, from 1st July, 2005, to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payments of interest (or similar income) paid by a person within its jurisdiction to an individual resident in that other Member State. However, for a transitional period, Belgium, Luxembourg and Austria are instead required (unless during that period they elect otherwise) to operate a withholding system in relation to such payments (the ending of such transitional period being dependent upon the conclusion of certain other agreements relating to information exchange with certain other countries). A number of non-EU countries and territories including Switzerland have agreed to adopt similar measures (a withholding system in the case of Switzerland) with effect from the same date.

The Issuer will be required, save as provided in Condition 11 of the Covered Bonds, to maintain a Paying Agent in a Member State that will not be obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to the Directive.

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Covered Bonds are legal investments for it, (ii) Covered Bonds can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Covered Bonds. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Covered Bonds under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

Factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with Covered Bonds issued under the Programme

The Covered Bonds may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Covered Bonds must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the relevant Covered Bonds, the merits and risks of investing in the relevant Covered Bonds and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Prospectus or any applicable supplement;
- have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the relevant Covered Bonds and the impact such investment will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Covered Bonds, including Covered Bonds with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies, or where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the currency in which such investor's financial activities are principally denominated;
- understand thoroughly the terms of the relevant Covered Bonds and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

Some Covered Bonds are complex financial instruments and such instruments may be purchased as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in Covered Bonds which are complex financial instruments unless it has the expertise (either alone or with the assistance of a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Covered Bonds will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of such Covered Bonds and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

Risks related to the structure of a particular issue of Covered Bonds

A wide range of Covered Bonds may be issued under the Programme. A number of these Covered Bonds may have features which contain particular risks for potential investors. Set out below is a description of certain such features:

Covered Bonds subject to optional redemption by the Issuer

An optional redemption feature is likely to limit the market value of Covered Bonds. During any period when the Issuer may elect to redeem Covered Bonds, the market value of such Covered Bonds generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period.

The Issuer may be expected to redeem Covered Bonds when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Covered Bonds. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Covered Bonds being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at the time.

Risks related to Index Linked Covered Bonds and Dual Currency Covered Bonds

The Issuer may issue Covered Bonds with principal or interest determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities or commodities, to movements in currency exchange rates or other factors (each, a Relevant Factor). In addition, the Issuer may issue Covered Bonds with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Covered Bonds are denominated. Potential investors should be aware that:

- the market price of such Covered Bonds may be volatile;
- they may receive interest that is less than their expectations or even no interest;
- payment of principal or interest may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;
- the amount of principal payable at redemption may be less than the nominal amount of such Covered Bonds or even zero;
- a Relevant Factor may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices;
- if a Relevant Factor is applied to Covered Bonds in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the Relevant Factor on principal or interest payable likely will be magnified; and
- the timing of changes in a Relevant Factor may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield.

Risks related to Fixed/Floating Rate Covered Bonds

Fixed/Floating Rate Covered Bonds may bear interest at a rate that the Issuer may elect to convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. The Issuer's ability to convert the interest rate will affect the secondary market and the market value of such Covered Bonds since the Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. If the Issuer converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Covered Bonds may be less favourable than the then-prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Covered Bonds tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Covered Bonds. If the Issuer converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate, the fixed rate may be lower than the then prevailing rates on its Covered Bonds.

Covered Bonds issued at a substantial discount or premium

The Issuer may issue Covered Bonds at a substantial discount or premium. The market values of securities issued at a substantial discount or premium to their nominal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the securities, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities.

RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE ISSUER

Economic Activity in the United Kingdom

The Issuer's business activities are dependent on the level of banking, finance and financial services required by its customers. In particular, levels of borrowing are heavily dependent on customer confidence, the state of the economy and market interest rates at the time. As the Issuer currently conducts the majority of its business in the United Kingdom, its performance is influenced by the level and cyclical nature of business activity in the United Kingdom, which is in turn impacted by both domestic and international economic and political events. There can be no assurance that a weakening in the United Kingdom economy will not have a material effect on the Issuer's future results.

Risk Associated with Strategic Decisions Regarding Growth and Cost Control

The Issuer's strategy relies upon the continued growth of its assets under management coupled with controlling related expenses. The strategy also involves operating as a single segment business concentrating on UK residential mortgage lending. No assurance can be given that profitability would not be impacted in the event conditions in the UK residential mortgage market deteriorated significantly or the Issuer was otherwise unable to succeed in its growth strategy or in continuing to control related expenses.

Access to Wholesale Funding and Securitisation Market

A substantial amount of the Issuer's funding depends upon access to wholesale funding sources, including accessing the institutional debt market in the United States, Europe and in Asia, as well as accessing the global securitisation market as an additional source of wholesale funding. The continued ability of the Issuer to access such funding sources on favourable economic terms is dependent on a variety of factors, including a number of factors outside of its control, including general market conditions. There can be no assurance that the Issuer will continue to be able to access such funding sources on favourable terms in the future.

International Financial Reporting Standards

The Issuer has adopted International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) for reporting periods beginning 1st January, 2005 and thereafter. These standards are, in a number of ways, different from existing generally accepted accounting principles in the UK and their implementation will have a significant effect on the presentation of the Issuer's financial statements.

RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE LLP

LLP only obliged to pay Guaranteed Amounts when the same are Due for Payment

Following service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer, a Notice to Pay will be served by the Bond Trustee on the LLP. Following service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, under the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee the LLP will be obliged to pay Guaranteed Amounts as and when the same are Due for Payment. In these circumstances the LLP will not be obliged to pay any other amounts which become payable for any other reason.

Payments by the LLP will be made subject to any applicable withholding or deduction and the LLP will not be obliged to pay any additional amounts as a consequence. Prior to service on the LLP of an LLP Acceleration Notice, the LLP will not be obliged to make any payments in respect of broken funding indemnities, penalties, premiums, default interest or interest on interest which may accrue on or in respect of the Covered Bonds. In addition, the LLP will not be obliged at any time to make any payments in respect of additional amounts which may become payable by the Issuer under Condition 7.

Subject to any grace period, if the LLP fails to make a payment when Due for Payment under the Covered Bond Guarantee or any other LLP Event of Default occurs, then the Bond Trustee may accelerate the obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee by service of an LLP Acceleration Notice, whereupon the Bond Trustee will have a claim under the Covered Bond Guarantee for an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount of each Covered Bond, together with accrued interest and all other amounts then due under the Covered Bonds (other than additional amounts payable under Condition 7), although in such circumstances the LLP will not be obliged to gross up in respect of any withholding which may be required in respect of any payment. Following service of an LLP Acceleration Notice, the Security Trustee may enforce the Security over the Charged Property. The proceeds of enforcement of the Security shall be applied by the Security Trustee in accordance with the Post-Enforcement Priority of Payments in the Deed of Charge, and Covered Bondholders will receive amounts from the LLP on an accelerated basis.

Excess Proceeds received by the Bond Trustee

Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice, the Bond Trustee may receive Excess Proceeds. The Excess Proceeds will be paid by the Bond Trustee on behalf of the Covered Bondholders of the relevant Series to the LLP for its own account, as soon as practicable, and will be held by the LLP in the GIC Account and the Excess Proceeds will thereafter form part of the Security and will be used by the LLP in the same manner as all other moneys from time to time standing to the credit of the GIC Account. Any Excess Proceeds received by the Bond Trustee will discharge pro tanto the obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Covered Bonds, Receipts and Coupons (subject to restitution of the same if such Excess Proceeds shall be required to be repaid by the LLP). However, the obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee are unconditional and irrevocable and the receipt by the Bond Trustee of any Excess Proceeds will not reduce or discharge any such obligations.

By subscribing for Covered Bond(s), each Covered Bondholder will be deemed to have irrevocably directed the Bond Trustee to pay the Excess Proceeds to the LLP in the manner as described above.

Finite resources available to the LLP to make payments due under the Covered Bond Guarantee

Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer, all amounts payable under the Covered Bonds will be accelerated by the Bond Trustee as against the Issuer following which a Notice to Pay will be served by the Bond Trustee on the LLP. The LLP's ability to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee will depend on (i) the realisable value of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security in the Portfolio, (ii) the amount of Revenue Receipts and Principal Receipts generated by the Portfolio and the timing thereof, (iii) amounts received from the Swap Providers and (iv) the receipt by it of credit balances and interest on credit balances on the GIC Account and, if applicable, the Standby GIC Account. The LLP will not have any other source of funds available to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

If an LLP Event of Default occurs and the Security created by or pursuant to the Deed of Charge is enforced, the Charged Property may not be sufficient to meet the claims of all the Secured Creditors, including the Covered Bondholders.

If, following enforcement of the Security constituted by or pursuant to the Deed of Charge, the Secured Creditors have not received the full amount due to them pursuant to the terms of the Transaction Documents, then they may still have an unsecured claim against the Issuer for the shortfall. There is no guarantee that the Issuer will have sufficient funds to pay that shortfall.

Covered Bondholders should note that the Asset Coverage Test has been structured to ensure that the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount is greater than the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds for so long as Covered Bonds remain outstanding, which should reduce the risk of there ever being a shortfall (although there is no assurance of this) (see Summary of the Principal Documents – LLP Deed – Asset Coverage Test and Credit Structure – Asset Coverage Test).

Reliance of the LLP on third parties

The LLP has entered into agreements with a number of third parties, which have agreed to perform services for the LLP. In particular, but without limitation, the Servicer has been appointed to service Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio sold to the LLP and the Cash Manager has been appointed to calculate and monitor compliance with the Asset Coverage Test and the Amortisation Test and to provide cash management services to the LLP. In the event that any of those parties fails to perform its obligations under the relevant agreement to which it is a party, the realisable value of the Portfolio or any part thereof or pending such realisation (if the Portfolio or any part thereof cannot be sold) the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee may be affected. For instance, if the Servicer has failed to adequately administer the Mortgage Loans, this may lead to higher incidences of non-payment or default by Borrowers. The LLP is also reliant on the Swap Providers to provide it with the funds matching its obligations under the Intercompany Loan Agreement and the Covered Bond Guarantee, as described in the following two risk factors.

If a Servicer Event of Default occurs pursuant to the terms of the Servicing Agreement, then the LLP and/or the Security Trustee will be entitled to terminate the appointment of the Servicer and appoint a new servicer in its place. There can be no assurance that a substitute servicer with sufficient experience of administering mortgages of residential properties would be found who would be willing and able to service the Mortgage Loans on the terms of the Servicing Agreement. In addition, as described below, any substitute servicer may be required to be authorised under the FSMA once mortgage administration becomes a regulated activity. The ability of a substitute servicer to perform fully the required services would depend, among other things, on the information, software and records available at the time of the appointment. Any delay or inability to appoint a substitute servicer may affect the realisable value of the Portfolio or any part thereof, and/or the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee. However, if the Servicer ceases to be assigned a long-term unsecured, unguaranteed and unsubordinated debt obligation rating by Moody's of at least Baa3 or by Standard & Poor's of at least BBB- or by Fitch of at least BBB- it will use reasonable efforts to enter into a master servicing agreement with a third party.

The Servicer has no obligation itself to advance payments that Borrowers fail to make in a timely fashion. Covered Bondholders will have no right to consent to or approve of any actions taken by the Servicer under the Servicing Agreement.

Neither the Security Trustee nor the Bond Trustee is obliged in any circumstances to act as a servicer or to monitor the performance by the Servicer of its obligations.

Reliance on Swap Providers

To provide a hedge against possible variances in the rates of interest payable on the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (which may, for instance, include variable rates of interest, discounted rates of interest, fixed rates of interest or rates of interest which track a base rate) and LIBOR for three month Sterling deposits, the LLP has entered into the Interest Rate Swap Agreement with the Interest Rate Swap Provider. In addition, to provide a hedge against interest rate, currency and/or other risks in respect of amounts received by the LLP under the Mortgage Loans and the Interest Rate Swaps and amounts payable by the LLP on the outstanding Term Advances or (following service on the LLP of a Notice to Pay) under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of the Covered Bonds, the LLP will enter into a Covered Bond Swap Agreement where relevant in respect of a Series of Covered Bonds with a Covered Bond Swap Provider.

If the LLP fails to make timely payments of amounts due under any Swap Agreement, then it will have defaulted under that swap. A Swap Provider is only obliged to make payments to the LLP as long as the LLP complies with its payment obligations under the relevant Swap Agreement. If the Swap Provider is not obliged to make payments or if it defaults in its obligations to make payments of amounts in the relevant currency equal to the full amount to be paid to the LLP on the payment date under the Swap Agreements, the LLP will be exposed to changes in the relevant currency exchange rates to Sterling and to any changes in the relevant rates of interest. Unless a replacement swap is entered into, the LLP may have insufficient funds to make payments under the Intercompany Loan Agreement or Covered Bond Guarantee.

If a Swap terminates, then the LLP may be obliged to make a termination payment to the relevant Swap Provider. There can be no assurance that the LLP will have sufficient funds available to make a termination payment under the relevant Swap Agreement, nor can there be any assurance that the LLP will be able to enter into a replacement swap agreement, or if one is entered into, that the credit rating of the replacement swap counterparty will be sufficiently high to prevent a downgrade of the then current ratings of the Covered Bonds by the Rating Agencies.

If the LLP is obliged to pay a termination payment under any Swap Agreement, such termination payment will rank ahead of amounts due on the Covered Bonds (in respect of the Interest Rate Swap) and pari passu with amounts due on the Covered Bonds (in respect of the Covered Bond Swaps), except where default by, or downgrade of, the relevant Swap Provider has caused the relevant Swap to terminate. The obligation to pay a termination payment may adversely affect the ability of the LLP to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

Differences in timings of obligations of the LLP and the Covered Bond Swap Provider under the Covered Bond Swaps

With respect to the Covered Bond Swaps, the LLP will pay a monthly amount, on each LLP Payment Date, to each Covered Bond Swap Provider based on LIBOR for three month Sterling deposits. Each Covered Bond Swap Provider will not be obliged to make corresponding swap payments to the LLP under a Covered Bond Swap for up to twelve months until amounts are due and payable by the LLP under the Intercompany Loan Agreement (prior to the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP) or are Due for Payment under the Covered Bond Guarantee (after the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP). If a Covered Bond Swap Provider does not meet its payment obligations to the LLP under the relevant the Covered Bond Swap and such Covered Bond Swap Provider does not make a termination payment that has become due from it to the LLP, the LLP may have a larger shortfall in funds with which to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee with respect to the Covered Bonds than if the Covered Bond Swap Provider's payment obligations coincided with LLP's payment obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee. Hence, the difference in timing between the obligations of the LLP and the Covered Bond Swap Providers under the Covered Bond Swaps may affect the LLP's ability to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee with respect to the Covered Bonds.

Limited description of the Portfolio

Covered Bondholders will not receive detailed statistics or information in relation to the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio, because it is expected that the constitution of the Portfolio will frequently change due to, for instance:

- the Seller selling Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (or New Mortgage Loan Types and their Related Security) to the LLP;
- New Sellers acceding to the Transaction and selling Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (or New Mortgage Loan Types and their Related Security) to the LLP; and
- the Seller repurchasing Mortgage Loans and their Related Security in accordance with the Mortgage Sale Agreement.

There is no assurance that the characteristics of the New Mortgage Loans assigned to the LLP on a Transfer Date will be the same as those Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio as at that Transfer Date. However, each Mortgage Loan will be required to meet the Eligibility Criteria and the Representations and Warranties set out in the Mortgage Sale Agreement – see Summary of the Principal Documents – Mortgage Sale Agreement – Sale by the Seller of Mortgage Loans and Related Security (although the Eligibility Criteria and Representations and Warranties may change in certain circumstances – see The Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee may agree to modifications to the Transaction Documents without, respectively, the Covered Bondholders' or Secured Creditors' prior consent above). In addition, the Asset Coverage Test is intended to ensure that the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount is an amount equal to or in excess of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds for so long as Covered Bonds remain outstanding and the Cash Manager will provide monthly reports that will set out certain information in relation to the Asset Coverage Test.

Scottish and Northern Irish Mortgage Loans

It should be noted that Mortgage Loans and their Related Security governed by Scots law and relating to Scottish properties will be included in the Portfolio on the First Transfer Date and may also be sold to the LLP in the future. It is also intended to add Mortgage Loans and their Related Security governed by Northern Irish law and relating to Northern Irish properties in the future. The consent of Covered Bondholders will not be obtained in relation to any changes required to the Transaction Documents in order to include Northern Irish Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio.

Fixed charges may take effect under English law as floating charges

Pursuant to the terms of the Deed of Charge, the LLP has purported to grant fixed charges over, amongst other things, its interests in the English Mortgage Loans and their Related Security, the Substitution Assets and its rights and benefits in the LLP Accounts and all Authorised Investments purchased from time to time.

The law in England and Wales relating to the characterisation of fixed charges is unsettled. The fixed charges purported to be granted by the LLP (other than by way of assignment in security) may take effect under English law as floating charges only, if, for example, it is determined that the Security Trustee does not exert sufficient control over the Charged Property for the security to be said to "fix" over those assets. If the charges take effect as floating charges instead of fixed charges, then, as a matter of law, certain claims would have priority over the claims of the Security Trustee in respect of the floating charge assets. In particular, the expenses of any winding up or administration, and the claims of any preferential creditors, would rank ahead of the claims of the Security Trustee in this regard. The Enterprise Act 2002 abolished the preferential status of certain Crown debts (including the claims of the United Kingdom tax authorities). However, certain employee claims (in respect of contributions to pension schemes and wages) still have preferential status. In this regard, it should be noted that the LLP has agreed in the Transaction Documents not to have any employees.

In addition, any administrative receiver, administrator or liquidator appointed in respect of the LLP will be required to set aside the prescribed percentage or percentages of the floating charge realisations in respect of the floating charges contained in the Deed of Charge (as described in more detail above under Changes in Law – Enterprise Act 2002).

Maintenance of Portfolio

Asset Coverage Test: Pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement, the Seller will agree to use all reasonable efforts to transfer Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP in order to ensure that the Portfolio is in compliance with the Asset Coverage Test. In consideration thereof, the Seller will receive a combination of (i) a cash payment paid by the LLP and/or (ii) being treated as having made a Capital Contribution to the LLP (in an amount up to the difference between the Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans sold by the Seller to the LLP as at the relevant Transfer Date and the cash payment (if any) paid by the LLP for such Mortgage Loans) and (iii) Deferred Consideration.

Alternatively, Northern Rock (in its capacity as Member of the LLP) may make a Cash Capital Contribution to the LLP pursuant to the LLP Deed in order to ensure that the LLP is in compliance with the Asset Coverage Test. If a breach of the Asset Coverage Test occurs which is not cured on the next Calculation Date this would constitute an Issuer Event of Default. There is no specific recourse by the LLP to the Seller in respect of the failure to sell Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP nor is there any specific recourse to Northern Rock if it does not make Cash Capital Contributions to the LLP.

Amortisation Test: Pursuant to the LLP Deed, the LLP and Northern Rock (in its capacity as a Member of the LLP) must ensure that on each Calculation Date following service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP but prior to the service of an LLP Acceleration Notice, the Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount is in an amount at least equal to the aggregate Sterling Equivalent of the Principal Amount Outstanding under the Covered Bonds. The Amortisation Test is intended to ensure that the assets of the LLP do not fall below a certain threshold to ensure that the assets of the LLP are sufficient to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

If the collateral value of the Portfolio has not been maintained in accordance with the terms of the Asset Coverage Test or the Amortisation Test, then that may affect the realisable value of the Portfolio or any part thereof (both before and after the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default) and/or the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

Prior to the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, the Asset Monitor will, subject to receipt of the relevant information from the Cash Manager, test the calculations performed by the Cash Manager in respect of the Asset Coverage Test once each year on the Calculation Date immediately prior to each anniversary of the Programme Date and more frequently in certain circumstances. Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, the Asset Monitor will be required to test the calculations performed by the Cash Manager in respect of the Amortisation Test. See further Summary of the Principal Documents – Asset Monitor Agreement.

The Security Trustee shall not be responsible for monitoring compliance with, nor the monitoring of, the Asset Coverage Test or the Amortisation Test or any other test, or supervising the performance by any other party of its obligations under any Transaction Document.

Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default

If a Notice to Pay is served on the LLP, then the LLP will be obliged to sell Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (selected on a random basis) in order to make payments to the LLP's creditors including payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee (see Summary of the Principal Documents – LLP Deed – Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security following an Issuer Event of Default).

There is no guarantee that a buyer will be found to acquire Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security at the times required and there can be no guarantee or assurance as to the price which may be able to be obtained, which may affect payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee. However, the Selected Mortgage Loans may not be sold by the LLP for less than an amount equal to the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount for the relevant Series of Covered Bonds until six months prior to the Final Maturity Date in respect of such Covered Bonds or (if the same is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms) the Extended Due for Payment Date under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of such Covered Bonds. In the six months prior to, as applicable, the Final Maturity Date or Extended Due for Payment Date, the LLP is obliged to sell the Selected Mortgage Loans for the best price reasonably available notwithstanding that such price may be less than the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount.

Realisation of Charged Property following the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default

If an LLP Event of Default occurs and an LLP Acceleration Notice is served on the LLP, then the Security Trustee will be entitled to enforce the Security created under and pursuant to the Deed of Charge and the proceeds from the realisation of the Charged Property will be applied by the Security Trustee towards payment of all secured obligations in accordance with the Post-Enforcement Priority of Payments described in Cashflows below.

There is no guarantee that the proceeds of realisation of the Charged Property will be in an amount sufficient to repay all amounts due to the Secured Creditors (including the Covered Bondholders) under the Covered Bonds and the Transaction Documents.

If an LLP Acceleration Notice is served on the LLP then the Covered Bonds may be repaid sooner or later than expected or not at all.

Factors that may affect the realisable value of the Portfolio or any part thereof or the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee

Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, the service on the Issuer of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and the service on the LLP of a Notice to Pay, the realisable value of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security comprised in the Portfolio may be reduced (which may affect the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee) by:

- no representations or warranties being given by the LLP or (unless otherwise agreed with the Seller) the Seller;
- default by Borrowers of amounts due on their Mortgage Loans;
- the Mortgage Loans of New Sellers being included in the Portfolio;
- changes to the lending criteria of the Seller;
- the LLP not having legal title to the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio;
- set-off risks in relation to some types of Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio;
- limited recourse to the Seller;
- possible regulatory changes by the Office of Fair Trading, the Financial Services Authority and other regulatory authorities;
- the impact of the Financial Services (Distance Marketing) Regulations 2004, the impact of Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1994 and 1999, the Financial Ombudsman Service, the impact of the Unfair Commercial Practices Directive 2005, the impact of the Basel Capital Requirements Directive and the impact of limited liability partnerships; and
- the impact of the Pensions Act 2004.

Each of these factors is considered in more detail below. However, it should be noted that the Asset Coverage Test, the Amortisation Test and the Eligibility Criteria are intended to ensure that there will be an adequate amount of Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio and moneys standing to the credit of the GIC Account to enable the LLP to repay the Covered Bonds following an Issuer Event of Default, service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer and service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP and accordingly it is expected (but there is no assurance) that Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security could be realised for sufficient values to enable the LLP to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

No representations or warranties to be given by the LLP or the Seller if Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security are to be sold

Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, service on the Issuer of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and service on the LLP of a Notice to Pay, the LLP will be obliged to sell Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to third party purchasers, subject to a right of pre-emption enjoyed by the Seller pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement (see Summary of the Principal Documents – LLP Deed – Method of Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security). In respect of any sale of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to third parties, however, the LLP will not be permitted to give warranties or indemnities in respect of those Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (unless expressly permitted to do so by the Security Trustee). There is no assurance that the Seller would give any warranties or representations in respect of the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security. Any Representations or Warranties previously given by the Seller in respect of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio may not have value for a third party purchaser if the Seller is then insolvent. Accordingly, there is a risk that the realisable value of the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security could be adversely affected by the lack of representations and warranties which in turn could adversely affect the ability of the LLP to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

Default by Borrowers in paying amounts due on their Mortgage Loans

Borrowers may default on their obligations due under the Mortgage Loans. Defaults may occur for a variety of reasons. The Mortgage Loans are affected by credit, liquidity and interest rate risks. Various factors influence mortgage delinquency rates, prepayment rates, repossession frequency and the ultimate payment of interest and principal, such as changes in the national or international economic climate, regional economic or housing conditions, changes in tax laws, interest rates, inflation, the availability of financing, yields on alternative investments, political developments and government policies. Other factors in Borrowers' individual, personal or financial circumstances may affect the ability of Borrowers to repay the Mortgage Loans. Loss of earnings, illness, divorce and other similar factors may lead to an increase in delinquencies by and bankruptcies of Borrowers, and could ultimately have an adverse impact on the ability of Borrowers to repay the Mortgage Loans. In addition, the ability of a Borrower to sell a property given as security for a Mortgage Loan at a price sufficient to repay the amounts outstanding under that Mortgage Loan will depend upon a number of factors, including the availability of buyers for that property, the value of that property and property values in general at the time.

The Current Balance of any Defaulted Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio will be given a reduced weighting for the purposes of any calculation of the Asset Coverage Test and the Amortisation Test.

The Mortgage Loans of New Sellers may be included in the Portfolio

New sellers which are members of the Northern Rock Group, may in the future accede to the Programme and sell loans and their related security to the LLP. However, this would only be permitted if the conditions precedent relating to New Sellers acceding to the Transaction (more fully described under Summary of the Principal Documents – Mortgage Sale Agreement – New Sellers, below) are met. Provided that those conditions are met, the consent of Covered Bondholders to the accession of any New Seller to the Programme will not be obtained.

Any loans originated by a New Seller will have been originated in accordance with the lending criteria of the New Seller, which may differ from the Lending Criteria of Mortgage Loans originated by the Seller. If the lending criteria differ in a way that affects the credit worthiness of the loans in the Portfolio, that may lead to increased defaults by borrowers and may affect the realisable value of the Portfolio or any part thereof or the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee. As noted above, however, Defaulted Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio will be given a reduced weighting for the purposes of the calculation of the Asset Coverage Test.

Changes to the Lending Criteria of the Seller

Each of the Mortgage Loans originated by the Seller will have been originated in accordance with its Lending Criteria at the time of origination. It is expected that the Seller's Lending Criteria will generally consider type of property, term of loan, age of applicant, the loan-to-value ratio, status of applicants and credit history. In the event of the sale or transfer of any Mortgage Loans and Related Security to the LLP, the Seller will warrant only that such Mortgage Loans and Related Security were originated in accordance with the Seller's Lending Criteria applicable at the time of origination. The Seller retains the right to revise its Lending Criteria from time to time. If the Lending Criteria change in a manner that affects the creditworthiness of the Mortgage Loans, that may lead to increased defaults by Borrowers and may affect the realisable value of the Portfolio, or part thereof, and the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee. As noted above, however, Defaulted Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio will be given a reduced weighting for the purposes of the calculation of the Asset Coverage Test and the Amortisation Test.

The LLP does not have legal title to the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio on the relevant Transfer Date

The sale by the Seller to the LLP of English Mortgage Loans and their Related Security will take effect by way of an equitable assignment. The sale by the Seller to the LLP of Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security will be given effect by way of Scottish Declarations of Trust under which the beneficial interest in the Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security will be transferred to the LLP. As a result, legal title to English Mortgage Loans and their Related Security and Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security will remain with the Seller. The LLP, however, will have the right to demand that the Seller give it legal title to the Mortgage Loans and the Related Security in the circumstances described in Summary of the Principal Documents – Mortgage Sale Agreement – Transfer of title to the Mortgage Loans to the LLP and until such right arises the LLP will not give notice of the sale of the English Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to any Borrower or apply to H.M. Land Registry or the Central Land Charges Registry to register or record its equitable interest in the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security or take any steps to perfect its title to the Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security.

Since the LLP has not obtained legal title to the Mortgage Loans or their Related Security and has not protected its interest in the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security by registration of a notice at H.M. Land Registry, the following risks exist:

- first, if the Seller wrongly sells a Mortgage Loan and its Related Security, which has already been sold to the LLP, to another person and that person acted in good faith and did not have notice of the interests of the LLP in the Mortgage Loan and its Related Security, then such person might obtain good title to the Mortgage Loan and its Related Security, free from the interests of the LLP. If this occurred then the LLP would not have good title to the affected Mortgage Loan and its Related Security and it would not be entitled to payments by a Borrower in respect of that Mortgage Loan. However, the risk of third party claims obtaining priority to the interests of the LLP would be likely to be limited to circumstances arising from a breach by the Seller of its contractual obligations or fraud, negligence or mistake on the part of the Seller or the LLP or their respective personnel or agents;
- second, the rights of the LLP may be subject to the rights of the Borrowers against the Seller, such as rights of set-off, which occur in relation to transactions or deposits made between Borrowers and the Seller, and the rights of Borrowers to redeem their mortgages by repaying the Mortgage Loans directly to the Seller; and
- third, unless the LLP has perfected the assignment of the Mortgage Loans (which it is only entitled to do in certain circumstances), the LLP would not be able to enforce any Borrower's obligations under a Mortgage Loan or Mortgage itself but would have to join the Seller as a party to any legal proceedings.

If any of the risks described in the first two bullet points above were to occur then the realisable value of the Portfolio or any part thereof and/or the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee may be affected.

Once notice has been given to the Borrowers of the assignment or assignation (as appropriate) of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP, independent set-off rights which a Borrower has against the Seller (such as, for example, set-off rights associated with Borrowers holding deposits with Seller) will crystallise and further rights of independent set-off would cease to accrue from that date and no new rights of independent set-off could be asserted following that notice. Set-off rights arising under "transaction set-off" (which are set-off claims arising out of a transaction connected with the Mortgage Loan) will not be affected by that notice and will continue to exist. In relation to potential transaction set-off in respect of the Mortgage Loans, see the following Risk Factor.

It should be noted however, that the Asset Coverage Test seeks to take account of the potential set-off risk associated with Borrowers holding deposits with the Seller (although there is no assurance that all such risks will be accounted for). Further, for so long as the LLP does not have legal title, the Seller will undertake for the benefit of the LLP and the Secured Creditors that it will lend its name to, and take such other steps as may be reasonably required by the LLP and/ or the Security Trustee in relation to, any legal proceedings in respect of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security.

Set-off risks in relation to some types of Mortgage Loans may adversely affect the value of the Portfolio or any part thereof

As described in the immediately preceding risk factor, the sale by the Seller to the LLP of English Mortgage Loans will be given effect by an equitable assignment, with each sale of Scottish Mortgage Loans being given effect by a Scottish Declaration of Trust. As a result, legal title to both the English Mortgage Loans and the Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold by the Seller to the LLP will remain with the Seller. Therefore, the rights of the LLP may be subject to the direct rights of the Borrowers against the Seller, including rights of set-off existing prior to notification to the Borrowers of the assignment or assignation (as appropriate) of the Mortgage Loans. Some of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio may have increased risks of set-off, because the Seller is required to make payments under them to the Borrowers. For instance:

- under a Flexible Mortgage Loan, Borrowers are permitted (subject to certain conditions which may, in some circumstances, require notification and/or consent of the Seller) to make, among other things, further drawings on the Mortgage Loan Account and/or to overpay or underpay interest and principal in a given month and/or to take a Payment Holiday (as defined below). Any further drawings under Flexible Mortgage Loans (referred to as "Re-draws") will be funded solely by the Seller;
- under a Together Connections Mortgage Loan or Connections Mortgage Loan, which is another type of Flexible Mortgage Loan, the Borrower may link one or more deposit or current account(s) that are held with the Seller to the Mortgage Loan; and
- under a Personal Secured Loan, the Borrower has the benefit of a loan secured on the same property that secures the Borrower's existing Mortgage Loan. A Personal Secured Loan is, however, secured by means of a separate mortgage and is governed by separate terms and conditions. Some Personal Secured Loans permit the Borrower to draw additional amounts in aggregate up to the fixed amount of credit under the terms of the Mortgage Conditions at the inception of such Personal Secured Loan. Such draws under a Personal Secured Loan are collectively referred to as Further Draws. Such Further Draws will be funded by the Seller.

New products offered by the Seller in the future may have similar characteristics involving payments due by the Seller to the Borrower.

If the Seller fails to advance the Re-draw or Further Draw in accordance with the relevant Mortgage Loan or fails to advance any drawing requested under an unsecured loan linked to a Together Connections Mortgage Loan, then the relevant Borrower may set off any damages claim arising from the Seller's breach of contract against the Seller's (and, as equitable assignee of or holder of the beneficial interest in the Mortgage Loans and the Mortgages, the LLP's) claim for payment of principal and/or interest under the Flexible Mortgage Loan or Personal Secured Loan as and when it becomes due. In addition, a Borrower under a Personal Secured Loan may attempt to set off any such damages claim against the Seller's claim for payment of principal and/or interest under any other Mortgage Loan which the Borrower has with the Seller. Such set-off claims, together with the set-off claim associated with the Borrower holding a credit balance with the Seller linked to a Together Connections Mortgage Loan or Connections Mortgage Loan, will constitute transaction set-off as described in the immediately preceding risk factor.

The amount of the claim in respect of a Re-draw or Further Draw will, in many cases, be the cost to the Borrower of finding an alternative source of funds. The Borrower may obtain a mortgage loan elsewhere in which case the damages would be equal to any difference in the borrowing costs together with any consequential losses, namely the associated costs of obtaining alternative funds (for example, legal fees and survey fees). If the Borrower is unable to obtain an alternative mortgage loan, he or she may have a claim in respect of other losses arising from the Seller's breach of contract where there are special circumstances communicated by the Borrower to the Seller at the time the Borrower entered into the Mortgage or which otherwise were reasonably foreseeable.

A Borrower may also attempt to set off against his or her mortgage payments an amount greater than the amount of his or her damages claim. In that case, the Servicer will be entitled to take enforcement proceedings against the Borrower although the period of non-payment by the Borrower is likely to continue until a judgment is obtained.

Further, there may be circumstances in which:

- a Borrower may seek to argue that amounts comprised in the current balance of Mortgage Loans as a consequence of previous Re-draws or Further Draws are unenforceable by virtue of non-compliance with the CCA;
- a Borrower may seek to argue that Personal Secured Loans may be unenforceable or unenforceable without a court order because of non-compliance with the CCA; or
- certain Re-draws or Further Draws may rank behind liens created by a Borrower after the date upon which the Borrower entered into its Mortgage with the Seller.

The exercise of set-off rights by Borrowers may adversely affect the realisable value of the Portfolio and/or the ability of the LLP to make payments under the Covered Bond Guarantee. The Asset Coverage Test seeks to take account of the set-off risk including any set-off risk relating to Flexible Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (although there is no assurance that such risks will be accounted for).

Limited recourse to the Seller

The LLP, the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee will not undertake any investigations, searches or other actions on any Mortgage Loan or its Related Security and will rely instead on the Representations and Warranties given in the Mortgage Sale Agreement by the Seller in respect of the Mortgage Loans sold by them to the LLP.

If any Mortgage Loan sold by the Seller does not materially comply with any of the Representations and Warranties made by the Seller as at the Transfer Date of that Mortgage Loan, then the Seller will be required to remedy the breach within 20 Business Days of the Seller becoming aware of the same or of receipt by it of a notice from the LLP requiring the Seller to remedy the breach.

If the Seller fails to remedy the breach of a Representation and Warranty within 20 Business Days, then the Seller will be required (but only prior to the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default) to repurchase on or before the next following Calculation Date (or such other date that may be agreed between the LLP and the Seller) the relevant Mortgage Loan and its Related Security and any other Mortgage Loans (including Personal Secured Loans) of the relevant Borrower that are included in the Portfolio, at their Current Balance as of the date of repurchase.

There can be no assurance that the Seller will have the financial resources to repurchase a Mortgage Loan or Mortgage Loans and its or their Related Security. However, if the Seller does not repurchase those Mortgage Loans and their Related Security which are in breach of the Representations and Warranties then the Current Balance of those Mortgage Loans will be excluded from the calculation of the Asset Coverage Test. There is no further recourse to the Seller or the Issuer in respect of a breach of a Representation or Warranty.

Regulatory changes by the Office of Fair Trading, the Financial Services Authority and any other regulatory authorities

In the United Kingdom, the Office of Fair Trading (the OFT) is responsible for the issue of licences under, and the superintendence of the working and enforcement of, the CCA, related consumer credit regulations and other consumer protection legislation. The OFT may review businesses and operations, provide guidelines to follow and take action when necessary with regard to the mortgage market in the United Kingdom.

Currently, a credit agreement is regulated by the CCA where: (a) the borrower is a sole trader or includes an individual, sole trader or partnership; (b) the amount of "credit" as defined in the CCA does not exceed the financial limit, which is £25,000 for credit agreements made on or after 1st May, 1998, or lower amounts for credit agreements made before that date; and (c) the credit agreement is not an exempt agreement under the CCA (for example, it is intended that a Regulated Mortgage Contract under the FSMA (as defined below) is an exempt agreement under the CCA).

Any credit agreement that is wholly or partly regulated by the CCA has to comply with requirements under the CCA as to licensing of lenders and brokers, documentation and procedures of credit agreements, and (in so far as applicable) pre-contract disclosure. If it does not comply with those requirements, then to the extent that the credit agreement is regulated by the CCA, it is unenforceable against the borrower: (a) without an order of the OFT, if the lender or any broker does not hold the required licence at the relevant time; (b) totally, if the form to be signed by the borrower is not signed by the borrower personally or omits or mis-states a "prescribed term" (namely, the amount of credit rate of interest and relevant repayment information); or (c) without a court order in other cases and, in exercising its discretion whether to make the order, the court would take into account any prejudice suffered by the borrower and any culpability of the lender.

There is a risk that any credit agreement intended to be a Regulated Mortgage Contract under the FSMA or unregulated might instead be wholly or partly regulated by the CCA because of a mis-application of technical rules on:

(a) determining whether any credit under the CCA arises, or whether the financial limit of the CCA is exceeded; (b) determining whether the credit agreement is an exempt agreement under the CCA; and, (c) changes to credit agreements.

A court order under Section 126 of the CCA is necessary to enforce a land mortgage or (in Scotland) a standard security securing a credit agreement to the extent that the credit agreement is regulated by the CCA. In dealing with such application, the court has the power, if it appears just to do so, to amend the credit agreement or to impose conditions upon its performance or to make a time order (for example, giving extra time for arrears to be cleared).

In November 2002, the UK Department of Trade and Industry (the DTI) announced its intention that a credit agreement will be regulated by the CCA where, for credit agreements made after this change is implemented: (a) the borrower an individual, sole trader or partnerships of three partners or fewer); (b) irrespective of the amount of credit (although in July 2003, the DTI announced its intention that the financial limit will remain for agreements entered into by the borrower for wholly or predominantly business purposes) and the Bill is also to introduce an exemption for lending to high net worth individuals; and (c) the credit agreement is not an exempt agreement. In December 2003, the DTI published a White Paper proposing amendments to the CCA and to secondary legislation made under it.

In June 2004, secondary legislation was made on: (a) amending requirements as to documentation of credit agreements, coming into force on 31st May, 2005, or 31st August, 2005 for agreements given to the borrower for signature but not made before 31st May, 2005; (b) pre-contract disclosure, coming into force on 31st May, 2005; and (c) replacing the formula for calculating the maximum amount payable on early settlement with a formula more favourable to the borrower, coming into force on 31st May, 2005 for new agreements or on 31st May, 2007 or 31st May, 2010 (depending on the term of the agreement) for agreements existing before 31st May, 2005.

In December 2004, the UK Parliament published a Consumer Credit Bill (the Bill) proposing to amend the CCA by, among other things: (a) changing the definition of a credit agreement regulated by the CCA to that announced by the DTI as described above; and (b) repealing the rule that, to the extent that a credit agreement is regulated by the CCA or treated as such, it may be unenforceable totally. If these changes are enacted, then any credit agreement, with a relevant borrower that is made or changed such that a new contract is entered into after this time, other than a Regulated Mortgage Contract under the FSMA or other exempt agreement under the CCA, will be regulated by the CCA. Such credit agreement will have to comply with requirements under the CCA as described above and, if it does not comply, it will be unenforceable without an order of the OFT or without a court order, as described above.

The Bill also proposed to amend the CCA by: (a) strengthening the licensing regime; (b) changing the grounds for challenging a credit agreement, from "extortionate credit bargain", to "unfair credit relationship" between the lender and the borrower, with retrospective effect on certain existing agreements after a transitional period (which is expected to be one year from the date the new rules comes into force); and (c) extending the jurisdiction of the Ombudsman (as described below) to licence holders under the CCA. The Bill lapsed with the dissolution of Parliament on 11th April, 2005 but was re-introduced in Parliament on 18th May, 2005 in similar form. The Bill could be enacted as soon as late in 2005, although the resulting amendments to the CCA would come into force on such days as the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry may appoint. Further proposals in relation to secondary legislation made under the CCA are expected at an unspecified time.

The Seller has interpreted certain technical rules under the CCA in a way common with many other lenders in the mortgage market. If such interpretation were held to be incorrect by a court or the Ombudsman, then a credit agreement, to the extent that it is regulated by the CCA or treated as such, would be unenforceable as described above. If such interpretation were challenged by a significant number of borrowers, then this could lead to significant disruption and shortfall in the assets available to the Security Trustee on enforcement. Court decisions have been made on technical rules under the CCA against certain mortgage lenders, but such decisions are very few and are generally county court decisions not binding on other courts.

The Seller has given or, as applicable, will give warranties to the Security Trustee in the Mortgage Sale Agreement that, among other things, the Current Balance on each Mortgage Loan and its Related Security is enforceable (subject to certain exceptions). If a Mortgage Loan or its Related Security does not comply with these warranties, and if the default cannot be or is not cured within 28 London Business Days, then the Seller will be required to repurchase the Mortgage Loans under the relevant mortgage account and their Related Security from the Security Trustee.

In the United Kingdom, regulation of residential mortgage business by the FSA under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the FSMA) came into force on 31st October, 2004, the date known as "N(M)". Entering into, arranging or advising in respect of, and administering Regulated Mortgage Contracts, and agreeing to do any of these things, are (subject to applicable exemptions) regulated activities under the FSMA.

A credit agreement is a Regulated Mortgage Contract under the FSMA if, at the time it is entered into on or after N(M): (a) the borrower is an individual or trustee; (b) the contract provides for the obligation of the borrower to repay to be secured by a first legal mortgage or, in Scotland, a first ranking standard security on land (other than timeshare accommodation) in the UK; and (c) at least 40 per cent. of that land is used, or is intended to be used, as or in connection with a dwelling by the borrower or (in case of credit provided to trustees) by an individual who is a beneficiary of the trust, or by a "related person" (broadly, the person's spouse, near relative or a person which whom the borrower has a relationship which is characteristic of a spouse).

The main effects are that, unless an exclusion or exemption applies: (a) each entity carrying on a regulated mortgage activity has to hold authorisation and permission from the FSA to carry on that activity; and (b) generally, each financial promotion in respect of an agreement relating to qualifying credit has to be issued or approved by a person holding authorisation and permission from the FSA. It should be noted that the definition of a "qualifying credit" is broader than that of "regulated mortgage contract" and may include mortgages regulated by the CCA. If requirements as to authorisation and permission of lenders and brokers or as to the issue and approval of financial promotions are not complied with, a Regulated Mortgage Contract will be unenforceable against the borrower although a court may enforce the agreement if it considers it just and equitable to do so. An unauthorised person who administers a Regulated Mortgage Contract entered into on or after N(M) may commit a criminal offence, but this will not render the contract unenforceable against the borrower.

Any credit agreement intended to be a Regulated Mortgage Contract under the FSMA might instead be wholly or partly regulated by the CCA, or unregulated, and any credit agreement intended to be unregulated might instead be a Regulated Mortgage Contract under the FSMA, because of technical rules on: (a) determining whether the credit agreement or any part of it falls within the definition of Regulated Mortgage Contract; and (b) changes to credit agreements.

The Seller is required to hold, and holds, authorisation and permission to enter into and to administer and, where applicable, to advise in respect of Regulated Mortgage Contracts. Subject to any exemption, brokers will be required to hold authorisation and permission to arrange and, where applicable, to advise in respect of Regulated Mortgage Contracts.

The LLP and Security Trustee are not and do not propose to be authorised persons under the FSMA with respect to Regulated Mortgage Contracts and related activities. The LLP and Security Trustee do not require authorisation in order to acquire legal or beneficial title to a Regulated Mortgage Contract. The LLP and Security Trustee do not carry on the regulated activity of administering in relation to Regulated Mortgage Contracts by having them administered pursuant to an administration agreement by an entity having the required FSA authorisation and permission. In addition, on and after N(M) no variation has been or will be made to the Loans and no Further Advance or Product Switch has been or will be made in relation to a Mortgage Loan, where it would result in the LLP or the Security Trustee arranging or advising in respect of, administering or entering into a Regulated Mortgage Contract or agreeing to carry on any of these activities, if the LLP or the Security Trustee would be required to be authorised under the FSMA to do so.

The FSA Mortgages: Conduct of Business Sourcebook (MCOB), which sets out the FSA's rules for regulated mortgage activities, came into force on 31st October, 2004. These rules cover, inter alia, certain pre-origination matters such as financial promotion and pre-application illustrations, pre-contract and start-of-contract and post-contract disclosure, contract changes, charges, and arrears and repossessions. FSA rules for prudential and authorisation requirements for mortgage firms and for extending the appointed representatives regime to mortgages, also came into force on 31st October, 2004.

A borrower who is a private individual is entitled to claim damages for loss suffered as a result of any contravention by an authorised person of an FSA rule, and may set-off the amount of the claim against the amount owing by the borrower under the loan or any other loan that the borrower has taken (or exercise analogous rights in Scotland). Any such set-off in respect of the Mortgage Loans may adversely affect the LLP's ability to make payments on the Covered Bond Guarantee.

So as to avoid dual regulation, it is intended that Regulated Mortgage Contracts will not be regulated by the CCA. This exemption only affects credit agreements made on or after N(M), and credit agreements made before N(M) but subsequently changed such that a new contract is entered into on or after N(M) and constitutes a Regulated Mortgage Contract. A court order under section 126 of the CCA is, however, necessary to enforce a land mortgage or (in Scotland) a standard security securing a Regulated Mortgage Contract to the extent that it would, apart from this exemption, be regulated by the CCA or be treated as such.

No assurance can be given that additional regulatory changes by the OFT, the FSA or any other regulatory authority will not arise with regard to the mortgage market in the United Kingdom generally, the Seller's particular sector in that market or specifically in relation to the Seller. Any such action or developments or compliance costs may have a material adverse effect on the Issuer, the LLP, the Servicer, the Security Trustee and their respective businesses and operations. This may adversely affect the Issuer's ability to make payments in full on the Covered Bonds when due and/or the LLP's ability to make payment in full under the Covered Bond Guarantee when due.

Prior to N(M), in the United Kingdom, self-regulation of mortgage business existed under the Mortgage Code (the CML Code) issued by the Council of Mortgage Lenders (the CML). The Seller subscribed to the CML Code and on and from N(M), as an authorised person, has been subject to the FSA requirements in MCOB. Membership of the CML and compliance with the CML Code were voluntary. The CML Code set out minimum standards of good mortgage business practice, from marketing to lending procedures and dealing with borrowers experiencing financial difficulties. Since 30th April, 1998 lender-subscribers to the CML Code could not accept mortgage business introduced by intermediaries who were not registered with (before 1st November, 2000) the Mortgage Code Register of Intermediaries or (on and after 1st November, 2000 until 31st October, 2004) the Mortgage Code Compliance Board. Complaints relating to breach of the CML Code were dealt with by the relevant scheme, such as the Banking Ombudsman Scheme or the Mortgage Code Arbitration Scheme.

In September 2002, the European Commission published a proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on consumer credit. In its original form, the proposal does not include a financial limit for regulated agreements (unlike the existing Directive 87/102/EEC, as amended, which provides that (subject to certain exceptions) loans not exceeding Euro 20,000 are regulated by such Directive) and requires specified requirements to be met in respect of certain mortgage loan products (including new credit agreements for further drawings under certain flexible mortgages and for further advances and amortisation tables for repayment mortgages). If the proposal comes into force in its original form, mortgage loans which do not comply with these requirements may be unenforceable. Significantly, in its original form, the proposal provides that it does not apply retrospectively (subject to certain exceptions including in respect of new drawings or further advances made in respect of existing agreements) and does not apply to residential mortgage loans except those which include an equity release component.

There has been significant opposition from the European Parliament to the original form of the proposed Directive. On 13th February, 2004, the Committee of Legal Affairs and the Internal Market published the European Parliament's amendments to the proposed draft. These amendments provide that (subject to certain exceptions) loans not exceeding Euro 100,000 will be regulated, but that the proposed Directive will not apply to any loan secured by a land mortgage or standard security and will not apply to any credit agreement or surety agreement made before national implementing legislation comes into force. In October 2004, the European Commission published an amended form of the proposed Directive. In this amended form, the proposed Directive provides that (subject to certain exceptions) loans not exceeding Euro 100,000 will be regulated, and that it will indeed apply to any loan secured by a land mortgage or standard security that includes an equity release component, but it is unclear whether it will apply to any credit agreement or surety agreement made before national implementing legislation comes into force.

The DTI published in February 2005 a consultation paper on the European Commission's amended form of the proposed Directive, and in June 2005 a summary of responses to this consultation. In July 2005, the European Commission published a Green Paper on mortgage credit, in which it announced its intention that loans secured by a mortgage on land or a standard security will be excluded from the proposed Directive but will be covered by any initiatives resulting from the Green Paper process. In October 2005, the European Commission published a further amended form of the proposed Directive, which provides that (subject to certain exceptions) loans not exceeding Euro 50,000 will be regulated, but that loans secured by a land mortgage or a standard security will be excluded from the proposed Directive. The proposed Directive, which may be further substantially amended before it is brought into effect, is unlikely to come into force before mid-2006, and member states will then have a further two years in which to bring national implementing legislation into force.

Until the final text of the Directive and of any initiatives resulting from the Green Paper process are decided and the details of the United Kingdom implementing legislation are published, it is not certain what effect the adoption and implementation of the Directive or initiatives would have on the Issuer, the LLP, the Servicer, the Security Trustee and their respective businesses and operations. This may adversely affect the Issuer's ability to make payments in full on the Covered Bonds when due and/or on the ability of the LLP to make payments in full on the Covered Bond Guarantee when due.

Distance Marketing

The Financial Services (Distance Marketing) Regulations 2004 apply to, inter alia, credit agreements entered into on or after 31st October, 2004 by means of distance communication (i.e. without any substantive simultaneous physical presence of the originator and the borrower). A Regulated Mortgage Contract under the FSMA, if originated by a UK lender from an establishment in the UK, will not be cancellable under these regulations. Certain other credit agreements will be cancellable under these regulations if the borrower does not receive prescribed information at the prescribed time. Where the credit agreement is cancellable under these regulations, the borrower may send notice of cancellation at any time before the end of the fourteenth day after the day on which the cancellable agreement is made, where all the prescribed information has been received, or, if later, the borrower receives the last of the prescribed information.

If the borrower cancels the credit agreement under these regulations then:

- the borrower is liable to repay the principal, and any other sums paid by the originator to the borrower under or in relation to the cancelled agreement, within 30 days beginning with the day of the borrower sending the notice of cancellation or, if later, the originator receiving notice of cancellation;
- the borrower is liable to pay interest, or any early repayment charge or other charge for credit under the cancelled agreement, only if the borrower received certain prescribed information at the prescribed time and if other conditions are met; and
- any security provided in relation to the contract is to be treated as never having had effect.

Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1994 and 1999

In the United Kingdom, the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1999 as amended (the 1999 Regulations), which, together with (in so far as applicable) the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1994 (together with the 1999 Regulations, the UTCCR), apply to agreements made on or after 1st July, 1995 and affect all or almost all of the Mortgage Loans. These provide that:

- a consumer may challenge a standard term in an agreement on the basis that it is "unfair" within the UTCCR and therefore not binding on the consumer; and
- the OFT and any "qualifying body" within the 1999 Regulations (such as the FSA) may seek to enjoin (or in Scotland interdict) a business from relying on unfair terms.

The UTCCR will not generally affect "core terms" which define the main subject matter of the contract, such as the borrower's obligation to repay the principal, but may affect terms that are not considered to be core terms, such as the lender's power to vary the interest rate.

For example, if a term permitting the lender to vary the interest rate (as the Seller is permitted to do) is found to be unfair, the Borrower will not be liable to pay interest at the increased rate or, to the extent that the Borrower has paid it, will be able, as against the lender, or any assignee such as the LLP, to claim repayment of the extra interest amounts paid or to set-off the amount of the claim against the amount owing by the borrower under the Mortgage Loan or any other loan that the borrower has taken. Any such non-recovery, claim or set-off may adversely affect the realisable value of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio and accordingly the ability of the LLP to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

In February 2000, the OFT issued a guidance note on what the OFT considers to be fair terms and unfair terms for interest variation in mortgage contracts. Where the interest variation term does not provide for precise and immediate tracking of an external rate outside the lender's control, and if the borrower is locked in, for example by an early repayment charge that is considered to be a penalty, the term is likely to be regarded as unfair under the UTCCR unless the lender (i) notifies the affected borrower in writing at least 30 days before the rate change and (ii) permits the affected borrower to repay the whole loan during the next three months after the rate change, without paying the early repayment charge. The Seller has reviewed the guidance note and has concluded that its compliance with it will have no material adverse effect on the loans or its business. The guidance note has been withdrawn from the OFT website and is currently under review by the OFT and FSA. The FSA has agreed with the OFT to take responsibility for the enforcement of the UTCCR in mortgage agreements. In May 2005, the FSA issued a statement of good practice on fairness of terms in consumer contracts which is relevant to firms authorised and regulated by the FSA in relation to products and services within the FSA's regulatory scope. This statement provides that for locked-in borrowers a firm may consider drafting the contract to permit a change in the contract to be made only where any lock-in clause is not exercised.

In August 2002, the Law Commission for England and Wales and the Scottish Law Commission issued a joint consultation LCCP No. 166/SLCDP 119 on proposals to rationalise the UK's Unfair Contract Terms Act 1977 and the 1999 Regulations into a single piece of legislation and a final report, together with a draft bill on unfair terms, was published in February 2005. The Law Commissions have a duty under section 3 of the UK's Law Commissions Act 1965 to keep the law under review for a number of purposes, including its simplification. The proposals are primarily to simplify the legislation on unfair terms. It is not proposed that there should be any significant increase in the extent of controls over terms in consumer contracts. Some changes are proposed, however, such as that (a) a consumer may also challenge a negotiated term in an agreement on the basis that it is "unfair" and "unreasonable" within the legislation and therefore not binding on the consumer; and (b) in any challenge by a consumer (but not by the OFT or a qualifying body) of a standard term or a negotiated term, the burden of proof lies on the business to show that the term is fair and reasonable. It is too early to tell how the proposals, if enacted, would affect the loans.

No assurance can be given that changes in the 1999 Regulations, if enacted, or changes to guidance on interest variation terms, if adopted, will not have a material adverse effect on Issuer, the LLP, the Servicer, the Security Trustee and their respective businesses and operations. This may adversely affect the ability of the LLP to dispose of the Portfolio, or any part hereof, in a timely manner and or the realisable value of the Portfolio, or any part thereof, and accordingly affect the ability of the LLP to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

Financial Ombudsman Service

Under the FSMA, the Financial Ombudsman Service is required to make decisions on, among other things, complaints relating to activities and transactions under its jurisdiction on the basis of what, in the Ombudsman's opinion, would be fair and reasonable in all circumstances of the case, taking into account, among other things, law and guidance. Transitional provisions exist by which certain complaints relating to breach of the CML Code occurring before N(M) may be dealt with by the Financial Ombudsman Service. Complaints brought before the Financial Ombudsman Service for consideration must be decided on a case-by-case basis, with reference to the particular facts of any individual case. Each case would first be adjudicated by an adjudicator. Either party to the case may appeal against the adjudication. In the event of an appeal, the case proceeds to a final decision by the Ombudsman.

As the Financial Ombudsman Service is required to make decisions on the basis of, among other things, the principles of fairness, and may order a money award to the borrower, it is not possible to predict how any future decision of the Financial Ombudsman Service would affect the ability of the LLP to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee.

Unfair Commercial Practices Directive 2005

In May 2005, the European Parliament and the Council adopted a directive on unfair business-to-consumer commercial practices (the Unfair Practices Directive). Generally, this directive applies full harmonisation, which means that member states may not impose more stringent provisions in the fields to which full harmonisation applies. By way of exception, this directive permits member states to impose more stringent provisions in the fields of financial services and immovable property, such as mortgage loans.

The Unfair Practices Directive provides that enforcement bodies may take administrative action or legal proceedings against a commercial practice on the basis that it is "unfair" within the directive. This directive is intended to protect only collective interests of consumers, and so is not intended to give any claim, defence or right of set-off to an individual consumer.

The DTI is expected to publish a consultation paper on implementing the Unfair Practices Directive into UK law. Member states have until 12th December, 2007 in which to bring national implementing legislation into force, subject to a transitional period until 12th June, 2013 for applying full harmonisation in the fields to which it applies. It is too early to predict what effect the implementation of the Unfair Practices Directive would have on the Mortgage Loans.

Basel Capital Requirements Directive

In June 2004 the Basel Committee issued a revised framework to replace the 1988 Capital Accord, which places enhanced emphasis on market discipline and sensitivity to risk. Implementation of the revised framework was envisaged for year end 2006 or, in the case of the advanced approaches that are permitted under the revised framework, 2007, although it is likely that different implementation dates will be adopted in different countries. The text of the Capital Requirements Directive, which will implement the revised Basel framework within the EEA, was adopted by the by the European Parliament in September 2005 and agreed by the Council in October 2005. The Capital Requirements Directive will in turn have to be transposed into national law or regulation by the EEA member states. The new requirements could affect the risk weighting of the Covered Bonds in respect of certain investors if those investors are regulated in a manner which will be affected by the requirements. Consequently, prospective investors in the Covered Bonds should consult their own advisers as to the consequences to and effect on them of the application of the revised Basel framework and the Capital Requirements Directive. The Issuer and the LLP cannot predict the precise effects of potential changes which might result if the proposals were adopted in their current form.

Limited Liability Partnerships

The LLP is a limited liability partnership. Limited liability partnerships, created by statute pursuant to the LLPA 2000, are bodies corporate and have unlimited capacity. A general description of limited liability partnerships is set out below under Description of Limited Liability Partnerships. This area of the law is relatively undeveloped. Accordingly, there is a risk that as the law develops, new case law or new regulations made under or affecting the LLPA 2000 or relating to limited liability partnerships could adversely affect the ability of the LLP to perform its obligations under the Transaction Documents which could, in turn, adversely affect the interests of Covered Bondholders.

Pensions Act 2004

Under the Pensions Act 2004 a person that is 'connected with' or an 'associate' of an employer under an occupational pension scheme, can be subject to either a contribution notice or a financial support direction. Northern Rock is an employer under an occupational scheme and also a member of the LLP. On this basis, the LLP is likely to be treated as 'connected to' Northern Rock.

A contribution notice could be served on the LLP if it was party to an act, or a deliberate failure to act, the main purpose or one of the main purposes of which was either (i) to prevent the recovery of the whole or any part of a debt which was, or might become, due from the employer under Section 75 of the Pensions Act 1995 or (ii) otherwise than in good faith, to prevent such a debt becoming due, to compromise or otherwise settle such a debt, or to reduce the amount of such a debt which would otherwise become due.

A financial support direction could be served on the LLP where the employer is either a service company or insufficiently resourced. An employer is insufficiently resourced if the value of its resources is less than 50% of the pension scheme's deficit calculated on an annuity buy-out basis and there is a connected or associated person whose resources at least cover that difference. A financial support direction can only be served where the Pensions Regulator considers it is reasonable to do so, having regard to a number of factors.

If a contribution notice or financial support direction were to be served on the LLP this could adversely affect investors in the Covered Bonds.

Form of the Covered Bonds

The Covered Bonds of each Series will be in either bearer form, with or without receipts, interest coupons and/or talons attached, or registered form, without receipts, interest coupons and/or talons attached. Bearer Covered Bonds will be issued outside the United States in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act (Regulation S) and Registered Covered Bonds will be issued both outside the United States in reliance on the exemption from registration provided by Regulation S and within the United States in reliance on Rule 144A or Regulation D under the Securities Act.

Bearer Covered Bonds

Each Tranche of Bearer Covered Bonds will be initially issued in the form of a temporary global covered bond without receipts and interest coupons attached (a Temporary Global Covered Bond) or, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms (the applicable Final Terms), a permanent global covered bond without receipts and interest coupons attached (a Permanent Global Covered Bond and, together with the Temporary Global Covered Bonds, the Bearer Global Covered Bonds and each a Bearer Global Covered Bond) which, in either case, will be delivered on or prior to the original issue date of the Tranche to a common depositary (the Common Depositary) for Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. as operator of the Euroclear System (Euroclear) and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme (Clearstream, Luxembourg). Whilst any Bearer Covered Bond is represented by a Temporary Global Covered Bond, payments of principal, interest (if any) and any other amount payable in respect of the Bearer Covered Bonds due prior to the Exchange Date (as defined below) will be made against presentation of the Temporary Global Covered Bond only to the extent that certification (in a form to be provided) to the effect that the beneficial owners of interests in such Bearer Covered Bond are not U.S. persons or persons who have purchased for resale to any U.S. person, as required by U.S. Treasury regulations, has been received by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable, has given a like certification (based on the certifications it has received) to the Principal Paying Agent.

On and after the date (the Exchange Date) which is 40 days after a Temporary Global Covered Bond is issued, interests in such Temporary Global Covered Bond will be exchangeable (free of charge) upon a request as described therein either for (i) interests in a Permanent Global Covered Bond of the same Series or (ii) for Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds of the same Series with, where applicable, receipts, interest coupons and talons attached (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms and subject, in the case of Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds, to such notice period as is specified in the applicable Final Terms), in each case against certification of non-US beneficial ownership as described above unless such certification has already been given. The holder of a Temporary Global Covered Bond will not be entitled to collect any payment of interest, principal or other amount due on or after the Exchange Date unless, upon due certification, exchange of the Temporary Global Covered Bond for an interest in a Permanent Global Covered Bond or for Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds is improperly withheld or refused.

Payments of principal, interest (if any) or any other amounts on a Permanent Global Covered Bond will be made through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg against presentation or surrender (as the case may be) of the Permanent Global Covered Bond without any requirement for certification.

The applicable Final Terms will specify that a Permanent Global Covered Bond will be exchangeable (free of charge), in whole but not in part, for Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds with, where applicable, receipts, interest coupons and talons attached upon either (i) not less than 60 days' written notice from Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (acting on the instructions of any holder of an interest in such Permanent Global Covered Bond) to the Principal Paying Agent as described therein or (ii) only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event. For these purposes, Exchange Event means that (a) the Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and no successor clearing system is available or (b) the Issuer has or will become subject to adverse tax consequences which would not be suffered were the Bearer Covered Bonds represented by the Permanent Global Covered Bond in definitive form. The Issuer will promptly give notice to Covered Bondholders of each Series of Bearer Global Covered Bonds in accordance with Condition 13 if an Exchange Event occurs. In the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (acting on the instructions of any holder of an interest in such Permanent Global Covered Bond) or the Bond Trustee may give notice to the Principal Paying Agent requesting exchange and, in the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described in (b) above, the Issuer may also give notice to the Principal Paying Agent requesting exchange. Any such exchange shall occur not later than 45 days after the date of receipt of the first relevant notice by the Principal Paying Agent.

Bearer Global Covered Bonds and Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds will be issued pursuant to the Agency Agreement.

The following legend will appear on all Bearer Covered Bonds which have an original maturity of more than one year and on all receipts and interest coupons relating to such Bearer Covered Bonds:

"ANY UNITED STATES PERSON WHO HOLDS THIS OBLIGATION WILL BE SUBJECT TO LIMITATIONS UNDER THE UNITED STATES INCOME TAX LAWS, INCLUDING THE LIMITATIONS PROVIDED IN SECTIONS 165(j) AND 1287(a) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE."

The sections referred to provide that United States holders, with certain exceptions, will not be entitled to deduct any loss on Bearer Covered Bonds, receipts or interest coupons and will not be entitled to capital gains treatment of any gain on any sale, disposition, redemption or payment of principal in respect of such Bearer Covered Bonds, receipts or interest coupons.

Covered Bonds which are represented by a Bearer Global Covered Bond will only be transferable in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be.

Registered Covered Bonds

The Registered Covered Bonds of each Tranche offered and sold in reliance on Regulation S, which will be sold to non-U.S. persons outside the United States, will initially be represented by a global covered bond in registered form (a Regulation S Global Covered Bond). Prior to expiry of the Distribution Compliance Period (as defined in Regulation S) applicable to each Tranche of Covered Bonds, beneficial interests in a Regulation S Global Covered Bond may not be offered or sold to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person save as otherwise provided in Condition 2 and may not be held otherwise than through Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, and such Regulation S Global Covered Bond will bear a legend regarding such restrictions on transfer.

The Registered Covered Bonds of each Tranche may only be offered and sold in the United States or to U.S. persons in private transactions (i) to "qualified institutional buyers" within the meaning of Rule 144A under the Securities Act (QIBs) or (ii) to "accredited investors" (as defined in Rule 501(a)(1), (2), (3) or (7) under the Securities Act) that are Institutional Accredited Investors who agree to purchase the Covered Bonds for their own account and not with a view to the distribution thereof.

The Registered Covered Bonds of each Tranche sold to QIBs will be represented by a global note in registered form (a Rule 144A Global Covered Bond and, together with a Regulation S Global Covered Bond, the Registered Global Covered Bonds).

Registered Global Covered Bonds will either (i) be deposited with a custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, DTC for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or (ii) be deposited with a common depositary for, and registered in the name of a common nominee of, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, as specified in the applicable Final Terms. Persons holding beneficial interests in Registered Global Covered Bonds will be entitled or required, as the case may be, under the circumstances described below, to receive physical delivery of Definitive Covered Bonds in fully registered form.

The Registered Covered Bonds of each Tranche sold to Institutional Accredited Investors will be in definitive form, registered in the name of the holder thereof (Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bonds). Unless otherwise set forth in the applicable Final Terms, Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bonds will be issued only in minimum denominations of U.S.$500,000 and integral multiples of U.S.$1,000 in excess thereof (or the approximate equivalents in the applicable Specified Currency). Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bonds will be subject to the restrictions on transfer set forth therein and will bear the restrictive legend described under Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions. Institutional Accredited Investors that hold Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bonds may elect to hold such Covered Bonds through DTC, but transferees acquiring the Covered Bonds in transactions exempt from Securities Act registration pursuant to Regulation S or Rule 144A under the Securities Act (if available) may do so upon satisfaction of the requirements applicable to such transfer as described under Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions. The Rule 144A Global Covered Bonds and the Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bonds will be subject to certain restrictions on transfer set forth therein and will bear a legend regarding such restrictions.

Payments of principal, interest and any other amount in respect of the Registered Global Covered Bonds will, in the absence of provision to the contrary, be made to the person shown on the Register (as defined in Condition 5(d)) as the registered holder of the Registered Global Covered Bonds. None of the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee, any Paying Agent or the Registrar will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments or deliveries made on account of beneficial ownership interests in the Registered Global Covered Bonds or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

Payments of principal, interest or any other amount in respect of the Registered Covered Bonds in definitive form will, in the absence of provision to the contrary, be made to the persons shown on the Register on the relevant Record Date (as defined in Condition 5(d)) immediately preceding the due date for payment in the manner provided in that Condition.

Interests in a Registered Global Covered Bond will be exchangeable (free of charge), in whole but not in part, for Registered Definitive Covered Bonds without receipts, interest coupons or talons attached only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event. For these purposes, Exchange Event means that (i) in the case of Covered Bonds registered in the name of a nominee for DTC, either DTC has notified the Issuer that it is unwilling or unable to continue to act as depository for the Covered Bonds and no alternative clearing system is available or DTC has ceased to constitute a clearing agency registered under the Exchange Act, (ii) in the case of Covered Bonds registered in the name of a nominee for a common depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, the Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and no successor clearing system is available or (iii) the Issuer has or will become subject to adverse tax consequences which would not be suffered were the Covered Bonds represented by the Registered Global Covered Bond in definitive form. The Issuer will promptly give notice to Covered Bondholders of each Series of Registered Global Covered Bonds in accordance with Condition 13 if an Exchange Event occurs. In the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event, DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (acting on the instructions of any registered holder of an interest in such Registered Global Covered Bond) may give notice to the Registrar requesting exchange and, in the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described in (iii) above, the Issuer may also give notice to the Registrar requesting exchange. Any such exchange shall occur not later than 10 days after the date of receipt of the first relevant notice by the Registrar.

Definitive Rule 144A Covered Bonds will be issued only in minimum denominations of U.S.$100,000 and integral multiples of U.S.$1,000 in excess thereof (or the approximate equivalents in the applicable Specified Currency).

Transfer of Interests

Interests in a Registered Global Covered Bond may, subject to compliance with all applicable restrictions, be transferred to a person who wishes to hold such interest in another Registered Global Covered Bond or in the form of a Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bond and Definitive IAI Registered Covered Bonds may, subject to compliance with all applicable restrictions, be transferred to a person who wishes to hold such Covered Bonds in the form of an interest in a Registered Global Covered Bond. No beneficial owner of an interest in a Registered Global Covered Bond will be able to transfer such interest, except in accordance with the applicable procedures of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, in each case to the extent applicable. Registered Covered Bonds are also subject to the restrictions on transfer set forth therein and will bear a legend regarding such restrictions, see Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions.

General

Pursuant to the Agency Agreement (as defined under Terms and Conditions of the Covered Bonds), the Principal Paying Agent shall arrange that, where a further Tranche of Covered Bonds is issued which is intended to form a single Series with an existing Tranche of Covered Bonds, the Covered Bonds of such further Tranche shall be assigned a common code and ISIN and, where applicable, a CUSIP and CINS number which are different from the common code, ISIN, CUSIP and CINS assigned to Covered Bonds of any other Tranche of the same Series until at least the expiry of the Distribution Compliance Period applicable to the Covered Bonds of such Tranche.

Any reference herein to DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system specified in the applicable Final Terms or as may otherwise be approved by the Issuer, the Principal Paying Agent and the Bond Trustee.

No Covered Bondholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to proceed directly against the Issuer or the LLP unless the Bond Trustee or, as the case may be, the Security Trustee, having become so bound to proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable period and the failure shall be continuing.

Terms and Conditions of the Covered Bonds

The following are the Terms and Conditions of the Covered Bonds which will be incorporated by reference into each Global Covered Bond (as defined below) and each Definitive Covered Bond, in the latter case only if permitted by the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority (if any) and agreed by the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) at the time of issue but, if not so permitted and agreed, such Definitive Covered Bond will have endorsed thereon or attached thereto such Terms and Conditions. The applicable Final Terms in relation to any Tranche of Covered Bonds may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with the following Terms and Conditions, replace or modify the following Terms and Conditions for the purpose of such Covered Bonds. The applicable Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) will be endorsed upon, or attached to, each Global Covered Bond and Definitive Covered Bond.

This Covered Bond is one of a Series (as defined below) of Covered Bonds issued by Northern Rock plc (the Issuer) constituted by a trust deed (such trust deed as modified and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the Trust Deed) dated 30th April, 2004 (the Programme Date) made between the Issuer, Northern Rock Covered Bond LLP as guarantor (the LLP) and The Bank of New York, London Branch as bond trustee (in such capacity, the Bond Trustee, which expression shall include any successor as Bond Trustee) and as security trustee (in such capacity, the Security Trustee, which expression shall include any successor as Security Trustee).

Save as provided for in Conditions 9 and 14, references herein to the Covered Bonds shall be references to the Covered Bonds of this Series and shall mean:

(i) in relation to any Covered Bonds represented by a global covered bond (a Global Covered Bond), units of the lowest Specified Denomination in the Specified Currency;

(ii) any Global Covered Bond;

(iii) any Definitive Covered Bonds in bearer form (Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds) issued in exchange for a Global Covered Bond in bearer form; and

The Covered Bonds, the Receipts (as defined below) and the Coupons (as defined below) have the benefit of an agency agreement (such agency agreement as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the Agency Agreement) dated the Programme Date and made between the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee and Citibank N.A., as issuing and principal paying agent and agent bank (the Principal Paying Agent, which expression shall include any successor principal paying agent) and the other paying agents named therein (together with the Principal Paying Agent, the Paying Agents, which expression shall include any additional or successor paying agents), as exchange agent (the Exchange Agent, which expression shall include any successor exchange agent), as registrar (the Registrar, which expression shall include any successor registrar) and as transfer agent and the other transfer agents named therein (the Transfer Agent, which expression shall include any additional or successor transfer agents and together with the Paying Agents, the Exchange Agent and the Registrar, the Agents).

Interest-bearing Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds have (unless otherwise indicated in the applicable Final Terms) interest coupons (Coupons) and, if indicated in the applicable Final Terms, talons for further Coupons (Talons) attached on issue. Any reference herein to Coupons or coupons shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be deemed to include a reference to Talons or talons. Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds repayable in instalments have receipts (Receipts) for the payment of the instalments of principal (other than the final instalment) attached on issue. Registered Covered Bonds and Global Covered Bonds do not have Receipts, Coupons or Talons attached on issue.

The Final Terms for this Covered Bond (or the relevant provisions thereof) is attached to or endorsed on this Covered Bond and supplements these Terms and Conditions (the Conditions) and may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with the Conditions, replace or modify the Conditions for the purposes of this Covered

(a) Status of the Covered Bonds

The Covered Bonds and any relative Receipts and Coupons constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu without any preference among themselves and (subject to any applicable statutory provisions) pari passu with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer.

(b) Status of the Covered Bond Guarantee

The payment of Guaranteed Amounts in respect of the Covered Bonds when the same shall become Due for Payment has been unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by the LLP (the Covered Bond Guarantee) in the Trust Deed. However, the LLP shall have no obligation under the Covered Bond Guarantee to pay any Guaranteed Amounts until the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, service by the Bond Trustee on the Issuer of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and service by the Bond Trustee on the LLP of a Notice to Pay or, if earlier, following the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default, service by the Bond Trustee of an LLP Acceleration Notice. Any payment made by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee shall (unless such obligation shall have been discharged as a result of the payment of Excess Proceeds to the Bond Trustee pursuant to Condition 9) discharge pro tanto the obligations of the Issuer in respect of such payment under the Covered Bonds, Receipts and Coupons except where such payment has been declared void, voidable or otherwise recoverable in whole or in part and recovered from the Bond Trustee or the Covered Bondholders.

As security for the LLP's obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee and the other Transaction Documents (as defined in the Master Definitions and Construction Agreement) to which it is a party, the LLP has granted fixed and floating security over all of its assets under the Deed of Charge in favour of the Security Trustee (for itself and on behalf of the other Secured Creditors).

4. Interest

(a) Interest on Fixed Rate Covered Bonds

Each Fixed Rate Covered Bond bears interest on its Principal Amount Outstanding from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Rate(s) of Interest payable, subject as provided in these Conditions, in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Final Maturity Date. If a Notice to Pay is served on the LLP, the LLP shall pay Guaranteed Amounts in equivalent amounts to those described above under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of the Covered Bonds on the Original Due for Payment Dates or, if applicable, the Extended Due for Payment Date.

Except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, the amount of interest payable on each Interest Payment Date in respect of the Fixed Interest Period ending on (but excluding) such date will amount to the Fixed Coupon Amount. Payments of interest on any Interest Payment Date will, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, amount to the Broken Amount so specified.

As used in the Conditions, Fixed Interest Period means the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date.

If interest is required to be calculated for a period other than a Fixed Interest Period, such interest shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to each Specified Denomination, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.

Day Count Fraction means, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest in accordance with this Condition 4(a):

(i) if "Actual/Actual (ISMA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms:

(A) in the case of Covered Bonds where the number of days in the relevant period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (the Accrual Period) is equal to or shorter than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the number of days in such Accrual Period divided by the product of (1) the number of days in such Determination Period and (2) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year; or

(B) in the case of Covered Bonds where the Accrual Period is longer than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the sum of:

(1) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the Determination Period in which the Accrual Period begins divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates that would occur in one calendar year; and

(2) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the next Determination Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates that would occur in one calendar year; and

(ii) if "30/360" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (such number of days being calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months) divided by 360.

In these Conditions:

Determination Period means each period from (and including) a Determination Date to (but excluding) the next Determination Date (including, where either the Interest Commencement Date or the final Interest Payment Date is not a Determination Date, the period commencing on the first Determination Date prior to, and ending on the first Determination Date falling after, such date).

Principal Amount Outstanding means in respect of a Covered Bond the principal amount of that Covered Bond on the relevant Issue Date thereof less principal amounts received by the relevant Covered Bondholder in respect thereof.

sub-unit means, with respect to any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, with respect to euro, euro 0.01.

(b) Interest on Floating Rate Covered Bonds and Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds

(i) Interest Payment Dates

Each Floating Rate Covered Bond and Index Linked Interest Covered Bond bears interest on its Principal Amount Outstanding from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date and such interest will be payable in arrear on either:

(A) the Specified Interest Payment Date(s) in each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; or

(B) if no Specified Interest Payment Date(s) is/are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each date (each such date, together with each Specified Interest Payment Date, an Interest Payment Date) which falls the number of months or other period specified as the Specified Period in the applicable Final Terms after the preceding Interest Payment Date or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, after the Interest Commencement Date.

Such interest will be payable in respect of each Interest Period. In these Conditions, the expression Interest Period shall mean the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date.

If a Business Day Convention is specified in the applicable Final Terms and (x) if there is no numerically corresponding day in the calendar month in which an Interest Payment Date should occur or (y) if any Interest Payment Date would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day, then, if the Business Day Convention specified is:

(1) in any case where Specified Periods are specified in accordance with Condition 4(b)(i)(B) above, the Floating Rate Convention, such Interest Payment Date (i) in the case of (x) above, shall be the last day that is a Business Day in the relevant month and the provisions of (B) below shall apply mutatis mutandis or (ii) in the case of (y) above, shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event (A) such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day and (B) each subsequent Interest Payment Date shall be the last Business Day in the month which falls the Specified Period after the preceding applicable Interest Payment Date occurred; or

(2) the Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day; or

(3) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or

(4) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day.

In the Conditions, Business Day means a day which is:

(A) a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London and any Additional Business Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(B) in the case of any sum payable, either (1) in relation to any sum payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than London and any Additional Business Centre) and which if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively or (2) in relation to any Covered Bonds denominated or payable in euro, a day on which the Trans-European Automated Real Time Gross Settlement Express Transfer (TARGET) System (the TARGET System) is open.

(ii) Rate of Interest

The Rate of Interest payable from time to time in respect of Floating Rate Covered Bonds and Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds will be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(A) ISDA Determination for Floating Rate Covered Bonds

Where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will be the relevant ISDA Rate plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin (if any). For the purposes of this subparagraph (A), ISDA Rate for an Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate that would be determined by the Principal Paying Agent or other person specified in the applicable Final Terms under an interest rate swap transaction if the Principal Paying Agent or that other person were acting as Calculation Agent for that swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the 2000 ISDA Definitions, as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. and as amended and updated as at the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the Covered Bonds (the ISDA Definitions) and under which:

(1) the Floating Rate Option is as specified in the applicable Final Terms;

(2) the Designated Maturity is the period specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(3) the relevant Reset Date is either (i) if the applicable Floating Rate Option is based on the London inter-bank offered rate (LIBOR) or the Euro-zone inter-bank offered rate (EURIBOR) for a currency, the first day of that Interest Period, or (ii) in any other case, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

For the purposes of this sub-paragraph (A), Floating Rate, Calculation Agent, Floating Rate Option, Designated Maturity and Reset Date have the meanings given to those terms in the ISDA Definitions.

(B) Screen Rate Determination for Floating Rate Covered Bonds

Where Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will, subject as provided below, be either:

(1) the offered quotation (if there is only one quotation on the Relevant Screen Page); or

(2) the arithmetic mean (rounded if necessary to the fifth decimal place, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards) of the offered quotations,

(expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate which appears or appear, as the case may be, on the Relevant Screen Page as at 11.00 a.m. (London time, in the case of LIBOR, or Brussels time, in the case of EURIBOR) on the Interest Determination Date in question plus or minus the Margin (if any), all as determined by the Principal Paying Agent. If five or more of such offered quotations are available on the Relevant Screen Page, the highest (or, if there is more than one such highest quotation, one only of such quotations) and the lowest (or, if there is more than one such lowest quotation, one only of such quotations) shall be disregarded by the Principal Paying Agent for the purpose of determining the arithmetic mean (rounded as provided above) of such offered quotations.

The Agency Agreement contains provisions for determining the Rate of Interest pursuant to this sub-paragraph (B) in the event that the Relevant Screen Page is not available or if, in the case of (1) above, no such offered quotation appears or, in the case of (2) above, fewer than three such offered quotations appear, in each case as at the time specified in the preceding paragraph.

If the Reference Rate from time to time in respect of Floating Rate Covered Bonds is specified in the applicable Final Terms as being other than LIBOR or EURIBOR, the Rate of Interest in respect of such Covered Bonds will be determined as provided in the applicable Final Terms.

(iii) Minimum Rate of Interest and/or Maximum Rate of Interest

If the applicable Final Terms specifies a Minimum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (ii) above is less than such Minimum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Minimum Rate of Interest.

If the applicable Final Terms specifies a Maximum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (ii) above is greater than such Maximum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Maximum Rate of Interest.

(iv) Determination of Rate of Interest and calculation of Interest Amounts

The Principal Paying Agent, in the case of Floating Rate Covered Bonds, and the Calculation Agent, in the case of Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds, will at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, determine the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period. In the case of Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds, the Calculation Agent will notify the Principal Paying Agent of the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period as soon as practicable after calculating the same.

The Principal Paying Agent will calculate the amount of interest payable on the Floating Rate Covered Bonds or Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds in respect of each Specified Denomination (each an Interest Amount) for the relevant Interest Period. Each Interest Amount shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to each Specified Denomination, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.

Day Count Fraction means, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest for any Interest Period:

(A) if "Actual/365" or "Actual/Actual (ISDA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 (or, if any portion of that Interest Period falls in a leap year, the sum of (A) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (B) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a non-leap year divided by 365);

(B) if "Actual/365 (Fixed)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365;

(C) if "Actual/365 (Sterling)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 or, in the case of an Interest Payment Date falling in a leap year, 366;

(D) if "Actual/360" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360;

(E) if "30/360", "360/360" or "Bond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360 (the number of days to be calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months (unless (a) the last day of the Interest Period is the 31st day of a month but the first day of the Interest Period is a day other than the 30th or 31st day of a month, in which case the month that includes that last day shall not be considered to be shortened to a 30-day month, or (b) the last day of the Interest Period is the last day of the month of February, in which case the month of February shall not be considered to be lengthened to a 30-day month)); and

(F) if "30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360 (the number of days to be calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months, without regard to the date of the first day or last day of the Interest Period unless, in the case of the final Interest Period, the Final Maturity Date (or, as the case may be, Extended Due for Payment Date) is the last day of the month of February, in which case the month of February shall not be considered to be lengthened to a 30-day month).

(v) Notification of Rate of Interest and Interest Amounts

The Issuer will cause the Rate of Interest and each Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Bond Trustee and to any stock exchange or other relevant competent authority or quotation system on which the relevant Floating Rate Covered Bonds or Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds are for the time being listed, quoted and/or traded or by which they have been admitted to listing and to be published in accordance with Condition 13 as soon as possible after their determination but in no event later than the fourth Business Day (as defined in Condition 4(b)(i)) thereafter by the Principal Paying Agent. Each Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment or alternative arrangements will be promptly notified to the Bond Trustee and each stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the relevant Floating Rate Covered Bonds or Index Linked Interest Covered Bonds are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to listing and to Covered Bondholders in accordance with Condition 13.

(vi) Determination or Calculation by Bond Trustee

If for any reason at any relevant time after the Issue Date, the Principal Paying Agent or, as the case may be, the Calculation Agent defaults in its obligation to determine the Rate of Interest or the Principal Paying Agent defaults in its obligation to calculate any Interest Amount in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii)(A) or (B) above or as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, as the case may be, and in each case in accordance with paragraph (iv) above, the Bond Trustee shall determine the Rate of Interest at such rate as, in its absolute discretion (having such regard as it shall think fit to the foregoing provisions of this Condition, but subject always to any Minimum Rate of Interest or Maximum Rate of Interest specified in the applicable Final Terms), it shall deem fair and reasonable in all the circumstances or, as the case may be, the Bond Trustee shall calculate the Interest Amount(s) in such manner as it shall deem fair and reasonable in all the circumstances and each such determination or calculation shall be deemed to have been made by the Principal Paying Agent or the Calculation Agent, as the case may be.

(vii) Certificates to be final

All certificates, communications, opinions, determinations, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the provisions of this Condition 4(b), whether by the Principal Paying Agent or the Calculation Agent or the Bond Trustee shall (in the absence of wilful default, bad faith or manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, the LLP, the Principal Paying Agent, the Calculation Agent, the other Paying Agents, the Bond Trustee and all Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders and (in the absence of wilful default or bad faith) no liability to the Issuer, the LLP, the Covered Bondholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders shall attach to the Principal Paying Agent or the Calculation Agent or the Bond Trustee in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

(c) Interest on Dual Currency Interest Covered Bonds

In the case of Dual Currency Interest Covered Bonds where the rate or amount of interest falls to be determined by reference to an exchange rate, the rate or amount of interest shall be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(d) Accrual of interest

Interest (if any) will cease to accrue on each Covered Bond (or in the case of the redemption of part only of a Covered Bond, that part only of such Covered Bond) on the due date for redemption thereof unless, upon due presentation thereof, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused in which event, interest will continue to accrue as provided in the Trust Deed.

5. Payments

(a) Method of payment

Subject as provided below:

(i) payments in a Specified Currency other than euro will be made by credit or transfer to an account in the relevant Specified Currency (which, in the case of a payment in Yen to a non-resident of Japan, shall be a non-resident account) maintained by the payee with, or, at the option of the payee, by a cheque in such Specified Currency drawn on, a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of such Specified Currency (which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively); and

(ii) payments in euro will be made by credit or transfer to a euro account (or any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) specified by the payee or, at the option of the payee, by a euro cheque.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 7. References to Specified Currency will include any successor currency under applicable law.

(b) Presentation of Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds, Receipts and Coupons

Payments of principal and interest (if any) will (subject as provided below) be made against presentation and surrender of Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds or Coupons, as the case may be, at any specified office of any Paying Agent outside the United States (which expression, as used herein, means the United States of America (including the States and the District of Columbia, its territories, its possessions and other areas subject to its jurisdiction)).

Payments of instalments (if any) of principal other than the final instalment, will (subject as provided below) be made against presentation and surrender of the relevant Receipt. Each Receipt must be presented for payment of the relevant instalment together with the Bearer Definitive Covered Bond to which it appertains. If any Bearer Definitive Covered Bond is redeemed or becomes repayable prior to the stated maturity thereof, principal will be payable only on surrender of such Bearer Definitive Covered Bond together with all unmatured Receipts appertaining thereto. Receipts presented without the Bearer Definitive Covered Bond to which they appertain and unmatured Receipts do not constitute valid obligations of the Issuer or the LLP.

Fixed Rate Covered Bonds in definitive bearer form (other than Dual Currency Covered Bonds or Index Linked Covered Bonds or Long Maturity Covered Bonds) should be presented for payment together with all unmatured Coupons appertaining thereto (which expression shall include Coupons falling to be issued on exchange of matured Talons), failing which an amount equal to the face value of any missing unmatured Coupon (or, in the case of payment not being made in full, the same proportion of the amount of such missing unmatured Coupon as the sum so paid bears to the total amount due) will be deducted from the amount due for payment. Each amount of principal so deducted will be paid in the manner mentioned above against surrender of the relative missing Coupon at any time before the expiry of 12 years after the Relevant Date (as defined in Condition 7) in respect of such principal (whether or not such Coupon would otherwise have become void under Condition 8) or, if later, six years from the date on which such Coupon would otherwise have become due.

Upon amounts in respect of any Fixed Rate Covered Bond in definitive bearer form becoming due and repayable by the Issuer (in the absence of a Notice to Pay) or LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee prior to its Final Maturity Date (or, as the case may be, Extended Due for Payment Date), all unmatured Talons (if any) appertaining thereto will become void and no further Coupons will be issued in respect thereof.

Upon the due date for redemption of any Floating Rate Covered Bond, Dual Currency Covered Bond, Index Linked Covered Bond or Long Maturity Covered Bond in definitive bearer form, all unmatured Coupons and Talons (if any) relating thereto (whether or not attached) shall become void and no payment or, as the case may be, exchange for further Coupons shall be made in respect thereof. A Long Maturity Covered Bond is a Fixed Rate Covered Bond (other than a Fixed Rate Covered Bond which on issue had a Talon attached) whose nominal amount on issue is less than the aggregate interest payable thereon provided that such Covered Bond shall cease to be a Long Maturity Covered Bond on the Interest Payment Date on which the aggregate amount of interest remaining to be paid after that date is less than the Principal Amount Outstanding of such Covered Bond. If the date for redemption of any Bearer Definitive Covered Bond is not an Interest Payment Date, interest (if any) accrued in respect of such Covered Bond from (and including) the preceding Interest Payment Date or, as the case may be, the Interest Commencement Date shall be payable only against surrender of the relevant Bearer Definitive Covered Bond.

(c) Payments in respect of Bearer Global Covered Bonds

Payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of Covered Bonds represented by any Bearer Global Covered Bond will (subject as provided below) be made in the manner specified above in relation to Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds and otherwise in the manner specified in the relevant Global Covered Bond against presentation or surrender, as the case may be, of such Global Covered Bond at the specified office of any Paying Agent outside the United States. A record of each payment made on such Bearer Global Covered Bond, distinguishing between any payment of principal and any payment of interest, will be made on such Global Covered Bond by the Paying Agent and such record shall be prima facie evidence that the payment in question has been made.

(d) Payments in respect of Registered Covered Bonds

Payments of principal (other than instalments of principal prior to the final instalment) in respect of each Registered Covered Bond (whether or not in global form) will be made against presentation and surrender (or, in the case of part payment of any sum due, endorsement) of the Registered Covered Bond at the specified office of the Registrar or any of the Paying Agents. Such payments will be made by transfer to the Designated Account (as defined below) of the holder (or the first named of joint holders) of the Registered Covered Bond appearing in the register of holders of the Registered Covered Bonds maintained by the Registrar (the Register) at the close of business on the third Business Day (being for this purpose a day on which banks are open for business in the city where the specified office of the Registrar is located) before the relevant due date. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, if (i) a holder does not have a Designated Account or (ii) the principal amount of the Covered Bonds held by a holder is less than U.S.$250,000 (or its approximate equivalent in any other Specified Currency), payment will instead be made by a cheque in the Specified Currency drawn on a Designated Bank (as defined below). For these purposes, Designated Account means the account (which, in the case of a payment in Japanese Yen to a non-resident of Japan, shall be a non-resident account) maintained by a holder with a Designated Bank and identified as such in the Register and Designated Bank means (in the case of payment in a Specified Currency other than euro) a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of such Specified Currency (which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively) and (in the case of a payment in euro) any bank which processes payments in euro.

Payments of interest and payments of instalments of principal (other than the final instalment) in respect of each Registered Covered Bond (whether or not in global form) will be made by a cheque in the Specified Currency drawn on a Designated Bank and mailed by uninsured mail on the Business Day in the city where the specified office of the Registrar is located immediately preceding the relevant due date to the holder (or the first named of joint holders) of the Registered Covered Bond appearing in the Register at the close of business on the fifteenth day (whether or not such fifteenth day is a Business Day) before the relevant due date (the Record Date) at the holder's address shown in the Register on the Record Date and at the holder's risk. Upon application of the holder to the specified office of the Registrar not less than three Business Days in the city where the specified office of the Registrar is located before the due date for any payment of interest in respect of a Registered Covered Bond, the payment may be made by transfer on the due date in the manner provided in the preceding paragraph. Any such application for transfer shall be deemed to relate to all future payments of interest (other than interest due on redemption) and instalments of principal (other than the final instalment) in respect of the Registered Covered Bonds which become payable to the holder who has made the initial application until such time as the Registrar is notified in writing to the contrary by such holder. Payment of the interest due in respect of each Registered Covered Bond on redemption and the final instalment of principal will be made in the same manner as payment of the principal in respect of such Registered Covered Bond.

Holders of Registered Covered Bonds will not be entitled to any interest or other payment for any delay in receiving any amount due in respect of any Registered Covered Bond as a result of a cheque posted in accordance with this Condition arriving after the due date for payment or being lost in the post. No commissions or expenses shall be charged to such holders by the Registrar in respect of any payments of principal or interest in respect of the Registered Covered Bonds.

All amounts payable to DTC or its nominee as registered holder of a Registered Global Covered Bond in respect of Covered Bonds denominated in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars shall be paid by transfer by the Registrar to an account in the relevant Specified Currency of the Exchange Agent on behalf of DTC or its nominee for conversion into and payment in U.S. dollars in accordance with the provisions of the Agency Agreement.

None of the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee or the Agents will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to, or payments made on account of, beneficial ownership interests in the Registered Global Covered Bonds or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

(e) General provisions applicable to payments

The holder of a Global Covered Bond (or, as provided in the Trust Deed, the Bond Trustee) shall be the only person entitled to receive payments in respect of Covered Bonds represented by such Global Covered Bond and the Issuer or, as the case may be, the LLP will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, the holder of such Global Covered Bond (or the Bond Trustee, as the case may be) in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the beneficial holder of a particular nominal amount of Covered Bonds represented by such Global Covered Bond must look solely to DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, for his share of each payment so made by the Issuer or the LLP to, or to the order of, the holder of such Global Covered Bond (or the Bond Trustee, as the case may be). No person other than the holder of the relevant Global Covered Bond (or, as provided in the Trust Deed, the Bond Trustee) shall have any claim against the Issuer or the LLP in respect of any payments due on that Global Covered Bond.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Condition, payments of principal and/or interest in U.S. Dollars will only be made at the specified office of a Paying Agent in the United States if:

(i) the Issuer has appointed Paying Agents with specified offices outside the United States with the reasonable expectation that such Paying Agents would be able to make payment in U.S. Dollars at such specified offices outside the United States of the full amount of interest on the Bearer Covered Bonds in the manner provided above when due;

(ii) payment of the full amount of such principal and interest at such specified offices outside the United States is illegal or effectively precluded by exchange controls or other similar restrictions on the full payment or receipt of principal and interest in U.S. Dollars; and

(iii) such payment is then permitted under United States law without involving, in the opinion of the Issuer and the LLP, adverse tax consequences to the Issuer or the LLP.

(f) Payment Day

If the date for payment of any amount in respect of any Covered Bond, Receipt or Coupon is not a Payment Day (as defined below), the holder thereof shall not be entitled to payment of the relevant amount due until the next following Payment Day and shall not be entitled to any interest or other sum in respect of any such delay. In this Condition (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms), Payment Day means any day which (subject to Condition 8) is:

(i) a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in:

(A) the relevant place of presentation;

(B) London; and

(C) any Additional Financial Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(ii) either (1) in relation to any sum payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than the place of presentation, London and any Additional Financial Centre and which if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively) or (2) in relation to any sum payable in euro, a day on which the TARGET System is open; and

(iii) in the case of any payment in respect of a Registered Global Covered Bond denominated in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars and registered in the name of DTC or its nominee and in respect of which an accountholder of DTC (with an interest in such Registered Global Covered Bond) has elected to receive any part of such payment in U.S. dollars, a day on which commercial banks are not authorised or required by law or regulation to be closed in New York City.

(g) Interpretation of principal and interest

Any reference in these Conditions to principal in respect of the Covered Bonds shall be deemed to include, as applicable:

(i) any additional amounts which may be payable with respect to principal under Condition 7 or under any undertakings or covenants given in addition thereto, or in substitution therefor, pursuant to the Trust Deed;

(ii) the Final Redemption Amount of the Covered Bonds;

(iii) the Early Redemption Amount of the Covered Bonds;

(iv) the Optional Redemption Amount(s) (if any) of the Covered Bonds;

(v) in relation to Covered Bonds redeemable in instalments, the Instalment Amounts;

(vi) in relation to Zero Coupon Covered Bonds, the Amortised Face Amount (as defined in Condition 6(d));

(vii) any premium and any other amounts (other than interest) which may be payable under or in respect of the Covered Bonds;

(viii) in relation to Dual Currency Covered Bonds, the principal payable in any relevant Specified Currency; and

(ix) any Excess Proceeds which may be payable by the Bond Trustee under or in respect of the Covered Bonds.

Any reference in these Conditions to interest in respect of the Covered Bonds shall be deemed to include, as applicable, any additional amounts which may be payable with respect to interest under Condition 7 or under any undertakings given in addition thereto, or in substitution therefor, pursuant to the Trust Deed.

6. Redemption and Purchase

(a) Final redemption

Unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled as specified below, each Covered Bond will be redeemed by the Issuer at its Final Redemption Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms in the relevant Specified Currency on the Final Maturity Date.

Without prejudice to Condition 9, if an Extended Due for Payment Date is specified as applicable in the Final Terms for a Series of Covered Bonds and the Issuer has failed to pay the Final Redemption Amount on the Final Maturity Date specified in the Final Terms (or after expiry of the grace period set out in Condition 9(a)(i)) and following the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP by no later than the date falling one Business Day prior to the Extension Determination Date the LLP has insufficient moneys available under the Guarantee Priority of Payments to pay the Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the Final Redemption Amount in full in respect of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds on the date falling on the earlier of (a) the date which falls two Business Days after service of such Notice to Pay on the LLP or if later the Final Maturity Date (or, in each case, after the expiry of the grace period set out in Condition 9(b)(i)) under the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee or (b) the Extension Determination Date, then (subject as provided below) payment of the unpaid amount by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee shall be deferred until the Extended Due for Payment Date.

The LLP shall notify the relevant Covered Bondholders (in accordance with Condition 13), the Rating Agencies, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent and the Registrar (in the case of Registered Covered Bonds) as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event at least one Business Day prior to the dates specified in (a) and (b) of the preceding paragraph of any inability of the LLP to pay in full the Guaranteed Amounts corresponding to the Final Redemption Amount in respect of a Series of Covered Bonds pursuant to the Covered Bond Guarantee. Any failure by the LLP to notify such parties shall not affect the validity or effectiveness of the extension nor give rise to any rights in any such party.

In the circumstances outlined above, the LLP shall on the earlier of (a) the date falling two Business Days after the service of a Notice to Pay or if later the Final Maturity Date (or, in each case, after the expiry of the grace period set out in Condition 9(b)(i)) and (b) the Extension Determination Date, under the Covered Bond Guarantee, apply the moneys (if any) available (after paying or providing for payment of higher ranking or pari passu amounts in accordance with the Guarantee Priority of Payments) pro rata in part payment of an amount equal to the Final Redemption Amount of each Covered Bond of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds and shall pay Guaranteed Amounts constituting the Scheduled Interest in respect of each such Covered Bond on such date. The obligation of the LLP to pay any amounts in respect of the balance of the Final Redemption Amount not so paid shall be deferred as described above.

Any discharge of the Issuer as the result of the payment of Excess Proceeds to the Bond Trustee shall be disregarded for the purposes of determining the amounts to be paid by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee in connection with this Condition 6(a).

Such failure to pay by the LLP shall not constitute an LLP Event of Default.

(b) Redemption for taxation reasons

The Covered Bonds may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer in whole, but not in part, at any time (if this Covered Bond is neither a Floating Rate Covered Bond, an Index Linked Interest Covered Bond nor a Dual Currency Interest Covered Bond) or on any Interest Payment Date (if this Covered Bond is either a Floating Rate Covered Bond, an Index Linked Interest Covered Bond or a Dual Currency Interest Covered Bond), on giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Bond Trustee and, in accordance with Condition 13, the Covered Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable), if the Issuer satisfies the Bond Trustee immediately before the giving of such notice that on the occasion of the next date for payment of interest, the Issuer is or will be required to pay additional amounts as provided in Condition 7. Covered Bonds redeemed pursuant to this Condition 6(b) will be redeemed at their Early Redemption Amount referred to in paragraph (d) below together (if appropriate, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the date of redemption).

(c) Redemption at the option of the Issuer (Issuer Call)

If Issuer Call is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may, having (unless otherwise specified, in the applicable Final Terms) given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Bond Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, (in the case of the redemption of Registered Covered Bonds) the Registrar and, in accordance with Condition 13, the Covered Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) redeem all or some only (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) of the Covered Bonds then outstanding on any Optional Redemption Date(s) and at the Optional Redemption Amount(s) specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms together, if applicable, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the relevant Optional Redemption Date(s). Upon expiry of such notice, the Issuer shall be bound to redeem the Covered Bonds accordingly. In the event of the redemption of some only of the Covered Bonds, such redemption must be for an amount being the Minimum Redemption Amount or a Higher Redemption Amount. In the case of a partial redemption of Covered Bonds, the Covered Bonds to be redeemed (the Redeemed Covered Bonds) will be selected individually by lot, in the case of Redeemed Covered Bonds represented by Definitive Covered Bonds, and in accordance with the rules of DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, in the case of Redeemed Covered Bonds represented by a Global Covered Bond, in each case, not more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for redemption (such date of selection being hereinafter called the Selection Date). In the case of Redeemed Covered Bonds represented by Definitive Covered Bonds, a list of the serial numbers of such Redeemed Covered Bonds will be published in accordance with Condition 13 not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption. The aggregate nominal amount of Redeemed Covered Bonds represented by Definitive Covered Bonds shall bear the same proportion to the aggregate nominal amount of all Redeemed Covered Bonds as the aggregate nominal amount of Definitive Covered Bonds outstanding bears to the aggregate nominal amount of the Covered Bonds outstanding, in each case on the Selection Date, provided that such first mentioned nominal amount shall, if necessary, be rounded downwards to the nearest integral multiple of the Specified Denomination, and the aggregate nominal amount of Redeemed Covered Bonds represented by a Global Covered Bond shall be equal to the balance of the Redeemed Covered Bonds. No exchange of the relevant Global Covered Bond will be permitted during the period from (and including) the Selection Date to (and including) the date fixed for redemption pursuant to this paragraph (c) and notice to that effect shall be given by the Issuer to the Covered Bondholders in accordance with Condition 13 at least 30 days prior to the Selection Date.

(d) Early Redemption Amounts

For the purpose of paragraphs (b) above and (j) below and Condition 9, each Covered Bond will be redeemed at its Early Redemption Amount calculated as follows:

(i) in the case of a Covered Bond with a Final Redemption Amount equal to the Issue Price, at the Final Redemption Amount thereof;

(ii) in the case of a Covered Bond (other than a Zero Coupon Covered Bond but including an Instalment Covered Bond) with a Final Redemption Amount which is or may be less or greater than the Issue Price or which is payable in a Specified Currency other than that in which the Covered Bond is denominated, at the amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms or, if no such amount or manner is so specified in the applicable Final Terms, at its nominal amount; or

(iii) in the case of a Zero Coupon Covered Bond, at an amount (the Amortised Face Amount) equal to the sum of:

(a) the Reference Price; and

(b) the product of the Accrual Yield (compounded annually) being applied to the Reference Price from (and including) the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the Covered Bonds to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption or (as the case may be) the date upon which such Covered Bond becomes due and repayable, or such other amount as is provided in the applicable Final Terms.

Where such calculation is to be made for a period which is not a whole number of years, it shall be made (i) in the case of a Zero Coupon Covered Bond payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of 12 months of 30 days each or (ii) in the case of a Zero Coupon Covered Bond payable in euro, on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed divided by 365 (or, if any of the days elapsed falls in a leap year, the sum of (x) the number of those days falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (y) the number of those days falling in a non leap year divided by 365) or (iii) on such other calculation basis as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(e) Instalments

Instalment Covered Bonds will be redeemed in the Instalment Amounts and on the Instalment Dates. In the case of early redemption, the Early Redemption Amount will be determined pursuant to paragraph (d) above.

(f) Purchases

The Issuer or any of its subsidiaries (including the LLP) may at any time purchase or otherwise acquire Covered Bonds (provided that, in the case of Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds, all unmatured Receipts, Coupons and Talons appertaining thereto are attached thereto or surrendered therewith) at any price in the open market either by tender or private agreement or otherwise. If purchases are made by tender, tenders must be available to all Covered Bondholders alike. Such Covered Bonds may be held, reissued, resold or, at the option of the Issuer or the relevant subsidiary, surrendered to any Paying Agent and/or the Registrar for cancellation (except that any Covered Bonds purchased or otherwise acquired by the LLP must immediately be surrendered to any Paying Agent and/or the Registrar for cancellation).

(g) Cancellation

All Covered Bonds which are redeemed will forthwith be cancelled (together with, in the case of Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds, all unmatured Receipts, Coupons and Talons attached thereto or surrendered therewith at the time of redemption). All Covered Bonds so cancelled and any Covered Bonds purchased and surrendered for cancellation pursuant to paragraph (f) above and cancelled (together with, in the case of Bearer Definitive Covered Bonds, all unmatured Receipts, Coupons and Talons cancelled therewith) shall be forwarded to the Principal Paying Agent and cannot be held, reissued or resold.

(h) Late payment on Zero Coupon Covered Bonds

If the amount payable in respect of any Zero Coupon Covered Bond upon redemption of such Zero Coupon Covered Bond pursuant to paragraph (a), (b) or (c) above or upon its becoming due and repayable as provided in Condition 9 is improperly withheld or refused, the amount due and repayable in respect of such Zero Coupon Covered Bond shall be the amount calculated as provided in paragraph (d)(iii) above as though the references therein to the date fixed for the redemption or the date upon which such Zero Coupon Covered Bond becomes due and payable were replaced by references to the date which is the earlier of:

(i) the date on which all amounts due in respect of such Zero Coupon Covered Bond have been paid; and

(ii) the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable in respect of such Zero Coupon Covered Bonds has been received by the Principal Paying Agent or the Bond Trustee or the Registrar and notice to that effect has been given to the Covered Bondholders either in accordance with Condition 13 or individually.

(i) Legislative Exchange

Following the coming into force in the United Kingdom, at any time after the Programme Date, of (i) any legislation similar to covered bond legislation in force in any other European Union country or (ii) any rules, regulations or guidelines published by any governmental authority that provides for bonds issued by United Kingdom issuers to qualify for the same benefits available to covered bonds issued under covered bond legislation in force in any other European Union country, the Issuer may, at its option and without the consent of the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Covered Bondholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders, exchange all (but not some only) of the Covered Bonds of all Series then outstanding (the Existing Covered Bonds) for new Covered Bonds which qualify as covered bonds under such new legislation, rules, regulations or guidelines (the New Covered Bonds) in identical form, amounts and denominations as the Existing Covered Bonds and on the same economic terms and conditions as the Existing Covered Bonds (the Legislative Exchange) if not more than 60 nor less than 30 days' notice to the Covered Bondholders (in accordance with Condition 13) and the Bond Trustee is given and provided that:

(i) on the date on which such notice expires the Issuer delivers to the Bond Trustee a certificate signed by two Directors of the Issuer and a certificate signed by a Designated Member of the LLP confirming that, in the case of the Issuer, no Issuer Event of Default or Potential Issuer Event of Default and, in the case of the LLP, no LLP Event of Default or Potential LLP Event of Default, shall have occurred and be continuing;

(ii) each of the Rating Agencies then rating the Existing Covered Bonds has confirmed in writing that the New Covered Bonds will be assigned the same ratings as are then applicable to the Existing Covered Bonds; and

(iii) if the Existing Covered Bonds are listed, quoted and/or traded on or by a competent and/ or relevant listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system on or before the date on which such notice expires the Issuer delivers to the Bond Trustee a certificate signed by two Directors of the Issuer confirming that all applicable rules of such competent and/or relevant listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system have been or will be complied with.

The Existing Covered Bonds will be cancelled concurrently with the issue of the New Covered Bonds and with effect on and from the date of issue thereof all references herein to Covered Bonds shall be deemed to be references to the New Covered Bonds.

(j) Redemption due to illegality

The Covered Bonds of all Series may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer in whole, but not in part, at any time, on giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Bond Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, the Registrar and, in accordance with Condition 13, all Covered Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable), if the Issuer satisfies the Bond Trustee immediately before the giving of such notice that it has, or will, before the next Interest Payment Date of any Covered Bond of any Series, become unlawful for the Issuer to make, fund or allow to remain outstanding any Term Advance made by it to the LLP under the Intercompany Loan Agreement, as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the applicable laws or regulations or any change in the application or official interpretation of such laws or regulations, which change or amendment has become or will become effective before the next such Interest Payment Date.

Prior to the publication of any notice of redemption pursuant to this Condition, the Issuer shall deliver to the Bond Trustee a certificate signed by two Directors of the Issuer stating that the Issuer is entitled to effect such redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to the right of the Issuer so to redeem have occurred and the Bond Trustee shall be entitled to accept the certificate as sufficient evidence of the satisfaction of the conditions precedent set out above, in which event it shall be conclusive and binding on all Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders.

Covered Bonds redeemed pursuant to this Condition 6(j) will be redeemed at their Early Redemption Amount referred to in paragraph 6(d) above together (if appropriate) with interest accrued to (but excluding) the date of redemption.

7. Taxation

All payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of the Covered Bonds, Receipts and Coupons by or on behalf of the Issuer or the LLP, as the case may be, will be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of the United Kingdom or any political sub-division thereof or by any authority therein or thereof having power to tax unless such withholding or deduction of such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges is required by law. In the event of a withholding or deduction being made by the Issuer in respect of a payment made by it, the Issuer will pay such additional amounts as shall be necessary in order that the net amounts received by the holders of the Covered Bonds, Receipts or Coupons after such withholding or deduction shall equal the respective amounts of principal and interest which would otherwise have been receivable in respect of the Covered Bonds, Receipts or Coupons, as the case may be, in the absence of such withholding or deduction; except that no such additional amounts shall be payable with respect to any Covered Bond, Receipt or Coupon presented for payment:

(a) in the United Kingdom; or

(b) by or on behalf of a holder who (i) is able to avoid such withholding or deduction by satisfying any statutory requirements or by making a declaration of non-residence or other claim for exemption to the relevant taxing authority but fails to do so; or (ii) is liable for such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges in respect of such Covered Bonds, Receipts or Coupons (as the case may be) by reason of his having some connection with the United Kingdom other than merely by reason of the holding of such Covered Bonds, Receipts or Coupons; or

(c) more than 30 days after the Relevant Date (as defined below) except to the extent that the holder thereof would have been entitled to an additional amount on presenting the same for payment on the last day of such period of 30 days; or

(d) where such withholding or deduction is imposed on a payment to an individual and is required to be made pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any law implementing or complying with, or introduced in order to conform to, such Directive; or

(e) by or on behalf of a holder who would be able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Covered Bond, Receipt or Coupon to another Paying Agent in a Member State of the European Union.

As used herein:

Relevant Date means the date on which such payment in respect of the Covered Bond, Receipt or Coupon first becomes due and payable, except that, if the full amount of the moneys payable on such date has not been duly received by the Bond Trustee, the Registrar or the Principal Paying Agent on or prior to such date, it means the date on which such moneys have been so received, notice to that effect having been given to the Covered Bondholders in accordance with Condition 13.

Should any payments made by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee be made subject to any withholding or deduction on account of taxes or duties of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on account of the United Kingdom or any political sub-division thereof or by any authority therein or thereof having power to tax, the LLP will not be obliged to pay any additional amounts as a consequence.

8. Prescription

The Covered Bonds (whether in bearer or registered form), Receipts and Coupons will become void unless presented for payment within 12 years (in the case of principal) and six years (in the case of interest) in each case from the Relevant Date (as defined in Condition 7) therefor, subject in each case to the provisions of Condition 5.

There shall not be included in any Coupon sheet issued on exchange of a Talon, any Coupon the claim for payment in respect of which would be void pursuant to this Condition or Condition 5 or any Talon which would be void pursuant to Condition 5.

9. Events of Default and Enforcement

(a) Issuer Events of Default

The Bond Trustee at its discretion may, and if so requested in writing by the holders of at least 25 per cent. of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds (which for this purpose or the purpose of any Extraordinary Resolution referred to in this Condition 9(a) means the Covered Bonds of this Series together with the Covered Bonds of any other Series constituted by the Trust Deed) then outstanding as if they were a single Series (with the nominal amount of Covered Bonds not denominated in Sterling converted into Sterling at the relevant Covered Bond Swap Rate) or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of all the Covered Bondholders shall, (but in the case of the happening of any of the events mentioned in sub-paragraphs (ii) to (vii) below, only if the Bond Trustee shall have certified in writing that such event is, in its opinion, materially prejudicial to the interests of the Covered Bondholders of any Series) (subject in each case to being indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction), give notice (an Issuer Acceleration Notice) in writing to the Issuer that as against the Issuer (but not, for the avoidance of doubt, against the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee) that each Covered Bond of each Series is, and each such Covered Bond shall thereupon immediately become, due and repayable at its Early Redemption Amount together with accrued interest as provided in the Trust Deed if any of the following events (each an Issuer Event of Default) shall occur and be continuing:

(i) if default is made for a period of seven days or more in the payment of any principal due in respect of the Covered Bonds or any of them or 14 days or more in the payment of any interest due in respect of the Covered Bonds or any of them; or

(ii) if default is made by the Issuer in the performance or observance of any obligation, condition or provision binding on it under the Covered Bonds, Receipts or Coupons of any Series or the Trust Deed or any other Transaction Document to which the Issuer is party (other than any obligation for the payment of any principal or interest in respect of the Covered Bonds) and, except where such default is or the effects of such default are, in the opinion of the Bond Trustee, not capable of remedy when no such continuation and notice as is hereinafter mentioned will be required, such default continues for 30 days (or such longer period as the Bond Trustee may permit) after written notice thereof has been given by the Bond Trustee to the Issuer requiring the same to be remedied; or

(iii) if an order is made or an effective resolution passed for the winding up of the Issuer (except, in any such case, a winding up or dissolution for the purpose of a reconstruction or amalgamation in the terms of which have previously been approved by the Bond Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution or a voluntary solvent winding-up); or

(iv) if the Issuer stops or threatens to stop payment to its creditors generally or the Issuer ceases or threatens to cease to carry on its business or substantially the whole of its business (except for the purpose of or in connection with a reconstruction or amalgamation the terms of which have previously been approved in writing by the Bond Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution or a voluntary solvent winding-up); or

(v) if an encumbrancer takes possession or a receiver, administrator, administrative receiver or other similar officer is appointed of the whole or any material part of the undertaking, property and assets of the Issuer or if a distress, diligence or execution is levied or enforced upon or sued out against the whole or any material part of the chattels or property of the Issuer and, in the case of any of the foregoing events, is not discharged within 30 days (or such longer period as the Bond Trustee may permit); or

(vi) if any payment in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed (which indebtedness has an outstanding aggregate principal amount of at least the Specified Amount) by the Issuer is not made on its due date (or by the expiry of any applicable grace period as originally provided) or becomes due and payable prior to its stated maturity by reason of default or if any guarantee or indemnity of any payment in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed from any third party given by the Issuer is not honoured when due and called upon (except where the aggregate liability under any such guarantees or indemnities does not exceed the Specified Amount); or

(vii) the Issuer shall be unable to pay its debts as and when they fall due; or

(viii) a failure to satisfy the Asset Coverage Test (as set out in the LLP Deed) on any Calculation Date which has not been cured by the LLP by the next following Calculation Date.

As used in this Condition, Specified Amount means the greater of (a) £15,000,000 or its equivalent in any other currency or currencies and (b) such amount in Sterling as is equal to one per cent. of the aggregate of (1) the nominal amount of the share capital of the Issuer for the time being issued and paid up or credited as paid up, (2) the amounts standing to the credit of the reserves (including any share premium account and profit and loss account) of the Issuer and its Subsidiaries and (3) any amounts attributable to minority interests in Subsidiaries, all as shown in the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and its subsidiaries prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United Kingdom less (4) any amounts, determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United Kingdom, representing distribution of cash or tangible assets declared, recommended or made by the Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries (other than any distribution attributable to the Issuer or another Subsidiary) out of profits accrued prior to the date of, and not provided for in, the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and its Subsidiaries and less (5) any amounts shown in such latest audited consolidated balance sheet (y) attributable to intangible assets and (z) of any debit on profit and loss account.

A certificate of two Directors of the Issuer as to the Specified Amount shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on all parties.

Upon the Covered Bonds becoming immediately due and repayable against the Issuer pursuant to this Condition 9(a), the Bond Trustee shall forthwith serve a notice to pay (the Notice to Pay) on the LLP pursuant to the Covered Bond Guarantee and the LLP shall be required to make payments of Guaranteed Amounts when the same shall become Due for Payment in accordance with the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee.

Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice, the Bond Trustee may or shall take such proceedings against the Issuer in accordance with the first paragraph of Condition 9(c).

The Trust Deed provides that all moneys received by the Bond Trustee from the Issuer or any administrator, administrative receiver, receiver, liquidator or other similar official appointed in relation to the Issuer following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and a Notice to Pay (the Excess Proceeds), shall be paid by the Bond Trustee on behalf of the Covered Bondholders of the relevant Series to the LLP for its own account, as soon as practicable, and shall be held by the LLP in the GIC Account and the Excess Proceeds shall thereafter form part of the Security and shall be used by the LLP in the same manner as all other moneys from time to time standing to the credit of the GIC Account pursuant to the Deed of Charge and the LLP Deed. Any Excess Proceeds received by the Bond Trustee shall discharge pro tanto the obligations of the Issuer in respect of the payment of the amount of such Excess Proceeds under the Covered Bonds, Receipts and Coupons. However, the obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee are (following an Issuer Event of Default and service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer and Notice to Pay on the LLP) unconditional and irrevocable and the receipt by the Bond Trustee of any Excess Proceeds shall not reduce or discharge any of such obligations.

By subscribing for Covered Bond(s), each Covered Bondholder shall be deemed to have irrevocably directed the Bond Trustee to pay the Excess Proceeds to the LLP in the manner as described above.

(b) LLP Events of Default

The Bond Trustee at its discretion may, and if so requested in writing by the holders of at least 25 per cent. of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds (which for this purpose and the purpose of any Extraordinary Resolution referred to in this Condition 9(b) means the Covered Bonds of this Series together with the Covered Bonds of any other Series constituted by the Trust Deed) then outstanding as if they were a single Series (with the nominal amount of Covered Bonds not denominated in Sterling converted into Sterling at the relevant Covered Bond Swap Rate) or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of all the Covered Bondholders shall (subject in each case to being indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction), but in the case of the happening of any of the events described in paragraphs (ii) to (vii) below, only if the Bond Trustee shall have certified in writing to the Issuer and the LLP that such event is, in its opinion, materially prejudicial to the interests of the Covered Bondholders of any Series, give notice (the LLP Acceleration Notice) in writing to the Issuer and to the LLP, that (x) each Covered Bond of each Series is, and each Covered Bond of each Series shall as against the Issuer (if not already due and repayable against it following an Issuer Event of Default), thereupon immediately become, due and repayable at its Early Redemption Amount together with accrued interest and (y) all amounts payable by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee shall thereupon immediately become due and payable at the Guaranteed Amount corresponding to the Early Redemption Amount for each Covered Bond of each Series together with accrued interest, in each case as provided in the Trust Deed and thereafter the Security shall become enforceable if any of the following events (each an LLP Event of Default) shall occur and be continuing:

(i) default is made by the LLP for a period of seven days or more in the payment of any Guaranteed Amounts when Due for Payment in respect of the Covered Bonds of any Series except in the case of the payments of a Guaranteed Amount when Due for Payment under Condition 6(a) where the LLP shall be required to make payments of Guaranteed Amounts which are Due for Payment on the dates specified therein; or

(ii) if default is made by the LLP in the performance or observance of any obligation, condition or provision binding on it (other than any obligation for the payment of Guaranteed Amounts in respect of the Covered Bonds of any Series) under the Trust Deed, the Deed of Charge or any other Transaction Document to which the LLP is a party and, except where such default is or the effects of such default are, in the opinion of the Bond Trustee, not capable of remedy when no such continuation and notice as is hereinafter mentioned will be required, such default continues for 30 days (or such longer period as the Bond Trustee may permit) after written notice thereof has been given by the Bond Trustee to the LLP requiring the same to be remedied; or

(iii) an order is made or an effective resolution passed for the liquidation or winding up of the LLP; or

(iv) if the LLP ceases or threatens to cease to carry on its business or substantially the whole of its business; or

(v) the LLP shall stop payment or shall be unable, or shall admit inability, to pay its debts generally as they fall due or shall be adjudicated or found bankrupt or insolvent; or

(vi) proceedings are initiated against the LLP under any applicable liquidation, winding up, insolvency, bankruptcy, composition, reorganisation or other similar laws (including, but not limited to, presentation of a petition or the filing of documents with a court or any registrar for its winding-up, administration or dissolution or the giving notice of the intention to appoint an administrator (whether out of court or otherwise)); or a receiver, administrator, trustee or other similar official shall be appointed (whether out of court of otherwise) in relation to the LLP or in relation to the whole or any part of its assets, or a distress, diligence or execution or other process shall be levied or enforced upon or sued out against the whole or any part of its assets, or if the LLP shall initiate or consent to judicial proceedings relating to itself under any applicable liquidation, winding up, insolvency, bankruptcy, composition, reorganisation or other similar laws or shall make a conveyance, assignment or assignation for the benefit of, or shall enter into any composition with, its creditors generally; or

(vii) a failure to satisfy the Amortisation Test (as set out in the LLP Deed) on any Calculation Date following an Issuer Event of Default.

Following the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default and service of an LLP Acceleration Notice, each of the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee may or shall take such proceedings or steps in accordance with the first and second paragraphs, respectively, of Condition 9(c) and the Covered Bondholders shall have a claim against the LLP, under the Covered Bond Guarantee, for an amount equal to the Early Redemption Amount together with accrued interest and any other amount due under the Covered Bonds (other than additional amounts payable under Condition 7) as provided in the Trust Deed in respect of each Covered Bond.

(c) Enforcement

The Bond Trustee may at any time after service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice (in the case of the Issuer) or an LLP Acceleration Notice (in the case of the LLP), at its discretion and without further notice, take such proceedings against the Issuer and/or the LLP, as the case may be, and/or any other person as it may think fit to enforce the provisions of the Trust Deed, the Covered Bonds, the Receipts and the Coupons, but it shall not be bound to take any such enforcement proceedings in relation to the Trust Deed, the Covered Bonds, the Receipts or the Coupons or any other Transaction Document unless (i) it shall have been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of all the Covered Bondholders of all Series (with the Covered Bonds of all Series taken together as a single Series as aforesaid) or so requested in writing by the holders of not less than 25 per cent. of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds of all Series then outstanding (taken together and converted into Sterling at the relevant Covered Bond Swap Rate as aforesaid) and (ii) it shall have been indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction.

In exercising any of its powers, trusts, authorities and discretions the Bond Trustee shall only have regard to the interests of the Covered Bondholders of all Series and shall not have regard to the interests of any other Secured Creditors.

The Security Trustee may at any time, at its discretion and without further notice, take such proceedings against the LLP and/or any other person as it may think fit to enforce the provisions of the Deed of Charge and may, at any time after the Security has become enforceable, take such steps as it may think fit to enforce the Security, but it shall not be bound to take any such steps unless (i) it shall have been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of all the Covered Bondholders of all Series (with the Covered Bonds of all Series taken together as a single Series as aforesaid) or a request in writing by the holders of not less than 25 per cent. of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds of all Series then outstanding (taken together converted into Sterling at the relevant Covered Bond Swap Rate as aforesaid); and (ii) it shall have been indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction. In exercising any of its powers, trusts, authorities and discretions under this paragraph the Security Trustee shall only have regard to the interests of the Covered Bondholders of all Series and shall not have regard to the interests of any other Secured Creditors.

No Covered Bondholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to proceed directly against the Issuer or the LLP or to take any action with respect to the Trust Deed, the Covered Bonds, the Receipts, the Coupons, or the Security unless the Bond Trustee or the Security Trustee, as applicable, having become bound so to proceed, fails so to do within a reasonable time and such failure shall be continuing.

10. Replacement of Covered Bonds, Receipts, Coupons and Talons

Should any Covered Bond, Receipt, Coupon or Talon be lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent in London (in the case of Bearer Covered Bonds, Receipts or Coupons) or the Registrar (in the case of Registered Covered Bonds), or any other place approved by the Bond Trustee of which notice shall have been published in accordance with Condition 13 upon payment by the claimant of such costs and expenses as may be incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Covered Bonds, Receipts, Coupons or Talons must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

11. Principal Paying Agent, Paying Agents, Registrar, Transfer Agent and Exchange Agent

The names of the initial Principal Paying Agent, the other initial Paying Agents, the initial Registrar, the initial Transfer Agent, the initial Exchange Agent and their initial specified offices are set out below.

In the event of the appointed office of any such bank being unable or unwilling to continue to act as the Principal Paying Agent, or failing duly to determine the Rate of Interest, if applicable, or to calculate the Interest Amounts for any Interest Period, the Issuer shall appoint the London office of such other bank as may be approved by the Bond Trustee to act as such in its place. The Principal Paying Agent may not resign its duties or be removed from office without a successor having been appointed as aforesaid.

The Issuer is entitled, with the prior written approval of the Bond Trustee, to vary or terminate the appointment of any Paying Agent or the Registrar and/or appoint additional or other Paying Agents or the Registrar and/or approve any change in the specified office through which any Paying Agent or the Registrar acts, provided that:

(a) there will at all times be a Principal Paying Agent and a Registrar;

(b) the Issuer will, so long as any of the Covered Bonds is outstanding, maintain a Paying Agent (which may be the Principal Paying Agent) having a specified office in a city approved by the Bond Trustee in continental Europe;

(c) so long as any of the Covered Bonds are listed on any stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority, there will at all times be a Paying Agent (in the case of Bearer Covered Bonds) and a Transfer Agent (in the case of Registered Covered Bonds) with a specified office in such place as may be required by the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or as the case may be, other relevant authority;

(d) so long as any of the Registered Global Bonds payable in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars are held through DTC or its nominee, there will at all times be an Exchange Agent with a specified office in New York City; and

(e) the Issuer will ensure that it maintains a Paying Agent in a Member State of the European Union that is not obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any law implementing or complying with, or introduced in order to conform to such Directive, in each case unless otherwise agreed by the Bond Trustee because it is unduly onerous to the Issuer or not consistent with market practice.

In addition, the Issuer shall forthwith appoint a Paying Agent having a specified office in New York City in the circumstances described in Condition 5(e). Notice of any such variation, termination, appointment or change will be given by the Issuer to the Covered Bondholders as soon as reasonably practicable in accordance with Condition 13.

In acting under the Agency Agreement, the Agents act solely as agents of the Issuer and the LLP and, in certain circumstances specified therein, of the Bond Trustee and do not assume any obligation to, or relationship of agency or trust with, any Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders. The Agency Agreement contains provisions permitting any entity into which any Agent is merged or converted or with which it is consolidated or to which it transfers all or substantially all of its assets to become the successor agent.

12. Exchange of Talons

On and after the Interest Payment Date on which the final Coupon comprised in any Coupon sheet matures, the Talon (if any) forming part of such Coupon sheet may be surrendered at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent or any other Paying Agent in exchange for a further Coupon sheet including (if such further Coupon sheet does not include Coupons to (and including) the final date for the payment of interest due in respect of the Bearer Covered Bond to which it appertains) a further Talon, subject to the provisions of Condition 8.

13. Notices

All notices regarding the Bearer Covered Bonds will be valid if published in the Financial Times or any other daily newspaper in London approved by the Bond Trustee or, if this is not possible, in one other English language daily newspaper approved by the Bond Trustee with general circulation in Europe. The Issuer shall also ensure that notices are duly published in a manner which complies with the rules and regulations of any stock exchange or any other relevant authority on which the Bearer Covered Bonds are for the time being listed. Any such notice will be deemed to have been given on the date of the first publication or, where required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in all required newspapers or where published in such newspapers on different dates, the last date of such first publication.

All notices regarding the Registered Covered Bonds will be deemed to be validly given if sent by first class mail or (if posted to an address overseas) by airmail to the holders (or the first named of joint holders) at their respective addresses recorded in the Register and will be deemed to have been given on the fourth day after mailing and, in addition, for so long as any Registered Covered Bonds are listed, quoted or traded on a stock exchange or are admitted to listing by another relevant authority and the rules of that stock exchange or relevant authority so require, such notice will be published in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the place or places required by those rules.

So long as the Covered Bonds are represented in their entirety by any Global Covered Bonds held on behalf of DTC and/or Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, there may be substituted for such publication in such newspaper(s) the delivery of the relevant notice to DTC and/or Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg for communication by them to the holders of the Covered Bonds and, in addition, for so long as any Covered Bonds are listed on a stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority and the rules of the stock exchange, or as the case may be, other relevant authority so require, such notice will be published in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the place or places required by that stock exchange or, as the case may be, or any other relevant authority. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the holders of the Covered Bonds on the seventh day after the day on which the said notice was given to DTC and/or Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg.

14. Meetings of Covered Bondholders, Modification, Waiver and Substitution

The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of the Covered Bondholders to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the modification by Extraordinary Resolution of these Conditions or the provisions of the Trust Deed. The quorum at any such meeting in respect of any Covered Bonds of any Series for passing an Extraordinary Resolution is one or more persons holding or representing not less than a clear majority of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds of such Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting one or more persons being or representing Covered Bondholders whatever the nominal amount of the Covered Bonds of such Series so held or represented, except that at any meeting the business of which includes the modification of any Series Reserved Matter, the quorum shall be one or more persons holding or representing not less than two-thirds of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds of such Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned such meeting one or more persons holding or representing not less than one-third of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds of such Series for the time being outstanding. An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of the Covered Bondholders of a Series shall, subject as provided below, be binding on all the Covered Bondholders of such Series, whether or not they are present at the meeting, and on all Receiptholders and Couponholders in respect of such Series of Covered Bonds. Pursuant to the Trust Deed, the Bond Trustee may convene a single meeting of the holders of Covered Bonds of more than one Series if in the opinion of the Bond Trustee there is no conflict between the holders of such Covered Bonds, in which event the provisions of this paragraph shall apply thereto mutatis mutandis.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the immediately preceding paragraph, any Extraordinary Resolution to direct the Bond Trustee to accelerate the Covered Bonds pursuant to Condition 9 or to direct the Bond Trustee or the Security Trustee to take any enforcement action (each a Programme Resolution) shall only be capable of being passed at a single meeting of the holders of the Covered Bonds of all Series then outstanding. Any such meeting to consider a Programme Resolution may be convened by the Issuer, the LLP or the Bond Trustee or by Covered Bondholders of any Series. The quorum at any such meeting for passing a Programme Resolution is one or more persons holding or representing at least a clear majority of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds of all Series for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned such meeting one or more persons holding or representing Covered Bonds whatever the nominal amount of the Covered Bonds of any Series so held or represented. A Programme Resolution passed at any meeting of the Covered Bondholders of all Series shall be binding on all Covered Bondholders of all Series, whether or not they are present at the meeting, and on all related Receiptholders and Couponholders in respect of such Series of Covered Bonds.

In connection with any meeting of the holders of Covered Bonds of more than one Series where such Covered Bonds are not denominated in Sterling, the nominal amount of the Covered Bonds of any Series not denominated in Sterling shall be converted into Sterling at the relevant Covered Bond Swap Rate.

The Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the LLP and the Issuer may also agree, without the consent of the Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders of any Series and without the consent of the other Secured Creditors (and for this purpose the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee may disregard whether any such modification relates to a Series Reserved Matter), to:

(a) any modification of the Covered Bonds of one or more Series, the related Receipts and/or Coupons or any Transaction Document provided that (i) in the opinion of the Bond Trustee such modification is not materially prejudicial to the interests of any of the Covered Bondholders of any Series, (ii) in the opinion of the Security Trustee such modification is not materially prejudicial to the interests of any of the Secured Creditors (other than the Seller) (in which respect the Security Trustee may (without further enquiry) rely upon the consent in writing of any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) as to the absence of material prejudice to the interests of such Secured Creditor) or if it is not of that opinion in relation to any such Secured Creditor or any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) acting reasonably has informed the Security Trustee in writing that such modification will be materially prejudicial to its interests, such Secured Creditor has given its written consent to such modification and (iii) the Security Trustee has not been informed in writing by any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) acting reasonably that such Secured Creditor will be materially prejudiced thereby (other than a Secured Creditor who has given its written consent as aforesaid); or

(b) any modification of the Covered Bonds of any one or more Series, the related Receipts and/or Coupons or any Transaction Document which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is in the opinion of the Bond Trustee and Security Trustee made to correct a manifest error or an error established as such to the satisfaction of the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee or to comply with mandatory provisions of law.

The Bond Trustee may also agree, without the consent of the Covered Bondholders of any Series, the related Receiptholders and/or Couponholders, to the waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of any of the provisions of the Covered Bonds of any Series, or determine, without any such consent as aforesaid, that any Issuer Event of Default or LLP Event of Default or Potential Issuer Event of Default or Potential LLP Event of Default shall not be treated as such, provided that, in any such case, it is not, in the opinion of the Bond Trustee, materially prejudicial to the interests of any of the Covered Bondholders of any Series. The Security Trustee may also agree, without the consent of the Covered Bondholders of any Series, the related Receiptholders and/or Couponholders or any other Secured Creditor, to the waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of any of the provisions of the Transaction Documents, provided that, in any such case, (i) it is not, in the opinion of the Security Trustee, materially prejudicial to the interests of any of the Secured Creditors other than the Seller (in which respect the Security Trustee may (without further enquiry) rely upon the consent in writing of any such Secured Creditor (other than the Covered Bondholders) as to the absence of material prejudice to the interests of such Secured Creditor) or if it is not of that opinion in relation to any such Secured Creditor or any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) acting reasonably has informed the Security Trustee in writing that such waiver, authorisation or determination will be materially prejudicial to its interests, such Secured Creditor has given its written consent to such waiver, authorisation or determination and (ii) the Security Trustee has not been informed in writing by any such Secured Creditor (other than Covered Bondholders) acting reasonably that such Secured Creditor will be materially prejudiced thereby (other than a Secured Creditor who has given its written consent as aforesaid).

Any such modification, waiver, authorisation or determination shall be binding on all Covered Bondholders of all Series of Covered Bonds for the time being outstanding, the related Receiptholders and the Couponholders and the other Secured Creditors, and unless the Security Trustee and the Bond Trustee otherwise agree, any such modification shall be notified by the Issuer to the Covered Bondholders of all Series of Covered Bonds for the time being outstanding and the other Secured Creditors in accordance with the relevant terms and conditions as soon as practicable thereafter.

In connection with the exercise by it of any of its trusts, powers, authorities and discretions (including, without limitation, any modification, waiver, authorisation or determination), the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee shall have regard to the general interests of the Covered Bondholders of each Series as a class (but shall not have regard to any interests arising from circumstances particular to individual Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders whatever their number) and, in particular but without limitation, shall not have regard to the consequences of any such exercise for individual Covered Bondholders, the related Receiptholders, Couponholders (whatever their number) resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory or any political sub-division thereof and the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee shall not be entitled to require, nor shall any Covered Bondholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder be entitled to claim, from the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee or any other person any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequences of any such exercise upon individual Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders and/or Couponholders, except to the extent already provided for in Condition 7 and/or in any undertaking or covenant given in addition to, or in substitution for, Condition 7 pursuant to the Trust Deed.

The Issuer may, without the consent of the holders of the Covered Bonds of any Series or any Receipts or Coupons relating thereto, or any other Secured Creditor consolidate with, merge or amalgamate into or transfer its assets substantially as an entirety to, any corporation organised under the laws of the United Kingdom, or any political subdivision thereof, provided that (i) a certificate of two Directors of the Issuer and a certificate of a Designated Member of the LLP is delivered to the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee to the effect that immediately after giving effect to such transaction no Issuer Event of Default and no LLP Event of Default, respectively, and no Potential Issuer Event of Default and no Potential LLP Event of Default, respectively, will have happened and be continuing and (ii) unless the Issuer is the surviving entity, the Issuer shall procure that the surviving or transferee company assumes its obligations as Issuer under the Trust Deed, each other relevant Transaction Document and all of the outstanding Covered Bonds of all Series, in place of the Issuer and (iii) in the case of an assumption of the obligations of the Issuer by a successor or transferee company, the guarantee of the LLP is fully effective on the same basis in relation to the obligations of such successor or transferee company and (iv) certain other conditions set out in the Trust Deed are met. Upon the assumption of the obligations of the Issuer by such surviving or transferee company, the predecessor Issuer shall (subject to the provisions of the Trust Deed) have no further liabilities under or in respect of the Trust Deed or the outstanding Covered Bonds of each Series then outstanding or any Coupons or Receipts appertaining thereto and the other Transaction Documents. Any such assumption shall be subject to the relevant provisions of the Trust Deed. The Trust Deed provides that any such assumption shall be notified to the holders of all Series of Covered Bonds in accordance with the relevant terms and conditions of such Covered Bonds and the other Secured Creditors.

For the purposes hereof:

Potential Issuer Event of Default means any condition, event or act which, with the lapse of time and/or the issue, making or giving of any notice, certification, declaration, demand, determination and/or request and/or the taking of any similar action and/or the fulfilment of any similar condition, would constitute an Issuer Event of Default; and

Potential LLP Event of Default means any condition, event or act which, with the lapse of time and/or the issue, making or giving of any notice, certification, declaration, demand, determination and/or request and/or the taking of any similar action and/or the fulfilment of any similar condition, would constitute an LLP Event of Default.

15. Indemnification of the Bond Trustee and/or Security Trustee and Bond Trustee and/or Security Trustee Contracting with the Issuer and/or the LLP

If, in connection with the exercise of its powers, trusts, authorities or discretions (i) the Bond Trustee or the Security Trustee is of the opinion that the interests of the holders of the Covered Bonds of any one or more Series would be materially prejudiced thereby, the Bond Trustee or the Security Trustee shall not exercise such power, trust, authority or discretion without the approval of such Covered Bondholders by Extraordinary Resolution or by a written resolution of such Covered Bondholders of at least a clear majority of the Principal Amount Outstanding of Covered Bonds of the relevant Series then outstanding or (ii) the Security Trustee is of the opinion (other than in relation to any enforcement action, when it shall only have regard to the interests of the Covered Bondholders) that the interests of a Secured Creditor (other than the Seller) would be materially prejudiced thereby, or any such Secured Creditor (other than the Covered Bondholders) (acting reasonably) informs the Security Trustee in writing that it would be materially prejudiced thereby, the Security Trustee shall only exercise the same with the written consent of such Secured Creditor(s) and provided that the Security Trustee is satisfied that such exercise will not be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Covered Bondholders. In the exercise of its powers, trusts, authorities and discretions (other than as aforesaid), the Security Trustee may not act on behalf of the Seller.

The Trust Deed and the Deed of Charge contain provisions for the indemnification of the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee and for their relief from responsibility, including provisions relieving them from taking any action unless indemnified and/or secured to their satisfaction.

The Trust Deed and the Deed of Charge also contain provisions pursuant to which each of the Bond Trustee and Security Trustee, respectively, is entitled, inter alia, (i) to enter into business transactions with the Issuer, the LLP and/or any of their respective Subsidiaries and affiliates and to act as trustee for the holders of any other securities issued or guaranteed by, or relating to, the Issuer, the LLP and/or any of their respective Subsidiaries and affiliates, (ii) to exercise and enforce its rights, comply with its obligations and perform its duties under or in relation to any such transactions or, as the case may be, any such trusteeship without regard to the interests of, or consequences for, the Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders or the other Secured Creditors and (iii) to retain and not be liable to account for any profit made or any other amount or benefit received thereby or in connection therewith.

Neither the Bond Trustee nor the Security Trustee will be responsible for any loss, expense or liability, which may be suffered as a result of any Mortgage Loans or Related Security, or any deeds or documents of title thereto, being uninsured or inadequately insured or being held by clearing organisations or their operators or by intermediaries such as banks, brokers or other similar persons on behalf of the Bond Trustee and/or the Security Trustee. Neither the Bond Trustee nor the Security Trustee will be responsible for (i) supervising the performance by the Issuer or any other party to the Transaction Documents of their respective obligations under the Transaction Documents and the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee will be entitled to assume, until they each have written notice to the contrary, that all such persons are properly performing their duties; (ii) considering the basis on which approvals or consents are granted by the Issuer or any other party to the Transaction Documents under the Transaction Documents; (iii) monitoring the Portfolio, including, without limitation, whether the Portfolio is in compliance with the Asset Coverage Test or the Amortisation Test; or (iv) monitoring whether Mortgage Loans and Related Security satisfy the Eligibility Criteria. Neither the Bond Trustee nor the Security Trustee will be liable to any Covered Bondholder or other Secured Creditor for any failure to make or to cause to be made on their behalf the searches, investigations and enquiries which would normally be made by a prudent chargee in relation to the Security and have no responsibility in relation to the legality, validity, sufficiency and enforceability of the Security and the Transaction Documents.

16. Further Issues

The Issuer shall be at liberty from time to time without the consent of the Covered Bondholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders to create and issue further bonds having terms and conditions the same as the Covered Bonds of any Series or the same in all respects save for the amount and date of the first payment of interest thereon, issue date and/or purchase price and so that the same shall be consolidated and form a single Series with the outstanding Covered Bonds of such Series.

17. Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of this Covered Bond under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, but this does not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

18. Governing Law

The Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Covered Bonds, the Receipts, the Coupons and the other Transaction Documents (other than each Scottish Declaration of Trust, certain documents to be granted pursuant to the Deed of Charge and the Corporate Services Agreements) are governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law unless specifically stated to the contrary. Each Scottish Declaration of Trust is governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, Scots law. Certain documents to be granted pursuant to the Deed of Charge will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, Scots law. The Corporate Services Agreements are governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, Jersey law.

Use of Proceeds

The gross proceeds from each issue of Covered Bonds will be used by the Issuer to make available Term Advances to the LLP pursuant to the terms of the Intercompany Loan Agreement, which in turn shall be used by the LLP (after swapping the proceeds of the Term Advances into Sterling, if necessary) either:

(i) to acquire Mortgage Loans and their Related Security or to invest the same in Substitution Assets up to the prescribed limit; and/or

(ii) if an existing Series, or part of an existing Series, of Covered Bonds is being refinanced by such issue of Covered Bonds, to repay the Term Advance(s) corresponding to the Covered Bonds being so refinanced; and/or

(iii) subject to complying with the Asset Coverage Test, to make a Capital Distribution to a Member; and/or

(iv) to deposit all or part of the proceeds into the GIC Account.

The Issuer/Seller

Introduction

Northern Rock plc (the Issuer) is a public limited company incorporated and registered in England and Wales under the Companies Act 1985. The Issuer is a specialised mortgage lender whose core business is the provision of residential mortgages in the United Kingdom funded in both the retail and wholesale markets. The Issuer, together with its subsidiaries and associated companies, also engages in secured commercial lending, personal unsecured lending and distribution of third party insurance products. At 31st December, 2004, the Northern Rock Group had total assets under management of £64.9 billion (including securitised mortgage loans).

The Issuer is one of the top ten mortgage lenders in the United Kingdom based upon loans outstanding. In the UK mortgage market, the Issuer had an estimated market share of approximately 11.2 per cent. on the basis of net residential lending during 2004 of £11.4 billion and an estimated market share of approximately 6.8 per cent. on the basis of gross residential lending during 2004 of £20.1 billion.

The Issuer was originally a building society (a mutual form of organisation existing under English law which engages primarily in residential mortgage lending and deposit taking) prior to its conversion to a public limited company. The Issuer was incorporated as a public limited company on 30th October, 1996 (with registration number 3273685) and the conversion became effective as of 1st October, 1997. The Issuer currently has the following two principal subsidiaries, each of which is wholly-owned by the Issuer: Northern Rock Mortgage Indemnity Company Limited, a Guernsey limited liability company providing mortgage indemnity services to the Issuer, and Northern Rock (Guernsey) Limited, a Guernsey limited liability company engaging in retail deposit taking.

The Issuer's ordinary shares have been admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's market for listed securities and have been admitted to the Official List of the UK Listing Authority. The registered and principal executive office of the Issuer is at Northern Rock House, Gosforth, Newcastle upon Tyne NE3 4PL, United Kingdom (telephone number 0845 600 8401). Overview

The Issuer specialises in lending to individuals with a core business of providing residential mortgage loans, funded in the retail, wholesale, covered bond and securitisation markets. The Issuer has achieved rapid growth with total assets under management, including securitised mortgages, rising from £11.6 billion at the end of 1995 to £64.9 billion at 31st December, 2004. During 2004 total assets under management grew by 25 per cent. Management have set a strategic target of annual growth in assets under management of 15 per cent. to 25 per cent. per annum.

Profit on ordinary activities after tax for the year ended 31st December, 2004 amounted to £306.2 million, like-for-like growth of 13.0 per cent.; a return on equity of 21.3 per cent. The Issuer has continued to achieve strong year-on-year profit growth through a combination of volume growth, improving cost efficiency and growth in other income. These factors more than offset the easing in net interest spreads arising from competition and the increased use of securitisation.

The Issuer is one of the lowest cost providers in its core business. The Issuer's underlying cost to income ratio (defined as recurring administrative expenses divided by total income) was 30.4 per cent. for the year ended 31st December, 2004. The Issuer's cost advantage is derived from a combination of factors: focus on its core business, a cost efficient distribution network and its geographical base in the North East of England.

Developments in the Group's distribution network have focused on cost efficiency, achieving volume growth of lending and supporting the Group's retail funding objectives. Approximately 85 per cent. of residential mortgage lending is generated through intermediaries with the remainder split evenly between branches and direct business (telephone and e-commerce).

Lending

Residential Mortgage Lending

At 31st December, 2004 the Issuer had £49.0 billion of advances secured on residential property, including £22.0 billion of securitised mortgages. Residential lending represents the Issuer's core activity and accounts for 76 per cent. of total assets under management.

During 2004, total net residential lending amounted to £11.4 billion, an estimated market share of 11.2 per cent. compared to a share of outstanding total UK balances of approximately 5.5 per cent. as at 31st December, 2004. A strong year end pipeline of uncompleted lending awards of £4.7 billion will benefit lending in 2005.

The Group's residential mortgage assets are spread geographically throughout the UK. Residential mortgage lending is focused primarily on customers with a credit history and conservative income multiples and loan to value ratios. The quality of the portfolio is good with only 0.37 per cent. of all balances more than three months or more in arrears, approximately half the UK average.

Commercial Lending

The Issuer has a commercial loan portfolio which comprises two elements: commercial loans secured on residential properties (mainly loans to organisations supported by government grants, such as housing associations) and residential investment lending to individuals. Balances on such loans amounted to £696 million and are included in the £49.0 billion of advances secured on residential property for reporting purposes.

Other commercial loans are all secured on non-residential property and mainly represent loans to individuals or corporations to support investment in properties for retail, office or industrial use. At 31st December, 2004 such lending amounted to £1,569 million of which £291 million is securitised.

Commercial loans provide a diversification of assets and enhance interest margin for the Group. The Issuer intends to continue to grow its commercial loan portfolio while maintaining credit quality throughout the portfolio. At 31st December, 2004 only 0.3 per cent. of commercial loans were three months or more in arrears.

Personal Unsecured Lending

The Group also engages in personal unsecured lending, both on a stand-alone basis and via credit bundled products called "together". The "together" range comprises a combined secured residential mortgage and unsecured loan which benefits credit quality and enhances product retention. At 31st December, 2004 unsecured lending balances were £4.7 billion of which almost 40 per cent. were "together" unsecured advances.

At 31st December, 2004 only 1.0 per cent. of personal unsecured loans were three months or more in arrears. The "together" unsecured loans show characteristics similar to secured loans with only 0.8 per cent. three months or more in arrears.

General Insurance and Life Assurance Distribution

The Issuer distributes a limited range of household insurance and payment protection products primarily to residential mortgage and personal unsecured loan customers, via third party providers. Under arrangements with third party providers, the Issuer receives a commission from policies sold and does not take any underwriting risk. Life assurance products are supplied to the Issuer's customers through a relationship with Legal & General where the Issuer introduces the customer to the insurer and receives a commission for doing so. These products provide a valuable source of other income.

Funding

The Issuer has developed a diversified range of funding sources comprising on-shore and off-shore retail funding, wholesale funding, securitisation and, more recently, covered bonds.

Retail funding deposits amounted to £ 17.2 billion at 31st December, 2004 representing approximately 2.0 per cent. of UK retail deposits and 29 per cent. of the Issuer's total funding. The UK retail funding market has been particularly competitive in recent years as a result of new entrants, and the introduction of internet based accounts, which has affected the flow and price of retail deposits. The Issuer has aimed to maintain its retail franchise and achieved an increase in retail deposits in 2004 of £896 million. The Issuer operates a wide range of retail deposit vehicles including branches, postal, telephone, internet and off-shore.

Wholesale funding has become increasingly important to the Issuer and at 31st December, 2004 amounted to £19.7 billion or 33 per cent. of total funding. During 2004, net new wholesale funds amounted to £2.8 billion. The diversification of sources of funding available to the Group will continue with particular emphasis on Europe and the United States.

Securitisation is the third arm of the Issuer's funding strategy. From 1999 to 31st December, 2004, the Issuer has raised £29.6 billion through the issue of residential mortgage backed securities, of which £11.1 billion was raised in 2004.

At 31st December, 2004, outstanding securitised notes amounted to £22.1 billion representing 37 per cent. of total funding. Securitisation is expected to remain a significant source of funding for the Issuer, supporting incremental volume growth and capital efficiency. Diversification of investors will continue with issuance in Continental Europe and the United States, as well as in the UK. To date in 2005, a further £9.5 billion issue of residential mortgage backed securities has been completed.

During 2004, the Issuer established a £10 billion Global Covered Bond Programme. The inaugural issue of £2 billion covered bonds was followed in April 2005 by a further issue of £1.5 billion covered bonds.

Capital

At 31st December, 2004 total capital amounted to £3.2 billion, resulting in a total capital ratio of 14.0 per cent. Tier 1 capital was £2,015 million and the Tier 1 ratio 8.7 per cent.

£300 million of Reserve Capital Instruments (RCIs) were issued by the Issuer in 2000 and 2001. The RCIs are eligible for inclusion in Tier I capital up to a maximum of 15 per cent. of total Tier 1 capital, with any surplus being eligible for inclusion in Upper Tier 2 capital.

The Issuer also issued £200 million of Tier One Covered Bonds in 2002, the full amount of which is eligible for inclusion in Tier 1 capital.

The Northern Rock Foundation

The establishment of The Northern Rock Foundation (the Foundation) on conversion to a public limited company was intended to express the Issuer's commitment to its mutual history and to the region from which the business has drawn much of its strength. The Foundation has as its primary objective helping to improve the conditions of people disadvantaged by age, infirmity, poverty or other circumstances. It receives 5 per cent. of the annual consolidated profit before tax of the Issuer, paid under deed of covenant. The Foundation has received non-voting and non-dividend-paying Foundation shares which would convert into almost 15 per cent. of the ordinary share capital of the Issuer only in certain circumstances, principally involving a change in control of the Issuer, in which event the deed of covenant would terminate.

Statement of Members' responsibilities in respect of the accounts

The Companies Act, as applied to Limited Liability Partnerships, requires the members to prepare accounts for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the LLP at the end of the financial period and of the profit or loss for that period. In preparing the accounts, the members are required to:

Select suitable accounting policies and apply them consistently;

Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;

State whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the accounts; and

Prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is not appropriate to presume that the LLP will continue in business.

Under Limited Liability Partnership Regulation, Statutory Instrument 01/1090, the members are responsible for ensuring that proper accounting records are maintained which disclose with reasonable accuracy the financial position of the LLP and which enable them to ensure that the accounts will comply with those regulations. The members have a general responsibility for taking such steps as are reasonably open to them to safeguard the assets of the LLP and to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

These responsibilities are exercised by the Management Board on behalf of the members.

Independent auditors

During the period it was resolved to appoint PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as auditors of the LLP. A special resolution to reappoint PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as auditors to the LLP will be proposed at the Annual General Meeting.

Independent auditors' report to the members of Northern Rock Covered Bond LLP

We have audited the financial statements which comprise the profit and loss account, balance sheet and the related notes which have been prepared under the historical cost convention and the accounting policies set out in note 1.

Respective responsibilities of members and auditors

The members' responsibilities for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable United Kingdom law and accounting standards are set out in the statement of members' responsibilities.

Our responsibility is to audit the financial statements in accordance with relevant legal and regulatory requirements and United Kingdom Auditing Standards issued by the Auditing Practices Board. This report, including the opinion, has been prepared for and only for the members of the partnership in accordance with the Companies Act 1985 as applied to limited liability partnerships by the Limited Liability Partnerships Act 2000 and regulations made thereunder, and for no other purpose. We do not, in giving this opinion, accept or assume responsibility for any other purpose or to any other person to whom this report is shown or into whose hands it may come save where expressly agreed by our prior consent in writing.

We report to you our opinion as to whether the financial statements give a true and fair view and are properly prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 1985, as applied to limited liability partnerships. We also report to you if, in our opinion, the Members' Report is not consistent with the financial statements, if the limited liability partnership has not kept proper accounting records, or if we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Basis of audit opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards issued by the Auditing Practices Board. An audit includes examination, on a test basis, of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. It also includes an assessment of the significant estimates and judgments made by the members in the preparation of the financial statements, and of whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the limited liability partnership's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our audit so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error. In forming our opinion we also evaluated the overall adequacy of the presentation of information in the financial statements.

Opinion

In our opinion the financial statements give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the partnership at 31 December 2004 and of the profit for the period from 20 February 2004 to 31 December 2004 and have been properly prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Limited Liability Partnerships Regulation 2001 made under the Limited Liability Partnerships Act 2000.

Notes to the accounts for the period to 31 December 2004

1. Accounting Policies

The following accounting policies have been applied consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the LLP's accounts.

Basis of preparation
These accounts reflect the results for the period from incorporation on 20 February 2004 to 31 December 2004. No comparatives have been presented as these are the LLP's first statutory accounts.

In the opinion of the members, disclosure of turnover is most appropriately represented for the LLP by Interest Receivable and Similar Income and cost of sales is best represented by Interest Payable and Similar Charges. This represents an adaptation of the profit and loss account laid down in Schedule 4 to the Companies Act 1985, as it applies to LLPs.

Accounting Convention
The accounts have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with applicable United Kingdom accounting standards, including the Statement of Recommended Practice, Accounting by Limited Liability Partnerships.

Interest
Interest receivable and payable are calculated on an accruals basis.

Tax provisions
Taxation on all partnership profits is solely the personal liability of individual members, consequently, neither taxation nor related deferred taxation in the LLP are accounted for in these accounts.

Loans and other debts due from members
The LLP's beneficial interest in the mortgage portfolio was acquired from Northern Rock plc and is included in Loans and other debts due from members in the balance sheet and the analysis of Total Members' interests. The mortgage portfolio is recorded at book value being the book value to Northern Rock plc at the time of transfer less subsequent repayments. Under the terms of the mortgage sale agreement, Northern Rock plc is able but not obliged to repurchase all defaulting loans. No provision for losses is maintained by the LLP as it is the current intention that Northern Rock plc will repurchase defaulting loans.

Financial Instruments
Interest rate risk associated with the beneficial interest on the mortgage portfolio is managed by an interest rate swap with Northern Rock plc which requires the LLP to pay the effective yield on the mortgage portfolio and receive payments based on a rate linked to three month sterling LIBOR. The cost of the interest rate swap is included in interest payable.

The LLP has also entered into covered bond swaps with third party banks to hedge certain interest rate, currency and/or other risks in respect of amounts received by the LLP under the mortgage loans and the Interest Rate Swap and amounts payable by the LLP to Northern Rock plc under the Intercompany Loan Agreement.

All transactions are undertaken for hedging purposes. Transactions are initially recorded at cost and are accounted for on an accruals basis in accordance with the item or items being hedged.

VAT
Value added tax is not recoverable by the LLP and is included with its related cost.

Contributions and Drawings
Under the terms of the transaction documents for the sale of the mortgage portfolio, Northern Rock plc is treated as having made a capital contribution to the LLP in an amount equal to the difference between the current balance of the loans assigned at transfer date and the cash payment made by the LLP for the loans and relevant security on that transfer date.

If so requested by the management board, the members may from time to time make cash contributions to the LLP which will constitute cash capital contributions. The liquidation member, Moore Investments Limited, will not make any capital contributions to the LLP. No interest is paid on the members' capital balances.

Capital distributions may only be made in accordance with the LLP Deed where sufficient principal receipts are available and higher priority payments have been made.

Under the priority of payments, payment pro rata and pari passu to the members of the sum of £3,000 (or such other sum as may be agreed by members from time to time) in aggregate, is allocated and paid to each Member in proportion to their respective capital contribution balances as at the relevant calculation date subject to a minimum of £1 each, as their profit for their respective interests as members in the LLP.

Under the terms of the mortgage sale agreement, Northern Rock plc, as the originator of the mortgage loans, retains the right to receive excess income arising on those loans, after certain higher priority payments have been met by the LLP. Deferred consideration is disclosed as an allocation of profits in these accounts.

Deferred purchase consideration
Deferred purchase consideration represents amounts owed under mortgage purchase agreements out of the profits for the period to Northern Rock plc, as the mortgage originator.

Deferred consideration is calculated in accordance with the legal structure for the distribution of the LLP's revenue receipts.

Cash flow statement
The Company has taken advantage of the exemptions allowed under FRS1 "Cashflow Statements" (Revised 1996) due to the fact that its cashflows are included in the financial statements of its parent company, Northern Rock plc, a company registered in the United Kingdom. These financial statements are publicly available and accordingly no cashflow statement has been prepared.

8. Loans and other debts due to members

The amount owing to Northern Rock plc comprises a term advance equivalent to the amounts raised by Northern Rock plc under its Covered Bond Programme. The rate of interest payable in respect of each term advance shall match the interest rate payable in respect of the corresponding Tranche or Series of Covered Bonds that funded such tranche.

Northern Rock plc will not be relying on repayment of any term advance by the LLP or the interest thereon in order to meet its repayment or interest obligations under the Covered Bonds. The term advances will not be repaid by the LLP until all amounts payable under the corresponding series of Covered Bonds have been repaid in full. Amounts owed by the LLP will be subordinated to amounts owed by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee described below.

The Covered Bonds are unconditionally and jointly and severally guaranteed by Northern Rock plc. Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the LLP has also provided a guarantee as to payments of interest and principal under the Covered Bonds, where amounts would otherwise be unpaid by Northern Rock plc. The obligations of the LLP under its guarantee constitute direct obligations of the LLP secured against the assets from time to time of the LLP and recourse against the LLP is limited to such assets. The principal asset is the interest in the mortgage portfolio acquired from Northern Rock plc.

The amounts due to Northern Rock plc mature on 4 May 2009.

In addition to the Interest Rate Swap Agreement entered into by the LLP with Northern Rock plc the LLP has entered into the Covered Bond Swap Agreements with third party banks. These agreements provide a hedge against interest rate, currency and/or other risks in respect of amounts received by the LLP under the Loans and the Interest Rate Swaps and amounts payable by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of the Covered Bonds. The Covered Bond Swap agreements provide a hedge against risks the LLP is exposed to, only following a Northern Rock plc Event of Default and the service on the LLP of a Notice to Pay. As such, no amounts are due and payable under this agreement prior to these events. In accordance with the terms of these swaps, the swap provider will pay to the LLP amounts equivalent to the amounts that would be payable by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of interest and principal payable under the Covered Bonds and, in return, the LLP will pay to the Covered Bond Swap Provider on each LLP Payment Date an amount equal to three month Sterling LIBOR for the relevant Interest Period plus a spread.

Accruals and deferred income	42,348	15,757	46,297

Accruals and deferred income includes interest payable of £15,296,000 (June 2004: £ 7,630,000; December 2004: £33,494,000) due to Northern Rock plc and deferred consideration of £20,285,000 (June 2004: £8,092,000; December 2004: £12,792,000) due to Northern Rock plc, one of the two designated members.

8. Loans and other debts due to members

The amount owing to Northern Rock plc comprises a term advance equivalent to the amounts raised by Northern Rock plc under its Covered Bond Programme. The rate of interest payable in respect of each term advance shall match the interest rate payable in respect of the corresponding tranche or Series of Covered Bonds that funded such tranche.

Northern Rock plc will not be relying on repayment of any term advance by the LLP or the interest thereon in order to meet its repayment or interest obligations under the Covered Bonds. The term advances will not be repaid by the LLP until all amounts payable under the corresponding series of Covered Bonds have been repaid in full. Amounts owed by the LLP will be subordinated to amounts owed by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee described below.

The Covered Bonds are unconditionally and jointly and severally guaranteed by Northern Rock plc. Under the terms of the Trust Deed, the LLP has also provided a guarantee as to payments of interest and principal under the Covered Bonds, where amounts would otherwise be unpaid by Northern Rock plc. The obligations of the LLP under its guarantee constitute direct obligations of the LLP secured against the assets from time to time of the LLP and recourse against the LLP is limited to such assets. The principal asset is the interest in the mortgage portfolio acquired from Northern Rock plc.

The amounts due to Northern Rock plc mature on 4 May 2009 and 20 April 2015.

In addition to the Interest Rate Swap Agreement entered into by the LLP with Northern Rock plc the LLP has entered into the Covered Bond Swap Agreements with third party banks. These agreements provide a hedge against interest rate, currency and/or other risks in respect of amounts received by the LLP under the Loans and the Interest Rate Swaps and amounts payable by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of the Covered Bonds. The Covered Bond Swap agreements provide a hedge against risks the LLP is exposed to, only following a Northern Rock plc Event of Default and the service on the LLP of a Notice to Pay. As such, no amounts are due and payable under this agreement prior to these events. In accordance with the terms of these swaps, the swap provider will pay to the LLP amounts equivalent to the amounts that would be payable by the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of interest and principal payable under the Covered Bonds and, in return, the LLP will pay to the Covered Bond Swap Provider on each LLP Payment Date an amount equal to three month Sterling LIBOR for the relevant Interest Period plus a spread.

10. Related Parties

The LLP is a special purpose LLP controlled by Northern Rock plc, one of the two designated members. Under FRS8 "Related Parties", the LLP is exempt from the requirement to disclose transactions with other companies within the Northern Rock Group. Under the terms of the transaction documents, Northern Rock plc is entitled to the certain amounts from the LLP and these are shown in note 9 to the accounts.

Northern Rock plc acts as servicer of the mortgage portfolio and cash manager and has waived all fees in relation to this.

Trust Deed

The Trust Deed, made between the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee on the Programme Date as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time is the principal agreement governing the Covered Bonds. The Trust Deed contains provisions relating to, inter alia:

- the constitution of the Covered Bonds and the terms and conditions of the Covered Bonds (as more fully set out under Terms and Conditions of the Covered Bonds above);
- the covenants of the Issuer and the LLP;
- the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee (as described below);
- the enforcement procedures relating to the Covered Bonds and the Covered Bond Guarantee; and
- the appointment, powers and responsibilities of the Bond Trustee and the circumstances in which the Bond Trustee may resign or retire or be removed.

Covered Bond Guarantee

Under the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee, if the Issuer defaults in the payment on the due date of any moneys due and payable under or pursuant to the Trust Deed or the Covered Bonds or any Receipts or Coupons, if any other Issuer Event of Default occurs (other than by reason of non-payment) or if an LLP Event of Default occurs, the LLP has agreed (subject as described below) to pay or procure to be paid (following service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and Notice to Pay or, if applicable, an LLP Acceleration Notice) unconditionally and irrevocably to or to the order of the Bond Trustee (for the benefit of the Covered Bondholders), an amount equal to that portion of the Guaranteed Amounts which shall become Due for Payment but would otherwise be unpaid, as of any Original Due for Payment Date or, if applicable, Extended Due for Payment Date, by the Issuer. Under the Covered Bond Guarantee the Guaranteed Amounts will become due and payable on any earlier date on which an LLP Acceleration Notice is served.

Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and after the Covered Bonds have been declared due and payable by the Bond Trustee as against the Issuer, following service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice, the Bond Trustee will serve a Notice to Pay on the LLP. Payment by the LLP of the Guaranteed Amounts pursuant to the Covered Bond Guarantee will be made on the later of (a) the day which is two Business Days following service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP or (b) the day on which the Guaranteed Amounts are otherwise Due for Payment.

All payments of Guaranteed Amounts by or on behalf of the LLP will be made without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or other governmental charges of whatever nature, unless the withholding or deduction of such taxes, assessments or other governmental charges are required by law or regulation or administrative practice of the United Kingdom or any political subdivision thereof or any authority therein or thereof having the power to tax. If any such withholding or deduction is required, the LLP will pay the Guaranteed Amounts net of such withholding or deduction and shall account to the appropriate tax authority for the amount required to be withheld or deducted. The LLP will not be obliged to pay any amount to the Bond Trustee or any holder of Covered Bonds in respect of the amount of such withholding or deduction.

Under the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee, the LLP agrees that its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee shall be as principal debtor and not merely as surety and shall be absolute and unconditional, irrespective of, and unaffected by, any invalidity, irregularity or unenforceability of, or defect in, any provisions of the Trust Deed or the Covered Bonds or Receipts or Coupons or the absence of any action to enforce the same or the waiver, modification or consent by the Bond Trustee or any of the Covered Bondholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders in respect of any provisions of the same or the obtaining of any judgment or decree against the Issuer or any action to enforce the same or any other circumstances which might otherwise constitute a legal or equitable discharge or defence of a guarantor.

Subject to the grace period specified in Condition 9(b) of the Conditions, failure by the LLP to pay the Guaranteed Amounts when Due for Payment will result in an LLP Event of Default.

The Trust Deed provides that the Excess Proceeds shall be paid by the Bond Trustee on behalf of the Covered Bondholders of the relevant Series to the LLP for its own account, as soon as practicable, and shall be held by the LLP in the GIC Account and the Excess Proceeds shall thereafter form part of the Security and shall be used by the LLP in the same manner as all other moneys from time to time standing to the credit of the GIC Account. Any Excess Proceeds received by the Bond Trustee shall discharge pro tanto the obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Covered Bonds, Receipts and Coupons. However, the obligations of the LLP under the Covered Bond Guarantee are (following service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and Notice to Pay or, if earlier, service of an LLP Acceleration Notice) unconditional and irrevocable and the receipt by the Bond Trustee of any Excess Proceeds shall not reduce or discharge any of such obligations.

By subscribing for Covered Bond(s), each Covered Bondholder shall be deemed to have irrevocably directed the Bond Trustee to pay the Excess Proceeds to the LLP in the manner as described above.

The Trust Deed is governed by English law.

Intercompany Loan Agreement

On each Issue Date, the Issuer will use the proceeds of the Covered Bonds issued under the Programme to lend on that date an amount equal to the gross proceeds of the issue of the related Covered Bonds to the LLP by way of a Term Advance pursuant to the Intercompany Loan Agreement. Each Term Advance will be made in the Specified Currency of the relevant Series or Tranche, as applicable, of the Covered Bonds, as set out in the applicable Final Terms, and will be swapped into Sterling pursuant to the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement. The Sterling Equivalent of each Term Advance will be used by the LLP (i) as consideration in part for the acquisition of Mortgage Loans and their Related Security from the Seller pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement, as described under – Mortgage Sale Agreement – Sale by the Seller of Mortgage Loans and their Related Security and/or (ii) to invest in Substitution Assets in an amount not exceeding the prescribed limit and/or (iii) (subject to satisfying the Asset Coverage Test), to make a Capital Distribution to a Member, and or (iv) if an existing Series, or part of an existing Series, of Covered Bonds is being refinanced by such issue of Covered Bonds, to repay the Term Advance(s) corresponding to the Covered Bonds being so refinanced and/or (v) to make a deposit in the GIC Account. Each Term Advance will bear interest at a rate of interest equal to the rate of interest payable on the corresponding Series or Tranche, as applicable, of Covered Bonds.

The Issuer will not be relying on repayment of any Term Advance in order to meet its repayment obligations under the Covered Bonds. The LLP will pay amounts due in respect of Term Advances(s) in accordance with the relevant Priorities of Payments. Prior to the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, amounts due in respect of each Term Advance will be paid by the LLP to, or as directed by, the Issuer on each Interest Payment Date, subject to paying all higher ranking amounts in the Pre-Acceleration Revenue Priority of Payments or, as applicable, the Pre-Acceleration Principal Priority of Payments. The Issuer may use the proceeds of the Term Advances to pay amounts due on the Covered Bonds, however any failure by the LLP to pay any amounts due on the Term Advances will not affect the liability of the Issuer to pay the relevant amount due on the Covered Bonds.

The amounts owed by the LLP to the Issuer under the Term Advances will be reduced by (i) any amounts paid by the LLP under the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee to repay the Covered Bonds (the proceeds of which were originally applied to make such Term Advances) and (ii) the Principal Amount Outstanding of any Covered Bonds (the proceeds of which were originally applied to make such Term Advances) purchased by the LLP in accordance with Condition 6(f).

The Intercompany Loan Agreement is governed by English law.

Mortgage Sale Agreement

The Seller

Mortgage Loans and their Related Security will be sold to the LLP from time to time pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement entered into on the Programme Date as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time between Northern Rock (in its capacity as Seller), the LLP and the Security Trustee.

Sale by the Seller of Mortgage Loans and Related Security

The Portfolio will consist of Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold from time to time by the Seller to the LLP in accordance with the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement. The types of Mortgage Loans forming part of the Portfolio will vary over time provided that, at the time the relevant Mortgage Loans are sold to the LLP, the Eligibility Criteria (as described below) in respect of such Mortgage Loans are met on the relevant Transfer Date. Accordingly, the Portfolio may, at any time, include Mortgage Loans with characteristics that were not being offered to Borrowers on previous Transfer Dates.

Prior to the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, the LLP will acquire Mortgage Loans and their Related Security from the Seller in the three circumstances described below.

(a) First, in relation to the issue of Covered Bonds from time to time in accordance with the Programme, the Issuer will make Term Advances to the LLP, the proceeds of which may be applied in whole or in part by the LLP to acquire Mortgage Loans and their Related Security from the Seller. In exchange for the sale of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP, the Seller will receive an amount equal to the Current Balance of those Mortgage Loans sold by it as at the Transfer Date, which will be satisfied by a combination of:

  (i) a cash payment to be made by the LLP from the proceeds of the relevant Term Advance and/or from Available Principal Receipts; and/or

  (ii) the Seller being treated as having made a Capital Contribution in an amount equal to the difference between the Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans sold by the Seller as at the relevant Transfer Date and the cash payment (if any) made by the LLP; and

  (iii) Deferred Consideration.

(b) Second, the LLP will use the Available Principal Receipts to acquire New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security from the Seller and/or Substitution Assets (in respect of any Substitution Assets up to the prescribed limit) on each LLP Payment Date.

(c) Third, the LLP and the Seller are required to ensure that the Portfolio is maintained at all times in compliance with the Asset Coverage Test (as determined by the Cash Manager on each Calculation Date). If on any Calculation Date there is a breach of the Asset Coverage Test the Seller will use all reasonable efforts to offer to sell sufficient New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP on or before the next Calculation Date in consideration of the Seller being treated as having made a Capital Contribution (in an amount equal to the Current Balance of the New Mortgage Loans) sold by the Seller as at the relevant Transfer Date and in consideration of the right to receive the Deferred Consideration.

If Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security are sold by or on behalf of the LLP as described below under LLP Deed – Requirement to sell Selected Mortgage Loans following service of a Notice to Pay, the obligations of the Seller insofar as they relate to those Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security will cease to apply.

The Seller will also be required to repurchase Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold to the LLP in the circumstances described below under – Repurchase of Mortgage Loans.

Eligibility Criteria

The sale of Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP will be subject to various conditions (the Eligibility Criteria) being satisfied on the relevant Transfer Date or in respect of Additional Mortgage Loan Advances, on the next Calculation Date, including:

(d) no Issuer Event of Default or LLP Event of Default under the Transaction Documents shall have occurred which is continuing as at the relevant Transfer Date;

(e) the LLP, acting on the advice of the Cash Manager, is not aware, and could not reasonably be expected to be aware, that the purchase of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security, would adversely affect the then current ratings by Moody's, S&P or Fitch of the Covered Bonds;

(f) the weighted average yield on the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (including the New Mortgage Loans) is at least 0.15 per cent. greater than LIBOR for one month Sterling deposits after taking into account (i) the average yield on the Mortgage Loans and (ii) the margins on the Interest Rate Swaps and (iii) the average yield on any Substitution Assets held by the LLP;

(g) no Mortgage Loan has a Current Balance of more than £1,000,000;

(h) no Mortgage Loan relates to a Property which is not a residential Property; and

(i) no Mortgage Loan constitutes a New Mortgage Loan Type, in respect of which no confirmation has been received, in accordance with the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement, that such Mortgage Loan may be sold to the LLP.

On the relevant Transfer Date, the Representations and Warranties (described below in – Representations and Warranties) will be given by the Seller in respect of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold by the Seller to the LLP.

If the Seller accepts an application from or makes an offer (which is accepted) to a Borrower for a Product Switch, then if the Eligibility Criteria referred to in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) above relating to the Mortgage Loan subject to that Product Switch is not satisfied on the next following Calculation Date, the LLP will be entitled to rectify the relevant breach of those Eligibility Criteria by (in the event of a breach of the Eligibility Criteria in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) above) requiring the Seller to repurchase the Mortgage Loans subject to any Product Switch or (in the event of a breach of the Eligibility Criteria in paragraph (c) above) by requiring the Seller to transfer further Mortgage Loans to the LLP in an amount sufficient to ensure that the Eligibility Criteria in paragraph (c) above is met.

Transfer of Title to the Mortgage Loans to the LLP

English Mortgage Loans will be sold by the Seller to the LLP by way of equitable assignment. Scottish Mortgage Loans will be sold by the Seller on the First Transfer Date by way of a Scottish Declaration of Trust and, in relation to Scottish Mortgage Loans sold by the Seller to the LLP after the First Transfer Date, by further Scottish Declarations of Trust under which the beneficial interest in such Scottish Mortgage Loans will be transferred to the LLP. In relation to Scottish Mortgage Loans, references in this document to a sale of Mortgage Loans or to Mortgage Loans having been sold are to be read as references to the making of such Scottish Declarations of Trust in respect of Scottish Mortgage Loans. Such beneficial interest (as opposed to the legal title) cannot be registered or recorded in the Registers of Scotland. As a result, legal title to both English Mortgage Loans and Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security will remain with the Seller until legal assignments or assignations (as appropriate) are delivered by the Seller to the LLP and notice of the sale is given by the Seller to the Borrowers. Legal assignment or assignation (as appropriate) of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (including, where appropriate, their registration or recording in the relevant property register) to the LLP will be deferred and will only take place in the limited circumstances described below.

Legal assignment or assignation (as appropriate) of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (or, where specified, the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security) to the LLP will be completed on or before the 20th Business Day after the earliest of the following:

(a) the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service on Northern Rock of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and the service on the LLP of a Notice to Pay (unless the Seller has notified the LLP that it or they will accept the offer set out in the Selected Mortgage Loan Offer Notice within the prescribed time);

(b) in respect of Selected Mortgage Loans only, at the request of the LLP following the acceptance of any offer to sell the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to any person who is not the Seller;

(c) the Seller and/or the LLP being required, by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, or by a regulatory authority of which the Seller is a member or any organisation whose members comprise, but are not necessarily limited to, mortgage lenders with whose instructions it is customary for the Seller to comply, to perfect legal title to the Mortgages;

(d) it being rendered necessary by law to take such actions;

(e) the Security under the Deed of Charge or any material part of that Security being in jeopardy and the Security Trustee determining or being required by the Bond Trustee (on behalf of the Covered Bondholders) or the other Secured Creditors to take that action to reduce that jeopardy;

(f) unless otherwise agreed by the Security Trustee (with the Rating Agencies having confirmed it would not adversely affect the then current ratings of the Covered Bonds), the termination of the Seller's role as Servicer under the Servicing Agreement unless the substitute servicer, if any, is a member of the Northern Rock Group;

(g) the Seller requesting a transfer by way of assignment or assignation (as appropriate) by giving notice in writing to the LLP and the Security Trustee;

(h) the date on which the Seller ceases to be assigned a long-term unsecured, unsubordinated unguaranteed debt obligation rating by Moody's of at least Baa3 or by S&P of at least BBB- or by Fitch of at least BBB-; and

(i) the occurrence of an Insolvency Event in relation to the Seller.

Pending completion of the transfer, the right of the LLP to exercise the powers of the legal owner of, or (in Scotland) the heritable creditor under, the Mortgages will be secured by, or (in Scotland) supported by, an irrevocable power of attorney granted by the Seller in favour of the LLP and the Security Trustee.

The Title Deeds and Mortgage Loan Files relating to the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio will be held by or to the order of the Seller or the Servicer, as the case may be, or by solicitors, licensed conveyancers or (in Scotland) qualified conveyancers acting for the Seller in connection with the creation of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security. The Seller or the Servicer, as the case may be, will undertake that all the Title Deeds and Mortgage Loan Files relating to the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio which are at any time in their possession or under their control or held to their order will be held to the order of the Security Trustee or as the Security Trustee may direct.

Representations and warranties

None of the LLP, the Security Trustee or the Bond Trustee has made or has caused to be made on its behalf any enquiries, searches or investigations in respect of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to be sold to the LLP. Instead, each is relying entirely on the Representations and Warranties by the Seller contained in the Mortgage Sale Agreement. The parties to the Mortgage Sale Agreement may, with the prior written consent of the Security Trustee (with the Rating Agencies having confirmed it would not adversely affect the then current ratings of the Covered Bonds), amend the Representations and Warranties in the Mortgage Sale Agreement. The material Representations and Warranties are as follows and are given on the relevant Transfer Date in respect of the Mortgage Loans and Related Security to be sold to the LLP only on that date and on the Calculation Date following the making of any Further Advance or Product Switch in respect of the Mortgage Loan to which the Further Advance or Product Switch relates only:

- each Mortgage Loan was originated by the Seller or purchased by the Seller in the ordinary course of business (and kept on its books for a minimum of one month);
- the first payment due in respect of each Mortgage Loan has been paid by the relevant Borrower;
- each Mortgage Loan was originated in pounds Sterling and is denominated in pounds Sterling (or was originated and is denominated in euro if the euro has been adopted as the lawful currency of the United Kingdom);
- no Mortgage Loan has a Current Balance of more than £1,000,000;
- each Mortgage Loan has a remaining term of less than 50 years as at the relevant Transfer Date;
- prior to the making of each advance under a Mortgage Loan, the Lending Criteria and all preconditions to the making of any Mortgage Loan were satisfied in all material respects subject only to exceptions as would be acceptable to a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender;
- the Lending Criteria are consistent with the criteria that would be used by a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender;

- all of the Borrowers are individuals;

- the whole of the Current Balance on each Mortgage Loan is secured by a Mortgage over residential property;

- subject only in certain appropriate cases to the completion of an application for registration at H.M. Land Registry or the Registers of Scotland each Mortgage constitutes a valid and subsisting first charge by way of legal mortgage or (in Scotland) first ranking standard security over the relevant Property;

- the Current Balance on each Mortgage Loan and its Related Security (other than any agreement for Further Advances (if any), any other Additional Mortgage Loan Advances or any Personal Secured Loan) constitute a legal, valid, binding and enforceable debt due to the Seller from the relevant Borrower and the terms of each Mortgage Loan and its Related Security constitute valid and binding obligations of the Borrower enforceable in accordance with their terms (other than any agreement for Further Advances (if any), any other Additional Mortgage Loan Advance or any Personal Secured Loan);

- all approvals, consents and other steps necessary to permit a legal or equitable or beneficial transfer, or a transfer of servicing or other disposal as and in the manner contemplated by the Transaction Documents away from the Seller, of the Mortgage Loans and their related Mortgages to be sold under this Agreement have been obtained or taken and there is no requirement in order for the transfer to be effective to obtain the consent of the Borrower before, on or after any equitable or beneficial transfer or before any legal transfer of the Mortgage Loans and their related Mortgages and such transfer or disposal shall not give rise to any claim by the Borrower against the LLP, the Security Trustee or any of their successors in title or assigns;

- all of the Properties are in England or Wales or Scotland or (subject to the provision of a Northern Ireland legal opinion in a form and substance satisfactory to the Security Trustee from counsel satisfactory to the Security Trustee) Northern Ireland;

- not more than 12 months (or a longer period as may be acceptable to a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender) prior to the granting of each Mortgage, the Seller received a Valuation Report on the relevant Property (or another form of report concerning the valuation of the relevant Property as would be acceptable to a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender), the contents of which were such as would be acceptable to a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender or such other form of valuation of the relevant Property the acceptance of which the Rating Agencies have confirmed would not affect the then current ratings of the Covered Bonds from time to time;

- prior to the making of each Mortgage Loan, an independent valuer from a panel of valuers appointed by the Seller or an employee valuer of the Seller valued the relevant Property and the results of the valuation would be acceptable to a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender;

- prior to the taking of each Mortgage (other than a remortgage), the Seller instructed its solicitor, licensed conveyancer or (in Scotland) qualified conveyancer to carry out an investigation of title to the relevant Property and to undertake other searches, investigations, enquiries and other actions on behalf of the Seller in accordance with the instructions which the Seller issued to the relevant solicitor, licensed conveyancer or (in Scotland) qualified conveyancer as are set out, in the case of English Mortgage Loans, in the CML's Lenders' Handbook for England and Wales (or, for Mortgages taken before the CML's Lenders' Handbook for England and Wales was adopted in 1999, the Seller's Mortgage Practice Notes) and, in the case of Scottish Mortgage Loans, the CML's Lenders' Handbook for Scotland (or, for Mortgages taken before the CML's Lenders' Handbook for Scotland was adopted in 2000, the Seller's Mortgage Practice Notes) or other comparable or successor instructions and/or guidelines as may for the time being be in place, subject only to those variations as would be acceptable to a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender;

- buildings insurance cover for each Property is available under either a policy arranged by the Borrower or a policy issued to Borrowers by or on behalf of the Seller on behalf of an insurer who agrees with the Seller to issue buildings insurance policies to Borrowers from time to time or a policy arranged by the relevant landlord or the Properties in Possession Policy;
- the Seller has good title to, and is the absolute unencumbered legal and beneficial owner of, all property, interests, rights and benefits agreed to be sold and/or assigned by the Seller to the LLP under the Mortgage Sale Agreement;
- the Seller has, since the making of each Mortgage Loan, kept or procured the keeping of full and proper accounts, books and records showing clearly all transactions, payments, receipts, proceedings and notices relating to such Mortgage Loan;
- there are no governmental authorisations, approvals, licences or consents required as appropriate for the Seller to enter into or to perform its obligations under the Mortgage Sale Agreement or to make the Mortgage Sale Agreement legal, valid, binding, enforceable and admissible in evidence; and
- the rate of interest under each Mortgage Loan can at all times be set in the manner disclosed in the Mortgage Sale Agreement.

If New Mortgage Loan Types are to be sold to the LLP, then the Representations and Warranties in the Mortgage Sale Agreement will be modified as required to accommodate these New Mortgage Loan Types. The prior consent of the Covered Bondholders to the requisite amendments will not be required to be obtained. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the above representations and warranties will not apply in their entirety to Personal Secured Loans.

Repurchase of Mortgage Loans

If the Seller receives a Repurchase Notice from the Cash Manager identifying a Mortgage Loan or its Related Security in the Portfolio which does not, as at the relevant Transfer Date or relevant Calculation Date (in the case of a Further Advance), materially comply with the Representations and Warranties set out in the Mortgage Sale Agreement, then the Seller will be required to repurchase (i) any such Mortgage Loan and its Related Security and (ii) any other Mortgage Loans (including any Personal Secured Loans) of the relevant Borrower and their Related Security that are included in the Portfolio. The repurchase price payable upon the repurchase of any Mortgage Loan is an amount (not less than zero) equal to the Current Balance thereof and expenses as at the relevant repurchase date. The repurchase proceeds received by the LLP will be applied (other than Accrued Interest and Arrears of Interest) in accordance with the Pre-Acceleration Principal Priority of Payments (see Cashflows below).

In addition to the foregoing circumstances, the Seller will also be required to repurchase a Mortgage Loan or Mortgage Loans and its or their Related Security sold by them to the LLP where

(a) an Additional Mortgage Loan Advance made in respect of a Mortgage Loan results in certain Eligibility Criteria being breached; or

(b) a Personal Secured Loan secured over the same Property as the Mortgage Loan(s) is granted to a Borrower.

Defaulted Mortgage Loans

If a Seller receives a Defaulted Mortgage Loans Notice identifying any Defaulted Mortgage Loan, then that Defaulted Mortgage Loan will be attributed a reduced weighting in the calculation of the Asset Coverage Test and the Amortisation Test as at the relevant Calculation Date. In addition, the Seller may, at its option, repurchase a Defaulted Mortgage Loan for an amount equal to its Current Balance as at the date of repurchase.

General ability to repurchase

Prior to the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, the Seller may from time to time offer to repurchase a Mortgage Loan and its Related Security from the LLP for a purchase price of not less than the aggregate Current Balance of the relevant Mortgage Loan. The LLP may accept such offer at its discretion.

Right of Pre-emption

Under the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement, the Seller has a right of pre-emption in respect of any sale, in whole or in part, of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security.

The LLP will serve on the Seller a Selected Mortgage Loan Offer Notice offering to sell those Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security for an offer price equal to the greater of the then Current Balance of the Selected Mortgage Loans and the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount, subject to the offer being accepted by the Seller within ten Business Days. If an Issuer Event of Default has occurred but no liquidator or administrator has been appointed to the Seller, the Seller's right to accept the offer (and therefore its right of pre-emption) will be conditional upon the delivery by the Seller of a Solvency Certificate to the LLP and the Security Trustee. If the Seller rejects the LLP's offer or fails to accept it in accordance with the foregoing, the LLP will offer to sell the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to other Purchasers (as described under –LLP Deed – Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, below).

If the Seller validly accepts the LLP's offer to sell the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security, the LLP will, within three Business Days of such acceptance, serve a Selected Mortgage Loan Repurchase Notice on the Seller. The Seller will sign and return a duplicate copy of the Selected Mortgage Loan Repurchase Notice and will repurchase from the LLP free from the Security created by and pursuant to the Deed of Charge the relevant Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (and any other Mortgage Loan secured or intended to be secured by that Related Security or any part of it) referred to in the relevant Selected Mortgage Loan Repurchase Notice. Completion of the purchase of the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security by the Seller will take place on the LLP Payment Date after receipt of the Selected Mortgage Loans Repurchase Notice(s) or such date as the LLP may direct in the Selected Mortgage Loans Repurchase Notice (provided that such date is not later than the earlier to occur of the date which is (a) 10 Business Days after returning the Selected Mortgage Loan Repurchase Notice to the LLP and (b) the Final Maturity Date of the Earliest Maturing Covered Bonds).

For the purposes hereof:

Required Redemption Amount means in respect of a Series of Covered Bonds, the amount calculated as follows:

the Principal Amount Outstanding of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds	X	(1+ Negative Carry Factor X (days to maturity of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds/365))

Further drawings under Mortgage Loans

The Seller is solely responsible for funding all Additional Mortgage Loan Advances in respect of Mortgage Loans sold by the Seller to the LLP, if any. The amount of the Seller's Capital Contribution will increase by the amount of the funded Additional Mortgage Loan Advances as set out in the LLP Deed.

New Sellers

In the future, any New Seller that wishes to sell loans and their Related Security to the LLP will accede to, inter alia, the Mortgage Sale Agreement. The sale of New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security by New Sellers to the LLP will be subject to certain conditions, including the following:

- each New Seller accedes to the terms of the LLP Deed as Member (with such subsequent amendments as may be agreed by the parties thereto) so that it has, in relation to those New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to be sold by the relevant New Seller, substantially the same rights and obligations as the Seller had in relation to those Mortgage Loans and their Related Security comprised in the Initial Portfolio under the LLP Deed;
- each New Seller accedes to the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement (with such subsequent amendments as may be agreed by the parties thereto) or enters into a new mortgage sale agreement with the LLP and the Security Trustee, in each case so that it has, in relation to those New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to be sold by the relevant New Seller, substantially the same rights and obligations as the Seller had in relation to those Mortgage Loans and their Related Security comprised in the Initial Portfolio under the Mortgage Sale Agreement;

- each New Seller accedes to the Programme Agreement and enters into such other documents as may be required by the Security Trustee and/or the LLP (acting reasonably) to give effect to the addition of a New Seller to the transactions contemplated under the Programme;
- any New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold by a New Seller to the LLP comply with the Eligibility Criteria set out in the Mortgage Sale Agreement;
- either the Servicer services the New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold by a New Seller on the terms set out in the Servicing Agreement (with such subsequent amendments as may be agreed by the parties thereto) or the New Seller (or its nominee) enters into a servicing agreement with the LLP and the Security Trustee which sets out the servicing obligations of the New Seller (or its nominee) in relation to the New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security and which is on terms substantially similar to the terms set out in the Servicing Agreement (fees payable to the Servicer or the New Seller (or its nominee) acting as servicer of such New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security would be determined on the date of the accession of the New Seller to the Programme);
- the Security Trustee is satisfied that any accession of a New Seller to the Programme will not prejudice the Asset Coverage Test; and
- the Security Trustee is satisfied that the accession of a New Seller to the Programme is not materially prejudicial to Covered Bondholders and has received a Rating Agency Confirmation in relation thereto.

If the above conditions are met, the consent of Covered Bondholders will not be obtained to the accession of a New Seller to the Programme.

The Mortgage Sale Agreement is governed by English law (other than certain aspects relating to the Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security, which are governed by Scots law).

Servicing Agreement

Pursuant to the terms of the Servicing Agreement between the LLP, Northern Rock (in its capacity as Servicer) and the Security Trustee, the Servicer has agreed to service on behalf of the LLP the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold by the Seller to the LLP.

The Servicer will be required to administer the Mortgage Loans in accordance with the Servicing Agreement and:

(i) as if the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security sold by the Seller to the LLP had not been sold to the LLP but remained with the Seller; and

(ii) in accordance with the Seller's administration, arrears and enforcement policies and procedures forming part of the Servicer's policy from time to time as they apply to those Mortgage Loans.

The Servicer's actions in servicing the Mortgage Loans in accordance with its procedures will be binding on the LLP and the Secured Creditors.

The Servicer will have the power to exercise the rights, powers and discretions and to perform the duties of the LLP in relation to the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security that it is servicing pursuant to the terms of the Servicing Agreement, and to do anything which it reasonably considers necessary or convenient or incidental to the administration of those Mortgage Loans and their Related Security.

Undertakings of the Servicer

Pursuant to the terms of the Servicing Agreement, the Servicer will undertake in relation to those Mortgage Loans and their Related Security that it is servicing, inter alia, to:

- keep records and accounts on behalf of the LLP in relation to the Mortgage Loans;
- keep the Mortgage Loan Files and Title Deeds in its possession in safe custody and maintain records necessary to enforce each Mortgage and to provide the LLP and the Security Trustee with access to the Title Deeds and other records relating to the administration of the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security;
- maintain a register in respect of the Portfolio;

- make available to the LLP and the Security Trustee a report on a monthly basis containing information about the Mortgage Loans and their Related Security comprised in the Portfolio;
- assist the Cash Manager in the preparation of a monthly asset coverage report in accordance with the Cash Management Agreement;
- take all reasonable steps to recover all sums due to the LLP, including instituting proceedings and enforcing any relevant Mortgage Loan or Mortgage using the discretion of a Reasonable Prudent Mortgage Lender in applying the enforcement procedures forming part of the Seller's Policy; and
- enforce any Mortgage Loan which is in default in accordance with the Seller's enforcement procedures or, to the extent that such enforcement procedures are not applicable having regard to the nature of the default in question, with the usual procedures undertaken by a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender on behalf of the LLP.

The Servicer also undertakes that, on the Servicer ceasing to be assigned a long-term unsecured, unguaranteed and unsubordinated debt obligation rating by Moody's of at least Baa3 or by S&P of at least BBB- or by Fitch of at least BBB-, it will use reasonable efforts to enter into a new or a master servicing agreement (in such form as the LLP and the Security Trustee shall reasonably require) with a third party within 60 days under which such third party will undertake the servicing obligations in relation to the Portfolio.

Setting of Standard Variable Rate and other discretionary rates and margins

In addition to the undertakings described above, the Servicer has also undertaken in the Servicing Agreement to determine and set in relation to all the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio the Standard Variable Rate and any other discretionary rates and margins except in the limited circumstances described below in this sub-section when the LLP will be entitled to do so. The Servicer will not at any time prior to service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP and/or the transfer of legal title to the Portfolio (or any part thereof) to the LLP, without the prior consent of the LLP, set or maintain:

(i) the Standard Variable Rate applicable to the Mortgage Loans sold by the Seller to the LLP and in the Portfolio at a rate which is higher than (although it may be lower than or equal to) then prevailing Standard Variable Rate of the Seller which applies to mortgage loans beneficially owned by the Seller outside the Portfolio; and

(ii) any other discretionary rate or margin in respect of any other Mortgage Loan sold by the Seller to the LLP and in the Portfolio which is higher than (although it may be lower than or equal to) the interest rate which applies to that type of mortgage loan beneficially owned by the Seller outside the Portfolio.

In particular, the Servicer shall determine on each Calculation Date, having regard to:

(a) the income which the LLP would expect to receive during the next succeeding LLP Payment Period (the relevant LLP Payment Period);

(b) the Standard Variable Rate and any other discretionary rate or margin in respect of the Mortgage Loans which the Servicer proposes to set under the Servicing Agreement for the relevant LLP Payment Period; and

(c) the other resources available to the LLP including the Interest Rate Swap Agreement, the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreements and the Reserve Fund, whether the LLP would receive an amount of income during the relevant LLP Payment Period which when aggregated with funds otherwise available to it is less than the amount which is the aggregate of (1) the amount of interest which would be payable (or provisioned to be paid) under the Covered Bond Guarantee on each Interest Payment Date falling at the end of the relevant LLP Payment Period or in the immediately succeeding LLP Payment Period and amounts payable (or provisioned to be paid) to the Covered Bond Swap Providers under the Covered Bond Swap Agreements in respect of all Covered Bonds on the LLP Payment Date falling at the end of the relevant LLP Payment Period and (2) the other senior expenses payable by the LLP ranking in priority thereto in accordance with the relevant Priorities of Payments applicable prior to an LLP Event of Default.

If the Servicer determines that there will be a shortfall in the foregoing amounts, it will give written notice to the LLP and the Security Trustee, within one Business Day, of the amount of the shortfall and the Standard Variable Rate and the other discretionary rates or margins which would, in the Servicer's opinion, need to be set in order for no shortfall to arise, having regard to the date(s) on which the change to the Standard Variable Rate and any other discretionary rates or margins would take effect and at all times acting in accordance with the standards of a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender. If the LLP or the Security Trustee notifies the Servicer that, having regard to the obligations of the LLP, the Standard Variable Rate and/or the other discretionary rates or margins should be increased, the Servicer will take all steps which are necessary to increase the Standard Variable Rate and/or any other discretionary rates or margins including publishing any notice which is required in accordance with the Mortgage Terms.

In addition, the Servicer shall determine on each Calculation Date following an Issuer Event of Default, having regard to the aggregate of:

(a) the Standard Variable Rate and any other discretionary rate or margin, in respect of the Mortgage Loans which the Servicer proposes to set under the Servicing Agreement for the relevant LLP Payment Period; and

(b) the other resources available to the LLP under the Interest Rate Swap Agreement, whether the LLP would receive an aggregate amount of interest on the Mortgage Loans and amounts under the Interest Rate Swap Agreement during the relevant LLP Payment Period which would give a yield on the Mortgage Loans of at least LIBOR plus 0.15 per cent.

If the Servicer determines that the Yield Shortfall Test will not be met, it will give written notice to the LLP and the Security Trustee, within one Business Day, of the amount of the shortfall and the Standard Variable Rate and the other discretionary rates or margins which would, in the Servicer's opinion, need to be set in order for no shortfall to arise, and the Yield Shortfall Test to be met, having regard to the date(s) on which the change to the Standard Variable Rate and the other discretionary rates or margins would take effect and at all times acting in accordance with the standards of a Reasonable, Prudent Mortgage Lender. If the LLP or the Security Trustee notifies the Servicer that, having regard to the obligations of the LLP, the Standard Variable Rate and/or the other discretionary rates or margins should be increased, the Servicer will take all steps which are necessary to increase the Standard Variable Rate and/or any other discretionary rates or margins including publishing any notice which is required in accordance with the Mortgage Terms.

The LLP and the Security Trustee may terminate the authority of the Servicer to determine and set the Standard Variable Rate and any other variable rates or margins on the occurrence of a Servicer Event of Default as defined under – Removal or resignation of the Servicer, in which case the LLP will set the Standard Variable Rate and the other discretionary rates or margins itself in accordance with this sub-section.

Compensation

It is intended that the LLP will not pay any fee to the Servicer or any substitute servicer which is a member of the Northern Rock Group. If, however, a servicer is appointed from outside the Northern Rock Group a fee is likely to be payable.

Removal or resignation of the Servicer

The LLP and the Security Trustee may, upon written notice to the Servicer, terminate the Servicer's rights and obligations immediately if any of the following events (each a Servicer Termination Event and, each of the first three events set out below, a Servicer Event of Default) occurs:

- the Servicer defaults in the payment of any amount due to the LLP under the Servicing Agreement and fails to remedy that default for a period of three Business Days after becoming aware of the default;
- the Servicer fails to comply with any of its other obligations under the Servicing Agreement which failure in the opinion of the Security Trustee is materially prejudicial to Covered Bondholders and does not remedy that failure within 20 Business Days after becoming aware of the failure;
- an Insolvency Event occurs in relation to the Servicer; or
- the LLP resolves that the appointment of the Servicer should be terminated.

Subject to the fulfilment of a number of conditions, the Servicer may voluntarily resign by giving not less than 12 months' notice to the Security Trustee and the LLP provided that a substitute servicer qualified to act as such under the FSMA and with a management team with experience of administering mortgages in the United Kingdom has been appointed and enters into a servicing agreement with the LLP substantially on the same terms as the Servicing Agreement. The resignation of the Servicer is conditional on the resignation having no adverse effect on the then current ratings of the Covered Bonds unless the Covered Bondholders agree otherwise by extraordinary resolution.

If the appointment of the Servicer is terminated, the Servicer must deliver the Title Deeds and Mortgage Loan Files relating to the Mortgage Loans administered by it to, or at the direction of, the LLP. The Servicing Agreement will terminate at such time as the LLP has no further interest in any of the Mortgage Loans or their Related Security sold to the LLP and serviced under the Servicing Agreement that have been comprised in the Portfolio.

The Servicer may sub-contract or delegate the performance of its duties under the Servicing Agreement provided that it meets conditions as set out in the Servicing Agreement.

Neither the Bond Trustee nor the Security Trustee is obliged to act as servicer in any circumstances.

The Servicing Agreement is governed by English law and will be made by way of deed.

Asset Monitor Agreement

Under the terms of the Asset Monitor Agreement between the Asset Monitor, the LLP, the Cash Manager and the Security Trustee, the Asset Monitor has agreed, subject to due receipt of the information to be provided by the Cash Manager to the Asset Monitor, to conduct tests in respect of the calculations performed by the Cash Manager on the Calculation Date immediately prior to each anniversary of the Programme Date with a view to confirmation of compliance by the LLP with the Asset Coverage Test or the Amortisation Test, as applicable, on that Calculation Date.

If the long-term ratings of the Cash Manager or the Issuer fall below BBB-/Baa3/BBB- (by S&P, Moody's or Fitch, respectively) the Asset Monitor will, subject to receipt of the relevant information from the Cash Manager, be required to conduct such tests following each Calculation Date and, following a determination by the Asset Monitor of any errors in the calculations performed by the Cash Manager such that the Asset Coverage Test has been failed on the applicable Calculation Date (where the Cash Manager had recorded it as being satisfied) or the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount or the Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount is misstated by an amount exceeding one per cent. of the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount or the Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount, as applicable, (as at the date of the relevant Asset Coverage Test or the relevant Amortisation Test), the Asset Monitor will be required to conduct such tests following each Calculation Date for a period of six months thereafter.

The Asset Monitor is entitled, in the absence of manifest error, to assume that all information provided to it by the Cash Manager for the purpose of conducting such tests is true and correct and not misleading, and is not required to conduct a test or otherwise take steps to verify the accuracy of any such information. The Asset Monitor Report will be delivered to the Cash Manager, the LLP, the Issuer, the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee.

As at the Programme Date, the LLP will pay to the Asset Monitor a fee of £1,000 per test (exclusive of VAT) for the tests to be performed by the Asset Monitor.

The LLP may, at any time, but subject to the prior written consent of the Security Trustee, terminate the appointment of the Asset Monitor by giving at least 60 days' prior written notice to the Asset Monitor, provided that such termination may not be effected unless and until a replacement asset monitor has been found by the LLP (such replacement to be approved by the Security Trustee (such approval to be given if the replacement is an accountancy firm of national standing)) which agrees to perform the duties (or substantially similar duties) of the Asset Monitor set out in the Asset Monitor Agreement.

The Asset Monitor may, at any time, resign by giving at least 60 days' prior written notice to the LLP and the Security Trustee.

Upon giving notice of resignation, the Asset Monitor shall immediately use its best endeavours to appoint a replacement (such replacement to be approved by the Security Trustee) which agrees to perform the duties of the Asset Monitor set out in the Asset Monitor Agreement. If a replacement is not appointed by the date which is 30 days prior to the date when tests are to be carried out in accordance with the terms of the Asset Monitor Agreement, then the LLP shall use all reasonable endeavours to appoint an accountancy firm of national standing to carry out the relevant tests on a one-off basis, provided that such appointment is approved by the Security Trustee.

Neither the Bond Trustee nor the Security Trustee will be obliged to act as Asset Monitor in any circumstances.

The Asset Monitor Agreement is governed by English law.

LLP Deed

The Members of the LLP have agreed to operate the business of the LLP in accordance with the terms of a limited liability partnership deed entered into on the Programme Date as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time between the LLP, Northern Rock, the Liquidation Member, the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee (the LLP Deed).

Members

As at the Programme Date, each of Northern Rock and the Liquidation Member is a member (each a Member, and together with any other members from time to time, the Members) of the LLP. Northern Rock and the Liquidation Member are designated members (each a Designated Member, and together with any other designated members from time to time, the Designated Members) of the LLP. The Designated Members shall have such duties as are specified in the LLPA 2000 or otherwise at law and in the LLP Deed. The LLP Deed requires that there will at all times be at least two Designated Members of the LLP.

For so long as Covered Bonds are outstanding, if an administrator or a liquidator is appointed to Northern Rock, the Liquidation Member may, by written notice to the LLP, appoint another Member as a Designated Member or may, at its sole discretion (acting on behalf of itself and the other Members), admit a New Member to the LLP (in each case with the prior written consent of the Security Trustee).

No New Member may be otherwise appointed without the consent of the Security Trustee and the receipt by the Issuer or the Security Trustee of a Rating Agency Confirmation.

Capital Contributions

From time to time Northern Rock (in its capacity as a Member) will make Capital Contributions to the LLP. Capital Contributions may be made in cash or in kind (e.g. through a contribution of Mortgage Loans to the LLP). The Capital Contributions of Northern Rock shall be calculated in Sterling on each Calculation Date as the difference between (a) the Current Balance of the Portfolio as at the last day of the preceding Calculation Period plus Principal Receipts standing to the credit of the GIC Account plus the principal amount of Substitution Assets and Authorised Investments as at the last day of the preceding Calculation Period and (b) the Sterling Equivalent of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding under the Covered Bonds as at the last day of the preceding Calculation Period.

The Liquidation Member will not make any Capital Contributions to the LLP.

Capital Contributions or returns on Capital Contributions shall only be paid to Members after the LLP has paid or, as applicable, provided for all higher ranking amounts in the relevant Priority of Payments.

Asset Coverage Test

Under the terms of the LLP Deed, the LLP and the Members (other than the Liquidation Member) must ensure that on each Calculation Date, the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount is in an amount at least equal to the Sterling Equivalent of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date.

If on any Calculation Date the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount is less than the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of all Covered Bonds as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date, then the LLP (or the Cash Manager on its behalf) will notify the Members, the Bond Trustee and the Security Trustee thereof and the Members (other than the Liquidation Member) will use all reasonable endeavours to sell sufficient further Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to the LLP in accordance with the Mortgage Sale Agreement (see Summary of the Principal Documents – Mortgage Sale Agreement – Sale by the Seller of Mortgage Loans and their Related Security) or provide Cash Capital Contributions to ensure that the Asset Coverage Test is met. An Issuer Event of Default shall occur if the Asset Coverage Test is not remedied on the next following Calculation Date.

For the purposes hereof:

Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount means the amount calculated on each Calculation Date as follows:

$$A + B + C + D - (V + W + X + Y + Z)$$

where,

A = the lower of (i) and (ii), where:

(i) = the sum of the Adjusted Current Balance of each Mortgage Loan in the Portfolio, which shall be the lower of (1) the actual Current Balance of the relevant Mortgage Loan in the Portfolio as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date and (2) the Indexed Valuation relating to that Mortgage Loan multiplied by M (where for all Mortgage Loans that are less than three months in arrears or not in arrears, M = 0.75, for all Mortgage Loans that are three months or more in arrears and have a Current Balance to Indexed Valuation ratio of less than or equal to 75%, M = 0.40 and for all Mortgage Loans that are three months or more in arrears and have a Current Balance to Indexed Valuation ratio of more than to 75%, M = 0.25),

minus

the aggregate sum of the following deemed reductions to the aggregate Adjusted Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio if any of the following occurred during the previous Calculation Period:

(3) a Mortgage Loan or its Related Security was, in the immediately preceding Calculation Period, in breach of the Representations and Warranties contained in the Mortgage Sale Agreement or subject to any other obligation of the Seller to repurchase the relevant Mortgage Loan and its Related Security, and in each case the Seller has not repurchased the Mortgage Loan or Mortgage Loans of the relevant Borrower and its or their Related Security to the extent required by the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement. In this event, the aggregate Adjusted Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date) will be deemed to be reduced by an amount equal to the Adjusted Current Balance of the relevant Mortgage Loan or Mortgage Loans (as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date) of the relevant Borrower; and/or

(4) the Seller, in any preceding Calculation Period, was in breach of any other material warranty under the Mortgage Sale Agreement and/or the Servicer was, in any preceding Calculation Period, in breach of a material term of the Servicing Agreement. In this event, the aggregate Adjusted Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date) will be deemed to be reduced by an amount equal to the resulting financial loss incurred by the LLP in the immediately preceding Calculation Period (such financial loss to be calculated by the Cash Manager without double counting and to be reduced by any amount paid (in cash or in kind) to the LLP by the Seller to indemnify the LLP for such financial loss);

AND

(ii) = the aggregate Arrears Adjusted Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio as at the relevant Calculation Date which shall be the lower of (1) the actual Current Balance of the relevant Mortgage Loan as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date and (2) the Indexed Valuation relating to that Mortgage Loan multiplied by N (where for all Mortgage Loans that are less than three months in arrears or not in arrears, N = 1, for all Mortgage Loans that are three months or more in arrears and have a Current Balance to Indexed Valuation ratio of less than or equal to 75%, N = 0.40 and for all Mortgage Loans that are three months or more in arrears and have a Current Balance to Indexed Valuation ratio of more than 75%, N = 0.25);

the aggregate sum of the following deemed reductions to the aggregate Arrears Adjusted Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio if any of the following occurred during the previous Calculation Period:

(1) a Mortgage Loan or its Related Security was, in the immediately preceding Calculation Period, in breach of the Representations and Warranties contained in the Mortgage Sale Agreement or subject to any other obligation of the Seller to repurchase the relevant Mortgage Loan and its Related Security, and in each case the Seller has not repurchased the Mortgage Loan or Mortgage Loans of the relevant Borrower and its or their Related Security to the extent required by the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement. In this event, the aggregate Arrears Adjusted Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date) will be deemed to be reduced by an amount equal to the Arrears Adjusted Current Balance of the relevant Mortgage Loan or Mortgage Loans (as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date) of the relevant Borrower; and/or

(2) the Seller, in any preceding Calculation Period, was in breach of any other material warranty under the Mortgage Sale Agreement and/or the Servicer was, in the immediately preceding Calculation Period, in breach of a material term of the Servicing Agreement. In this event, the aggregate Arrears Adjusted Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date) will be deemed to be reduced by an amount equal to the resulting financial loss incurred by the LLP in the immediately preceding Calculation Period (such financial loss to be calculated by the Cash Manager without double counting and to be reduced by any amount paid (in cash or in kind) to the LLP by the Seller to indemnify the LLP for such financial loss), the result of which is multiplied by the Asset Percentage (as defined below);

B = the aggregate amount of any Principal Receipts on the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio up to the end of the immediately preceding Calculation Period (as recorded in the Principal Ledger) which have not been applied as at the relevant Calculation Date to acquire further Mortgage Loans and their Related Security or otherwise applied in accordance with the LLP Deed and/or the other Transaction Documents;

C = the aggregate amount of any Cash Capital Contributions made by the Members (as recorded in the Capital Account Ledger of each Member) or proceeds of Term Advances which have not been applied as at the relevant Calculation Date to acquire further Mortgage Loans and their Related Security or otherwise applied in accordance with this Deed and/or the other Transaction Documents;

D = the aggregate outstanding principal balance of any Substitution Assets;

V = 100 per cent. of the sum of the average cleared credit balance of all applicable accounts linked to Together Connections Mortgage Loans and Connections Mortgage Loans or any other Mortgage Loans in respect of each calendar month or part of such calendar month;

W = 2 per cent. of the aggregate Current Balance of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio, as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date;

X = 8 per cent. multiplied by the Flexible Redraw Capacity (as defined below) multiplied by 3;

Y = the aggregate Current Balance of (1) Re-draws and (2) Personal Secured Loans in the Portfolio as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date; and

Z = the weighted average remaining maturity of all Covered Bonds then outstanding multiplied by the Sterling Equivalent of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds multiplied by the Negative Carry Factor where the Negative Carry Factor is a percentage calculated by reference to the weighted average margin of the Covered Bonds and will, in any event, be not less than 0.50% (provided that if such weighted average is less than one, the weighted average shall be deemed, for the purposes of this calculation, to be one).

Asset Percentage means 90 per cent. or such lesser percentage figure as determined from time to time in accordance with the terms of the LLP Deed. On the Calculation Date falling in January, April, July and October of each year, the LLP (or the Cash Manager on its behalf) will calculate the WAFF and the WALS (and/or such figures calculated in accordance with such alternative methodologies as the Rating Agencies may prescribe) for the Portfolio as a whole or a random sample of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio, such calculations to be made on the same basis throughout unless agreed otherwise by the Rating Agencies.

The WAFF and WALS (or other relevant figures) so calculated will be input by the Cash Manager to one or more cashflow models approved by the Rating Agencies. Such models, which test the credit enhancement required in various cashflow scenarios, will indicate, on the basis of the latest WAFF and WALS figures (or other relevant figures), the Asset Percentage needed in order to provide credit enhancement to cover all such cashflow scenarios.

Save where otherwise agreed with the Rating Agencies, the Asset Percentage will be adjusted in accordance with the various methodologies prescribed by each of the Rating Agencies to ensure that sufficient credit enhancement will be maintained, provided that the Asset Percentage may not, at any time, exceed 90 per cent.

Flexible Re-draw Capacity means the sum of (i) the flexible cash re-draw capacity, being an amount equal to the difference between (1) the maximum amount of Cash Re-draws that Borrowers may make under Flexible Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio (whether or not drawn) as at the last day of the immediately preceding Calculation Period and (2) the aggregate Current Balance of Cash Redraws which form part of the Portfolio as at the last day of the immediately preceding Calculation Period; and (ii) the further draw capacity being an amount equal to the difference between (1) the maximum amount of credit extended to Borrowers under Flexi-Plan Loans included in the Portfolio as at the last day of the immediately preceding Calculation Period and (2) the aggregate Current Balance of Flexi-Plan Loans which form part of the Portfolio as at the last date of the immediately preceding Calculation Period.

Amortisation Test

The LLP and the Members (other than the Liquidation Member) must ensure that on each Calculation Date following service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP (but prior to service of an LLP Acceleration Notice) the Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount will be in an amount at least equal to the Sterling Equivalent of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date.

Following an Issuer Event of Default, if on any Calculation Date the Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount is less than the Sterling Equivalent of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date, then the Amortisation Test will be deemed to be breached and an LLP Event of Default will occur. The LLP or the Cash Manager, as the case may be, will immediately notify the Members, the Security Trustee and (whilst Covered Bonds are outstanding) the Bond Trustee of any breach of the Amortisation Test.

The Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount will be calculated on each Calculation Date as follows:

$$A + B + C - Z$$

where,

A = the aggregate Amortisation Test Current Balance of each Mortgage Loan, which shall be the lower of (1) the actual Current Balance of the relevant Mortgage Loan as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date multiplied by M and (2) 100 per cent. of the Indexed Valuation multiplied by M.

Where for all the Mortgage Loans that are less than three months in arrears or not in arrears M = 1 or for all the Mortgage Loans that are three months or more in arrears M = 0.7;

B = the sum of the amount of any cash standing to the credit of the GIC Account and the principal amount of any Authorised Investments (excluding any Revenue Receipts received in the immediately preceding Calculation Period);

C = the aggregate outstanding principal balance of any Substitution Assets;

Z = the weighted average remaining maturity of all Covered Bonds then outstanding multiplied by the Sterling Equivalent of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds multiplied by the Negative Carry Factor.

Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security following service of a Notice to Pay

After a Notice to Pay has been served on the LLP following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on Northern Rock, but prior to service of an LLP Acceleration Notice, the LLP will be obliged to sell Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security in the Portfolio in accordance with the LLP Deed (as described below), subject to the rights of pre-emption enjoyed by the Seller to buy the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security pursuant to the Mortgage Sale Agreement. The proceeds from any such sale will be credited to the GIC Account and applied as set out in the Priorities of Payments.

Method of Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans

If the LLP is required to sell Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security to Purchasers following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, the LLP will be required to ensure that before offering Selected Mortgage Loans for sale:

(a) the Selected Mortgage Loans have been selected from the Portfolio on a random basis as described in the LLP Deed; and

(b) the Selected Mortgage Loans have an aggregate Current Balance in an amount (the Required Current Balance Amount) which is as close as possible to the amount calculated as follows:

$$N \times \frac{\text{Current Balance of all the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio}}{\text{the Sterling Equivalent of the Required Redemption Amount in respect of each Series of Covered Bonds then outstanding}}$$ where N is an amount equal to the Sterling Equivalent of the Required Redemption Amount of the Earliest Maturing Covered Bonds less amounts standing to the credit of the GIC Account and the principal amount of any Authorised Investments (excluding all amounts to be applied on the next following LLP Payment Date to repay higher ranking amounts in the Guarantee Priority of Payments and those amounts that are required to repay any Series of Covered Bonds which mature prior to or on the same date as the relevant Series of Covered Bonds).

The LLP will offer the Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security for sale to Purchasers for the best price reasonably available but in any event for an amount not less than the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount.

If the Selected Mortgage Loans have not been sold (in whole or in part) in an amount equal to the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount by the date which is six months prior to, as applicable, if the Covered Bonds are not subject to an Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Covered Bond Guarantee, the Final Maturity Date or, if the Covered Bonds are subject to an Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Covered Bond Guarantee, the Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Earliest Maturing Covered Bonds (after taking into account all payments, provisions and credits to be made in priority thereto), then the LLP will offer the Selected Mortgage Loans for sale for the best price reasonably available notwithstanding that such amount may be less than the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount.

In addition to offering Selected Mortgage Loans for sale to Purchasers in respect of the Earliest Maturing Covered Bonds, the LLP (subject to the rights of pre-emption enjoyed by the Seller pursuant to the Mortgage Sale Agreement) is permitted to offer for sale a portfolio of Selected Mortgage Loans, in accordance with the provisions summarised above, in respect of other Series of Covered Bonds.

The LLP is also permitted to offer for sale to Purchasers a Partial Portfolio. Except in circumstances where the portfolio of Selected Mortgage Loans is being sold within six months of, as applicable, the Final Maturity Date or, if the Covered Bonds are subject to an Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Covered Bond Guarantee, the Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Series of Covered Bonds to be repaid from such proceeds, the sale price of the Partial Portfolio (as a proportion of the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount) shall be at least equal to the proportion that the Partial Portfolio bears to the relevant portfolio of Selected Mortgage Loans.

The LLP will through a tender process appoint a portfolio manager of recognised standing on a basis intended to incentivise the portfolio manager to achieve the best price for the sale of the Selected Mortgage Loans (if such terms are commercially available in the market) to advise it in relation to the sale of the Selected Mortgage Loans to Purchasers (except where the Seller is buying the Selected Mortgage Loans in accordance with their right of pre-emption in the Mortgage Sale Agreement). The terms of the agreement giving effect to the appointment in accordance with such tender shall be approved by the Security Trustee.

In respect of any sale of Selected Mortgage Loans and their Related Security following service of a Notice to Pay, the LLP will instruct the portfolio manager to use all reasonable endeavours to procure that Selected Mortgage Loans are sold as quickly as reasonably practicable (in accordance with the recommendations of the portfolio manager) taking into account the market conditions at that time and the scheduled repayment dates of the Covered Bonds and the terms of the LLP Deed.

The terms of any sale and purchase agreement with respect to the sale of Selected Mortgage Loans (which shall give effect to the recommendations of the portfolio manager) will be subject to the prior written approval of the Security Trustee. The Security Trustee will not be required to release the Selected Mortgage Loans from the Security unless the conditions relating to the release of the Security (as described under – Deed of Charge – Release of Security, below) are satisfied.

If Purchasers accept the offer or offers from the LLP so that some or all of the Selected Mortgage Loans shall be sold prior to the next following Final Maturity Date or, if the Covered Bonds are subject to an Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Covered Bond Guarantee, the next following Extended Due for Payment Date in respect of the Earliest Maturing Covered Bonds, then the LLP will, subject to the foregoing paragraph, enter into a sale and purchase agreement with the relevant Purchasers which will require inter alia a cash payment from the relevant Purchasers. Any such sale will not include any Representations and Warranties from the LLP in respect of the Mortgage Loans and the Related Security unless expressly agreed by the Security Trustee or otherwise agreed with the Seller.

Covenants of the LLP and the Members

Each of the Members covenants that, subject to the terms of the Transaction Documents, it will not sell, transfer, convey, create or permit to arise any security interest on, declare a trust over, create any beneficial interest in or otherwise dispose of its interest in the LLP without the prior written consent of the LLP and, whilst the Covered Bonds are outstanding, the Security Trustee. Whilst any amounts are outstanding in respect of the Covered Bonds, each of the Members undertakes not to terminate or purport to terminate the LLP or institute any winding-up, administration, insolvency or similar proceedings against the LLP.

The LLP covenants that it will not, save with the prior written consent of the LLP Management Board (and, for so long as any Covered Bonds are outstanding, the consent of the Security Trustee) or as envisaged by the Transaction Documents:

(a) create or permit to subsist any security interest over the whole or any part of its assets or undertakings, present or future;

(b) dispose of, deal with or grant any option or present or future right to acquire any of its assets or undertakings or any interest therein or thereto;

(c) have an interest in a bank account other than as set out in the Transaction Documents;

(d) incur any indebtedness or give any guarantee or indemnity in respect of any such indebtedness;

(e) consolidate or merge with or transfer any of its property or assets to another person;

(f) have any employees, premises or subsidiaries;

(g) acquire assets other than pursuant to the Mortgage Sale Agreement, the Cash Management Agreement and the LLP Deed;

(h) engage in any activities or derive income from any activities within the United States or hold any property if doing so would cause it to be engaged or deemed to be engaged in a trade or business within the United States;

(i) enter into any contracts, agreements or other undertakings;

(j) compromise, compound or release any debt due to it; or

(k) commence, defend, settle or compromise any litigation or other claims relating to it or any of its assets.

Limit on Investing in Substitution Assets and Authorised Investments

Prior to the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, the LLP will be permitted to invest Available Revenue Receipts, Available Principal Receipts and the proceeds of Term Advances in Substitution Assets, provided that the aggregate amount so invested does not exceed 10 per cent. of the total assets of the LLP at any one time and provided that such investments are made in accordance with the terms of the Cash Management Agreement.

Following service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, all Substitution Assets must be sold by the LLP (or the Cash Manager on its behalf) as quickly as reasonably practicable and the proceeds credited to the GIC Account and the LLP will be permitted to invest all available monies in Authorised Investments, provided that such investments are made in accordance with the terms of the Cash Management Agreement.

Other Provisions

The allocation and distribution of Revenue Receipts, Principal Receipts and all other amounts received by the LLP is described under Cashflows below.

The LLP Management Board, comprised as at the Programme Date of directors, officers and/or employees of Northern Rock, will act on behalf of the LLP to which (other than any decision to approve the audited accounts of the LLP or to make a resolution for the voluntary winding up of the LLP, which require a unanimous decision of the Members) the Members delegate all matters. Any decision by the LLP Management Board relating to the admission of a New Member, any change in the LLP's business, any change to the LLP's name and any amendment to the LLP Deed, will be made, whilst any Covered Bonds are outstanding, with the consent of the Security Trustee.

For so long as any Covered Bonds are outstanding, each Member has agreed that it will not terminate or purport to terminate the LLP or institute any winding-up, administration, insolvency or other similar proceedings against the LLP. Furthermore, the Members have agreed inter alia not to demand or receive payment of any amounts payable by the LLP (or the Cash Manager on its behalf) or the Security Trustee unless all amounts then due and payable by the LLP to all other creditors ranking higher in the relevant Priorities of Payments have been paid in full.

Each Member will be responsible for the payment of its own tax liabilities and will be required to indemnify the LLP and the other Members from any liabilities which they incur as a result of the relevant Member's non-payment.

Following the appointment of a liquidator to any Member (other than the Liquidation Member), any decisions of the LLP that are reserved to the Members in the LLP Deed shall be made by the Liquidation Member only.

The LLP Deed is governed by English law.

Cash Management Agreement

The Cash Manager will provide certain cash management services to the LLP pursuant to the terms of the Cash Management Agreement between the LLP, Northern Rock in its capacity as the Cash Manager and the Security Trustee.

The Cash Manager's services include but are not limited to:

(a) maintaining the Ledgers on behalf of the LLP;

(b) distributing the Revenue Receipts and the Principal Receipts in accordance with the Priorities of Payment described under Cashflows, below;

(c) determining whether the Asset Coverage Test is satisfied on each Calculation Date in accordance with the LLP Deed, as more fully described under Credit Structure – Asset Coverage Test, below;

(d) determining whether the Amortisation Test is satisfied on each Calculation Date following an Issuer Event of Default in accordance with the LLP Deed, as more fully described under Credit Structure – Amortisation Test, below; and

(e) preparation of Investor Reports for the Covered Bondholders, the Rating Agencies and the Bond Trustee.

In certain circumstances the LLP and the Security Trustee will each have the right to terminate the appointment of the Cash Manager and to appoint a substitute (the identity of which will be subject to the Security Trustee's written approval). Any substitute cash manager will have substantially the same rights and obligations as the Cash Manager (although the fee payable to the substitute cash manager may be higher).

The Cash Management Agreement is governed by English law.

Interest Rate Swap Agreement

Some of the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio pay a variable rate of interest for a period of time that may either be linked to the Seller's Standard Variable Rate or linked to an interest rate other than the Seller's Standard Variable Rate, such as a variable rate offered by a basket of UK mortgage lenders or a rate that tracks the Bank of England base rate. Other Mortgage Loans pay a fixed rate of interest for a period of time. However, the Sterling payments to be made by the LLP under the Covered Bond Swaps are based on LIBOR for three month Sterling deposits. To provide a hedge against the possible variance between:

(1) the rates of interest payable on the Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio; and

(2) LIBOR for three month Sterling deposits, the LLP, the Interest Rate Swap Provider and the Security Trustee have entered into the Interest Rate Swap Agreement on the Programme Date.

In the event that the relevant ratings of the Interest Rate Swap Provider, or any guarantor, as applicable, is or are, as applicable, downgraded by a Rating Agency below the ratings specified in the Interest Rate Swap Agreement (in accordance with the requirements of the Rating Agencies) for the Interest Rate Swap Provider, and, as a result of the downgrade, the then current ratings of the Covered Bonds would or may, as applicable, be adversely affected, the Interest Rate Swap Provider will be required to take certain remedial measures which may include providing collateral for its obligations, arranging for its obligations to be transferred to an entity with ratings required by the relevant Rating Agency, procuring another entity with rating(s) required by the relevant Rating Agency to become co-obligor in respect of its obligations, or taking such other action as it may agree with the relevant Rating Agency. A failure to take such steps will allow the LLP to terminate the Interest Rate Swap Agreement.

The Interest Rate Swap Agreement may also be terminated in certain other circumstances (each referred to as an Interest Rate Swap Early Termination Event), including:

- at the option of any party to the Interest Rate Swap Agreement, if there is a failure by the other party to pay any amounts due under the Interest Rate Swap Agreement; and
- upon the occurrence of the insolvency of the Interest Rate Swap Provider, or any guarantor, or the merger of one of the parties without an assumption of the obligations under the Interest Rate Swap Agreement (except in respect of a transfer by the LLP to the Security Trustee in its fiduciary capacity).

Upon the termination of the Interest Rate Swap pursuant to an Interest Rate Swap Early Termination Event, the LLP or the Interest Rate Swap Provider may be liable to make a termination payment to the other in accordance with the provisions of the Interest Rate Swap Agreement.

If withholding taxes are imposed on payments made by the Interest Rate Swap Provider under the Interest Rate Swap, the Interest Rate Swap Provider shall always be obliged to gross up these payments. If withholding taxes are imposed on payments made by the LLP to the Interest Rate Swap Provider under the Interest Rate Swap, the LLP shall not be obliged to gross up those payments.

If the LLP is required to sell Selected Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio in order to provide liquidity in respect of the Earliest Maturing Covered Bonds following an Issuer Event of Default and service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, then to the extent that such Selected Mortgage Loans include Fixed Rate Mortgage Loans, either:

(a) the Interest Rate Swap in connection with such fixed rate Mortgage Loans will partially terminate and any breakage costs payable by or to the LLP in connection with such termination will be taken into account in calculating the Adjusted Required Redemption Amount for the sale of the Selected Mortgage Loans; or

(b) such Interest Rate Swap will be partially novated to the purchaser of such fixed rate Mortgage Loans, and such purchaser will thereby become party to a separate interest rate swap transaction with the Interest Rate Swap Provider.

The Interest Rate Swap Agreements are (or, as applicable, will be) governed by English law.

Covered Bond Swap Agreements

The LLP will enter into one or more Covered Bond Swaps with one or more Covered Bond Swap Providers and the Security Trustee. Each Covered Bond Swap will provide a hedge against certain interest rate, currency and/or other risks in respect of amounts received by the LLP under the Mortgage Loans and the Interest Rate Swap and amounts payable by the LLP under the Intercompany Loan Agreement (prior to the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP) and under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of Covered Bonds (after the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP).

Where required to hedge such risks, there will be one (or more) Covered Bond Swap Agreement(s) and Covered Bond Swap(s) in relation to each Series or Tranche, as applicable, of Covered Bonds. Under the Covered Bond Swaps on the relevant Issue Date, the LLP will pay to the Covered Bond Swap Provider the amount received by the LLP under the applicable Term Advance (being an amount equal to the gross proceeds of the issue of such Series or Tranche, as applicable, of Covered Bonds) and in return the Covered Bond Swap Provider will pay an amount equivalent to the Sterling Equivalent of the applicable Term Advance. Thereafter, the Covered Bond Swap Provider will pay to the LLP on each Interest Payment Date amounts equivalent to the amounts that would be payable by the LLP under either the applicable Term Advance in accordance with the terms of the Intercompany Loan or the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of interest and principal payable under the relevant Series or Tranche of Covered Bonds. In return, the LLP will pay to the Covered Bond Swap Provider on each LLP Payment Date an amount in Sterling calculated by reference to LIBOR for three month Sterling deposits for the relevant Interest Period plus a spread and the Sterling Equivalent of any principal due in respect of the relevant Term Advance in accordance with the Intercompany Loan Agreement.

Under the terms of each Covered Bond Swap, in the event that the relevant rating of the Covered Bond Swap Provider is downgraded by a Rating Agency below the rating(s) specified in the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement (in accordance with the requirements of the Rating Agencies) for the Covered Bond Swap Provider, and, where applicable, as a result of the downgrade, the then current ratings of the Covered Bonds would or may, as applicable, be adversely affected, the Covered Bond Swap Provider will, in accordance with the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement, be required to take certain remedial measures which may include providing collateral for its obligations under the Covered Bond Swap, arranging for its obligations under the Covered Bond Swap to be transferred to an entity with the ratings required by the relevant Rating Agency, procuring another entity with the ratings required by the relevant Rating Agency to become co-obligor in respect of its obligations under the Covered Bond Swap, or taking such other action as it may agree with the relevant Rating Agency. A failure to take such steps will allow the LLP to terminate the Covered Bond Swap.

A Covered Bond Swap Agreement may also be terminated in certain other circumstances (each referred to as a Covered Bond Swap Early Termination Event), including:

- at the option of any party to the Covered Bond Swap Agreement, if there is a failure by the other party to pay any amounts due under such Covered Bond Swap Agreement; and
- upon the occurrence of an insolvency of the Covered Bond Swap Provider or any guarantor, or the merger of one of the parties without an assumption of the obligations under the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement.

Upon the termination of a Covered Bond Swap, the LLP or the Covered Bond Swap Provider may be liable to make a termination payment to the other in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement. The amount of this termination payment will be calculated and made in Sterling.

If withholding taxes are imposed on payments made by the Covered Bond Swap Provider to the LLP under a Covered Bond Swap, the Covered Bond Swap Provider shall always be obliged to gross up those payments. If withholding taxes are imposed on payments made by the LLP to the Covered Bond Swap Provider under a Covered Bond Swap, the LLP shall not be obliged to gross up those payments.

In the event that the Covered Bonds are redeemed and/or cancelled in accordance with the Conditions, the Covered Bond Swap(s) in connection with such Covered Bonds will terminate or partially terminate, as the case may be. Any breakage costs payable by or to the LLP in connection with such termination will be taken into account in calculating:

(i) the Adjustment Required Redemption Amount for the Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans; and

(ii) the purchase price to be paid for any Covered Bonds purchased by the LLP in accordance with Condition 6(f).

The Covered Bond Swap Agreements are (or, as applicable, will be) governed by English law.

Bank Account Agreement

Pursuant to the terms of the Bank Account Agreement between the LLP, the Account Bank, the Cash Manager and the Security Trustee, the LLP will maintain with the Account Bank the account described below, which will be operated in accordance with the Cash Management Agreement, the LLP Deed and the Deed of Charge.

All amounts received from Borrowers in respect of Mortgage Loans in the Portfolio are paid into the GIC account. On each LLP Payment Date as applicable, amounts required to meet the LLP's various creditors and amounts to be distributed to the Members under the LLP Deed will be applied by the Cash Manager in accordance with the Priorities of Payments described below under Cashflows.

If the short term, unsecured, unsubordinated and unguaranteed debt obligations of the Account Bank cease to be rated A-1 by S&P, P-1 by Moody's, or F1 by Fitch then either:

- the GIC Account will be closed and all amounts standing to the credit thereof shall be transferred to accounts held with a satisfactorily rated bank; or
- the Account Bank will obtain a guarantee of its obligations under the Bank Account Agreement from a satisfactorily rated financial institution.

If the Account Bank's ratings are not at least A-1+ by S&P, P-1 by Moody's and F-1+ by Fitch then the aggregate amount standing to the credit of accounts held with the Account Bank must not exceed 20% of the Sterling Equivalent of the aggregate Outstanding Principal Amount of the Covered Bonds.

The Bank Account Agreement is governed by English law.

Stand-by Bank Account Agreement

Pursuant to the terms of a stand-by bank account agreement entered into on the Programme Date as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time between the LLP, Lloyds TSB Bank plc (the Stand-by Account Bank), the Cash Manager and the Security Trustee (the Stand-by Bank Account Agreement), the LLP will open with the Stand-by Account Bank a stand-by GIC account (the Stand-by GIC Account) if the LLP cannot find a replacement account bank in accordance with the terms of the Bank Account Agreement or the Account Bank cannot obtain a guarantee of its obligations, in each case if the short term, unsecured, unsubordinated and unguaranteed debt obligations of the Account Bank fall below A-1 by S&P, P-1 by Moody's or F1 by Fitch, and the Bank Account Agreement is subsequently terminated or if the Bank Account Agreement is terminated for other reasons. The Stand-by GIC Account will be operated in accordance with the Cash Management Agreement, the LLP Deed and the Deed of Charge.

If the short term, unsecured, unsubordinated and unguaranteed debt obligations of the Standby Account Bank fall below A-1+ by S&P, P-1 by Moody's or F1+ by Fitch there will be a requirement that the Stand-by Account Bank either be replaced by, or have its obligations guaranteed by, a satisfactorily rated financial institution.

References in this Prospectus to the GIC Account include references to the Stand-by GIC Account when the Stand-by GIC Account becomes operative.

The Stand-by Bank Account Agreement is governed by English law.

Guaranteed Investment Contract

The LLP has entered into a Guaranteed Investment Contract (or GIC) with the GIC Provider, the Cash Manager and the Security Trustee on the Programme Date as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time, pursuant to which the GIC Provider has agreed to pay interest on the moneys standing to the credit thereof at specified rates determined in accordance with the GIC.

The Guaranteed Investment Contract is governed by English law.

Stand-by Guaranteed Investment Contract

The LLP has entered into a stand-by guaranteed investment contract with Lloyds TSB Bank plc (the Stand-by GIC Provider) on the Programme Date as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time (the Stand-by Guaranteed Investment Contract), pursuant to which the Stand-by GIC Provider has agreed to pay interest on the Standby GIC Account at specified rates determined in accordance with the Stand-by Guaranteed Investment Contract.

The Stand-by Guaranteed Investment Contract is governed by English law.

Corporate Services Agreements

The Liquidation Member has entered into a Corporate Services Agreement with, inter alios, Mourant & Co. Capital (SPV) Limited (as Corporate Service Provider) and Holdings has entered into a Corporate Services Agreement with, inter alios, Mourant & Co. Limited (as Corporate Services Provider) on the Programme Date as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time, pursuant to which the Corporate Services Providers have agreed to provide corporate services to the Liquidation Member and Holdings respectively.

The Corporate Services Agreement for Holdings is governed by Jersey law and the Corporate Services Agreement for the Liquidation Member is governed by English law.

Deed of Charge

Pursuant to the terms of the Deed of Charge entered into on the Programme Date (as amended and/or restated and/or supplemented from time to time) by the LLP, the Security Trustee and the other Secured Creditors, the secured obligations of the LLP and all other obligations of the LLP under or pursuant to the Transaction Documents to which it is a party are secured, inter alia, by the following security (the Security) over the following property, assets and rights (the Charged Property):

(a) a first fixed charge (which may take effect as a floating charge) over the LLP's interest in the English Mortgage Loans and their Related Security and other related rights comprised in the Portfolio;

(b) an assignment by way of first fixed charge over the rights of the LLP in and to the Insurance Policies;

(c) an assignation in security of the LLP's interest in the Scottish Mortgage Loans and their Related Security (comprising the LLP's beneficial interest under the trusts declared by the Seller pursuant to the Scottish Declarations of Trust);

(d) an assignment by way of first fixed security over all of the LLP's interests, rights and entitlements under and in respect of any Transaction Document to which it is a party;

(e) a first fixed charge (which may take effect as a floating charge) over the rights and benefits of the LLP in the LLP Accounts (including the Excess Proceeds) and any other account of the LLP and all amounts standing to the credit of the LLP Accounts and such other accounts;

(f) a first fixed charge (which may take effect as a floating charge) over the rights and benefits of the LLP in respect of all Authorised Investments and Substitution Assets purchased from time to time from amounts standing to the credit of the LLP Accounts; and

(g) a first floating charge over (i) all the assets and undertaking of the LLP governed by English law and not, from time to time, subject to any fixed charge in favour of the Security Trustee pursuant to the Deed of Charge and (ii) all the assets and undertaking of the LLP located in or governed by the law of Scotland (whether or not subject to any fixed charge as aforesaid).

In respect of the property, rights and assets referred to in paragraph (c) above, fixed security will be created over such property, rights and assets sold to the LLP after the Programme Date by means of Scottish Supplemental Charges pursuant to the Deed of Charge.

Release of Security

In the event of any sale of Mortgage Loans (including Selected Mortgage Loans) and their Related Security by the LLP pursuant to and in accordance with the Transaction Documents, the Security Trustee will (subject to the written request of the LLP), release those Mortgage Loans from the Security created by and pursuant to the Deed of Charge on the date of such sale but only if:

(i) the Security Trustee provides its prior written consent to the terms of such sale as described under – LLP Deed – Method of Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans above; and

(ii) in the case of the Sale of Selected Mortgage Loans, the LLP provides to the Security Trustee a certificate confirming that the Selected Mortgage Loans being sold have been selected on a random basis.

In the event of the repurchase of a Mortgage Loan and its Related Security by the Seller pursuant to and in accordance with the Transaction Documents, the Security Trustee will release that Mortgage Loan from the Security created by and pursuant to the Deed of Charge on the date of the repurchase.

Enforcement

If an LLP Acceleration Notice is served on the LLP, the Security Trustee shall be entitled to appoint a Receiver, and/or enforce the Security constituted by the Deed of Charge (including selling the Portfolio), and/or take such steps as it shall deem necessary, subject in each case to being indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction. All proceeds received by the Security Trustee from the enforcement of the Security will be applied in accordance with the Post-Enforcement Priority of Payments described under Cashflows.

The Deed of Charge is governed by English law (other than the assignation in security referred to in paragraph (c) above and any Scottish Supplemental Charge granted after the Programme Date pursuant and supplemental to the Deed of Charge which will be governed by Scots law).

The Covered Bonds will be direct, unsecured, unconditional obligations of the Issuer. The LLP has no obligation to pay the Guaranteed Amounts under the Covered Bond Guarantee until the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, service by the Bond Trustee on the Issuer of an Issuer Acceleration Notice and on the LLP of a Notice to Pay or, if earlier, following the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default, service by the Bond Trustee of an LLP Acceleration Notice. The Issuer will not be relying on payments by the LLP in respect of the Term Advances or receipt of Revenue Receipts or Principal Receipts from the Portfolio in order to pay interest or repay principal under the Covered Bonds.

There are a number of features of the Programme which enhance the likelihood of timely and, as applicable, ultimate payments to Covered Bondholders, as follows:

- the Covered Bond Guarantee provides credit support to the Issuer;
- the Asset Coverage Test is intended to test the asset coverage of the LLP's assets in respect of the Covered Bonds at all times;
- the Amortisation Test is intended to test the asset coverage of the LLP's assets in respect of the Covered Bonds following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default, service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer and service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP;
- a Reserve Fund will be established in the GIC Account to trap Available Revenue Receipts; and
- under the terms of the Guaranteed Investment Contract, the GIC Provider has agreed to pay a variable rate of interest on all amounts held by the LLP in the GIC Account at a rate of 0.25 per cent. per annum below LIBOR for one-month Sterling deposits or such greater amount as the LLP and the GIC Provider may agree from time to time.

Certain of these factors are considered more fully in the remainder of this section.

Guarantee

The Covered Bond Guarantee provided by the LLP under the Trust Deed guarantees payment of Guaranteed Amounts when the same become Due for Payment in respect of all Covered Bonds issued under the Programme. The Covered Bond Guarantee will not guarantee any amount becoming payable for any other reason, including any accelerated payment pursuant to Condition 9 (Events of Default and Enforcement) following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default. In this circumstance (and until an LLP Event of Default occurs and an LLP Acceleration Notice is served), the LLP's obligations will only be to pay the Guaranteed Amounts as they fall Due for Payment.

See further Summary of the Principal Documents – Trust Deed as regards the terms of the Covered Bond Guarantee. See further Cashflows – Guarantee Priority of Payments as regards the payment of amounts payable by the LLP to Covered Bondholders and other Secured Creditors following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default.

Asset Coverage Test

The Asset Coverage Test is intended to ensure that the LLP can meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee. Under the LLP Deed, the LLP and its Members (other than the Liquidation Member) must ensure that on each Calculation Date the Adjusted Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount will be in an amount equal to or in excess of the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date. If the Asset Coverage Test is failed on any Calculation Date, and such failure is not remedied on or before the next following Calculation Date, then an Issuer Event of Default will occur. The Asset Coverage Test is a formula which adjusts the Current Balance of each Mortgage Loan in the Portfolio and has further adjustments to take account of set-off on a Borrower's current or deposit accounts held with the Seller, set-off associated with drawings made by Borrowers under Flexible Mortgage Loans and failure by the Seller, in accordance with the Mortgage Sale Agreement, to repurchase Defaulted Mortgage Loans or Mortgage Loans that do not materially comply with the Representations and Warranties on the relevant Transfer Date. See further Summary of the Principal Mortgage Loans – LLP Deed – Asset Coverage Test, above.

Amortisation Test

The Amortisation Test is intended to ensure that if, following an Issuer Event of Default, service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on the Issuer and the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP (but prior to service on the LLP of an LLP Acceleration Notice), the assets of the LLP available to meet its obligations under the Covered Bond Guarantee fall to a level where Covered Bondholders may not be repaid, an LLP Event of Default will occur and all amounts owing under the Covered Bonds may be accelerated. Under the LLP Deed, the LLP and its Members (other than the Liquidation Member) must ensure that, on each Calculation Date following an Issuer Event of Default and the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, the Amortisation Test Aggregate Mortgage Loan Amount will be in an amount at least equal to the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the Covered Bonds as calculated on the relevant Calculation Date. The Amortisation Test is a formula which adjusts the Current Balance of each Mortgage Loan in the Portfolio and has further adjustments to take account of Mortgage Loans in arrears. See further Summary of the Principal Documents – LLP Deed – Amortisation Test, above.

Reserve Fund

The LLP will be required to establish the Reserve Fund on the GIC Account which will be credited with Available Revenue Receipts up to an amount equal to the Reserve Fund Required Amount. The LLP will not be required to maintain the Reserve Fund following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default.

The Reserve Fund will be funded from Available Revenue Receipts after the LLP has paid all of its obligations in respect of items ranking higher than the Reserve Ledger in the Pre-Acceleration Revenue Priority of Payments on each LLP Payment Date.

A Reserve Ledger will be maintained by the Cash Manager to record the balance from time to time of the Reserve Fund. Following the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, amounts standing to the credit of the Reserve Fund will be added to certain other income of the LLP in calculating Available Revenue Receipts.

As described above under Credit Structure, until a Notice to Pay is served on the LLP, the Covered Bonds will be obligations of the Issuer only. The Issuer is liable to make payments when due on the Covered Bonds, whether or not it has received any corresponding payment from the LLP.

This section summarises the Priorities of Payments of the LLP, as to the allocation and distribution of amounts standing to the credit of the LLP Accounts and their order of priority (i) prior to an Issuer Event of Default and an LLP Event of Default, (ii) following an Issuer Event of Default (but prior to an LLP Event of Default) and (iii) following an LLP Event of Default in accordance with the LLP Deed or the Deed of Charge, as applicable.

Allocation and Distribution of Revenue Receipts prior to the service of a Notice to Pay

Prior to service of a Notice to Pay or an LLP Acceleration Notice on the LLP, Revenue Receipts will be allocated and distributed as described below.

On the Calculation Date immediately preceding each LLP Payment Date, the LLP or the Cash Manager on its behalf shall calculate the amount of Available Revenue Receipts available for distribution on the immediately following LLP Payment Date and the Reserve Fund Required Amount.

Pre-Acceleration Revenue Priority of Payments

Prior to service of a Notice to Pay or service of an LLP Acceleration Notice on the LLP, Available Revenue Receipts will be applied by or on behalf of the LLP on each LLP Payment Date (except for amounts due to third parties by the LLP under paragraph (i), which shall be paid when due) in making the following payments and provisions (the Pre-Acceleration Revenue Priority of Payments) (in each case only if and to the extent that payments or provisions of a higher priority have been made in full):

(i) first, in or towards satisfaction of any amounts due and payable by the LLP to third parties and incurred without breach by the LLP of the Transaction Documents to which it is a party (and for which payment has not been provided for elsewhere in the relevant Priorities of Payments) and to provide for any such amounts expected to become due and payable by the LLP in the immediately succeeding LLP Payment Period and to pay and discharge any liability of the LLP for taxes;

(ii) second, in or towards satisfaction pro rata and pari passu according to the respective amounts thereof of:

(a) any remuneration then due and payable to the Servicer and any costs, charges, liabilities and expenses then due or to become due and payable to the Servicer under the provisions of the Servicing Agreements in the immediately succeeding LLP Payment Period, together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein;

(b) any remuneration then due and payable to the Cash Manager and any costs, charges, liabilities and expenses then due or to become due and payable to the Cash Manager under the provisions of the Cash Management Agreement in the immediately succeeding LLP Payment Period, together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein;

(c) amounts (if any) due and payable to the Account Bank (including costs) pursuant to the terms of the Bank Account Agreement, together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein;

(d) amounts due and payable to the Corporate Services Providers pursuant to the terms of the Corporate Services Agreements together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein; and

(e) amounts due and payable to the Asset Monitor pursuant to the terms of the Asset Monitor Agreement (other than the amounts referred to in paragraph (viii) below), together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein;

(iii) third, in or towards payment pro rata and pari passu of any amount due to the Interest Rate Swap Provider (including any termination payment due and payable by the LLP under the Interest Rate Swap Agreement (but excluding any Excluded Swap Termination Amount)) pursuant to the terms of the Interest Rate Swap Agreement;

(iv) fourth, if a Servicer Event of Default has occurred, all remaining Available Revenue Receipts to be credited to the GIC Account (with a corresponding credit to the Revenue Ledger) until such Servicer Event of Default is either remedied or waived by the Security Trustee or a new servicer is appointed to service the Portfolio (or the relevant part thereof);

(v) fifth, in or towards a credit to the Reserve Ledger on the GIC Account of an amount up to but not exceeding the amount by which the Reserve Fund Required Amount exceeds the existing balance on the Reserve Ledger as calculated on the immediately preceding Calculation Date;

(vi) sixth, in or towards payment pro rata and pari passu in accordance with the respective amounts thereof, of:

(a) any amount due to the Covered Bond Swap Providers (including any termination payment due and payable by the LLP under the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement (but excluding any Excluded Swap Termination Amount)) pursuant to the terms of the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreements; and

(x) tenth, towards payment pro rata and pari passu to the Members of a certain sum (specified in the LLP Deed) as their profit for their respective interests as Members in the LLP.

Allocation and Distribution of Principal Receipts prior to service of a Notice to Pay

Prior to service of a Notice to Pay or an LLP Acceleration Notice on the LLP, Principal Receipts will be allocated and distributed as described below.

On each Calculation Date, the LLP or the Cash Manager on its behalf will calculate the amount of Available Principal Receipts available for distribution on the immediately following LLP Payment Date.

If an LLP Payment Date is the same as an Interest Payment Date, then the distribution of Available Principal Receipts under the Pre-Acceleration Principal Priority of Payments will be delayed until the Issuer has made scheduled interest and/or principal payments on that Interest Payment Date unless payment is made by the LLP directly to the Bond Trustee (or the Principal Paying Agent at the direction of the Bond Trustee).

Pre-Acceleration Principal Priority of Payments

Prior to service of a Notice to Pay or an LLP Acceleration Notice on the LLP, all Available Principal Receipts will be applied by or on behalf of the LLP on each LLP Payment Date in making the following payments and provisions (the Pre-Acceleration Principal Priority of Payments):

(i) first, to acquire New Mortgage Loans and their Related Security offered to the LLP by the Seller in accordance with the terms of the Mortgage Sale Agreement in an amount sufficient to ensure that taking into account the other resources available to the LLP, the LLP is in compliance with the Asset Coverage Test, and thereafter to acquire Substitution Assets;

(ii) second, to deposit the remaining Principal Receipts in the GIC Account (with a corresponding credit to the Principal Ledger) in an amount sufficient to ensure that taking into account the other resources available to the LLP, the LLP is in compliance with the Asset Coverage Test;

(iii) third, provided that all principal amounts outstanding under a Series of Covered Bonds have been repaid in full, in or towards repayment of the corresponding Term Advance related to such Series of Covered Bonds by making the following payments:

(a) the amounts (in respect of principal) due and payable to the relevant Covered Bond Swap Provider in respect of the Term Advance to be repaid (including any termination payment due and payable by the LLP under the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement but excluding any Excluded Swap Termination Amount) in accordance with the terms of the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement; and

(b) the amounts (in respect of principal) due (or to become due in the immediately succeeding LLP Payment Period) to the Issuer in respect of the relevant Term Advance; and

(iv) fourth, subject to complying with the Asset Coverage Test, to make a Capital Distribution to Northern Rock by way of distribution of its equity in the LLP in accordance with the LLP Deed.

Allocation and Distribution of moneys following service of a Notice to Pay

At any time after the occurrence of an Issuer Event of Default and service of an Issuer Acceleration Notice on Northern Rock and service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP, but prior to service of an LLP Acceleration Notice on the LLP, all moneys (other than Third Party Amounts) will be applied as described below.

The LLP will create and maintain ledgers for each Series of Covered Bonds and record amounts allocated to such Series of Covered Bonds in accordance with paragraph (e) of the Guarantee Priority of Payments below, and such amounts, once allocated, will only be available to pay amounts due under the Covered Bond Guarantee and amounts due under the Covered Bond Swap in respect of the relevant Series of Covered Bonds on the scheduled repayment date thereof.

Guarantee Priority of Payments

On each LLP Payment Date after the service of a Notice to Pay on the LLP (but prior to the occurrence of an LLP Event of Default), the LLP or the Cash Manager on its behalf will apply moneys standing to the credit of the GIC Account to make the following payments and provisions in the following order of priority (the Guarantee Priority of Payments) (in each case only if and to the extent that payments or provisions of a higher priority have been made in full):

(a) first, in or towards satisfaction pro rata according to the respective amounts thereof of:

(b) second, in or towards satisfaction pro rata according to the respective amounts thereof of:

(i) any remuneration then due and payable to the Agents under the provisions of the Agency Agreement together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein; and

(c) third, in or towards satisfaction pro rata according to the respective amounts thereof of:

(i) any remuneration then due and payable to the Servicer and any costs, charges, liabilities and expenses then due or to become due and payable to the Servicer in the immediately succeeding LLP Payment Period under the provisions of the Servicing Agreement together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein;

(i) the amounts due and payable to the relevant Covered Bond Swap Provider (other than in respect of principal) pro rata and pari passu in respect of each relevant Series of Covered Bonds (including any termination payment due and payable by the LLP under the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement but excluding any Excluded Swap Termination Amount) in accordance with the terms of the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement; and

(ii) to the Bond Trustee or (if so directed by the Bond Trustee) the Principal Paying Agent on behalf of the Covered Bondholders pro rata and pari passu Scheduled Interest that is Due for Payment (or will become Due for Payment in the immediately succeeding LLP Payment Period) under the Covered Bond Guarantee in respect of each Series of Covered Bonds, provided that if the amount available for distribution under this paragraph (e) (excluding any amounts received from the Covered Bond Swap Provider) would be insufficient to pay the Sterling Equivalent of the Scheduled Interest that is Due for Payment in respect of each Series of Covered Bonds under (ii) above, the shortfall shall be divided amongst all such Series of Covered Bonds on a pro rata basis and the amount payable by the LLP to the relevant Covered Bond Swap Provider in respect of each relevant Series of Covered Bonds under (i) above shall be reduced by the amount of the shortfall applicable to the Covered Bonds in respect of which such payment is to be made;

(f) sixth, to pay or provide for pro rata and pari passu according to the respective amounts thereof, of:

(g) seventh, to deposit the remaining moneys in the GIC Account for application on the next following LLP Payment Date in accordance with the priority of payments described in paragraphs (a) to (f) (inclusive) above, until the Covered Bonds have been fully repaid or provided for (such that the Required Redemption Amount has been accumulated in respect of each outstanding Series of Covered Bonds);

Under the terms of the Deed of Charge, all moneys received or recovered by the Security Trustee (or a Receiver appointed on its behalf) will be applied following the enforcement of the Security in the following order of priority (the Post-Enforcement Priority of Payments) (in each case only if and to the extent that payments or provisions of a higher priority have been made in full):

(a) first, in or towards satisfaction pro rata according to the respective amounts thereof of:

(i) all amounts due and payable or to become due and payable to the Bond Trustee under the provisions of the Trust Deed together with interest and applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein; and

(iv) amounts (including costs and expenses) due to the Corporate Services Providers pursuant to the terms of the Corporate Services Agreements together with applicable VAT (or similar taxes) thereon as provided therein;

(d) fourth, to pay pro rata and pari passu according to the respective amounts thereof, of any amounts due and payable to the Interest Rate Swap Provider (including any termination payment (but excluding any Excluded Swap Termination Amounts)) pursuant to the terms of the Interest Rate Swap Agreement;

(i) the amounts due and payable to the relevant Covered Bond Swap Provider pro rata and pari passu in respect of each relevant Series of Covered Bonds (including any termination payment due and payable by the LLP under the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement (but excluding any Excluded Swap Termination Amount)) in accordance with the terms of the relevant Covered Bond Swap Agreement; and

(ii) the amounts due and payable under the Covered Bond Guarantee, to the Bond Trustee on behalf of the Covered Bondholders pro rata and pari passu in respect of interest and principal due and payable on each Series of Covered Bonds,

Description of Limited Liability Partnerships

Since 6th April, 2001 it has been possible to incorporate a limited liability partnership in England, Wales and Scotland (but not Northern Ireland) under the Limited Liability Partnership Act 2000 (the LLPA 2000). Limited liability partnerships are legal entities that provide limited liability to the members of a limited liability partnership combined with the benefits of the flexibility afforded to partnerships and the legal personality afforded to companies.

Corporate characteristics

A limited liability partnership is more like a company than a partnership. A limited liability partnership is a body corporate with its own property and liabilities, separate from its members. Like shareholders in a limited company, the liability of the members of a limited liability partnership is limited to the amount of their capital because it is a separate legal entity and when the members decide to enter into a contract, they bind the limited liability partnership in the same way that directors bind a company. Members may be liable for their own negligence and other torts or delicts, like company directors, if they have assumed a personal duty of care and have acted in breach of that duty. Third parties can assume that members, like company directors, are authorised to act on behalf of the limited liability partnership.

The provisions of the Companies Act 1985 and the Insolvency Act 1986 have been modified by the Limited Liability Partnerships Regulations 2001 and the Limited Liability Partnerships (Scotland) Regulations 2001 so as to apply most of the insolvency and winding-up procedures for companies equally to a limited liability partnership and its members. As a distinct legal entity a limited liability partnership can grant fixed and floating security over its assets and a limited liability partnership will survive the insolvency of any of its members. An administrator or liquidator of an insolvent member would be subject to the terms of the members' agreement relating to the limited liability partnership but a liquidator of an insolvent member may not take part in the administration of the limited liability partnership or its business.

Limited liability partnerships must file annual returns and audited annual accounts at Companies House for each financial year in the same way as companies.

Partnership characteristics

A limited liability partnership retains certain characteristics of a partnership. It has no share capital and there are no capital maintenance requirements. The members are free to agree how to share profits, who is responsible for management and how decisions are made, when and how new members are appointed and the circumstances in which its members retire. The members' agreement is a private document and there is no obligation to file it at Companies House.

Taxation

Limited liability partnerships are tax transparent except in the case of value added tax (in respect of which a limited liability partnership can register for VAT in its own name) and in certain winding-up proceedings. As such, the members of a limited liability partnership, and not the limited liability partnership itself, are taxed in relation to the business of the limited liability partnership in broadly the same way that the members of a partnership are taxed in relation to the business of that partnership.

Book-Entry Clearance Systems

The information set out below is subject to any change in or reinterpretation of the rules, regulations and procedures of the Clearing Systems currently in effect. The information in this section concerning the Clearing Systems has been obtained from sources that the Issuer and the LLP believe to be reliable, but none of the Issuer, the LLP, the Bond Trustee nor any Dealer takes any responsibility for the accuracy thereof. Investors wishing to use the facilities of any of the Clearing Systems are advised to confirm the continued applicability of the rules, regulations and procedures of the relevant Clearing System. None of the Issuer, the LLP nor any other party to the Agency Agreement will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to, or payments made on account of, beneficial ownership interests in the Covered Bonds held through the facilities of any Clearing System or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

Book-entry Systems

DTC

DTC has advised the Issuer that it is a limited purpose trust company organised under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organisation" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to Section 17A of the Exchange Act. DTC holds and provides asset servicing for securities that its participants (Direct Participants) deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerised book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts, thereby eliminating the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organisations. DTC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation (DTCC). DTCC, in turn, is owned by a number of Direct Participants of DTC and Members of the National Securities Clearing Corporation Government Securities Clearing Corporation, MBS Clearing Corporation, and Emerging Markets Clearing Corporation (NSCC, GSCC, MBSCC, and EMCC, also subsidiaries of DTCC), as well as by the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., the American Stock Exchange LLC and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Access to the DTC System is also available to others such as securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly (Indirect Participants). DTC has Standard & Poor's highest rating: AAA. The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com.

Purchases of DTC Covered Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the DTC Covered Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each Covered Bond (Beneficial Owner) is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participant's records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase, but Beneficial Owners are expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the DTC Covered Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in DTC Covered Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the DTC Covered Bonds is discontinued.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all DTC Covered Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorised representative of DTC. The deposit of DTC Covered Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other nominee do not effect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the DTC Covered Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such DTC Covered Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time.

Redemption notices shall be sent to DTC. If less than all of the DTC Covered Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to DTC Covered Bonds unless authorised by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC's Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to the Issuer as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the DTC Covered Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

Principal and interest payments on the DTC Covered Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorised representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts, upon DTC's receipt of funds and corresponding detail information from the Issuer or the Principal Paying Agent, on the payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name", and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC or its nominee, the Principal Paying Agent or the Issuer, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of redemption proceeds, distributions, and dividend payments to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorised representative of DTC) is the responsibility of Issuer or Agent, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants will be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners will be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

Under certain circumstances, DTC will exchange the DTC Covered Bonds for Registered Definitive Covered Bonds, which it will distribute to its Participants in accordance with their proportionate entitlements and which, if representing interests in a Rule 144A Global Covered Bond, will be legended as set forth under Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions.

Since DTC may only act on behalf of Direct Participants, who in turn act on behalf of Indirect Participants, any Beneficial Owner desiring to pledge DTC Covered Bonds to persons or entities that do not participate in DTC, or otherwise take actions with respect to such DTC Covered Bonds, will be required to withdraw its Registered Covered Bonds from DTC as described below.

Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg

Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg each holds securities for its customers and facilitates the clearance and settlement of securities transactions by electronic book-entry transfer between their respective account holders. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg provide various services including safekeeping, administration, clearance and settlement of internationally traded securities and securities lending and borrowing. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg also deal with domestic securities markets in several countries through established depository and custodial relationships. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have established an electronic bridge between their two systems across which their respective participants may settle trades with each other.

Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg customers are world-wide financial institutions, including underwriters, securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations. Indirect access to Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg is available to other institutions that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with an account holder of either system.

Book-entry Ownership of and Payments in respect of DTC Covered Bonds

The Issuer may apply to DTC in order to have any Tranche of Covered Bonds represented by a Registered Global Covered Bond accepted in its book-entry settlement system. Upon the issue of any such Registered Global Covered Bond, DTC or its custodian will credit, on its internal book-entry system, the respective nominal amounts of the individual beneficial interests represented by such Registered Global Covered Bond to the accounts of persons who have accounts with DTC. Such accounts initially will be designated by or on behalf of the relevant Dealer. Ownership of beneficial interests in such a Registered Global Covered Bond will be limited to Direct Participants or Indirect Participants, including, in the case of any Regulation S Global Covered Bond, the respective depositaries of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg. Ownership of beneficial interests in a Registered Global Covered Bond accepted by DTC will be shown on, and the transfer of such ownership will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC or its nominee (with respect to the interests of Direct Participants) and the records of Direct Participants (with respect to interests of Indirect Participants).

Payments in U.S. dollars of principal and interest in respect of a Registered Global Covered Bond accepted by DTC will be made to the order of DTC or its nominee as the registered holder of such Covered Bond. In the case of any payment in a currency other than U.S. dollars, payment will be made to the Exchange Agent on behalf of DTC or its nominee and the Exchange Agent will (in accordance with instructions received by it) remit all or a portion of such payment for credit directly to the beneficial holders of interests in the Registered Global Covered Bond in the currency in which such payment was made and/or cause all or a portion of such payment to be converted into U.S. dollars and credited to the applicable Participants' account.

The Issuer expects DTC to credit accounts of Direct Participants on the applicable payment date in accordance with their respective holdings as shown in the records of DTC unless DTC has reason to believe that it will not receive payment on such payment date. The Issuer also expects that payments by Participants to beneficial owners of Covered Bonds will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers, and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not the responsibility of DTC, the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Principal Paying Agent, the Registrar or the Issuer. Payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest, if any, on Covered Bonds to DTC is the responsibility of the Issuer.

Transfers of Covered Bonds Represented by Registered Global Covered Bonds

Transfers of any interests in Covered Bonds represented by a Registered Global Covered Bond within DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg will be effected in accordance with the customary rules and operating procedures of the relevant clearing system. The laws in some States within the United States require that certain persons take physical delivery of securities in definitive form. Consequently, the ability to transfer Covered Bonds represented by a Registered Global Covered Bond to such persons may depend upon the ability to exchange such Covered Bonds for Covered Bonds in definitive form. Similarly, because DTC can only act on behalf of Direct Participants in the DTC system who in turn act on behalf of Indirect Participants, the ability of a person having an interest in Covered Bonds represented by a Registered Global Covered Bond accepted by DTC to pledge such Covered Bonds to persons or entities that do not participate in the DTC system or otherwise to take action in respect of such Covered Bonds may depend upon the ability to exchange such Covered Bonds for Covered Bonds in definitive form. The ability of any holder of Covered Bonds represented by a Registered Global Covered Bond accepted by DTC to resell, pledge or otherwise transfer such Covered Bonds may be impaired if the proposed transferee of such Covered Bonds is not eligible to hold such Covered Bonds through a direct or indirect participant in the DTC system.

Subject to compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the Registered Covered Bonds described under Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions, cross-market transfers between DTC, on the one hand, and directly or indirectly through Clearstream, Luxembourg or Euroclear accountholders, on the other, will be effected by the relevant clearing system in accordance with its rules and through action taken by the Registrar, the Principal Paying Agent and any custodian (Custodian) with whom the relevant Registered Global Covered Bonds have been deposited.

On or after the Issue Date for any Series, transfers of Covered Bonds of such Series between accountholders in Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear and transfers of Covered Bonds of such Series between participants in DTC will generally have a settlement date three business days after the trade date (T+3). The customary arrangements for delivery versus payment will apply to such transfers.

Cross-market transfers between accountholders in Clearstream, Luxembourg or Euroclear and DTC participants will need to have an agreed settlement date between the parties to such transfer. Because there is no direct link between DTC, on the one hand, and Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear, on the other, transfers of interests in the relevant Registered Global Covered Bonds will be effected through the Registrar, the Principal Paying Agent and the Custodian receiving instructions (and, where appropriate, certification) from the transferor and arranging for delivery of the interests being transferred to the credit of the designated account for the transferee. In the case of cross-market transfers, settlement between Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg accountholders and DTC participants cannot be made on a delivery versus payment basis. The securities will be delivered on a free delivery basis and arrangements for payment must be made separately.

DTC, Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear have each published rules and operating procedures designed to facilitate transfers of beneficial interests in Registered Global Covered Bonds among participants and accountholders of DTC, Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear. However, they are under no obligation to perform or continue to perform such procedures, and such procedures may be discontinued or changed at any time. None of the Bond Trustee, the Security Trustee, the Issuer, the LLP, the Agents or any Dealer will be responsible for any performance by DTC, Clearstream, Luxembourg or Euroclear or their respective direct or indirect participants or accountholders of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations and none of them will have any liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial interests in the Covered Bonds represented by Registered Global Covered Bonds or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial interests.

United Kingdom Taxation

The following is a general description of certain United Kingdom tax considerations relating to the Covered Bonds based on the Issuer's understanding of current law and practice in the United Kingdom. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Covered Bonds. It only applies to the position of persons who are the absolute beneficial owners of Covered Bonds and may not apply to certain classes of persons such as dealers. Prospective purchasers of Covered Bonds who may be subject to tax in a jurisdiction other than the United Kingdom or who may be unsure as to their tax position should consult their own professional tax advisers. This summary is based upon the law as in effect on the date of this Prospectus and is subject to any change in law that may take effect after such date.

Payment of Interest by the Issuer on the Covered Bonds

The Issuer, provided that it continues to be a bank within the meaning of section 840A of ICTA, and provided that the interest on the Covered Bonds is paid in the ordinary course of its business within the meaning of section 349 of ICTA, will be entitled to make payment of interest without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax.

Interest on the Covered Bonds may also be paid without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom tax where the Covered Bonds are listed on a "recognised stock exchange", as defined in section 841 of ICTA. (The London Stock Exchange is a recognised stock exchange and under HM Revenue and Customs published practice, securities will be treated as listed on the London Stock Exchange if they are admitted to the Official List by the UK Listing Authority and admitted to trading by the London Stock Exchange).

Interest on the Covered Bonds may also be paid without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom tax where interest on the Covered Bonds is paid to a person who belongs in the United Kingdom for United Kingdom tax purposes and, at the time the payment is made, the Issuer reasonably believes (and any person by or through whom interest on the Covered Bonds is paid reasonably believes) that the beneficial owner is within the charge to United Kingdom corporation tax as regards the payment of interest; provided that HM Revenue and Customs has not given a direction (in circumstances where it has reasonable grounds to believe that the above exemption is not available in respect of such payment of interest at the time the payment is made) that the interest should be paid under deduction of tax.

Interest on the Covered Bonds may also be paid without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom tax where the maturity of the Covered Bonds is less than 365 days.

In other cases, an amount must generally be withheld from payments of interest on the Covered Bonds on account of United Kingdom income tax at the lower rate (currently 20%). However, where an applicable double tax treaty provides for a lower rate of withholding tax (or for no tax to be withheld) in relation to interest paid to a Covered Bondholder, HM Revenue and Customs can issue a notice to the Issuer to pay interest to the Covered Bondholder without deduction of tax (or for interest to be paid with tax deducted at the rate provided for in the relevant double tax treaty).

Payments by the LLP

If the LLP makes any payment in respect of interest on the Covered Bonds (or any other amounts due under the Covered Bonds other than the repayment of amounts subscribed for under the Covered Bonds) such payment may (unless the Covered Bonds in question have a maturity of less than 365 days) be subject to United Kingdom withholding tax, whether or not the Covered Bonds are listed on a "recognised stock exchange" within the meaning of section 841 of ICTA. If payments by the LLP are subject to any withholding or deduction for or on account of tax, the LLP will not be required to pay any additional amounts.

EU Savings Directive

Under EC Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income, Member States are required, from 1st July 2005, to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payments of interest (or similar income) paid by a person within its jurisdiction to an individual resident in that other Member State. However, for a transitional period, Belgium, Luxembourg and Austria are instead required (unless during that period they elect otherwise) to operate a withholding system in relation to such payments (the ending of such transitional period being dependent upon the conclusion of certain other agreements relating to information exchange with certain other countries). A number of non-EU countries and territories including Switzerland have agreed to adopt similar measures (a withholding system in the case of Switzerland) with effect from the same date.

The attention of Covered Bondholders is drawn to Condition 7(d).

Subscription and Sale and Transfer and Selling Restrictions

The Dealers have, in a programme agreement (as the same may be amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the Programme Agreement) dated 30th April, 2004 (as amended and restated on 9 November 2005) agreed with the Issuer and the LLP a basis upon which such Dealers or any of them may from time to time agree to purchase Covered Bonds. Any such agreement for any particular purchase by a Dealer will extend to those matters stated under Form of the Covered Bonds and Terms and Conditions of the Covered Bonds above. The Issuer may pay the Dealers commission from time to time in connection with the sale of any Covered Bonds. In the Programme Agreement, the Issuer has agreed to reimburse and indemnify the Dealers for certain of their expenses and liabilities in connection with the establishment and any future updates of the Programme and the issue of Covered Bonds under the Programme. The Dealers are entitled to be released and discharged from their obligations in relation to any agreement to issue and purchase Covered Bonds under the Programme Agreement in certain circumstances prior to payment to the Issuer.

Each Dealer has further agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that it will send to each dealer to which it sells any Regulation S Covered Bonds during the distribution compliance period a confirmation or other notice setting forth the restrictions on offers and sales of the Regulation S Covered Bonds within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. (Incorporated with limited liability in England and Wales under the Companies Act 1985, registered number 3273685)

U.S.$15,000,000,000
Euro Medium Term Note Programme

This Prospectus supersedes any previous prospectus or offering circular. Any Notes issued under the U.S.$15,000,000,000 Euro Medium Term Note Programme (the "Programme") are issued subject to the provisions set out herein. Other than as stated herein, this does not affect any Notes issued prior to the date hereof.

Pursuant to the Programme, Northern Rock plc (the "Issuer" or "Northern Rock") may from time to time issue in one or more Tranches (as defined herein) of Notes (the "Notes", which expression shall include Senior Notes, Dated Subordinated Notes and Undated Subordinated Notes (each as defined herein)). The maximum aggregate nominal amount of all Notes from time to time outstanding will not exceed U.S.$15,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies calculated as described in the Programme Agreement (as defined herein) and subject to increase as provided herein).

Save as further described herein, Notes issued under the Programme may (i) be denominated in such currencies as may be agreed, (ii) be issued at par or at a premium or discount to par, (iii) be issued on a fully-paid or partly-paid basis, (iv) bear interest at a fixed or floating rate or on an index- or formula-linked basis or be issued on a non-interest bearing fully-discounted basis, (v) provide that the amount payable upon redemption is fixed or index- or formula-linked, (vi) provide that they will be redeemed in one amount or instalments or will have no final maturity date and/or (vii) provide that payments of principal and/or interest should be made in a currency or currencies other than the original currency of issue.

The Notes may be issued from time to time to one or more of the Dealers specified on page 5 (each a "Dealer" and together the "Dealers", which expression shall include any additional Dealer appointed under the Programme from time to time and which appointment may be for a specific issue or on an ongoing basis).

An investment in Notes issued under the Programme involves certain risks. For a discussion of these risks, see "Risk Factors" on page 10.

Application has been made to the Financial Services Authority in its capacity as competent authority under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the "UK Listing Authority") for Notes issued within 12 months from the date hereof to be admitted to the official list of the UK Listing Authority (the "Official List") and to the London Stock Exchange plc (the "London Stock Exchange") for such Notes to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's Gilt-Edged and Fixed Interest Market. References in this Prospectus to Notes being "listed" (and all related references) shall mean that such Notes have been admitted to the Official List and have been admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's Gilt-Edged and Fixed Interest Market. The London Stock Exchange's Gilt-Edged and Fixed Interest Market is a regulated market for the purposes of Directive 93/22/EEC (the "Investment Services Directive").

Notice of the aggregate nominal amount of, interest (if any) payable in respect of, the issue price of, the issue date and maturity date (if any) of, and any other terms and conditions not contained herein which are applicable to, each Tranche of Notes will be set forth in a final terms supplement ("Final Terms") applicable to such Tranche which, with respect to Notes to be listed on the London Stock Exchange, will be delivered to the UK Listing Authority and to the London Stock Exchange on or before the date of issue of such Tranche.

The Programme provides that Notes may be listed and/or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on such other or further stock exchanges or markets as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s). The Issuer may also issue Senior Notes which are not to be listed and/or admitted to trading on any market. The relevant Final Terms in respect of the issue of any Notes will specify whether or not such Notes will be admitted to the Official List and to trading on the London Stock Exchange's Gilt-Edged and Fixed Interest Market (or any other listing authority, stock exchange and/or quotation system, if applicable).

The Issuer may agree with any Dealer and the Trustee that Notes may be issued in a form not contemplated by the "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" herein, in which event (in the case of Notes admitted to the Official List only) a supplemental prospectus or further prospectus, if appropriate, will be made available which will describe the effect of the agreement reached in relation to such Notes.

The Notes of each Tranche will be initially represented by a temporary global Note which will be deposited on the issue date with a common depositary on behalf of Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V., as operator of the Euroclear System ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg") and/or any other agreed clearing system which will be exchangeable, as specified in the applicable Final Terms, either for a permanent global Note or Notes in definitive form, in each case upon certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership as required by U.S. Treasury regulations. The applicable Final Terms will specify that a permanent global Note either (i) is exchangeable (in whole but not in part) for definitive Notes upon request or (ii) is only exchangeable (in whole but not in part) for definitive Notes following the occurrence of an Exchange Event (as defined on page 16), all as further described in "Form of the Notes" below.

The Programme has been rated by Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a Division of the McGraw-Hill Companies Inc. ("Standard & Poor's"), Moody's Investors Service Limited ("Moody's") and by Fitch Ratings Ltd ("Fitch").

Notes issued under the Programme may be rated or unrated. Where an issue of Notes is rated, its rating will not necessarily be the same as the rating applicable to the Programme. A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

The Issuer (the "Responsible Person") accepts responsibility for the information contained in this Prospectus. To the best of the knowledge and belief of the Issuer (which has taken all reasonable care to ensure that such is the case) the information contained in this Prospectus is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

This Prospectus is to be read in conjunction with all documents which are deemed to be incorporated herein by reference (see "Documents Incorporated By Reference" on page 4). This Prospectus shall be read and construed on the basis that such documents are so incorporated and form part of this Prospectus.

Neither the Dealers nor the Trustee have separately verified the information contained in this Prospectus. Accordingly, no representation, warranty or undertaking, express or implied, is made, and no responsibility or liability is accepted, by the Dealers or the Trustee as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained in this Prospectus, or any other financial statement or any further information supplied in connection with the Programme or the Notes or their distribution. Neither the Dealers nor the Trustee accept any liability in relation to the information contained in this Prospectus or any other information provided by the Issuer in connection with the Programme.

No person is or has been authorised to give any information or to make any representation in connection with the offering, distribution or sale of the Notes other than as contained in, or consistent with, this Prospectus and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer, the Dealers or the Trustee.

None of this Prospectus and any financial statements and any further information supplied in connection with the Notes is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation and should not be considered as a recommendation or constituting an offer or invitation by or on behalf of the Issuer, any of the Dealers or the Trustee that any recipient of this Prospectus or any financial statements or any further information supplied in connection with the Notes should subscribe for or purchase any of the Notes. The Dealers and the Trustee expressly do not undertake to review the financial condition or affairs of the Issuer and its subsidiaries during the life of the Programme. Investors should review, inter alia, the documents deemed incorporated herein by reference when deciding whether or not to purchase any of the Notes.

The distribution of this Prospectus and the offer, distribution or sale of Notes may be restricted by law in certain jurisdictions. The Issuer, the Dealers and the Trustee do not represent that this document may be lawfully distributed, or that the Notes may be lawfully offered, in compliance with any applicable registration or other requirements in any such jurisdiction, or pursuant to an exemption available thereunder, or assume any responsibility for facilitating any such distribution or offering. In particular, no action has been taken by the Issuer, the Dealers or the Trustee which would permit a public offering of any Notes outside the European Economic Area or distribution of this document in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required. Accordingly, no Notes may be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and neither this Prospectus nor any advertisement or other offering material may be distributed or published in any jurisdiction, except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any applicable laws and regulations and the Dealers have represented that all offers and sales by them will be made on the same terms. Persons into whose possession this Prospectus or any Notes come must inform themselves about, and observe, any such restrictions. In particular, there are restrictions on the distribution of this Prospectus and the offer or sale of Notes in the United States, the European Economic Area (including the United Kingdom, France and The Netherlands) and Japan, see "Subscription and Sale" on page 57.

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the "Securities Act") and are subject to U.S. tax law requirements. Subject to certain exceptions, Notes may not be offered, sold or delivered, directly or indirectly, within the United States or to U.S. persons as defined herein (see "Subscription and Sale").

In this Prospectus, references to "£", "pounds" and "Sterling" are to pounds sterling, references to "U.S.$" and "U.S. Dollars" are to United States dollars, references to "cents" are to United States cents, references to "Yen" and "¥" are to Japanese Yen and references to "euro" and "€" are to the currency introduced at the start of the third stage of European economic and monetary union pursuant to the Treaty establishing the European Community as amended.

In connection with the issue of any Tranche of Notes, the Dealer or Dealers (if any) named as the Stabilising Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of any Stabilising Manager(s)) in the applicable Final Terms may over-allot Notes (provided that, in the case of any Tranche of Notes to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange, the aggregate principal amount of Notes allotted does not exceed 105 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the relevant Tranche) or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Notes at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail. However, there is no assurance that the Stabilising Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of a Stabilising Manager) will undertake stabilisation action. Any stabilisation action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant Tranche of Notes is made and, if begun, may be ended at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the issue date of the relevant Tranche of Notes and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the relevant Tranche of Notes.

Rating: The Programme has been rated by Standard & Poor's, by Moody's and by Fitch. Notes issued under the Programme may be rated or unrated. Where an issue of Notes is rated, its rating will not necessarily be the same as the rating applicable to the Programme. A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency. Where an issue of Notes is rated, the rating will be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

Cross Default:	The Senior Notes will contain a cross default clause in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed (as defined in the Trust Deed) of, or guaranteed by, the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary having an outstanding aggregate principal amount of at least the Specified Amount as more fully described in Condition 11.

Notes may also be listed and/or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on such other or further stock exchanges or markets as may be agreed between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) in relation to each issue. Notes (other than Subordinated Notes) which are neither listed nor admitted to trading on any market may also be issued. The Final Terms relating to each Tranche of Notes will state whether or not the relevant Notes are to be listed and/or admitted to trading and, if so, on which stock exchanges and markets.
Governing Law:	The Notes will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law.
Selling Restrictions:	There are selling restrictions in relation to the offering and sale of a particular Tranche of Notes. See "Subscription and Sale".
Risk Factors:	A description of certain factors that may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under Notes issued under the Programme is set out under "Risk Factors" below and includes exposure to credit risk and market risk. In addition, there are certain factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with Notes issued under the Programme, see "Risk Factors".

RISK FACTORS

The Issuer believes that the following factors may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under Notes issued under the Programme. All of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur and the Issuer is not in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring.

Factors which the Issuer believes may be material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with Notes issued under the Programme are also described below.

The Issuer believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in Notes issued under the Programme, but the Issuer may be unable to pay interest, principal or other amounts on or in connection with any Notes for other reasons and the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding the risks of holding any Notes are exhaustive. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Prospectus and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

Factors that may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under Notes issued under the Programme

Like all other banks, the Issuer is mainly exposed to credit risk and market risk (for example, fluctuations in interest rates and currency values). These risk factors are addressed by the Issuer's own risk management procedures and exposures are constantly measured and monitored.

Economic Activity in the UK

The Issuer's business activities are dependent on the level of banking, finance and financial services required by its customers. In particular, levels of borrowing are heavily dependent on customer confidence, employment trends, the state of the economy and market interest rates at the time. As the Issuer currently conducts the majority of its business in the UK, its performance is influenced by the level and cyclical nature of business activity in the UK, which is in turn impacted by both domestic and international economic and political events. There can be no assurance that a weakening in the UK economy will not have a material effect on the Issuer's future results.

Risk Associated with Strategic Decisions Regarding Organic Growth and Cost Control

The Issuer's strategy relies upon the continued organic growth of its assets under management coupled with controlling related expenses. The strategy also involves operating as a single segment business concentrating on UK residential mortgage lending. No assurance can be given that profitability would not be impacted in the event conditions in the UK residential mortgage market deteriorated significantly or the Issuer was otherwise unable to succeed in its growth strategy or in continuing to control related expenses.

Access to Wholesale Funding and Securitisation Market

A substantial amount of the Issuer's funding depends upon access to wholesale funding sources, including accessing the institutional debt market in the United States, Europe and in Asia, as well as accessing the global securitisation market as an additional source of wholesale funding. The continued ability of the Issuer to access such funding sources on favourable economic terms is dependent on a variety of factors, including a number of factors outside of its control, including general market conditions. There can be no assurance that the Issuer will continue to be able to access such funding sources on favourable terms in the future.

Impact of Regulatory Changes

The Issuer is subject to financial services laws, regulations, administrative actions and policies in each location that the Issuer operates. Changes in supervision and regulation, in particular in the UK, could materially affect the Issuer's business, the products and services offered or the value of its assets. Although the Issuer works closely with its regulators and continually monitors the situation, future changes in regulation, fiscal or other policies can be unpredictable and are beyond the control of the Issuer.

International Financial Reporting Standards

The Issuer has adopted International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") for reporting periods beginning 1st January, 2005 and thereafter. These standards are, in a number of ways, different from existing generally accepted accounting principles in the UK and their implementation will have a significant effect on the presentation of the Issuer's financial statements.

Factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with Notes issued under the Programme

The Notes may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Notes must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

(i) have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the relevant Notes, the merits and risks of investing in the relevant Notes and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Prospectus or any applicable supplement;

(ii) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the relevant Notes and the impact such investment will have on its overall investment portfolio;

(iii) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Notes, including Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies, or where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the currency in which such investor's financial activities are principally denominated;

(iv) understand thoroughly the terms of the relevant Notes and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and

(v) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

Some Notes are complex financial instruments and such instruments may be purchased as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in Notes which are complex financial instruments unless it has the expertise (either alone or with the assistance of a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Notes will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of such Notes and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

Risks related to the structure of a particular issue of Notes

A wide range of Notes may be issued under the Programme. A number of these Notes may have features which contain particular risks for potential investors. Set out below is a description of certain such features:

Notes subject to optional redemption by the Issuer

An optional redemption feature is likely to limit the market value of Notes. During any period when the Issuer may elect to redeem Notes, the market value of such Notes generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period.

The Issuer may be expected to redeem Notes when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Notes. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Risks related to Index Linked Notes and Dual Currency Notes

The Issuer may issue Notes with principal or interest determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities or commodities, to movements in currency exchange rates or other factors (each, a "Relevant Factor"). In addition, the Issuer may issue Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Potential investors should be aware that:

(i) the market price of such Notes may be volatile;

(ii) they may receive no interest;

(iii) payment of principal or interest may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;

(iv) the amount of principal payable at redemption may be less than the nominal amount of such Notes or even zero;

(v) a Relevant Factor may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices;

(vi) if a Relevant Factor is applied to Notes in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the Relevant Factor on principal or interest payable likely will be magnified; and

(vii) the timing of changes in a Relevant Factor may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield.

Risks related to Partly-paid Notes

The Issuer may issue Notes where the issue price is payable in more than one instalment. Failure to pay any subsequent instalment could result in an investor losing all of its investment.

Risks related to Variable rate Notes with a multiplier or other leverage factor

Notes with variable interest rates can be volatile investments. If they are structured to include multipliers or other leverage factors, or caps or floors, or any combination of those features or other similar related features, their market values may be more volatile than those for securities that do not include those features.

Risks related to Inverse Floating Rate Notes

Inverse Floating Rate Notes have an interest rate equal to a fixed rate minus a rate based upon a reference rate such as LIBOR. The market values of such Notes typically are more volatile than market values of other conventional floating rate debt securities based on the same reference rate (and with otherwise comparable terms). Inverse Floating Rate Notes are more volatile because an increase in the reference rate not only decreases the interest rate of the Notes, but may also reflect an increase in prevailing interest rates, which further adversely affects the market value of these Notes.

Risks related to Fixed/Floating Rate Notes

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may bear interest at a rate that the Issuer may elect to convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. The Issuer's ability to convert the interest rate will affect the secondary market and the market value of such Notes since the Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. If the Issuer converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may be less favorable than the then-prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Notes tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Notes. If the Issuer converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate, the fixed rate may be lower than then prevailing rates on its Notes.

Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium

The market values of securities issued at a substantial discount or premium to their nominal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the securities, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities.

The Issuer's obligations under Subordinated Notes are subordinated

The Issuer's obligations under Dated Subordinated Notes will be unsecured and subordinated. In the event of a winding-up of the Issuer or the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer where the administrator has given notice that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, the relevant Noteholders' claims shall be subordinated to the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer in respect of their respective Senior Claims (as defined in Condition 3(iv)). Payments of principal and interest in respect of Dated Subordinated Notes are, in the event of a winding up of the Issuer, conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of payment by the Issuer or the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer where the administrator has given notice that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of payment by the Issuer, as more fully described in Condition 3.

The Issuer's obligations under Undated Subordinated Notes will be unsecured and subordinated to the claims of Senior Creditors (as defined in Condition 3(iv)). Payments of principal and interest in respect of Undated Subordinated Notes are conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of payment by the Issuer. If at any time an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up in England of the Issuer (except in the circumstances described in Condition 3(ii)) or if, following the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer, the administrator gives notice that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, the Noteholders shall receive, in respect of each Note, such amount (if any) as would have been payable to the Noteholder if, on the day prior to the commencement of the winding up or such administration, such Noteholder were the holder of a preference share in the capital of the Issuer having a preferential right to a return of assets in the winding up or such administration over the holders of all issued shares for the time being in the capital of the Issuer, as more fully described in Condition 3.

In respect of Undated Subordinated Notes, payments of interest are subject to the right of the Issuer to defer payments of interest in accordance with Condition 5*(f)* and subject to Condition 3(ii), as more fully described in Condition 3.

Although Subordinated Notes may pay a higher rate of interest than comparable Notes which are not subordinated, there is a real risk that an investor in Subordinated Notes will lose all or some of his investment should the Issuer become insolvent.

Risks related to Notes generally

Set out below is a brief description of certain risks relating to the Notes generally:

Modification, waivers and substitution

The Terms and Conditions of the Notes contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

The Terms and Conditions of the Notes also provide that the Trustee may, without the consent of Noteholders, agree to (i) any modification of, or to the waiver or authorisation of any breach or proposed breach of, any of the provisions of Notes or (ii) determine without the consent of the Noteholders that any Event of Default or potential Event of Default shall not be treated as such or (iii) the substitution of another company as principal debtor under any Notes in place of the Issuer, in the circumstances described in Condition 15 of the Notes.

Basel Capital Requirements Directive

The Basel Committee has issued proposals for reform of the 1988 Capital Accord and has proposed a framework which places enhanced emphasis on market discipline and sensitivity to risk. The Issuer cannot predict the precise effects of the potential changes that might result from implementation of the proposals on both its own financial performance or the impact on the pricing of its Notes issued under the Programme. Prospective investors in the Notes should consult their own advisers as to the consequences for them of the potential application of the New Basel Capital Accord proposals.

European Monetary Union

British membership in the European Monetary Union prior to the maturity of the Notes may adversely affect investors in the Notes. It is possible that prior to the maturity of the Notes the United Kingdom may become a participating Member State and that the euro may become the lawful currency of the United Kingdom. In that event (i) all amounts payable in respect of any Notes denominated in Sterling may become payable in euro; (ii) the law may allow or require the Notes to be re-denominated into euro and additional measures to be taken in respect of such Notes and (iii) there may no longer be available published or displayed rates for deposits in Sterling used to determine the rates of interest on such Notes or changes in the way those rates are calculated, quoted and published or displayed. The introduction of the euro could also be accompanied by a volatile interest rate environment, which could adversely affect investors in the Notes.

EU Savings Directive

Under EC Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income, Member States are required, from 1st July, 2005, to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payments of interest (or similar income) paid by a person within its jurisdiction to an individual resident in that other Member State. However, for a transitional period, Belgium, Luxembourg and Austria are instead required (unless during that period they elect otherwise) to operate a withholding system in relation to such payments (the ending of such transitional period being dependent upon the conclusion of certain other agreements relating to information exchange with certain other countries). A number of non-EU countries and territories including Switzerland have agreed to adopt similar measures (a withholding system in the case of Switzerland) with effect from the same date.

If, following implementation of this Directive, a payment were to be made or collected through a Member State which has opted for a withholding system and an amount of, or in respect of tax were to be withheld from that payment, neither the Issuer nor any Paying Agent nor any other person would be obliged to pay additional amounts with respect to any Note as a result of the imposition of such withholding tax. The Issuer will be required, save as provided in Condition 9 of the Notes, to maintain a Paying Agent in a Member State that will not be obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to the Directive.

Change of law

The Terms and Conditions of the Notes are based on English law in effect as at the date of issue of the relevant Notes. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to English law or administrative practice after the date of issue of the relevant Notes.

Risks related to the market generally

Set out below is a brief description of certain market risks, including liquidity risk, exchange rate risk, interest rate risk and credit risk:

The secondary market generally

Notes may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop. If a market does develop, it may not be liquid. Therefore, investors may not be able to sell their Notes easily or at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market. This is particularly the case for Notes that are especially sensitive to interest rate, currency or market risks, are designed for specific investment objectives or strategies or have been structured to meet the investment requirements of limited categories of investors. These types of Notes generally would have a more limited secondary market and more price volatility than conventional debt securities. Illiquidity may have a severely adverse effect on the market value of Notes.

Exchange rate risks and exchange controls

The Issuer will pay principal and interest on the Notes in the Specified Currency. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Investor's Currency") other than the Specified Currency. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Specified Currency or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to the Specified Currency would decrease (i) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Notes, (ii) the Investor's Currency-equivalent value of the principal payable on the Notes and (iii) the Investor's Currency-equivalent market value of the Notes.

Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

Interest rate risks

Investment in Fixed Rate Notes involves the risk that subsequent changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Fixed Rate Notes.

Credit ratings may not reflect all risks

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to the Notes. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Notes. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Notes are legal investments for it, (ii) Notes can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Notes. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Notes under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

FORM OF THE NOTES

Each Tranche of Notes will be in bearer form and will be initially represented by a temporary global Note without receipts, interest coupons or talons, which will be delivered to a common depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and/or any other agreed clearing system. Whilst any Note is represented by a temporary global Note, payments of principal and interest (if any) due prior to the Exchange Date (as defined below) will be made against presentation of the temporary global Note only to the extent that certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership as required by U.S. Treasury regulations (as referred to in the temporary global Note) has been received by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable, has given a like certificate (based on the certifications it has received) to the Agent.

On and after the date (the "Exchange Date") which is 40 days after the date on which the temporary global Note is issued, interests in the temporary global Note will be exchangeable, upon request being made by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg acting on the instructions of the holders of interests in the temporary global Note, either for interests in a permanent global Note without receipts, interest coupons or talons or for definitive Notes (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms and subject, in the case of definitive Notes, to such notice period as is specified in the applicable Final Terms) in each case against certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership as described in the second sentence of the preceding paragraph unless such certification has already been given. The holder of a temporary global Note will not be entitled to receive any payment of interest or principal due on or after the Exchange Date unless upon due certification exchange of the temporary global Note is improperly withheld or refused. Pursuant to the Agency Agreement (as defined under "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" below), the Agent shall arrange that, where a further Tranche of Notes is issued, the Notes of such Tranche shall be assigned a common code and an International Security Identification Number ("ISIN") by Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg which are different from the common code and ISIN assigned to Notes of any other Tranche of the same Series until at least 40 days (as certified by the Agent to the relevant Dealer(s)/lead manager) after the completion of the distribution of the Notes of such first-mentioned Tranche (the date of completion of the distribution of such Notes having been previously notified to the Agent by such Dealer(s)/lead manager).

Payments of principal and interest (if any) on a permanent global Note will be made through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg against presentation or surrender (as the case may be) of the permanent global Note without any requirement for certification. The applicable Final Terms will specify that a permanent global Note will be exchangeable (free of charge), in whole but not in part, for definitive Notes with, where applicable, receipts, interest coupons and talons attached either (i) upon not less than 45 days' written notice (expiring at least 30 days after the Exchange Date) from Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (acting on the instructions of any holder of an interest in such permanent global Note) to the Agent as described therein or (ii) upon not less than 45 days' written notice (expiring at least 30 days after the Exchange Date) to the Agent as described below only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described therein. "Exchange Event" means (i) an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, (ii) the Issuer has been notified that either Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg has been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or has announced an intention permanently to cease business or has in fact done so and no alternative clearing system satisfactory to the Trustee is available or (iii) the Issuer has been notified that the Trustee is satisfied that the Issuer has or will become obliged to pay additional amounts as provided for or referred to in Condition 10 which would not be required were the Notes represented by the permanent global Note in definitive form. The Issuer will promptly give notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19 if an Exchange Event occurs. In the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (acting on the instructions of any holder of an interest in such permanent global Note) may give notice to the Agent requesting exchange and in the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described in (iii) above, the Issuer may also give notice to the Agent requesting exchange. Any such exchange will be made upon presentation of such permanent global Note by the bearer thereof on any day (other than a Saturday or Sunday) on which banks are open for business in London at the specified office of the Agent. Temporary and permanent global Notes and definitive Notes will be authenticated (if applicable) and delivered by the Agent on behalf of the Issuer.

The following legend will appear on all Notes which have an original maturity of more than 365 days and on all receipts and interest coupons relating to such Notes:—

"Any United States person (as defined in the Internal Revenue Code of the United States) who holds this obligation will be subject to limitations under the United States income tax laws, including the limitations provided in sections 165(j) and 1287(a) of the Internal Revenue Code."

The sections referred to provide that United States holders, with certain exceptions, will not be entitled to deduct any loss on Notes, receipts or interest coupons and will not be entitled to capital gains treatment of any gain on any sale, disposition or payment of principal in respect of Notes, receipts or interest coupons.

Any reference herein to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system specified in the applicable Final Terms.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE NOTES

The following are the Terms and Conditions of the Notes which will be incorporated by reference into each Global Note and each definitive Note, in the latter case only if permitted by the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority (if any) and agreed by the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) at the time of issue but if not so permitted and agreed, such definitive Note will have endorsed upon or attached thereto such Terms and Conditions. Part A of the applicable Final Terms in relation to any Tranche of Notes may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with such Terms and Conditions, supplement, replace or modify the following Terms and Conditions for the purpose of such Tranche of Notes. The applicable Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) will be endorsed upon, or attached to, each Global Note and definitive Note. Reference should be made to "Form of the Notes" above for the form of the Final Terms which will include the definition of certain terms used in the following Terms and Conditions or specify which of such terms are to apply in relation to the relevant Notes.

This Note is one of a Series of notes (the notes of such Series being hereinafter called the "Notes", which expression shall mean (i) in relation to Notes represented by a Global Note, units equal to the lowest Specified Denomination in the Specified Currency, (ii) definitive Notes issued in exchange for a Global Note and (iii) any Global Note) constituted by a Trust Deed dated 15th March, 1994 (such Trust Deed as modified and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the "Trust Deed").

Payment in respect of the Notes will be made under an amended and restated Agency Agreement (such Agency Agreement as amended and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the "Agency Agreement") dated 13th July, 2005 made between the Issuer, Citibank, N.A., as issuing agent, principal paying agent and agent bank (the "Agent", which expression shall include any successor as agent), the other paying agent named therein (together with the Agent, the "Paying Agents", which expression shall include any additional or successor paying agent) and the Trustee.

Interest bearing definitive Notes (unless otherwise indicated in the applicable Final Terms) have interest coupons ("Coupons") and, if indicated in the applicable Final Terms, talons for further Coupons ("Talons") attached on issue. Any reference in these Terms and Conditions to Coupons or coupons shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be deemed to include a reference to Talons or talons. Definitive Notes redeemable in instalments will have instalment receipts ("Receipts") for the payment of the instalments of principal (other than the final instalment) attached on issue.

The Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) for the Notes are endorsed upon or attached to any Global Note and any Note in definitive form. Part A of the Final Terms (or such relevant provisions thereof) supplements these Terms and Conditions and may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with these Terms and Conditions, supplement, replace or modify these Terms and Conditions for the purposes of this Note. References herein to "applicable Final Terms" are to the Final Terms attached hereto or to the relevant provisions thereof endorsed hereon.

The Trustee acts for the benefit of the holders of the Notes (the "Noteholders", which expression shall, in relation to any Notes represented by a Global Note, be construed as provided below), the holders of the Receipts (the "Receiptholders") and the holders of the Coupons (the "Couponholders", which expression shall, unless the context otherwise requires, include the holders of the talons), all in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed.

As used herein, "Tranche" means Notes which are identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) and "Series" means a Tranche of Notes together with any further Tranche or Tranches of Notes which (1) are expressed to be consolidated and form a single series and (2) are identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) except for their respective Issue Dates, Interest Commencement Dates and/or Issue Prices.

Copies of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement and the applicable Final Terms are available for inspection at the registered office of the Trustee, being at 13th July, 2005 at Fifth Floor, 100 Wood Street, London EC2V 7EX and at the specified office of each of the Agent and the other Paying Agents. Copies of the applicable Final Terms are available from the registered office of the Issuer and from the specified office in London of the Agent save that, if this Note is neither admitted to trading on a regulated market within the European Economic Area nor offered in the European Economic Area in circumstances where a prospectus is required to be published under the Prospectus Directive, such Final Terms shall be available for inspection only by the relevant Dealer or Dealers specified in such Final Terms or, upon proof satisfactory to the Trustee or the Agent as to identity, the holder of any Note to which such Final Terms relate. The Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders are deemed to have notice of, and are entitled to the benefit of, all the provisions of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement and the applicable Final Terms which are binding on them. Words and expressions defined in the Trust Deed or the Agency Agreement or used in the applicable Final Terms shall have the same meanings where used in these Terms and Conditions unless the context otherwise requires or unless otherwise stated and provided that, in the event of inconsistency between the Agency Agreement and the Trust Deed, the Trust Deed will prevail and, in the event of inconsistency between the Agency Agreement or the Trust Deed and the applicable Final Terms, the applicable Final Terms will prevail.

1. Form, Denomination and Transfer

The Notes are in bearer form in the Specified Currency or Currencies and the Specified Denomination(s) and definitive Notes are serially numbered. Notes of one Specified Denomination may not be exchanged for Notes of another Specified Denomination.

This Note may be a Fixed Rate Note, a Floating Rate Note, a Zero Coupon Note, an Index Linked Interest Note or a combination of any of the foregoing, depending upon the Interest Basis shown in the applicable Final Terms.

This Note may be an Index Linked Redemption Note, an Instalment Note, a Dual Currency Redemption Note, a Partly Paid Note or a combination of any of the foregoing, depending on the Redemption/Payment Basis shown in the applicable Final Terms.

This Note may be a Senior Note or a Subordinated Note, as indicated in the applicable Final Terms. If it is a Subordinated Note, it is either a Dated Subordinated Note or an Undated Subordinated Note, as indicated in the applicable Final Terms.

If it is a definitive Note, it is issued with Coupons and, if applicable, Receipts and Talons attached, unless it is a Zero Coupon Note in which case references to interest, Coupons and Couponholders in these Terms and Conditions are not applicable.

Without prejudice to the provisions relating to Global Notes set out below, title to the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons will pass by delivery. Except as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction or as required by law, the Issuer, the Trustee, the Agent and any other Paying Agent shall (subject as set out below) be entitled to deem and treat the bearer of any Note, Receipt or Coupon as the absolute owner thereof (whether or not such Note, Receipt or Coupon shall be overdue and notwithstanding any notice to the contrary or any notation of ownership or writing thereon or notice of any previous loss or theft thereof) for the purpose of making payment thereon and for all other purposes. For so long as any of the Notes is represented by a Global Note held on behalf of Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V., as operator of the Euroclear System ("Euroclear") and/or Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg"), each person (other than Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg) who is for the time being shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the holder of a particular nominal amount of such Notes (in which regard any certificate or other document issued by Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as to the nominal amount of such Notes standing to the account of any person shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes save in the case of manifest error) shall be treated by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Agent and any other Paying Agent as the holder of such nominal amount of such Notes for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of principal and interest on such Notes, the right to which shall be vested, as against the Issuer, solely in the bearer of the Global Note in accordance with and subject to its terms (or the Trustee in accordance with the Trust Deed) (and the expressions "Noteholder", "holder of Notes" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly). Notes which are represented by a Global Note will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be.

Any references herein to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system approved by the Issuer, the Agent and the Trustee or specified in the applicable Final Terms.

2. Status of Senior Notes

If the Notes are specified as Senior Notes in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes and the relative Receipts and Coupons (if any) are direct, unconditional and (subject to the provisions of Condition 4) unsecured obligations of the Issuer ranking pari passu and without any preference among themselves and (subject as aforesaid and to any applicable statutory provisions) at least equally with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer.

3. Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes

(i) If the Notes are specified as Dated Subordinated Notes in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes and the relative Receipts and Coupons (if any) are direct and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank without any preference among themselves. The rights of the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders will, in the event of the winding-up of the Issuer or the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer where the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, be subordinated in the manner provided in the Trust Deed to the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer in respect of their respective Senior Claims.

In the case of Dated Subordinated Notes, payments of principal and interest in respect of the Notes are, in the event of a winding up of the Issuer or the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer where the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of payment by the Issuer, and accordingly in such event no principal or interest shall be payable except to the extent that the Issuer could make such payment and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For the purpose of this Condition 3(i), the Issuer shall be solvent if its Assets exceed its Liabilities (other than its Liabilities which are not Senior Claims). A report as to the solvency of the Issuer by its liquidator shall in the absence of proven error be treated and accepted by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders as correct and sufficient evidence thereof.

(ii) If the Notes are specified as Undated Subordinated Notes in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes and the relative Coupons (if any) are direct and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank without any preference among themselves, and the rights of the Noteholders and the Couponholders are subordinated in right of payment in the manner provided in the Trust Deed to the claims of Senior Creditors.

In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, payments of principal and interest in respect of the Notes are, in addition to the right of the Issuer to defer payment of interest in accordance with Condition 5*(f)*, conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of payment by the Issuer, and no principal or interest shall be payable except to the extent that the Issuer could make such payment and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For the purpose of this Condition 3(ii), the Issuer shall be solvent if (1) to the extent that any determination as to solvency falls to be made prior to the commencement of winding up or administration of the Issuer, it is able to pay its debts owed to Senior Creditors as they fall due and (2) its Assets exceed its Liabilities (other than its Liabilities to persons who are not Senior Creditors). A report as to the solvency of the Issuer by two directors of the Issuer or, if the Issuer is in winding up, its liquidator or, if the Issuer is in administration, its administrator, shall in the absence of proven error be treated and accepted by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Noteholders and the Couponholders as correct and sufficient evidence thereof.

In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, if at any time an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up in England of the Issuer (except in any such case a solvent winding up solely for the purpose of a reconstruction or amalgamation or the substitution in place of the Issuer of a Successor in Business (as defined in the Trust Deed), the terms of which reconstruction, amalgamation or substitution (A) have previously been approved by the Trustee in writing or by an Extraordinary Resolution (as defined in the Trust Deed) of the Noteholders and (B) do not provide that the Notes shall thereby become payable) or if, following the appointment of an administrator of the Issuer, the administrator gives notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, there shall be payable on each Note (in lieu of any other payment, but subject as provided in this Condition), such amount, if any, as would have been payable to the holder thereof if, on the day prior to the commencement of the winding up or such administration and thereafter, such Noteholder were the holder of a preference share in the capital of the Issuer having a preferential right to a return of assets in the winding up or such administration over the holders of all issued shares for the time being in the capital of the Issuer on the assumption that such preference share was entitled to receive on a return of assets in such winding up or such administration an amount equal to the principal amount of such Note together with Arrears of Interest (as defined in Condition 5(f)), if any, and any interest (other than Arrears of Interest) which is payable (as provided in the Trust Deed).

(iii) Subject to applicable law, no Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder may exercise, claim or plead any right of set-off, compensation or retention in respect of any amount owed to it by the Issuer arising under or in connection with the Notes, the Receipts or the Coupons and each Noteholder, Receiptholder and Couponholder shall, by virtue of being the holder of any Note, Receipt or Coupon (as the case may be), be deemed to have waived all such rights of set-off, compensation or retention.

(iv) For the purpose of this Condition:—

"Assets" means the unconsolidated gross assets of the Issuer and "Liabilities" means the unconsolidated gross liabilities of the Issuer, all as shown in the latest published audited balance sheet of the Issuer, but adjusted for contingent assets and contingent liabilities and for subsequent events, all in such manner as the directors of the Issuer or the liquidator (as the case may be) may determine;

"Senior Claims" means the aggregate amount of all claims which are not in respect of indebtedness of the Issuer the right to repayment of which by its terms is, or is expressed to be, subordinated to (or otherwise ranks after) the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer; and

"Senior Creditors" means creditors of the Issuer (i) who are unsubordinated depositors or other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer, or (ii) whose claims are, or are expressed to be, subordinated (whether only in the event of the winding up or administration of the Issuer or otherwise) to the claims of unsubordinated depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of the Issuer but not further or otherwise, or (iii) who are subordinated creditors of the Issuer other than those whose claims are, or are expressed to rank, pari passu with, or junior to, the claims of the Noteholders.

N.B. The obligations of the Issuer in respect of Undated Subordinated Notes and the relative Coupons are conditional upon the Issuer being solvent for the purpose of this Condition 3(ii) immediately before and after payment by the Issuer. If this Condition 3(ii) is not satisfied, any amounts which might otherwise have been allocated in or towards payment of principal and interest in respect of the Undated Subordinated Notes may be used to absorb losses.

4. Negative Pledge (Senior Notes only)

If the Notes are specified as Senior Notes in the applicable Final Terms, so long as any of the Notes remain outstanding (as defined in the Trust Deed) the Issuer will neither create nor have outstanding any mortgage, lien (other than a lien arising by operation of law), pledge or other charge upon the whole or any part of its undertaking or assets, present or future (including any uncalled capital), to secure any Loan Stock of the Issuer or any obligation of the Issuer under any guarantee of or indemnity in respect of any Loan Stock of any subsidiary (as defined in the Trust Deed) of the Issuer without at the same time or prior thereto securing the Notes equally and rateably therewith to the satisfaction of the Trustee or providing such other security for the Notes as the Trustee in its absolute discretion shall deem to be not materially less beneficial to the holders of the Notes or as shall be approved by an Extraordinary Resolution of the holders of the Notes.

For the purposes of these Terms and Conditions "Loan Stock" means indebtedness which is in the form of, or represented or evidenced by, bonds, notes, debentures, loan stock or other securities which for the time being are, or are intended to be, quoted, listed, ordinarily dealt in or traded on any stock exchange, over-the-counter or other established securities market but excluding any such indebtedness which has a stated maturity not exceeding one year.

5. Interest

In respect of Undated Subordinated Notes, payments of interest are subject to the right of the Issuer to defer payment in accordance with Condition 5(f) and subject to Condition 3(ii).

(a) Interest on Fixed Rate Notes

Each Fixed Rate Note bears interest on its outstanding nominal amount (or, if it is a Partly Paid Note, the amount paid up) from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Rate(s) of Interest payable, subject as provided in these Terms and Conditions, in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Maturity Date.

Except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, the amount of interest payable on each Interest Payment Date in respect of the Fixed Interest Period ending on (but excluding) such date will amount to the Fixed Coupon Amount. Payments of interest on any Interest Payment Date will, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, amount to the Broken Amount so specified.

If interest is required to be calculated for a period ending other than a Fixed Interest Period, such interest shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to each Specified Denomination, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.

"Day Count Fraction" means in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest in accordance with this Condition 5(a):

(i) if "Actual/Actual (ISMA)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms:

(A) in the case of Notes where the number of days in the relevant period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (the "Accrual Period") is equal to or shorter than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the number of days in such Accrual Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year; or

(B) in the case of Notes where the Accrual Period is longer than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the sum of:

(1) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the Determination Period in which the Accrual Period begins divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year; and

(2) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the next Determination Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates that would occur in one calendar year; and

(ii) if "30/360" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (such number of days being calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months) divided by 360.

In these Terms and Conditions:

"Determination Period" means each period from (and including) a Determination Date to (but excluding) the next Determination Date (including, where either the Interest Commencement Date or the Final Interest Payment Date is not a Determination Date, the period commencing on the First Determination Date prior to, and ending on the First Determination Date falling after, such date;

"Fixed Interest Period" means the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date; and

"sub-unit" means, with respect to any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, with respect to euro, means one cent.

(b) Interest on Floating Rate Notes and Index Linked Interest Notes

(i) Interest Payment Dates

Each Floating Rate Note and Index Linked Interest Note bears interest on its outstanding nominal amount (or, if it is a Partly Paid Note, the amount paid up) from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date and such interest will be payable in arrear on either:

(A) the Specified Interest Payment Date(s) in each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; or

(B) if no Specified Interest Payment Date(s) is/are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each date (each such date, together with each Specified Interest Payment Date, an "Interest Payment Date") which falls the number of months or other period specified as the Specified Period in the applicable Final Terms after the preceding Interest Payment Date or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, after the Interest Commencement Date.

Such interest will be payable in respect of each Interest Period (which expression shall, in these Terms and Conditions, mean the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date).

If a Business Day Convention is specified in the applicable Final Terms and (x) if there is no numerically corresponding day in the calendar month in which an Interest Payment Date should occur or (y) if any Interest Payment Date would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day, then, if the Business Day Convention specified is:

(1) in any case where Specified Periods are specified in accordance with Condition 5*(b)*(i)(B) above, the Floating Rate Convention, such Interest Payment Date (i) in the case of (x) above, shall be the last day that is a Business Day in the relevant month and the provisions of (B) below shall apply mutatis mutandis or (ii) in the case of (y) above, shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event (A) such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day and (B) each subsequent Interest Payment Date shall be the last Business Day in the month which falls in the Specified Period after the preceding applicable Interest Payment Date occurred; or

(2) the Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day; or

(3) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or

(4) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day.

In this Condition, "Business Day" means a day which is both:—

(A) a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in London and any Additional Business Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(B) either (1) in relation to Notes denominated or payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealing in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than London or any Additional Business Centre) and which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively or (2) in relation to Notes denominated or payable in euro, a day on which the Trans-European Automated Real-Time Gross Settlement Express Transfer (TARGET) System (the "Target System") is open.

(ii) Rate of Interest

The Rate of Interest payable from time to time in respect of Floating Rate Notes and Index Linked Interest Notes will be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(A) ISDA Determination for Floating Rate Notes

Where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will be the relevant ISDA Rate plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin (if any).

For the purposes of this sub-paragraph (A), "ISDA Rate" for an Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate that would be determined by the Agent or other person specified in the applicable Final Terms under an interest rate swap transaction if the Agent or that other person were acting as Calculation Agent for that swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the 2000 ISDA Definitions as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. and as amended and updated as at the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the Notes (the "ISDA Definitions") and under which:—

(1) the Floating Rate Option is as specified in the applicable Final Terms;

(2) the Designated Maturity is the period specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(3) the relevant Reset Date is either (i) if the applicable Floating Rate Option is based on the London inter-bank offered rate ("LIBOR") or the Euro-zone inter-bank offered rate ("EURIBOR") for a currency, the first day of that Interest Period or (ii) in any other case, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

For the purpose of this sub-paragraph (A), "Floating Rate", "Calculation Agent", "Floating Rate Option", "Designated Maturity" and "Reset Date" have the meanings given to those terms in the ISDA Definitions.

(B) Screen Rate Determination for Floating Rate Notes

Where Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will, subject as provided below, be either:—

(1) the offered quotation (if there is only one quotation on the Relevant Screen Page); or

(2) the arithmetic mean (rounded if necessary to the fifth decimal place, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards) of the offered quotations,

(expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate which appears or appear, as the case may be, on the Relevant Screen Page as at 11.00 a.m. (London time, in the case of LIBOR, or Brussels time, in the case of EURIBOR) on the Interest Determination Date in question plus or minus the Margin (if any), all as determined by the Agent. If five or more such offered quotations are available on the Relevant Screen Page, the highest (or, if there is more than one such highest quotation, one only of such quotations) and the lowest (or, if there is more than one such lowest quotation, one only of such quotations) shall be disregarded by the Agent for the purpose of determining the arithmetic mean (rounded as provided above) of such offered quotations.

The Agency Agreement contains provisions for determining the Rate of Interest pursuant to this sub-paragraph (B) in the event that the Relevant Screen Page is not available or if, in the case of (1) above, no such offered quotation appears or, in the case of (2) above, fewer than three such offered quotations appear, in each case as at the time specified in the preceding paragraph.

If the Reference Rate from time to time in respect of the Floating Rate Notes is specified in the applicable Final Terms as being other than LIBOR or EURIBOR, the Rate of Interest in respect of such Notes will be determined as provided in the applicable Final Terms.

(iii) Minimum and/or Maximum Rate of Interest

If the applicable Final Terms specifies a Minimum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (ii) above is less than such Minimum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Minimum Rate of Interest.

If the applicable Final Terms specifies a Maximum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (ii) above is greater than such Maximum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Maximum Rate of Interest.

(iv) Determination of Rate of Interest and calculation of Interest Amounts

The Agent, in the case of Floating Rate Notes, and the Calculation Agent, in the case of Index Linked Interest Notes, will, at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, determine the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period. In the case of Index Linked Interest Notes, the Calculation Agent will notify the Agent of the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period as soon as practicable after calculating the same.

The Agent will calculate the amount of interest payable on the Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes in respect of each Specified Denomination (each an "Interest Amount") for the relevant Interest Period. Each Interest Amount shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to each Specified Denomination, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.

"Day Count Fraction" means, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest for any Interest Period:

(i) if "Actual/365" or "Actual/Actual ISDA" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 (or, if any portion of that Interest Period falls in a leap year, the sum of (A) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (B) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a non-leap year divided by 365);

(ii) if "Actual/365 (Fixed)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365;

(iii) if "Actual/360" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360;

(iv) if "30/360", "360/360" or "Bond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360 (the number of days to be calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months (unless (a) the last day of the Interest Period is the 31st day of a month but the first day of the Interest Period is a day other than the 30th or 31st day of a month, in which case the month that includes that last day shall not be considered to be shortened to a 30-day month, or (b) the last day of the Interest Period is the last day of the month of February, in which case the month of February shall not be considered to be lengthened to a 30-day month));

(v) if "30E/360" or "Eurobond Basis" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360 (the number of days to be calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months, without regard to the date of the first day or last day of the Interest Period unless, in the case of the final Interest Period, the Maturity Date is the last day of the month of February, in which case the month of February shall not be considered to be lengthened to a 30-day month); and

(vi) if "Actual/365 (Sterling)" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 or, in the case of an Interest Payment Date falling in a leap year, 366.

(v) Notification of Rate of Interest and Interest Amounts

The Issuer will cause the Rate of Interest and each Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relative Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Trustee and to any stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to listing and to be published in accordance with Condition 19 as soon as possible after their determination but in no event later than the fourth Business Day (as defined in Condition 5(b)(i) above) thereafter. Each Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment or alternative arrangements will be promptly notified to each stock exchange or other relevant authority on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed or by which they have been admitted to listing and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19.

(vi) Determination or calculation by Trustee

If for any reason at any time after the Issue Date, the Agent or, as the case may be, the Calculation Agent defaults in its obligation to determine the Rate of Interest or the Agent defaults in its obligation to calculate any Interest Amount in accordance with sub-paragraph (ii) or (iv) above, the Trustee shall determine the Rate of Interest at such rate as, in its absolute discretion (having such regard as it shall think fit to the foregoing provisions of this Condition, but subject always to any Minimum or Maximum Rate of Interest specified in the applicable Final Terms), it shall deem fair and reasonable in all the circumstances or, as the case may be, the Trustee shall calculate the Interest Amount(s) in such manner as it shall deem fair and reasonable in all the circumstances and each such determination or calculation shall be deemed to have been made by the Agent or the Calculation Agent, as the case may be.

(vii) Certificates to be final

All certificates, communications, opinions, determinations, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the provisions of this Condition 5(b), whether by the Agent or the Calculation Agent or the Trustee, shall (in the absence of wilful default, bad faith or manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, the Agent, the Calculation Agent, the Trustee, the other Paying Agents and all Noteholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders and (in the absence as aforesaid) no liability to the Issuer, the Noteholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders shall attach to the Agent, the Calculation Agent or the Trustee in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by them of their powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

(c) Dual Currency Notes

In the case of Dual Currency Notes, where the rate or amount of interest falls to be determined by reference to an exchange rate, the rate or amount of interest shall be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(d) Partly Paid Notes

In the case of Partly Paid Notes (other than Partly Paid Notes which are Zero Coupon Notes), interest will accrue as aforesaid on the paid-up nominal amount of such Notes and otherwise as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(e) Interest Accrual

Interest (if any) will cease to accrue on each Note (or in the case of the redemption of part only of a Note, that part only of such Note) on the due date for redemption thereof unless, upon due presentation thereof, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused or (in the case of Subordinated Notes) is not made by reason of Condition 3 in which event interest will continue to accrue as provided in the Trust Deed.

(f) Interest on Undated Subordinated Notes

In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, on an Interest Payment Date there may be paid the interest accrued in respect of the Interest Period ending on but excluding such date, but the Issuer shall not have any obligation to make such payment and any failure to pay shall not constitute a default by the Issuer for any purpose. If the Issuer opts not to pay interest on an Interest Payment Date, it shall give not less than 30 days' notice of such option to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19. Any interest not paid on an Interest Payment Date together with any other interest not paid on any other Interest Payment Date shall, so long as the same remains unpaid, constitute "Arrears of Interest". Arrears of Interest may, at the option of the Issuer (subject to Condition 3), be paid in whole or in part at any time upon the expiration of not less than seven days' notice to such effect given to the Trustee and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19, but all Arrears of Interest on all Notes outstanding shall (subject to Condition 3) become due in full on whichever is the earliest of (i) the date upon which a dividend is next paid on any class of share capital of the Issuer, (ii) the date set for any redemption pursuant to Condition 6, or (iii) the commencement of winding up in England of the Issuer.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if notice is given by the Issuer of its intention to pay the whole or part of Arrears of Interest, the Issuer shall be obliged (subject to Condition 3) to do so upon the expiration of such notice. Where Arrears of Interest are paid in part, each part payment shall be applied in payment of the Arrears of Interest accrued due in respect of the relative Interest Payment Date (or consecutive Interest Payment Dates) furthest from the date of payment. Arrears of Interest shall not themselves bear interest.

6. Redemption and Purchase

(a) Final redemption

If this Note is a Senior Note or a Dated Subordinated Note, it will, unless previously redeemed or purchased and cancelled as provided below, be redeemed at its Final Redemption Amount specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms in the relevant Specified Currency on the Maturity Date. If this Note is an Undated Subordinated Note, it has no final maturity date and is only redeemable in accordance with the following provisions of this Condition 6 or Condition 12.

(b) Redemption for taxation reasons

If the Issuer satisfies the Trustee immediately prior to the giving of the notice referred to below that either (i) on the occasion of the next date for payment of interest the Issuer is or will be required to pay additional amounts as provided in Condition 10 or (ii) (in the case of Undated Subordinated Notes only) on the next Interest Payment Date the payment of interest in respect of the Notes would be treated as a "distribution" within the meaning of the Taxes Acts for the time being of the United Kingdom, then the Issuer may (subject, if this Note is a Subordinated Note, to obtaining Relevant Supervisory Consent (as defined below) and to Condition 3) having given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Trustee and, in accordance with Condition 19, the Noteholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) redeem at any time (if this Note is neither a Floating Rate Note nor an Index Linked Interest Note) or on the next Interest Payment Date (if this Note is a Floating Rate Note or an Index Linked Interest Note) all, but not some only, of the Notes at their Early Redemption Amount referred to in Condition 6(g) below together, if applicable, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption and, in the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, all Arrears of Interest (if any) as provided in Condition 5(f). Upon the expiry of such notice, the Issuer shall be bound to redeem the Notes accordingly.

For the purposes of these Terms and Conditions "Relevant Supervisory Consent" means the consent to the relevant redemption, payment, repayment or purchase, as the case may be, of The Financial Services Authority (so long as the Issuer is required by The Financial Services Authority to obtain such consent).

(c) Redemption at the option of the Issuer (Issuer Call)

If Issuer Call is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Issuer may, having (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms) given not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice to the Trustee, the Agent and, in accordance with Condition 19, the Noteholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) (subject, if this Note is a Subordinated Note, to obtaining Relevant Supervisory Consent and to Condition 3), redeem all or some only (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) of the Notes then outstanding on the Optional Redemption Date(s) and at the Optional Redemption Amount(s) as specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms, together, if applicable, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the relevant Optional Redemption Date(s) and, in the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, all Arrears of Interest (if any) as provided in Condition 5(f). Upon expiry of such notice the Issuer shall be bound to redeem the Notes accordingly. In the event of a redemption of some only of the Notes, such redemption must be for an amount being the Minimum Redemption Amount or a Higher Redemption Amount. In the case of a partial redemption of Notes, the Notes to be redeemed ("Redeemed Notes") will be selected individually by lot, in the case of Redeemed Notes represented by definitive Notes, and in accordance with the rules of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, in the case of Redeemed Notes represented by a global Note, not more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for redemption (such date of selection being hereinafter called the "Selection Date"). In the case of Redeemed Notes represented by definitive Notes, a list of such Redeemed Notes will be published in accordance with Condition 19 not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption. The aggregate nominal amount of Redeemed Notes represented by definitive Notes shall bear the same proportion to the aggregate nominal amount of all Redeemed Notes as the aggregate nominal amount of definitive Notes outstanding bears to the aggregate nominal amount of all Notes outstanding, in each case on the Selection Date, provided that any such nominal amount shall, if necessary, be rounded downwards to the nearest integral multiple of the lowest Specified Denomination, and the aggregate nominal amount of Redeemed Notes represented by a global Note shall be equal to the balance of the Redeemed Notes. No exchange of the relevant global Note will be permitted during the period from and including the Selection Date to and including the date fixed for redemption pursuant to this Condition 6(c) and notice to that effect shall be given by the Issuer to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19 at least 30 days prior to the Selection Date.

If this Note is a Senior Note and Investor Put is specified in the applicable Final Terms, then, if and to the extent specified in the applicable Final Terms, upon the holder of this Note giving to the Issuer, in accordance with Condition 19, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice (which notice shall be irrevocable), the Issuer will, upon the expiry of such notice, redeem subject to, and in accordance with, the terms specified in the applicable Final Terms in whole (but not in part) such Note on the Optional Redemption Date and at the relevant Optional Redemption Amount as specified in, or determined in the manner specified in, the applicable Final Terms, together, if applicable, with interest accrued to (but excluding) the relevant Optional Redemption Date.

If this Note is in definitive form, to exercise the right to require redemption of this Note the holder of this Note must deliver such Note, on any Business Day (as defined in Condition 5(b)(i)) falling within the notice period at the specified office of any Paying Agent, accompanied by a duly signed and completed notice of exercise in the form (for the time being current) obtainable from any specified office of any Paying Agent (a "Put Notice") and in which the holder must specify a bank account (or, if payment is by cheque, an address) to which payment is to be made under this Condition.

(e) Purchases

The Issuer or any of its subsidiaries may (subject, in the case of Subordinated Notes, to obtaining prior Relevant Supervisory Consent and to Condition 3), at any time purchase or otherwise acquire Notes (provided that, in the case of definitive Notes, all unmatured Receipts and Coupons appertaining thereto are attached thereto or surrendered therewith) in the open market either by tender or private agreement or otherwise, without restriction as to price. Such Notes may be held, reissued, resold or, at the option of the Issuer, surrendered to any Paying Agent for cancellation.

(f) Late Payment on Zero Coupon Notes

If the amount payable in respect of any Zero Coupon Note upon redemption of such Zero Coupon Note pursuant to Condition 6*(a)*, (b), (c) or (d) above or upon its becoming due and repayable as provided in Condition 11 (if this Note is a Senior Note) or Condition 12 (if this Note is a Subordinated Note) is improperly withheld or refused or (in the case of Subordinated Notes) is not made by reason of Condition 3, the amount due and repayable in respect of such Zero Coupon Note shall (subject to Condition 3) be the amount calculated as provided in Condition 6*(g)*(iii) below as though the references therein to the date fixed for redemption or the date upon which such Zero Coupon Note becomes due and repayable were replaced by references to the date which is the earlier of:—

(i) the date on which all amounts due in respect of the Zero Coupon Note have been paid; and

(ii) the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable has been received by the Agent and notice to that effect has been given to the Noteholders either in accordance with Condition 19 or individually.

(g) Early Redemption Amounts

For the purposes of Condition 6*(b)* above and Condition 11 (if this Note is a Senior Note) or Condition 12 (if this Note is a Subordinated Note), the Notes will be redeemed at an amount (the "Early Redemption Amount") determined or calculated as follows:—

(i) in the case of Notes with a Final Redemption Amount equal to the Issue Price, at the Final Redemption Amount thereof; or

(ii) in the case of Notes (other than Zero Coupon Notes but including Instalment Notes and Partly Paid Notes) with a Final Redemption Amount which is or may be less or greater than the Issue Price or which is payable in a Specified Currency other than that in which the Notes are denominated, at the amount set out in, or determined in the manner set out in, the applicable Final Terms, or, if no such amount or manner is so set out, at their nominal amount; or

(iii) in the case of Zero Coupon Notes, at an amount (the "Amortised Face Amount") equal to the sum of:—

(A) the Reference Price; and

(B) the product of the Accrual Yield (compounded annually) being applied to the Reference Price from (and including) the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the Notes to (but excluding) the date fixed for redemption or (as the case may be) the date upon which such Note becomes due and repayable, or such other amount as is provided in the applicable Final Terms.

Where such calculation is to be made for a period which is not a whole number of years, it shall be made (i) in the case of a Zero Coupon Note payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of 12 months of 30 days each or (ii) in the case of a Zero Coupon Note payable in euro, on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed divided by 365 (or, if any of the days elapsed falls in a leap year, the sum of (x) the number of those days falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (y) the number of those days falling in a non leap year divided by 365) or (iii) on such other calculation basis as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(h) Instalments

Instalment Notes will be repaid in the Instalment Amounts and on the Instalment Dates. In the case of early redemption, the Early Redemption Amount will be determined pursuant to Condition 6*(g)* above.

(i) Cancellation

All Notes which are redeemed in full will forthwith be cancelled (together with, in the case of definitive Notes, all unmatured Receipts and Coupons attached thereto or surrendered therewith) and such Notes may not be re-issued or resold.

(j) Partly Paid Notes

Partly Paid Notes will be redeemed, whether at maturity, early redemption or otherwise, in accordance with the provisions of this Condition and the applicable Final Terms.

7. Payments

(a) Method of Payment

Subject as provided below:—

(i) payments in a Specified Currency other than euro will be made by transfer to an account in the relevant Specified Currency (which, in the case of a payment in Yen to a non-resident of Japan, shall be a non-resident account) maintained by the payee with, or by a cheque in such Specified Currency drawn on, a bank in the principal financial centre of the country of such Specified Currency (which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland, respectively); and

(ii) payments in euro will be made by credit or transfer to a euro account (or any other account to which euro may be credited or transferred) specified by the payee or, at the option of the payee, by a euro cheque.

Payments will be subject in all cases to any fiscal or other laws and regulations applicable thereto in the place of payment, but without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 10. References to "Specified Currency" will include any successor currency under applicable law.

(b) Presentation of Notes, Receipts and Coupons

Subject as provided below, payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of definitive Notes (if issued) will be made against presentation and surrender of definitive Notes or Coupons, as the case may be, at any specified office of any Paying Agent outside the United States (which expression, as used herein, means the United States of America (including the States and the District of Columbia, its territories, its possessions and other areas subject to its jurisdiction)). Payments of instalments (if any) of principal, other than the final instalment, will (subject as provided below) be made against presentation and surrender of the relevant Receipt. Each Receipt must be presented for payment of the relevant instalment together with the definitive Note to which it appertains. If any definitive Note is redeemed or becomes repayable prior to the stated maturity thereof, principal will be payable only on surrender of such Note together with all unmatured Receipts appertaining thereto. Receipts presented without the definitive Note to which they appertain and unmatured Receipts do not constitute valid obligations of the Issuer.

Payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of Notes represented by any Global Note will (subject as provided below) be made in the manner specified above in relation to definitive Notes and otherwise in the manner specified in the relevant global Note against presentation or surrender, as the case may be, of such global Note, at the specified office of any Paying Agent. A record of each payment made on such Global Note, distinguishing between any payment of principal and any payment of interest, will be made on such Global Note by such Paying Agent and such record shall be prima facie evidence that the payment in question has been made.

The holder of the relevant Global Note (or, as provided in the Trust Deed, the Trustee) shall be the only person entitled to receive payments in respect of Notes represented by such Global Note and the Issuer will be discharged by payment to, or to the order of, the holder of such Global Note (or the Trustee, as the case may be) in respect of each amount so paid. Each of the persons shown in the records of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg as the holder of a particular nominal amount of Notes represented by such Global Note must look solely to Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, for his share of each payment so made by the Issuer to, or to the order of, the holder of the relevant Global Note (or the Trustee, as the case may be). No person other than the holder of the relevant Global Note (or, as provided in the Trust Deed, the Trustee) shall have any claim against the Issuer in respect of any payments due on that Global Note.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, payments of interest in U.S. Dollars will only be made at the specified office of any Paying Agent in the United States if (a) the Issuer shall have appointed Paying Agents with specified offices outside the United States with the reasonable expectation that such Paying Agents would be able to make payment at such specified offices outside the United States of the full amount of interest on the Notes in the manner provided above when due, (b) payment of the full amount of such interest at such specified offices outside the United States is illegal or effectively precluded by exchange controls or other similar restrictions and (c) such payment is then permitted under United States law without involving, in the opinion of the Issuer, adverse tax consequences to the Issuer.

Fixed Rate Notes in definitive form (other than Dual Currency Notes or Index Linked Notes) should be presented for payment together with all unmatured Coupons appertaining thereto (which expression shall include Coupons falling to be issued on exchange of matured Talons), failing which an amount equal to the face value of any missing unmatured Coupon (or, in the case of payment not being made in full, the same proportion of the amount of such missing unmatured Coupon as the sum so paid bears to the total amount due) will be deducted from the amount due for payment. Each amount of principal so deducted will be paid in the manner mentioned above against surrender of the relevant missing Coupon at any time before the expiry of twelve years after the relevant date (as defined in Condition 10) in respect of such principal (whether or not such Coupon would otherwise have become void under Condition 13) or, if later, six years from the date on which such Coupon would otherwise have become due.

Upon any Fixed Rate Note becoming due and repayable prior to its Maturity Date, all unmatured Talons (if any) appertaining thereto will become void and no further Coupons will be issued in respect thereof.

Upon the due date for redemption of any Floating Rate Note, Dual Currency Note or Index Linked Note in definitive form, all unmatured Coupons and Talons (if any), relating to such Note (whether or not attached) shall become void and no payment or, as the case may be, exchange for further Coupons shall be made in respect thereof.

In relation to any Undated Subordinated Note in definitive form, if any payment is to be made in respect of interest, the Interest Payment Date for which falls on or after the date on which the winding up in England of the Issuer is deemed to have commenced or, where an administrator of the Issuer has been appointed and the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, on or after the date of giving such notice, such payment shall be made only against presentation of the relevant Note, and the Coupon for any such Interest Payment Date shall be void. In addition, any Undated Subordinated Note in definitive form presented for payment after an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up in England of the Issuer or, where an administrator of the Issuer has been appointed and the administrator has given notice, under Rule 2.95 of the Insolvency Rules 1986, that he/she intends to declare and distribute a dividend, on or after the date of giving such notice must be presented together with all Coupons in respect of Arrears of Interest relating to Interest Payment Dates falling prior to the commencement of such winding up of the Issuer, failing which there shall be withheld from any payment otherwise due to the holder of such Undated Subordinated Note such proportion thereof as the Arrears of Interest due in respect of any such missing Coupon bears to the total of the principal amount of the relevant Undated Subordinated Note, all Arrears of Interest in respect thereof and interest (other than Arrears of Interest) accrued on such Undated Subordinated Note in respect of the Interest Period current at the date of the commencement of the winding up.

(c) Payment Day

If any date for payment of any amount in respect of any Note, Receipt or Coupon is not a Payment Day (as defined below), then the holder thereof shall not be entitled to payment of the relevant amount due until the next following Payment Day and shall not be entitled to any interest or other sum in respect of any such delay. In this Condition (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms), "Payment Day" means any day which (subject to Condition 13) is:—

(i) a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealings in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in:

(A) the relevant place of presentation;

(B) London;

(C) any Additional Financial Centre specified in the applicable Final Terms; and

(ii) either (1) in relation to any sum payable in a Specified Currency other than euro, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business (including dealings in foreign exchange and foreign currency deposits) in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency (if other than the place of presentation, London and any Additional Financial Centre and which, if the Specified Currency is Australian dollars or New Zealand dollars, shall be Sydney and Auckland respectively) or (2) in relation to any sum payable in euro, a day on which the TARGET System is open.

If the due date for redemption of any interest bearing Note in definitive form is not a due date for the payment of interest relating thereto, interest accrued in respect of such interest bearing Note from (and including) the last preceding due date for the payment of interest (or from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date, as the case may be) will be paid only against surrender of such interest bearing Note.

(d) Interpretation of Principal and Interest

Any reference in these Terms and Conditions to principal in respect of the Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable:—

(i) any additional amounts which may be payable with respect to principal under Condition 10 or pursuant to any undertakings given in addition thereto or in substitution therefor pursuant to the Trust Deed;

(ii) the Final Redemption Amount of the Notes;

(iii) the Early Redemption Amount of the Notes;

(iv) the Optional Redemption Amount(s) (if any) of the Notes;

(v) in relation to Notes redeemable in instalments, the Instalment Amounts;

(vi) in relation to Zero Coupon Notes, the Amortised Face Amount;

(vii) any premium and any other amounts which may be payable under or in respect of the Notes; and

(viii) in relation to Dual Currency Notes, the principal payable in any relevant Specified Currency.

Any reference in these Terms and Conditions to interest in respect of the Notes shall be deemed to include, as applicable, any additional amounts which may be payable with respect to interest under Condition 10 or pursuant to any undertakings given in addition thereto or in substitution therefor pursuant to the Trust Deed.

8. Exchange of Talons

On and after the Interest Payment Date on which the final Coupon comprised in any Coupon sheet matures, the Talon (if any) forming part of such Coupon sheet may be surrendered at the specified office of the Agent or any other Paying Agent in exchange for a further Coupon sheet including (if such further Coupon sheet does not include Coupons to (and including) the final date for the payment of interest due in respect of the Note to which it appertains) a further Talon, subject to the provisions of Condition 13.

9. Agent and Paying Agents

The names of the initial Agent and the other initial Paying Agent and their initial specified offices are set out below. In the event of the appointed office of any such bank being unable or unwilling to continue to act as the Agent, or failing duly to determine the Rate of Interest, if applicable, or to calculate the Interest Amounts for any Interest Period, the Issuer shall appoint the London office of such other bank as may be approved by the Trustee to act as such in its place. The Agent may not resign its duties or be removed from office without a successor having been appointed as aforesaid. The Issuer may, with the prior approval of the Trustee, vary or terminate the appointment of any Paying Agent and/or appoint additional or other Paying Agents and/or approve any change in the specified office through which any Paying Agent acts provided that the Issuer will, (i) so long as any of the Notes is outstanding, maintain a Paying Agent (which may be the Agent) having a specified office in a city approved by the Trustee in continental Europe and, (ii) so long as any of the Notes are listed on any stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority, a Paying Agent (which may be the Agent) having a specified office in each location required by the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange or, as the case may be, other relevant authority and (iii) ensure that it maintains a Paying Agent in a Member State of the European Union that is not obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any law implementing or complying with, or introduced in order to conform to, such Directive, unless otherwise agreed by the Trustee because it is unduly onerous to the Issuer or not consistent with then market practice.

In addition, the Issuer shall forthwith appoint a Paying Agent having a specified office in New York City in the circumstances described in sub-paragraph (ii) of the fourth paragraph of Condition 7*(b)*. Notice of any such variation, termination, appointment or change will be given by the Issuer to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19.

10. Taxation

All payments of principal and interest (if any) in respect of the Notes, Receipts and Coupons by the Issuer will be made without withholding of, or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatsoever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of the United Kingdom or any political sub-division thereof or by any authority therein or thereof having power to tax, unless the withholding or deduction of such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges is required by law. In that event, the Issuer will pay such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that the net amounts receivable by the Noteholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders after such withholding or deduction shall equal the respective amounts of principal and interest (if any) which would have been receivable in respect of the Notes, Receipts or Coupons (as the case may be) in the absence of such withholding or deduction, except that no such additional amounts shall be payable with respect to any Note, Receipt or Coupon presented for payment:—

(i) by or on behalf of a holder who (a) is able to avoid such withholding or deduction by satisfying any statutory requirements or by making a declaration of non-residence or other claim for exemption to the relevant taxing authority but fails to do so; or (b) is liable to such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges in respect of such Notes, Receipts or Coupons (as the case may be) by reason of his having some connection with the United Kingdom other than merely by reason of the holding of such Note, Receipt or Coupon; or

(ii) more than 30 days after the relevant date save to the extent that the holder thereof would have been entitled to such additional amounts on presenting the same for payment on the last day of such period of 30 days; or

(iii) in the United Kingdom; or

(iv) where such withholding or deduction is imposed on a payment to an individual and is required to be made pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any law implementing or complying with, or introduced in order to conform to, such Directive; or

(v) by or on behalf of a holder who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Note, Receipt or Coupon to another Paying Agent in a Member State of the EU.

For this purpose, "the relevant date" means the date on which the payment in respect of the Note, Receipt or Coupon first becomes due and payable but, if the full amount of the moneys payable on such date has not been received by the Agent or the Trustee on or prior to such date, the "relevant date" means the date on which, such moneys having been so received, notice to that effect shall have been given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 19.

11. Events of Default and Enforcement relating only to Senior Notes

(a) This Condition shall apply only to Senior Notes.

(b) The Trustee at its discretion may, and if so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders shall, (but, in the case of the happening of any of the events mentioned in sub-paragraphs (ii) to (vii) below, only if the Trustee shall have certified in writing that such event is, in its opinion, materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders), give notice to the Issuer that the Notes are, and they shall accordingly immediately become, due and repayable at their Early Redemption Amount, together with accrued interest (if any) as provided in the Trust Deed, if any of the following events (each an "Event of Default") shall occur and be continuing:—

(i) if default is made for a period of 7 days or more in the payment of any principal due in respect of the Notes or any of them or 14 days or more in the payment of any interest due in respect of the Notes or any of them; or

(ii) if an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding-up of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary (except, in any such case, a winding-up or dissolution for the purpose of a reconstruction or amalgamation the terms of which have previously been approved in writing by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution or a voluntary solvent winding-up or a transfer of all or a material part of the business, undertaking and assets of such Material Subsidiary to the Issuer or any other subsidiary of the Issuer); or

(iii) if the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary stops or threatens to stop payment to its creditors generally or the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary ceases or threatens to cease to carry on its business or substantially the whole of its business (except for the purpose of or in connection with a reconstruction or amalgamation the terms of which have previously been approved in writing by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution or a voluntary solvent winding-up or a transfer of all or a material part of the business, undertaking and assets of such Material Subsidiary to the Issuer or any other subsidiary of the Issuer); or

(iv) if an encumbrancer takes possession or a receiver, administrator, administrative receiver or other similar officer is appointed of the whole or any material part of the undertaking, property and assets of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary or if a distress or execution is levied or enforced upon or sued out against the whole or any material part of the chattels or property of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary and, in the case of any of the foregoing events, is not discharged within 30 days (or such longer period as the Trustee may permit); or

(v) if the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary is unable to pay its debts generally; or

(vi) if any payment in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed (as defined in the Trust Deed) (which indebtedness has an outstanding aggregate principal amount of at least the Specified Amount) of the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary is not made on its due date (or by the expiry of any applicable grace period as originally provided) or becomes due and payable prior to its stated maturity by reason of default or if any guarantee or indemnity of any payment in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed of any third party given by the Issuer or any Material Subsidiary is not honoured when due and called upon (except where the aggregate liability under any such guarantees or indemnities does not exceed the Specified Amount); or

(vii) if default is made by the Issuer in the performance or observance of any obligation, condition or provision binding on it under the Notes, Receipts or Coupons or the Trust Deed (other than any obligation for the payment of any principal or interest in respect of the Notes) and, except where such default is or the effects of such default are, in the opinion of the Trustee, not capable of remedy when no such continuation and notice as is hereinafter mentioned will be required, such default continues for 30 days (or such longer period as the Trustee may permit) after written notice thereof has been given by the Trustee to the Issuer requiring the same to be remedied.

"Specified Amount" means the greater of (a) £15,000,000 or its equivalent in any other currency or currencies and (b) such amount in Sterling as is equal to one per cent. of the aggregate of (1) the nominal amount of the share capital of the Issuer for the time being issued and paid up or credited as paid up, (2) the amounts standing to the credit of the reserves (including any share premium account and profit and loss account) of the Issuer and its subsidiaries and (3) any amounts attributable to minority interests in subsidiaries, all as shown in the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and its subsidiaries prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United Kingdom less (4) any amounts, determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United Kingdom, representing distribution of cash or tangible assets declared, recommended or made by the Issuer or any of its subsidiaries (other than any distribution attributable to the Issuer or another subsidiary) out of profits accrued prior to the date of, and not provided for in, the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and its subsidiaries and less (5) any amounts shown in such latest audited consolidated balance sheet (y) attributable to intangible assets and (z) of any debit on profit and loss account.

A certificate of two directors of the Issuer as to the Specified Amount shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on all parties.

"Material Subsidiary" means any subsidiary of the Issuer whose total assets (attributable to the Issuer) represent 10 per cent. or more of the consolidated total assets (attributable to the Issuer) of the Issuer and its subsidiaries, all as more particularly defined in the Trust Deed.

The Trust Deed contains provisions which permit two directors of the Issuer to certify that a subsidiary is a "Material Subsidiary" (i) at the time of issue of every audited consolidated balance sheet of the Issuer and at any other time upon the request of the Trustee, or (ii) as soon as reasonably practicable after the acquisition or disposal of a company which thereby becomes or ceases to be a Material Subsidiary or after any transfer is made to any subsidiary which thereby becomes a Material Subsidiary. Any such certification shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on all concerned.

The Trustee may at its discretion institute such proceedings as it may think fit to enforce the obligations of the Issuer under the Trust Deed and the Notes, Receipts and Coupons, but it shall not be bound to institute any such proceedings unless (1) it shall have been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders or so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding and (2) it shall have been indemnified to its satisfaction. No Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to institute proceedings directly against the Issuer unless the Trustee, having become bound so to proceed, fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing.

12. Events of Default and Enforcement relating only to Subordinated Notes

(a) This Condition shall apply only to Subordinated Notes.

(b) In the case of Dated Subordinated Notes, the Trustee at its discretion may, and if so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding or if so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders shall, give notice to the Issuer that the Notes are, and they shall accordingly immediately become, due and repayable at their Early Redemption Amount, together with accrued interest (if any) as provided in the Trust Deed if any of the following events (each an "Event of Default") shall occur and be continuing:—

(i) if default is made for a period of 7 or more days in the payment of any principal due in respect of the Notes or any of them or 14 or more days in the payment of any interest due in respect of the Notes or any of them; or

(ii) if the winding-up of the Issuer is commenced (other than a winding-up which has been approved in writing by the Trustee or by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders).

If the Notes become immediately due and repayable, the Trustee may at its discretion institute proceedings, but may take no other action in respect of such default, for the winding-up of the Issuer in England (but not elsewhere) to enforce the obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Trust Deed; provided that no payment of interest, repayment of principal or other claim in respect of the Notes may be made by the Issuer pursuant to this Condition, nor will the Trustee accept the same, otherwise than during or after a winding-up or dissolution of the Issuer, save with prior Relevant Supervisory Consent.

For the purposes of this paragraph (b), a payment shall be deemed to be due even if the condition set out in Condition 3 is not satisfied.

(c) In the case of Undated Subordinated Notes, if the Issuer shall not make any payment of principal or interest in respect of the Notes for a period of 14 days or more after the due date for the same, the Trustee may institute proceedings in England (but not elsewhere) for the winding up of the Issuer and prove in such winding up.

For the avoidance of doubt, no payment shall be due if the Issuer does not make such payment as a result of the provisions of Condition 3(ii) and no payment of interest shall be due if the Issuer has exercised its right to defer such payment of interest pursuant to Condition 5*(f)*.

(d) No Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to proceed directly against the Issuer unless the Trustee, having become bound so to proceed, fails to do so, in which case the Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall have only such rights against the Issuer as those which the Trustee is entitled to exercise. No Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder shall be entitled to institute proceedings for the winding-up of the Issuer, or to prove in any winding-up of the Issuer or any administration of the Issuer, unless the Trustee, having become bound to proceed against the Issuer as aforesaid, fails to do so, or, being able to prove in any winding-up of the Issuer or any administration of the Issuer, fails to do so, in which event any such holder may, on giving an indemnity satisfactory to the Trustee, in the name of the Trustee (but not otherwise), himself institute proceedings for the winding-up in England (but not elsewhere) of the Issuer and/or prove in any winding-up of the Issuer or prove in any administration of the Issuer to the same extent (but not further or otherwise) that the Trustee would have been entitled so to do in respect of the Notes, Receipts and Coupons held by him. No remedy against the Issuer, other than the institution of proceedings for the winding-up in England of the Issuer or the proving or claiming in the winding-up of the Issuer or in any administration of the Issuer, shall be available to the Trustee or the Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders for the recovery of amounts owing in respect of the Notes, Receipts or Coupons or under the Trust Deed.

(e) The Trustee may at its discretion institute proceedings for the winding-up of the Issuer in England to enforce the obligations of the Issuer under the Trust Deed and the Notes, Receipts and Coupons, but it shall not be bound to institute any such proceedings unless (a) it shall have been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution of the Noteholders or so requested in writing by the holders of at least one-quarter of the nominal amount of the Notes then outstanding and (b) it shall have been indemnified to its satisfaction.

13. Prescription

Notes, Receipts and Coupons shall become void unless presented for payment within 12 years (in the case of Notes and Receipts) and six years (in the case of Coupons), in each case from the relevant date (as defined in Condition 10) therefor, subject to the provisions of Condition 7. There shall not be included in any Coupon sheet issued on exchange of a Talon, any Coupon the claim for payment in respect of which would be void pursuant to this Condition or Condition 7 or any Talon which would be void pursuant to Condition 7.

14. Meetings of Noteholders, Modification and Waiver

The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of Noteholders to consider any matter affecting their interests, including the modification by Extraordinary Resolution of these Terms and Conditions or the provisions of the Trust Deed. The quorum at any such meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution will be one or more persons present holding or representing a clear majority of the nominal amount of the Notes for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting one or more persons present being or representing Noteholders whatever the nominal amount of the Notes for the time being outstanding so held or represented, except that, at any meeting, the business of which includes the modification of certain of these Terms and Conditions or of certain of the provisions of the Trust Deed, the necessary quorum for passing an Extraordinary Resolution will be one or more persons present holding or representing not less than two-thirds, or at any adjourned such meeting not less than one-third, of the nominal amount of the Notes for the time being outstanding.

An Extraordinary Resolution passed at any meeting of Noteholders will be binding on all Noteholders, whether or not they are present at the meeting, and on all Receiptholders and Couponholders.

The Trust Deed provides that the Trustee may agree, without the consent of the Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders, to any modification (subject as provided above) of, or to any waiver or authorisation of, any breach or proposed breach of, any of these Terms and Conditions or any of the provisions of the Trust Deed which, in the opinion of the Trustee, is not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders or to any modification thereof which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or which is made to correct a manifest error. Any such modification, waiver or authorisation shall be binding on the Noteholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders and, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, any such modification shall be notified to the Noteholders as soon as practicable thereafter in accordance with Condition 19.

In connection with the exercise by it of any of its trusts, powers or discretions (including, but without limitation, any modification, waiver, authorisation or substitution), the Trustee shall have regard to the interests of the Noteholders as a class and, in particular, but without limitation, shall not have regard to the consequences of such exercise for individual Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders resulting from their being for any purpose domiciled or resident in, or otherwise connected with, or subject to the jurisdiction of, any particular territory and the Trustee shall not be entitled to require, nor shall any Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder be entitled to claim, from the Issuer or any other person any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequence of any such exercise upon individual Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders except to the extent already provided for in Condition 10 and/or any undertaking given in addition to, or in substitution for, Condition 10 pursuant to the Trust Deed.

15. Substitution

(a) Subject as provided in the Trust Deed, the Trustee, if it is satisfied that so to do would not be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders, may agree, without the consent of the Noteholders,

Receiptholders or Couponholders, to the substitution of any Successor in Business of the Issuer or a holding company of the Issuer or of a subsidiary of the Issuer or of any such Successor in Business or of any such holding company in place of the Issuer as principal debtor under the Trust Deed, the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons, provided (in the case of the substitution of any company which is a subsidiary of the Issuer or of any such Successor in Business or of any such holding company) that the obligations of the subsidiary in respect of the Trust Deed, the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons shall be guaranteed by the Issuer or such Successor in Business or such holding company in such form as the Trustee may require and provided further that (in the case of the Subordinated Notes) the obligations of such Successor in Business or of such holding company or subsidiary of the Issuer or of any such Successor in Business or of any such holding company and any such guarantee shall be subordinated on a basis considered by the Trustee to be equivalent to that in respect of the Issuer's obligations in respect of the Notes, Receipts and Coupons.

(b) Any such substitution shall be binding on the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders and, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, any such substitution shall be notified by the Issuer to the Noteholders as soon as practicable thereafter in accordance with Condition 19.

16. Further Issues

The Issuer is at liberty from time to time without the consent of the Noteholders, Receiptholders or Couponholders to create and issue further notes ranking pari passu in all respects (or in all respects save for the date for, and the amount of, the first payment of interest thereon) with the outstanding Notes and so that the same shall be consolidated and form a single series with the outstanding Notes.

17. Replacement of Notes, Receipts, Coupons and Talons

If a Note (including any global Note), Receipt, Coupon or Talon is mutilated, defaced, destroyed, stolen or lost it may be replaced at the specified office of the Agent in London, or any other place approved by the Trustee of which notice shall have been published in accordance with Condition 19, on payment of such costs as may be incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Notes, Receipts, Coupons or Talons must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

18. Indemnification

The Trust Deed contains provisions for the indemnification of the Trustee and for its relief from responsibility in certain circumstances including provisions relieving it from instituting proceedings to enforce repayment unless indemnified to its satisfaction.

19. Notices

All notices regarding the Notes will be valid if published in the Financial Times or any other daily newspaper in London approved by the Trustee or, if this is not possible, in one other English language daily newspaper approved by the Trustee with general circulation in Europe. The Issuer shall also ensure that all notices are duly published in a manner which complies with the rules and regulations of any stock exchange or any other relevant authority on which the Notes are for the time being listed. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once, on the date of the first publication or, if required to be published in more than one newspaper, on the date of the first publication in each such newspaper or where published in such newspapers on different dates, the last date of such first publication.

Until such time as any definitive Notes are issued, there may, so long as any global Note is held in its entirety on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, be substituted for such publication as aforesaid the delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg for communication by them to the Noteholders and, in addition, for so long as any Notes are listed on a stock exchange or admitted to listing by any other relevant authority and the rules of that stock exchange or, as the case may be, other relevant authority so require, such notice will be published in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the place or places required by that stock exchange or, as the case may be, or any other relevant authority. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the Noteholders on the seventh day after the day on which the said notice was given to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as appropriate.

Notices to be given by any Noteholder shall be in writing and given by lodging the same, together with the relative Note or Notes, with the Agent. Whilst any of the Notes are represented by a global Note, such notice may be given by any Noteholder to the Agent via Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, in such manner as the Agent and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, may approve for this purpose.

20. The Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

No rights are conferred on any person under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any term of the Notes, but this does not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

21. Governing Law

The Trust Deed, the Notes, the Receipts, the Coupons and the Talons are governed by, and will be construed in accordance with, English law.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds from each issue of Notes will be used by the Issuer for the general funding purposes of its business (which include making a profit). If in respect of any particular issue, there is a particular identified use of proceeds, this will be stated in the applicable Final Terms.

Introduction

Northern Rock plc (the "Issuer") is a public limited company incorporated and registered in England and Wales under the Companies Act 1985. The Issuer is a specialised mortgage lender whose core business is the provision of residential mortgages in the United Kingdom funded in both the retail and wholesale markets. The Issuer, together with its subsidiaries and associated companies, also engages in secured commercial lending, personal unsecured lending and distribution of third party insurance products. At 31st December, 2004, the Northern Rock Group had total assets under management of £64.9 billion (including securitised mortgage loans).

The Issuer is one of the top ten mortgage lenders in the United Kingdom based upon loans outstanding. In the UK mortgage market, the Issuer had an estimated market share of approximately 11.2 per cent. on the basis of net residential lending during 2004 of £11.4 billion and an estimated market share of approximately 6.8 per cent. on the basis of gross residential lending during 2004 of £20.1 billion.

The Issuer was originally a building society (a mutual form of organisation existing under English law which engages primarily in residential mortgage lending and deposit taking) prior to its conversion to a public limited company. The Issuer was incorporated as a public limited company on 30th October, 1996 (with registration number 3273685) and the conversion became effective as of 1st October, 1997. The Issuer currently has the following two principal subsidiaries, each of which is wholly-owned by the Issuer: Northern Rock Mortgage Indemnity Company Limited, a Guernsey limited liability company providing mortgage indemnity services to the Issuer, and Northern Rock (Guernsey) Limited, a Guernsey limited liability company engaging in retail deposit taking.

The Issuer's ordinary shares have been admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's market for listed securities and have been admitted to the Official List of the UK Listing Authority. The registered and principal executive office of the Issuer is at Northern Rock House, Gosforth, Newcastle upon Tyne NE3 4PL, United Kingdom (telephone number 0845 600 8401). Overview

The Issuer specialises in lending to individuals with a core business of providing residential mortgage loans, funded in the retail, wholesale, covered bond and securitisation markets. The Issuer has achieved rapid growth with total assets under management, including securitised mortgages, rising from £11.6 billion at the end of 1995 to £64.9 billion at 31st December, 2004. During 2004 total assets under management grew by 25 per cent. Management have set a strategic target of annual growth in assets under management of 15 per cent. to 25 per cent. per annum.

Profit on ordinary activities after tax for the year ended 31st December, 2004 amounted to £306.2 million, like-for-like growth of 13.0 per cent.; a return on equity of 21.3 per cent. The Issuer has continued to achieve strong year-on-year profit growth through a combination of volume growth, improving cost efficiency and growth in other income. These factors more than offset the easing in net interest spreads arising from competition and the increased use of securitisation.

The Issuer is one of the lowest cost providers in its core business. The Issuer's underlying cost to income ratio (defined as recurring administrative expenses divided by total income) was 30.4 per cent. for the year ended 31st December, 2004. The Issuer's cost advantage is derived from a combination of factors: focus on its core business, a cost efficient distribution network and its geographical base in the North East of England.

Developments in the Group's distribution network have focused on cost efficiency, achieving volume growth of lending and supporting the Group's retail funding objectives. Approximately 85 per cent. of residential mortgage lending is generated through intermediaries with the remainder split evenly between branches and direct business (telephone and e-commerce).

Lending

Residential Mortgage Lending

At 31st December, 2004 the Issuer had £49.0 billion of advances secured on residential property, including £22.0 billion of securitised mortgages. Residential lending represents the Issuer's core activity and accounts for 76 per cent. of total assets under management.

During 2004, total net residential lending amounted to £11.4 billion, an estimated market share of 11.2 per cent. compared to a share of outstanding total UK balances of approximately 5.5 per cent. as at 31st December, 2004. A strong year end pipeline of uncompleted lending awards of £4.7 billion will benefit lending in 2005.

The Group's residential mortgage assets are spread geographically throughout the UK. Residential mortgage lending is focused primarily on customers with a credit history and conservative income multiples and loan to value ratios. The quality of the portfolio is good with only 0.37 per cent. of all balances more than three months or more in arrears, approximately half the UK average.

Commercial Lending

The Issuer has a commercial loan portfolio which comprises two elements: commercial loans secured on residential properties (mainly loans to organisations supported by government grants, such as housing associations) and residential investment lending to individuals. Balances on such loans amounted to £696 million and are included in the £49.0 billion of advances secured on residential property for reporting purposes.

Other commercial loans are all secured on non-residential property and mainly represent loans to individuals or corporations to support investment in properties for retail, office or industrial use. At 31st December, 2004 such lending amounted to £1,569 million of which £291 million is securitised.

Commercial loans provide a diversification of assets and enhance interest margin for the Group. The Issuer intends to continue to grow its commercial loan portfolio while maintaining credit quality throughout the portfolio. At 31st December, 2004 only 0.3 per cent. of commercial loans were three months or more in arrears.

Personal Unsecured Lending

The Group also engages in personal unsecured lending, both on a stand-alone basis and via credit bundled products called "together". The "together" range comprises a combined secured residential mortgage and unsecured loan which benefits credit quality and enhances product retention. At 31st December, 2004 unsecured lending balances were £4.7 billion of which almost 40 per cent. were "together" unsecured advances.

At 31st December, 2004 only 1.0 per cent. of personal unsecured loans were three months or more in arrears. The "together" unsecured loans show characteristics similar to secured loans with only 0.8 per cent. three months or more in arrears.

General Insurance and Life Assurance Distribution

The Issuer distributes a limited range of household insurance and payment protection products primarily to residential mortgage and personal unsecured loan customers, via third party providers. Under arrangements with third party providers, the Issuer receives a commission from policies sold and does not take any underwriting risk. Life assurance products are supplied to the Issuer's customers through a relationship with Legal & General where the Issuer introduces the customer to the insurer and receives a commission for doing so. These products provide a valuable source of other income.

Funding

The Issuer has developed a diversified range of funding sources comprising on-shore and off-shore retail funding, wholesale funding, securitisation and, more recently, covered bonds.

Retail funding deposits amounted to £17.2 billion at 31st December, 2004 representing approximately 2.0 per cent. of UK retail deposits and 29 per cent. of the Issuer's total funding. The UK retail funding market has been particularly competitive in recent years as a result of new entrants, and the introduction of internet based accounts, which has affected the flow and price of retail deposits. The Issuer has aimed to maintain its retail franchise and achieved an increase in retail deposits in 2004 of £896 million. The Issuer operates a wide range of retail deposit vehicles including branches, postal, telephone, internet and off-shore.

Wholesale funding has become increasingly important to the Issuer and at 31st December, 2004 amounted to £19.7 billion or 33 per cent. of total funding. During 2004, net new wholesale funds amounted to £2.8 billion. The diversification of sources of funding available to the Group will continue with particular emphasis on Europe and the United States.

Securitisation is the third arm of the Issuer's funding strategy. From 1999 to 31st December, 2004, the Issuer has raised £29.6 billion through the issue of residential mortgage backed securities, of which £11.1 billion was raised in 2004.

At 31st December, 2004, outstanding securitised notes amounted to £22.1 billion representing 37 per cent. of total funding. Securitisation is expected to remain a significant source of funding for the Issuer, supporting incremental volume growth and capital efficiency. Diversification of investors will continue with issuance in Continental Europe and the United States, as well as in the UK. To date in 2005, a further £9.5 billion issue of residential mortgage backed securities has been completed.

During 2004, the Issuer established a €10 billion Global Covered Bond Programme. The inaugural issue of €2 billion covered bonds was followed in April 2005 by a further issue of €1.5 billion covered bonds.

Capital

At 31st December, 2004 total capital amounted to £3.2 billion, resulting in a total capital ratio of 14.0 per cent. Tier 1 capital was £2,015 million and the Tier 1 ratio 8.7 per cent.

£300 million of Reserve Capital Instruments ("RCIs") were issued by the Issuer in 2000 and 2001. The RCIs are eligible for inclusion in Tier 1 capital up to a maximum of 15 per cent. of total Tier 1 capital, with any surplus being eligible for inclusion in Upper Tier 2 capital.

The Issuer also issued £200 million of Tier One Notes in 2002, the full amount of which is eligible for inclusion in Tier 1 capital.

The Northern Rock Foundation

The establishment of The Northern Rock Foundation (the "Foundation") on conversion to a public limited company was intended to express the Issuer's commitment to its mutual history and to the region from which the business has drawn much of its strength. The Foundation has as its primary objective helping to improve the conditions of people disadvantaged by age, infirmity, poverty or other circumstances. It receives 5 per cent. of the annual consolidated profit before tax of the Issuer, paid under deed of covenant. The Foundation has received non-voting and non-dividend-paying Foundation shares which would convert into almost 15 per cent. of the ordinary share capital of the Issuer only in certain circumstances, principally involving a change in control of the Issuer, in which event the deed of covenant would terminate.

TAXATION

United Kingdom Taxation

The following is a summary of the Issuer's understanding of current law and practice in the United Kingdom relating to withholding or a deduction of tax from interest payable on the Notes. The comments do not deal with other United Kingdom tax implications of acquiring, holding or disposing of the Notes. The comments relate only to the position of persons who are absolute beneficial owners of the Notes and prospective Noteholders should be aware that the particular terms of issue of any series of Notes as specified in the relevant Final Terms may affect the tax treatment of that and other series of Notes. The following is a general guide and should be treated with appropriate caution. Noteholders who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their professional advisers.

1. Provided the Issuer continues to be a bank within the meaning of section 840A of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 (the "Tax Act") for the purposes of section 349 of the Tax Act and provided that the interest on the Notes is paid in the ordinary course of its business within the meaning of section 349 of the Tax Act, it is entitled to make payments of interest without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax. In accordance with the published practice of the United Kingdom HM Revenue & Customs, such payments will be accepted as being made by the Issuer in the ordinary course of its business unless either:

(i) the borrowing in question conforms to any of the definitions of tier 1, 2 or 3 capital adopted by the Financial Services Authority whether or not it actually counts towards tier 1, 2 or 3 capital for regulatory purposes; or

(ii) the characteristics of the transaction giving rise to the interest are primarily attributable to an intention to avoid United Kingdom tax.

2. Where interest is payable on Notes which have a maturity of less than one year (and which are not issued under arrangements the effect of which is to render such Notes part of a borrowing with a total term of a year or more), the interest will not be "yearly interest" for the purposes of the Tax Act and accordingly payments of interest on such Notes may be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax.

3. There is no requirement to withhold or deduct amounts for or on account of United Kingdom income tax from payments of interest made in respect of "quoted Eurobonds". Notes which carry a right to interest will constitute "quoted Eurobonds" provided they are and continue to be listed on a "recognised stock exchange", as defined in section 841 of the Tax Act. The London Stock Exchange is a recognised stock exchange. Under an HM Revenue & Customs published practice, securities will be treated as listed on the London Stock Exchange if they are admitted to the Official List by the United Kingdom Listing Authority and admitted to trading by the London Stock Exchange. Provided, therefore, that any Notes remain so listed, interest on such Notes will be payable without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom tax whether or not the Issuer carries on a banking business in the United Kingdom and whether or not the interest is paid in the ordinary course of its business.

4. In other cases, an amount will generally be required to be withheld from payments of interest on the Notes on account of United Kingdom income tax at the lower rate (currently 20 per cent.), subject to any direction to the contrary by HM Revenue & Customs under an applicable double taxation treaty. Where interest has been paid under deduction of United Kingdom income tax, Noteholders who are not resident in the United Kingdom may be able to recover all or part of the tax deducted if there is an appropriate provision in any applicable double taxation treaty.

5. Noteholders may wish to note that, in certain circumstances, HM Revenue & Customs has power to obtain information (including the name and address of the payee or, in certain cases, the beneficial owner of the interest) from any person in the United Kingdom (including the Issuer) who either pays interest to or receives interest for the benefit of a Noteholder, or who, either pays amounts payable on the redemption of Notes which are relevant discounted securities for the purposes of the Finance Act 1996 (now deeply discounted securities for the purposes of the Income Tax (Trading and Other Income) Act 2005) to, or receives such amounts for the benefit of, a Noteholder who is an individual, although HM Revenue & Customs published practice indicates that HM Revenue & Customs will not exercise its power to require this information in relation to relevant (or deeply) discounted securities where such amounts are paid on or before 5th April, 2006. Information so obtained may, in certain circumstances, be exchanged by HM Revenue & Customs with the tax authorities of other jurisdictions. The references to "interest" above mean "interest" as understood in United Kingdom tax law. The statements above do not take any account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may be created by the terms and conditions of the Notes or any related documentation.

EU Savings Directive

Under EC Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income, Member States are required, from 1st July, 2005, to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payments of interest (or similar income) paid by a person within its jurisdiction to an individual resident in that other Member State. However, for a transitional period, Belgium, Luxembourg and Austria are instead required (unless during that period they elect otherwise) to operate a withholding system in relation to such payments (the ending of such transitional period being dependent upon the conclusion of certain other agreements relating to information exchange with certain other countries). A number of non-EU countries and territories including Switzerland have agreed to adopt similar measures (a withholding system in the case of Switzerland) with effect from the same date.

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

The Dealers have in an amended and restated Programme Agreement dated 13th July, 2005 (the "Programme Agreement"), which term shall include any further amendment, supplement or restatement from time to time agreed with the Issuer a basis upon which they or any of them may from time to time agree to purchase Notes. Any such agreement for any particular purchase by a Dealer will extend to those matters stated under "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" and "Form of the Notes" above. The Issuer may pay the Dealers commissions from time to time in connection with the sale of any Notes. In the Programme Agreement the Issuer has agreed to reimburse and indemnify the Dealers for certain of their expenses and liabilities in connection with the establishment of the Programme and the issue of the Notes. The Dealers are entitled to be released and discharged from their obligations in relation to any agreement to issue and purchase Notes under the Programme Agreement in certain circumstances prior to payment to the Issuer.

(a) United States

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except in certain transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

The Notes are subject to U.S. tax law requirements and may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, except in certain transactions permitted by U.S. tax regulations. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and regulations thereunder.

Each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that it will not offer, sell or deliver any Notes (i) as part of their distribution at any time and (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution, as determined and certified by the relevant Dealer or, in the case of an issue of Notes on a syndicated basis, the relevant lead manager, of all Notes of the Tranche of which such Notes are a part, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Each Dealer has further agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that it will send to each dealer to which it sells any Notes during the distribution compliance period a confirmation or other notice setting forth the restrictions on offers and sales of the Notes within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

Until 40 days after the commencement of the offering of any Series of Notes, an offer or sale of such Notes within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with an available exemption from registration under the Securities Act.

Each issue of Index Linked Notes or Dual Currency Notes shall be subject to such additional U.S. selling restrictions as the Issuer and the relevant Dealer or Dealers may agree as a term of the issuance and purchase of such Notes, which additional selling restrictions shall be set out in the applicable Final Terms.

(b) European Economic Area

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a "Relevant Member State"), each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the "Relevant Implementation Date") it has not made and will not make an offer of Notes to the public in that Relevant Member State, except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of Notes to the public in that Relevant Member State:

(a) in (or in Germany, where the offer starts within) the period beginning on the date of publication of a prospectus in relation to those Notes which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member

State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, all in accordance with the Prospectus Directive and ending on the date which is 12 months after the date of such publication;

(b) at any time to legal entities which are authorised or regulated to operate in the financial markets or, if not so authorised or regulated, whose corporate purpose is solely to invest in securities;

(c) at any time to any legal entity which has two or more of (1) an average of at least 250 employees during the last financial year; (2) a total balance sheet of more than €43,000,000 and (3) an annual net turnover of more than €50,000,000, as shown in its last annual or consolidated accounts; or

(d) at any time in any other circumstances which do not require the publication by the Issuer of a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an "offer of Notes to the public" in relation to any Notes in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Notes to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe the Notes, as the same may be varied in that Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Member State and the expression "Prospectus Directive" means Directive 2003/71/EC and includes any relevant implementing measure in each Relevant Member State.

(c) United Kingdom

Each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that:

(i) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or caused to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage an investment activity (within the meaning of Section 21 of the FSMA) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Notes in circumstances in which Section 21(1) of the FSMA would not, if the Issuer was not an authorised person, apply to the Issuer; and

(ii) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to any Notes in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

(d) Japan

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities and Exchange Law of Japan (the "Securities and Exchange Law") and each Dealer has agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that it will not offer or sell any Notes, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to, or for the benefit of, any resident of Japan (which term as used herein means any person resident in Japan, including any corporation or other entity organised under the laws of Japan), or to others for re-offering or resale, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to a resident of Japan, except pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of, and otherwise in compliance with, the Securities and Exchange Law and any other applicable laws, regulations and ministerial guidelines of Japan.

(e) France

Each of the Dealers and the Issuer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent and agree, that, in connection with their initial distribution, it has not offered or sold, and will not offer or sell, directly or indirectly, Notes to the public in the Republic of France (appel public à l'épargne), and that it has not distributed, or caused to be distributed and will not distribute or cause to be distributed to the public in the Republic of France, this Prospectus or any other offering material relating to the Notes, and that such offers, sales and distributions have been and shall be made in the Republic of France only to qualified investors (investisseurs qualifiés) acting for their own account, as defined in, and in accordance with, Articles L.411-1 and L.411-2 of the Code Monétaire et Financier and their implementing décret.

(f) The Netherlands

Bearer Zero Coupon Notes and other Notes which qualify as savings certificates as defined in the Dutch Savings Certificates Act (Wet inzake spaarbewijzen) may only be transferred or accepted through the mediation of either the Issuer or a Member of Euronext Amsterdam N.V. with due observance of the Savings Certificates Act and its implementing regulations (including registration requirements), provided that no mediation is required in respect of (i) the initial issue of those Notes to the first holders thereof, (ii) any transfer and delivery by individuals who do not act in the conduct of a profession or trade, and (iii) the issue and trading of those Notes, if they are physically issued outside the Netherlands and are not distributed in the Netherlands in the course of primary trading or immediately thereafter.

(g) General

Each Dealer has agreed and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree to comply with all applicable securities laws and regulations in force in any jurisdiction in which it purchases, offers, sells or delivers Notes or possesses or distributes this Prospectus and will obtain any consent, approval or permission required by it for the purchase, offer, sale or delivery by it of Notes under the laws and regulations in force in any jurisdiction to which it is subject or in which it makes such purchases, offers, sales or deliveries and neither the Issuer nor any other Dealer shall have responsibility therefor. Neither the Issuer nor any of the Dealers represents that Notes may at any time lawfully be sold in compliance with any applicable registration or other requirements in any jurisdiction, or pursuant to any exemption available thereunder, or assumes any responsibility for facilitating such sale.

With regard to each Tranche, the relevant Dealer(s) will comply with any other additional restrictions as the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) shall agree as a term of issue and purchase as indicated in the relevant Final Terms.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This Offering Circular does not constitute an offer of, or an invitation by or on behalf of Northern Rock or by or on behalf of any Dealer to subscribe for or purchase, any of the Notes in any jurisdiction to any person to whom it is unlawful to make such an offer or solicitation in such jurisdiction. The distribution of this Offering Circular and the offering of the Notes in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. Persons into whose possession this Offering Circular comes are required by the Dealers and Northern Rock to inform themselves about and to observe any such restrictions. For a further description of certain restrictions on the offering, sale and resale of the Notes, see "Plan of Distribution".

Each initial and subsequent purchaser of a Note will be deemed, by its acceptance or purchase of a Note, to have made certain acknowledgements, representations and agreements to and with Northern Rock and any applicable Dealer intended to restrict the resale or other transfer of such Note, as described in this Offering Circular, and, in connection therewith, may be required to provide confirmation of its compliance with such resale or other transfer restrictions in certain cases. See "Notice to Investors".

The information contained in this Offering Circular relating to Northern Rock was obtained from Northern Rock, and no assurance can be given by the Dealers as to the accuracy or completeness of such information. The Dealers make no representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained in this Offering Circular. None of the information contained in this Offering Circular is, or should be relied upon as a promise or representation by the Dealers. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examinations of Northern Rock and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved.

All inquiries relating to Northern Rock, this Offering Circular and the offering contemplated herein should be directed to the Dealers.

Any purchaser of Notes must be able to bear the economic risk of an investment in such Notes for an indefinite period of time because the Notes have not been registered under the Securities Act. There is no undertaking to register the Notes under the Securities Act and they cannot be resold unless they are subsequently registered thereunder or an exemption from registration is available (including the exemption provided for in Rule 144A under the Securities Act).

The Notes have not been recommended by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Securities and Exchange Commission"), any state securities commission or any other regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not passed upon or endorsed the merits of this offering or the accuracy or adequacy of this Offering Circular. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

This Offering Circular is submitted on a confidential basis to a limited number of institutional accredited investors and qualified institutional buyers for informational use solely in connection with the consideration of the purchase of the Notes. Its use for any other purpose is not authorized. This Offering Circular may not be copied or reproduced in whole or in part nor may it be distributed or any of its contents disclosed to anyone other than the prospective investors to whom it is submitted.

Neither the Dealers nor Northern Rock are making any representation to any offeree or purchaser of the Notes described herein regarding (a) the legality of investment therein by such offeree or purchaser under applicable legal investment or similar laws or regulations, or (b) the consequences of investment therein under U.S. Federal tax laws or other taxation statutes. Prospective purchasers should consult with their own advisors as to issues of legal investment or taxation.

The delivery of this Offering Circular at any time does not imply that the information herein is correct at any time subsequent to its date.

Northern Rock will, at the specified offices of the Paying Agents (as defined under "Description of the Notes"), provide, free of charge, upon the written request therefor, a copy of this Offering Circular (or any document incorporated by reference therein). In connection with the issue and distribution of any tranche of Notes, the Dealer (if any) disclosed as stabilising manager in the applicable Final Terms or any person acting for him may over-allot or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Series (as defined herein) of which such tranche forms part at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail for a limited period in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. However, there may be no obligation on the stabilising manager or any agent of his to do this. Such stabilising, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time and must be brought to an end after a limited period.

In addition, if and for so long as any Notes are listed on the EuroMTF, such documents will be available free of charge from the specified office of the Luxembourg Listing Agent.

Northern Rock will, in connection with the listing of the Notes issued under the Program on the EuroMTF, so long as any Notes remain outstanding and listed on such exchange, in the event of any material adverse change in the financial condition of Northern Rock or material change in the terms and conditions of the Notes or the Program (including an increase in the size of the Program) which is not reflected in this Offering Circular (or any of the documents incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular), advise the Luxembourg Stock Exchange of any such material change and prepare a further supplement to this Offering Circular or a new offering circular for use in connection with any subsequent issue of Notes to be listed on the EuroMTF.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

IFRS

Northern Rock's financial statements for the six months ended June 30, 2005 and for each fiscal year and interim period thereafter will be prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"). IFRS differs significantly from UK GAAP and it will not, therefore, be possible to meaningfully compare such IFRS numbers with the UK GAAP numbers included in this Offering Circular.

On May 13, 2005, Northern Rock announced the anticipated impact of its move to IFRS reporting, which included restatement of the results for 2004 in accordance with IFRS. The restated 2004 numbers are unaudited. Accordingly, such restated 2004 numbers are not included or incorporated by reference in this Offering Circular and should not be relied upon by prospective investors in the Notes.

Nonetheless, based upon its review of such restated numbers for 2004, management does not believe that the move to IFRS will materially adversely affect Northern Rock's financial condition or results of operations at and for the six months ended June 30, 2005 or for 2005 as a whole, although, since under IFRS fee income is deferred into later years and mortgage introducer fees are amortized more rapidly than under UK GAAP, the move to IFRS will defer reported income into future years.

Current Market Conditions

While Northern Rock believes that the UK economy currently remains fundamentally sound, base interest rate increases during 2003 and 2004 have had some impact on the growth of UK consumer demand, resulting in a slowdown in the housing market, both in terms of activity levels and house price inflation. Northern Rock nevertheless expects moderate GDP growth to continue in the UK during 2005, with unemployment remaining relatively low and interests rates peaking at or near to the current level.

Against this background, Northern Rock believes the UK housing market will remain generally strong, supported by low unemployment, good levels of affordability and sustained demand. Northern Rock expects this to result in good gross loan volumes but lower net lending, given the slowing of the housing market. As unemployment remains the key economic determinant of home loan default, Northern Rock expects mortgage arrears to remain relatively low during 2005.

Northern Rock's lending continued strongly into the first quarter of 2005 with all three lending arms (residential, commercial secured and personal unsecured) performing well, but with stand alone unsecured volumes being a little lower than 2004. Northern Rock's total net lending and residential net lending for the first quarter of 2005 was significantly above that for the same period in 2004. Northern Rock's high net lending market share seen in the second half of 2004 has also continued in to 2005. Credit quality continues to be an important focus of attention at Northern Rock, and management is satisfied that there has be no deterioration in overall credit quality.

During the first half of 2005 Northern Rock has continued to access the international capital markets for funding. This included the issues of £4.5 billion and £4.0 billion of residential mortgage-backed securities in January 2005 and May 2005, respectively, and and an additional issue of €1.5 billion covered bonds in April 2005. Northern Rock anticipates that it will continue to access both the retail and wholesale markets during 2005 by offering additional securities under its exisiting programs, including the offering of the Notes described herein.

SEC Filings

Northern Rock is no longer subject to the reporting requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Although not obligated to do so, Northern Rock has elected to continue its pre-existing practice of providing prospective investors in the Notes with a US GAAP reconciliation of its UK GAAP financial statements. Beginning on December 31, 2005, the US GAAP reconciliation will relate to Northern Rock's IFRS financial statements.

EuroMTF Listing

In connection with the implementation of the EU Prospectus Directive (the "Directive") on July 1, 2005, Northern Rock may elect to list Subordinated Notes issued under the Program on the EuroMTF. The EuroMTF listing of Subordinated Notes will be designed to enable Northern Rock to avail itself of the exemption for "quoted Eurobonds" discussed below under "U.K. Taxation" and should not suggest that an active trading market for such Subordinated Notes will develop on the EuroMTF or elsewhere. The EuroMTF listing and the availability of the exemption for "quoted Eurobonds" is dependent upon certain regulatory actions in Luxembourg being implemented. If such actions are not implemented in a timely manner, Northern Rock may seek to obtain a listing of the Subordinated Notes on a regulated market in Luxembourg or elsewhere.

This Offering Circular has been prepared in accordance with customary disclosure requirements for offerings of securities made in reliance on Rule 144A under the Securities Act. Although the Subordinated Notes will be listed on the EuroMTF and not on an EU-regulated market, Northern Rock believes the disclosure in this Offering Circular, in respect of both Northern Rock and the Notes, is at least as comprehensive as that made available to EU investors entitled to the benefit of the disclosure requirements of the Directive.

Notes:

(1) Return on average total assets represents profit on ordinary activities after tax as a percentage of average total assets.

(2) Return on average shareholders' equity represents profit on ordinary activities after tax as a percentage of average shareholders' equity.

(3) Adjusted return on average shareholders' equity represents reported profit on ordinary activities after tax adjusted to exclude provision for loss on disposal of care homes (2000), tax credit on conversion costs (2000) and surplus arising on the disposal of the credit card portfolio and non-recurring costs associated with branch closures (2003), as a percentage of average shareholders' equity.

(4) Adjusted return on average total assets represents reported profit on ordinary activities after tax adjusted as described in note (3) above, as a percentage of average total assets.

(5) Net interest margin represents net interest income as a percentage of average interest earning assets as described in this Offering Circular under "Selected Statistical Information". The net interest margin figures set forth in the table above have been prepared on the basis of adjusted total assets, including assets subject to securitization as interest earning assets and securitized notes in issue treated as interest bearing liabilities. Excluding assets subject to securitization and securitized notes, net interest margin in accordance with U.K. GAAP would have been 1.13% in 2004, 0.89% in 2003, 1.05% in 2002, 1.29% in 2001 and 1.30% in 2000.

(6) For this purpose, earnings consist of profit on ordinary activities before tax plus fixed charges. Fixed charges consist of interest payable including or excluding interest on retail deposits, as appropriate.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Notes will include certain risks. In consultation with financial and legal advisers, a prospective investor should carefully consider, among other matters, the following discussion of risk before deciding whether an investment in the Notes is suitable. Notes are not an appropriate investment for unsophisticated investors with respect to foreign currency transactions or transactions involving interest rate or currency index or other indices or formulas.

In particular, Notes denominated or payable in or determined by reference to a foreign or composite currency or to one or more interest rates, currencies or other indices or formulas are not an appropriate investment for investors who are unsophisticated with respect to foreign currency transactions or transactions involving the applicable interest rate or currency index or other indices or formulas. The matters described below, among other factors, should be carefully considered by any prospective investor.

This Offering Circular does not describe all of the risks of an investment in Notes, whether resulting from such Notes being denominated or payable in or determined by reference to a foreign currency or composite currency or to one or more interest rates, currencies or other indices or formulas, or otherwise. Northern Rock and the Dealers disclaim any responsibility to advise prospective investors of such risks as they exist at the date of this Offering Circular or as they change from time to time.

Transfer Restrictions

The Notes have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act or any other applicable securities laws and are being offered pursuant to the exemption from registration provided by Section 4(2) of the Securities Act. Accordingly, the Notes are subject to certain restrictions on the resale and other transfer thereof as set forth under "Notice to Investors". As a result of such restrictions, Northern Rock cannot be certain of the existence of a secondary market for the Notes or the liquidity of such market if one develops. Consequently, a Holder (as defined under "Description of the Notes-General") of Notes and owner of beneficial interests in such Notes, must be able to bear the economic risk of an investment in such Notes for an indefinite period of time.

Structure Risks

General

With respect to an investment in Notes indexed to one or more interest rates, currencies or other indices or formulas, significant risks exist that are not associated with a conventional fixed rate or floating rate debt security. Such risks include fluctuation of the particular indices or formulas and the possibility that an investor will receive a lower amount of principal, premium or interest and at different times than expected. Northern Rock has no control over a number of matters, including economic, financial and political events, that are important in determining the existence, magnitude and longevity of such risks and their results. In addition, if an index or formula used to determine any amounts payable in respect of the Notes contains a multiplier or leverage factor, the effect of any change in such index or formula will be magnified. In recent years, values of certain indices and formulas have been volatile and volatility in those and other indices and formulas may be expected in the future. However, past experience is not necessarily indicative of what may occur in the future.

Redemption

If the applicable Final Terms specifies that the Notes are redeemable at the option of the issuer, or are otherwise subject to mandatory redemption, Northern Rock may (in the case of optional redemption) or must (in the case of mandatory redemption) choose to redeem such Notes at times when prevailing interest rates may be relatively low. Accordingly, an investor generally will not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as that of the Notes.

Uncertain Trading Markets

Although the Notes may be listed on the EuroMTF, Northern Rock cannot assure a trading market for the Notes will develop or be maintained. Many factors independent of the creditworthiness of Northern Rock affect the trading market. These factors include:

- the complexity and volatility of the index or formula applicable to the Notes;
- the method of calculating the principal, premium and interest in respect of the Notes;
- the time remaining to the maturity of the Notes;
- the outstanding amount of the Notes;
- the redemption features of the Notes;
- the amount of other debt securities linked to the index or formula applicable to the Notes; and
- the level, direction and volatility of market interest rates generally.

In addition, certain Notes have a more limited trading market and experience more price volatility because they were designed for specific investment objectives or strategies. There may be a limited number of buyers when an investor decides to sell such Notes. This may affect the price an investor receives for such Notes or the ability of an investor to sell such Notes at all. A prospective investor should not purchase Notes unless such an investor understands and knows it can bear these investment risks.

Exchange Rates and Exchange Controls

With respect to an investment in Notes that are denominated and/or payable in a currency other than U.S. dollars ("Specified Currency Notes"), there will be significant risks not associated with an investment in a debt security denominated and payable in U.S. dollars, including the possibility of material changes in the exchange rate between U.S. dollars and the payment currency and the imposition or modification of exchange controls by the applicable governments. Northern Rock has no control over the factors that generally affect these risks, such as economic, financial and political events and the supply and demand for the applicable currencies. Moreover, if payments on Specified Currency Notes are determined by reference to a formula containing a multiplier or leverage factor, the effect of any change in the exchange rates between the applicable currencies will be magnified. In recent years, exchange rates between certain currencies have been highly volatile and volatility between such currencies or with other currencies may be expected in the future. Fluctuations between currencies in the past are not necessarily indicative, however, of fluctuations that may occur in the future. Depreciation of the payment currency would result in a decrease in the U.S. dollar equivalent yield of the Specified Currency Notes, in the U.S. dollar equivalent value of the principal and any premium payable at maturity or earlier redemption of the Specified Currency Notes and generally, in the U.S. dollar equivalent market value of the Specified Currency Notes.

Governmental exchange controls could affect exchange rates and the availability of the payment currency on a required payment date. Even if there are no exchange controls, it is possible that the payment currency will not be available on a required payment date due to circumstances beyond Northern Rock's control. In such cases, Northern Rock will be allowed to satisfy its obligations in respect of Specified Currency Notes in U.S. dollars.

European Monetary Union

United Kingdom membership of the European Monetary Union prior to the maturity of the Notes, may adversely affect investors in the Notes. It is possible that prior to the maturity of the Notes the United Kingdom may become a participating Member State and that the Euro may become the lawful currency of the United Kingdom. In that event (i) all amounts payable in respect of any Notes denominated in sterling may become payable in euro; (ii) the law may allow or require the Notes to be re-denominated into euro and additional measures to be taken in respect of such Notes; and (iii) there may no longer be available published or displayed rates for deposits in Sterling used to determine the rates of interest on such Notes or changes in the way those rates are calculated, quoted and published or displayed. The introduction of the euro could also be accompanied by a volatile interest rate environment, which could adversely affect investors in the Notes.

Credit Ratings

The credit ratings of Northern Rock's medium-term note program may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure and other factors on the value of the Notes. In addition, real or anticipated changes in the credit ratings of Northern Rock will generally affect the market value of the Notes. Moreover, a credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

Economic Activity in the United Kingdom

Northern Rock's business activities are dependent on the level of banking, finance and financial services required by its customers. In particular, levels of borrowing are heavily dependent on customer confidence, employment trends, the state of the economy and market interest rates at the time. As Northern Rock currently conducts the majority of its business in the United Kingdom, its performance is influenced by the level and cyclical nature of business activity in the United Kingdom, which is in turn impacted by both domestic and international economic and political events. There can be no assurance that a weakening in the U.K. economy will not have a material effect on Northern Rock's future results.

Risk Associated with Strategic Decisions Regarding Organic Growth and Cost Control

Northern Rock's strategy relies upon the continued organic growth of its assets under management coupled with controlling related expenses. The strategy also involves operating as a single segment business concentrating on U.K. residential mortgage lending. No assurance can be given that profitability would not be impacted in the event conditions in the U.K. residential mortgage market deteriorated significantly or Northern Rock was otherwise unable to succeed in its growth strategy or in continuing to control related expenses.

Access to Wholesale Funding and Securitization Market

A substantial amount of Northern Rock's funding depends upon access to wholesale funding sources, including accessing the institutional debt market in the United States, Europe and in Asia, as well as accessing the global securitization market as an additional source of wholesale funding. The continued ability of Northern Rock to access such funding sources on favourable economic terms is dependent on a variety of factors, including a number of factors outside of its control, including general market conditions. There can be no assurance that Northern Rock will continue to be able to access such funding sources on favourable terms in the future.

Impact of Regulatory Changes

Northern Rock is subject to financial services laws, regulations, administrative actions and policies in each location that Northern Rock operates. Changes in supervision and regulation, in particular in the U.K., could materially affect Northern Rock's business, the products and services offered or the value of its assets. Although Northern Rock works closely with its regulators and continually monitors the situation, future changes in regulation, fiscal or other policies can be unpredictable and are beyond the control of Northern Rock. See "Supervision and Regulation" for additional information.

Risks related to the optional redemption of the Notes

An optional redemption feature is likely to limit the market value of Notes. During any period when Northern Rock may elect to redeem Notes, the market value of such Notes generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period.

Northern Rock may be expected to redeem Notes when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Notes. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Index Linked Notes and Dual Currency Notes

Northern Rock may issue Notes with principal or interest determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities or commodities, to movements in currency exchange rates or other factors (each, a "Relevant Factor"). In addition, Northern Rock may issue Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Potential investors should be aware that:

- the market price of such Notes may be volatile;
- they may receive no interest;
- payment of principal or interest may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;
- the amount of principal payable at redemption may be less than the nominal amount of such Notes or even zero;
- a Relevant Factor may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices;
- if a Relevant Factor is applied to Notes in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the Relevant Factor on principal or interest payable likely will be magnified; and
- the timing of changes in a Relevant Factor may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield.

Risks related to variable rate Notes with a multiplier or other leverage factor

Notes with variable interest rates can be volatile investments. If they are structured to include multipliers or other leverage factors, or caps or floors, or any combination of those features or other similar related features, their market values may be more volatile than those for securities that do not include those features.

Inverse Floating Rate Notes

Inverse Floating Rate Notes have an interest rate equal to a fixed rate minus a rate based upon a reference rate such as LIBOR. The market values of such Notes typically are more volatile than market values of other conventional floating rate debt securities based on the same reference rate (and with otherwise comparable terms). Inverse Floating Rate Notes are more volatile because an increase in the reference rate not only decreases the interest rate of the Notes, but may also reflect an increase in prevailing interest rates, which further adversely affects the market value of these Notes.

Risks related to Fixed/Floating Rate Notes

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may bear interest at a rate that Northern Rock may elect to convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. Northern Rock's ability to convert the interest rate will affect the secondary market and the market value of such Notes since Northern Rock may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. If Northern Rock converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may be less favorable than the then-prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Notes tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Notes. If Northern Rock converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate, the fixed rate may be lower than then prevailing rates on its Notes.

Risks related to Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium

The market values of securities issued at a substantial discount or premium to their nominal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the securities, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities.

Northern Rock's obligations under Subordinated Notes are subordinated

Northern Rock's obligations under the Subordinated Notes will be direct, unconditional, unsecured and subordinated. In the event of a winding-up of Northern Rock, or an administration of Northern Rock where the administrator has served notice that he or she proposes to make a distribution to creditors, the relevant Noteholders' claims shall be subordinated to the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of Northern Rock in respect of their respective Senior Claims (as defined in "Description of the Notes – Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes" below). Payments of principal and interest in respect of the Subordinated Notes are, in the event of a winding up of, or such an administration of Northern Rock as referred to above, conditional upon Northern Rock being solvent at the time of payment by Northern Rock.

Northern Rock's obligations under Perpetual Subordinated Notes will be direct, unconditional, unsecured and subordinated to the claims of Senior Creditors (as defined in "Description of the Notes – Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes" below). Payments of principal and interest in respect of Perpetual Subordinated Notes are conditional upon Northern Rock being solvent at the time of payment by Northern Rock. If at any time an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up in England of the Northern Rock (except in the circumstances described in "Description of the Notes – Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes" below), or an administration of Northern Rock where the administrator has served notice that he or she prepares to make a distribution to creditors, the Noteholders shall receive, in respect of each Note, such amount (if any) as would have been payable to the Noteholder if, on the day prior to the commencement of the winding up or such administration, such Noteholder were the holder of a class of preference share in the capital of Northern Rock having a preferential right to a return of assets in the winding up or such administration over the holders of all issued shares for the time being in the capital of Northern Rock, as more fully described in "Description of the Notes – Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes" below.

In respect of Perpetual Subordinated Notes, payments of interest are in addition to the right of Northern Rock to defer payments of interest as more fully described in "Description of the Notes – Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes" below.

Basel Capital Requirements Directive

The Basel Committee has issued proposals for reform of the 1988 Capital Accord and has proposed a framework which places enhanced emphasis on market discipline and sensitivity to risk. Northern Rock cannot predict the precise effects of the potential changes that might result from implementation of the proposals on both its own financial performance or the impact on the pricing of its Notes issued under the Program. Prospective investors in the Notes should consult their own advisers as to the consequences for them of the potential application of the New Basel Capital Accord proposals.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds of each issue of Notes will be used by Northern Rock for the purpose of funding its business. See "Description of Business" for a detailed description of the business of Northern Rock to be funded.

DESCRIPTION OF NORTHERN ROCK AND ITS BUSINESS

Northern Rock plc

Northern Rock is a public limited liability company incorporated and registered in England and Wales under the Companies Act 1985. Northern Rock is a specialized mortgage lender whose core business is the provision of residential mortgages in the United Kingdom funded in both the retail and wholesale markets. Northern Rock, together with its subsidiaries and associated companies, also engages in personal unsecured lending, secured commercial lending and distribution of third party insurance products. At December 31, 2004, the Group (as defined below) had adjusted total assets of £64.9 billion (including securitized mortgage loans).

Northern Rock's ordinary shares are listed on the London Stock Exchange. The principal executive office of Northern Rock is at Northern Rock House, Gosforth, Newcastle upon Tyne NE3 4PL, United Kingdom, its telephone number is +44-(0)845-600-8401, and its website address is www.northernrock.co.uk.

Organizational Structure

Northern Rock currently has the following two principal subsidiaries, each of which is wholly owned by Northern Rock: Northern Rock Mortgage Indemnity Company Limited ("NORMIC"), a Guernsey limited liability company providing mortgage indemnity insurance to Northern Rock and Northern Rock (Guernsey) Limited, a Guernsey limited liability company engaging in retail deposit taking. Northern Rock and its principal subsidiaries are referred to collectively in this Offering Circular as the "Group". See "Other Activities" below.

History and Development of the Company

Northern Rock was originally formed as a building society (a mutual form of organization existing under English law which engages primarily in residential mortgage lending and deposit taking) in 1965. Northern Rock Building Society was formed on July 1, 1965, as a result of the merger of Northern Counties Permanent Building Society (established in 1850) and Rock Permanent Building Society (established in 1865). After such time, Northern Rock Building Society merged with a number of small, local building societies and, prior to its conversion to a public limited company in October 1997, was an amalgamation of 53 societies.

The most significant development in the recent history of Northern Rock was its conversion, effective October 1, 1997, from a mutual form U.K. building society to a U.K. authorised bank, listed on the London Stock Exchange and authorized, at the time of its conversion, under the Banking Act 1987 and currently, under the FSMA (which replaced the Banking Act 1987 and other financial services legislation). Prior to the conversion, Northern Rock's activities as a building society were limited by statute primarily to its core business purposes of making residential mortgage loans and accepting retail deposits, with particular restrictions as to the level of wholesale funding it could utilize. Upon conversion to a U.K. bank, and following certain regulatory developments in the U.K. described below under "Supervision and Regulation", the scope of banking services which Northern Rock may now engage in has been greatly expanded, although Northern Rock intends to remain focused on its core business as described below.

The conversion also resulted in the establishment of The Northern Rock Foundation, a charitable body which is entitled to receive approximately 5% of the annual consolidated profit before tax of Northern Rock and holds certain Foundation Shares. See "–The Northern Rock Foundation" below.

On August 1, 2002 Northern Rock acquired Legal & General Bank Limited and Legal & General Mortgage Services Limited which comprised the retail banking operations of Legal & General plc. On completion, Northern Rock acquired total assets of £1.9 billion, of which £1.5 billion were loans and advances to customers, primarily residential mortgage advances. Northern Rock also obtained £1.2 billion of retail deposit balances. During 2002, the assets, liabilities and operations of these companies were transferred to Northern Rock plc.

Business Overview

Northern Rock specializes in lending to individuals with a core business of providing residential mortgage loans, funded in both the retail and wholesale markets. Northern Rock's operations are primarily concentrated in the United Kingdom. At December 31, 2004, Northern Rock held an estimated 5.5% of U.K. mortgage balances and an estimated 2.0% of U.K. retail savings balances. In addition, the Group engages in personal unsecured lending, secured commercial lending and distribution of third party insurance products. At December 31, 2004, total assets of the Group were £42.8 billion and total assets adjusted to include assets subject to securitization of £22.3 billion were £64.9 billion. Profit on ordinary activities after tax for the year ended December 31, 2004, was £306.2 million.

Northern Rock is one of the top ten mortgage lenders in the United Kingdom based upon loans outstanding. In the U.K. mortgage market, Northern Rock had an estimated market share of approximately 11.2% on the basis of net lending during 2004 (i.e. increase in outstanding mortgage balances) of £12.9 billion and an estimated market share of approximately 6.8% on the basis of gross lending during 2004 (i.e. solely on the basis of new mortgage lending during the year) of £23.3 billion.

Northern Rock focuses on its core business of providing residential mortgage loans in the United Kingdom. For the years ended December 31, 2004, 2003, and 2002, the portion of interest income attributable to the portfolio of secured loans (predominantly residential mortgage loans) amounted to 78.5% in 2004, 78.0% in 2003, and 76.4% in 2002. By comparison, the only other major category of interest earning assets consists of investments held by Northern Rock's Treasury Department principally to meet both internal and regulatory liquidity requirements. Interest income from Treasury assets as a percentage of total interest income amounted to 12.3% in 2004, 12.8% in 2003 and 13.9% in 2002. The balance of total interest income is derived from the Group's personal unsecured lending portfolios.

Strategy of the Group

Northern Rock's primary business objective is to maximize shareholder value while continuing to ensure customer satisfaction. In seeking to achieve this, Northern Rock's strategy consists of:

- focusing primarily on its core business of providing residential mortgage loans. The Group does not intend to diversify into areas where it is unable to apply its expertise;
- aiming to grow its income earning assets by offering competitively priced products and thereby maintaining and increasing its market share;
- seeking to combine high quality asset growth with strict cost control, thus further reducing unit costs and sustaining its pricing advantage, profitability and future growth;
- continuing to identify and prudently develop opportunities to supplement its business with complementary products, including insurance via third party suppliers, secured commercial lending, and personal unsecured lending; and
- funding the Group's operations based upon an appropriate mix of funding sources including retail, wholesale and securitization.

Funding

Competition in the retail deposit market, together with the increased level of funding required by Northern Rock to meet its strong asset growth, has meant that pricing for new retail funding in recent years has been less attractive to Northern Rock. See "– Competition" below. As a consequence, greater emphasis has been placed on raising wholesale funds internationally and through the use of securitization programs.

Northern Rock intends to maintain its retail franchise and will continue to seek new sources of retail funding both in the U.K. and Europe.

Northern Rock has significantly expanded the use of wholesale funding sources. Wholesale funding sources include funding raised in the capital and money markets through commercial paper and medium-term note programs and the issue of instruments such as time deposits and certificates of deposits, to banks, other financial institutions and corporate customers.

In addition to retail and wholesale funding sources, securitization of residential mortgage assets, as a third source of funding, was developed during 1999. As at December 31, 2004 Northern Rock had raised £29.7 billion via its mortgage securitization issues, with £11.1 billion completed during 2004. In addition, in 2002, a securitization of commercial secured loans was undertaken by Northern Rock, raising £500 million. Further mortgage securitization issues are planned for 2005 and beyond, with an issue of £4.5 billion residential mortgage backed notes completed in January 2005 and a further issue of £4.0 billion in May 2005. See "– Treasury and Wholesale Funding" below for more information regarding Northern Rock's use of securitization as a funding source. During 2004, Northern Rock established a €10 billion Global Covered Bond Program. The inaugural issue of €2.0 billion covered bonds was followed in April 2005 by a further issue of €1.5 billion covered bonds. The covered bond is secured by a pool of ring-fenced mortgages which remain on-balance sheet as Northern Rock retains substantially all the risks and rewards associated with the loans.

Competition in both the retail savings and lending markets is likely to remain strong, which can be expected to place continuing pressure on interest margins for the industry as a whole. Northern Rock has addressed this challenge by continuing to grow its income earning assets through competitive pricing, utilizing its low cost base. It has also offset overall margin decline by controlled growth of personal unsecured lending and secured commercial lending, both of which earn premium rates of interest, the introduction of innovative, higher margin products and the use of differential product pricing based upon loan-to-value ratios.

Acquisitions

The Board will only consider acquisitions where they are consistent with the Group's business objectives and provide returns which enhance shareholder value.

Lending

The Group's lending activities focus on residential mortgage lending in the United Kingdom. The Group also engages in commercial secured lending and unsecured personal lending. Total revenues from the Group's lending activities comprising interest income and fees (net of service charges) amounted to £2,775 million for the year ended December 31, 2004, £1,984 million for 2003 and £1,657 million for 2002. Revenues from lending activities accounted for 85.3% of total revenues for the year ended December 31, 2004, 84.0% of total revenues for 2003 and 82.8% for 2002. A description of such lending activities is set forth below.

U.K. Residential mortgage lending

U.K. residential mortgage lending is Northern Rock's core business. A residential mortgage is a loan which is partly or fully secured on the residential property of the borrower on terms which allow for repossession and sale of the property if the borrower breaks the terms and conditions of the loan. Northern Rock's policy is for all residential mortgage loans to be first charges on the mortgaged property. Consequently, Northern Rock's residential mortgage lending carries lower risk than certain other types of bank lending.

Northern Rock has a growing presence in the U.K. mortgage market. At December 31, 2004, the Group had 584,000 residential mortgage accounts with outstanding balances of £49.0 billion representing 75.6% of adjusted total assets. Although based in the North East of England, Northern Rock achieves a diversified spread of lending throughout the U.K. broadly in line with the distribution of the population. In 2004, based on an analysis of total gross residential lending, as defined in the table below, 15% of new lending was in the North of England, 10% in Scotland, 24% in Central England and 51% in the South of England.

The following table shows the Group's growth in residential mortgage advances over the three year period ended December 31, 2004.

	At December 31,
	2004	2003	2002
	(£ Millions, except for percentages)
Advances secured on residential property	27,000.7	23,179.7	20,729.5
Advances secured on residential property subject to securitization[1]	22,048.4	15,229.4	9,287.8
Total	49,049.1	38,409.1	30,017.3
Annual growth	27.8%	28.0%	33.2%
Proportion of adjusted total assets[2]	75.6%	73.9%	71.6%

Notes:

(1) Since 1999, Northern Rock has securitized a portion of its residential mortgage assets as a diversified source of funding. Such residential mortgages are originated by Northern Rock under normal credit criteria and continue to be administered by Northern Rock in the same manner as non-securitized mortgages. For a description of Northern Rock's use of securitization as an additional funding source, see "– Treasury and Wholesale Funding" below.

(2) As used in this report, "adjusted total assets" of the Group are equal to the total assets of the Group adjusted to include advances secured on residential property subject to securitization as described in Note 1 above.

During 2004 the U.K. mortgage market remained extremely buoyant boosted by low interest rates, house price inflation of approximately 15% and low levels of unemployment. Based upon Bank of England statistics reported by the Council of Mortgage Lenders, U.K. gross mortgage lending totalled £291.6 billion in 2004 compared with £277.2 billion in 2003, an increase of 5.2%. Net mortgage lending remained level in 2004, totalling £101.1 billion which was the same amount as in 2003. Management expects annualized house price inflation will more closely align with the rate of growth in average earnings over the medium term. Management also expects the gross mortgage market to remain strong during 2005, albeit at lower levels than seen in 2004, supported by strong re-mortgage activity underpinned by low inflation, low interest rates and generally low levels of unemployment.

Structural changes in the residential mortgage market, including the reduction in use of overhanging early repayment charges, certain lenders operating a two tier pricing structure for existing borrowers, competition from alternative, non-traditional sources and low market interest rates, have caused the U.K. residential mortgage market to become heavily commoditized, with competition for business to a large extent driven by price. Management believes that, in this market, borrowers are prepared to transfer their loans to other lenders (re-mortgage) in order to obtain discounted interest rates, fixed interest rates, cashback offers or a combination of these. Therefore, it is expected that, as the market has become increasingly liquid, there are opportunities for profitable growth for those cost efficient lenders, such as Northern Rock, that are able to offer attractive pricing. Accordingly, Northern Rock has introduced and markets a wide range and variety of competitively priced products designed to maintain and increase market share. Northern Rock also rewards loyalty by offering a concessionary discount against its standard variable rate for customers of seven years or more. Northern Rock's market share of redemptions in 2004 was only 4.5%, compared with its share of outstanding balances of 5.5% at the end of 2004, emphasizing Northern Rock's focus on retention of existing customers.

Discounted mortgage products are a common feature in the U.K. market. At the end of the discount period, the loan becomes a standard variable rate loan, the rate being set by Northern Rock by reference to market conditions and U.K. base interest rates as set by the Monetary Policy Committee of the Bank of England.

The U.K. market has traditionally demanded variable rate products. However, in recent years the demand for short term fixed rate products has fluctuated in response to market expectations of changes in the level of interest rates.

Northern Rock offers a wide range of fixed rate, capped rate and variable rate mortgages. Fixed rate products generally offer a predetermined interest rate for typically two or five years, after which they bear interest at standard variable rates. Capped rates offer a fixed ceiling above which the interest rate cannot rise for a predetermined period. Discounted variable rate mortgages offer a two or three year discount against standard variable rates and may therefore rise or fall as general interest rates change. A cashback mortgage involves a payment of interest at the standard variable rate but the customer receives an upfront cash incentive to take out a loan. In order to mitigate the risk of early repayment associated with discounted mortgage products and other mortgage incentives, Northern Rock, in line with market practice, imposes early repayment charges on most products during an incentive period to protect the profitability of each loan.

Northern Rock also offers a combined secured residential mortgage and unsecured loan with one monthly repayment marketed under the name "together". This product is offered as a variable rate or fixed rate product. The "together" product allows flexible payments, permitting under or over-payment, payment holidays or re-drawing of over-payments. Such combination of loan types (also referred to as "credit bundling") enables Northern Rock to monitor a customer's overall credit position, enhance margin and promote customer retention. During 2004, the secured element of "together" lending amounted to £3,798 million, while the unsecured element of "together" lending amounted to £710 million. The "together" secured loans account for approximately 18% of outstanding secured residential balances which management expects to continue in the medium term.

Northern Rock also offers a mortgage product named Lifetime aimed at older customers whose residences are not mortgaged. Customers obtaining a Lifetime loan are able to utilize the equity in their homes to obtain a lump sum advance or a monthly income stream which is secured by a first mortgage on their property. Unlike traditional mortgage lending, Lifetime loans have no set repayment date and no monthly loan repayments. Instead, the loan plus accrued interest is repaid from the sale of the property following death, a move into long term care or sheltered accommodation or moving house. Underwriting criteria and the management of risks associated with Lifetime lending also differ from traditional mortgages in that the amount of loan available to a customer is determined by reference to their age and the value of their property. Lifetime loans accounted for 1.8% of gross new residential lending in 2004, and Management expects that Lifetime loans will continue to grow in 2005.

Northern Rock also offers a Buy to Let product which is focused on lending to private investors secured on good quality residential properties with low loan-to-value ratios (or "LTVs"). Such lending accounted for 4.0% of Northern Rock's year end mortgage portfolio compared to 2.4% as at December 31, 2003. Gross mortgage lending amounted to 6.4% of total gross lending in 2004 compared to 1.7% in 2003.

An analysis of Northern Rock's gross residential mortgage lending by product type over the last three years is shown in the following table.

Analysis of Gross Mortgage Lending by Product Type

	2004	2003	2002
	(%)	(%)	(%)
Fixed rate (up to 2 years)	46	46	38
Fixed rate (over 2 years)	8	10	17
Cashback	1	1	2
Discount	16	14	9
"together"	21	25	31
Lifetime	2	4	3
Buy to Let	6	2	—

A normal condition of upfront incentives is that incentive repayment charges are payable by the borrower in the event of repayment within a specified time. The purpose of such charges is to mitigate the risk of early repayment to ensure that Northern Rock achieves the required profitability from each mortgage. Since 2002, and in line with market practice, Northern Rock has increasingly offered products with shorter early repayment charge periods but with consequently lower levels of incentives, as well as tapering early repayment charges which reduce over the early repayment charge period. A "Base Rate Pledge" is also maintained whereby Northern Rock guarantees that the variable rate paid during the early repayment charge period will be the lower of Northern Rock's standard variable rate or the Bank of England's base rate plus an agreed percentage.

Northern Rock has increased its mortgage lending principally due to attractive pricing combined with effective distribution and processing. This growth has been achieved while maintaining arrears levels at December 31, 2004, which were significantly below the U.K. industry average as shown in the following table:

Arrears[1]	Northern Rock	U.K. Industry Average[2]
	% of total mortgages
3-6 months	0.29	0.47
6-12 months	0.07	0.23
Over 12 months	0.01	0.10
Total	0.37	0.80

Notes:

(1) For additional information regarding historical arrears levels, see "Selected Statistical Information – Analysis of Residential Mortgage Loans in Arrears" below.

(2) Source: Council of Mortgage Lender's figures for the year ended December 31, 2004.

Northern Rock has adopted a low risk policy to mortgage lending and utilizes a sophisticated credit scorecard to assist in minimizing credit risk. Credit assessment takes into account, among other things, income multiples, loan to value criteria, credit history and the amount of the loan. As noted above, Northern Rock's policy is for all residential mortgage loans to be first charges on the mortgaged property, and Management closely monitors exposure limits based upon loan-to-value ratios, loan size, and geographic distribution within its residential mortgage loan portfolio. The combination of credit risk assessment, together with credit risk management, are reflected in mortgage arrears falling since 1994. For additional information regarding how the Group manages credit risk in connection with new lending, see "Financial Risk Management – Credit Risk". The Group's lending practices are consistent with other similar financial institutions operating in the United Kingdom. Such practices differ in certain respects from lending practices of similar institutions operating in the United States. See "Selected Statistical Data-Problem and Non-performing Loans and Advances-Differences in Lending and Accounting Practices" herein for additional information.

The proportion of Northern Rock's lending to first time buyers was 21% in 2004 compared with 23% in 2003 and 26% in 2002. Northern Rock also manages risk through monitoring LTVs. LTVs represent the percentage that a particular mortgage loan relates to the estimated value of the residential property securing such loan. In 2004 the average LTV of Northern Rock's new residential lending was 76% compared to 75% in 2003 and 2002. In 2004, lending in excess of 90% LTV was 22%, compared with 26% in 2003 and 23% in 2002. Northern Rock has almost no loans with an LTV ratio in excess of 95%. The trend of lower volumes of high LTV lending in 2004 and 2003, together with strong house price inflation in recent years, have resulted in the average indexed LTV of Northern Rock's residential mortgage lending portfolio falling to 53% as at December 31, 2004 from 55% as at December 31, 2003. Northern Rock also avoids large loans with only 3.5% of new lending above £500,000 in 2004.

In addition to new mortgage loans, Northern Rock offers further secured advances on existing mortgaged property to customers consistent with the lending criteria discussed above.

Commercial secured lending

Northern Rock engages in a limited amount of commercial secured lending. Commercial secured lending provides a diversification of assets and enhances interest margin for the Group. Northern Rock has a commercial loan portfolio which comprises two types of loans: loans secured on residential property and loans secured on non-residential property. Northern Rock also has securitized certain commercial loans that are secured on non-residential properties in connection with its securitization program. The amount outstanding in respect of these types of loans at December 31, 2004, was as follows:

Commercial Secured Loans	£ millions	% of adjusted total assets
Advances secured on residential property[1]	696	1.1
Advances secured on non-residential property	1,290	2.0
	1,986	3.1
Advances secured on non-residential property, subject to securitization	290	0.4
Total commercial secured loans	2,276	3.5

Note:

(1) For statutory reporting purposes, these advances are included within advances secured on residential property.

Commercial loans secured on residential property mainly consist of loans to individuals or corporates and residential investment property portfolios. In addition, there is a small historical element of social lending to organizations such as housing associations, also secured on residential property. Commercial loans secured on residential property attract the same regulatory risk weighting as advances to owner-occupiers secured on residential property if lending to an individual, or an increased regulatory risk weighting if lending to a corporate body.

Loans secured on non-residential property consist of more traditional types of commercial secured lending. Such loans represent loans to individuals or corporations to support investment in properties mainly for retail, office or industrial use. Loans secured on non-residential property have traditionally carried higher risk of default and accordingly carry a higher regulatory risk weighting than loans secured on residential property. As noted above, certain loans secured on non-residential property were securitized by Northern Rock during 2002.

Northern Rock closely monitors and controls the risks involved in commercial lending, specializing in lending to the investment property sector. The maximum LTV ratio for a commercial loan will depend on the quality of the borrower, tenants and assets. Close attention is also given to the borrower's ability to service the loan as well as the terms of underlying leases of tenants. In addition to individual loan underwriting criteria and management, Northern Rock has closely monitored portfolio exposure limits to control exposure to individual sectors, LTV, loan size and interest only periods.

Northern Rock's commercial loan portfolio continues to perform well with only eight loans (representing 0.3% of the total number of commercial loans) more than three months or more in arrears on December 31, 2004 as compared to 21 loans (representing 0.5% of the total number of commercial loans) more than three months or more in arrears at December 31, 2003.

Management intends to continue to grow its commercial secured loan portfolio cautiously during 2005 while maintaining the existing level of credit quality throughout the portfolio.

Personal unsecured lending

The Group also engages in personal unsecured lending and until May 30, 2003 engaged in a limited amount of credit card lending. For the year ended December 31, 2004, gross lending attributable to personal unsecured loans was £2,792 million (of which £710 million related to "together" unsecured loans, and £2,082 million to stand-alone personal unsecured loans), as compared to £1,694 million for 2003. Year-end balances of personal unsecured lending totalled £4,669 million at December 31, 2004 compared with £3,293 million at December 31, 2003. Personal unsecured lending is considered to be an area of potential profitable growth for Northern Rock, particularly for such lending made as part of the "together" product which is considered to be a lower risk product as supported by its arrears performance. On May 30, 2003, Northern Rock sold its credit card portfolio of approximately £217 million to The Co-operative Bank. As part of the agreement, Northern Rock offers credit cards issued by The Co-operative Bank to Northern Rock customers under the Northern Rock brand.

The Group out-sources the processing and administration of part of its personal unsecured loan portfolio to Ventura, a U.K. company and part of the Next Group plc, which receives an administration fee. Northern Rock underwrites, prices and funds the loans, earning premium rates of interest compared to residential mortgage lending. Additional fee income is generated from the relationship with the customer through the sale of payment protection insurance. The "together" unsecured loans are administered in-house.

Personal unsecured lending carries more risk than residential mortgage lending and accordingly carries a 100% risk weighting for purposes of determining the Group's regulatory capital requirements. Default risk on personal unsecured lending is greater because such lending is unsecured. In order to mitigate such risks, Northern Rock uses a sophisticated credit scorecard designed to evaluate the borrower's ability to repay the loan. In addition, Northern Rock imposes a maximum limit on the size of personal unsecured loans and encourages customers to take out payment protection insurance. See "Financial Risk Management – Credit Risk" below for additional information regarding how the Group addresses credit risk in connection with new lending. At the end of 2004, only 1.04% of unsecured personal loans were three months or more in arrears, and only 0.77% of "together" unsecured accounts were three months or more in arrears as compared with 1.0% and 0.8%, respectively, at the end of 2003.

Insurance

In conjunction with its core business of providing residential mortgage loans, the Group is also involved in general insurance distribution, life assurance distribution and the provision of mortgage indemnity insurance.

General insurance distribution

Northern Rock distributes a limited range of household building and contents and payment protection insurance products, primarily to its residential mortgage customers, through third party providers. Under arrangements with third party providers, Northern Rock receives a commission on policies sold, but does not take any underwriting risk from policies. Building and contents policies are provided through an exclusive arrangement with Axa Insurance, a member of the Axa Group of companies. The Group also distributes payment protection products for mortgage and unsecured lending customers underwritten by Legal and General Insurance Limited and Pinnacle Insurance plc respectively, for which the Group receives commissions.

Commissions from general insurance sales provide an important source of non-interest income for the Group. The Group's strategy in general insurance is to continue to act solely as a distributor of a range of flexible insurance products, maintaining its existing insurance customer book through an active retention strategy and improving its sales to new borrowers and other customers. Management believes that strong competition in the market, particularly from direct insurance providers, will continue. In confronting this competition, Northern Rock's relationships with its third party providers should enable it to retain product and pricing flexibility and participate in profits without underwriting risk.

Life assurance distribution

The Group has a close relationship with Legal & General, a leading U.K. life assurance provider. Northern Rock's residential mortgage customers are routinely referred to Legal & General for advice on life assurance products, including endowment products. Northern Rock receives a commission for introducing these customers to Legal & General. Northern Rock plans to continue to act as an introducer for Legal & General.

Other Activities

Personal banking

Northern Rock provides a limited range of money transmission facilities, including check guarantee and debit cards, to its current account customers. At December 31, 2004, the Group had approximately 152,000 current accounts with balances of £198 million. Northern Rock's customers also have access to approximately 19,000 automated teller machines ("ATMs") through the LINK network in the United Kingdom which allows Northern Rock customers to engage in limited money transmission transactions at certain financial institutions other than Northern Rock.

Mortgage indemnity guarantee insurance

Northern Rock Mortgage Indemnity Company Limited ("NORMIC") is the Group's captive insurance company based in Guernsey. Up to December 31, 2002 NORMIC provided mortgage indemnity guarantee insurance to Northern Rock in the event of losses being incurred following repossession of a property from a defaulting borrower. As from January 1, 2003 Northern Rock ceased purchasing mortgage indemnity guarantee insurance from NORMIC. Existing cover remains in force, although coverage for mortgage loans is cancelled in the event that a further advance is granted with respect to those mortgage loans.

Retail Funding

At December 31, 2004, Northern Rock had retail funding deposits of £17.2 billion, representing a market share of approximately 2.0% of U.K. retail savings balances, based upon Bank of England statistics. Net new retail funding in 2004 amounted to £896 million, including interest credited of £407 million. Retail funding represented 28.5% of total funding, including securitized bonds, of the Group at December 31, 2004. Northern Rock intends that loans and advances not subject to securitization will be funded in the medium term at least 50% by retail funding.

Northern Rock provides a wide range of retail savings products, including demand deposit accounts, notice accounts and short term fixed rate bonds. In addition, Northern Rock provides tax efficient accounts (ISAs) and tracker accounts on which interest rates are automatically linked to U.K. bank base rates, as set by the Monetary Policy Committee of the Bank of England from time to time. During 2004 net new funding was strongest in fixed rate bonds and in the new Silver Savings account which was launched in September 2004 and was specifically designed to offer access to postal or branch savings for customers over 50 years old. This account attracted balances of over £1,250 million by the year end. Fixed rate bonds also remained popular. For a discussion of how Northern Rock manages exposure to interest rate movements when there is a mismatch between interest rate sensitive assets (such as loans) and liabilities (such as retail deposits), see "Financial Risk Management – Mark Risk – Interest Rate Risk" and "– Interest Rate Sensitivity Cap" below.

Management believes that the primary determinant for attracting retail savings is the interest rate offered to savers. Accordingly, Northern Rock pursues a strategy of launching competitive products, utilizing its cost advantage. It gathers retail funds from a number of sources, namely its branch network, postal accounts, offshore accounts (administered in Guernsey and Ireland), telephone accounts gathered by its Save Direct division and internet-based deposit accounts.

The table below provides information regarding the various types of accounts through which the Group obtained retail funds as at December 31, 2004, 2003 and 2002:

	At December 31,
	2004	2003	2002
		(£ millions)
Branch accounts	3,051.3	2,437.2	2,175.5
Postal accounts	7,536.3	6,230.8	5,442.2
Offshore accounts	2,499.4	2,405.9	2,385.1
Telephone accounts	895.9	1,339.8	1,935.4
Internet accounts	2,503.4	2,891.4	2,214.7

Total retail balances	17,238.5	16,342.8	15,336.1

In response to consumer concerns over industry practices relating to the introduction of new savings products, Northern Rock operates a "Savings' Pledge": The Savings' Pledge is designed to ensure that Northern Rock's retail savings customers receive notifications and other important information significantly in excess of the industry standards and those required to comply with the U.K. Banking Code. The Savings' Pledge assures that Northern Rock's retail savings' customers are notified in writing every time Northern Rock makes a change to the interest rate on their accounts, launches a new savings product which is available to the majority of them, or changes the terms and conditions on their accounts. Any decreases in rates of interest paid will be introduced only after a period equivalent to any notice period on the account affected. Management believes that the Savings' Pledge gives Northern Rock a competitive advantage in the U.K. retail savings market.

The U.K. retail savings market has been subject to strong competition. During the late 1990s and 2000, new entrants such as insurance companies and certain retailers increased competition and since then competition has been maintained by the introduction of stand alone internet banks or brands. The effect of such competition has been an increase in the relative cost of retail funds and especially for new retail funds. Consequently, since 2003, Northern Rock has funded its asset growth primarily through the wholesale markets and securitization. Management expects this funding strategy to continue throughout 2005, utilising a combination of traditional wholesale and retail markets, augmented by asset securitisation and covered bonds

Treasury and Wholesale Funding

The Treasury department provides treasury services to the Group. It has three main objectives: (i) to manage the Group's liquidity and investments, (ii) to raise funds on the wholesale capital and money markets and (iii) to manage interest rate and currency risks. Total investment income from the Group's liquidity and investment activities amounted to £342.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2004, £256.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2003 and £240.1 million for 2002. Income from these activities accounted for 10.5% of total income for the year ended December 31, 2004, 10.95% of total income for 2003 and 12.0% of total income for 2002.

Northern Rock raises wholesale funds from a variety of sources, including time deposits, certificates of deposit, commercial paper and medium-term notes. Funding from wholesale markets and securitization, excluding subordinated liabilities, amounted to £43.2 billion at December 31, 2004, representing 71.5% of total funding (including securitized bonds).

Treasury aims to achieve a diversified source of wholesale funding both geographically and by categories of investors, as well as a range of maturities to prevent dependence on any particular funding sector. With regard to the geographical distribution of wholesale funding sources, a variety of programs are currently in place to raise both short-term and long-term funding globally, although principally in the U.S. and Euro capital markets. With regard to categories of investors, such programs currently can access both institutional and retail investors in the Euro and French commercial paper and Euro medium-term note market, as well as institutional investors in the commercial paper and medium-term note markets in the United States.

Since 1999, Northern Rock has been a major issuer of securitized bonds. Securitization involves the sale of residential mortgage loans by Northern Rock at par to special purpose securitization companies, which fund their purchase through the issuance of mortgage backed securities. Northern Rock also makes interest bearing subordinated loans to the special purpose companies, the repayments of which are subordinated to the claims of the holders of the mortgage-backed securities. Other than the subordinated loan and the provision of mortgage indemnity guarantee insurance via a subsidiary company, with respect to certain of the securitized mortgage loans originated before January 1, 2003 (see "– Other Activities – Mortgage Indemnity Guarantee Insurance"), Northern Rock does not guarantee any of the liabilities of the special purpose companies.

The securitized mortgage loans and the mortgage-backed securities are reported on the Group balance sheet using linked presentation under U.K. GAAP. Under linked presentation, only the net amount of the Group's interest in the securitized mortgage loans is consolidated, with the related gross amounts shown on the face of the balance sheet. Northern Rock continues to administer the securitized mortgage loans under an administration agreement but does not own directly or indirectly any of the share capital of the special purpose companies. The interest income on the securitized mortgages and the interest expense payable to the holders of the mortgage-backed securities is accounted for within the special purpose companies. This net interest income is reported within interest receivable in the Northern Rock Group Consolidated Financial Statements.

Securitization provides Northern Rock with an alternative source of funding which is also capital efficient. Management intends to continue to use securitization as a funding source during 2005 and beyond. Already, as of January 26, 2005, a further securitization of £4.5 billion of residential mortgages has been completed and on May 25, 2005 a further £4.0 billion was completed.

The Group invests in a wide range of liquid assets, including fixed deposits, certificates of deposits, gilts, floating rate notes and structured investments to meet regulatory requirements and agreed operational limits. The Group does not operate trading portfolios although income maximization is targeted and profits are taken when opportunities arise. At December 31, 2004, 96% of Treasury counterparty exposures were rated single A or better. There is no exposure to emerging markets or non-investment grade debt.

During 2004, Northern Rock established a €10 billion Global Covered Bond Programme. The inaugural issue of €2 billion covered bonds was followed in April 2005 by a further issue of €1.5 billion covered bonds. The covered bond is secured by a pool of ring-fenced mortgages which remain on-balance sheet as Northern Rock retains substantially all the risks and rewards associated with the loans.

Treasury provides risk management services to the Group and makes use of off-balance sheet instruments such as swaps, futures and options, which reduce the Group's exposure to changes in interest rates and currency rates. See "Financial Risk Management" below for further details of risk management.

Distribution Network

The Group operates a diversified, low cost distribution network. In addition to serving existing customers, this has enabled Northern Rock to grow its business while controlling costs. Northern Rock has centralized the administration of mortgages and savings products and increased the network's emphasis on sales. The distribution network is targeted to achieve volume growth principally in residential mortgage lending and insurance sales and to support the Group's retail funding objectives. Developments in the network have focused on cost efficiency and meeting the needs of customers who are increasingly prepared to transact business by mail, telephone or by e-commerce.

The distribution network for the Group's products consists of the following:

- branches;
- intermediaries;

- mortgage sales centers;
- telemarketing;
- postal retail funding;
- offshore retail funding;
- regional commercial lending centers; and
- the internet.

Branches

Traditionally branches were a major source of mortgage lending and retail funding for retail banks. Northern Rock has achieved volume growth and geographical spread in its core markets through alternative and more cost efficient distribution means which have resulted in a reduction in its branch network, which is located mainly in the North of England.

All branches sell Northern Rock's core residential mortgage and retail savings products (excluding postal and telemarketing products), personal lending and third party insurance. Branches concentrate on customer service and selling new business and perform little mortgage processing, which has been centralized. There were 56 branches open at the end of 2004.

Northern Rock opened three new mortgage centers in major U.K. cities in 2004. In addition a further seven are planned in 2005 and 2006. These outlets will enhance mortgage and personal lending distribution but will not provide retail deposit facilities.

Intermediaries

Distribution through intermediaries accounted for approximately 89% of new mortgage lending in 2004 as compared with 87% of new mortgage lending in 2003 and 76% in 2002. Distribution through intermediaries allows Northern Rock to achieve national distribution coverage. Such intermediaries range from large U.K. insurance companies to small independent mortgage advisors, which operate within "groups" or independently. Intermediaries are supported locally by business development sales teams. Depending on the arrangements in place between Northern Rock and a particular intermediary, intermediaries are compensated for introducing the mortgage business in line with general market practice. Management expects that strong relationships with intermediaries will continue to be an important element of Northern Rock's distribution strategy.

The processing of intermediary introduced business is routed through an automated Decision Call Center and associated processing center providing flexibility and capacity. The Center gives loan application decisions via the telephone or internet and provides the introducer with pre-populated application forms (i.e., forms are completed or partially completed by Northern Rock based upon information provided over the telephone or internet for verification by the customer). The Decision Call Center technology has also been implemented for all direct customers.

Northern Rock currently has 13 mortgage sales centers, mainly located in areas where Northern Rock does not have branches, including Central England and the South of England. Mortgage sales centers have been important in helping to establish a national lending base. Such centers are situated in low cost premises away from expensive town center locations, and are to be supplemented during 2005 and 2006 by the seven new mortgage branches discussed above.

Telemarketing

Telemarketing plays an increasingly important role in generating retail funding and new residential mortgage lending.

Northern Rock Direct is a telephone-based direct marketing and selling operation. It sells mortgages and associated third party insurance products or creates leads for branches or mortgage sales centers through telephone contact with customers initiated by advertising and inclusion of products in "best buy" tables featured in most national and regional newspapers. Northern Rock also operates a stand-alone mortgage retention unit which is increasingly important in retaining existing customers.

Postal retail funding

On-shore postal-based savings accounts were introduced by Northern Rock in 1992. Since the latter part of 1998, as UK interest rates began to fall, fixed rate postal bonds having maturities of one year or more have been marketed. These bonds have proven to be popular with balances of £7.5 billion at December 31, 2004.

Offshore retail funding

Offshore postal, telephone and internet accounts, offered through Northern Rock (Guernsey) Limited, are aimed at attracting large value retail deposits. Northern Rock Ireland, a branch of Northern Rock based in Dublin, offers postal, telephone and internet accounts in the Irish market. At December 31, 2004, offshore balances amounted to £2.5 billion, with accounts offered in pounds sterling, U.S. dollars and euro.

Regional commercial lending centers

Northern Rock operates a network of eight specialized regional commercial lending centers located in areas where Northern Rock has identified a demand for commercial loan finance.

Internet-based distribution

Northern Rock has adopted e-commerce as an integral part of the Group's distribution strategy and has not developed a stand-alone, separately branded internet bank.

The Northern Rock website provides current and potential customers, and intermediaries, with round-the-clock access to the Group's full range of mortgages, savings accounts, loans and other products. Separate sites are operated for offshore products offered by Northern Rock (Guernsey) Limited and Northern Rock Ireland.

In addition to providing the latest mortgage and savings rates, the website permits visitors to, among other things, apply on-line for a personal unsecured loan, submit a full mortgage application, complete a mortgage pre-qualification form, calculate repayments on mortgage products, save on-line and locate the nearest branch. Within the website, a dedicated area has been established to provide mortgage intermediaries with product information and obtain on-line decisions, submit applications and track their progress through to completion.

During 2004, an internet based savings account which moves in line with U.K. bank base rates continued to be popular. At the end of 2004, balances in this account amounted to £2.5 billion.

Lending business generated via the internet during 2004 amounted to loan applications of approximately £5.5 billion, with approximately 22% of such applications related to unsecured loans and 78% related to mortgages. These volumes represented approximately 23% of all mortgage applications and 58% of unsecured loan applications.

Further development of internet activities will be focused on functions that are likely to generate significant levels of customer and intermediary demand, as well as cost effectiveness, while at the same time providing a secure and resilient environment for on-line users.

Capital Expenditures and Divestitures

Northern Rock, consistent with its core business of U.K. residential mortgage lending, has not undertaken significant capital expenditures (other than for head office expansion) or divestitures over the prior three year period. A summary of capital expenditures is set out in the following table.

	2004	2003	2002
		(£ millions)
Land & Buildings	28.7	13.8	26.1
Plant, equipment, fixtures, fittings & vehicles	31.7	29.8	25.0
Total	60.4	43.6	51.1

85% of expenditure in 2004 shown as "plant, equipment, fixtures, fittings & vehicles" relates to investment in computer systems, hardware and related technology.

Northern Rock is expanding its main head office building in the North East of England. The total property costs associated with such building amounted to £56.8 million over the three years, ended December 31, 2004.

Capital divestitures over the prior three year periods are set out in the following table.

	2004	2003	2002
		(£ millions)
Land & Buildings	4.2	0.2	3.2
Plant, equipment, fixtures, fittings & vehicles	1.5	1.0	3.1
Total	5.7	1.2	6.3

Northern Rock does not currently have any material capital divestitures in progress. See Note [21] to the Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere herein for additional information regarding Northern Rock's tangible fixed assets as at December 31, 2004.

The Northern Rock Foundation

In connection with the conversion of Northern Rock to a public limited company on October 1, 1997, The Northern Rock Foundation was established as an independent charitable company limited by guarantee in England and Wales. The establishment of The Northern Rock Foundation was intended to express Northern Rock's commitment to its mutual history and to the region from which its business has drawn much of its strength. The Northern Rock Foundation has as its primary objective helping to improve the conditions of people disadvantaged by age, infirmity, poverty or other circumstances. Pursuant to a deed of covenant entered into by Northern Rock, The Northern Rock Foundation is entitled to receive 5% of Northern Rock's annual consolidated profit before tax. The Northern Rock Foundation has received non-voting and non-dividend paying Foundation Shares which would convert into just under 15% of the ordinary share capital of Northern Rock only in certain circumstances, principally involving a change in control of Northern Rock, in which event the deed of covenant would terminate.

The average number of persons employed by Northern Rock and its subsidiaries during the last three years is set forth below:

Note:

(1) Long-Term Leaseholds generally consist of leaseholds in excess of 50 years unexpired.

Legal Proceedings

Northern Rock and its subsidiaries are party to various legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business, the ultimate resolutions of which are not expected to have a material adverse effect on the business, financial position or results of operations of the Group.

Enforcement of Civil Liabilities

Northern Rock is a public limited company incorporated and registered in England and Wales. All of its directors and executive officers are non-residents of the United States. All or a substantial portion of the assets of such non-resident persons and of Northern Rock are located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process within the United States upon such persons or Northern Rock or to enforce them against them in United States courts' judgments obtained in such courts predicated upon civil liability provisions of the federal securities laws of the United States. Northern Rock has been advised by its U.K. counsel that there is doubt as to the enforceability in the United Kingdom, in original actions or in actions for the enforcement of judgments of U.S. courts, of civil liabilities predicated solely upon the federal securities laws of the United States.

The following discussion is based on the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group included elsewhere in this Offering Circular. This section contains forward-looking statements that involve inherent risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ materially from those contained in such forward-looking statements. See "Forward-Looking Statements" above. Adjusted GAAP figures utilized in certain tables in this section and elsewhere in this Offering Circular reflect the non-recurring nature of certain items to aid compatibility between years.

Critical Accounting Estimates

Critical accounting estimates are defined as those accounting policies that require management's most difficult, subjective or complex judgements, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain.

Management believes that of its critical accounting estimates (see Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements), the following represent the Group's critical estimates.

Provisions for Bad and Doubtful Debts

The provision for bad and doubtful debts is established to reserve for estimated losses in the loan portfolio. The provisions are significant estimates and involve judgements at several levels. Judgement is involved in identifying loans that are at an early stage of deterioration. Judgement is also involved in deriving loss factors, in determining how many years' data to include in estimating loss severity and in determining whether this data covers a full credit cycle, if such data does not, this could lead to inaccuracies. Similarly, management must assess which available external data best reflects its own specific loan portfolios and which should therefore be used in its loss estimates. The factors considered include the nature of the loan portfolio, the trends in actual and expected credit quality, including arrears, losses and bankruptcy rates and current economic conditions that may affect borrowers ability to repay. The use of different estimates or assumptions could produce different provisions for bad and doubtful debts.

Northern Rock's accounting policy for provisions for bad and doubtful debts on customer loans is described in Note 1 to the financial statements included on pages F-1 to F-87.

Specific provisions

Specific provisions are established either on a case-by-case basis or on a portfolio basis, depending on the nature of the asset. Where specific provisions are established on a case-by-case basis, the most important factors are (i) the amount and timing of cashflows forecast to be received from the borrower, and (ii) the enforceability and amount which may be recovered through the sale of any security held.

In many cases, the determination of these factors will be judgmental, either because the security may not be readily marketable or the cashflows will require an assessment of the customer's future performance. Northern Rock's practice is to make a conservative estimate of these factors and to review and update them on a regular basis.

This basis of determining provisions is applied to residential mortgages more than 180 days delinquent.

Northern Rock has no individual loans for which specific bad and doubtful debt provision have been established on a case-by-case basis where changes in the underlying factors could cause a material change to the Group's reported results.

Where specific provisions are raised on a portfolio basis, the most important factors are (i) loss rate set for each delinquency category (ii) roll rates where determined for specific portfolios, and (iii) the period embedded in the loss rate and roll rate calculations which is designed to reflect only losses inherent at the reporting date and not future losses.

The factor most susceptible to variability in management judgement is the period used in the loss rate and roll rate calculations. This factor is kept under continuous review based on the incidence of losses experienced.

The portfolio basis is applied to residential mortgages overdue but less than 180 days overdue, and unsecured consumer lending products.

General provisions

General provisions augment specific provisions and provide cover for loans which are impaired at the balance sheet date but which will not be identified as such until some time in the future.

The most important factors in determining general loan loss provisions are (i) historical loss rates for each separately identified portfolio (ii) determination of the period between losses occurring and establishment of a specific provision for this loss, and (iii) management's judgement of the extent to which current economic and credit conditions are such that the actual level of inherent losses is greater or less than that suggested by historical experience.

The main areas of judgement are in determining the period and assessing current economic conditions. These are kept under continuous review based on an analysis of economic forecasts, industry sector performance, insolvency and bankruptcy statistics together with details of the rate and nature of losses experienced.

Significant Accounting Policies

Fair Values

Within Northern Rock's published financial statements prepared under U.K. GAAP, there is no use of fair values except for the determination of goodwill arising on acquisitions and for memorandum disclosures within certain footnotes. Within the additional financial information presented in this Offering Circular, fair values are used in preparing the reconciliation of the income statement and balance sheet from U.K. GAAP to U.S. GAAP and within the additional disclosures required under U.S. GAAP.

Fair value is defined as the value at which positions could be closed out or sold in a transaction with a willing and knowledgeable counterparty. For the majority of assets carried at fair value, these are determined by reference to quoted market prices. Where these are not available, fair value is based upon cash flow models, which use wherever possible independently sourced market parameters such as interest rate yield curves, currency rates and option volatilities. Other factors are also considered, such as counterparty credit quality and liquidity. Management must use judgement and estimates where not all necessary data can be externally sourced or where factors specific to Northern Rock's holdings need to be considered. The accuracy of the fair value calculations would therefore be affected by unexpected market movements, inaccuracies within the models used and incorrect assumptions.

Accounting for Securitized Loans

Securitization is a process whereby an entity issues certain securities to investors, with the returns on the securities financed from the principal and interest cash flows from a pool of loans or other fixed assets. Northern Rock securitizes residential and commercial mortgage loans through a series of special purpose vehicles set up for this purpose. After securitization, which involves the equitable assignment of ownership rights of the loans to the special purpose vehicle, Northern Rock retains the account relationship with the customer by continuing to service the loans. As a result, it continues to regard these securitized assets as part of the business it manages.

Under U.K. GAAP, certain key accounting determinations are required in relation to securitization. Northern Rock needs to evaluate the levels of risks and rewards retained after securitization of a pool of assets, to determine whether the assets should remain on balance sheet, should be fully de-recognized or should be treated under a linked presentation as set out in Financial Reporting Standard 5, 'Reporting the Substance of Transaction' ('FRS 5'). A linked presentation should be used where the originator retains access to the benefits flowing from the assets but has a clearly defined limitation on the losses which it may incur. Northern Rock's securitizations meet the criteria laid down for linked presentation, as it retains the rights to all future profits from securitized assets, but its risk is limited to the amount of credit enhancement supplied to the vehicles.

Under U.S. GAAP, the key accounting determination required is whether the transfers should be treated as sales under the terms of SFAS 140. Because full legal title has not been transferred, Northern Rock cannot recognize the transfers as sales, and therefore all assets remain on its balance sheet.

Change in accounting for ESOP Trusts

Following the publication of UITF 38 – "Accounting for ESOP Trusts", holdings of Ordinary Shares in Northern Rock plc owned by Northern Rock's employee share ownership trusts are now shown as a deduction from shareholders' funds. Previously, they were shown as part of other assets on the balance sheet. Purchases and sales of Northern Rock plc Ordinary Shares are now accounted for as movements in shareholders' funds and no gains or losses are reflected in the profit and loss account. UITF 38 also amends UITF 17 – "Employee Share Schemes" to reflect the consequences for the profit and loss account of the changes in the presentation of an entity's own shares held by an ESOP trust. The charge to the profit and loss account in respect of shares and share options granted to employees that are expected to be met from shares held by employee share trusts is now based on the difference between the value on the date of grant and the exercise price. Previously, where shares were purchased to meet these obligation, the charge was based on the carrying value of the shares.

The effects of this change in accounting policy, which has been accounted for as a prior year adjustment, on the results for 2004, 2003 and 2002 are as follows;

	2004	2003	2002
		(£ millions)
Reduction in shareholders' funds – beginning of year	(48.0)	(44.5)	(26.2)
Movement in relation to own shares	5.8	(3.3)	(17.5)
Increase in staff costs during year	(0.1)	(0.2)	(0.8)
Reduction in shareholders' funds – end of year	(42.3)	(48.0)	(44.5)

Results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2004, compared with the year ended December 31, 2003.

Overview

The Group reported profit on ordinary activities before tax for the year ended December 31, 2004 of £431.2 million as compared with a restated £386.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2003, an increase of 11.5%. Profit on ordinary activities after tax for the year ended December 31, 2004 increased to £306.2 million from a restated £274.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2003 an increase of 11.6%.

Net interest margin decreased to 0.82% for the year ended December 31, 2004 from 0.97% in the previous year, determined as described below. Similarly, net interest spread fell 17 basis points to 0.73%. This decline was more than offset by the growth in average interest earning assets (including securitized loans), resulting in a 3.6% increase in net interest income, including net interest income attributable to loans subject to securitization. Cost ratios increased to 30.4% in 2004 from a restated 30.3% and the cost/adjusted total asset ratio improved to 0.38% from a restated 0.41% in 2003.

Return on equity for the year ended December 31, 2004 decreased to 21.3% compared with a restated 21.9% in 2003. The return on average total assets decreased by two basis points to 0.77% in 2004.

Lending

During 2004 Northern Rock achieved record levels of total lending. Total gross lending for 2004 was £23,342 million, an increase of 34.8%, as compared with £12,932 million for 2003, with total net lending for 2004 of £12,932 million, an increase of 51.9% over the £8,514 million for 2003.

The U.K. residential lending market was particularly buoyant during the first half of 2004 with levels of both gross and net lending exceeding the equivalent period in 2003. In the second half of 2004, both gross and net lending and net awards slowed, following the effect of five one quarter per cent increases in bank base rate since November 2003. By the end of 2004, annual house price inflation was at similar levels in 2003 although the second half of the year showed limited growth, providing clear evidence that house price inflation has slowed.

Northern Rock achieved gross residential lending in 2004 of £20,051 million compared with £15,212 million in 2003 and net residential lending of £11,383 million compared with £7,861 million in 2003, representing increases of 31.8% and 44.8% respectively. Northern Rock's market share of gross residential lending was 6.8% and its market share of net residential lending was 11.2%. Northern Rock's share of redemptions was 4.5%, significantly lower than the closing share of mortgage stock of 5.5%. This was due to Northern Rock's customer retention process and its fair and transparent policy of allowing existing customers, subject to contractual terms, to transfer their loan to any product available to new borrowers.

The "together" range of products, which combines a secured and unsecured loan at one interest rate and one monthly payment, remained popular. Gross lending of "together" products for 2004 amounted to £4.5 billion, of which £3.8 billion were advances secured on residential property representing 20.7% of new residential lending, excluding further advances. Outstanding balances of "together" mortgages remained around one fifth of the mortgage portfolio throughout 2004.

Residential Buy to Let lending focuses on lending to private investors secured on good quality residential properties with low LTVs. Such lending accounted for 4.0% of the year end mortgage portfolio, compared to 2.4% in 2003, and for 6.4% of gross new residential lending in 2004 compared to 1.7% in 2003.

Lifetime, aimed at homeowners aged over 60 who wish to utilize equity in their homes to enhance their lifestyle, accounted for 1.8% of new gross new residential lending in 2003, compared to 3.4% in 2004. In total the lifestyle products, which are margin enhancing, represented around 28.9% of gross new residential lending and 25.3% of year end mortgage balances compared to 25.4% in 2003.

Of the traditional price-led mortgage products, fixed-rate mortgages remained the most popular in 2004, with 46.4% of Northern Rock's new lending in short term fixed products of up to two years, and 7.5% of new lending in longer term fixed products, up to seven years. This demand reflected customers' preferences to obtain certainty of monthly repayments during a period of rising interest rates.

Northern Rock continued to grow its commercial lending portfolio gradually, maintaining its emphasis on quality rather than volume lending. Gross lending in 2004 amounted to £499 million compared to £409 million in 2003, with net lending amounting to £182 million compared to £84 million in 2003.

Northern Rock's unsecured credit portfolios comprise the unsecured element of "together" lending and standalone unsecured loans not linked to a residential mortgage. During 2004 gross unsecured lending amounted to £2,792 million compared to £1,694 million in 2003, with net lending of £1,367 million compared to £569 million in 2003. Gross standalone unsecured lending amounted to £2,068 million compared to £1,130 million in 2003, with net lending of £1,104 million in 2004 compared to £417 million in 2003. The increase in standalone unsecured lending over 2003 reflected the deliberate containment of such lending in the first half of 2003 with a return to the market in the second half of that year. At December 31, 2004, unsecured lending balances amounted to £4,669 million compared to £3,293 million as at December 31, 2003, of which 40.3% represented "together" unsecured advances in 2004 and 48.7% in 2003.

Retail Funding

Total retail deposit balances for 2004 increased by £896 million to £17.2 billion, an increase of 5.5% from £16.3 billion at December 31, 2003. This increase comprised a net inflow of retail funds for 2004 of £489 million plus interest credited of £407 million.

The funding during the year was largely into Northern Rock's Silver Savings account launched in September 2004 for the over-50s which had attracted balances of over £1,250 million by the year end. Balances in the Ireland-based operation increased to £628 million, with £1,871 million in the Guernsey based off-shore vehicle; at December 31, 2003 these balances were £531 million and £1,875 million respectively.

Non-Retail Funding

Total net non-retail funding for 2004 amounted to £2,770 million with balances at December 31, 2004 amounting to £19.7 billion compared with £17.0 billion at December 31, 2003. Northern Rock's non-retail funding provides a balanced mixture of short and medium-term funding with increasing diversification of the global investor base.

During 2004, Northern Rock raised £3.4 billion medium-term wholesale funds from a variety of sources located globally, with specific emphasis on the US and Europe. A major feature was the increased utilisation of the US Medium Term Note program from which Northern Rock raised US$3.7 billion in both senior and subordinated form.

Key developments for short term funding included the establishment of a €2.0 billion French Certificate of Deposit program which provides access to domestic French investors. This program had outstanding balances of €1.1 billion at the year end.

Securitization

Funding through securitization has remained an integral part of Northern Rock's funding strategy. During 2004, Northern Rock completed three issues raising £11.1 billion. Diversification of Northern Rock's investor base has continued with over 70% of the securitized bonds in 2004 issued in US dollars or euros. The characteristics of the mortgages securitized, in terms of product type, LTV and geographic distribution remain similar to those of Northern Rock's on-balance sheet mortgages.

At December 31, 2004 assets under management subject to securitization amounted to £22.3 billion compared with £15.7 billion at December 31, 2003, representing 40% and 36% respectively of the Northern Rock's total lending portfolios.

Northern Rock has already completed two further securitizations of residential mortgages in 2005 raising £8.5 billion.

Net Interest Income

The following description of interest receivable, interest expense and net interest income includes amounts relating to assets subject to securitization as these assets are managed within the business in the same way as non-securitized assets. The analysis is therefore intended to provide a more meaningful description of the factors affecting the income flows derived from Northern Rock's lending and funding activities.

Interest receivable for the year ended December 31, 2004 increased to £2,989.4 million from £2,153.8 million in 2003, an increase of 38.8%. The increase reflects a 22.9% increase in average interest earning assets from £46,435.1 million in 2003 to £57,071.3 million in 2004, and an increase in the average interest rate earned on such assets of 0.6% to 5.24% in 2004 compared with 4.64% in 2003, an increase of 12.9%

The average rate earned on wholesale debt and money market instruments, which are primarily LIBOR denominated assets, increased from 3.50% in 2003 to 4.25% in 2004, an increase of 0.75% compared with an increase in the average 3 month LIBOR rate of 0.91%. This increase primarily relates to the increase in the 3-month LIBOR during the year. The average rate earned on loans and advances to customers including assets subject to securitization increased to 5.41% from 4.87% in 2003, an increase of 0.54% compared with an increase in the average U.K. bank base rate of 0.69%.

Interest expense increased to £2,522.5 million in 2004 from £1,703.1 million in 2003, an increase of 48.1%. This reflects an increase in average interest bearing liabilities of 22.8% and an increase in the average interest rate paid of 0.77% from 3.74% in 2003 to 4.51% in 2004. The growth in average interest bearing liabilities was £10,386.6 million, of which £6,365.8 million related to securitized notes, £729.5 million related to retail customer accounts and £3,291.3 million related to wholesale funded liabilities.

The increase in average interest rate paid amounts to 0.77% compared with the increase in the average U.K. bank base rate of 0.69% and an increase in the average three month LIBOR rate of 0.91%.

The average rate paid on retail customer accounts increased by 0.64%, broadly in line with the increase in the average U.K. bank base rate. Wholesale funding incurred an average rate of 4.23% in 2004, an increase of 0.79% compared with 3.44% in 2003. This increase is less than the increase in the average three month LIBOR rate of 0.91%, reflecting the re-pricing of Northern Rock's funding as LIBOR rates increased during the year. Interest payable on securitized liabilities increased from an average rate of 4.03% in 2003 to 4.84% in 2004, an increase of 0.81%, primarily reflecting the higher rates on new issues in 2004 and the re-pricing of notes as LIBOR rates increased during 2004.

Net interest income for the year ended December 31, 2004, was £466.9 million, an increase of 3.6% compared with £450.7 million in 2003. The increase in net interest income reflects the growth in average interest earning assets, outweighing the effects of the decrease in net interest margin from 0.97% to 0.82%.

The following table presents information regarding interest income (as a percentage of average interest earning assets) and interest expense (as a percentage of average interest bearing liabilities), net interest spread, net interest margin and U.K. general interest rates for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003. The figures contained in the table are calculated from the Average Balance Sheets and Interest Rates presented under "Selected Statistical Information-Average Balance Sheet-Asset under Management".

	For the year ended December 31,
	2004	2003
Interest income as a percentage of average interest earning assets	5.24%	4.64%
Interest expense as a percentage of average interest bearing liabilities	4.51%	3.74%
Net interest spread[1]	0.73%	0.90%
Net interest margin[2]	0.82%	0.97%
Average U.K. bank base rate	4.38%	3.69%

Notes:

(1) Net interest spread represents the difference between the gross yield (including securitization interest receivable) and the interest expense (including securitization interest payable) as a percentage of average interest bearing liabilities. For the purpose of calculating net interest spread, gross yield represents interest income as a percentage of average interest earning assets, including securitized loans.

(2) Net interest margin represents net interest income (including securitization interest receivable and payable) as a percentage of average interest earning assets, including securitized loans.

Non-Interest Income

The table below contains details of the items included in non-interest income for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003.

	For the year ended December 31,
	2004	2003

Non-interest income increased by 26.3% from £209.0 million in the year ended December 31, 2003 to £264.0 million in 2004.

Commission income represents commission earned on the sale of third-party insurance and payment protection products to new customers. This source of revenue remained relatively static year-on-year due to reduced sales penetration of new customers and continued high levels of cancellations, both reflecting the benign economic conditions in the U.K. Fees (net of service charges) increased by 43.8%, driven by volumes of new lending. Northern Rock's credit card portfolio was sold in May 2003 realizing a gain of £7.3 million. The growth in Others and subsidiaries reflects a higher contribution from Northern Rock's captive mortgage indemnity insurance company and higher income generated in Northern Rock's securitization vehicles.

Operating Expenses[1]

The table below shows operating expense data for Northern Rock based upon Northern Rock's consolidated results of operations for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003.

(3) Staff costs have been restated to reflect the adoption of UITF 38 – Accounting for ESOP Trusts

Total operating expenses (excluding the covenant to The Northern Rock Foundation and amortization of goodwill) grew to £222.5 million in 2004 from £200.1 million in 2003. (excluding the £7.3 million surplus on the sale of the credit card portfolio) of 12.0% over the same period. Included in 2004 operating expenses are £3.6 million incremental costs in relation to increased regulatory requirements.

The increase in staff costs reflects a 13.2% increase in staff numbers in response to increased business volumes, salary increases and profit related bonuses. Other expenses increased due to business volumes and depreciation increased primarily due to amortization of head office development costs.

The covenant to The Northern Rock Foundation amounted to £21.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2004, representing 5% of Northern Rock's profit before tax for the year.

Goodwill arising on the acquisition of the banking subsidiaries of Legal & General in 2002 amounted to £35.8 million and is being amortized over a period of 10 years from the date of acquisition, resulting in a charge in 2004 of £3.6 million (2003 – £3.6 million).

Using total operating expenses (see above) and total income (£730.9 million per the profit and loss account), the cost/income ratio increased to 30.4% in 2004 compared with 30.3% in 2003. Using total operating expenses (see above) and adjusted total assets (mean total assets adjusted to include securitized assets), the cost/adjusted total assets ratio improved from 0.43% in 2003 to 0.38% in 2004. Based upon total recurring expenses (see above) and total underlying income (representing £652.4 million, excluding the £7.3 million surplus on the sale of the credit card portfolio for 2003), the cost/income ratio was 30.4% in 2004 (2003 – 29.8%) and the cost/adjusted total assets ratio was 0.38% in 2004 (2003 – 0.41%).

Overview

As noted above, the 2003 and 2002 results have been restated for the change in accounting treatment for Northern Rock's employee trusts following the introduction of UITF 38 – "Accounting for ESOP Trusts". The financial information and ratios below reflect this change in accounting treatment.

The Group reported a restated profit on ordinary activities before tax for the year ended December 31, 2003 of £386.6 million as compared to £325.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2002. Profit on ordinary activities after tax increased to a restated £274.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2003, from a restated £228.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2002, an increase of 19.9%.

Cost ratios continued to improve with the underlying cost/income ratio reducing to 30.3% in 2003 from 30.7% and the cost/adjusted total asset ratio improving to 0.43% from 0.47% in 2002.

Net Interest Income

The table below sets forth information regarding net interest income for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, including interest attributable to securitized loans and after adjustment for the change in accounting treatment of RCIs in 2001.

	For the year ended December 31.
	2003	2002
	(£ millions)
Interest receivable:
Interest receivable and similar income arising from debt securities	159.1	164.0

Securitization interest payable	538.3	323.7
Total interest payable	1,703.1	1,440.9

The following description of interest receivable, interest expense and net interest income includes amounts relating to securitized assets as the securitized assets are managed within the business in the same way as non-securitized assets. The analysis therefore is intended to provide a more meaningful description of the factors affecting the income flows derived from the Group's lending and funding activities.

Interest receivable for the year ended December 31, 2003 increased to £2,153.8 million from £1,832.1 million in 2002, an increase of 17.6%. The increase reflects a 28.9% increase in average interest earning assets from £36,035.5 million in 2002 to £46,435.1 million in 2003, offset by a fall in the average interest rate earned in such assets of 8.7%, to 4.64% in 2003 compared with 5.08% in 2002, a reduction of 0.44%.

The average rate earned on wholesale debt and money market instruments which are primarily LIBOR denominated assets fell from 4.13% in 2002 to 3.50% in 2003, a reduction of 0.63% compared with a reduction in average 3 month LIBOR rate of 0.33%. This reduction primarily relates to higher levels of liquidity with funds invested over shorter maturity periods than in the previous year. The average rate earned on loans and advances to customers including assets subject to securitization fell to 4.87% from 5.28% in 2002, a reduction of 0.41% compared with a reduction in the average UK bank base rate of 0.31%, the lower proportion of unsecured and commercial lending compared with 2002 and the sale of the credit card portfolio in May 2003.

Interest expense increased to £1,703.1 million in 2003 from £1,440.9 million in 2002, an increase of 18.2%. This reflects an increase in average interest bearing liabilities of 29.4% offset by a reduction in the average interest rate paid of 8.6% from 4.09% in 2002 to 3.74% in 2003. The growth in average interest bearing liabilities was £10,363.0 million, of which £6,095.9 million related to securitized notes, £1,081.3 million related to retail customer accounts and £3,185.8 related to wholesale funded liabilities.

The fall in average interest rate paid amounts to 0.35% compared broadly in line with the fall in the average UK bank base rate of 0.31% and a fall in the average 3 month LIBOR rate of 0.33%.

The average rate paid on retail customer accounts fell by 0.38% broadly in line with the reduction in the average UK bank base rate. Wholesale funding incurred an average rate of 3.44% in 2003, a reduction of 0.41% compared with 3.85% in 2002. This reduction is greater than the reduction in the average 3 month LIBOR rate of 0.33% reflecting the re-pricing of Northern Rock's funding as LIBOR rates fell during the first 8 months of 2003. Interest payable on securitized liabilities fell from an average rate of 4.47% in 2002 to 4.03% in 2003, a reduction of 0.44% primarily reflecting the lower rates achieved on new issues in 2003 and the re-pricing of notes as LIBOR rates fell during the first 8 months of 2003.

Net interest income for the year ended December 31, 2003, was £450.7 million, an increase of 15.2% compared with £392.1 million in 2002. The increase in net interest income reflects the growth in average interest earning assets outweighing the effects of the decrease in net interest margin from 1.09% to 0.97%.

The following table presents information regarding interest income (as a percentage of average interest earning assets) and interest expense (as a percentage of average interest bearing liabilities), net interest spread, net interest margin and U.K. general interest rates for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002. The figures contained in the table are calculated from the Average Balance Sheets and Interest Rates presented under "Selected Statistical Information-Average Balance Sheet-Asset under Management" below.

Notes:

(1) Net interest spread represents the difference between the gross yield (including securitization interest receivable) and the interest expense (including securitization interest payable) as a percentage of average interest bearing liabilities. For the purpose of calculating net interest spread, gross yield represents interest income as a percentage of average interest earning assets, including securitized loans.

(2) Net interest margin represents net interest income (including securitization interest receivable and payable) as a percentage of average interest earning assets, including securitized loans.

The growth in Others and subsidiaries reflects a higher contribution from the Group's captive mortgage indemnity insurance company and higher income generated in Northern Rock's securitization vehicles.

Using total operating expenses (see above) and total income (as per the profit and loss statement), the cost/income ratio improved to 30.3% in 2003 compared with 30.3% in 2002. Using total operating expenses (see above) and adjusted total assets (mean total assets adjusted to include securitized assets), the cost/adjusted total assets ratio improved to 0.47% from 0.53%. Based upon total recurring expenses (see above), the cost/ income ratio was 29.8% and the cost/adjusted total assets ratio was 0.47% in 2002. Improvements in these ratios reflect improvements in the cost efficiency of Northern Rock's operations.

The increase in staff costs reflects a 14.1% increase in staff numbers in response to increased business volumes, salary increases and profit related bonuses. Other expenses increased due to business volumes and depreciation increased due to amortization of head office development costs.

The covenant to The Northern Rock Foundation amounted to £19.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2003 representing 5% of the Group's profit before tax for the year.

Goodwill arising on the acquisition of the banking subsidiaries of Legal & General in 2002 amounted to £35.8 million and is being amortized over a period of 10 years from the date of acquisition, resulting in a charge in 2003 of £3.6 million (2002 – £1.5 million).

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Financial Services Authority ("FSA") requires the Group to be able to meet its sterling obligations without recourse to the wholesale money markets for a period of at least five business days, and Northern Rock manages its cashflow on a daily basis in order to meet this requirement. The Board has approved a Liquidity Policy Statement which is compliant with the supervisory framework set by the FSA and ensures that the Group is able to meet retail deposit withdrawals, repayments of wholesale borrowing and current lending objectives. For a description of the Liquidity Policy Statement and how the Group manages liquidity risk, see "Financial Risk Management – Liquidity Risk" herein.

Capital adequacy and capital resources are monitored by the Group on the basis of techniques developed by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision ("Basel Committee") as adopted in the European Union pursuant to the Banking Consolidation Directive ("BCD") and the Capital Adequacy Directive ("CAD") and as implemented in the United Kingdom by the FSA. The basic instrument of capital monitoring is the risk asset ratio as developed by the Basel Committee. This ratio derives from a consideration of capital as a cover for the credit risk inherent in Group assets. The Basel Committee sets a minimum risk asset ratio for international banks of 8%. The FSA sets minimum risk asset ratios on an individual basis for the banks it supervises. These are set with regard to the minimum standards set by the Basel Committee and the particular circumstances of each bank.

Capital is defined by reference to the BCD, and divided into "Tier 1" capital, "Tier 2" capital and "Tier 3" capital. Tier 1 capital consists of ordinary and preference shareholders' funds after deducting goodwill. Tier 2 capital includes general provisions and certain debt capital instruments, particularly dated and undated subordinated debt. Tier 3 (or ancillary) capital consists of short-term subordinated debt and minority interests in Tier 3 capital. The BCD and the CAD are likely to be amended as a result of the EU's planned adoption of the proposed New Basel Capital Accord. See "Supervision and Regulation – New Basel Capital Accord" herein.

Although management believes that Northern Rock could operate with a lower level of Tier 1 capital, it has maintained Tier 1 and total capital ratios above the minimum standards for Northern Rock, as set by the FSA, in order to maintain the continued confidence of investors. Management intends to continue to manage Northern Rock's capital position with a view to optimizing shareholder value while at the same time considering the interests of customers and investors. On April 29, 2004 Northern Rock issued $700 million (£396 million equivalent) of Upper Tier 2 capital. Management believes that Northern Rock's capital resources are sufficient for its present requirements.

Northern Rock raises no capital through off balance sheet entities nor does it use off-balance sheet entities to manage its capital on a temporary basis. The sale of mortgage loans to securitization special purpose vehicles ("SPVs") results in reduced regulatory capital requirements. However, there are no circumstances under which Northern Rock can be forced to re-acquire these loans, nor are there any circumstances that could necessitate further capital backing for these loans. To the extent that losses in securitization vehicles could impact on Northern Rock, a deduction is made from regulatory capital, thus ensuring full protection of deposits against such losses. This is in respect of the subordinated loans granted by Northern Rock to the vehicles to provide a first loss reserve fund.

A discussion of Northern Rock's use of financial instruments and its treasury activities and policies is included under "Description of Business-Treasury and Wholesale Funding", "– Selected Statistical Information – Average Balance Sheets and Interest Rates" and "Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures of Market Risk-Financial Risk Management".

Funding Sources

Northern Rock raises funds from a wide diversity of markets, both retail and wholesale, together with its use of covered bonds and mortgage securitizations. Retail funding is raised principally in the United Kingdom, although funds are also raised through offshore funding vehicles located in Guernsey and the Republic of Ireland. These vehicles enable Northern Rock to raise retail funds from other markets and lessens dependency upon the United Kingdom. Of the Group's total retail deposit base of £17.3 billion at December 31, 2004, just over £2.5 billion was held through offshore vehicles.

The retail deposit base predominantly has a short legal maturity profile, with accounts traditionally being instant access or available on a short notice period, albeit with an interest penalty for early withdrawal. Whilst this results in a mismatch of maturity dates between assets and liabilities, Northern Rock has received positive flows of funds from retail deposits consistently in all but one of the last 16 half years, showing an ability to continue to attract retail funds through a very competitive period in the market. More recently, as interest rates have fallen, depositors have sought to protect their return. As a consequence one year or longer fixed rate accounts have become popular. At December 31, 2004 Northern Rock had attracted £6.7 billion into such accounts, representing 41% of total retail deposits.

Wholesale funding is also raised from a number of sources and over a range of maturities, to ensure that there is no over dependence on any one market or type of counterparty. Funds are raised in three main currencies, Sterling, U.S. Dollars and Euros, and from three main areas – the United Kingdom, the United States and continental Europe. Short-term deposits are taken from banks and other corporate sources through time deposits. In addition, use is made of European, U.S., French and Canadian Commercial Paper (ECP, USCP, French and Canadian CP) programs and also of European and U.S. Medium Term Note programs (EMTN and USMTN) and the Covered Bond Program (Covered Bonds). These programs ensure a diversity of source, maturity and counterparty to minimize risk to the funding program from localized economic impacts. The program sizes and amounts drawn down at December 31, 2004 are set out below:

	Outstanding $bn	Program Size $bn
ECP	1.9	2.0
USCP	2.7	5.0
EMTN	9.7	15.0
USMTN	5.4	10.0
	€bn	€bn
French CP	1.1	2.0
Covered bonds	2.0	10.0

Since December 31, 2004, the following program has been established, with the size and amount drawn down set out below:

	Outstanding CAD$bn	Program Size CAD $bn
Canadian CP	1.1	2.0

Since December 31, 2004, the following programs have been increased in size:

	Program Size $bn
ECP	4.0
	€bn
French CP	4.0

Within its funding program, Northern Rock has no repayment triggers relating to credit rating downgrade or to any profitability or earnings per share ratios.

In addition to its funding programs, Northern Rock has bank credit agreements providing backup for its US Commercial Paper Program to a total value of $535 million, and a further multi-currency revolving credit facility of £750 million (a five year facility negotiated in 2003). There were no outstanding balances in relation to these facilities at December 31, 2004. Since December 31, 2004, an additional $65 million of bank credit agreements have been established.

The main factor impacting upon the cost of, and access to, wholesale funding markets is Northern Rock's credit rating. Northern Rock's current ratings are set out below:

	Short Term	Long Term
Standard & Poor's	A1	A
Moody's	P1	A1
Fitch	F1	A+

The third main source of funding to Northern Rock is its securitization program. By December 31, 2004, a total of £29.7 billion of residential mortgage loans had been transferred to SPVs, funded by the issue of residential mortgage backed securities in the U.K., European and U.S. markets. A further £500 million of commercial mortgage loans were transferred to an SPV in 2002 funded by the issue of commercial mortgage securities in the United Kingdom and Europe. On January 26, 2005, a further securitization of £4.5 billion of residential mortgages was completed followed by a £4.0 billion issue on May 25 2005.

Although these securitization transactions involve the transfer of loans to SPVs, under U.K. GAAP the full extent of any potential recourse to Northern Rock by the purchaser and noteholders remains on Northern Rock's balance sheet. This is shown through a linked presentation on the balance sheet identifying the value of securitized assets and the extent of non-recourse finance required as part of "loans and advances to customers". Full disclosure of the SPVs, the nature of any recourse to Northern Rock and their results are shown in Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements. Income from the SPVs is only recognized in the Consolidated Financial Statements as it is earned, and no gain on sale is recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements at the point of completion of the transaction. Northern Rock is not exposed to any risk of loss from these transactions above the value of the asset recorded on its balance sheet. This is further demonstrated by the sale agreements entered into with respect to securitization transactions which expressly provide that Northern Rock will not be required to support any obligations to noteholders. See Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Under U.S. GAAP, the SPVs involved in securitization transactions are fully consolidated on a line-by-line basis, so that in the U.S. GAAP recorded financial information included in Note 46 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, all transactions relating to the SPVs are fully included as if no transfers of securitized assets had occurred.

Northern Rock acts as servicer to the mortgage loans transferred to the SPVs, and also swaps the SPVs' cash receipts from interest payments based on mortgage interest rates into payments based on floating rate LIBOR so that both interest income and expense within the SPVs are determined on the same basis. If Northern Rock were to be downgraded by Standard & Poor's or Fitch below its current long term rating, or downgraded by two grades by Moody's, it would no longer be able to act as a basis swap provider. It would then need to find a new swap counterparty, which would reduce earnings from the SPVs due to the cost of the third party swap provider. It is not anticipated that the effect of any such substitution on the income earned from the SPVs would be material to Northern Rock.

Northern Rock's total debt and its commitments by maturity at December 31, 2004 are set out in the following table:

	Payments due by period

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

Northern Rock has no off balance sheet funding or capital structure other than the securitization SPVs discussed above. Off balance sheet derivative instruments are used to hedge all exposure on balance sheet assets and liabilities. Northern Rock does not engage in any off balance sheet trading activities in derivatives, or take any off balance sheet trading positions. The table below shows the underlying principal amounts, the positive fair values and the negative fair values of derivatives by type of contract at December 31, 2004.

FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Risk Management

The management of risk is fundamental to the business of banking and is an integral part of the Group's strategic focus. The Group's risk management structure begins with oversight responsibility by the Board. In fulfilling its task it must ensure that management undertakes the necessary action to identify, measure, monitor and control risks. It does this by agreeing strategic annual operational plans and policy statements. On a regular basis it reviews actual results against budgets, forecasts and other key business measures. The Board has created committees which inter alia assist it to fulfil its risk management functions.

The Audit Committee reports to the Board on all matters relating to regulatory, prudential and accounting matters affecting the Group. It is also responsible for ensuring that an effective system of internal control is maintained. It receives regular reports on matters within its terms of reference from the External Auditors, the Chief Internal Auditor and the Group Compliance function.

The Risk Committee reports to the Board on all significant matters relating to the Group's risk strategy and policies. It is also responsible for reviewing credit risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk and operational risk exposures as well as capital adequacy.

The Management Board comprises the Executive Directors and other senior executives. It facilitates the Group's effective operation so that it meets its strategic and operational objectives. The Asset and Liability Committee oversees the management and review of the Group's Balance Sheet risk profile together with the Group's liquidity and Operational Risk profile.

The Director of Risk works with management to identify and assess the key risk exposures of existing and new business activities and assists business functions to formulate and implement appropriate risk management policies, methodologies and infrastructure. Each business area is responsible for the identification and quantification of their particular risk exposures and implementing risk management policies and procedures agreed by the Management Board and the Board.

Through its normal operations, the Group is exposed to a number of risks, the most significant of which are liquidity, credit, operational and market risk. The Group's approach to managing these risks is set out below.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk arises from the mismatch in the cashflows generated from on-balance sheet assets and liabilities and the net interest flows on off-balance sheet instruments such as interest rate swaps. The FSA requires the Group to be able to meet its sterling obligations without recourse to the wholesale money market for a period of at least five business days, and the Group measures and manages its cashflow on a daily basis in order to meet this requirement.

To meet the foregoing requirements, the Board has approved a Liquidity Policy Statement which is compliant with the supervisory framework set by the FSA. Those policies ensure that the Group is able to meet retail deposit withdrawals (either on demand or at contractual maturity), to repay wholesale borrowing as they mature, and to meet current lending objectives. This is achieved by managing a diversified portfolio of high quality liquid assets, and a balanced maturity portfolio of wholesale and retail funds. Longer term funds are raised through Northern Rock's Medium-Term Note programs. Monthly reports are made to the FSA covering sterling liquidity, while for other currencies a series of periodic returns are made covering non-sterling balances and their maturities.

In addition to approving permissible categories of liquid assets which may be purchased, the Liquidity Policy Statement sets forth approved operational limits and established operational guidelines for managing the Group's liquidity risk. Liquidity levels are monitored daily by the Treasury director and a daily cashflow liquidity report and sterling stock liquidity report are produced by the settlement back office and sent to the Treasurer director. Other daily reports are prepared including, among other things, daily movements, a portfolio analysis and a maturity profile. In addition, a monthly liquidity report is submitted to the Board analyzing the liquid assets and showing the relevant percentages of each type of instrument held by the Group. The Board is required to review the Liquidity Policy Statement on an annual basis.

The high quality of the liquidity portfolio is reflected by the credit ratings of the counterparties with whom Treasury deal, whereby 93% of counterparty exposures are rated single "A" or better. The residual element of the portfolio is invested mainly in investment grade assets and unrated credits, mainly U.K. building societies.

The table below presents an analysis of short-term assets versus short-term liabilities as at December 31, 2004 and 2003.

	At December 31,
	2004	2003
	(£ millions)
Short-term assets (maturities 1 year or less):
Cash	10.2	11.6
Loans and advances to banks	3,305.4	3,450.2
Loans and advances to customers	906.3	853.3
Debt securities	761.9	655.4
Total short-term assets	4,983.8	4,970.5
Short-term liabilities (repayable in 1 year or less):
Deposits by banks	1,041.3	1,283.2
Customer accounts	18,434.0	16,781.2
Debt securities in issue	10,188.6	9,346.5
Subordinated liabilities	61.5	—
Other liabilities	335.6	338.8
Total short-term liabilities	30,061.0	27,749.7

The ratio of short-term assets to short-term liabilities at December 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003, were 16.6% and 17.9%, respectively.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the potential risk of financial loss arising from the failure of a customer or counterparty to settle its financial and contractual obligations. Credit risk occurs mainly in the Group's loans and investment assets, and in derivative contracts. Prudent risk management is essential to ensure that the Group's cost advantage is not undermined by poor quality loans. Loss provisions for the year ended December 31, 2004, were £56.5 million, representing 0.18% of average loans and advances to customers compared with 2003 when loss provisions were £48.7 million (0.19% of average loans and advances to customers). See "Selected Statistical Information – Allowance for Loan Losses" below.

The overall day-to-day management of credit risk is delegated to individual business areas. Each business area utilizes various qualitative and quantitative techniques to measure and manage their respective credit risk exposures. The customer loan risk management process incorporates sophisticated credit scoring systems to differentiate the credit risk associated with residential mortgage loans and unsecured loans, both at individual transaction and portfolio levels. Credit exposure limits for corporates and financial institutions are primarily based on the credit ratings assigned by rating agencies. Credit limits are continually monitored and managed to ensure they remain within authorized counterparty credit limits approved by the Management Board. The majority of loans provided by Northern Rock are secured by U.K. residential properties.

Northern Rock's strategy is also designed to manage the quality of its residential mortgage portfolio as it grows. Accordingly, the Group reviews several key risk factors in managing the portfolio to ensure prudent new lending. Such factors include:

- Emphasis on next time buyers and remortgage customers relative to first time buyers: In Northern Rock's experience customers who have proven repayment records represent lower risk. Of Northern Rock's gross new residential mortgage lending in 2004, 42% was to next time buyers and 37% to remortgage customers.

- Loan size: Northern Rock's policy matches maximum loan-to-value ratios ("LTV") with permissible property values. Purchases up to £300,000 attract a maximum LTV of 95%, whereas purchases over £300,000 attract a maximum of 90%. During 2004 only 4% of new residential mortgage advances were over £500,000.
- Geographic spread: Distribution channels for new residential mortgage lending are designed to avoid excessive reliance on any one geographic region.
- Size of loan relative to the value of the property: Northern Rock's current policy is for at least 65% of new residential mortgage lending in any one year to have LTV ratios of 90% or lower.

Operational Risk

Operational risk is the potential risk of financial loss or impairment to reputation arising from failures in operational processes or the systems that support them. The three main categories of operational risk losses are direct financial losses, indirect losses due to impairment of the Group's reputation, and potential earnings foregone as a result of the lack of operational capability to transact business.

The Group has identified the following key components of operational risk: systems and processes, technology, customers, external events and relationships, people, reconciliation and accounting, new activity and legal and compliance.

To minimize operational risk, the Group has developed a Risk Policy and an Operational Risk Policy. It will maintain a system of controls commensurate with the characteristics of the business and markets in which the Group operates, best practice principles and regulatory considerations. Business and support function managers are primarily responsible for ensuring effective operational risk management and control within their businesses, particularly in respect of transactional risks. Where appropriate, the Group's Insurance Manager will arrange suitable cost effective insurance to mitigate or transfer operational risk exposures.

An Operational Risk Group, comprising senior management of all the main business functions under the chairmanship of the Chief Operating Officer has been established to monitor all aspects of operational risk.

Where necessary, the Group's senior management will establish a project team, comprising senior business line managers to devise and implement a suitable action plan to mitigate specific operational risk exposures.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in the level of interest rates, the rate of exchange between currencies or the price of securities or other financial contracts, including derivatives, will have an adverse impact on the results of operations or financial condition of the Group. The principal market risks to which the Group is exposed are interest-rate risk and foreign exchange (currency) risk. The principal financial instruments that expose the Group to such risks are loans, deposits, securities, and derivatives, each of which are used for other than trading purposes.

In order to manage the Group's exposure to market risk, the Board has adopted a policy statement entitled the Balance Sheet Structural Risk Management and Hedging Policy Statement, which sets out the Group's policy regarding managing market risk in the balance sheet and the use of off-balance sheet hedging instruments to manage such risks. The policy statement provides a mechanism for the Board to assess, monitor and manage the current and anticipated interest rate risk, credit risk and currency risk in the balance sheet in line with the Group's overall risk policies.

Interest rate risk

The Group offers numerous banking, mortgage and savings products with varying interest rate features and maturities which create potential interest rate risk exposures. Interest rate risk arises as a result of timing differences on the re-pricing of assets and liabilities, unexpected changes in the slope and shape of yield curves and changes in correlation of interest rates between different financial instruments (often referred to as basis risk). In addition to interest rate risk positions managed within controlled risk limits within the Group, structural interest rate risk arises in the Group's consolidated balance sheet as a result of fixed rate, variable rate and non interest bearing assets and liabilities.

Exposure to interest rate movements arises when there is a mismatch between interest rate sensitive assets and liabilities. The Group closely monitors interest rate movements, the interest rate and re-pricing maturity structure of its interest bearing assets and liabilities and the level of non-interest bearing assets and liabilities.

Interest rate sensitivity refers to the relationship between interest rates and net interest income resulting from the periodic repricing of assets and liabilities. The largest single items in the Group balance sheet are residential mortgages and retail deposits, both of which predominantly bear interest at variable rates. The contractual maturity of mortgage loans is generally more than five years but the maturity of retail deposits is primarily under one year. This apparent mismatch gives rise to issues which are addressed by the Group in its liquidity management. However, the effect of such mismatch on interest rate management is less significant. The Group has the ability to reprice both its retail variable-rate liabilities and variable-rate mortgage assets, subject to the constraints imposed by the competitive situation in the market place. Management believes this ability enables the Group to mitigate the impact of interest rate movements on net interest income for the Group's retail banking. Northern Rock also offers fixed-rate mortgages and savings products on which the interest rate paid by or to the customer is fixed for an agreed period of time at the start of the contract. Northern Rock matches the expected maturity profiles of its interest earning assets and interest bearing liabilities through the use of derivatives. The risk of prepayment is additionally reduced by imposing penalty charges if the customers terminate their contracts early.

The Group uses a number of measures to monitor and control interest rate risk and sensitivity. One such measure evaluates the difference in principal value between assets and liabilities repricing in various gap periods. Risk weights are assigned to each gap period which reflect potential losses for a given change in rates, and based on these a capital allocation is calculated for each period. The risk is controlled through setting maximum overall capital allocations, and individual capital allocations for each gap period.

A second control used measures net interest income sensitivity from unmatched positions in fixed rate lending. The Group imposes a limit on the value of such earnings that may be at risk, based upon various scenarios of adverse interest rate changes.

The sensitivity of earnings to changes in interest rates is measured by comparing forecast net interest income over a 12-month period under two interest rate scenarios, a 1% parallel increase and decrease in all yield curves. Forecasts are based on measuring the sensitivity of net interest income for all on-balance sheet and derivative instruments while maintaining a consistent balance sheet size and structure throughout the simulation period. Forecasts include the effect on net interest income of those instruments which have embedded optionality. Forecasts also include other simplifying assumptions, such as no management action in response to a change in interest rates. An immediate hypothetical 1% parallel increase and decrease in all yield curves on January 1, 2005, would result in a decrease of £33 million and an increase of £27 million, respectively, in planned net interest income for the twelve months to December 31, 2005.

Interest Rate Sensitivity Gap

The following table shows the contractual re-pricing terms for each category of asset and liability, together with management's estimate of the interest rate sensitivity gap for the Group as at December 31, 2004. This does not reflect the potential impact of early repayment or withdrawal. Transactions without defined contractual re-pricing terms are shown according to management's expectations. Positions may not be reflective of those in subsequent periods. Major changes in positions can be, and are, made promptly as market outlooks change. In addition, significant variations in interest rate sensitivity may exist within the re-pricing periods presented and among the currencies in which the Group has interest rate positions.

Currency Risk

Currency risk arises as a result of the Group having assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet items that are denominated in currencies other than sterling as a result of normal banking activities, including wholesale funding. In addition to raising funds through the sterling money market, capital markets and domestic retail savings market, the Group raises funds through issuing euro commercial paper, U.S. dollar commercial paper, non-sterling denominated medium-term debt securities and non-sterling denominated retail funds. The most significant currencies in which the Group has transactions are U.S. dollars and the euro. The Group's policy is to fully hedge any exchange rate exposures by using cross-currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts or investing the proceeds of U.S. dollar or euro instruments in U.S. dollar or euro denominated assets (matched portfolio approach). Any non-sterling denominated assets are also fully hedged in this manner. Consequently, the sensitivity of income to changes in foreign exchange rates is insignificant to the Group.

The table below sets forth the value in sterling of all assets and liabilities of the Group denominated in a currency other than sterling at December 31, 2004 and 2003. The figures in the table below should not be viewed as indicating the Group's exposure to foreign exchange risk due to the use of hedging instruments discussed above.

Derivatives

Board policy on use of derivatives

The Board has authorized the use of derivative instruments for the purpose of supporting the strategic and operational business activities of the Group and reducing the risk of loss arising from changes in interest rates and exchange rates. All use of derivative instruments within the Group is to hedge risk exposure, and the Group takes no trading positions in derivatives.

For the purpose of reducing interest rate risk and currency risk, the Group uses a number of derivative instruments. These comprise interest rate swaps, interest rate options, forward rate agreements, interest rate and bond futures, currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts. The objective, when using any derivative instrument, is to ensure that the risk to reward profile of any transaction is optimized. Where either an off-balance sheet derivative instrument or an on-balance sheet asset or liability could be used for a specific purpose, or where more than one derivative instrument could be used, the Group will select the instrument which optimizes the following conditions:

- minimize capital utilization;
- maximize income or minimize cost;
- maximize liquidity;
- minimize administrative and accounting complexity; and
- minimize the Group's tax liability.

The benefits of using off-balance sheet derivative instruments are measured by examining the anticipated consequences of not hedging the perceived risk in terms of revenue or capital loss. The vast majority of the Group's derivatives activity is contracted with banks and other financial institutions.

Analysis of activities and related hedging instrument

The following table sets forth activities undertaken by the Group and the related risks associated with such activities, and provides details of the types of derivatives used in managing such risks.

At December 31, 2004, the Group had not entered into any derivatives transactions with significant leveraging features. Derivatives which are combinations of more basic transactions (such as swaps with embedded option features), or which have leverage features, may be used in circumstances where the underlying position being hedged contains the same risk features, for example, medium-term note issues based on equity indices or a multiple of an underlying asset or liability. Exposure to market risk on such contracts is therefore fully hedged. Credit risk on these contracts is monitored within tightly defined risk limits on the basis of the contractual terms of the instruments, rather than the face or contract amount.

SELECTED STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Average Balance Sheets and Interest Rates

The following table shows average balances and interest rates for Northern Rock for the past three years prepared on the basis of assets under management, including for this purpose assets subject to securitization as interest earning assets and securitized notes as interest bearing liabilities. This presentation differs in certain significant respects from the Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere herein in order to more accurately reflect management's approach to monitoring interest income and interest expense given the current amount of assets subject to securitization and related securitized notes in existence. As of December 31, 2004, approximately 34% of assets under management were securitized, as compared with 30% at December 31, 2003 and 23% at December 31, 2002. For further information, see Note 5 to the Average Balance Sheet appearing below.

(3) Loans and advances to customers includes non-performing loans, net of allowances for loan losses. See "Allowance for Loan Losses" and "Problem and Non-Performing Loans and Advances" below.

(4) Net interest margin represents net interest income as a percentage of average interest earning assets.

(5) Under linked presentation consistent with U.K. GAAP, this item appears as a deduction from interest earning assets as opposed to a liability as set forth above.

The following table shows the average balance sheet as it would appear under linked presentation, as used in the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere herein. This presentation shows as one linked asset the securitized notes and the related non-recourse finance – see Note 17 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere herein.

Changes in Net Interest Income-Volume and Rate Analysis

The following table allocates changes in interest income, interest expense and net interest income between changes in volume and changes in rate for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003, based on assets under management. Volume and rate variances have been calculated on the movement in the average balances and the change in the interest rates on average interest-earning assets and average interest-bearing liabilities. The variance caused by changes in both volume and rate has been allocated to rate changes.

In addition, the Group holds as investment securities listed and unlisted corporate securities.

Northern Rock had no other investments in any one counterparty exceeding 10% of Northern Rock's stockholders' equity at December 31, 2004.

(1) Included within "Other issuers" are asset-backed securities. These securities are classified in the table according to their contractual maturity dates; however, redemption of these securities is expected on average to take place between four and ten years from date of issue. As with the underlying assets, asset-backed securities involve prepayment risks; however, the Group's exposure to this type of risk is limited by the high proportion of floating rate assets in this category. See page 58 for further explanation of the Group's risk management and hedging strategy.

(2) Securitization transactions, which commenced in 1999, are reported in accordance with FRS 5, "Reporting the Substance of Transactions". The criteria for linked presentation under FRS 5 have been satisfied and, accordingly, only the net amount of the Group's interests in the assets is consolidated and the gross advances and related non-recourse finance are shown together on the face of the balance sheet.

Allowance for Loan Losses

Through various processes Northern Rock actively monitors credit risk on an ongoing basis for its entire loan portfolio. Northern Rock's provisioning policy requires an adequate allowance to be maintained to cover losses in the loan portfolio. As Northern Rock's core business is focused on residential mortgage lending, the allowance for loan losses is primarily related to these activities. The loss provisioning methodology for residential lending activities is as follows:

Specific allowance: Where the collection of interest and/or principal on an individual loan is in doubt a specific provision is recorded. Specific provisions are calculated using a model which is used to evaluate losses based on historical default experience and other appropriate risk factors related to the delinquent loan portfolio at a given point in time. All loans which are over three contractual payments past due are evaluated using the model to identify the need for a specific provision. Loans over six contractual payments past due and properties in possession are evaluated on an individual basis to measure potential loss. Various factors are considered in this evaluation including, but not limited to, collateral valuations, expected recoveries from mortgage indemnity guarantees and estimated recovery costs.

General allowance: Northern Rock maintains a general allowance to cover losses in the loan portfolio related to loans that have not yet been specifically identified as impaired. Northern Rock uses a statistically based model to calculate the appropriate general allowance for each completion year. The model considers appropriate risk factors specific to Northern Rock's loan portfolio and historical default experience. Other factors, including economic conditions, are also considered by management in determining the appropriate level of reserves required at a given point in time.

Recoveries: Recoveries of prior losses are recorded in income in the period of recovery as an offset against the specific provision for loan losses.

Amounts charged-off: Loans and advances are charged-off when the amount to be recovered can be calculated with accuracy through either the sale of collateral, repayment, or from amounts recovered through mortgage indemnity guarantee insurance. Charge-offs result in removing the loan balance and related specific allowance from the balance sheet. If any recovery is realized it is recorded as described above.

The following tables show Northern Rock's allowance for loan losses as at the year-end for the past five years and the movements in the allowance for loan losses for each of the years then ended.

Trends in the allowance for loan loss ratios shown above are consistent with Northern Rock's past due experience over the past five years. Northern Rock has consistently maintained a low appetite for credit risk which has, together with other factors, resulted in an overall loan portfolio of high credit quality. Northern Rock's underwriting criteria for commercial lending continues to result in controlled growth with lower risk commercial borrowers. At December 31, 2004, total year-end allowances for loan losses on unsecured loans amount to £78.4 million compared with £55.9 million at December 31, 2003. This increase reflects the increase in outstanding unsecured balances and the continuing improvement in credit quality resulting in the ratio of unsecured loan allowances decreasing from 1.70% at year end 2003 to 1.68% at year end 2004.

Problem and Non-performing Loans and Advances

Problem and Non-performing loans and advances are analyzed and reported in categories which reflect U.S. lending and accounting practices. However, lending and accounting practices differ in the U.K. from those practices employed in the U.S. Different terminology is also used in the U.S. as compared to the U.K. to describe the same items. The following summary includes the primary differences in bank terminology and lending and accounting practices.

Differences in terminology[1]

U.K.	U.S.
Loans and advances	Loans and advances or "lendings"
Provision for bad and doubtful debts	Allowance for lending or loan losses
Interest receivable	Interest income
In arrears	Past-due
Loans with interest suspended	Loans in non-accrual status
Write-offs	Charge-offs
Repossession	Foreclosure
Property in possession	Foreclosed property, acquired property or other real estate owned
Problem loans and advances	Impaired loans and advances

Note:

(1) Throughout this Offering Circular, where appropriate, U.S. terminology has been used for disclosures related to loans and advances with the exception of the Group's Consolidated Financial Statements, which have been reported under U.K. GAAP.

Differences in Lending and Accounting Practices

In the U.S. it is the typical practice of banks to stop accruing interest when payments on loans and advances are 90 days or more past due or when recovery of both principal and interest is doubtful. Accrued interest upon transfer to non-accrual status is reversed from income and no further interest is recognized until it becomes probable that the principal and interest will be repaid in full in accordance with the contractual terms. In accordance with the U.K. British Bankers Association Statement of Recommended Practice on Advances, Northern Rock continues to accrue interest, where appropriate, to customer accounts where recovery is in doubt. This accrued interest is added to the loan balance and the suspended interest account and reported in the balance sheet, but it is not recorded as income during the period. Although this practice has no effect on net income when compared to the practice employed in the U.S., it has the effect of increasing the reported level of problem and potential non-performing loans and advances for U.K. banks in comparison with U.S. banks. The amount of this difference for Northern Rock as at December 31, 2004 was £6.4 million.

In the U.S. non-performing loans and advances are typically charged-off earlier than in the U.K. As a result, a U.K. bank may appear to have a higher level of non-performing loans and advances than a U.S. bank. In the U.K. such loans would be accounted for as loans subject to repossession as described below. This would generally not result in a difference in the reported interest income as such loans would typically not accrue interest in either the U.S. or the U.K.

In most circumstances in the U.S., title to property securing residential real estate transfers to the lender upon foreclosure. At foreclosure the loan is charged off and the acquired property is recorded at fair value with any recoveries recorded as an offset to the provision for loan losses for the period. Any specific allowance relating to the loan is not carried forward. The acquired property is subsequently reported in other assets on the balance sheet at the lower of cost or fair value less selling costs. Cost is defined as the fair value of the acquired property at the time of foreclosure. Upon sale of the acquired property, U.S. banks will record gains and losses in the income statement as gain or loss on acquired property.

Although a bank is entitled under U.K. law to enforce a first charge on property held as security in the U.K., it typically does so only to the extent of enforcing its power of sale. Northern Rock accounts for repossessed property in accordance with U.K. GAAP and industry practice for U.K. banks. At repossession, Northern Rock takes control of the property held as security on a loan but title does not transfer to the Bank. As U.K. banks generally do not take title to the property held as security, they are obligated to remit to the borrower any gain, in excess of the bank's net investment in the loan, realized upon the sale of the property. In contrast, U.S. banks may take title to the property upon foreclosure and, although generally not a common occurrence, a U.S. bank can recognize a gain upon the sale of the property.

Loans subject to repossession continue to be reported by Northern Rock as loans in the balance sheet, although the accrual of interest is suspended. Any recoveries or additional losses realized upon the subsequent sale of the property are recorded by Northern Rock within the provision for loan losses during the reporting period. This practice results in a difference in the classification of losses and recoveries in the income statement. It also has the effect of increasing the reported level of non-performing loans for U.K. banks in comparison with U.S. banks. The amount of loans subject to repossession held by Northern Rock and reported as non-performing loans as at December 31, 2004, amounted to £30.9 million.

The following tables present non-performing loans and advances for Northern Rock.

Retail demand and time deposits are obtained through, and administered by, the retail distribution network including the offshore operations in Guernsey and Dublin. They are all interest bearing and interest rates are varied from time to time in response to competitive conditions. Demand deposits largely consist of passbook-based accounts whose balances are available on demand.

Time deposits comprise accounts which require customers to give notice of an intention to make a withdrawal, including fixed rate bonds, as well as postal and telephone deposit accounts. Delays in customers being able to use funds from postal and telephone accounts arise due to the impact of the time required for receipt of funds via mail or bank transfer following a request for withdrawal.

Wholesale deposits are sourced through the London money markets or over-the-counter (OTC) for which interest rates are quoted on request rather than being publicly advertised. These deposits are of fixed maturity and bear interest rates which reflect the inter bank money market rates.

A number of key factors have affected the U.K. retail savings market during the period 2002 to 2004. This period has seen a significant increase in competition, especially from new entrants. Improved technology has resulted in the introduction of cost efficient distribution methods (e.g. telephone accounts and internet- based accounts). Interest rates were 6.00% at the beginning of 2001. During the period February 2001 to November 2001, rates steadily fell to an almost 40 year low of 4.00% and remained unchanged until February 2003. The downward trend continued in the first half of 2003, with rates reduced to 3.50% by July 2003. Rates have increased gradually over the period and at the end of 2004 the bank base rate had risen to 4.75%. All of these factors have affected the composition of Northern Rock's savings products and the effective rate paid to customers.

COMPETITION

This section contains forward-looking statements that involve inherent risks and uncertainties. Northern Rock's actual results may differ materially from those contained in such forward-looking statements. See "Forward-Looking Statements" above.

Industry Background

Northern Rock's main competitors have traditionally been providers of personal financial services in the United Kingdom. These include banks, building societies, life insurance companies and mutual insurance organizations. In recent years, competitive pressures, consolidation and changes in the regulatory environment have led to a blurring of the boundaries between banks, building societies and insurance companies in the United Kingdom. In addition, in recent years new providers of financial services have emerged as competitors in the U.K. residential mortgage lending market and retail savings market. Below is a description of the traditional types of organizations that continue to compete with Northern Rock, as well as a description of certain new competitors.

Banks and building societies

There has been significant consolidation of banks and building societies in recent years. The number of building societies has fallen from 105 in 1992 to 63 currently. This reduction has been marked by the merger of certain of these organizations as well as acquisitions by existing banks.

Certain major financial service providers have also changed their legal status with Halifax, Woolwich and Alliance & Leicester building societies converting during 1997 to stock form U.K. licensed banks in the form of public limited liability companies. A number of building societies have chosen not to convert, and legislation was passed in 1997 to enable these organizations to compete more freely with banks. Despite this, Bradford and Bingley Building Society converted to a listed bank in December 2000.

Insurance Companies

The U.K. insurance industry has traditionally been comprised of a large number of mutual insurance organizations and several composite insurers originating a range of products, distributed through banks, building societies, direct sales forces and a large network of independent financial advisers. In recent years, the entry of building societies and banks into the market as originators, as well as distributors, has reduced this dominance.

Non-Traditional Competitors

Certain supermarkets and other large retailers and utility companies sell financial services to their customers. A number of U.K. banks have cooperation arrangements with large U.K. retailers to provide personal banking services to their customer base, including direct savings accounts through the mail or by telephone. In addition, insurance and life assurance companies have entered the mortgage and retail savings markets, and more recently foreign entities have been active in the U.K. retail savings market. Such companies are using low cost telephone, postal and internet- based distribution channels to offer competitively priced retail savings products and mortgages. Certain U.K. banks, notably Halifax and to a lesser extent Abbey, operate stand-alone, separately branded internet banks. Northern Rock's response to such competition is to continue to develop its e-commerce capabilities as an integrated part of the Group's distribution strategy and to continue to offer customers a range of options for transacting business. See "– Description of Business – Distribution Network – Internet-based distribution" for a more detailed discussion of such activity to date.

2004	291.2	100.9

Note:

The U.K. residential mortgage market was buoyant in 2004, showing an increase in gross lending of 5.2% over comparable 2003 lending figures and a decrease in net lending of 0.4%. Such growth was supported by average house price inflation of 15%, during 2004 low levels of interest rates and generally low levels of unemployment. The year 2004 also saw significant increase levels of re-mortgage activity with 42% of total U.K. gross lending attributable to re-mortgages, compared with 42% in 2003 and 37% in 2002.

Competition in the U.K. mortgage market involves defending the existing stock of balances and competing for the flow of new lending. New lending is driven by first-time buyers or next-time buyers remortgaging or changing homes. In recent years, the proportion of the population owning their own homes has stabilized at around 70%. Although this figure is high by European standards, Management believes it is unlikely to increase or decrease significantly in the near future. Consequently, Management views the mortgage market in the U.K. as a mature and highly commoditized market driven primarily by price, especially with respect to new lending.

A key feature of the U.K. mortgage market is the differential pricing structure that has developed, mainly in response to increased competition. New customers are offered attractive rates via discounts, tracker accounts, fixed and capped rates or cashbacks for a period of time, compared with existing customers who pay a standard variable rate which can fluctuate in response to competitive forces and U.K. monetary and economic policy. This differential pricing structure is likely to contribute to continued strong levels of re-mortgage activity in 2005.

Due, in part, to competitive pricing since the early 1990s, product innovations and retention of existing customers, Northern Rock has been able to achieve net lending greater than its market share of balances over this period while its gross lending has been only slightly above mortgage stock levels. Northern Rock's redemption levels have remained below its share of stock due to the effect of early repayment charges and, more recently, improvements in retention policies. The latter includes allowing existing customers to transfer to products available to new customers, subject to the payment of any existing early repayment charges, and the investment in a dedicated mortgage retention team.

Management expects that competition from existing lenders is likely to remain intense. Management also considers that new customers will remain attracted to up-front incentives on traditional mortgage products and that strong demand will remain for credit bundling products, enabling Northern Rock to achieve volume lending in 2005.

The U.K. Retail Deposit Market

The U.K. retail deposit market is dominated by banks, building societies and National Savings. National Savings is a U.K. Government-sponsored savings and investment organization, with products distributed to individuals through the U.K. Post Office branch network and through postal accounts. Figures for the total U.K. retail deposit market appearing in the table below have been compiled from details published by the Bank of England.

2002	734.2	18.3	73.3	2.1

(2) Included within Banks' share of total U.K. retail deposits are companies such as Tesco plc and Egg plc, which have U.K. banking licenses.

Management believes that the U.K. retail deposit market, like the residential mortgage market is a commoditized one, driven primarily by price. This is particularly true for the flow of new money, which will seek the most attractive rates available. Older deposit balances have traditionally subsidized the cost of new retail deposits, primarily reflecting customer inertia.

In the last 10 years, competition for U.K. retail deposits has increased as new participants, such as supermarkets and insurance/life assurance companies entered the market by offering attractive rates of interest. This situation has been exacerbated since 2000 by the introduction of internet-based accounts and foreign entrants which have offered rates at or above U.K. bank base rates. The combined effect of this competition has caused the cost of attracting new retail deposits to be higher in many cases than the cost of wholesale money market deposits.

Management believes that increased consumer awareness driven by the press and increased competition has resulted in the potential for greater volatility of retail deposit balances both between different organizations and between different accounts within organizations, resulting in a reduction in the differential between rates paid to existing and new balances as customers transfer to higher rate accounts and organizations aim to retain existing balances.

European Union Directives

The framework for supervision and regulation of banking and financial services in the United Kingdom has been, and continues to be, heavily influenced by European Union ("EU") Directives which are required to be implemented in EU member states through national legislation. The banking Directives aim to harmonize banking regulation and supervision throughout member states by laying down minimum standards in key areas and requiring member states to give "mutual recognition" to each other's standards of regulation. The Banking Consolidation Directive ("BCD") includes the "passport" concept: that is, freedom to establish branches in, and to provide cross-border services into, other member states once a bank is authorized in its "home" member state.

Investment firms are subject to a similar regulatory environment and can obtain a "passport" with respect to authorization under national legislation implemented pursuant to the Investment Services Directive (now known as the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive). Despite the application of the "passports", a "host" member state can impose certain requirements on the conduct of banking and investment activities in its boundaries (including conduct of business rules).

Although a credit institution such as Northern Rock is primarily regulated in its home state by a national regulator, the EU Directives prescribe minimum criteria for regulation of the authorization of credit institutions and the prudential supervision applicable to them, including in respect of capital adequacy, liquidity and limits on large exposures to certain types of counterparties. The prudential rules for banks in respect of credit risk are based on the requirements of the BCD, while those relating to market work (including position risk, counterparty, settlement risk and foreign exchange risk) are based on the requirements of the Capital Adequacy Directive (the "CAD"). The CAD applies both to banks and to investment firms (and, in respect of the latter, also sets out initial capital requirements). Finally, the Financial Groups Directive provides for the prudential supervision of financial groups or conglomerates.

In September 2002, the European Commission published a proposal on a directive on consumer credit to the EU member states, which would require prospective creditors to provide advice and information to consumers taking consumer credit before the credit agreement will be concluded, so that the consumer can choose in full knowledge of the facts among the types of credit offered. Among other things, the proposal required that the information to be provided by the credit intermediary and creditor should in particular include an annual percentage rate of charge applicable to the credit; the total lending charge; the agreed duration of the loan and the number and amount of installments. This is to standardize information given to consumers to make Europewide comparisons easier. Similarly, it will be the responsibility of the creditor, in accordance with the principle of "responsible lending", to check whether the consumer and, where applicable, the guarantor are in a position to meet new commitments. The September 2002 proposals also included provisions in respect of borrowers drawing down credit under the terms of their mortgage loans. In January 2004, the European Parliament published a re-drafted form of the proposed Directive. Significantly, the re-draft excluded loans secured by a mortgage on land. The European Parliament approved this re-draft on its first reading on April 20, 2004. In October 2004, the European Commission published an amended Form of the proposed Directive. The U.K. Department of Trade and Industry ("DTI") has consulted with consumer and industry organizations on the proposal and in February 2005 published a consultation paper on the form of the proposed Directive.

New Basel Capital Accord

The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision published the text of a new capital adequacy framework on 26 June 2004 under the title "International Convergence of Capital Measurement and Capital Standards: a Revised Framework" ("Basel 2"). This new framework replaces the existing 1988 Basel Accord and places enhanced emphasis on market discipline and sensitivity to risk.

On 14 July, 2004 the European Commission published its consultation paper on the proposed Capital Requirements Directive (the "CRD"), by which Basel 2 will be implemented in the EU. Although Basel 2 applies only to banks, the CRD will apply the Basel 2 principles both to banks and to investment firms. The CRD aims to implement Basel 2 in the EU by "recasting" each of the BCD and the CAD so that they comply with the new capital adequacy framework.

The various approaches under the Basel 2 framework and the proposed CRD will be implemented in stages, some from year-end 2006, the most advanced at year-end 2007.

Northern Rock has a Basel project team which is working to ensure that the capital benefits of the New Basel Capital Accord are available to Northern Rock as quickly as possible.

U.K. Regulations

The Companies Acts govern the fundamental concepts of constitutional issues, company registration and the format and production of annual reports and accounts applicable to such entities including Northern Rock. As a U.K. public limited company listed on the London Stock Exchange, Northern Rock is obliged to comply with a code of practice known as the Combined Code regarding corporate governance. Further, as part of the continuing obligations of Northern Rock under the listing rules of the UK Listing Authority (the body which approved Northern Rock's listing on the London Stock Exchange) and the disclosure rules of the FSA (defined below), it must disclose, through a regulatory information service, all "inside information" (broadly speaking, information which would, if generally available, be likely to have a significant effect on the price of its securities listed on the London Stock Exchange).

The undertaking of certain activities in the U.K. subjects the relevant entity to further regulatory regimes. The most significant regimes relevant to Northern Rock are discussed below.

The principal piece of legislation governing the establishment, supervision and regulation of financial services in the UK is the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the "FSMA"). The Financial Services Authority (the "FSA") is the single regulator for the full range of financial business in the U.K.; it derives its powers under the FSMA and regulates both the prudential aspects and conduct (including market conduct) of those businesses.

The FSMA prohibits any person from carrying on a "regulated activity" in the U.K. unless that person is an "authorized person" under the FSMA or is specifically exempted from such provision. The list of "regulated activities" under the FSMA includes deposit-taking and activities relating to investment and insurance businesses.

Banking (Acceptance of Deposits)

Northern Rock is authorised by the FSA to accept deposits in the U.K.

The FSA monitors the liquidity of the U.K. banking sector through a series of periodic returns covering both sterling and non-sterling operations. U.K. banks are required to maintain, in interest-free accounts at the Bank of England, a non-operational cash balance of a percentage of eligible liabilities. The FSA also requires banks to report (among other things), and in some cases obtain consent for, large single exposures and large exposures to related borrowers.

The Banking Code (the "Code") is a voluntary code adopted by U.K. banks and building societies. It sets the minimum standards of service that personal customers can expect from all banks and building societies which subscribe to the Code. The Code covers the responsibilities of the banks and building societies to their personal customers in connection with the operation of their accounts. The Code became effective in March 1992, with subsequent revisions in March 1994, March 1997, March 1999, January 2001, March 2003 and March 2005. Northern Rock has adopted the Code. Compliance with the Code is monitored by the Banking Code Standards Board ("BCSB").

Investment Business

The conduct of investment business is regulated in the U.K. in that, among other things, "dealing in", "arranging deals in", "managing", "safeguarding and administering" and "advising on" investments are "regulated activities" under the FSMA. The Group has the appropriate authorization under the FSMA to conduct its investment business activities.

The marketing and promotion of investments ("investments" includes rights under a contract of insurance) in the U.K. is prohibited under the FSMA unless the promotion is made by an authorized person or the communication is approved by an authorized person. Various exemptions apply as reflected in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2001.

Under the former regulatory regime, "Listed money market institutions" were exempted from the provisions of the Financial Services Act 1986 in respect of their money market activities only. Northern Rock was granted listed money market institution status and that status was "grandfathered" into the new regime under the FSMA. Such money market activities remain regulated by the FSA which expects such entities to observe the relevant chapters of the FSA Handbook (in particular, the chapter entitled "Inter-Professional Conduct"). Given the nature of Northern Rock's money market activity, the Non-Investment Products Code (NIPs) is also applicable to this business.

Northern Rock Financial Services Limited is a non-trading company which resigned from FSA regulation in April 2003 following completion of the review of personal pensions mis-selling.

Insurance

NORMIC is the only subsidiary of Northern Rock which undertakes insurance business.

NORMIC is a Guernsey-registered company, and consequently is regulated by Guernsey law and the Guernsey Financial Services Commission.

Financial Services Compensation Scheme

Depositors are protected in respect of their deposits with authorized institutions in the U.K. Payments under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme ("FSCS") are limited to 100% of the first £2,000 of a depositor's total deposits with the institution and 90% of the next £33,000, resulting in a maximum payment of £31,700. The FSCS is financed by a levy on all authorized institutions in proportion to their deposit base which includes deposits in sterling, other European Economic Area currencies and the euro.

The FSCS also applies to investments, and covers loss arising when an investment business goes out of business and is unable to make payments to investors and also loss arising from bad investment advice or poor investment management. Payments under the FSCS for a claim against an investment firm are limited to 100% of the first £30,000 of an investor's total investment and 90% of the next £20,000, resulting in a maximum payment of £48,000.

Dispute Resolution

The FSMA gives the FSA the power to make rules relating to the handling of complaints by firms and provides for the establishment of an independent dispute resolution scheme to resolve complaints about financial services firms quickly and with minimum formality. The body established to administer and operate this scheme is the Financial Ombudsman Service Limited.

Regulation of Mortgage Business

Mortgage lending and services, the arranging of mortgages and the giving of mortgage advice in the U.K. became a regulated activity under the FSMA on October 31, 2004 (the date known as "N(M)"). The Mortgages: Conduct of Business Sourcebook ("MCOB") covers conduct of business requirements for authorized persons in respect of regulated mortgage contracts. These rules provide for, amongst other things, certain pre-origination matters, such as financial promotions and draft pre-application illustrations, start of contract disclosures, post-sale disclosures (annual statements), rules on contract charges and arrears and repossessions. The MCOB came into force on N(M).

The regime under the FSMA regulating financial promotions also covers the content and manner of promotions of regulated mortgage products, and by whom such promotion can be issued or approved.

Northern Rock is authorised to carry on such regulated mortgage business.

Other Relevant Legislation & Regulation

The Consumer Credit Act 1974 (the "CCA") regulates the provision of secured and unsecured loans for amounts up to £25,000 and ancillary credit businesses such as credit brokerage and debt collecting. On July 25, 2001, the DTI issued a consultation paper with a view to updating and modernizing the CCA. A summary of the responses was published by the DTI on February 15, 2002. In November 2002, the DTI announced its intention that a credit agreement will be required for credit agreements made after this change is implemented: (a) where the borrower is or includes an individual, save for partnerships of four or more partners, (b) irrespective of the amount of credit (although in July 2003, the DTI announced its intention that the financial limit of £25,000 will remain for certain business-to-business lending), and (c) where the credit agreement is not an exempt agreement. If this change is implemented, then any loan or further advance originated or varied bilaterally after this time, other than a regulated mortgage contract under the FSMA or an exempt agreement under the CCA, will be regulated by the CCA. Such loan or further advance will have to comply with requirements as to form and content of the credit agreement and, if it does not comply, will be unenforceable against the borrower. A Consumer Credit Bill containing these provisions was introduced into Parliament in 2005. This Bill lapsed with the dissolution of Parliament on 11 April 2005, but was re-introduced in Parliament on 18 May 2005. Further proposals to amend the CCA and secondary legislation made under it are expected at an unspecified time.

So as to avoid dual regulation the FSA has expressed its intention that regulated mortgage contracts will not be covered by the CCA. This carve-out only affects mortgages entered into on or after N(M). Before that date, the CCA will continue to be the relevant legislation. For the avoidance of doubt, regulated mortgage contracts will, however, be enforceable only under court order obtained pursuant to section 126 of the CCA, notwithstanding their regulation under the FSMA where those contracts would otherwise be regulated or treated as regulated by the CCA.

A number of changes to the current CCA regime were introduced in October 2004, notably changes to the consumer credit advertising promotions rules and changes to the form and content of credit agreements and to early settlement rules.

The Data Protection Act 1998 regulates, among other things, the retention and use of data relating to individual customers. Each company in the Group has made appropriate notifications under that Act.

The Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1999 came into force in October 1999. These Regulations (together with the Unfair Contract Terms Act 1977, the "Regulations") apply to certain contracts for goods and services entered into with consumers. The main effect of the Regulations is that a contractual term covered by the Regulations which is "unfair" will not be enforceable against a consumer. The Regulations apply, among other things, to mortgages and related products and services. The FSA Handbook contains guidance on the FSA's approach under the Regulations in respect of financial services contracts.

Unclaimed Assets – Budget 2004

As part of the U.K.'s Chancellor of the Exchequer's budget statement issued on March 17, 2004, the U.K. Government stated its support of the efforts of the British Bankers' Association, the Building Societies' Association and National Savings and Investments in trying to reunite unclaimed assets and their owners. A voluntary scheme is proposed whereby unclaimed assets be reinvested in society, as long as the original owners' entitlements to reclaim are preserved, via charitable and voluntary organizations.

Northern Rock, together with other U.K. banks and the British Bankers' Association, are considering the implications of the budget statement.

BOARD PRACTICES

Corporate Governance

Northern Rock regards adherence to the principles of good corporate governance to be of the utmost importance. The Board is accountable to Northern Rock's shareholders for corporate governance, and the following describes how Northern Rock applies the principles and provisions contained in the Combined Code of Corporate Governance published in July 2003 (the "Combined Code"). The Listing Rules of the United Kingdom Listing Authority require listed companies to disclose how they comply with the Combined Code and, where they do not do so, to provide a clear explanation of why they do not comply. For the period January 1, 2004 to December 31, 2004 Northern Rock complied with all aspects of the Combined Code.

The Board of Directors

The Board of Directors meets regularly throughout the year, retains full and effective control over the Company and its subsidiaries (the Group), is collectively responsible for the success of the Group and determines its strategy and policies whilst monitoring performance. The Board met eleven times during 2004 and, after the retirement of Sir John Riddell and Sir David Chapman on 27 April 2004, comprised the Chairman, the Senior Independent Director, four other Non-Executive Directors, the Chief Executive and two other Executive Directors.

The Board has a formal written schedule of matters reserved for its review and approval and has adopted a detailed procedures manual which covers the responsibilities and procedures of the Board, its Committees and its officers. This includes setting policies for Balance Sheet structural risk management, the raising of Non Retail Funds, Liquidity and Credit Risk, the setting of capital expenditure budgets, the declaration of dividends and the approval of the Annual Report and Accounts.

Authority for the execution of approved policies has been delegated by the Board to the Company's Executive Committee and the Chief Executive. The Executive Committee comprises the Chief Executive, the other Executive Directors and the Company Secretary.

Within the parameters set out in the Committee's terms of reference, the Executive Committee has responsibility for facilitating the Company's effective operation to ensure that it meets its objectives through the implementation of the Strategic and Operational Plans. The Committee also monitors developments in the Company's core markets, and examines, appraises and reviews defence initiatives, potential acquisitions and corporate finance initiatives. It also establishes processes to control, appraise and review the implementation of any new procedures that are agreed upon.

The Management Board Asset and Liability Committee is responsible for overseeing the management and review of the Company's balance sheet risk profile and processes together with the Company's balance sheet, profit and loss and liquidity profiles. In addition, the Committee has authority to authorise use by the Company of structured financial products and private equity investments in accordance with the polices and procedures set down in the Corporate Finance and Structured Financial Policy statement approved by the Board.

A clear division of responsibility exists between the Chairman, who is responsible for running the Board and the Chief Executive who has responsibility for running the business. This division is clearly set out in the Chairman's letter of appointment and the Chief Executive's job description.

Appointments to the Board

The Company's Articles of Association require that each Director stand for re-election at least every three years and that Directors appointed by the Board should be subject to election by shareholders at the first opportunity after their appointment. The Directors to retire by rotation will be those in office longest since their previous re-election. Non-Executive Directors are appointed for a specified term subject to re-election.

The Company's policy is that Non-Executive Directors will stand down from office at the conclusion of the next Annual General Meeting following their seventieth birthday.

Directors

More than half of the Board comprises Non-Executive Directors all of whom have experience in a wide range of commercial and banking activities. The Board considers all of the Non-Executive Directors to be independent for the purposes of the definition in the Combined Code. This requires the Board to determine whether each Director is independent in character and judgement and whether there are relationships or circumstances which are likely to affect, or could appear to affect, the Director's judgement.

It is the Company's policy that every Director should receive appropriate training on the first occasion that he or she is appointed to the Board, and subsequently as necessary. A detailed induction process exists for new Directors and, to ensure that Directors are able to discharge their responsibilities effectively, this is supported by an ongoing training programme. As part of the annual appraisal process, Directors are asked to identify areas where additional training is required.

To enable the Board to function effectively, all Directors have full and timely access to all information which may be relevant to the discharge of their duties and obligations. The Company arranges additional, specific training or support for any Director who requests it.

The Chairman ensures that all Directors are properly briefed on issues to be discussed at Board meetings. All Directors are able to obtain further advice or seek clarity on issues raised at Board meetings from within the Company or from external professional sources. All Directors have access to the advice and services of the Company Secretary who is responsible for ensuring that Board procedures and applicable rules and regulations are observed. Additionally, the Company Secretary provides regular reports to the Board to ensure that it remains up to date on the latest regulatory, legal and governance developments relevant to the Company and its officers. Where necessary, the Directors are able to take independent professional advice at the Company's expense.

Chairman's Appointment

As announced on 17 July 2003 Dr M W Ridley succeeded Sir John Riddell as Chairman of the Company on 27 April 2004. The selection process to identify Sir John's successor commenced in 2002 and was conducted by the Nominations Committee in accordance with governance standards and best practice in force prior to the publication of the revised Combined Code.

Board Appraisal

The Combined Code requires that Non-Executive Directors, the Board and its Committees should be subject to annual appraisal. Where a Non-Executive Director is proposed for re-election beyond six years, the proposal should be subject to a particularly rigorous review, and should take into account the need for progressive refreshing of the Board.

All Executive Directors, Non-Executive Directors and the Chairman were subject to an appraisal during the financial year under review to ensure that their contribution continued to be of the highest standard. The Chief Executive and all of the Non-Executive Directors were appraised by the Chairman whilst the appraisal of the Group Finance Director and Chief Operating Officer was completed by the Chief Executive. The Senior Independent Director conducted the appraisal of the Chairman, after meeting with the Non-Executive Directors in absence of the Chairman and having also canvassed the opinions of the Executive Directors.

For the year under review, the conclusion of the appraisal exercise was that each Non-Executive Director, Executive Director and the Chairman demonstrated a continued commitment and effective contribution to their position. The terms of appointment of each Non-Executive Director have been renewed for a further year with effect from 1 January 2005, subject to re-election where appropriate at the Annual General Meeting held in April 2005.

As part of the appraisal exercise, each individual also completed an evaluation of the Board and its Committees to enable the Secretary to report to the Board on how effective each was in discharging its responsibilities. The appraisal exercise was completed by the Board considering and debating the Secretary's report and reviewing the respective strengths and weaknesses of the Board, its members and its Committees. The Secretary reported to the Board that the evaluation of the Board and its Committees showed that they were discharging their responsibilities effectively and confirmed the process also provided useful feedback that would be used to improve current practice and procedures.

Board Committees

In accordance with the Combined Code, the Board has established a number of Committees to assist it in the way that it deals with matters that are reserved for its consideration. The Chairman and membership of each Committee are set out on page 90.

Each Committee has detailed terms of reference clearly setting out its remit and authority. In accordance with the Combined Code, the terms of reference of the Audit, Nominations, Remuneration and Risk Committees are available on the Company's website and on request in writing from the Company Secretary.

In addition to the meetings of the Board and the Committees which took place throughout the year, the Chairman also held meetings with Non-Executive Directors in absence of the Executive Directors and Sir George Russell met with the Non-Executive Directors in absence of the Chairman and the Executives.

The following paragraphs set out details of the Committees and the particular work that they undertake.

Audit Committee

The Audit Committee comprises five independent Non-Executive Directors and met six times during 2004. It considers and, where appropriate, advises the Board on all matters relating to regulatory, prudential and accounting requirements that may affect the Group. It also reports to the Board on both financial and non-financial controls. An important aspect of its role is to ensure that an objective and professional relationship is maintained with the external auditors.

The Audit Committee has responsibility for recommending the appointment, re-appointment and removal of the external auditors. In February 2004, the Audit Committee reviewed the effectiveness of the external auditors and made a recommendation that they be re-appointed for a further 12 months. The Board accepted this recommendation and an appropriate resolution was passed at the 2004 Annual General Meeting.

The Audit Committee reviews the scope and results of the annual external audit, its cost effectiveness, and the independence and objectivity of the external auditors. It also reviews the nature and extent of any non-audit services provided by the external auditors. The external auditors may attend all meetings and have direct access to the Audit Committee and its Chairman at all times. The Chief Internal Auditor provides further assurance that the significant risks identified by the business are properly managed. The Chief Internal Auditor has direct access to the Audit Committee and its Chairman. The Executive Directors are not members of the Audit Committee but attend meetings by invitation of the Audit Committee, as necessary, to facilitate its business.

The Audit Committee reviews the internal control system on behalf of the Board and is also responsible for reviewing the effectiveness of the Internal Audit function. At each meeting the Committee receives reports of reviews conducted throughout the Company by the Internal Audit and (periodically) Compliance functions.

The Combined Code requires the Board to be satisfied that at least one member of the Audit Committee has recent and relevant financial experience. The Board is satisfied in this regard and, in addition, in the opinion of the Board the qualifications of each of the Audit Committee members gives the Audit Committee the breadth of financial experience to discharge its responsibilities.

Chairman's Committee

The principal function of the Chairman's Committee is to review the Company's strategy and to consider any major operational issues or proposals for significant new initiatives that may arise. The Committee only meets as a formal Committee in exceptional circumstances and its activities are reported to the Board. The Committee is made up of the Chairman, the Executive Directors and the Company Secretary.

Nominations Committee

The Nominations Committee is made up of the Chairman and two independent Non-Executive Directors. The Committee met three times during 2004. It monitors and reviews the membership of, and succession to, the Board of Directors and the Committee makes recommendations to the Board in this regard. One of its functions is to identify potential Executive and Non-Executive Directors taking into account the requirement for the members of the Board to have an appropriate range of skills and experience to understand the activities of Northern Rock and its subsidiary undertakings.

During 2004, the Nominations Committee assessed the size of the Board, the attributes of the Board members, the continued growth of the Company and its strategic aims. The Committee concluded that, whilst the Company placed an appropriate level of demand on its Directors, the performance of the Board and its Committees would be enhanced by the appointment of two further Non-Executive Directors and two further Executive Directors.

The Company therefore announced on 5 January 2005 that with immediate effect Mr Queen would be joining the Board as a Non-Executive Director and that Mr Kuipers and Mr Currie would be joining the Board as Executive Directors. Mr Queen will augment the Board's financial expertise and has joined the Board's Audit and Remuneration Committees, whilst the promotions of Mr Kuipers and Mr Currie reflect the importance of the Marketing and Treasury functions to the Company's strategy. In addition to these appointments the Company also announced on 5 January 2005 that Miss Radcliffe would join the Board as a Non-Executive Director with effect from 1 March 2005. As a former Independent Complaints Commissioner for the Financial Services Authority, Miss Radcliffe will increase the Board's regulatory expertise and will join the Board's Remuneration and Risk Committees.

The Company believes that the appointment of all four individuals is in the best interests of its shareholders. It should be noted that Spencer Stuart Recruitment Limited has no other connection with the Company.

Remuneration Committee

The Remuneration Committee comprises six independent Non-Executive Directors and met twice in 2004. It is responsible for considering and advising the Board on the remuneration policy for Executive Directors and the Chairman, and for determining their remuneration packages. In discharging its responsibilities the Remuneration Committee takes professional advice from within and outside the Company. It is the Board's responsibility to determine the remuneration policy for Non-Executive Directors within the limits set in the Articles of Association. The Remuneration Committee also determines the level of remuneration for the Company's Management Board Directors (comprising management at the level immediately below the Board).

In accordance with the requirements of the Directors' Remuneration Report Regulations 2002 further information may be found in the Company's Directors' Remuneration Report.

Risk Committee

The Risk Committee comprises three independent Non-Executive Directors plus Mr Applegarth, Mr Baker and Mr Bennett. The Risk Committee met four times during 2004. The main role of the Risk Committee is to review, on behalf of the Board, the key risks inherent in the business, the system of control necessary to manage such risks, and to present their findings to the Board.

This responsibility requires the Risk Committee to keep under review the effectiveness of the Group's system of internal controls, which includes financial, operational, compliance and risk management controls and to foster a culture that emphasizes and demonstrates the benefits of a risk-based approach to internal control and management of the Group. The Risk Committee fulfils this remit by reinforcing management's control consciousness and making appropriate recommendations to the Board on all significant matters relating to the Group's risk strategy and policies.

Other responsibilities of the Risk Committee include keeping under review the effectiveness of the Group's risk management infrastructure. This involves an assessment of risk management procedures (for the identification, measurement and control of key risk exposures) in accordance with changes in the operating environment. It is also primarily responsible for considering the major findings of any of the Financial Services Authority or internal/external audit's risk management review and management's response.

To assist the Board in discharging its responsibilities for the setting of Risk policy, the Risk Committee periodically reviews the Group's credit risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk and operational risk exposures in relation to the Board's risk appetite and the Group's capital adequacy. The Risk Committee also ensures that the public disclosure of information regarding the Group's risk management policies and key risk exposures is in accordance with the statutory requirements and financial reporting standards.

Internal Control

The Board of Directors is responsible for the Group's system of internal control and for annually reviewing its effectiveness. The system of internal control is designed to manage risk rather than eliminate it and in this regard, the Board considers that Northern Rock is a well-controlled, risk-averse business that continues to adopt a prudent stance in the management of risk. The Board has reviewed the effectiveness of the system of internal control and is satisfied that there is a sound system of internal control that safeguards shareholders' investments and the Company's assets.

In accordance with the guidance set out in the Turnbull Guidance on Internal Control, the Company has an ongoing process for identifying, evaluating and managing the significant risks faced by it. This process was in place for the period 1 January 2004 to 31 December 2004 and remained in place on the date that the 2004 Annual Report and Accounts was approved by the Board. As part of the Company's continuing evaluation of Internal Control, the Board has reviewed and (where necessary) updated the process for identifying and evaluating significant risks affecting the business and the policies and procedures by which these risks are managed.

The Company is committed to developing and maintaining a control-conscious culture in all areas. This is achieved through a well-defined organizational structure with clear reporting lines and a commitment to recruiting and training staff governed by appropriate codes of conduct. In addition, the Group maintains procedure manuals that detail the procedures to control physical and logical access, segregation of duties and credit, expenditure and other authorization limits. There are well-established budgetary and strategic planning cycles, and the Board reviews the results monthly against budgets, forecasts and prior year actual results, together with other key business measures.

The Chief Executive reports to the Board on behalf of the Executive Committee on significant changes in the business and the external environment which affect significant risks. The Board also receives monthly financial information, which includes key performance and risk indicators. Where areas for improvement in the system are identified, the Board considers the recommendations made by the Executive Committee, the Risk Committee and the Audit Committee.

A detailed description of the Group's approach to financial risk management and the related use of derivatives is set out in note 37 to the consolidated financial statements. Material risk exposures are subject to Board policy statements that set out the exposure limits of the risks and the hedges and control techniques to be utilised. In addition, regular reporting of all risk exposures is monitored throughout the Company by the Operational Risk Committee whose membership is drawn from each of the Company's departments within which operational risk may arise.

The Company's Internal Audit function provides a degree of assurance as to the operation and validity of the system of internal control and planned corrective actions are independently monitored for timely completion.

Communications

A Summary Financial Statement is issued to all shareholders and a copy of the Annual Report and Accounts and The Northern Rock Foundation's report is available by written request to the Company Secretary or from the Northern Rock website: www.northernrock.co.uk. The Company communicates regularly with its shareholders who are given the opportunity to raise matters for discussion at the Annual General Meeting. The Company also deals with a number of written enquiries from shareholders throughout the year.

Going Concern

The Directors are satisfied that the Group has adequate resources to continue in business for the foreseeable future. For this reason, they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the accounts.

Statement of Directors' Responsibilities

The Companies Act 1985 requires the Directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Company and Group as at the end of the year and of the profit or loss of the Group for the year.

The Directors consider that in preparing the financial statements appropriate accounting policies, consistently applied and supported by reasonable and prudent judgements and estimates, have been used and that applicable accounting standards have been followed.

The Directors are responsible for ensuring that the Company and Group keeps accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the Company and Group's financial position and that enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 1985. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Company and Group and hence for taking reasonable steps to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

DIRECTORS' REMUNERATION REPORT

Summary

The Directors' Remuneration Report contains the following information:

- A description of the role of the Remuneration Committee;
- A summary of the Group's Remuneration Policy including a statement of the Company's policy on Directors' remuneration;
- Graphs illustrating the performance of the Company relative to the FTSE 100 Index and the FTSE 350 Index for the last five years;
- Details of the terms of the service contracts and the remuneration of each Director for the preceding financial year;
- Details of the share options and awards under long-term incentive schemes held by the Directors; and
- Details of each Director's interest in Ordinary Shares in the Company.

This Report complies with the Directors' Remuneration Report Regulations 2002 ("the Regulations"). This Report also sets out how the principles of the Combined Code relating to Executive Director remuneration are applied by the Group.

Shareholders approved the Directors' Remuneration Report at the Annual General Meeting on 26 April 2005.

The Remuneration Committee

The Remuneration Committee consists entirely of independent Non-Executive Directors. Where appropriate, the Chairman and Chief Executive attend meetings of the Remuneration Committee by invitation of the Committee, save that they are absent when their own remuneration is under consideration. The Remuneration Committee operates within agreed terms of reference and has responsibility for making recommendations to the Board on the Group's general policy relating to executive remuneration. It also determines, on behalf of the Board, specific remuneration packages for the Chairman, the Executive Directors and the Management Board Directors, being the level of management immediately below the Board.

The Remuneration Committee meets regularly and takes advice from both inside and outside the Group on a range of matters, including the scale and composition of the total remuneration package payable in comparable financial institutions to people with similar qualifications, skills and experience.

The following persons provided advice or services that materially assisted the Remuneration Committee in its consideration of Directors' remuneration matters during the year:

- The Committee consulted the Chief Executive on matters relating to the remuneration of the other Executive Directors who report to him. The Chairman was also consulted in relation to the remuneration of all Executive Directors;
- Internal support was provided to the Remuneration Committee by the Company Secretary;
- Watson Wyatt LLP advised the Remuneration Committee on a range of issues including the benchmarking of Executive Directors' salaries and the Chairman's fee. In addition to providing this advice to the Remuneration Committee, Watson Wyatt LLP are consulting actuaries to the Company and advised on various pension issues;
- Inbucon Administration Ltd were responsible for preparing Total Shareholder Return calculations for the purposes of the Company's Long Term Incentive Plan and this Remuneration Report. Inbucon Administration Ltd did not provide other advice or services to the Company; and
- Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer advised the Company on various share plan matters and compliance with the Directors' Remuneration Report Regulations. They are the Company's main legal advisor.

Compliance

The Group has complied with the Combined Code's provisions relating to Directors' remuneration throughout the year.

Remuneration policy for Executive Directors

The Remuneration Committee believes that the continuing improvement in performance of Northern Rock depends on individual contributions made by the Executive Directors. For this reason, the remuneration policy is designed to provide competitive packages to motivate, reward and retain Executive Directors of high quality and to align their interests with those of shareholders.

The Board has adopted, on the recommendation of the Remuneration Committee, a remuneration policy with the objectives set out below. It is intended that this policy should continue to apply for 2005 and subsequent years:

(i) the remuneration packages for Executive Directors are designed to be competitive in terms of market practice;

(ii) performance-related remuneration should seek to align the interests of Executive Directors with those of the shareholders through the imposition of stretching corporate performance targets and the satisfaction of most short and longer term incentives in the form of shares; and

(iii) to motivate for future achievement, a significant proportion of remuneration should be based on operational and financial performance both in the short and long term together with the individual contribution made by the Executive Directors.

The Remuneration Committee regularly reviews all aspects of remuneration to ensure these remain appropriate. This report sets out the Company's policy on Executive Directors' remuneration for 2005 and, so far as practicable, for subsequent years. The inclusion in the report of remuneration policy in respect of years after 2005 is required by the Regulations. The Remuneration Committee is able to state its remuneration policy for 2005 with reasonable certainty, and this policy will continue in subsequent years unless changed by the Remuneration Committee. The Remuneration Committee considers that a successful remuneration policy needs to be sufficiently flexible to take account of future changes in the Company's business environment and in remuneration practice.

Any changes in policy for years after 2005 will be described in future Directors' Remuneration Reports; such reports will continue to be subject to shareholder approval. All statements in this report in relation to remuneration policy for years after 2005 should be read in light of this paragraph.

Elements of remuneration

Remuneration comprises: basic salary, annual bonus, pension benefits and benefits in kind. In addition, Executive Directors and senior executives participate in certain share based incentive schemes, comprising the bonus matching plan, deferred share scheme and long term incentive plan. These share-based incentive schemes, and the annual bonus, are performance-related, and the Remuneration Committee regards them as a key element in the Executive Directors' remuneration package.

As a result of changes to the performance-related elements of remuneration in recent years (including, from 2005, the proposed imposition of a corporate performance condition on awards vesting under the bonus matching plan and deferred share scheme, and the increase in annual bonus potential as described below), the performance-related element of total potential remuneration has materially increased in recent years.

Basic salary

The Committee's objective is that Executive Directors' basic salaries should be paid at an appropriate level to take account of both personal performance and of salaries within a comparator group of financial institutions. The Committee considers that exceptional performance, whether corporate or individual, should be rewarded through bonus and incentive schemes rather than basic salary.

Salaries are reviewed annually for each Executive Director, and revised salaries took effect from 1 January 2005 as follows:

A J Applegarth	£625,000	(2004 – £565,000)
D F Baker	£390,000	(2004 – £375,000)
R F Bennett	£390,000	(2004 – £375,000)

Mr A M Kuipers and Mr K M Currie were appointed to the Board on 5 January 2005, and their initial salaries were £270,000 each.

The revised salaries of the Executive Directors have been benchmarked against salaries paid for similar positions in banks in the FTSE 100 Index and for companies in positions 51 – 75 in the FTSE 100 Index.

During 2004, the Company's 13 Management Board Directors were paid salaries ranging from £90,000 to £215,000.

Short term bonus scheme

Northern Rock operates a short-term cash bonus scheme under which payments are made on an annual basis at the discretion of the Remuneration Committee. All of the Executive Directors and certain senior executives participate in this scheme.

This cash bonus scheme relates to year-on-year increases in the Group's pre-tax profit on ordinary activities, with increases in pre-tax profits generating a bonus payment equal to a percentage of salary. Only where there is an increase in adjusted like-for-like pre-tax profits will Executive Directors be eligible for a short term bonus. Every 1% increase in pre-tax profits generates a bonus payment equal to 5% of salary with a maximum of 75% of salary by way of bonus for 15% increase in profits (with a sliding scale between these points). Payment of one-third of the bonus will be subject to the Remuneration Committee's view of the participant's personal performance, and the remaining two-thirds relates to the performance of the business. The bonus payable is reduced by the value of shares appropriated under the all-employee Inland Revenue Approved Share Incentive Plan for the year, to the extent needed to ensure that the relevant bonus cap is not exceeded.

On this basis, the bonus earned in respect of 2004 was 65.15% of salary.

For 2005 the Remuneration Committee will continue to operate the cash bonus scheme on the basis described above however, following a careful review of bonus arrangements (and consideration of a review by Watson Wyatt LLP of comparator companies), whilst every 1% increase in pre-tax profits will continue to generate a bonus equal to 5% of salary, the bonus cap has been increased to 100% of salary for a 20% increase in profits.

Bonus matching plan

Participants are also encouraged to identify with the interests of shareholders by investing some of their own funds in Northern Rock. Executive Directors (and other senior executives invited by the Remuneration Committee to participate) are entitled to elect for all or part of the after tax amount of their annual cash bonus to be used to acquire shares which will be held for a period of three years; alternatively they may elect to deposit their own shares with an aggregate value not exceeding the cash amount of the after tax bonus. The shares acquired or deposited will be eligible for additional "matched" shares at the end of the three-year period, provided the participant has remained an employee of the Group. The plan is designed to achieve one-for-one matching on an after tax basis. As the participant's shares are invested in the plan on an after-tax basis, but the matched shares only attract income tax and national insurance contributions if and when they are released from the plan, the number of matched shares is increased (by reference to tax rates at the time the matching shares are initially awarded) to reflect the fact that they will attract income tax and national insurance contributions if and when they are released. Entitlement to the matched shares will normally be lost if the participant leaves employment except in certain "good leaver" circumstances. For awards made in 2005 and in future years, the release of matched share awards will be dependent on the Group achieving average real EPS growth of 3% per annum over the three financial years pending their release. The imposition of this target was approved by shareholders at the Annual General Meeting on 26 April 2005.

For 2004 and previous years, the release of matched share awards was not dependent on satisfaction of a further performance condition because the value of matched share awards was derived from the annual bonus criteria and was therefore dependent on corporate performance.

The bonus matching plan was operated in respect of 2004, resulting in the share awards described on page 101. The Remuneration Committee will continue to operate it in respect of 2005 and future years.

The beneficial ownership of the matched shares transfers to the participant on the grant of an award. The matched shares will be forfeited if the participant ceases to be entitled to them except in certain "good leaver" circumstances. The participant will be entitled to any dividends paid on his matched shares during the restricted period.

Deferred share scheme

Under a separate element of the short term bonus scheme, the Remuneration Committee may grant to Executive Directors and other executives who receive a cash bonus under that scheme an award of shares with a pre-tax value equal to the pre-tax value of his cash bonus. A participant who is granted an award must normally continue to hold these shares and remain an employee of the Group for a period of three years from the date of the award in order to retain the full number of shares so granted to him, although shares will be released earlier in certain "good leaver" circumstances. For awards made in 2005 and in future years, the release of any deferred share awards will be dependent on the Company achieving average real EPS growth of 3% per annum over the three financial years that the shares are held. The imposition of this target was approved by shareholders at the Annual General Meeting on 26 April 2005.

For 2004 and previous years, the release of deferred share awards was not dependent on satisfaction of a further performance condition because the value of deferred share awards was derived from annual bonus criteria and was therefore dependent on corporate performance.

This deferred share scheme was operated in respect of 2004 resulting in the share awards described on page 103. The Remuneration Committee will continue to operate the deferred share scheme in respect of 2005 and future years.

Long term incentive plan

All Executive Directors and certain senior executives participate in a long term incentive plan ("LTIP"), which was approved by shareholders in 1998. Awards have been made in 1998 and each subsequent year thereafter. The plan involves the grant of share awards, which can only be released if demanding performance targets are achieved and if the participant remains in employment, except in certain "good leaver" circumstances. The number of shares comprised in an award is calculated by reference to a percentage of salary, with the maximum award of shares being 100% of salary.

Performance is measured over a three-year period on the basis of total shareholder return ("TSR"), comparing the Company's performance to that of the companies in an appropriate index at the date of an award. The Remuneration Committee has decided that, for awards in 2005 and future years, the FTSE 100 Index will be used. For previous awards, the FTSE 350 Index was used because at the time the LTIP was approved in 1998, the Company's market capitalisation placed it around the mid-point of the constituents of that index. The Company joined the FTSE 100 Index in September 2001. The extent to which an award is realisable depends on the Company's ranking in this comparison. Awards are released on a sliding scale between median and top quartile performance with 25 per cent of an award being released for median performance and 100 per cent of the award being released for a ranking within the top quartile. If the Group's performance is below the median, none of the shares in an award will vest. There is no re-testing of targets.

There is also an earnings per share threshold, which requires that the Group's earnings per share growth over the three-year period must exceed the growth in the UK Retail Prices Index by an average of at least 3% per annum. This performance condition is designed to ensure that the vesting level of LTIP awards is dependent on satisfactory year-on-year financial performance as well as above-median TSR ranking.

The LTIP was operated in 2004, resulting in the share awards set out in the table on page 104. The Remuneration Committee will continue to operate it for Executive Directors in 2005 and future years. A separate share scheme, in substantially the same terms as the LTIP, has been adopted by the Remuneration Committee and is extended to 33 executives. This is also now subject to the FTSE 100 performance target. Executive Directors are not eligible to participate in this scheme, and awards under it will be satisfied with existing shares only.

All-employee share schemes

Executive Directors are eligible to participate in the Company's all-employee share schemes on the same terms as other employees. These schemes comprise:

(i) the Sharesave Scheme, a savings-related share option scheme available to all employees. This scheme operates within specific tax legislation (including a requirement to finance exercise of the option using the proceeds of a monthly savings contract), and exercise of the option is not subject to satisfaction of a performance target;

(ii) the Employee Share Option Scheme, an Inland Revenue approved share option scheme under which options have been granted to substantially all employees. Under this scheme the aggregate exercise value of unexercised options may not exceed £30,000. Options under this scheme may not be exercised unless real earnings per share of the Company has grown by more than 2% over the life of the option. This performance condition is designed to ensure that the exercisability of options is dependent on satisfactory year-on-year financial performance on a sustained basis; and

(iii) the Share Incentive Plan ("SIP"), under which the maximum value of free shares awarded to employees cannot exceed £3,000. The value of share awards under this scheme is dependent on the Group's profits. The SIP operates within specific tax legislation. Any payment made under the SIP together with any amount payable under the short term cash bonus scheme may not exceed the overall bonus cap from time to time.

The Remuneration Committee is satisfied that these schemes constitute a well considered overall plan for Executive Directors' and senior executives' long-term remuneration. These schemes are kept under regular review, to take account of changing circumstances. Bonus and share incentive scheme payments are not taken into account for pension purposes. It should be noted that the Executive Directors elected not to participate in the last two grants made under the Employee Share Option Scheme, namely those made in 2002 and 2005.

Pension benefits

The following section describes the pension arrangements currently in force for the Executive Directors. These arrangements will be affected by changes to the tax treatment of the current UK pension regime contained in the Finance Act 2004. The Remuneration Committee is currently reviewing appropriate actions to take in response to these changes and will report on the outcome next year.

It is the intention of the Committee that changes in pensions legislation expected to commence in 2006 will not increase the Directors' actuarial pension cost.

Each of the Executive Directors currently participates in the Northern Rock Pension Scheme, a contributory pension scheme which provides a pension of up to two-thirds of pensionable salary on retirement, dependent upon service. On death in service the scheme also provides for a dependent's pension and a lump sum of four times basic salary. This pension and life assurance is provided from the scheme (to the extent permitted by legislation) and otherwise from separate arrangements.

The normal retirement age under the pension scheme is 60 which enables members to achieve the maximum pension of 2/3rds of their salary at normal retirement age after 40 years service.

For death before retirement whilst in service, a capital sum equal to four times the annual rate of basic earnings, excluding Director's fees, is payable, plus a return of member's contributions. In addition, a pension of 50% of the member's prospective pension at the age of 60, based on pensionable earnings at death, is payable to a surviving spouse providing the couple were married before retirement. On death before retirement after leaving the scheme, a benefit of 50% of the member's deferred pension, re-valued to the date of death, is payable to a surviving spouse. For death in retirement, a spouse's pension of 50% of the member's pre-commutation pension is payable. In certain circumstances a children's allowance is payable, usually up to the age of 18 (or up to the age of 21 if they are in full-time education).

Subject to the Trustees' approval, early retirement may be granted from the age of 50, or at any age due to ill-health. The pension is calculated at the date of retirement based on accrued pensionable service and final pensionable earnings at that date. The pension will then be actuarially reduced to take account of early payment by an amount of 0.25% for each complete month before normal retirement date. The Company and the Trustees have agreed that if Mr A J Applegarth or Mr D F Baker (having attained age 55) retire with the consent of the Company they will receive immediate payment of their accrued pension without the application of an actuarial reduction. If Mr Applegarth or Mr Baker elect to retire after attaining the age of 55 without the consent of the Company they will receive an immediate pension being the accrued deferred pension reduced by 3% for each year or proportionate part thereof by which retirement precedes age 60.

Post retirement increases to pensions arising from membership of the defined benefit scheme are guaranteed each year at the rate of 3% per annum compound, subject to any guaranteed minimum pension. Pension benefits accrued after 5 April 1997 are guaranteed to increase in line with inflation, to a maximum of 5% per annum.

In addition to the normal scheme increases, and subject to the defined benefit scheme fund having adequate resources, the Trustees may award further discretionary increases each April.

Members of the scheme have the option to pay additional voluntary contributions to secure additional benefits within regulatory limits, to which the Company does not contribute.

The Company also operates an unapproved unfunded arrangement for Mr Bennett (which is provided for in the Company's accounts and maintains pension entitlement from previous employment) to provide additional benefits to the main scheme. The unfunded arrangement is designed to ensure that the individual (or his spouse) will receive the level of pension benefit in respect of his eligible earnings in excess of the pensions "earnings cap", currently £102,000 (2003/04 – £99,000) per annum, which are not pensioned by the Northern Rock Pension Scheme. Mr Bennett contributes 5% of his basic salary including those earnings in excess of the earnings cap. Mr Bennett's pension will accrue at the rate of 1/36th of pensionable earnings for each year (and pro rata for each part year) of pensionable service from 1 November 1993 (date joined pension scheme). In addition, all pension calculations shall include pensionable service brought forward from previous employers of 19 years 5 months at a rate of accrual of 1/60th per annum and 5 years 1 month at a rate of accrual of 1/36th per annum.

The total of the pension provided for Mr Bennett at normal retirement date or at any age after his 55th birthday, where the retirement is by mutual consent or at the Company's request, shall be the maximum of two thirds of his uncapped final pensionable earnings. If retirement occurs prior to age 60 without the consent of the Company, he may elect to receive an immediate pension being the accrued deferred pension with a maximum of two thirds of his uncapped final pensionable earnings reduced by 3% for each year (and proportionate for each part thereof) by which retirement precedes age 60. The aggregate of pension increases to be provided whether in deferment or in payment shall be the greater of 5% per annum or RPI, subject to any guaranteed minimum pension and the increases as granted by the Trustees of the scheme inclusive of any discretionary increases.

Should Mr Bennett die in service or in receipt of benefits under the Company's Permanent Health Insurance Scheme prior to age 60, a lump sum shall be paid of four times his earnings at death plus a return of his contributions. In addition, if he leaves a surviving spouse she shall receive a pension of four ninths of his uncapped final pensionable earnings. Any child or children under the age of 25 receiving full-time education would receive an allowance of one half of the entitlement of the surviving spouse. Should Mr Bennett die whilst in receipt of a pension prior to age 60, a lump sum of four times his earnings at retirement shall be payable. On death in receipt of a pension, any surviving spouse would receive a pension of two thirds of the pension Mr Bennett would have been receiving at death, ignoring any pension commuted for a tax free cash sum.

Any income tax or other related tax due on the Company's contribution to the unfunded arrangement which, under an uncapped arrangement, would not have been paid by Mr Bennett, will be borne by the Company up to two thirds of the contribution amount. In addition, any income tax or related tax due on the cash sum commutation will be borne by the Company up to two thirds of the commutation amount.

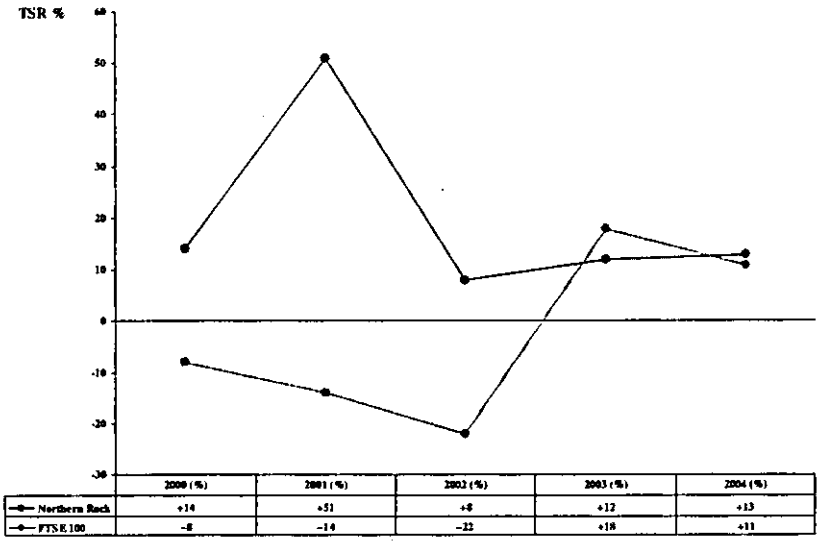
Benefits in kind

Each Executive Director is provided with company car and medical insurance benefits. The Executive Directors had as employees of Northern Rock Building Society (or in the case of Mr K M Currie and Mr A M Kuipers as employees of the Company prior to their appointment as Directors), entitlement to participate in a concessionary mortgage scheme at the discretion of the Board. No further new loans may be made under the scheme following conversion to plc status, but existing loans are not affected.

Policy on Executive Directors' service contracts

It is the policy of the Company that Executive Directors' service contracts can be terminated by 12 months' notice given to an Executive Director at any time. Each Executive Director can terminate his employment by giving 6 months' notice. All of the Executive Directors' contracts may be terminated immediately by Northern Rock either with (for Mr D F Baker and Mr R F Bennett) the payment of liquidated damages equal to 12 months' salary and the value of annual bonus and benefits or (for Mr A J Applegarth, Mr A M Kuipers and Mr K M Currie) a payment in lieu of notice equal to such amount. Mr Applegarth, Mr Baker and Mr Bennett would, in the event of a change of control of Northern Rock, be entitled to terminate employment and receive a liquidated damages payment calculated on the same basis. The terms of reference of the Remuneration Committee make it clear that the Remuneration Committee seeks, in appropriate circumstances to mitigate the amount of termination payments made to Executive Directors.

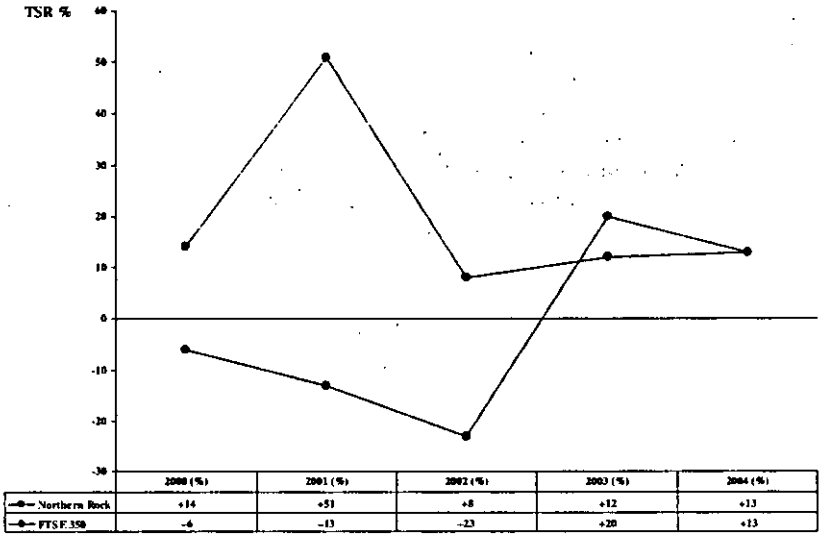
Policy on external non-executive directorships held by Executive Directors



Executive Directors are permitted to hold one external non-executive directorship unrelated to the Company's business, provided that the time commitment is not material. Executive Directors are permitted to retain any fees arising from such a non-executive directorship. On this basis, Mr R F Bennett is a Non-Executive Director of Greggs plc, and Mr Bennett was entitled to fees of £28,000 from that company in respect of 2004.

Performance graphs

The performance graphs set out below illustrate the Group's Total Shareholder Return ("TSR") performance over the preceding five years, 2000 to 2004, compared with that of the FTSE 100 Index of which Northern Rock has been a constituent since September 2001, and that of the FTSE 350 Index of which Northern Rock was a constituent prior to September 2001.



The FTSE 350 Index has been included because members of this index comprise the comparator group for long-term incentive plan purposes for 2004 and prior. The performance graphs have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations.

Remuneration of the Chairman and Non-Executive Directors

The remuneration of the Chairman is determined by the Remuneration Committee and that of the other Non-Executive Directors is determined by the Board as a whole, on the basis of external independent advice.

The Chairman's annual fee is £150,000. The Senior Independent Non-Executive Director's annual fee is £49,500. Non-Executive Directors receive an annual fee of £28,500. The fee payable for membership of each of the Audit, Nomination, Risk and Remuneration Committees is £2,500 or, where a Non-Executive Director is chairman of a Board Committee, the additional annual fee payable to them is £12,500. Following shareholder approval at the Annual General Meeting of an increase in the aggregate cap on fees payable to Non-Executive Directors, with effect from 26 April 2005:

(a) the Chairman's annual fee is increased to £250,000;

(b) the Senior Independent Non-Executive Director's annual fee is increased to £55,000;

(c) the Non-Executive Directors' annual fee is increased to £40,000;

(d) the annual fee payable for membership of each of the Audit, Nomination, Risk and Remuneration Committees is increased to £3,500; and

(e) where a Non-Executive Director is chairman of a Board Committee, the additional annual fee payable is increased to £13,000.

These proposed revised fees for the Chairman and Non-Executive Directors were determined after consideration of a report by Watson Wyatt LLP on the fees paid for similar roles at banks in the FTSE 100 Index, and for Companies positioned 51-75 in the FTSE 100 Index.

The Chairman and Non-Executive Directors serve the Company under letters of appointment, which are terminable by the Company at any time without liability for compensation; they do not have service contracts. The Chairman and Non-Executive Directors are entitled to fees from the Group and it is the Group's policy that they do not participate in bonus, incentive or pension schemes. However, Sir George Russell, who also served on the Board of Northern Rock Building Society, (see below) is a deferred member of a non-contributory pension scheme established by Northern Rock Building Society under which pension entitlement accrued for each complete year of qualifying service subject to a maximum of 60% of qualifying fees. This scheme ceased to accrue benefits after 30 June 1997.

The value of the bonus matching award is derived from the annual bonus criteria (relating to the year on year increases in the Group's pre-tax profits on like-for-like ordinary activities) and is therefore dependent on corporate performance. The release of bonus matching share awards at the end of the three year restricted period is not dependent on satisfaction of a further performance condition. For awards in 2005 and subsequent years, subject to shareholder approval at the 2005 AGM, the value of any bonus matching share awards will be dependent on the Group achieving real EPS growth of 3% per annum over the three years prior to their release.

The value of conditional awards is charged to the profit and loss account over the three year performance period to which they relate after taking account of the probability of performance criteria being met. In 2004 £879,251 was charged to the profit and loss account (2003 £874,716).

The gross awards granted in 2002 shown above, matured in January 2005 and led to the release at £7.73 per share of 72.7% of shares originally awarded. Subject to the performance criteria being met, other awards may be exercised during the three month period commencing on the third anniversary of the award dates. The awards will lapse if they are not exercised during these times.

Further awards were granted on 28 January 2005 at £7.73 per share as follows:

A J Applegarth	80,854
D F Baker	50,453
R F Bennett.	50,453

A M Kuipers (appointed 5 January 2005)	34,929

There were no variations made in the terms and conditions of the plan interests during 2004. The number of shares comprised in an award is calculated by reference to a percentage of salary, up to a maximum of 100% of salary. Shares may only be released if demanding performance targets are achieved and if the participant remains in employment, except in certain "good leaver" circumstances. In relation to awards granted in 2004 and previous years, performance is measured over a three year period on the basis of Total Shareholder Return, comparing the Company's performance to that of the other companies in the FTSE 350 Index at the date of the award. For awards in 2005 and subsequent years, the Company's Total Shareholder Return will be compared to that of other companies in the FTSE 100 Index at the date of the award. See pages 97 and 98 for further details.

R F Bennett	4,415,009	3,789,807	606,452	160,582

The accrued pension entitlement is the amount that the Director would receive if he retired at the end of the year. The increase in the accrued pension entitlement is the difference between the accrued pension entitlement at the year end and that at the previous year end.

All transfer values have been calculated on the basis of actuarial advice in accordance with Actuarial Guidance Note GN11. The transfer values of the accrued pension entitlement represent the value of assets that the pension scheme would need to transfer to another pension provider on transferring the scheme's liability in respect of the Directors' pension benefits. They do not represent the sums payable to individual Directors and, therefore, cannot be added meaningfully to annual remuneration.

The increase in the transfer value less Directors' contributions is the increase in the transfer value of the accrued pension entitlement during the year after deducting the Director's personal contributions to the scheme.

The transfer value of the increase in accrued pension entitlement, required by the Listing Rules, discloses the current value of the increase in accrued pension entitlement (excluding inflation) that the Director has earned in the period, whereas the change in his transfer value, required by the Companies Act, discloses the absolute increase or decrease in transfer values and thus includes the change in value of the accrued pension entitlement that results from market volatility affecting the transfer value over the year, as well as the value of the additional accrued pension entitlement earned in the year.

Including Mr R F Bennett's unfunded arrangement he has an estimated accrued annual pension entitlement at 31 December 2004 of £250,000. This is based on his total pensionable service of 11 years 2 months and his pensionable service of 19 years 5 months at the rate of accrual of 1/60th per annum and 5 years 1 month at the rate of accrual of 1/36th and his pensionable earnings above the earnings cap. The contributions cost during the year in respect of this unfunded arrangement amounted to £84,862 for the Company and £13,688 for Mr Bennett.

DESCRIPTION OF THE NOTES

The following description sets forth the material terms and provisions of the Notes to which any Final Terms may relate. The particular terms of the Notes offered by any Final Terms and the extent, if any, to which the general provisions described below may apply to the Notes so offered will be described in the Final Terms relating to such Notes. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings given to them in the Notes or the Indentures (as defined below), as the case may be. The following summaries do not purport to be complete and are subject to, and are qualified in their entirety by reference to, the terms and conditions of the Indentures, the Notes of each Series (as defined below) and the Final Terms related to the Notes of such Series. The terms and conditions of a Series of Notes, when combined with the applicable Final Terms, will comprise the complete terms and conditions of such Series.

General

The Senior Notes offered hereby will be issued under an Amended and Restated Senior Indenture, dated as of July 12, 2005 between Northern Rock and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas (formerly Bankers Trust), as Trustee (the "Senior Trustee"); together with the Trustees (as defined below) in their capacity as principal paying agents, the "Paying Agents", each a "Paying Agent") (such Indenture, as supplemented or amended from time to time, is referred to herein as the "Senior Indenture"). The Subordinated Notes offered hereby, which may be Dated Subordinated Notes or Perpetual Subordinated Notes, will be issued under an Amended and Restated Subordinated Indenture, dated as of July 12, 2005 between Northern Rock and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas as trustee and principal paying agent (the "Subordinated Trustee" and together with the Senior Trustee, the "Trustees") (such Indenture, as supplemented or amended from time to time, is referred to herein as the "Subordinated Indenture"; the Subordinated Indenture and the Senior Indenture are referred to herein collectively as the "Indentures" and individually as an "Indenture"). In connection with the listing of the Program on the EuroMTF, Northern Rock has appointed Deutsche Bank Luxembourg S.A. as Luxembourg paying and transfer agent (the "Luxembourg Paying Agent", which expression includes any additional or successor Luxembourg paying and transfer agents) pursuant to an Amended and Restated Luxembourg Paying and Transfer Agency Agreement, dated as of July 12, 2005 (as supplemented or amended from time to time, the "Luxembourg Paying and Transfer Agency Agreement"), between Northern Rock and Deutsche Bank Luxembourg S.A. References to the "Indentures" shall be construed to include references to the Luxembourg Paying and Transfer Agency Agreement. In acting under the Luxembourg Paying and Transfer Agency Agreement, the Luxembourg Paying Agent will act solely as agent of Northern Rock and does not assume any obligations or relationships of agency or trust to or with the Holders. The Senior Notes and the Subordinated Notes are limited to an aggregate principal amount of up to US$10,000,000,000 outstanding at any time (including, in the case of Notes denominated in one or more other currencies or composite currencies, the equivalent thereof at the Market Exchange Rate in the Specified Currency on the Original Issue Date (each as defined below)), subject to reduction by or pursuant to action of the Board of Directors of Northern Rock, provided that no such reduction will affect any Note already issued or as to which an offer to purchase has been accepted by Northern Rock. The foregoing limits, however, may be increased by Northern Rock without the consent of the Holders if in the future it determines that it may wish to sell additional Notes.

The Notes will be offered on a continuing basis and each Note will mature nine months or more from its Original Issue Date as selected by the initial purchaser and agreed to by Northern Rock, and may be subject to redemption at the option of Northern Rock or repayment at the option of the Holder prior to the date on which such Notes will mature (the "Stated Maturity") as set forth below under "Redemption and Repurchase". Each Note will be denominated in U.S. dollars or in such other Specified Currency as is specified in the applicable Final Terms. See "Payment of Principal, Premium, if any, and Interest, if any". Each Note will be either (i) a Fixed Rate Note or (ii) a Floating Rate Note which will bear interest at a rate determined by reference to the interest rate basis or combination of interest rate bases specified in the applicable Final Terms, which may be adjusted by a Spread and/or Spread Multiplier (each as defined below).

Status of Senior Notes

The Senior Notes will constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and (subject to the provisions set forth under "Negative Pledge" herein) unsecured obligations of Northern Rock without any preference among themselves and will rank at least equally with deposits and all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of Northern Rock, subject, in the event of insolvency, to laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights, provided that such other unsecured and unsubordinated indebtedness may contain covenants, events of default and other provisions which are different from or which are not contained in the Senior Notes.

Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes

The Subordinated Notes will constitute direct, unconditional, unsecured and subordinated obligations of Northern Rock without any preference among themselves. The rights of Holders of Dated Subordinated Notes will, in the event of a winding up of Northern Rock, or in an administration of Northern Rock after the administrator has served notice pursuant to Rule 2.95 Insolvency Rules 1986 (as amended, and including any amendment or replacement thereof) that he or she proposes to make a distribution to creditors of Northern Rock (a "Distribution Notice"), be subordinated to the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of Northern Rock in respect of their respective Senior Claims (as defined below). The rights of Holders of Perpetual Subordinated Notes are subordinated in right of payment to the claims of Senior Creditors (as defined below). The Subordinated Notes do not have the benefit of the negative pledge covenant described below under "Negative Pledge".

"Senior Claims" means the aggregate amount of all claims which are not, in respect of indebtedness of Northern Rock, the right to repayment of which by its terms is, or is expressed to be, subordinated to (or otherwise rank after) the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of Northern Rock.

"Senior Creditors" means creditors of Northern Rock (i) who are unsubordinated depositors or other unsubordinated creditors of Northern Rock, or (ii) whose claims are, or are expressed to be, subordinated (whether only in the event of the winding up or administration of Northern Rock or otherwise) to the claims of unsubordinated depositors and other unsubordinated creditors of Northern Rock but not further or otherwise, or (iii) who are subordinated creditors of Northern Rock other than those whose claims are, or are expressed to rank pari passu with, or junior to, the claims of the Holders of Perpetual Subordinated Notes.

With respect to Perpetual Subordinated Notes, if at any time an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding up of Northern Rock in England (except in the case of a solvent winding up solely for the purpose of a reconstruction or amalgamation or the substitution of Northern Rock by a successor, the terms of which reconstruction, amalgamation or substitution (i) have been previously approved by the Subordinated Trustee in writing or by the Holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Perpetual Subordinated Notes and (ii) do not provide that the Notes shall thereby become payable), or, if Northern Rock is in administration, a Distribution Notice is served the amounts payable on the Perpetual Subordinated Notes of each Series (in lieu of any other payment but subject to the subordination provisions of the Subordinated Indenture), will be such amount, if any, as would have been payable to the Holder thereof if, on the day prior to the commencement of the winding up or such administration and thereafter, Holders of such Perpetual Subordinated Notes were the holders of a class of preference shares in the capital of Northern Rock having a preferential right to a return of assets in the winding up or such administration over the holders of all issued shares for the time being in the share capital of Northern Rock on the assumption that such preference shares were entitled to receive (to the exclusion of other rights or privileges) as a return of capital in such winding up or such administration an amount equal to the principal amount of such Note together with premium, if any, and interest accrued to the date of repayment, if any, at the rate provided for in the Perpetual Subordinated Notes of the Series, and Arrears of Interest, if any, which is payable.

With respect to Dated Subordinated Notes, payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest, if any, are conditional upon, in the event of a winding up of Northern Rock or an administrator of Northern Rock following the service of a Distribution Notice, Northern Rock being solvent at the time of payment by Northern Rock, and no principal, premium, if any, or interest, if any, will be payable except to the extent that Northern Rock could make such payment and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For the purposes of this section ("Description of The Notes"), Northern Rock shall be "solvent" if its Assets exceed its Liabilities (other than its Liabilities which are not Senior Claims). A report as to the solvency of Northern Rock by its liquidator or administrator shall in the absence of proven error be treated and accepted by Northern Rock, the Trustees and the Holders of the Notes as correct and sufficient evidence thereof.

With respect to Perpetual Subordinated Notes, payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest and Arrears of Interest (as defined below), if any, are, in addition to the right of Northern Rock to defer payment of interest as described below, conditional upon Northern Rock being solvent at the time of payment by Northern Rock, and no principal, premium, if any, or interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, shall be payable except to the extent that Northern Rock could make such payment and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For the purposes of this section, Northern Rock shall be solvent if (i) to the extent that any determination as to solvency is to be made prior to the commencement of winding up or administration proceedings of Northern Rock, it is able to pay its debts owed to Senior Creditors as such debts fall due and (ii) its Assets exceed its Liabilities (other than its Liabilities to persons who are not Senior Creditors). A report as to the solvency of Northern Rock by two directors of Northern Rock or, if Northern Rock is in winding up, its liquidator or administrator, shall in the absence of proven error be treated and accepted by Northern Rock, the Trustees and the Holders of the Notes as correct and sufficient evidence thereof.

The obligations of Northern Rock in respect of the Perpetual Subordinated Notes are conditional upon Northern Rock being solvent immediately before and after payment by Northern Rock. If this condition is not satisfied, any amounts which might otherwise have been allocated in or towards payment of principal and interest in respect of the Perpetual Subordinated Notes may be used to absorb losses.

"Assets" means the unconsolidated gross tangible assets of Northern Rock and "Liabilities" means the unconsolidated gross liabilities of Northern Rock as shown in the latest published audited balance sheet of Northern Rock but as adjusted for contingent assets and contingent liabilities and subsequent events, as the Board of Directors or the liquidator or administrator (as the case may be) may determine.

With respect to Perpetual Subordinated Notes on an Interest Payment Date there may (subject to the subordination provisions set forth in the Subordinated Indenture) be paid (at the option of Northern Rock) the interest accrued on such Interest Payment Date in respect of the Interest Period ending on the day immediately preceding such date, but Northern Rock shall not have any obligation to make such payment and any failure to pay shall not constitute a default by Northern Rock for any purpose. If Northern Rock opts not to pay interest on an Interest Payment Date, it shall give not less than 30 days' notice of such option to the Holders of the Perpetual Subordinated Notes in accordance with the notice provisions specified in the Subordinated Indenture. Any interest not paid on an Interest Payment Date together with any other interest not paid on any other Interest Payment Date shall, so long as the same remains unpaid, constitute "Arrears of Interest". Arrears of Interest may, at the option of Northern Rock (subject to the subordination provisions set forth in the Subordinated Indenture), be paid in whole or in part at any time upon the expiration of not less than seven days' notice given to the Subordinated Trustee and to the Holders, but all Arrears of Interest on all Notes Outstanding shall (subject to the subordination provisions set forth in the Subordinated Indenture) become due in full on whichever is the earliest of (i) the date upon which a dividend is next paid on any class of share capital of Northern Rock, (ii) the date set for any redemption, or (iii) the commencement of winding up proceedings of Northern Rock in England.

If notice is given by Northern Rock of its intention to pay the whole or part of Arrears of Interest, Northern Rock will be obliged (subject to the subordination provisions set forth in the Subordinated Indenture) to make such payment upon the expiration of such notice. Where Arrears of Interest are paid in part, each part payment shall be applied in payment of the Arrears of Interest accrued due in respect of the relative Interest Payment Date (or consecutive Interest Payment Dates) furthest from the date of payment. Arrears of Interest shall not themselves bear interest.

The Holder of any Subordinated Note by such Holder's acceptance thereof will be deemed to the extent permitted by applicable law to have waived any right of set-off or counterclaim that such Holders might otherwise have against Northern Rock whether prior to or in any winding up of Northern Rock or as may arise outside of any insolvency proceedings.

To the extent that Holders of the Notes are entitled to any recovery with respect to the Notes in any bankruptcy, winding up or administration, it is unclear whether such Holders would be entitled in such proceedings to recovery in U.S. dollars and may be entitled only to a recovery in pounds sterling and, as a general matter, the right to claim for any amounts payable on Notes may be limited by applicable insolvency law.

Certain Definitions

"Business Day" means any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday, that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which commercial banks are authorized or required by law, regulation or executive order to close in New York City or London; provided, however, that, with respect to Notes denominated in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars, such day is also not a day on which commercial banks are authorized or required by law, regulation or executive order to close in the Principal Financial Center (as defined below) of the country issuing the Specified Currency (or, if the Specified Currency is euro or EURIBOR is an applicable Interest Rate Basis, such day is also a day on which the Trans-European Automated Real Time Gross Settlement Express Transfer (TARGET) System is open (a "TARGET Settlement Date")).

"Principal Financial Center" means, unless otherwise defined in any Note, (i) the capital city of the country issuing the Specified Currency or (ii) the capital city of the country to which the Designated LIBOR Currency relates, as applicable, except, in the case of (i) or (ii) above, that with respect to U.S. dollars, Australian dollars, pounds sterling, Canadian dollars, South African rand and Swiss francs, the "Principal Financial Center" shall be New York City, Sydney and (solely in the case of the Specified Currency) Melbourne, London (solely in the case of the Designated LIBOR Currency), Toronto, Johannesburg and Zurich, respectively.

As used herein, "Specified Currency" means a currency issued and actively maintained as a country's or countries' recognized unit of domestic exchange by the government of any country and such term shall also include the euro.

Interests in a Global Receipt in respect of a Global Subordinated Note or Global Subordinated Notes representing Subordinated Notes of a Series will be shown in, and transfers thereof will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC and its participants until such time, if any, as Certificated Subordinated Notes in respect of such Subordinated Notes are issued as set forth below under "– Book-Entry System". Pursuant to the terms of the Deposit and Custody Agreement, the Global Subordinated Note or Global Subordinated Notes representing a Series of Subordinated Notes may be transferred only to a successor of the Subordinated Note Custodian and the Global Receipt or Global Receipts in respect of the Global Subordinated Note or Global Subordinated Notes representing a Series of Subordinated Notes may be transferred only to a successor of DTC or another nominee of DTC. See "Book-Entry System" herein. Certificated Senior Notes and Certificated Subordinated Notes, if any, will be exchangeable for other Certificated Senior Notes and Certificated Subordinated Notes, respectively, of any authorized denominations and of a like aggregate principal amount and tenor.

Certificated Notes may be presented to the Trustee, the Paying Agent or the Luxembourg Paying Agent for registration of transfer or exchange at its Corporate Trust Office which at the date hereof is located at Trust & Securities Services, 60 Wall Street, New York, New York 10005, United States of America or, in the case of the Luxembourg Paying Agent, at its office located at 2, Boulevard Konrad Avenauer L-1115 Luxembourg. Transfers of ownership interests in Global Notes and Global Receipts will be made as set forth below under "– Book-Entry System". The Notes have not been registered under the Securities Act or with any securities regulatory authority of any jurisdiction and accordingly transfers of the Notes will be subject to the restrictions set forth below under "Notice to Investors".

Certificated Notes and interests in the U.S. Global Notes may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of interests in an International Global Note only upon receipt by the applicable Trustee or Deutsche Bank Luxembourg S.A., as an alternative transfer agent, of written certifications (in the form provided in the Indentures) to the effect that such transfer is being made in accordance with Regulation S or Rule 144 under the Securities Act and that, if such transfer occurs prior to the 40th day after the commencement of the offering of such Senior Notes, the interest transferred will be held immediately thereafter through Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V., as the Euroclear Operator ("Euroclear") or Clearstream Banking, société anonyme ("Clearstream, Luxembourg").

Certificated Notes and interests in International Global Notes may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of interests in a U.S. Global Note only upon receipt by the applicable Trustee of written certifications (in the form provided in the Indentures) to the effect that such transfer is being made in accordance with Rule 144A to a person whom the transferor reasonably believes is purchasing for its own account or for an account as to which it exercises sole investment discretion and that such person and such account or accounts are "qualified institutional buyers" within the meaning of Rule 144A and agree to comply with the restrictions on transfer set forth under "Notice to Investors".

Certificated Senior Notes may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of Certificated Senior Notes (other than transfers to Northern Rock or a Dealer and transfers by or through or approved by a Dealer) only upon receipt by the Trustee of written certifications (in the form provided in the Senior Indenture) to the effect that such Certificated Senior Note is being acquired by an Institutional Accredited Investor for investment purposes and not for distribution in violation of the Securities Act, and containing such other evidence of compliance with the Securities Act as may be required by Northern Rock or the Trustee.

In the event of any redemption of Notes, Northern Rock will not be required to (i) register the transfer of or exchange the Notes during a period of 15 calendar days next preceding the date of redemption; (ii) register the transfer of or exchange the Notes, or any portion thereof, called for redemption, except the unredeemed portion of any of the Notes being redeemed in part; or (iii) with respect to Subordinated Notes represented by a Global Subordinated Note or Global Subordinated Notes in bearer form issued to the Subordinated Note Custodian, exchange any such Note or Notes called for redemption, except to exchange for another Global Subordinated Note or Global Subordinated Notes in bearer form of that Series and like tenor representing the aggregate principal amount of Subordinated Notes of that Series that have not been redeemed.

Each of the Trustee and Deutsche Bank Luxembourg S.A. has been appointed as paying agent pursuant to each of the Indentures. Northern Rock may at any time designate additional Paying Agents or rescind the designation of any Paying Agent. So long as the Notes are listed on the EuroMTF, Northern Rock shall maintain a transfer agent for the Notes in Luxembourg, which shall initially be Deutsche Bank Luxembourg S.A.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, Notes will be issuable in U.S. dollars in denominations of US$100,000 and integral multiples of US$1,000 in excess thereof. The authorized denominations of any Note denominated in other than U.S. dollars will be the amount of the Specified Currency for such Note equivalent, at the noon dollar buying rate in New York City by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (the "Market Exchange Rate") on the first Business Day in New York City and the country issuing such currency (or, in the case of euro, the first TARGET Settlement Date) next preceding the date on which Northern Rock accepts the offer to purchase such Note, to US$100,000, or such other minimum denomination as may be allowed or required from time to time by any relevant central bank or equivalent governmental body, however designated, or by any laws or regulations applicable to the Notes or to such Specified Currency. The Notes will be issued in integral multiples of 1,000 units of any such Specified Currency in excess of their minimum denominations. If any of the Notes are to be denominated in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars, or if the principal of and premium, if any, and interest, if any, on any of the Notes not denominated in U.S. dollars are to be payable at the option of the Holder or Northern Rock in U.S. dollars, the applicable Final Terms will provide additional information, including applicable exchange rate information, pertaining to the terms of such Notes and other matters of interest to the Holders thereof.

Payment of Principal, Premium, if any, and Interest, if any Payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest, if any, to owners of beneficial interests in Global Notes or Global Receipts are expected to be made in accordance with those procedures of DTC and its participants in effect from time to time as described below under "– Book-Entry System".

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, with respect to any Certificated Note, payments of interest or Arrears of Interest, if any, and, in the case of Amortizing Notes, principal (other than interest and, in the case of Amortizing Notes, principal payable at Maturity) will be made by mailing a check to the Holder at the address of such Holder appearing on the register for the Notes on the applicable regular record date (the "Regular Record Date"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, at the option of Northern Rock, all payments of interest or Arrears of Interest, if any, and, in the case of Amortizing Notes, principal on the Notes may be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account at a bank located within the United States as designated by each Holder not less than 15 calendar days prior to the applicable Interest Payment Date. A Holder of US$10,000,000 (or, if the Specified Currency is other than U.S. dollars, the equivalent thereof in such Specified Currency) or more in aggregate principal amount of Notes of like tenor and terms with the same Interest Payment Date may demand payment by wire transfer but only if appropriate payment instructions have been received in writing by any Paying Agent with respect to such Note appointed by Northern Rock, not less than 15 calendar days prior to the applicable Interest Payment Date. In the event that payment is so made in accordance with instructions of the Holder, such wire transfer shall be deemed to constitute full and complete payment of such principal, premium and/or interest on the Notes. Payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest or Arrears of Interest, if any, due with respect to any Certificated Note at Maturity will be made in immediately available funds upon surrender of such Note at the principal office of any Paying Agent, including the Luxembourg Paying Agent, with respect to such Notes appointed by Northern Rock accompanied by wire transfer instructions, provided that the Certificated Note is presented to such Paying Agent in time for such Paying Agent to make such payments in such funds in accordance with its normal procedures.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, with respect to any Note to be made in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars will be made by check mailed to the address of the person entitled thereto as such address appears in the register or by wire transfer to such account with a bank located in a jurisdiction acceptable to Northern Rock and the respective Trustee as shall have been designated at least 15 calendar days prior to the Interest Payment Date or Maturity, as the case may be, by the Holder of such Note on the relevant Regular Record Date or at Maturity, provided that, in the case of payment of principal of, and premium, if any, and interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, due at Maturity, the Note is presented to any Paying Agent with respect to such Note appointed by Northern Rock in time for such Paying Agent to make such payments in such funds in accordance with its normal procedures. Such designation shall be made by filing the appropriate information with the Trustee at its Corporate Trust Office, and, unless revoked, any such designation made with respect to any Note by a Holder will remain in effect with respect to any further payments with respect to such Note payable to such Holder. If a payment with respect to any such Note cannot be made by wire transfer because the required designation has not been received by the applicable Trustee on or before the requisite date or for any other reason, a notice will be mailed to the Holder at its registered address requesting a designation pursuant to which such wire transfer can be made and, upon such Trustee's receipt of such a designation, such payment will be made within 15 calendar days of such receipt. Northern Rock will pay any administrative costs imposed by banks in connection with making payments by wire transfer, but any tax, assessment or governmental charge imposed upon payments will be borne by the Holders of such Notes in respect of which such payments are made. If so specified in the applicable Final Terms, except as provided below, payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, with respect to any Note denominated in other than U.S. dollars will be made in U.S. dollars (as set forth below). If the Holder of such Note on the relevant Regular Record Date or at Maturity, if any, as the case may be, requests payments in other than U.S. dollars, the Holder shall transmit a written request for such payment to any Paying Agent with respect to such Note appointed by Northern Rock at its principal office on or prior to such Regular Record Date or the date 15 calendar days prior to Maturity, if any, as the case may be. Such request may be delivered by mail, by hand, by cable or by telex or any other form of facsimile transmission. Any such request made with respect to any Note by a Holder will remain in effect with respect to any further payments of principal, and premium, if any, and interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, with respect to such Note payable to such Holder, unless such request is revoked by written notice received by such Paying Agent on or prior to the relevant Regular Record Date or the date 15 calendar days prior to Maturity, if any, as the case may be (but no such revocation may be made with respect to payments made on any such Note if an Event of Default has occurred with respect thereto or upon the giving of a notice of redemption). Holders of Notes denominated in other than U.S. dollars whose Notes are registered in the name of a broker or nominee should contact such broker or nominee to determine whether and how an election to receive payments in other than U.S. dollars may be made.

The U.S. dollar amount to be received by a Holder of a Note denominated in other than U.S. dollars who elects to receive payments in U.S. dollars will be based on the highest indicated bid quotation for the purchase of U.S. dollars in exchange for the Specified Currency obtained by the Currency Determination Agent (as defined below) at approximately 11:00 A.M., New York City time, on the second Business Day next preceding the applicable payment date (the "Conversion Date") from the bank composite or multicontributor pages of the Quoting Source for three (or two if three are not available) major banks in New York City. The first three (or two) such banks selected by the Currency Determination Agent which are offering quotes on the Quoting Source will be used. If fewer than two such bid quotations are available at 11:00 A.M., New York City time, on the second Business Day next preceding the applicable payment date, such payment will be based on the Market Exchange Rate as of the second Business Day next preceding the applicable payment date. If the Market Exchange Rate for such date is not then available, such payment will be made in the Specified Currency. As used herein, the "Quoting Source" means Reuters Monitor Foreign Exchange Service, or if the Currency Determination Agent determines that such service is not available, Telerate Monitor Foreign Exchange Service, or if the Currency Determination Agent determines that neither service is available, such comparable display or other comparable manner of obtaining quotations as shall be agreed between Northern Rock and the Currency Determination Agent. All currency exchange costs associated with any payment in U.S. dollars on any such Note will be borne by the Holder thereof by deductions from such payment. The currency determination agent (the "Currency Determination Agent") with respect to any such Notes will be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

If the Specified Currency for a Note denominated in other than U.S. dollars is not available for the required payment of principal, premium, if any, and/or interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, in respect thereof due to the imposition of exchange controls or other circumstances beyond the control of Northern Rock, Northern Rock will be entitled to satisfy its obligations to the Holder of such Note by making such payment in U.S. dollars on the basis of the Market Exchange Rate, computed by the Currency Determination Agent, on the second Business Day prior to such payment or, if such Market Exchange Rate is not then available, on the basis of the most recently available Market Exchange Rate, or as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms. Any payment made in U.S. dollars under such circumstances where the required payment was to be in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars will not constitute an Event of Default under the applicable Indenture with respect to the Notes. All determinations referred to above made by the Currency Determination Agent shall be at its sole discretion and in accordance with its normal operating procedure and shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive for all purposes and binding on all Holders and beneficial owners of Notes.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, if the principal of any Discount Note is declared to be immediately due and payable as described herein under "Events of Default- Senior Notes" and "– Subordinated Notes," the amount of principal due and payable with respect to such Note shall be the Amortized Face Amount of such Note as of the date of such declaration. The "Amortized Face Amount" of a Discount Note that does not bear stated interest shall be an amount equal to the sum of (i) the principal amount of such Note multiplied by the price (which may be expressed as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount thereof) at which such Note will be issued (the "Issue Price") set forth in the applicable Final Terms plus (ii) the portion of the difference between the U.S. dollar amount determined pursuant to the preceding clause (i) and the principal amount of such Note that has accrued at the yield to maturity set forth in the Final Terms (computed in accordance with generally accepted financial practices) to such date of declaration, but in no event shall the Amortized Face Amount of a Discount Note exceed its principal amount.

Northern Rock is entitled to vary or terminate the appointment of any Trustee or Paying Agent appointed under the terms of the Indentures and pursuant to the terms of the Indentures and/or appoint additional or other trustees or paying agents, including affiliates of Northern Rock in either case, and/or approve any change in the specified office through which any paying agent acts, provided that:

(i) so long as the Notes of a Series are listed, quoted and/or traded on or by the EuroMTF, or any other stock exchange or competent listing authority and/or quotation system, there will at all times be a Paying Agent with a specified office in Luxembourg, if applicable, and/or each location required by the rules and regulations of the relevant stock exchange, competent listing authority and/or quotation system; and

(ii) if European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any other Directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of 26-27 November 2000 is brought into force, Northern Rock will ensure that it maintains a paying agent in an EU Member State that will not be obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to such Directive.

For so long as the Notes of any Series are listed, quoted and/or traded on or by the EuroMTF and the rules and regulations of the stock exchange so require, notice of any change in the appointment of any Trustee or Paying Agent appointed under the terms of the Indentures will be published in a leading newspaper of general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be d'Wort).

Interest and Interest Rates

Each Note other than certain Discount Notes will bear interest from the date on which such Note will be issued (the "Original Issue Date") or from the most recent Interest Payment Date to which interest on such Note has been paid or duly provided for at a fixed rate or rates per annum, or at a rate or rates determined pursuant to an Interest Rate Base or Bases stated therein and in the applicable Final Terms that may be adjusted by a Spread and/or Spread Multiplier, until the principal thereof is paid or made available for payment. Interest will be payable on each Interest Payment Date and at Maturity. "Maturity" means the date, if any, on which the principal (or, if the context so requires, lesser amount in the case of Discount Notes) of (or premium, if any, on) a Note becomes due and payable in full in accordance with its terms and the terms of the applicable Indenture, whether at Stated Maturity or earlier by declaration of acceleration, call for redemption, request for redemption repayment at the option of the Holder pursuant to any sinking fund provision or otherwise. Interest (other than Defaulted Interest which may be paid as of a Special Record Date) will be payable to the Holder at the close of business on the Regular Record Date next preceding such Interest Payment Date; provided, however, that interest payable at Maturity will be payable to the person to whom principal shall be payable. The first payment of interest on any Note originally issued between a Regular Record Date for such Note and the succeeding Interest Payment Date will be made on the Interest Payment Date following the next succeeding Regular Record Date for such Note to the Holder.

Interest rates, Interest Rate Base or Bases, Spreads and Spread Multipliers are subject to change by Northern Rock but no such change will affect any Note theretofore issued or which Northern Rock has agreed to sell. The Interest Payment Dates for each Fixed Rate Note shall be as described below under "Fixed Rate Notes". The Interest Payment Dates for each Floating Rate Note shall be as described below under "Floating Rate Notes" and in the applicable Final Terms. The Regular Record Date for a Note will be the fifteenth day (whether or not a Business Day) next preceding each Interest Payment Date or Maturity, as the case may be.

Fixed Rate Notes

Interest on Fixed Rate Notes will be payable semi-annually in arrears on such dates as are specified in the applicable Final Terms (each, an "Interest Payment Date" with respect to Fixed Rate Notes) and on the date of Maturity. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, interest on Fixed Rate Notes will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

If any Interest Payment Date or the date of Maturity of a Fixed Rate Note falls on a day that is not a Business Day, the required payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest, if any, with respect to such Note will be made on the next succeeding Business Day as if made on the date such payment was due, and no interest will accrue on such payment for the period from and after such Interest Payment Date or the date of Maturity, as the case may be, to the date of such payment on the next succeeding Business Day.

Floating Rate Notes

Interest on Floating Rate Notes will be determined by reference to the applicable Interest Rate Basis or Bases, which may, as described below, include:

- the CD Rate;
- the CMT Rate;
- the Commercial Paper Rate;
- the Eleventh District Cost of Funds Rate;
- EURIBOR;
- the Federal Funds Rate;
- LIBOR;
- the Prime Rate;
- the Treasury Rate; or such other Interest Rate Basis or Bases or interest rate formula as may be specified in the applicable Final Terms.

The applicable Final Terms will specify certain terms with respect to which each Floating Rate Note is being delivered, including: whether such Floating Rate Note is a "Regular Floating Rate Note," a "Floating Rate/Fixed Rate Note" or an "Inverse Floating Rate Note," the Fixed Rate Commencement Date, if applicable, Fixed Interest Rate, if applicable, Interest Rate Basis or Bases, Initial Interest Rate, if any, Initial Interest Reset Date, Interest Reset Dates, Interest Payment Dates, Index Maturity, Maximum Interest Rate and/or Minimum Interest Rate, if any, and Spread and/or Spread Multiplier, if any, as such terms are defined below. If one or more of the applicable Interest Rate Bases is the CMT Rate, EURIBOR or LIBOR, the applicable Final Terms will also specify the Designated CMT Maturity Index and Designated CMT Telerate Page, the Designated EURIBOR Page or the Designated LIBOR Currency and Designated LIBOR Page respectively, as such terms are defined below. The interest rate borne by the Floating Rate Notes will be determined as follows:

(i) Unless such Floating Rate Note is designated as a "Floating Rate/Fixed Rate Note" or an "Inverse Floating Rate Note", or as having an Addendum attached or having "Other/ Additional Provisions" apply, in each case relating to a different interest rate formula, such Floating Rate Note will be designated as a "Regular Floating Rate Note" and, except as described below or in the applicable Final Terms, will bear interest at the rate determined by reference to the applicable Interest Rate Basis or Bases (a) plus or minus the applicable Spread, if any, and/or (b) multiplied by the applicable Spread Multiplier, if any. Commencing on the Initial Interest Reset Date, the rate at which interest on such Regular Floating Rate Note shall be payable shall be reset as of each Interest Reset Date; provided, however, that the interest rate in effect for the period, if any, from the Original Issue Date to the Initial Interest Reset Date will be the Initial Interest Rate.

(ii) If such Floating Rate Note is designated as a "Floating Rate/Fixed Rate Note," then, except as described below or in the applicable Final Terms, such Floating Rate Note will bear interest at the rate determined by reference to the applicable Interest Rate Basis or Bases (a) plus or minus the applicable Spread, if any, and/or (b) multiplied by the applicable Spread Multiplier, if any. Commencing on the Initial Interest Reset Date, the rate at which interest on such Floating Rate/Fixed Rate Note shall be payable shall be reset as of each Interest Reset Date; provided, however, that (y) the interest rate in effect for the period, if any, from the Original Issue Date to the Initial Interest Reset Date will be the Initial Interest Rate and (z) the interest rate in effect (the "Fixed Interest Rate") for the period commencing on the date specified therefor in the applicable Final Terms (the "Fixed Rate Commencement Date") to the Maturity Date shall be the interest rate so specified in the applicable Final Terms or, if no such rate is specified, the interest rate in effect thereon on the day immediately preceding the Fixed Rate Commencement Date.

(iii) If such Floating Rate Note is designated as an "Inverse Floating Rate Note," then, except as described below or in the applicable Final Terms, such Floating Rate Note will bear interest at the Fixed Interest Rate minus the rate determined by reference to the applicable Interest Rate Basis or Bases (a) plus or minus the applicable Spread, if any, and/or (b) multiplied by the applicable Spread Multiplier, if any; provided, however, that, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the interest rate thereon will not be less than zero. Commencing on the Initial Interest Reset Date, the rate at which interest on such Inverse Floating Rate Note shall be payable shall be reset as of each Interest Reset Date; provided, however, that the interest rate in effect for the period, if any, from the Original Issue Date to the Initial Interest Reset Date will be the Initial Interest Rate.

The "Spread" is the number of basis points to be added to or subtracted from the related Interest Rate Basis or Bases applicable to such Floating Rate Note. The "Spread Multiplier" is the percentage of the related Interest Rate Basis or Bases applicable to such Floating Rate Note by which such Interest Rate Basis or Bases will be multiplied to determine the applicable interest rate on such Floating Rate Note. The "Index Maturity" is the period to maturity of the instrument or obligation with respect to which the related Interest Rate Basis or Bases will be calculated.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the interest rate with respect to each Interest Rate Basis will be determined in accordance with the applicable provisions below. Except as set forth above or in the applicable Final Terms, the interest rate in effect on each day shall be (i) if such day is an Interest Reset Date, the interest rate determined as of the Interest Determination Date (as defined below) immediately preceding such Interest Reset Date or (ii) if such day is not an Interest Reset Date, the interest rate determined as of the Interest Determination Date immediately preceding the most recent Interest Reset Date.

The applicable Final Terms will specify whether the rate of interest on the related Floating Rate Note will be reset daily, weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually or at such other specified intervals as specified in the applicable Final Terms (each, an "Interest Reset Period") and the dates on which such rate of interest will be reset (each, an "Interest Reset Date"). Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Interest Reset Dates will be, in the case of Floating Rate Notes which reset:

- daily, each Business Day;

- weekly, the Wednesday of each week (with the exception of weekly reset Floating Rate Notes as to which the Treasury Rate is an applicable Interest Rate Basis, which will reset the Tuesday of each week);
- monthly, the third Wednesday of each month (with the exception of monthly reset Floating Rate Notes as to which the Eleventh District Cost of Funds Rate is an applicable Interest Rate Basis, which will reset on the first calendar day of the month);
- quarterly, the third Wednesday of March, June, September and December of each year;
- semi-annually, the third Wednesday of the two months of each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
- annually, the third Wednesday of the month of each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; provided however, that, with respect to Floating Rate/Fixed Rate Notes, the rate of interest thereon will not reset after the applicable Fixed Rate Commencement Date. If any Interest Reset Date for any Floating Rate Note would otherwise be a day that is not a Business Day, such Interest Reset Date will be postponed to the next succeeding Business Day, except that in the case of a Floating Rate Note as to which EURIBOR or LIBOR is an applicable Interest Rate Basis and such Business Day falls in the next succeeding calendar month, such Interest Reset Date will be the immediately preceding Business Day.

The interest rate applicable to each Interest Reset Period commencing on the related Interest Reset Date will be the rate determined by the Calculation Agent as of the applicable Interest Determination Date and calculated on or prior to the Calculation Date (as defined below), except with respect to the Eleventh District Cost of Funds Rate, EURIBOR and LIBOR, which will be calculated on such Interest Determination Date. The "Interest Determination Date" with respect to:

- the CD Rate, the CMT Rate, the Commercial Paper Rate, the Federal Funds Rate and the Prime Rate will be the second Business Day immediately preceding the applicable Interest Reset Date;
- the Eleventh District Cost of Funds Rate will be the last Business Day of the month immediately preceding the applicable Interest Reset Date on which the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco (the "FHLB of San Francisco") publishes the Index (as defined below);
- EURIBOR will be the second TARGET Settlement Date immediately preceding the applicable Interest Reset Date;
- LIBOR will be the second London Business Day immediately preceding the applicable Interest Reset Date, unless the Designated LIBOR Currency is pounds sterling, in which case the "Interest Determination Date" will be the applicable Interest Reset Date; and
- the Treasury Rate will be the day in the week in which the applicable Interest Reset Date falls on which day Treasury Bills (as defined below) are normally auctioned (Treasury Bills are normally sold at an auction held on Monday of each week, unless such Monday is a legal holiday, in which case the auction is normally held on the immediately succeeding Tuesday although such auction may be held on the preceding Friday); provided, however, that if an auction is held on the Friday of the week preceding the applicable Interest Reset Date, the "Interest Determination Date" will be such preceding Friday.

The "Interest Determination Date" pertaining to a Floating Rate Note the interest rate of which is determined by reference to two or more Interest Rate Bases will be the most recent Business Day which is at least two Business Days prior to the applicable Interest Reset Date for such Floating Rate Note on which each Interest Rate Basis is determinable. Each Interest Rate Basis will be determined as of such date, and the applicable interest rate will take effect on the applicable Interest Reset Date.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Floating Rate Note may also have, if specified in the applicable Final Terms, either or both of the following: (i) a Maximum Interest Rate, or ceiling, that may accrue during any Interest Reset Period and (ii) a Minimum Interest Rate, or floor, that may accrue during any Interest Reset Period. In addition to any Maximum Interest Rate that may apply to any Floating Rate Note, the interest rate on Floating Rate Notes will in no event be higher than the maximum rate permitted by New York law, as the same may be modified, or other applicable law.

Except as provided below or in the applicable Final Terms, the date(s) on which interest on Floating Rate Notes is payable (each, an "Interest Payment Date" with respect to Floating Rate Notes) will be, in the case of Floating Rate Notes which reset:

- daily, weekly or monthly, the third Wednesday of each month or on the third Wednesday of March, June, September and December of each year, as specified in the applicable Final Terms;
- quarterly, the third Wednesday of March, June, September and December of each year;
- semi-annually, the third Wednesday of the two months of each year specified in the applicable Final Terms;
- annually, the third Wednesday of the month of each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
- the Maturity Date.

If any Interest Payment Date other than the Maturity Date for any Floating Rate Note would otherwise be a day that is not a Business Day, such Interest Payment Date will be postponed to the next succeeding Business Day, except that in the case of a Floating Rate Note as to which EURIBOR or LIBOR is an applicable Interest Rate Basis and such Business Day falls in the next succeeding calendar month, such Interest Payment Date will be the immediately preceding Business Day. If the Maturity Date of a Floating Rate Note falls on a day that is not a Business Day, the required payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest will be made on the next succeeding Business Day as if made on the date such payment was due, and no interest will accrue on such payment for the period from and after the Maturity Date to the date of such payment on the next succeeding Business Day. The Regular Record Date for each Floating Rate Note will be the fifteenth day (whether or not a Business Day) preceding each Interest Payment Date or Maturity, as the case may be.

All percentages resulting from any calculation on Floating Rate Notes will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with five- or more one millionths of a percentage point rounded upwards (e.g., 9.876545% (or .09876545) would be rounded to 9.87655% (or .0987655)), and all amounts used in or resulting from such calculation on Floating Rate Notes will be rounded, in the case of U.S. dollars, to the nearest cent or, in the case of a Specified Currency, to the nearest unit (with one-half cent or unit being rounded upwards).

With respect to each Floating Rate Note, accrued interest is calculated by multiplying its principal amount by an accrued interest factor. Such accrued interest factor is computed by adding the interest factor calculated for each day in the applicable Interest Period but excluding the date for which accrued interest is being calculated. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the interest factor for each such day will be computed by dividing the interest rate applicable to such day by 360, in the case of Floating Rate Notes for which an applicable Interest Rate Basis is the CD Rate, the Commercial Paper Rate, the Eleventh District Cost of Funds Rate, EURIBOR, the Federal Funds Rate, LIBOR or the Prime Rate, or by the actual number of days in the year in the case of Floating Rate Notes for which an applicable Interest Rate Basis is the CMT Rate or the Treasury Rate. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the interest factor for Floating Rate Notes for which the interest rate is calculated with reference to two or more Interest Rate Bases will be calculated in each period in the same manner as if only the applicable Interest Rate Basis specified in the applicable Final Terms applied.

Upon request of the Holder of any Floating Rate Note, the "Calculation Agent" (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) will disclose the interest rate then in effect and, if determined, the interest rate that will become effective as a result of a determination made for the next succeeding Interest Reset Date with respect to such Floating Rate Note. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the "Calculation Date," if applicable, pertaining to any Interest Determination Date will be the earlier of (i) the tenth calendar day after such Interest Determination

Date or, if such day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day or (ii) the Business Day immediately preceding the applicable Interest Payment Date or the Maturity Date, as the case may be.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Calculation Agent shall determine each Interest Rate Basis in accordance with the following provisions.

The Paying Agent will notify Northern Rock and any stock exchange, competent listing authority and/or quotation system on or by which the relevant Floating Rate Notes are for the time being listed, quoted and/or traded of the rate of interest and each amount of interest payable for each interest period and the relevant Interest Payment Date, and will cause the same to be notified to the Holders in accordance with the notice provisions herein as soon as possible after their determination but in no event later than the fourth Business Day thereafter. Each amount of interest payable per Specified Denomination and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without notification as aforesaid in the event of an extension or shortening of the interest period in accordance with the provisions hereof. Each stock exchange, competent listing authority and/or quotation system on or by which the relevant Floating Rate Notes are for the time being listed, quoted and/or traded shall be promptly notified of any such amendment.

CD Rate

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, "CD Rate" means, with respect to any Interest Determination Date relating to a Floating Rate Note for which the interest rate is determined with reference to the CD Rate (a "CD Rate Interest Determination Date"), the rate on such date for negotiable U.S. dollar certificates of deposit having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms as published in H.15(519) (as defined below) under the heading "CDs (secondary market)" or, if not so published by 3:00 P.M., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, the rate on such CD Rate Interest Determination Date for negotiable U.S. dollar certificates of deposit of the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms as published in H.15 Daily Update (as defined below), or such other recognized electronic source used for the purpose of displaying such rate, under the caption "CDs (secondary market)". If such rate is not yet published in H.15(519), H.15 Daily Update or another recognized electronic source by 3:00 P.M., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, then the CD Rate on such CD Rate Interest Determination Date will be calculated by the Calculation Agent and will be the arithmetic mean of the secondary market offered rates as of 10:00 A.M., New York City time, on such CD Rate Interest Determination Date, of three leading nonbank dealers in negotiable U.S. dollar certificates of deposit in New York City (which may include the Dealers or their affiliates) selected by the Calculation Agent for negotiable U.S. dollar certificates of deposit of major United States money center banks for negotiable certificates of deposit with a remaining maturity closest to the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time; provided, however, that if the dealers so selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as mentioned in this sentence, the CD Rate determined as of such CD Rate Interest Determination Date will be the CD Rate in effect on such CD Rate Interest Determination Date.

"H.15(519)" means the weekly statistical release designated as such, or any successor publication, published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

"H.15 Daily Update" means the daily update of H.15(519), available through the worldwideweb site of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System at http://www.federalreserve.gov/releases/h15/update/, or any successor site or publication.

(e) if fewer than five but more than two of the prices referred to in clause (d) are provided as requested, the rate on the particular CMT Rate Interest Determination Date calculated by the Calculation Agent based on the arithmetic mean of the bid prices obtained and neither the highest nor the lowest of the quotations shall be eliminated, or

(f) if fewer than three prices referred to in clause (d) are provided as requested, the rate on the particular CMT Rate Interest Determination Date calculated by the Calculation Agent as a yield to maturity based on the arithmetic mean of the secondary market bid prices as of approximately 3:30 P.M., New York City time, on that CMT Rate Interest Determination Date of three Reference Dealers selected by the Calculation Agent from five Reference Dealers selected by the Calculation Agent and eliminating the highest quotation or, in the event of equality, one of the highest and the lowest quotation or, in the event of equality, one of the lowest, for United States Treasury securities with an original maturity greater than the particular Designated CMT Maturity Index, a remaining term to maturity closest to that Designated CMT Maturity Index and in a principal amount that is representative for a single transaction in the securities in that market at that time, or

(g) if fewer than five but more than two prices referred to in clause (f) are provided as requested, the rate on the particular CMT Rate Interest Determination Date calculated by the Calculation Agent based on the arithmetic mean of the bid prices obtained and neither the highest nor the lowest of the quotations will be eliminated, or

(d) if the rate referred to in clause (c) is not so published, the rate on the particular CMT Rate Interest Determination Date calculated by the Calculation Agent as a yield to maturity based on the arithmetic mean of the secondary market bid prices at approximately 3:30 P.M., New York City time, on that CMT Rate Interest Determination Date of three Reference Dealers selected by the Calculation Agent from five Reference Dealers selected by the Calculation Agent and eliminating the highest quotation, or, in the event of equality, one of the highest, and the lowest quotation or, in the event of equality, one of the lowest, for United States Treasury securities with an original maturity equal to the particular Designated CMT Maturity Index, a remaining term to maturity no more than 1 year shorter than that Designated CMT Maturity Index and in a principal amount that is representative for a single transaction in the securities in that market at that time, or

If two United States Treasury securities with an original maturity greater than the Designated CMT Maturity Index specified in the applicable Final Terms have remaining terms to maturity equally close to the particular Designated CMT Maturity Index, the quotes for the United States Treasury security with the shorter original remaining term to maturity will be used.

"Designated CMT Maturity Index" means the original period to maturity of the U.S. Treasury securities (either 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 10, 20 or 30 years) specified in the applicable Final Terms with respect to which the CMT Rate will be calculated or, if no such maturity is specified in the applicable Final Terms, 2 years.

"Designated CMT Telerate Page" means the display on Moneyline Telerate (or any successor service) on the page specified in the applicable Final Terms (or any other page as may replace such page on such service) for the purpose of displaying Treasury Constant Maturities as reported in H.15(519) or, if no such page is specified in the applicable Final Terms, page 7052.

Commercial Paper Rate

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, "Commercial Paper Rate" means, with respect to any Interest Determination Date relating to a Floating Rate Note for which the interest rate is determined with reference to the Commercial Paper Rate (a "Commercial Paper Rate Interest Determination Date"), the Money Market Yield (as defined below) on such date of the rate for commercial paper having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms as published in H.15(519) under the caption "Commercial Paper-Nonfinancial" or, if not so published by 3:00 P.M., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, the rate on such Commercial Paper Rate Interest Determination Date for commercial paper having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms as published in H.15 Daily Update, or such other recognized electronic source used for the purpose of displaying such rate, under the caption "Commercial Paper- Nonfinancial". In the event that the auction rate of Treasury Bills having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms is not so announced by the U.S. Department of the Treasury, or if no such Auction is held, then the Treasury Rate will be the Bond Equivalent Yield of the rate on such Treasury Rate Interest Determination Date of Treasury Bills having the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms as published in H.15(519) under the caption "U.S. Government Securities/ Treasury Bills/Secondary Market" or, if not yet published by 3:00 P.M., New York City time, on the related Calculation Date, the rate on such Treasury Rate Interest Determination Date of such Treasury Bills as published in H.15 Daily Update, or such other recognized electronic source used for the purpose of displaying such rate, under the caption "U.S. Government Securities/Treasury Bills/ Secondary Market". If such rate is not yet published in H.15(519), H.15 Daily Update or another recognized electronic source, then the Treasury Rate will be calculated by the Calculation Agent and will be the Bond Equivalent Yield of the arithmetic mean of the secondary market bid rates, as of approximately 3:30 P.M., New York City time, on such Treasury Rate Interest Determination Date, of three primary U.S. government securities dealers (which may include the Dealers or their affiliates) selected by the Calculation Agent, for the issue of Treasury Bills with a remaining maturity closest to the Index Maturity specified in the applicable Final Terms; provided, however, that if the dealers so selected by the Calculation Agent are not quoting as mentioned in this sentence, the Treasury Rate determined as of such Treasury Rate Interest Determination Date will be the Treasury Rate in effect on such Treasury Rate Interest Determination Date.

Other/Additional Provisions; Addendum

Any provisions with respect to the Notes, including the specification and determination of one or more Interest Rate Bases, the calculation of the interest rate applicable to a Floating Rate Note, the Interest Payment Dates, the Stated Maturity, any redemption or repayment provisions or any other term relating thereto, may be modified and/or supplemented as specified under "Other/Additional Provisions; Addendum" in the applicable Final Terms; provided that the provisions relating to maturity, redemption, repayment, events of default and subordination of the Subordinated Notes shall not be so capable of modification under "Other/Additional Provisions: Addendum" in the applicable Final Terms, unless the prior written consent of the FSA has been obtained or is for the purpose of correcting a manifest error.

Discount Notes

Northern Rock may from time to time offer Notes ("Discount Notes") that have an Issue Price (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that is less than 100% of the principal amount thereof (i.e., par) by more than a percentage equal to the product of 0.25% and the number of full years to the Stated Maturity. Discount Notes may not bear any interest currently or may bear interest at a rate that is below market rates at the time of issuance. The difference between the Issue Price of a Discount Note and par is referred to herein as the "Discount". In the event of redemption, repayment or acceleration of maturity of a Discount Note, the amount payable to the Holder of such Discount

Note will be equal to the sum of (i) the Issue Price (increased by any accruals of Discount) and, in the event of any redemption of such Discount Note (if applicable), multiplied by the Initial Redemption Percentage (as adjusted by the Annual Redemption Percentage Reduction, if applicable) and (ii) any unpaid interest accrued thereon to the date of such redemption, repayment or acceleration of maturity, as the case may be.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, for purposes of determining the amount of Discount that has accrued as of any date on which a redemption, repayment or acceleration of Maturity occurs for a Discount Note, such Discount will be accrued using a constant yield method. The constant yield will be calculated using a 30-day month, 360-day year convention, a compounding period that, except for the Initial Period (as defined below), corresponds to the shortest period between Interest Payment Dates for the applicable Discount Note (with ratable accruals within a compounding period), a coupon rate equal to the initial coupon rate applicable to such Discount Note and an assumption that the Maturity of such Discount Note will not be accelerated. If the period from the Original Issue Date to the initial Interest Payment Date for a Discount Note (the "Initial Period") is shorter than the compounding period for such Discount Note, a proportionate amount of the yield for an entire compounding period will be accrued. If the Initial Period is longer than the compounding period, then such period will be divided into a regular compounding period and a short period with the short period being treated as provided in the preceding sentence. The accrual of the applicable Discount may differ from the accrual of issue discount for purposes of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Certain Discount Notes may not be treated as having original issue discount within the meaning of the Code, and Notes other than Discount Notes may be treated as issued with original issue discount for federal income tax purposes. See "U.S. Taxation-Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations".

Indexed Notes

Northern Rock may from time to time offer Notes ("Indexed Notes") with the amount of principal, premium and/or interest payable in respect thereof to be determined with reference to the price or prices of specified commodities or stocks, to the exchange rate of one or more designated currencies relative to an indexed currency or to other items, in each case as specified in the applicable Final Terms. In certain cases, a Holder of an Indexed Note may receive a principal payment on Maturity that is greater than or less than the principal amount of such Indexed Note depending upon the relative value on Maturity of the specified indexed item. Information as to the method for determining the amount of principal, premium, if any, and/or interest, if any, payable in respect of Indexed Notes, certain historical information with respect to the specified indexed item and any material tax considerations associated with an investment in Indexed Notes will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. See also "Risk Factors".

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Final Terms, in the event that the principal, premium and/or interest, if any, or any other amount payable in respect of any Note is to be determined by means of quotations obtained from major banks or other relevant sources, such quotations will be requested on the basis of a representative amount of a normal single transaction in the relevant market and at the relevant time for such quotation.

Additional Notes

Northern Rock may issue additional Notes of a Series having identical terms to that of a prior tranche of Notes of the same Series but for the Original Issue Date and the public offering price ("Additional Notes"). The Final Terms relating to any Additional Notes will set forth matters related to such issuance, including identifying the prior tranche of Notes, their Original Issue Date and the aggregate principal amount of Notes then-comprising such Series.

Amortizing Notes

Northern Rock may from time to time offer Notes with the amount of principal thereof and interest thereon payable in installments over the term of such Notes ("Amortizing Notes"). Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, interest on each Amortizing Note will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months. Payments with respect to Amortizing Notes will be applied first to interest due and payable thereon and then to the reduction of the unpaid principal amount thereof. Further information concerning additional terms and provisions of Amortizing Notes will be specified in the applicable Final Terms, including a table, formula or formulae setting forth repayment information for such Amortizing Notes.

Payment of Additional Amounts

Northern Rock will, subject to certain limitations and exceptions (set forth below) pay to the Holder of any Note such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that every net payment of the principal of (including premium or final redemption amount, initial redemption amount or early redemption amount, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) and interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, on such Note, after deduction or other withholding for or on account of any present or future tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge of any nature whatsoever imposed, levied or collected by or on behalf of the United Kingdom, or any political subdivision thereof or authority therein having power to tax, will not be less than the amount provided for in such Note as then due and payable. No such additional amount shall, however, be payable on any Note on account of any tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge which is payable:

(a) otherwise than by deduction or withholding from any payments of principal (including premium or final redemption amount, initial redemption amount or early redemption amount, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) or interest, if any, on such Note;

(b) by reason of such Holder having, or having had, some personal or business connection with the United Kingdom and not merely by reason of the fact that payments are, or for the purposes of taxation are deemed to be, from sources in, or secured in, the United Kingdom;

(c) by reason of a change in law or official practice of any relevant taxing authority that becomes effective more than 30 days after the Relevant Date (as defined below) for payment of principal (including premium or final redemption amount, initial redemption amount or early redemption amount, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) or interest, if any, in respect of such Note;

(d) by reason of any estate, excise, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, wealth, personal property tax or any similar assessment or governmental charge;

(e) as a result of the failure of a Holder to satisfy any statutory requirements or make a declaration of non-residence or other similar claim for exemption to the relevant tax authority;

(f) by reason of such tax assessment, duty or other governmental charge required to be withheld by any Trustee or Paying Agent from any payment of principal or interest with respect to any Note, if such payment can be made without such withholding by any other Trustee or Paying Agent with respect to the Notes in a member state of the European Union;

(g) by reason of such tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge being required to be withheld or deducted where such withholding or deduction is imposed on a payment to an individual and is required to be made pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any other Directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of 26-27 November 2000 on the taxation of savings income or any law (whether of a member state of the European Union or a non-Member state) implementing or complying with, or introduced in order to conform to, such directive; or

(h) owing to a combination of clauses (a) through (g) above.

"Relevant Date" means the date on which the payment of principal (including premium or final redemption amount, initial redemption amount or early redemption amount, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) or interest or Arrears of Interest, if any, on a Note first becomes due and payable but, if the full amount of the monies payable on such date has not been received by the relevant Paying Agent or as it shall have directed on or prior to such date, the "Relevant Date" means the date on which such monies shall have been so received.

No additional amounts will be paid as provided above with respect to any payment of principal (including premium or final redemption amount, initial redemption amount or early redemption amount, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) or interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, on such Note to any Holder who is a fiduciary or partnership or other than the sole beneficial owner of any such payment, to the extent that a beneficiary or settlor with respect to such fiduciary, a member of such partnership or the beneficial owner of such payment would not have been entitled to the additional amounts had such beneficiary, settlor, member or beneficial owner been the Holder of any such Note.

Redemption and Repurchase

General

The Final Terms relating to a Series of Notes will indicate either that such Notes cannot be redeemed prior to Maturity, other than for tax reasons (as set forth below), or the terms on which the Notes will be redeemable prior to Maturity at the option of Northern Rock or at the option of the Holder or at the option of either. Notice of redemption shall be provided as set forth below under "– Notices".

Perpetual Subordinated Notes

The Perpetual Subordinated Notes will be undated and, accordingly, will have no Stated Maturity and may not be repaid except in accordance with the provisions set forth below under "– Redemption for Tax Reasons", "– Repurchase" and "Events of Default – Subordinated Notes" or in any applicable Final Terms.

Redemption for Tax Reasons

The Notes of any Series may be redeemed, subject to any other terms set forth in the applicable Final Terms, as a whole but not in part, at the option of Northern Rock, upon not more than 60 days', nor less than 30 days', prior notice given as provided below under "– Notices", at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount (or at the then current Amortized Face Amount, if the Note is a Discount Note or, if such Note is an Indexed Note or Amortizing Note, at the Redemption Price (as defined below) specified in the applicable Final Terms) (and premium, if any, thereon) together with interest and Arrears of Interest accrued, if any, to the date fixed for redemption, if on the next succeeding Interest Payment Date Northern Rock will become obligated to pay additional amounts (as provided in the applicable Indenture for the Notes of such Series) and such obligation cannot be avoided by the use of reasonable measures available to Northern Rock; provided, that (a) Senior Notes of any such Series may not be so redeemed if such obligation of Northern Rock to pay such additional amounts as aforesaid arises by reason of Northern Rock no longer being a bank authorized under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 or interest paid on the Notes of any such Series not being paid in the ordinary course of its business, in each case as a consequence of any action taken by Northern Rock, and (b)(i) Subordinated Notes may be so redeemed only with the prior written consent of the FSA, and (ii) may not be so redeemed if such obligation of Northern Rock to pay such additional amounts as aforesaid arises by reason of the Subordinated Notes not being listed on a "recognized stock exchange" within the meaning of Section 841 of the Tax Act or as a result of payments on the Subordinated Notes being made by or through a paying agent not outside the United Kingdom.

In the event that Northern Rock elects to redeem the Notes of any Series pursuant to the provisions set forth in the preceding paragraph, Northern Rock will deliver to the applicable Trustee (i) a certificate, signed by two authorized officers of Northern Rock, evidencing compliance with such provisions and stating that Northern Rock is entitled to redeem the Notes of any such Series pursuant to the terms of such Notes and the applicable Indenture and (ii) a written Opinion of Counsel to Northern Rock to the effect that the circumstances referred to above exist.

Redemption at the Option of Northern Rock

The Notes will be redeemable at the option of Northern Rock (subject, in the case of Subordinated Notes, to the prior written consent of the FSA having been obtained) prior to the Stated Maturity if, and, only if an Initial Redemption Date ("Initial Redemption Date") is specified in the applicable Final Terms. If so specified, and subject to any other terms set forth in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes will be subject to redemption at the option of Northern Rock on any date on and after the applicable Initial Redemption Date in whole or from time to time in part in increments of US$100,000 or the minimum denomination specified in such Final Terms (provided that any remaining principal amount thereof shall be at least US$100,000 or such minimum denomination), at the applicable Redemption Price on notice given not more than 60 days, if the Notes are being redeemed in whole, or 45 days, if the Notes are being redeemed in part, nor less than 30 days prior to the date of redemption and in accordance with the provisions of the respective Indenture. "Redemption Price" with respect to a Note, means, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, an amount equal to the sum of (i) the Initial Redemption Percentage specified in such Final Terms (as adjusted by the Annual Redemption Percentage Reduction, if applicable (as specified in such Final Terms)) multiplied by the unpaid principal amount or the portion to be redeemed plus (ii) accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Initial Redemption Percentage, if any, applicable to a Note shall decline at each anniversary of the Initial Redemption Date by an amount equal to the applicable Annual Redemption Percentage Reduction, if any, until the Redemption Price is equal to 100% of the unpaid principal amount thereof or the portion thereof to be redeemed. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes will not be subject to any sinking fund.

Repayment at the Option of the Holders of Senior Notes

If so specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Senior Notes will be repayable by Northern Rock in whole or in part at the option of the Holders thereof on their respective optional repayment dates ("Optional Repayment Dates") specified in such Final Terms. For the avoidance of doubt, the Subordinated Notes will not be so repayable. If no Optional Repayment Date is specified with respect to a Note, such Note will not be repayable at the option of the Holder thereof prior to the Stated Maturity. Any repayment in part will be in increments of US$100,000 or the minimum denomination specified in the applicable Final Terms (provided that any remaining principal amount thereof shall be at least US$100,000 or such minimum denomination). Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, the repayment price for any Note to be repaid means an amount equal to the sum of the unpaid principal amount thereof or the portion thereof plus accrued interest or Arrears of Interest to the date of repayment. Except as otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, exercise of the repayment option is irrevocable.

Selection of Notes for Partial Redemption

In the case of any partial redemption of Notes, and subject to any other terms specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes to be redeemed shall be selected either by the applicable Trustee individually by lot not more than 60 days prior to the Redemption Date from the outstanding Notes not previously called for redemption or in such other manner as may be agreed by Northern Rock and the Holders.

Repurchase

Northern Rock may (subject, in the case of Subordinated Notes, to the prior written consent of the FSA having been obtained) at any time purchase Notes at any price or prices in the open market or otherwise. Notes so purchased may be held or resold or, at the discretion of Northern Rock, surrendered to the applicable Trustee for cancellation. If any applicable Final Terms provides for mandatory sinking fund payments with respect to such Notes, the Indentures provide that in lieu of making all or any part of any mandatory sinking fund payment in cash, Northern Rock may deliver to the applicable Trustee Notes previously purchased or otherwise acquired by Northern Rock (to the extent not previously credited).

Negative Pledge

So long as any of the Senior Notes remain outstanding, Northern Rock will neither create nor have Outstanding any mortgage, lien (other than a lien arising by operation of law), pledge or other charge upon the whole or any part of its assets, present or future (including any uncalled capital), to secure any Loan Stock (as defined below) of Northern Rock or any obligation of Northern Rock under any guarantee of or indemnity in respect of any Loan Stock of any subsidiary of Northern Rock without at the same time or prior thereto securing the Senior Notes equally and ratably therewith or providing such other security for the Senior Notes not materially less beneficial to the Holders of the Senior Notes or as shall be approved by a majority of the Holders of the Outstanding Senior Notes.

As used herein, "Loan Stock" means indebtedness which is in the form of, or represented or evidenced by, bonds, notes, debentures, loan stock or other securities which for the time being are, or are intended to be, quoted, listed, ordinarily dealt in or traded on any stock exchange, over-the-counter or other established securities market but excluding any such indebtedness which has a Stated Maturity not exceeding one year.

Events of Default – Senior Notes

The following shall constitute "Events of Default" with respect to the Senior Notes:

(i) a failure to pay, or to duly provide for the payment of, any principal (including premium or final redemption amount, initial redemption amount or early redemption amount, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) of any Senior Note of the Series of Senior Notes of which such Senior Note is a part when due (whether at Maturity, upon redemption or otherwise);

(ii) a failure to pay, or to duly provide for the payment of, any interest for a period of 30 days or more, in respect of any Senior Note of the Series of Senior Notes of which such Senior Note is a part when due;

(iii) a failure to make any payment in respect of indebtedness for Borrowed Money (as defined in the Senior Indenture) (which indebtedness has an outstanding aggregate principal amount of at least the Specified Amount) of Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary on its due date (or by the expiry of any applicable grace period as originally provided) or such indebtedness becoming due and payable prior to the Stated Maturity by reason of default or the failure to honor any guarantee or indemnity of any payment in respect of indebtedness for moneys borrowed of any third party given by Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary when due and called upon (except where the aggregate liability under any such guarantees or indemnities does not exceed the Specified Amount);

(iv) a default by Northern Rock in the performance or observance of any obligation, condition or provision binding on it under the Senior Notes or the Senior Indenture (other than any obligation included in the Senior Indenture solely for the benefit of Senior Notes other than the Senior Notes of any such particular Series) and, except where such default is or the effects of such default are, in the opinion of the Trustee, not capable of remedy when no such continuation and notice as is hereinafter mentioned will be required, such default continues for 30 days (or such longer period as the Senior Trustee may permit) after written notice thereof has been given by the Senior Trustee to Northern Rock requiring the same to be remedied;

(v) an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding-up of Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary (except, in any such case, a winding-up or dissolution for the purpose of a reconstruction or amalgamation the terms of which have previously been approved in writing by the Senior Trustee or by the Holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Senior Notes or a voluntary solvent winding-up or a transfer of all or a material part of the business, undertaking and assets of such Material Subsidiary to Northern Rock or any other subsidiary of Northern Rock);

(vi) Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary stops or threatens to stop payment to its creditors generally or Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary ceases or threatens to cease to carry on its business or substantially the whole of its business (except for the purpose of or in connection with a reconstruction or amalgamation the terms of which have previously been approved in writing by the Senior Trustee or by the Holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Senior Notes or a voluntary solvent winding-up or a transfer of all or a material part of the business, undertaking and assets of such Material Subsidiary to Northern Rock or any other subsidiary of Northern Rock);

(vii) an encumbrancer takes possession or a receiver, administrator, administrative receiver or other similar officer is appointed of the whole or any material part of the undertaking, property and assets of Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary or a distress or execution is levied or enforced upon or sued out against the whole or any material part of the chattels or property of Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary and, in the case of any of the foregoing events, is not discharged within 30 days (or such longer period as the Senior Trustee may permit);

(viii) Northern Rock or any Material Subsidiary is unable to pay its debts generally; or

(ix) any other event of default provided with respect to Senior Notes of that Series.

"Adjusted Tangible Net Worth" means the aggregate of (1) the nominal amount of the share capital of Northern Rock for the time being issued and paid up or credited as paid up, (2) the amounts standing to the credit of the reserves (including any share premium account and profit and loss account) of Northern Rock and its subsidiaries and (3) any amount attributable to minority interests in subsidiaries, all as shown in the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of Northern Rock and its subsidiaries prepared in accordance with U.K. GAAP less (4) any amounts, determined in accordance with U.K. GAAP, representing distribution of cash or tangible assets declared, recommended or made by Northern Rock or any of its subsidiaries (other than any distribution attributable to Northern Rock or another subsidiary) out of profits accrued prior to the date of, and not provided for in, the latest audited consolidated balance sheet of Northern Rock and its subsidiaries and less (5) any amounts shown in such latest audited consolidated balance sheet attributable to intangible assets and of any debit on the profit and loss account.

"Material Subsidiary" means any subsidiary of Northern Rock whose total assets (attributable to Northern Rock) represent 10% or more of the consolidated total assets (attributable to Northern Rock) of Northern Rock and its subsidiaries.

"Specified Amount" means the greater of (a) £15,000,000 or its equivalent in any other currency or currencies and (b) such amount in pounds sterling as is equal to 1% of the Adjusted Tangible Net Worth.

In case an Event of Default with respect to any Series of Senior Notes shall have occurred and be continuing, the Senior Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Senior Notes of that Series may declare the principal of (including premium, if any on) or (in the case of Discount Notes) such lesser amount as may be provided for with respect to such Notes, all the Senior Notes of that Series to be due and payable immediately, by a notice in writing to Northern Rock (and to the Senior Trustee if given by Holders), and upon any such declaration of acceleration such principal or such lesser amount, as the case may be, including premium, if any, thereon, together with any accrued interest and all other amounts owing under such Senior Notes and under the Senior Indenture (with respect to such Series of Senior Notes), shall become immediately due and payable, without presentment, demand, protest or notice of any kind, all of which have been expressly waived by Northern Rock. Upon such an acceleration, any premium and interest on the Outstanding Senior Notes shall also become due and payable. At any time after such a declaration of acceleration but before a judgment or decree for payment of the money due has been obtained by the Senior Trustee or the Holders of such Outstanding Senior Notes, the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Outstanding Senior Notes may rescind and annul such acceleration and its consequences, provided all required payments (other than as a result of such acceleration) have been made and all Events of Default with respect to such Senior Notes shall have been cured or waived.

The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Senior Notes of a Series may waive, on behalf of the Holders of all such Senior Notes of that Series, any past default of that series with respect to the Senior Notes of that Series and its consequences, except a default in the payment of the principal of (or premium, if any, on) or interest, if any, on any such Senior Note of that Series or a default in respect of a covenant or provision of the Senior Indenture that cannot be modified or amended without the consent of the Holders of each such Senior Note of that Series affected thereby. See "– Waivers" below.

Northern Rock has also covenanted that if (i) there is a failure to pay, or to duly provide for the payment of, any interest for a period of 30 days upon any Senior Note of a Series when such interest becomes due and payable or (ii) there is a failure to pay, or to duly provide for the payment of, the principal of (or premium, if any, on) any Senior Note of a Series at its Maturity, Northern Rock will, upon demand of the Senior Trustee for the Senior Notes of such Series, pay to it, for the benefit of the Holders of such Senior Notes, the whole amount then due and payable on such Senior Notes for principal (and premium, if any) and interest, if any, with interest upon the overdue principal (and premium, if any) and, to the extent that payment of such interest shall be legally enforceable, upon any overdue installments of interest at a rate per annum equal to the rate borne by such Senior Notes (or, in the case of Discount Notes, the Notes' Yield to Maturity); and, in addition thereto, such further amount as shall be sufficient to cover the costs and expenses of collection, including the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Senior Trustee, its agents and counsel.

If Northern Rock fails to pay such amounts forthwith upon such demand, the Senior Trustee, in its own name and as trustee of an express trust, may institute a judicial proceeding for the collection of the sums so due and unpaid, and may prosecute such proceedings to judgment or final decree, and may enforce the same against Northern Rock or any other obligor upon the Senior Notes and collect the moneys adjudged or decreed to be payable in the manner provided by law out of the property of Northern Rock, or any other obligor upon the Senior Notes, wherever situated.

Holders of Senior Notes of any Series may not enforce the Senior Indenture or Senior Notes, except as described in the preceding paragraphs; provided that each Holder of Senior Notes will have the right to institute suit for the enforcement of payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and interest, if any, on such Senior Notes on the respective Stated Maturities thereof. The Senior Trustee may require indemnity satisfactory to it before it enforces the Senior Indenture or Senior Note. Subject to certain limitations, Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Senior Notes of any Series may direct the Senior Trustee in its exercise of any trust or power. Northern Rock will furnish the Senior Trustee with an annual certificate of certain of its officers certifying, to the best of their knowledge, whether Northern Rock, is, or has been, in default and specifying the nature and status of any such default. The Senior Trustee may withhold from Holders of Senior Notes of any Series notice of any continuing default (except a default in payment) if it determines in good faith that the withholding of such notice is in the interest of such Holders.

Events of Default – Subordinated Notes

Events of Default relating to Dated Subordinated Notes

The following shall constitute "Events of Default" with respect to the Dated Subordinated Notes:

(i) a failure to pay, or to duly provide for the payment of, any principal for a period of seven days or more (including premium or final redemption amount, initial redemption amount or early redemption amount, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) of any Dated Subordinated Note of the Series of Dated Subordinated Notes of which such Dated Subordinated Note is a part when due (whether at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise);

(ii) a failure to pay, or to duly provide for the payment of, any interest for a period of 14 days or more, in respect of any Dated Subordinated Note of the Series of Dated Subordinated Notes of which such Dated Subordinated Note is a part when due; or

(iii) commencement of the winding-up of Northern Rock (other than a winding-up which has been approved in writing by the Holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Dated Subordinated Notes).

In case an Event of Default with respect to the Dated Subordinated Notes shall have occurred and be continuing, the Subordinated Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Dated Subordinated Notes may declare the principal of all such Outstanding Dated Subordinated Notes (including premium, if any, on), or (in the case of Discount Notes) such lesser amount as may be provided for with respect to such Notes, all the Dated Subordinated Notes of that Series to be due and payable immediately, by a notice in writing to Northern Rock (and to the Subordinated Trustee if given by Holders), and upon any such declaration of acceleration such principal or such lesser amount, as the case may be, including premium, if any, thereon together with any accrued interest, and all other amounts owing thereunder, shall become immediately due and payable, without presentment, demand, protest or notice of any kind, all of which have been expressly waived by Northern Rock. If the Dated Subordinated Notes become immediately due and repayable, a majority of the Holders of the Outstanding Dated Subordinated Notes may institute proceedings, but may take no other action in respect of such default, for the winding-up of Northern Rock and to prove a claim in such winding up to enforce the obligations of Northern Rock in respect of the Dated Subordinated Notes; provided that no payment of interest, repayment of principal or other claim in respect to the Dated Subordinated Notes may be made otherwise than during or after a winding-up or dissolution of Northern Rock, except with prior written consent of the FSA. For the purposes of the foregoing, a payment shall be deemed to be due even if Northern Rock is not solvent.

Events of Default relating to Perpetual Subordinated Notes

In the case of Perpetual Subordinated Notes, if Northern Rock shall fail to pay or duly provide for the payment of principal or interest for a period of 14 days or more (including premium, if any, and in the case of Discount Notes, the Amortized Face Amount or other amount payable in respect thereof) of any Perpetual Subordinated Note when due, the majority of Holders of the Outstanding Perpetual Subordinated Notes may institute proceedings, but may take no other action in respect of such default, for the winding up of Northern Rock and to prove a claim in such winding up to enforce the obligations of Northern Rock in respect of the Perpetual Subordinated Notes. For the avoidance of doubt, no payment shall be deemed due if Northern Rock does not make or has not made such payment because of its insolvency or because such payment will cause it to become insolvent and no payment of interest shall be due if Northern Rock has exercised its right to defer such payment (as set out in the Subordinated Indenture and described herein under "Status and Subordination of Subordinated Notes").

Events of Default relating to Subordinated Notes-General

No Holder of Outstanding Subordinated Notes shall be entitled to institute proceedings for the winding-up of Northern Rock, or to prove a claim in any winding-up of Northern Rock, unless a majority of the Holders of Outstanding Subordinated Notes have determined to so proceed, in which event any such Holder of Outstanding Subordinated Notes may, at its own expense and in its own name, institute proceedings for the winding-up of Northern Rock and/or prove a claim in any winding up of Northern Rock in respect of its Outstanding Subordinated Notes.

Judgments

Under current New York law, a state court in the State of New York rendering a judgment in respect of a Note denominated in other than U.S. dollars would be required to render such judgment in the Specified Currency, and such judgment would be converted into U.S. dollars at the Market Exchange Rate prevailing on the date of entry of such judgment. Accordingly, the Holder of such Note denominated in other than U.S. dollars would be subject to exchange rate fluctuations between the date of entry of a judgment in a currency other than U.S. dollars and the time the amount of such judgment is paid to such Holder in U.S. dollars and converted by such Holder into the Specified Currency. It is not certain, however, whether a non-New York state court would follow the same rules and procedures with respect to conversions of judgments in currency other than U.S. dollars.

Northern Rock will indemnify the Trustee and the Holder of any Note against any loss incurred by such Holder and/or the Trustee as a result of any judgment or order being given or made for any amount due under such Note and such judgment or order requiring payment in a currency (the "Judgment Currency") other than the Specified Currency, and as a result of any variation between (i) the rate of exchange at which the Specified Currency amount is converted into the Judgment Currency for the purpose of such judgment or order, and (ii) the rate of exchange at which the Holder of such Note, on the date of payment of such judgment or order, is able to purchase the Specified Currency with the amount of the Judgment Currency actually received by such Holder, as the case may be.

Consolidation, Merger and Sale or Lease of Assets

So long as any Note of a Series remains Outstanding, Northern Rock will not consolidate or amalgamate with or merge into any other corporation or convey, transfer or lease its properties and assets substantially as an entirety to any Person unless (i) the corporation formed by such consolidation or amalgamation or into which Northern Rock is merged or the Person which acquired by conveyance or transfer, or which leases, the properties and assets of Northern Rock substantially as an entirety shall be a corporation or other Person organized and validly existing under the laws of the United Kingdom which shall expressly assume, by an amendment to the applicable Indenture that is executed and delivered to the applicable Trustee and is in form reasonably satisfactory to the applicable Trustee, the due and punctual payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and interest, if any, on all of the Notes of such a Series and the performance of every covenant of the applicable Indenture (other than a covenant included in the applicable Indenture solely for the benefit of Notes other than such Notes) and of such Notes to be performed, and such assumption shall provide that such corporation or Person shall pay to the Holder of any such Notes such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that every net payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and interest, if any, on such Notes will not be less than the amounts provided for in such Notes to be then due and payable and such obligations shall extend to any deduction or withholding for or on account of any present or future tax, assessment or governmental charge imposed upon such payment (it being understood that, except as aforesaid, no such corporation or Person shall be obligated to make any indemnification or payment in respect of any tax consequences to any Holder as a result of such assumption of rights and obligations if such corporation or Person would not be obligated to pay an additional amount pursuant to the applicable Indenture if such corporation or Person were Northern Rock); (ii) immediately after giving effect to such transaction, no Event of Default with respect to Senior Notes of such a Series or with respect to Subordinated Notes of such a Series, as the case may be, and no event which, after notice or lapse of time, or both, would become an Event of Default with respect to such Notes, shall have occurred and be continuing; and (iii) Northern Rock has delivered to the applicable Trustee a certificate signed by two duly authorized officers and an Opinion of Counsel each stating that such consolidation, amalgamation, merger, conveyance, transfer or lease and such amendment to the applicable Indenture evidencing the assumption by such corporation or Person comply with the applicable Indenture and that all conditions precedent provided for in the applicable Indenture relating to such transaction have been complied with.

Upon any such consolidation, amalgamation or merger, or any such conveyance, transfer or lease, the successor corporation or Person will succeed to, and be substituted for, and may exercise every right and power of Northern Rock, under the applicable Indenture with the same effect as if such successor corporation or Person has been named as the issuer thereunder, and thereafter, except in the case of a lease, the predecessor corporation shall be relieved of all obligations and covenants under the applicable Indenture and such Notes.

Satisfaction and Discharge

Except as may otherwise be set forth in the Final Terms relating to the Notes of a Series, the Indentures provide that Northern Rock will be discharged from its obligations under the Notes of a Series (with certain exceptions) at any time prior to the Stated Maturity, if any, or redemption of such Notes when (i) Northern Rock has irrevocably deposited or caused to be deposited with or to the order of the applicable Trustee, in trust, (a) sufficient funds in the currency, currencies, currency unit or units in which such Notes are payable (without consideration of any reinvestment thereof) to pay the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and interest and Arrears of Interest, if any, on such Notes to the Stated Maturity, if any (or Redemption Date), or (b) such amount of U.S. Government Obligations (as defined below) as will, together with the predetermined and certain income to accrue thereon (without consideration of any reinvestment thereof), be sufficient to pay when due the principal of (and premium, if any, on) and interest, if any, to the Stated Maturity, if any (or Redemption Date) on such Notes, or, (c) such amount equal to the amount referred to in clause (a) or (b) in any combination of currency or currency unit of U.S. Government Obligations; (ii) Northern Rock has paid all other sums payable with respect to such Notes; (iii) Northern Rock has delivered to the applicable Trustee an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that (a) Northern Rock has received from, or there has been published by, the U.S. Internal Revenue Service a ruling, or (b) since the date of the applicable Indenture there has been a change in applicable United States federal income tax law, in either case to the effect that, and based upon which such Opinion of Counsel shall confirm that, the Holders of such Notes will not recognize income, gain or loss for United States federal income tax purposes as a result of such discharge and will be subject to United States federal income tax on the same amount and in the same manner and at the same time as would have been the case if such discharge had not occurred; and (iv) certain other conditions are met. Upon such discharge, the Holders of the Notes of such a Series shall no longer be entitled to the benefits of the terms and conditions of the applicable Indenture and Notes, except for certain provisions including registration of transfer and exchange of such Notes and replacement of mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes of such a Series, and shall look for payment only to such deposited funds or obligations. In addition, under the requirements of the FSA at the date of this Offering Circular, any such discharge with respect to the Subordinated Notes of any Series would require the consent of the FSA.

"U.S. Government Obligations" means non-callable (i) direct obligations (or certificates representing an ownership interest in such obligations) of the United States for which its full faith and credit are pledged or (ii) obligations of a Person controlled or supervised by, and acting as an agency or instrumentality of, the United States, the timely payment of which is unconditionally guaranteed as a full faith and credit obligation of the United States.

Supplemental Indentures

The Indentures contain provisions permitting Northern Rock and the applicable Trustee (i) without the consent of the Holders of any Notes (including the Notes of such a Series) issued under the applicable Indenture, to execute supplemental indentures for certain enumerated purposes, such as to cure any ambiguity or inconsistency or to make any change that does not have a materially adverse effect on the rights of any holder of such Notes, and (ii) with the consent of the Holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Notes of each Series of Notes issued under the applicable Indenture (including the Notes of any such Series) and affected thereby, to execute supplemental indentures for the purpose of adding any provisions to or changing in any manner or eliminating any of the provisions of the applicable Indenture or of modifying in any manner the rights of holders of any such Note under the applicable Indenture; provided, that no such supplemental indenture may, without the consent of the Holder of each such Outstanding Note (including such Notes) affected thereby (a) change the Stated Maturity, if any, of the principal of or interest on any such Note, or change the terms of any Perpetual Subordinated Note to include a Stated Maturity of the principal amount of any such Note, or reduce the principal amount of any such Note or the rate of interest thereon, if any, or any premium or principal payable upon redemption thereof, or change any obligation of Northern Rock to pay additional amounts thereon, or change any Place of Payment where, or change the currency in which, any such Note or the interest, if any, thereon is payable, or impair the right to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after the Stated Maturity, if any, thereof or the date any such payment is otherwise due and payable (or, in the case of redemption, on or after the redemption date); or (b) reduce the percentage in aggregate principal amount of such Outstanding Notes of any particular Series, the consent of whose Holders is required for any such supplemental indenture, or the consent of whose Holders is required for any waiver (of compliance with certain provisions of the applicable Indenture or certain defaults thereunder and their consequences) provided for in the applicable Indenture; or (c) change any obligation of Northern Rock to maintain an office or agency in the places and for the purposes specified in the applicable Indenture; or (d) modify certain of the provisions of the applicable Indenture pertaining to the waiver by Holders of such Notes of past defaults, supplemental indentures with the consent of Holders of such Notes and the waiver by Holders of such Notes of certain covenants, except to increase any specified percentage in aggregate principal amount required for any actions by Holders of Notes or to provide that certain other provisions of the applicable Indenture cannot be modified or waived without the consent of the Holder of each such Note affected thereby; or (e) in the case of the Subordinated Notes, change in any manner adverse to the interests of the Holders of such Outstanding Subordinated Notes the subordination provisions of such Subordinated Notes. The provisions of the Subordinated Indenture relating to maturity, redemption, repayment, events of default and subordination of the Subordinated Notes shall not be capable of modification by any Supplemental Indenture other than with the prior written consent of the FSA or for the purpose of correcting a manifest error.

Notes authenticated and delivered after the execution of any amendment to the Indentures or Notes may bear notation as to any matter provided by such amendment.

New Notes, so modified to conform, in the opinion of Northern Rock, to any modification contained in any such amendment may be prepared by Northern Rock, authenticated and delivered in exchange for the Notes then outstanding.

Waivers

The Holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Notes of each Series of Notes issued under the applicable Indenture and affected thereby, may on behalf of the Holders of all such Notes waive compliance by Northern Rock with certain restrictive provisions of the applicable Indenture as pertain to the corporate existence of Northern Rock, the maintenance of certain agencies by Northern Rock or, solely with respect to Senior Notes, as pertain to the negative pledge covenant as described under "Negative Pledge" above.

The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Notes of a Series issued under the applicable Indenture may waive on behalf of the Holders of all such Notes of such Series, any past default and its consequences under the applicable Indenture, except a default in the payment of the principal of (or premium, if any, on) or interest, if any, on any such Note of that Series or a default in respect of a covenant or a provision which under the applicable Indenture cannot be modified or amended without the consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Note of such a Series.

Notices

Notices to Holders of Notes in registered form will be given by mail to the addresses of such Holders as they appear in the Note Register. For so long as the Notes are listed on the EuroMTF and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, notices shall also be published in a leading newspaper of general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be d'Wort); provided that for so long as the Notes are held in registered global form and if the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange would so permit, notifications may be made either through DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg or by mail to the address of such Holders as they appear in the Note Register with a copy of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange in place of publication in a newspaper as described above.

Title

Northern Rock, the Trustees and any agent of Northern Rock or the Trustees may treat the registered owner of any Note in registered form as the absolute owner thereof (whether or not such security shall be overdue and notwithstanding any notice to the contrary) for the purpose of making payment and for all other purposes.

Governing Law

The Senior Indenture and the Senior Notes will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York.

The Subordinated Indenture and the Subordinated Notes will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, except that the subordination provisions of the Subordinated Indenture and Subordinated Notes will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales.

Consent to Service

Northern Rock has designated and appointed CT Corporation System at 111 Eighth Avenue, in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, New York, 10011 as its authorized agent upon which process may be served in any suit or proceeding arising out of or relating to the applicable Notes or Indenture which may be instituted in any State or Federal court located in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, State of New York, and has submitted (for the purposes or any such suit or proceeding) to the jurisdiction of any such court in which any such suit or proceeding is so instituted. Northern Rock has agreed, to the fullest extent that it lawfully may do so, that final judgment in any such suit, action or proceeding brought in such a court shall be conclusive and binding upon it and may be enforced in the courts of England and Wales (or any other courts to the jurisdiction of which it is subject).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, any actions arising out of or relating to the applicable Notes or Indenture may be instituted by Northern Rock, the Trustees or the Holder of any Note in any competent court in England and Wales or such other competent jurisdiction, as the case may be.

Concerning the Senior Trustee

The Senior Indenture provides that, except during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Senior Trustee will have no obligations other than the performance of such duties as are specifically set forth in such Senior Indenture. If an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Senior Trustee will use the same degree of care and skill in its exercise of the rights and powers vested in it by the Senior Indenture as a prudent person would exercise under the circumstances in the conduct of such person's own affairs.

Concerning the Subordinated Trustee

The Subordinated Indenture provides that, except during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Subordinated Trustee will have no obligations other than the performance of such duties as are specifically set forth in such Subordinated Indenture. If an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Subordinated Trustee will use the same degree of care and skill in its exercise of the rights and powers vested in it by the Subordinated Indenture as a prudent person would exercise under the circumstances in the conduct of such person's own affairs.

Book-Entry System

DTC will act as securities depositary for the Global Notes representing Senior Notes and for Global Receipts representing Subordinated Notes. Unless otherwise specified, the Global Notes representing Senior Notes and the Global Receipts representing Subordinated Notes will be issued as fully-registered securities registered in the name of Cede (DTC's partnership nominee).

Northern Rock understands that DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the laws of the State of New York, a "Banking Organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Exchange Act. DTC holds securities that its participants ("Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the clearance and settlement among Participants of transactions in such securities through electronic book-entry changes in Participants' accounts, thereby eliminating the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants ("Direct Participants") include securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is owned by a number of its Direct Participants and by the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., the American Stock Exchange, Inc., and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Access to DTC's system is also available to others such as securities brokers and dealers, banks and trust companies that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The rules applicable to DTC and its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Purchases of Global Notes or Global Receipts under DTC's system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Global Notes or Global Receipts on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual purchaser of each Global Note or Global Receipt is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase, but beneficial owners are expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transactions, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the beneficial owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the Global Notes or Global Receipts are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Participants acting on behalf of the beneficial owners. Beneficial owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Global Notes or Global Receipts, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for one or more Global Notes or Global Receipts is discontinued.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Global Notes and Global Receipts deposited by Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede. The deposit of Global Notes and Global Receipts with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede effect no change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual beneficial owners of the Global Notes or Global Receipts; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Global Notes or Global Receipts are credited, which may or may not be the beneficial owners. The Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to beneficial owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time.

Redemption notices shall be sent to Cede. If less than all of the Notes and Global Receipts within a Series are being redeemed, DTC's current practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

Neither DTC nor Cede will consent or vote with respect to Notes. Under its usual procedures, DTC will mail an "Omnibus Proxy" to Northern Rock as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede's consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Notes are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

Principal and interest payments on the Global Notes and Global Receipts will be made to DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts on the payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records unless DTC has reason to believe that it will not receive payment on the payable date. Payments by Participants to beneficial owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as in the case of securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, or Northern Rock, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of principal and interest to DTC is the responsibility of Northern Rock, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants shall be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the beneficial owners shall be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

A beneficial owner shall give notice to elect to have its Global Notes or Global Receipts purchased or tendered, through its Participant, to the applicable Trustee for a Series of Notes, and shall effect delivery of such Global Notes or Global Receipts by causing the Direct Participant to transfer the Participant's interest in the Global Notes or Global Receipts, on DTC's records, to such Trustee. The requirement for physical delivery of Global Notes or Global Receipts in connection with a demand for purchase or a mandatory purchase will be deemed satisfied when the ownership rights in the Global Notes or Global Receipts are transferred by a Direct Participant on DTC's records.

DTC may discontinue providing its services as securities depositary with respect to the Global Notes and Global Receipts at any time by giving reasonable notice to Northern Rock and the Dealers. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor securities depository is not obtained, Certificated Notes will be printed and delivered in exchange for the Global Notes and Global Receipts.

Northern Rock may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, registered or book entry Certificated Notes will be printed and delivered in exchange for the Global Notes and Global Receipts represented by the Global Securities held by DTC.

The information in this section concerning DTC and DTC's book-entry system has been obtained from sources that Northern Rock believes to be reliable, but Northern Rock takes no responsibility for the accuracy thereof.

None of Northern Rock, any Trustee, any Paying Agent, any registrar for the Notes or any Dealer will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial ownership interests in a Global Note or Global Receipt or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

- Securities clearance accounts and cash accounts with Euroclear are governed by the Terms and Conditions Governing Use of Euroclear and the related Operating Procedures of Euroclear, and applicable Belgian law. These terms and conditions and operating procedures govern transfer of securities and cash within Euroclear, withdrawals of securities and cash from Euroclear, and receipt of payments with respect to securities in Euroclear. Euroclear acts under these terms and conditions and operating procedures only on behalf of Euroclear participants and has no record of or relationship with persons holding through Euroclear accounts.

- Euroclear customers include banks, central banks, securities brokers and dealers, trust companies and clearing corporations and may include certain other professional financial intermediaries.

Circular 230 Legend

The following discussion of United States federal income tax matters and any other discussions of United States federal income tax matters contained elsewhere in this Offering Circular (a) were not intended or written to be legal or tax advice to any person and were not intended or written to be used, and they cannot be used, by any person for the purpose of avoiding any tax-related penalties that may be imposed on such person, and (b) were written in connection with the promotion or marketing of the Notes pursuant to the Program by the Company and the Dealers. Each person considering an investment in the Notes pursuant to the Program should seek advice based on its particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, a prospective purchaser (and each employee, representative, or other agent of a prospective purchaser) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the transactions described in this Offering Circular and all materials of any kind that are provided to the prospective purchaser relating to such tax treatment and tax structure (as such terms are defined in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4). This authorization of tax disclosure is retroactively effective to the commencement of discussions between the Company, the Dealers or their representatives and a prospective investor regarding the transactions contemplated herein.

Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations

The following summary of certain United States Federal income tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Notes is based upon laws, regulations, rulings and decisions now in effect, all of which are subject to change (including changes in effective dates) or possible differing interpretations. It deals only with Notes held as capital assets and does not purport to deal with persons in special tax situations, such as financial institutions, insurance companies, tax-exempt entities, persons liable for alternative minimum tax, regulated investment companies, dealers in securities or currencies, traders in securities that elect to use a mark to market method of accounting, persons holding Notes as part of a hedging, integrated, conversion or constructive sale transaction, or as a position in a "straddle" for tax purposes, or U.S. persons whose functional currency is not the United States dollar. It also does not deal with holders other than original purchasers (except where otherwise specifically noted). Any special United States Federal income tax considerations relevant to a particular issue of the Notes will be provided in the applicable Final Terms. If a partnership holds our Notes, the tax treatment of a partner will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. If you are a partner of a partnership holding our Notes, you should consult your tax advisors.

This summary deals only with the United States Federal income tax consequences of the purchase, ownership, and disposition of Senior Notes and Dated Subordinated Notes, in each case, which mature 30 years or less after their issue date. The United States Federal income tax consequences of the purchase, ownership, and disposition of Perpetual Subordinated Notes will be discussed in the applicable Final Terms.

Persons considering the purchase of the Notes should consult their own tax advisors concerning the application of United States Federal income tax laws to their particular situations as well as any consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Notes arising under the laws of any other taxing jurisdiction.

As used herein, the term "U.S. Holder" means a beneficial owner of a Note that is for United States Federal income tax purposes (i) a citizen or resident of the United States, (ii) a corporation (or entity treated as a corporation for U.S. Federal income tax purposes) created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia, (iii) an estate whose income is subject to United States federal income tax regardless of its source, (iv) a trust (A) if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more United States persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (B) that has a valid election in effect under applicable U.S. Treasury regulations to be treated as a United States person, or (v) any other person whose income or gain in respect of a Note is effectively connected with the conduct of a United States trade or business. The term "non-U.S. Holder" means a beneficial owner of a note that is not a U.S. Holder.

U.S. Holders

Payments of Interest. Except as set forth below, payments of interest on a Note generally will be taxable to a U.S. Holder as ordinary interest income at the time such payments are accrued or are received (in accordance with the U.S. Holder's regular method of tax accounting). Interest income and original issue discount (as defined below) on a Note generally will constitute foreign source income and generally will be considered "passive income" for purposes of computing the foreign tax credit.

Original Issue Discount. The following summary is a general discussion of the United States Federal income tax consequences to U.S. Holders of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Notes issued with original issue discount for United States Federal income tax purposes ("Original Issue Discount Notes"). The following summary is based upon final Treasury regulations (the "OID Regulations") under the original issue discount provisions of the Code.

For United States Federal income tax purposes, original issue discount is the excess of the stated redemption price at maturity of a Note over its issue price, if such excess equals or exceeds a de minimis amount (generally $^1/_4$ of 1% of the Note's stated redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of complete years to its maturity from its issue date or, in the case of a Note providing for the payment of any amount other than qualified stated interest (as defined below) prior to maturity, multiplied by the weighted average maturity of such Note). The issue price of each Note in an issue of Notes equals the first price at which a substantial amount of such Notes has been sold (ignoring sales to bond houses, brokers, or similar persons or organizations acting in the capacity of underwriters, dealers, or wholesalers). The stated redemption price at maturity of a Note is the sum of all payments provided by the Note other than "qualified stated interest" payments. The term "qualified stated interest" generally means stated interest that is unconditionally payable in cash or property (other than debt instruments of the issuer) at least annually. In addition, under the OID Regulations, if a Note bears interest for one or more accrual periods at a rate below the rate applicable for the remaining term of such Note (e.g., Notes with teaser rates or interest holidays), and if the greater of either the resulting foregone interest on such Note or any "true" discount on such Note (i.e., the excess of the Note's stated principal amount over its issue price) equals or exceeds a specified de minimis amount, then the stated interest on the Note would be treated as original issue discount rather than qualified stated interest.

In the case of a Note issued with de minimis original issue discount, the U.S. Holder generally must include such de minimis original issue discount in income as stated principal payments on the Notes are made in proportion to the stated principal amount of the Note. Any amount of de minimis original issue discount that has been included in income shall be treated as capital gain. Payments of qualified stated interest on a Note are taxable to a U.S. Holder as ordinary interest income at the time such payments are accrued or are received (in accordance with the U.S. Holder's regular method of tax accounting). A U.S. Holder of an Original Issue Discount Note must include original issue discount in income as ordinary interest income for United States Federal income tax purposes as it accrues under a constant yield method in advance of receipt of the cash payments attributable to such income, regardless of such U.S. Holder's regular method of tax accounting. In general, the amount of original issue discount included in income by the initial U.S. Holder of an Original Issue Discount Note is the sum of the daily portions of original issue discount with respect to such Original Issue Discount Note for each day during the taxable year (or portion of the taxable year) on which such U.S. Holder held such Original Issue Discount Note. The "daily portion" of original issue discount on any Original Issue Discount Note is determined by allocating to each day in any accrual period a rateable portion of the original issue discount allocable to that accrual period. An "accrual period" may be of any length and the accrual periods may vary in length over the term of the Original Issue Discount Note, provided that each accrual period is no longer than one year and each scheduled payment of principal or interest occurs either on the final day of an accrual period or on the first day of an accrual period. The amount of original issue discount allocable to each accrual period is generally equal to the difference between (i) the product of the Original Issue Discount Note's adjusted issue price at the beginning of such accrual period and its yield to maturity (determined on the basis of compounding at the close of each accrual period and appropriately adjusted to take into account the length of the particular accrual period) and (ii) the amount of any qualified stated interest payments allocable to such accrual period. Original issue discount allocable to a final accrual period is the difference between the amount payable at maturity (other than a payment of qualified stated interest) and the adjusted issue price at the beginning of the final accrual period. The "adjusted issue price" of an Original Issue Discount Note at the beginning of any accrual period is the sum of the issue price of the Original Issue Discount Note plus the amount of original issue discount allocable to all prior accrual periods minus the amount of any prior payments on the Original Issue Discount Note that were not qualified stated interest payments. Under these rules, U.S. Holders generally will have to include in income increasingly greater amounts of original issue discount in successive accrual periods.

A U.S. Holder that purchases an Original Issue Discount Note for an amount that is greater than its adjusted issue price as of the purchase date and less than or equal to the sum of all amounts payable on the Original Issue Discount Note after the purchase date other than payments of qualified stated interest, will be considered to have purchased the Original Issue Discount Note at an "acquisition premium." Under the acquisition premium rules, the amount of original issue discount which such U.S. Holder must include in its gross income with respect to such Original Issue Discount Note for any taxable year (or portion thereof in which the U.S. Holder holds the Original Issue Discount Note) will be reduced (but not below zero) by the portion of the acquisition premium properly allocable to the period.

Under the OID Regulations, Floating Rate Notes ("Variable Notes") are subject to special rules whereby a Variable Note will qualify as a "variable rate debt instrument" if (a) its issue price does not exceed the total noncontingent principal payments due under the Variable Note by more than a specified de minimis amount and (b) it provides for stated interest, paid or compounded at least annually, at current values of (i) one or more qualified floating rates, (ii) a single fixed rate and one or more qualified floating rates, (iii) a single objective rate, or (iv) a single fixed rate and a single objective rate that is a qualified inverse floating rate.

A "qualified floating rate" is any variable rate where variations in the value of such rate can reasonably be expected to measure contemporaneous variations in the cost of newly borrowed funds in the currency in which the Variable Note is denominated. Although a multiple of a qualified floating rate will generally not itself constitute a qualified floating rate, a variable rate equal to the product of a qualified floating rate and a fixed multiple that is greater than .65 but not more than 1.35 will constitute a qualified floating rate. A variable rate equal to the product of a qualified floating rate and a fixed multiple that is greater than .65 but not more than 1.35, increased or decreased by a fixed rate, will also constitute a qualified floating rate. In addition, under the OID Regulations, two or more qualified floating rates that can reasonably be expected to have approximately the same values throughout the term of the Variable Note (e.g., two or more qualified floating rates with values within 25 basis points of each other as determined on the Variable Note's issue date) will be treated as a single qualified floating rate. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a variable rate that would otherwise constitute a qualified floating rate but which is subject to one or more restrictions such as a maximum numerical limitation (i.e., a cap) or a minimum numerical limitation (i.e., a floor) may, under certain circumstances, fail to be treated as a qualified floating rate under the OID Regulations unless such cap or floor is fixed throughout the term of the Note. An "objective rate" is a rate that is not itself a qualified floating rate but which is determined using a single fixed formula and that is based on objective financial or economic information. A rate will not qualify as an objective rate if it is based on information that is within the control of the issuer (or a related party) or that is unique to the circumstances of the issuer (or a related party), such as dividends, profits, or the value of the issuer's stock (although a rate does not fail to be an objective rate merely because it is based on the credit quality of the issuer). A "qualified inverse floating rate" is any objective rate where such rate is equal to a fixed rate minus a qualified floating rate, as long as variations in the rate can reasonably be expected to inversely reflect contemporaneous variations in the qualified floating rate. The OID Regulations also provide that if a Variable Note provides for stated interest at a fixed rate for an initial period of one year or less followed by a variable rate that is either a qualified floating rate or an objective rate and if the variable rate on the Variable Note's issue date is intended to approximate the fixed rate (e.g., the value of the variable rate on the issue date does not differ from the value of the fixed rate by more than 25 basis points), then the fixed rate and the variable rate together will constitute either a single qualified floating rate or objective rate, as the case may be.

If a Variable Note that provides for stated interest at either a single qualified floating rate or a single objective rate throughout the term thereof qualifies as a "variable rate debt instrument" under the OID Regulations and if the interest on such Variable Note is unconditionally payable in cash or property (other than debt instruments of the issuer) at least annually, then all stated interest on the Variable Note will constitute qualified stated interest and will be taxed accordingly. Thus, a Variable Note that provides for stated interest at either a single qualified floating rate or a single objective rate throughout the term thereof and that qualifies as a "variable rate debt instrument" under the OID Regulations will generally not be treated as having been issued with original issue discount unless the Variable Note is issued at a "true" discount (i.e., at a price below the Note's stated principal amount) in excess of a specified de minimis amount. The amount of qualified stated interest and the amount of original issue discount, if any, that accrues during an accrual period on such a Variable Note is determined under the rules applicable to fixed rate debt instruments by assuming that the variable rate is a fixed rate equal to (i) in the case of a qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate, the value, as of the issue date, of the qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate, or (ii) in the case of an objective rate (other than a qualified inverse floating rate), a fixed rate that reflects the yield that is reasonably expected for the Variable Note. The qualified stated interest allocable to an accrual period is increased (or decreased) if the interest actually paid during an accrual period exceeds (or is less than) the interest assumed to be paid during the accrual period pursuant to the foregoing rules.

In general, any other Variable Note that qualifies as a "variable rate debt instrument" will be converted into an "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument for purposes of determining the amount and accrual of original issue discount and qualified stated interest on the Variable Note. The OID Regulations generally require that such a Variable Note be converted into an "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument by substituting any qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate provided for under the terms of the Variable Note with a fixed rate equal to the value of the qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate, as the case may be, as of the Variable Note's issue date. Any objective rate (other than a qualified inverse floating rate) provided for under the terms of the Variable Note is converted into a fixed rate that reflects the yield that is reasonably expected for the Variable Note. In the case of a Variable Note that qualifies as a "variable rate debt instrument" and provides for stated interest at a fixed rate in addition to either one or more qualified floating rates or a qualified inverse floating rate, the fixed rate is initially converted into a qualified floating rate (or a qualified inverse floating rate, if the Variable Note provides for a qualified inverse floating rate). Under such circumstances, the qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate that replaces the fixed rate must be such that the fair market value of the Variable Note as of the Variable Note's issue date is approximately the same as the fair market value of an otherwise identical debt instrument that provides for either the qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate rather than the fixed rate. Subsequent to converting the fixed rate into either a qualified floating rate or a qualified inverse floating rate, the Variable Note is then converted into an "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument in the manner described above.

Once the Variable Note is converted into an "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument pursuant to the foregoing rules, the amount of original issue discount and qualified stated interest, if any, are determined for the "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument by applying the general original issue discount rules to the "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument and a U.S. Holder of the Variable Note will account for such original issue discount and qualified stated interest as if the U.S. Holder held the "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument. Each accrual period appropriate adjustments will be made to the amount of qualified stated interest or original issue discount assumed to have been accrued or paid with respect to the "equivalent" fixed rate debt instrument in the event that such amounts differ from the actual amount of interest accrued or paid on the Variable Note during the accrual period.

If a Variable Note does not qualify as a "variable rate debt instrument" under the OID Regulations, then the Variable Note would be treated as a contingent payment debt instrument. On June 11, 1996, the Treasury Department issued final regulations (the "CPDI Regulations") concerning the proper United States Federal income tax treatment of contingent payment debt instruments. In general, the CPDI Regulations would cause the timing and character of income, gain or loss reported on a contingent payment debt instrument to substantially differ from the timing and character of income, gain or loss reported on a contingent payment debt instrument under general principles of current United States Federal income tax law. Specifically, the CPDI Regulations generally require a U.S. Holder of such an instrument to include future contingent and noncontingent interest payments in income as such interest accrues based upon a projected payment schedule. Moreover, in general, under the CPDI Regulations, any gain recognized by a U.S. Holder on the sale, exchange, or retirement of a contingent payment debt instrument will be treated as ordinary income and all or a portion of any loss realized could be treated as ordinary loss as opposed to capital loss (depending upon the circumstances). The CPDI Regulations apply to debt instruments issued on or after August 13, 1996. The proper United States Federal income tax treatment of Variable Notes that are treated as contingent payment debt instruments will be more fully described in the applicable Final Terms. Furthermore, any other special United States Federal income tax considerations, not otherwise discussed herein, which are applicable to any particular issue of Notes will be discussed in the applicable Final Terms.

Certain of the Notes (i) may be redeemable at the option of Northern Rock prior to their stated maturity (a "call option") and/or (ii) may be repayable by Northern Rock at the option of the holder prior to their stated maturity (a "put option"). Notes containing such features may be subject to rules that differ from the general rules discussed above. Investors intending to purchase Notes with such features should consult their own tax advisors, since the original issue discount consequences will depend, in part, on the particular terms and features of the purchased Notes.

U.S. Holders may generally, upon election, include in income all interest (including stated interest, acquisition discount, original issue discount, de minimis original issue discount, market discount, de minimis market discount, and unstated interest, as adjusted by any amortizable bond premium or acquisition premium) that accrues on a debt instrument by using the constant yield method applicable to original issue discount, subject to certain limitations and exceptions. This election will generally apply only to the debt instrument with respect to which it is made and may be revoked only with the consent of the IRS.

Short-Term Notes. Notes that have a fixed maturity of one year or less ("Short-Term Notes") will be treated as having been issued with original issue discount. Under the OID Regulations, all payments (including all stated interest) will be included in the stated redemption price at maturity, and thus, U.S. Holders will generally be taxable on the discount in lieu of stated interest. The discount will be equal to the excess of the stated redemption price at maturity over the issue price of a Short-Term Note, unless the U.S. Holder elects to compute this discount using tax basis instead of issue price. In general, an individual or other cash method U.S. Holder is not required to accrue such original issue discount unless the U.S. Holder elects to do so. If such an election is not made, any gain recognized by the U.S. Holder on the sale, exchange or maturity of the Short-Term Note will be ordinary income to the extent of the original issue discount accrued on a straight-line basis, or upon election under the constant yield method (based on daily compounding), through the date of sale or maturity. In addition, a U.S. Holder that does not elect to include currently accrued discount in income may be required to defer deductions for a portion of the U.S. Holder's interest expense with respect to any indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry such Notes. U.S. Holders who report income for United States Federal income tax purposes under the accrual method, and certain other holders including banks and dealers in securities, are required to accrue original issue discount on a Short-Term Note on a straight-line basis unless an election is made to accrue the original issue discount under a constant yield method (based on daily compounding).

Market Discount. If a U.S. Holder purchases a Note, other than an Original Issue Discount Note, for an amount that is less than its issue price (or, in the case of a subsequent purchaser, its stated redemption price at maturity) or, in the case of an Original Issue Discount Note, for an amount that is less than its adjusted issue price as of the purchase date, such U.S. Holder will be treated as having purchased such Note at a "market discount," unless such market discount is less than a specified de minimis amount.

Under the market discount rules, a U.S. Holder will be required to treat any principal payment (or, in the case of an Original Issue Discount Note, any payment that does not constitute qualified stated interest) on, or any gain realized on the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of, a Note as ordinary income to the extent of the lesser of (i) the amount of such payment or realized gain or (ii) the market discount which has not previously been included in income and is treated as having accrued on such Note at the time of such payment or disposition. Market discount will be considered to accrue rateably during the period from the date of acquisition to the maturity date of the Note, unless the U.S. Holder elects to accrue market discount under a constant yield method.

A U.S. Holder may be required to defer the deduction of all or a portion of the interest paid or accrued on any indebtedness incurred or maintained to purchase or carry a Note with market discount until the maturity of the Note or certain earlier dispositions, because a current deduction is only allowed to the extent the interest expense exceeds an allocable portion of market discount. A U.S. Holder may elect to include market discount in income currently as it accrues (under either a ratable or a constant yield method), in which case the rules described above regarding the treatment as ordinary income of gain upon the disposition of the Note and upon the receipt of certain cash payments and regarding the deferral of interest deductions will not apply. Generally, such currently included market discount is treated as ordinary interest income for United States Federal income tax purposes. Such an election will apply to all debt instruments acquired by the U.S. Holder on or after the first day of the first taxable year to which such election applies and may be revoked only with the consent of the IRS.

Premium. If a U.S. Holder purchases a Note for an amount that is greater than the sum of all amounts payable on the Note after the purchase date other than payments of qualified stated interest, such U.S. Holder will be considered to have purchased the Note with "amortizable bond premium" equal in amount to such excess and will not be required to include any OID in income. In the case of instruments that provide for alternative payment schedules, bond premium is calculated by assuming that (i) the holder will exercise or not exercise options in a manner that maximizes the holder's yield and (ii) the issuer will exercise or not exercise options in a manner that minimizes the holder's yield except with respect to call options for which the issuer is assumed to exercise such call options in a manner that maximizes the holder's yield. A U.S. Holder may elect to amortize such premium using a constant yield method over the remaining term of the Note and may offset interest otherwise required to be included in respect of the Note during any taxable year by the amortized amount of such excess for the taxable year. Bond premium on a Note held by a U.S. Holder that does not make such an election will decrease the gain or increase the loss otherwise recognized on disposition of the Note. However, if the Note may be optionally redeemed after the U.S. Holder acquires it at a price in excess of its stated redemption price at maturity, special rules would apply which could result in a deferral of the amortization of some bond premium until later in the term of the Note. Any election to amortize bond premium applies to all taxable debt instruments held by the U.S. Holder on or after the first day of the first taxable year to which such election applies and may be revoked only with the consent of the IRS.

Disposition of a Note. Except as discussed above, upon the sale, exchange or retirement of a Note, a U.S. Holder generally will recognize taxable gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realized on the sale, exchange or retirement (other than amounts representing accrued and unpaid interest, which will be taxable as ordinary income) and such U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Note. A U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in a Note generally will equal such U.S. Holder's initial investment in the Note increased by any original issue discount included in income (and accrued market discount, if any, if the U.S. Holder has included such market discount in income) and decreased by the amount of any payments, other than qualified stated interest payments, received and amortizable bond premium taken with respect to such Note. Except with respect to Short-Term Notes as described above, with respect to gain or loss attributable to changes in exchange rates as described below or with respect to market discount described above, such gain or loss will be capital gain or loss, will be U.S. source and will be long-term capital gain or loss if the Note was held for more than one year. Non-corporate taxpayers are subject to reduced maximum rates of taxation on long-term capital gain and are generally subject to tax at ordinary income rates on short-term capital gain. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to certain limitations. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors concerning these tax law provisions.

Notes Denominated or on which Interest is Payable in a Foreign Currency

As used herein, "Foreign Currency" means a currency other than U.S. dollars.

Payments of Interest in a Foreign Currency. Cash Method. A U.S. Holder who uses the cash method of accounting for United States Federal income tax purposes and who receives a payment of interest on a Note (other than original issue discount or market discount) will be required to include in income the U.S. dollar value of the Foreign Currency payment (determined at the spot rate on the date such payment is received) regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted to U.S. dollars at that time, and such U.S. dollar value will be the U.S. Holder's tax basis in such Foreign Currency. No exchange gain or loss will be recognized with respect to the receipt of such payment.

Accrual Method. A U.S. Holder who uses the accrual method of accounting for United States Federal income tax purposes, or who otherwise is required to accrue interest prior to receipt, will be required to include in income the U.S. dollar value of the amount of interest income (including original issue discount or market discount and reduced by amortizable bond premium to the extent applicable) that has accrued and is otherwise required to be taken into account with respect to a Note during an accrual period. The U.S. dollar value of such accrued income will be determined by translating such income at the average rate of exchange for the accrual period or, with respect to an accrual period that spans two taxable years, at the average rate for the partial period within the taxable year. A U.S. Holder may elect, however, to translate such accrued interest income using the rate of exchange on the last day of the accrual period or, with respect to an accrual period that spans two taxable years, using the spot rate on the last day of the taxable year. If the last day of an accrual period is within five business days of the date of receipt of the accrued interest, a U.S. Holder may translate such interest using the spot rate on the date of receipt. The above election will apply to other debt obligations held by the U.S. Holder and may not be changed without the consent of the IRS. A U.S. Holder should consult a tax advisor before making the above election. A U.S. Holder will recognize exchange gain or loss (which will be treated as ordinary income or loss) with respect to accrued interest income on the date such income is received. The amount of ordinary income or loss recognized will equal the difference, if any, between the U.S. dollar value of the Foreign Currency payment received (determined on the date such payment is received) in respect of such accrual period and the U.S. dollar value of interest income that has accrued during such accrual period (as determined above).

Purchase, Sale and Retirement of Notes. A U.S. Holder who purchases a Note with previously owned Foreign Currency will recognize ordinary income or loss in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between such U.S. Holder's tax basis in the Foreign Currency and the U.S. dollar fair market value of the Foreign Currency used to purchase the Note, determined on the date of purchase.

For purposes of determining the amount of any gain or loss recognized by a U.S. Holder on the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of a Note that is denominated in a Foreign Currency, the amount realized will be based on the U.S. dollar value of the Foreign Currency on the date the payment is received or the Note is disposed of (or deemed disposed of as a result of a material change in the terms of the Note). To the extent the amount realized upon the disposition of a Note represents accrued but unpaid interest, however, such amounts must be taken into account as interest income, with exchange gain or loss computed as described in "– Payments of Interest in a Foreign Currency" above. In the case of a Note that is denominated in Foreign Currency and is traded on an established securities market, a cash basis U.S. Holder (or, upon election, an accrual basis U.S. Holder) will determine the U.S. dollar value of the amount realized by translating the Foreign Currency payment at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the sale. A U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in a Note will equal the cost of the Note to such holder, increased by the amounts of any market discount or original issue discount previously included in income by the holder with respect to such Note and reduced by any amortized premium and any payments other than qualified stated interest received by the holder. A U.S. Holder's tax basis in a Note, and the amount of any subsequent adjustments to such holder's tax basis, will be the U.S. dollar value of the Foreign Currency amount paid for such Note, or of the Foreign Currency amount of the adjustment, determined on the date of such purchase or adjustment.

Gain or loss realized upon the sale, exchange or retirement of a Note that is attributable to fluctuations in currency exchange rates will be ordinary income or loss which will not be treated as interest income or expense. Gain or loss attributable to fluctuations in exchange rates will equal the difference between the U.S. dollar value of the Foreign Currency principal amount of the Note, generally determined on the date such payment is received or the Note is disposed of, and the U.S. dollar value of the Foreign Currency principal amount of the Note, determined on the date the U.S. Holder acquired the Note. Such Foreign Currency gain or loss will be recognized only to the extent of the total gain or loss realized by the U.S. Holder on the sale, exchange or retirement of the Note.

Original Issue Discount. In the case of an Original Issue Discount Note or Short-Term Note, (i) original issue discount is computed in the Foreign Currency, (ii) accrued original issue discount is translated into U.S. dollars as described in "– Payments of Interest in a Foreign Currency-Accrual Method" above and (iii) the amount of Foreign Currency gain or loss on the accrued original issue discount is determined by comparing the amount of income received attributable to the discount (either upon payment, maturity or an earlier disposition), as translated into U.S. dollars at the rate of exchange on the date of such receipt, with the amount of original issue discount accrued, as translated above.

Premium and Market Discount. In the case of a Note with market discount, (i) market discount is computed in the Foreign Currency, (ii) accrued market discount taken into account upon the receipt of any partial principal payment or upon the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of the Note (other than accrued market discount required to be taken into account currently) is translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate on such disposition date (and no part of such accrued market discount is treated as exchange gain or loss) and (iii) accrued market discount currently includible in income by a U.S. Holder for any accrual period is translated into U.S. dollars on the basis of the average exchange rate in effect during such accrual period, and the exchange gain or loss is determined upon the receipt of any partial principal payment or upon the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of the Note in the manner described in "– Payments of Interest in a Foreign Currency – Accrual Method" above with respect to computation of exchange gain or loss on accrued interest.

With respect to a Note acquired with amortizable bond premium, if an election is made to amortize the premium, such premium is computed in the relevant Foreign Currency and reduces interest income in units of the Foreign Currency. A U.S. Holder should recognize exchange gain or loss equal to the difference between the U.S. dollar value of the bond premium amortized with respect to a period, determined on the date the interest attributable to such period is received, and the U.S. dollar value of the bond premium determined on the date of the acquisition of the Note. A U.S. Holder that does not elect to amortize bond premium will translate the bond premium, computed in the applicable Foreign Currency, into U.S. dollars at the spot rate on the maturity date and such bond premium will constitute a capital loss which may be offset or eliminated by exchange gain.

Exchange of Foreign Currencies. A U.S. Holder will have a tax basis in any Foreign Currency received as interest or on the sale, exchange or retirement of a Note equal to the U.S. dollar value of such Foreign Currency, determined at the time the interest is received or at the time of the sale, exchange or retirement. Any gain or loss realized by a U.S. Holder on a sale or other disposition of Foreign Currency (including its exchange for U.S. dollars or its use to purchase Notes) will be ordinary income or loss and will generally be U.S. source income or loss.

Tax Return Disclosure Regulations

Pursuant to Treasury regulations (the "Disclosure Regulations"), any taxpayer that has participated in a "reportable transaction" and that is required to file a United States Federal income tax return must generally attach a disclosure statement disclosing such taxpayer's participation in the reportable transaction to the taxpayer's tax return for each taxable year for which the taxpayer participates in the reportable transaction. The Disclosure Regulations provide that, in addition to certain other transactions, a "loss transaction" constitutes a "reportable transaction." A "loss transaction" is any transaction resulting in the taxpayer claiming a loss under section 165 of the Code in an amount equal to or in excess of certain threshold amounts. The Disclosure Regulations specifically provide that a loss resulting from a "section 988 transaction" (as defined in section 988(c)(l) of the Code relating to foreign currency transactions) will constitute a section 165 loss. In the case of individuals or trusts, whether or not the loss flows through from an S corporation or partnership, if the loss arises with respect to a section 988 transaction, the applicable threshold amount is $50,000 in any single taxable year. Higher threshold amounts apply depending upon the taxpayer's status as a corporation, partnership, or S corporation, as well as certain other factors. It is important to note, however, that the Disclosure Regulations provide that the fact that a transaction is a reportable transaction shall not affect the legal determination of whether the taxpayer's treatment of the transaction is proper. Holders should consult their own tax advisors concerning the potential application of the Disclosure Regulations to the Notes.

Non-U.S. Holders

Subject to the discussion of "back-up" withholding tax below, interest on the Notes is currently exempt from United States Federal income taxes, including withholding taxes, if paid to a "non-U.S. Holder."

Subject to the discussion of back-up withholding tax below, a non-U.S. Holder will not be subject to United States Federal income tax on any gain realized on the sale or exchange of a Note, provided that such gain is not effectively connected with the conduct by the holder of a United States trade or business and, in the case of a non-U.S. Holder who is an individual, such holder is not present in the United States for a total of 183 days or more during the taxable year in which such gain is realized and certain other conditions are met, and the Notes are deemed to be situated outside the United States for purposes of the United States Federal estate tax and are not includible in the gross estate for purposes of such tax in the case of a non-resident in the United States who was not a citizen of the United States at the time of death.

Back-up Withholding and Information Reporting

A "back-up" withholding tax and certain information reporting requirements may apply to payments of principal and interest on the Notes made to certain non-corporate holders if such payments are made or are considered made in the United States (including payments on Notes made by wire transfer from outside the United States to an account maintained by the holder with the paying agent in the United States). If such payments are considered to have been made in the United States, non-U.S. Holders are generally exempt from these withholding and reporting requirements (assuming that the gain or income is otherwise exempt from United States Federal income tax) but may be required to comply with certification and identification procedures in order to prove their exemption from the requirements. Similar rules requiring reporting through a United States branch of a broker and information reporting (but not back-up withholding) will apply to a non-U.S. Holder who sells a Note through (a) a non-United States branch of a United States broker, or (b) a non-United States office of a broker that is (i) a controlled foreign corporation for United States tax purposes, (ii) a person 50% or more of whose income is effectively connected with a United States trade or business for a specified period, or (iii) a foreign partnership in which one or more of its partners are "U.S. Persons," as defined in Treasury regulations, who in the aggregate hold more than 50% of the income or capital interest in the partnership or a foreign partnership engaged in a United States trade or business, in either case unless the holder proves an exemption from the requirement.

U.K. TAXATION

The following, which applies only to persons who are the beneficial owners of the Notes, is a summary of Northern Rock's understanding of current United Kingdom tax law and H.M. Revenue & Customs ("HMRC") practice as at the date of this Offering Circular relating to certain aspects of the United Kingdom taxation of the Notes. It is not a comprehensive analysis of the tax consequences arising in respect of the Notes and so should be treated with appropriate caution. Prospective investors are advised to satisfy themselves as to the overall tax consequences, including specifically the consequences under U.S. state and local laws, of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of the Notes and seek independent professional advice should there be any doubt as to their tax position. Some aspects do not apply to certain classes of taxpayers (such as dealers).

Interest on the Notes

1. Withholding tax on payments of interest on the Notes

(a) Provided Northern Rock continues to be a bank within the meaning of section 840A of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 (the "Tax Act") for the purposes of section 349 of the Tax Act and provided that the interest on the Notes is paid in the ordinary course of its business within the meaning of section 349 of the Tax Act, it is entitled to make payments of interest without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax. In accordance with the published practice of HMRC, such payments will be accepted as being made by Northern Rock in the ordinary course of its business unless either:

(i) the borrowing in question conforms to any of the definitions of tier 1, 2 or 3 capital adopted by the FSA whether or not it actually counts towards tier 1, 2 or 3 capital for regulatory purposes; or

(ii) the characteristics of the transaction giving rise to the interest are primarily attributable to an intention to avoid United Kingdom tax.

(b) Where interest is payable on Notes which have a maturity of less than one year (and which are not issued under arrangements the effect of which is to render such Notes part of a borrowing with a total term of a year or more), the interest will not be "yearly interest" for the purposes of the Tax Act and accordingly payments of interest on such Notes may be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax.

(c) There is no requirement to withhold or deduct amounts for or on account of United Kingdom income tax from payments of interest made in respect of "quoted Eurobonds". Notes which carry a right to interest will constitute "quoted Eurobonds" provided they are and continue to be listed on a "recognised stock exchange", as defined in section 841 of the Tax Act. The EuroMTF is expected to be a recognised stock exchange and listing thereon is expected to constitute "listing on a recognised stock exchange" for the purposes of Section 349 of the Tax Act. Provided, therefore, that the EuroMTF is itself, and a listing thereon is, so recognised and any Notes remain so listed, interest on such Notes will be payable without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom tax whether or not Northern Rock carries on a banking business in the United Kingdom and whether or not the interest is paid in the ordinary course of its business.

(d) In other cases, an amount will generally be required to be withheld from payments of interest on the Notes on account of United Kingdom income tax at the lower rate (currently 20 per cent.), subject to any direction to the contrary by the HMRC under an applicable double taxation treaty or to the interest being paid to the persons (including companies within the charge to United Kingdom corporation tax) and in the circumstances specified in sections 349A to 349D of the Tax Act.

(e) Noteholders may wish to note that in certain circumstances HMRC has power to obtain information (including the name and address of the payee or, in certain cases, the beneficial owner of the interest) from any person in the United Kingdom (including Northern Rock) who either pays interest to or receives interest for the benefit of a Noteholder, or who, either pays amounts payable on the redemption of Notes which are relevant discounted securities for the purposes of the Finance Act 1996 to, or receives such amounts for the benefit of, a Noteholder who is an individual. Information so obtained may, in certain circumstances, be exchanged by HMRC with the tax authorities of other jurisdictions. The references to "interest" above mean "interest" as understood in United Kingdom tax law. The statements above do not take any account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may be created by the terms and conditions of the Notes or any related documentation.

2. Further United Kingdom income tax issues for non-United Kingdom resident Noteholders

Interest on the Notes constitutes U.K. source income and, as such, may be subject to income tax by direct assessment even where paid without withholding, subject to any direction to the contrary from the Inland Revenue in respect of such relief as may be available pursuant to the provisions of an applicable double taxation treaty.

However, interest with a U.K. source received without withholding or deduction on account of U.K. tax will not be chargeable to U.K. tax in the hands of a Noteholder (other than certain trustees) who is not resident for tax purposes unless that Noteholder carries on a trade, profession or vocation in the U.K. through a branch or agency or, in the case of a Noteholder which is a company, unless that Noteholder carries on a trade through a permanent establishment in the U.K. in connection with which the interest is received or to which the Notes are attributable. There are exemptions for interest received by certain categories of agent (such as some brokers and investment managers).

Where interest has been paid under deduction of U.K. income tax, Noteholders who are not resident in the U.K. may be able to recover all or part of the tax deducted if there is an appropriate provision under an applicable double taxation treaty.

United Kingdom corporation tax payers

In general, Noteholders which are within the charge to U.K. corporation tax in respect of the Notes will be charged to tax and obtain relief as income on all returns on and fluctuations in the value of the Notes broadly in accordance with their statutory accounting treatment.

Other United Kingdom tax payers

1. Taxation of chargeable gains

Notes denominated in a currency other than sterling will not constitute "qualifying corporate bonds" within the meaning of Section 117 of the Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992. Accordingly, a disposal of such Notes may give rise to a chargeable gain or an allowable loss for the purposes of the U.K. taxation of chargeable gains. It is expected that any Notes denominated in sterling and as regards which provision is made for redenomination in Euro will also not be treated by HMRC as constituting "qualifying corporate bonds" within the meaning of Section 117 of the Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992, with the same consequences as those just described.

There are provisions to prevent any particular gain (or loss) from being charged (or relieved) at the same time under these provisions and also under the provisions of the "accrued income scheme" described in 2 below.

2. Accrued income scheme

On a disposal of Notes by a Noteholder, any interest which has accrued since the last Interest Payment Date may be chargeable to tax as income under the rules of the "accrued income scheme" if that Noteholder is resident or ordinarily resident in the U.K. or carries on a trade in the U.K. through a branch or agency to which the Notes are attributable.

Stamp Duty and Stamp Duty Reserve Tax

No U.K. stamp duty or stamp duty reserve tax will be payable on the issue, transfer or redemption of the Notes provided that, in the case of Notes which are not in bearer form, they do not carry either: (a) a right to interest the amount of which exceeds a reasonable commercial return on the nominal amount of the capital, or (b) a right on repayment to an amount which exceeds the nominal amount of the capital and is not reasonably comparable with what is generally repayable (in respect of a similar nominal amount of capital) under the terms of issue of loan capital which is described in the relevant legislation as "listed in the Official List of The Stock Exchange."

European Union Savings Tax Directive

The EU has adopted a Directive regarding the taxation of savings income. Subject to a number of important conditions being met, it is proposed that Member States will be required from a date not earlier than 1 July 2005 to provide to the tax authorities of other Member States details of payments of interest and other similar income paid by a person to an individual in another Member State, except that Austria, Belgium and Luxembourg will instead impose a withholding system for a transitional period unless during such period they elect otherwise.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO FOREIGN CURRENCY NOTES

Exchange Rates and Exchange Controls

An investment in Notes that are denominated in, or the payment of which is determined with reference to, a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars entails significant risks that are not associated with a similar investment in a security denominated in U.S. dollars. Similarly, an investment in an Indexed Note entails significant risks that are not associated with an investment in non-Indexed Notes. Such risks include, without limitation, the possibility of significant changes in rates of exchange between U.S. dollars and the Specified Currency (or, in the case of each Indexed Note, the rate of exchange between the denominated currency and the indexed currency for such Indexed Note), including changes resulting from official redenomination with respect to such Specified Currency (or, in the case of each Indexed Note, with respect to the denominated currency or the indexed currency therefor) and the possibility of the imposition or modification of foreign exchange controls with respect to the Specified Currency. Such risks generally depend on factors over which Northern Rock has no control, such as economic and political events and the supply of and demand for the relevant currencies. In recent years, rates of exchange between Specified Currencies have been highly volatile, and such volatility may be expected in the future. Fluctuations in any particular exchange rate that have occurred in the past are not necessarily indicative, however, of fluctuations in the rate that may occur during the term of any Note. Depreciation of a currency or composite currency in which a Note is denominated against the U.S. dollar would result in a decrease in the effective yield of such Note below its coupon rate, and in certain circumstances could result in loss to the investor on a U.S. dollar basis. Similarly, depreciation of the denominated currency with respect to an Indexed Note against the applicable indexed currency would result in the principal amount payable with respect to such Indexed Note at the Stated Maturity being less than the face amount of such Indexed Note which, in turn would decrease the effective yield of such Indexed Note below its applicable interest rate and could also result in a loss to the investor.

The Notes will provide that, in the event of an official redenomination of a foreign currency (including, without limitation, an official redenomination of a foreign currency that is a composite currency) the obligations of Northern Rock with respect to payments on Notes denominated in such currency shall, in all cases, be deemed immediately following such redenomination to provide for the payment of that amount of redenomination currency representing the amount of such obligations immediately before such redenomination. Except as expressly provided herein or in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes do not provide for any adjustment to any amount payable under the Notes as a result of (a) any change in the value of a foreign currency relative to any other currency due to fluctuations in exchange rates or (b) any redenomination of any component currency of any composite currency (unless such composite currency is itself officially redenominated).

Governments have from time to time imposed, and may in the future impose, exchange controls that could affect exchange rates as well as the availability of a foreign currency for making payments with respect to a Note denominated in such currency. There can be no assurances that exchange controls will not restrict or prohibit payments of principal or interest in any currency or composite currency. Even if there are not actual exchange controls, it is possible that, with respect to any particular Note, the currency for such Note will not be available to Northern Rock to make payments of interest and principal then due because of circumstances beyond the control of Northern Rock. In that event, Northern Rock will make such payment in the manner set forth below under "– Payment Currency".

The Final Terms relating to Notes denominated in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars or relating to Indexed Notes will contain information concerning historical exchange rates for such Specified Currency or denominate currency against the U.S. dollar or other relevant currency (including, in the case of Indexed Notes, the applicable indexed currency) and any exchange controls affecting such currency or currencies. Information concerning exchange rates is furnished as a matter of information only and should not be regarded as indicative of the range of or trend in fluctuations in currency exchange rates that may occur in the future.

Payment Currency

Except as otherwise provided herein or in the applicable Final Terms, if payment on a Note is required to be made in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars or in any currency unit and such currency or currency unit is unavailable due to the imposition of exchange controls or other circumstances beyond the control of Northern Rock or if such currency is no longer used by the government of the country issuing such currency or for the settlement of transactions by public institutions of or within the international banking community, then all payments in respect of such Note shall be made in U.S. dollars until such currency or currency unit is again available or so used. The amount so payable on any date in such currency or currency unit will be converted into U.S. dollars on the basis of the Market Exchange Rate for such currency, or for each Component Currency, as of the Conversion Date. See "Description of the Notes-Payment of Principal, Premium, if any, and Interest, if any" above. Any payment made under such circumstances in U.S. dollars will not constitute an Event of Default under the Notes.

If the official unit of any Component Currency is altered by way of combination or subdivision, the number of units of that currency as a Component Currency shall be divided or multiplied in the same proportion. If two or more Component Currencies are consolidated into a single currency, the amounts of those currencies as Component Currencies shall be replaced by an amount in such single currency equal to the sum of the amounts of the consolidated Component Currencies expressed in such single currency. If any Component Currency is divided into two or more currencies, the amount of the original Component Currency shall be replaced by the amounts of such two or more currencies having an aggregate value on the date of division equal to the amount of the former Component Currency immediately before such division.

Foreign Currency Judgments

The Notes and the Indentures will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York applicable to instruments made to be performed wholly within such jurisdiction, except that the subordination provisions in the Subordinated Notes and in the Subordinated Indenture will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales. Courts in the United States customarily have not rendered judgments for money damages denominated in any currency other than U.S. dollars. If a Note is denominated in a Specified Currency other than U.S. dollars, any judgment under New York law will be rendered in the foreign currency of the underlying obligations and converted into U.S. dollars at a rate of exchange prevailing on the date of entry of the judgment or decree.

Information Limited to U.S. Holders

The information set forth in this Offering Circular (except for certain tax information) is directed to prospective purchasers of Notes who are U.S. Holders (as defined below), and Northern Rock disclaims any responsibility to advise prospective purchasers who are residents of countries other than the United States with respect to any matters that may affect the purchase or holding of, or receipt of payments of principal, premium or interest in respect of, Notes. Such persons should consult their own counsel with regard to such matters.

DESCRIPTION OF THE GLOBAL RECEIPTS REPRESENTING GLOBAL BEARER NOTES

The following is a summary of certain terms and provisions of the Deposit and Custody Agreement pursuant to which global receipts (the "Global Receipts") representing the global bearer Notes (the "Bearer Notes") in respect of a Series of Subordinated Notes will be issued. The Deposit and Custody Agreement in respect of a Series of Subordinated Notes is among the Subordinated Note Depositary, the Subordinated Note Custodian and Northern Rock, for the benefit of the holder of the Global Receipts (which will be the nominee of DTC or a successor thereof) and the beneficial owners from time to time of interests in Global Receipts. The summary set forth below does not purport to be complete and is subject to and qualified in its entirety by reference to the Deposit and Custody Agreement, a copy of which may be obtained by making a request to Northern Rock's principal executive office at Northern Rock House, Gosforth, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE3 4PL, United Kingdom.

Global Receipts

Upon deposit of the Bearer Notes of a Series of Subordinated Notes with the Subordinated Note Custodian, on behalf of the Subordinated Note Depositary, subject to the terms of the Deposit and Custody Agreement, the Subordinated Note Depositary will issue one or more Global Receipts representing the aggregate principal amount of such Bearer Notes. The Global Receipts in respect of such Bearer Notes shall be delivered to the Subordinated Note Depositary who will hold Global Receipts as custodian for DTC and registered in the name of DTC's nominee. So long as DTC or its nominee is the holder of the Global Receipt, any owner of a beneficial interest in the Subordinated Notes of a Series represented by Global Receipts must rely upon the procedures of DTC and institutions having accounts with DTC to exercise or be entitled to any rights of a holder of such Global Receipts. See "Description of the Notes-Book-Entry System" above.

Book-Entry

Ownership of beneficial interests in a Global Receipt representing the Bearer Notes in respect of a Series of Subordinated Notes will be limited to Participants or persons who hold interests through Participants. In addition, ownership of beneficial interests will be evidenced only by, and the transfer of that ownership interest will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC or its nominee and Participants until such time, if any, as Certificated Notes are issued as set forth under "Description of the Notes-Book-Entry System" above. The laws of some states require that certain purchasers of Notes take physical delivery of such Notes in certificated form. Such laws may impair the ability to transfer beneficial interests in a Global Receipt.

Northern Rock has been advised by DTC that upon the issuance of a Global Receipt by the Subordinated Note Depositary, and the deposit of such Global Receipt with DTC, DTC will immediately credit, on its book-entry registration and transfer system, the respective principal amounts of such beneficial interests in such Global Receipt to the accounts of Participants. The accounts to be credited shall be designated by the soliciting Dealer or, to the extent that the Subordinated Notes represented by such Global Receipt are offered and sold directly, by Northern Rock.

Payment of principal of and any premium and interest in respect of beneficial interests in any Global Receipt registered in the name of or held by DTC or its nominee will be made to DTC or its nominee, as the case may be, as the registered holder of the Global Receipt. None of Northern Rock, the Subordinated Trustee, the Subordinated Note Depositary, the Subordinated Note Custodian or any agent of any of them will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of DTC's records or any Participant's records relating to, or payments made on account of, beneficial ownership interests in a Global Receipt or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any of DTC's records or any Participant's records relating to such beneficial ownership interests. Payments by Participants to owners of beneficial interests in a Global Receipt held through such Participants will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is now the case with Notes held for the accounts of customers registered in "street name", and will be the sole responsibility of such Participants.

No Global Receipt may be transferred except by DTC to a nominee of DTC or by a nominee of DTC to DTC or another nominee of DTC or any successor thereof.

Owners of beneficial interests in a Global Receipt will not be entitled to receive physical delivery of Global Receipts in certificated form and will not be considered the holders thereof for any purpose under the Deposit and Custody Agreement, the Global Receipts, the Subordinated Indenture or the Subordinated Notes, and no Global Receipt shall be exchangeable, except for another Global Receipt of like denomination and tenor to be registered in the name of DTC or its nominee. Accordingly, each person owning a beneficial interest in such Global Receipt must rely on the procedures of DTC and, if such person is not a Participant, on the procedures of the Participant through which such person owns its interest, to exercise any rights of a holder under the Deposit and Custody Agreement, the Global Receipts, the Subordinated Indenture or the Subordinated Notes. Northern Rock understands that under existing industry practices, in the event it requests any action of a holder or an owner of a beneficial interest in such Global Receipt desires to give or take action that a holder is entitled to give or take under the Deposit and Custody Agreement or the Global Receipts, DTC would authorize the Participants holding the relevant beneficial interests to give or take such action, and such Participants would authorize beneficial owners owning through such Participants to give or take such action or would otherwise act upon the instructions of beneficial owners owning through them.

The Subordinated Indenture and the Subordinated Notes require that payments in respect of the Subordinated Notes be made in immediately available funds. Interests in the Global Receipt are expected to trade in DTC's Same-Day Funds Settlement System, and any permitted secondary market trading activity in the Global Receipts will be required to be settled in immediately available funds. No assurance can be given as to the effect, if any, of such settlement arrangements on trading activity in the Global Receipts or interests in the Global Receipts.

Issuance of Certificated Notes

The Deposit and Custody Agreement provides that, upon the written request of the holder of the Global Receipt, the Subordinated Note Depositary will request that the Subordinated Note Custodian surrender the Bearer Notes representing such Global Receipt for exchange and the Subordinated Note Depositary will request that the principal paying agent issue certificated registered Subordinated Notes in the names and in the amounts as specified by the holder of the Global Receipt. Such request may be made in the circumstances and subject to the conditions described under "Description of the Notes – Book-Entry System" above.

The exchange of interests in the Global Receipt for certificated Subordinated Notes of a particular Series shall be made free of any fees of the Subordinated Note Depositary to the holder, provided, however, that such person receiving Subordinated Notes in certificated form will be obligated to pay or otherwise bear the cost of any tax or other governmental charge as required by the Subordinated Indenture and any cost of insurance, postage, transportation and the like.

Payments on the Notes

The Subordinated Note Depositary will distribute all principal, premium and interest payments that are received by it from the Subordinated Note Custodian in respect of the Bearer Notes of a Series of Subordinated Notes to the Holder of the Global Receipt in respect of such Bearer Notes on the relevant date of payment. All principal, premium and interest payments made on such Bearer Notes shall be distributed to the holder of the Global Receipt without deduction or withholding for any taxes or other governmental charges, or if the Subordinated Note Depositary or the Subordinated Note Custodian is required to make any such deduction or withholding under the provisions of any applicable law or regulation, Northern Rock agrees that it shall pay or cause to be paid such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that the net amounts distributed to the holder of the Global Receipt, after such deduction or withholding, shall equal the amounts which were paid on such Bearer Notes.

None of the Subordinated Trustee, the Subordinated Note Custodian or the Subordinated Note Depositary assume any responsibility for any failure by Northern Rock to make payments on or in respect of the Subordinated Notes or for any delay in receipt of payment due to a delay in sending payment by Northern Rock. The Global Receipts do not represent any separate or independent payment obligation of the Subordinated Note Depositary or in any other capacity, except to the extent of principal, premium and interest payments, if any, received by it from the Subordinated Note Custodian.

Redemption

In the event that Northern Rock exercises any right of redemption in respect of the Subordinated Notes of a Series, the Subordinated Note Depositary will redeem, from the amount received by it in respect of the redemption of such Subordinated Notes, a portion of the relevant Global Receipts which represents the portion of such Subordinated Notes of a Series so redeemed. The redemption price in connection with the redemption of a portion of such Global Receipts will be equal to the amount received by the Subordinated Note Depositary in respect of the aggregate principal amount (or such other relevant amount as may be described in any applicable Final Terms) of such Subordinated Note so redeemed, net of any amounts required to be withheld or deducted in respect of taxes. Upon receipt of notice of redemption by the Subordinated Note Depositary, such Depositary will forward such notice to the holder of the Global Receipt in accordance with the terms of the Deposit and Custody Agreement and, in accordance with any written instructions received from such holder, to all beneficial owners affected thereby.

Repayment

If a Subordinated Note becomes repayable at the option of the Holder on a date or dates specified prior to its maturity date, if any, and the Subordinated Note Depositary is so notified by the principal paying agent, the Subordinated Note Depositary shall promptly notify the holder of the Global Receipt that such Subordinated Note has become repayable. In order for the repayment option in any Subordinated Note to be exercised by the Subordinated Note Depositary, the owners of beneficial interests in the Global Receipt representing an interest in such Subordinated Note must instruct the broker or other Direct or Indirect Participant through which it holds an interest in the Global Receipt relating to such Subordinated Note to notify the Subordinated Note Depositary of its desire for the Subordinated Note Depositary to exercise the Subordinated Note Depositary's right to repayment. Different firms have different cut-off times for acceptance instructions from their customers and, accordingly, each beneficial owner should consult the broker or other Direct or Indirect Participant through which it holds its beneficial interest in a Global Receipt representing an interest in a Subordinated Note in order to ascertain the cut-off time by which such an instruction must be given in order for timely notice to be delivered to the Subordinated Note Depositary.

Record Date

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, or unless Northern Rock otherwise instructs the Subordinated Note Depositary in writing, the Regular Record Date with respect to a Global Receipt shall, if practicable, be the date 15 calendar days prior to the applicable Interest Payment Date in respect of the Subordinated Note represented thereby. Whenever any payment is made in respect of a Subordinated Note that is represented by a Global Receipt for which a Regular Record Date has not been fixed, or the Subordinated Note Custodian shall receive notice of any action to be taken by the Holder of such Subordinated Note or whenever the Subordinated Note Depositary otherwise deems it appropriate in respect of any other matter, the Subordinated Note Depositary will, if practicable, fix a record date for the determination of the holder of the Global Receipt who shall be entitled to receive such payment or to take any such action or to act in respect of any such matter.

Action by the Holder of the Subordinated Notes

As soon as practicable after receipt by the Subordinated Note Custodian of notice of any solicitation of consents or request for a waiver or other action by it as the holder of the Subordinated Notes of a Series, the Subordinated Note Custodian shall inform the Subordinated Note Depositary who shall mail to the holder of the Global Receipt in respect of such Subordinated Notes a notice containing (a) such information as is contained in such notice, (b) a statement that such holder of the Global Receipt at the close of business on a specified record date will be entitled, subject to the provisions of the Deposit and Custody Agreement and of or governing such Subordinated Notes, to instruct the Subordinated Note Depositary as to the consent, waiver or other action, if any, pertaining to the Subordinated Notes of such series, and (c) a statement as to the manner in which such instructions may be given. Upon the written request of the holder of the Global Receipt, received on or before the date established by the Subordinated Note Depositary for such purpose, the Subordinated Note Depositary shall endeavor insofar as practicable and permitted under the provisions of or governing the Subordinated Notes of such Series cause the Subordinated Note

Custodian to endeavor insofar as practicable and permitted under the provisions of or governing the Subordinated Notes of such Series to take such action regarding the requested consent, waiver or other action in relation to such Subordinated Notes in accordance with any instructions set forth in such request. Neither the Subordinated Note Depositary nor the Subordinated Note Custodian will itself exercise any discretion in the granting of consents, waivers or taking other such action in respect of the Subordinated Notes of a Series.

Reports

The Subordinated Note Depositary will make available at its principal office for inspection by the holder of the Global Receipt any notices, reports and other communications received from Northern Rock that are received by the Subordinated Note Custodian as Holder of the Subordinated Notes and are made generally available to holders of the Subordinated Notes by Northern Rock. The Subordinated Note Depositary shall send promptly to the holder of the Global Receipt a copy of such notices furnished by Northern Rock.

Action by Subordinated Note Depositary and Subordinated Note Custodian

The Subordinated Note Depositary and Subordinated Note Custodian have agreed that upon the occurrence of an Event of Default under the Subordinated Notes of a particular Series, or in connection with any other right of the Holder of Subordinated Notes under the Subordinated Indenture, if requested in writing by the holder of the Global Receipt in respect thereof, to request the Subordinated Trustee take any such action as shall be requested in such notice in respect of such Subordinated Notes; provided that the Subordinated Note Depositary and the Subordinated Note Custodian have been offered security or indemnity satisfactory to them against the costs, expenses and liabilities which might be incurred by them in compliance with such request, provided further that such obligation of the Subordinated Note Depositary and the Subordinated Note Custodian shall cease following the automatic issuance of certificated registered Subordinated Notes upon the occurrence of an Event of Default.

Charges of Subordinated Note Depositary and Subordinated Note Custodian

Northern Rock has agreed to pay all charges of the Subordinated Note Depositary and the Subordinated Note Custodian under the Deposit and Custody Agreement. Northern Rock also has agreed to indemnify the Subordinated Note Depositary and the Subordinated Note Custodian against certain liabilities incurred by them under the Deposit and Custody Agreement.

Modification

The Deposit and Custody Agreement and the Global Receipts in relation to a Series of Subordinated Notes may be amended by agreement among the Subordinated Note Depositary, the Subordinated Note Custodian and Northern Rock. The consent of the holder of the Global Receipt shall not be required in connection with any amendment to the Deposit and Custody Agreement (i) to cure any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity in such Deposit and Custody Agreement, (ii) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Subordinated Note Depositary, the Subordinated Note Custodian or Northern Rock, (iii) to effectuate the assignment of the Subordinated Note Depositary's or the Subordinated Note Custodian's rights and duties to a qualified successor as provided in the Deposit and Custody Agreement, (iv) to comply with the Securities Act or the 1940 Act or any other applicable securities law, (v) to modify the Deposit and Custody Agreement in connection with an amendment of the Subordinated Indenture that does not require the consent of the Holders of the Subordinated Notes, or (vi) to modify, alter, amend, or supplement the Deposit and Custody Agreement in any other respect not inconsistent with the Deposit and Custody Agreement which, in the opinion of counsel acceptable to Northern Rock is not adverse to the holder of the Global Receipt. Except as set forth above, no amendment which adversely affects the holder of the Global Receipt may be made to the Deposit and Custody Agreement without the consent of the holder of the Global Receipt.

Termination

The Subordinated Note Depositary in respect of a Series of Subordinated Notes will at any time at the written direction of Northern Rock terminate the Deposit and Custody Agreement in respect of such Subordinated Notes by mailing a notice of such termination to the holder of the Global Receipt and requesting, on behalf of the Subordinated Note Custodian in accordance with the Subordinated Indenture, that the principal paying agent issue certificated Subordinated Notes in respect of such Series of Subordinated Notes in registered form to the persons and in the amounts as specified by the holder of the Global Receipt. Upon the issuance of such Subordinated Notes in certificated form, the Deposit and Custody Agreement in relation to such Series of Subordinated Notes shall terminate. The Deposit and Custody Agreement in relation to a Series of Subordinated Notes may also be terminated upon the resignation of the Subordinated Note Depositary or the Subordinated Note Custodian if no successor has been appointed within 90 days as set forth under "– Resignation or Removal of Subordinated Note Depositary or Subordinated Note Custodian" below.

Resignation or Removal of Subordinated Note Depositary or Subordinated Note Custodian

The Subordinated Note Depositary may at any time resign as Subordinated Note Depositary for a Series of Subordinated Notes by written notice delivered to the Subordinated Trustee and Northern Rock, such resignation to take effect upon the appointment by Northern Rock of a successor depositary (approved by the Subordinated Trustee and the Holder of the Subordinated Notes, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld) and its acceptance of such appointment. If at the end of 90 days after delivery of such notice, no successor depositary has been appointed or accepted such appointment, the Subordinated Note Depositary may terminate the Deposit and Custody Agreement in relation to such Series of Subordinated Notes, provided that such termination will not be effective with respect to the Subordinated Note Custodian unless and until certificated Subordinated Notes in registered form in respect of such Series shall have been issued in accordance with the Deposit and Custody Agreement.

The Subordinated Note Custodian may at any time resign as Subordinated Note Custodian for a Series of Subordinated Notes by written notice delivered to the Subordinated Note Depositary, the Subordinated Trustee and Northern Rock, such resignation to take effect upon the appointment by Northern Rock of a successor custodian (approved by the Subordinated Note Depositary, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld) and its acceptance of such appointment and the transfer of the Subordinated Notes of such Series in accordance with the Deposit and Custody Agreement. If at the end of 90 days after delivery of such notice, no successor custodian has been appointed or accepted such appointment, the Subordinated Note Custodian may request that certificated Subordinated Notes of such Series in registered form be issued and, upon the issuance of such Subordinated Notes, may terminate the Deposit and Custody Agreement.

In the event that Northern Rock determines that it would become obligated to pay any amount in respect of any deduction or withholding for any taxes or other governmental charges as set forth under "– Payments on the Notes" above, or Northern Rock in its absolute discretion wishes to replace the Subordinated Note Depositary or the Subordinated Note Custodian, Northern Rock may remove the Subordinated Note Depositary or the Subordinated Note Custodian by written notice of such removal effective upon the appointment of a successor depositary or successor custodian, as the case may be, and its acceptance of such appointment.

Obligations of Subordinated Note Depositary and Subordinated Note Custodian

The Subordinated Note Depositary and the Subordinated Note Custodian assume no obligation or liability under the Deposit and Custody Agreement other than to act in good faith without gross negligence or wilful misconduct in the performance of their respective duties under the Deposit and Custody Agreement.

Governing Law and Consent to Service

The Deposit and Custody Agreement and the Global Receipts will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York. Northern Rock has designated and appointed CT Corporation System at 111 Eighth Avenue, in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, New York, 10011 as its authorized agent upon which process may be served in any suit or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Global Receipts or the Deposit and Custody Agreement which may be instituted in any State or Federal court located in New York City, New York, and has submitted (for the purposes of any such suit or proceeding) to the jurisdiction of any such court in which any suit or proceeding is so instituted.

Offers and Sales by the Dealers

The Notes have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act or any other applicable securities laws and may not be offered or sold in the United States except pursuant to an effective registration statement or in accordance with an applicable exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act and such other securities laws. Accordingly, the Notes are being offered and sold only (1)(i) to qualified institutional buyers ("QIBs"), as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act ("Rule 144A"), (ii) to institutional investors that qualify as accredited investors ("Institutional Accredited Investors"), as defined in Rule 501(a)(1), (2), (3) or (7) under the Securities Act, purchasing for their own account or as fiduciary or agent for others (which others also must be Institutional Accredited Investors unless the purchaser is a bank acting in its fiduciary capacity) for investment purposes and not for distribution in violation of the Securities Act (iii) in offers and sales that occur outside the United States to persons other than U.S. persons in offshore transactions meeting the requirements of Rule 903 of Regulation S under the Securities Act or (iv) in other transactions exempt from the registration under the Securities Act and (2) in compliance with any other applicable securities laws.

Purchasers' Representations and Restrictions on Resale

Each purchaser of Notes (other than a Dealer in connection with the initial issuance and sale of Notes by Northern Rock) and each owner of any beneficial interest therein, will be deemed, by its acceptance or purchase thereof, to have represented and agreed as follows:

1. Selling Restrictions

United Kingdom

Each Dealer has represented and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Program will be required to represent and agree, that:

(i) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of section 21 of the FSMA) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Notes in circumstances in which section 21(1) of the FSMA would not, if Northern Rock was not an authorised person, apply to Northern Rock; and

(ii) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to the Notes in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

General

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Final Terms, no action has been taken by Northern Rock that would permit a public offering of the Notes or possession or distribution of the Offering Circular or any other offering material in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required.

Accordingly, each Dealer has agreed and each further dealer appointed under the Program will be required to agree that it will (to the best of its knowledge and belief) comply with all applicable securities laws and regulations in force in any jurisdiction in which it purchases, offers, sells or delivers Notes or possesses or distributes this Offering Circular or any other offering material and will obtain any consent, approval or permission required by it for the purchase, offer, sale or delivery by it of Notes under the laws and regulations in force in any jurisdiction to which it is subject or in which it makes such purchases, offers, sales or deliveries and Northern Rock shall have no responsibility therefor.

With regard to each Series, the relevant Dealer will be required to comply with such other additional restrictions as Northern Rock and the relevant Dealer shall agree and as shall be set out in the applicable Final Terms.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Notes are being offered on a continuous basis for sale by Northern Rock to or through Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated, Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Lehman Brothers Inc. and Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated, together with such other Dealer as may be appointed by Northern Rock with respect to a particular tranche of Notes (the "Dealers"). One or more Dealers may purchase Notes, as principal, from Northern Rock from time to time for resale to investors and other purchasers at varying prices relating to prevailing market prices at the time of resale as determined by any Dealer, or, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, for resale at a fixed offering price. If Northern Rock and a Dealer agree, a Dealer may also utilize its reasonable efforts on an agency basis to solicit offers to purchase the Notes. Unless otherwise described in an applicable Final Terms, Northern Rock will pay a commission to a Dealer, ranging from .125% to .750% of the principal amount of each Note depending upon its Stated Maturity, for Notes sold through such Dealer as agent. Commissions with respect to Notes with Stated Maturities in excess of 30 years that are sold through a Dealer as an agent of Northern Rock will be negotiated between Northern Rock and such Dealer at the time of such sale.

Unless otherwise specified in an applicable Final Terms, any Note sold to one or more Dealers as principal will be purchased by such Dealers at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof less a percentage of the principal amount equal to the commission applicable to an agency sale of a Note of identical maturity. A Dealer may sell Notes it has purchased from Northern Rock as principal to certain dealers less a concession equal to all or any portion of the discount received in connection with such purchase. Such Dealer may allow, and such dealers may reallow, a discount to certain other dealers. After the initial offering of Notes, the offering price (in the case of Notes to be resold at a fixed offering price), the concession and the reallowance may be changed.

Northern Rock may withdraw, cancel or modify the offering contemplated hereby without notice and may reject offers to purchase Notes in whole or in part. Each Dealer shall have the right, in its discretion reasonably exercised, to reject in whole or in part any offer to purchase Notes received by it on an agency basis.

In connection with the issue and distribution of any tranche of Notes, the Dealer (if any) disclosed as stabilizing manager in the applicable Final Terms or any person acting for it may over-allot or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Series (as defined herein) of which such tranche forms part at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail for a limited period in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. However, there may be no obligation on the stabilizing manager or any agent of his to do this. Such stabilizing, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time and must be brought to an end after a limited period. Such stabilization, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time and must be brought to an end after a limited period. Such stabilizing, if any, shall be in compliance with all relevant laws and regulations. These transactions may include stabilizing transactions pursuant to which the Dealers, acting directly or through subsidiaries, may bid for or purchase Notes in the open market or otherwise for the purpose of stabilizing the market price of the Notes. The relevant stabilising manager may also create a short position for its account by selling more Notes in connection with the offering than it is committed to purchase from Northern Rock, and in such case may purchase Notes in the open market following completion of the offering to cover all or a portion of such short position.

Neither Northern Rock nor any of the Dealers makes any representation or prediction as to the direction or magnitude of any effect that the transactions described in the immediately preceding paragraph may have on the price of Notes. In addition, neither Northern Rock nor the Dealers makes any representation that the Dealers will engage in any such transactions or that such transactions, once commenced, will not be discontinued without notice.

Northern Rock has agreed to indemnify the Dealers against certain liabilities (including liabilities under the Securities Act) or to contribute to payments the Dealers may be required to make in respect thereof. Northern Rock has also agreed to reimburse the Dealers for certain other expenses.

In the ordinary course of business, the Dealers and their affiliates may have engaged in and may in the future engage in investment and/or commercial banking transactions with Northern Rock.

SETTLEMENT

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, payment of the purchase price of the Notes will be required to be made in immediately available funds in the applicable Specified Currency in New York City three Business Days after the trade date.

Statement of Directors' Responsibilities

The following statement, which should be read in conjunction with the Reporting Accountants' report set out on page F-3, is made with a view to distinguishing the respective responsibilities of the Directors and of the Reporting Accountants in relation to the financial statements.

The Directors of Northern Rock plc are required by U.K. company law to prepare financial statements which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Group as at the end of the year and of the profit or loss for the year. They are also responsible for ensuring that proper and adequate accounting records have been maintained and that reasonable procedures have been followed for safeguarding the assets of the Group and hence for taking reasonable steps to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

The Directors consider that in preparing the financial statements, appropriate accounting policies, consistently applied and supported by reasonable and prudent judgements and estimates have been used, and that applicable accounting standards have been followed.

July 12, 2005

Dear Sirs,

Northern Rock plc

We report on the consolidated financial statements consisting of the consolidated balance sheets of Northern Rock plc and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, the related consolidated profit and loss accounts and consolidated cash flow statements for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2004 and the notes to the accounts set out on pages F7 to F87. These consolidated financial statements have been prepared for inclusion in the Offering Circular for the US$10,000,000,000 Senior/Subordinated Medium-Term Notes of Northern Rock plc (the "Offering Circular") dated July 12, 2005, on the basis of the accounting policies set out in Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements.

Responsibilities

As described on page F2, the directors of Northern Rock plc are responsible for preparing the consolidated financial statements on the basis of preparation set out in Note 1 and in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United Kingdom.

It is our responsibility to form an opinion as to whether the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view, for the purposes of the Offering Circular, and to report our opinion to you.

Basis of Opinion

We conducted our work in accordance with the Standards for Investment Reports issued by the Auditing Practices Board in the United Kingdom. Our work included an assessment of evidence relevant to the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. It also included an assessment of significant estimates and judgements made by those responsible for the preparation of the financial information underlying the consolidated financial statements and whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the entity's circumstances, consistently applied and adequately disclosed.

We planned and performed our work so as to obtain all the information and explanations which we considered necessary in order to provide us with sufficient evidence to give reasonable assurance that the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement whether caused by fraud or other irregularity or error.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give, for the purposes of the Offering Circular dated July 12, 2005, a true and fair view of the state of affairs of Northern Rock plc as at the dates stated and of its profits and cash flows for the periods then ended in accordance with the basis of preparation set out in Note 1 and in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United Kingdom.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United Kingdom vary in certain material respects from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The application of the latter, after the restatement referred to in note 45 would have affected the determination of consolidated net profit expressed in pounds sterling for each of the three years at December 31, 2004, 2003 and 2002, to the extent summarised in notes 45 and 46 to the consolidated financial statements.

Yours faithfully,

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP

Notes to the Accounts

1. Principal accounting policies

Accounting convention

The accounts have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the special provisions of Part VII of the Companies Act 1985 relating to banking companies and banking groups, applicable UK accounting standards and the Statements of Recommended Practice issued by the British Bankers' Association.

Accounting policies are unchanged from 2003 except that the Group has implemented the requirements of UITF 38 "Accounting for ESOP trusts". The impacts of this change are detailed in note 2a to the accounts.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated accounts include the results of the Company and its subsidiary undertakings all of which have accounting periods ending 31 December. Unless otherwise stated, the acquisition method of accounting has been adopted.

Taxation

Corporation tax is charged in the accounts based on the profit for the year as adjusted for taxation purposes.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more tax in the future or a right to pay less tax in the future have occurred at the balance sheet date. Deferred tax is provided on a non-discounted basis.

Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

Depreciation is provided in order to write down fixed assets, which are included at cost, to their estimated residual value over their anticipated useful lives as follows:

Freehold land and buildings	100 years
Long leasehold land and buildings	Over the period of the lease up to 100 years
Short leasehold land and buildings	Unexpired period of the lease
Plant, equipment, fixtures and fittings
- plant	30 years
- furniture	10 years
- other	5 years
Computer equipment
- PCs	3 years
- other	5 years
Motor vehicles	4 years

Where the cost of freehold land can be identified separately from buildings on acquisition, the land value is not depreciated. Provision is made for diminution in value of any fixed asset where an impairment is identified. Annual impairment reviews are carried out for fixed assets with an expected remaining life over 50 years. The resulting net book value is then written off over its remaining anticipated useful life.

Assets in the course of construction are not depreciated until they have been completed and transferred to the appropriate category of tangible fixed assets. The costs of financing assets in the course of construction are not included in the costs of the assets.

Goodwill

Goodwill arises on the acquisition of subsidiary and associated undertakings. It represents the excess of cost over fair value of the Group's share of net assets acquired. It is capitalised as an intangible fixed asset and is amortised through the profit and loss account on a straight line basis over its expected useful economic life. The expected useful economic life is determined at the time of acquisition by considering the nature of the business acquired and the period of time over which the value of the business is expected to exceed the value of its net assets. This period is 10 years for recent acquisitions.

1. Principal accounting policies (continued)

Goodwill is subject to impairment reviews in accordance with FRS 11 "Impairment of Fixed Assets and Goodwill". The carrying value is written down by the amount of any impairment, and the loss is recognised in the profit and loss account in the period in which this occurs.

Leased assets

Rentals payable under operating leases are charged to administrative expenses as incurred over the lease term.

Securities

Debt securities and equity shares ("securities") are held with the intention of use on a continuing basis and are stated at cost, adjusted to exclude accrued interest at the date of purchase, less provision for any permanent diminution in value. A similar adjustment for accrued interest is made on realisation. Where the adjusted purchase price differs from the nominal value, the premium or discount is amortised or released on an effective yield basis over the period to maturity.

Securities sold subject to repurchase agreements are retained on the balance sheet where the Group retains the risks and rewards of ownership. Funds received under such agreements are included within deposits by banks or customer accounts. Securities purchased under a commitment to resell are treated as collateralised lending transactions where the Group does not acquire the risks and rewards of ownership, and the purchase price is included within either loans and advances to banks or loans and advances to customers. The difference between sale and repurchase prices for such transactions is reflected in the profit and loss account over the lives of the transactions, within interest receivable or interest payable as appropriate.

Pension costs

Northern Rock operates a Defined Benefit Scheme and a Defined Contribution Scheme. Contributions to the Northern Rock Defined Benefit Pension Scheme are charged to the profit and loss account with the objective of spreading the cost over the employees' working lives within the Scheme. Costs are based upon actuarial advice following the most recent valuation of the Scheme. The costs of the Defined Contribution Scheme are charged to the profit and loss account for the period in which they are incurred. The disclosure requirements of FRS17 "Retirement Benefits" are being adopted under transitional arrangements.

Further information on pension arrangements is set out in note 7 to the accounts.

Provisions for bad and doubtful debts

Provisions against loans and advances are based upon assessments of the losses that are anticipated on outstanding balances at the year-end. The amount charged to the profit and loss account comprises amounts written off during the year plus the net change in the amounts provided. Bad debts are written off in part or in whole when a loss has been confirmed. The loss provisioning methodology is as follows:

Advances secured on owner-occupied residential property

Specific provision

Where the collection of interest and/or principal on an individual loan is in doubt a specific provision is recorded. Specific provisions are calculated using a model which is used to evaluate losses based on historical default experience and other appropriate risk factors related to the delinquent loan portfolio at a given point in time. All loans which are three or more payments overdue are evaluated using the model to identify the need for a specific provision. Loans six or more payments overdue and properties in possession are evaluated on an individual basis to measure potential loss. Various factors are considered in this evaluation including, but not limited to, collateral valuations, expected recoveries from mortgage indemnity guarantees and estimated recovery costs.

General provision

A general provision is maintained to cover inherent losses in the loan portfolio related to loans that have not yet been specifically identified as impaired. A statistically based model is used to calculate the appropriate general provision for each completion year. The model considers appropriate risk factors specific to the loan portfolio and historical default experience. Other factors, including economic conditions, are also considered by management in determining the appropriate level of reserves required at a given point in time.

Interest in respect of all loans is credited to the profit and loss account as it becomes receivable. Once a property is taken into possession interest charges are suspended. If a property is sold at sufficient value, interest previously suspended is added back to the loan and released to the profit and loss account.

Other secured advances
Specific provision is made as appropriate in respect of loans and advances that are identified as impaired at the balance sheet date, based on payment history, loan balance and net realisable value. Interest is suspended on loans identified as impaired if its recovery is deemed unlikely. General provisions are recorded to cover losses inherent in the portfolio which have not yet been specifically identified.

Unsecured lending
Specific provision is made against all loans where three or more payments are overdue. In calculating the required provision an appropriate factor is applied based on the number of overdue payments, which is subject to periodic review to ensure its continuing applicability based on current experience, to reflect the probability that not all such loans will result in eventual losses. General provisions are recorded to cover losses inherent in the portfolio which have not yet been specifically identified.

Repairs and renewals

Repairs, renewals and refurbishments of a non-capital nature are charged to administrative expenses in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Deferred income

The Company has entered into insurance arrangements with Northern Rock Mortgage Indemnity Company Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary, to cover a proportion of future losses on certain residential secured loans with high loan to value ratios. In the Group accounts, income from risk charges paid by customers in relation to such loans is deferred and is included in the balance sheet under the heading "accruals and deferred income". The deferred income is released to the profit and loss account on a level yield basis over the life of the loan.

Derivatives

Derivatives comprise, mainly, currency and interest rate swaps, forward rate agreements, foreign exchange forwards and financial futures and options. All transactions are undertaken for hedging purposes.

Transactions are initially recorded at cost and are accounted for on an accruals basis in accordance with the item or items being hedged. Consequently, profits and losses on the hedges are recognised on a similar accounting basis as the profits or losses on the underlying item or items being hedged. They are therefore recognised in the financial statements as adjustments to the profit or loss of the item or items being hedged. To the extent necessary to achieve a consistent timing of income recognition on the item or items being hedged, deferred gains or losses are included in the balance sheet under the headings "accruals and deferred income" and "prepayments and accrued income". Profits and losses on early termination of contracts that modify the characteristics of designated items are deferred and amortised over the remaining lives of the hedged items. Income and expenses on hedges are recognised as adjustments to interest receivable and interest payable.

When a derivative no longer represents a hedge, because either the underlying asset, liability or position has been extinguished or derecognised, it is restated to market value. Any profit or loss is accounted for in interest income or expense. It is then either redesignated as a hedge of a different asset, liability or position, is disposed of, or the position is otherwise closed, and accounted for accordingly. Where a derivative is no longer a hedge because it ceases to be effective, it is restated to market value and any profit or loss arising is deferred and amortised into interest income or expense over the remaining life of the item previously being hedged.

Foreign currency transactions

Interest income and expense denominated in foreign currency is translated into sterling at the rate of exchange current on the date of the receipt or payment, unless it is hedged, in which case it is translated at the underlying rate of exchange inherent in the associated hedge contract. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency that are hedged by means of matching foreign currency contracts are included in the balance sheet at the exchange rate inherent in those contracts.

Other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are included at the rate of exchange current at the balance sheet date.

Exchange differences arising on currency conversion are dealt with in the profit and loss account.

Mortgage incentives

Incentive costs of discount, fixed rate and other similar mortgage products are expensed in equal annual amounts over the effective incentive clawback period for early redemption of these products. Early repayment charges, designed to recover incentive costs, are normally charged to customers on prepayment of loans within contractually agreed periods of time, ie the clawback period. Other forms of incentives, such as valuation fees which are not directly linked to the interest rate on the mortgage, are expensed through the profit and loss account as they are incurred.

All incentives which are not subject to incentive clawback periods and any excess cost of an incentive over and above the cost recoverable by the clawback are written off as incurred. The costs of mortgage incentives are charged against interest receivable.

Securitisation

Securitisation transactions are reported in accordance with FRS 5 "Reporting the Substance of Transactions". Where assets are sold under securitisation, if there is no significant change to the Group's rights and benefits to those assets and its exposure is limited to a fixed monetary ceiling, linked presentation is used. Under linked presentation, only the net amount of the Group's interests in the assets is consolidated, and the related gross amounts are shown on the face of the balance sheet. The interest attributable to the Northern Rock Group is included in the profit and loss account under the heading "interest receivable". The other income and expenses are included within "other operating income". Where the conditions for linked presentation are not met, the transactions are accounted for by separate presentation of the gross assets and the related funding, and all profit and loss transactions are included within the appropriate captions in the profit and loss account. The special purpose vehicles used for these transactions are accounted for as quasi subsidiaries (see note 16).

Revenue recognition

Interest income is recognised in the profit and loss account on an accruals basis, except for income on loans taken into possession which is taken to income when it is received.

Fees receivable from customers to reimburse the Group for costs incurred are taken to the profit and loss account when due. Fees receivable relating to ongoing services are taken to income when the related service is performed, and fees in lieu of interest are taken to income on a level yield basis over the life of the loan.

2. Prior year adjustment and change in presentation

a) Accounting for ESOP trusts – prior year adjustment

The Group has implemented the requirements of Urgent Issue Task Force ("UITF") Abstract 38 – "Accounting for ESOP Trusts" with effect from 1 January 2004. As a result, holdings of Ordinary Shares in Northern Rock plc owned by the Group's employee share ownership trusts are now shown as a deduction from shareholders' funds. Previously they were shown as part of other assets in the balance sheet. Purchases and sales of Northern Rock plc Ordinary Shares are now accounted for as movements in shareholders' funds and no gains and losses are reflected in the profit and loss account. UITF Abstract 38 also amends UITF Abstract 17 – "Employee Share Schemes" to reflect the consequences for the profit and loss account of the changes in the presentation of an entity's own shares held by an ESOP trust. The charge to the profit and loss account in respect of shares and share options granted to employees that are expected to be met from shares held by employee share trusts is now based on the difference between the value on the date of grant and the exercise price. Previously, where shares were purchased to meet these obligations, the charge was based on the carrying value of the shares.

The effect of this change in accounting policy, which has been accounted for as a prior year adjustment, is to increase staff costs and decrease profit for the year ended 31 December 2004 by £0.1m (year to 31 December 2003 - £0.2m; year to 31 December 2002 £0.8m). The effect on other assets, other liabilities, staff costs and shareholders' funds at the balance sheet dates is as follows:

	£m	£m	£m
Reduction in shareholders' funds – beginning of year (note 33)	(48.0)	(44.5)	(26.2)

Increase in staff costs during year	(0.1)	(0.2)	(0.8)
Reduction in shareholders' funds – end of year	(42.3)	(48.0)	(44.5)
The reduction in shareholders' funds comprises:
Reduction in other assets	(42.3)	(48.8)	(45.2)
Reduction in other liabilities	–	0.8	0.7
	(42.3)	(48.0)	(44.5)

The cumulative difference in the amount credited through the Group profit and loss account in the period up to 31 December 2003 amounted to £0.3m (2002 - £0.5m).

b) Securitisation – change in presentation

Interest payable on securitised bonds is deducted from interest receivable on securitised assets on the face of the profit and loss account using linked presentation. Until 2002 the linked presentation was included within other income but has now been changed to be included within interest receivable. This change has no impact on total income or profit and results in a more appropriate disclosure of net interest income.

On 30 May 2003, the Group sold its credit card portfolio to The Co-operative Bank. The surplus on sale amounted to £7.3m and is recorded in other income. The credit card portfolio comprised approximately 90,000 accounts with outstanding balances of £217m. As part of the agreement Northern Rock will offer credit cards, issued by The Co-operative Bank, to Northern Rock customers under the Northern Rock brand.

Included in "statutory audit" fees are the costs of the audit of the Group's U.K. financial statements, costs of the audit of the Group's Form 20-F filings with the SEC and the audit of the financial statements of securitisation quasi-subsidiaries.

Further assurance services primarily relates to costs associated with new securitisation transactions and the raising of wholesale funding. The total for 2003 and 2004 also includes the cost of advice in relation to preparations for the implementation of International Financial Reporting Standards.

It is the Group's policy to use the auditors on assignments in cases where their knowledge of the Group means that it is neither efficient nor cost effective to employ another firm of accountants.

7. Pension commitments

The Company operates the Northern Rock Pension Scheme (the "Scheme") to provide retirement benefits for staff. Staff who joined the Scheme before 1 July 1999 participate in the funded, contracted-out, defined benefit section of the Scheme unless they opt out. Other staff, including those employed at 1 July 1999 but not members of the defined benefit section of the Scheme at that date, together with staff employed from 1 July 1999, participate in the contracted-in defined contribution section of the Scheme unless they opt out. The assets of both sections of the Scheme are held in a trustee-administered fund separate from the assets of Northern Rock plc.

The Company has continued to account for pensions in accordance with SSAP 24. FRS 17 "Retirement Benefits" was issued in November 2000 but requires only phased transitional disclosures for the Company until the year ended 31 December 2005. These disclosures, to the extent not given in (a), are set out in (b) below.

(a) The most recent triennial valuation of the Scheme was performed as at 5 April 2003 by Watson Wyatt LLP, consulting actuaries, using the projected unit method. The principal actuarial assumptions adopted in that valuation were that, over the long term, the rate of return on existing and future investments will exceed pension increases by 3.50% per annum and increases in pensionable earnings by 2.25% per annum. At 5 April 2003, the market value of the fund was £158.6m which represented 97.3% of the market value of the benefits that had accrued to the valuation date. The next full actuarial valuation is due to be carried out as at 5 April 2006.

During 2004, the Company paid employer's contributions 15.9% of basic pensionable earnings throughout the year (2003 14.8% until 5 April 2003 and 15.9% thereafter 2002 13.8% until 5 April 2002 and 14.8% thereafter) in respect of the defined benefit section of the Scheme. In addition, members of the defined benefit section of the Scheme made employee contributions of 5% (2003 5%, 2002 5%). During 2004, the Company paid employer's contributions in respect of the defined contribution section of the Scheme at an average rate of 6.0% (2003 6.0%, 2002 6.0%). Additional National Insurance costs were also incurred as a result of the defined contribution section of the Scheme being contracted-in to SERPS. In addition, members of the defined contribution section of the Scheme paid contributions at an average rate of 4.3% (2003 4.3%, 2002 4.3%).

The total pensions charge to the Group profit and loss account for 2004, as calculated by Watson Wyatt LLP, independent qualified actuaries, in respect of employer's contributions to the Northern Rock Pension Scheme, was £8.9m (2003 £8.6m, 2002 £7.7m), of which £7.1m was in respect of the defined benefit scheme (2003 £7.0m, 2002 £6.5m) and £1.8m in respect of the defined contribution scheme (2003 £1.6m, 2002 £1.2m). The charge for the defined benefit scheme in 2004 includes £3.7m arising from the underfunding of the Scheme adjusted for the level of prepayment (2003 £3.6m, 2002 £1.6m). In accordance with SSAP 24, surpluses and deficiencies, adjusted for the level of prepayment, are being amortised over the average remaining service lives of the employees in the defined benefit scheme, estimated at 13 years.

The prepayment in relation to the Scheme at 31 December 2004 was £28.9m (2003 £30.6m, 2002 £32.1m).

(b) The valuation used for FRS 17 disclosures has been based on the most recent triennial actuarial valuation at 5 April 2003 and updated by Watson Wyatt LLP to take account of the requirements of FRS 17 in order to assess the liabilities of the scheme at 31 December 2004. Scheme assets are stated at their market value at 31 December 2004.

The financial assumptions used to calculate scheme liabilities under FRS 17 are:

	2004	2003	2002
Discount rate	5.30%	5.40%	5.60%
Inflation rate	2.75%	2.65%	2.30%

Proforma profit and loss reserve if FRS 17 adopted	1,347.5	1,147.9	1,029.9

The position shown represents the funded status of the Scheme based on market conditions at 31 December 2004. Market related calculations such as these are subject to daily variations. The deficit disclosed does not represent a debt on the employer. Contributions to the Scheme will continue to be determined in accordance with the Trustees' funding valuation, the next one being due in April 2006, or any interim valuations undertaken by the Trustees or the Company. The rules of the Northern Rock Pension Scheme (final salary section) permit both employer and employee pensions contributions to be increased to meet part of any deficit.

The following disclosures show the amounts that would have been chargeable to the profit and loss account and to the statement of total recognised gains and losses in respect of the non-money purchase benefits provided by the Scheme if FRS 17 had been fully implemented in 2004.

Accordingly no provision for the corresponding deferred tax asset of £52.4m (2003 £19.6m) has been made.

Of the profit on ordinary activities after taxation attributable to ordinary shareholders, £262.7m (2003 £227.3, 2002 £197.6) has been dealt with in the accounts of the Company. The weighted average number of Ordinary Shares in issue has been determined after excluding shares held in trust for employee share schemes.

Fully diluted earnings per Ordinary Share have been calculated using the weighted average number of shares in issue together with 3.6m (2003 3.6m, 2002 3.6m) potentially dilutive shares resulting from options granted under employee share schemes.

16. Securitisation

Loans and advances to customers include portfolios of residential and commercial mortgage loans which are subject to non-recourse financing arrangements. The loans have been purchased by special purpose vehicles, which have primarily issued mortgage backed fixed and floating rate notes to finance the purchases.

The Group is not obliged to support any losses in respect of these mortgages, except as described below, nor does it intend to do so. This is clearly stated in the agreements with noteholders.

Northern Rock plc has made interest bearing subordinated loans to the special purpose vehicles, the repayments of which are subordinated to the claims of the noteholders. In addition, mortgage indemnity guarantee (MIG) insurance is provided on certain loans to the vehicles purchasing residential mortgage loans by a subsidiary of Northern Rock plc. Since 1 January 2003, Northern Rock plc has not taken out MIG insurance in respect of new loans. Existing cover remains in force. Northern Rock plc does not guarantee the liabilities of this subsidiary. In the Group accounts, a separate presentation of assets and liabilities has been adopted to the extent of the insurance cover provided by the subsidiary.

Northern Rock plc has an option to sell further mortgage loans to the special purpose vehicles where at the end of any interest period the rate of repayment of principal in the vehicle exceeds the level agreed at the date of sale of the loans. Northern Rock plc has no right or obligation to repurchase the benefit of any securitised loan except to the extent that the loan breaches representations and warranties given at the date of sale. It does, however, have the option to repurchase loans from the vehicles, on being offered the opportunity to do so by the vehicles, where the borrower requests a further advance or a change in product type.

Northern Rock plc has entered into a number of interest rate swaps with the vehicles. These convert interest flows from the mortgage loans into LIBOR based interest flows to match the interest flows payable on the floating rate notes.

During the year, Northern Rock plc assigned portfolios of residential mortgage loans with a book value of £16.7 billion to Granite Finance Trustees Limited. Granite Finance Funding Limited acquired, at book value, an interest in the trust property vested in Granite Finance Trustees Limited. This beneficial interest was acquired in three separate transactions, the first on 28 January 2004 for £3.5 billion, the second on 26 May 2004 for £3.6 billion and the third on 22 September 2004 for £4.0 billion. Granite Finance Funding Limited funded its acquisitions through borrowings from its subsidiary companies, Granite Mortgages 04-1 plc, Granite Mortgages 04-2 plc and Granite Mortgages 04-3 plc. These companies principally funded their loans to Granite Finance Funding Limited through the issue of mortgage backed fixed and floating rate notes.

1 Represents the interest in the trust property at book value held by Granite Finance Funding Limited relating to the debt issued by these companies.

No subordinated debt was issued by Granite Mortgages 01-1 plc to Northern Rock plc in relation to the funding of a first loss reserve fund. However, Granite Mortgages 01-1 plc's parent company, Granite Finance Funding Limited, retained £20 million from the proceeds of debt issuance to fund this reserve. This amount is repayable only after full repayment of the notes.

Interest income earned by Northern Rock plc in respect of the retained interest in Granite Trustees Limited and Dolerite Trustees Limited is recorded in the profit and loss account within "other interest receivable and similar income".

Northern Rock plc does not own directly or indirectly any of the share capital of these companies or of their parent. The Group receives administration fees for servicing the mortgage portfolios together with any residual income arising after the claims of the bondholders and other creditors are met.

At 31 December 2004 the special purpose companies had cash deposits with Northern Rock plc amounting to £1,396.0m. At 31 December 2003 such deposits were held by other third party banks. As such the total gross assets securitised available to meet non-recourse finance amount to £23,735.2m (2003 £15,678.7m).

16. Securitisation (continued)

An aggregated summary of the results for the years ended 31 December 2004, 2003 and 2002, and summarised balance sheets as at 31 December 2004 and 2003 for the above companies are set out below.

Other liabilities	1.1	13.3
Total liabilities	22,875.7	15,334.9

The interest attributable to the Northern Rock Group is included in the Group Profit and Loss Account under the heading, "Interest Receivable". The other income and expenses are included within "Other Operating Income". The securitisation companies are accounted for as quasi subsidiaries (see note 1).

The balance sheets above reconcile to the linked presentation in the Group balance sheet as follows:

	2004 £m	2003 £m
Loans and advances to banks	423.9	1,200.4
Loans and advances to customers	21,021.1	14,130.3
Other assets	16.1	–

	22,103.7	14,832.4

In addition to the transactions above which are accounted for under linked presentation, Northern Rock assigned a portfolio of unsecured loans valued at £749.7m to Flint Receivables Trustees Limited on 8 December 2003. Flint Consumer Loans No. 1 Limited purchased an interest amounting to £595.0m in the trust property on the same date, funded by the issue of asset backed notes. The noteholders have a proportionate interest in each balance in the portfolio, and at 31 December 2004 this interest amounted to £595.0m (2003 £595.0m). This securitisation does not qualify for linked presentation and therefore the total portfolio is included within unsecured loans as part of loans and advances to customers not subject to securitisation. The funding giving rise to the noteholders' interest is included within debt securities in issue.

Included within loans and advances to customers not subject to securitisation are £1,977.6m of mortgage advances assigned to a bankruptcy remote special purpose vehicle. These loans provide security to an issue of covered bonds of €2.0 billion (£1,340.8m equivalent) made by Northern Rock on 4 May 2004, which are included within debt securities in issue. Northern Rock retains substantially all the risks and rewards associated with these loans and therefore this transaction does not qualify for linked presentation or sale treatment.

30. Reserve capital instruments

The reserve capital instruments were issued for a value of £200m on 21 September 2000 and are undated. A further £100m was issued in May 2001. They carry a coupon of 8.399% payable annually in arrears on 21 September each year. At each payment date Northern Rock will decide whether to declare or defer the coupon. If Northern Rock decides to declare the coupon, the holder will receive a cash payment equivalent to the coupon which, at Northern Rock's option, will be achieved either by the payment of cash directly, or by the issue of Ordinary Shares in Northern Rock which, when sold by a trustee in the market, will produce an amount equal to the cash payment. If Northern Rock elects to defer the coupon, it may not declare or pay a dividend on any share until the deferred coupons are satisfied. Deferred coupons and any interest accruing thereon can only be satisfied through the issue of shares. The coupon has been swapped into a variable rate payment.

Northern Rock has a call option after 15 years, which it can only exercise with the consent of The Financial Services Authority. If the issue is not called, the coupon resets to yield 4.725% above the prevailing 5-year benchmark Gilt rate.

The maximum amount of reserve capital instruments permitted to be included in Tier 1 for regulatory capital purposes is 15% of overall Tier 1 capital, as defined by the Financial Services Authority. Any excess is allocated to Upper Tier 2 capital.

31. Tier one notes

The tier one notes were issued for a value of £200m on 21 August 2002 and are undated. They carry a coupon of 7.053% payable annually in arrears on 21 September each year. At each payment date Northern Rock will decide whether to declare or defer the coupon. If Northern Rock decides to defer the coupon, this can then only be satisfied upon the date on which the issue is redeemed. No interest will accrue on any deferred coupon. If Northern Rock defers the coupon, it may not pay a dividend on any share or pay any coupon on the reserve capital instruments, nor redeem or repurchase any of its share capital or reserve capital instruments until it next makes a coupon payment for the tier one notes. Deferred coupons can only be satisfied through the issue of ordinary shares.

The coupon has been swapped into a variable rate payment.

Northern Rock has a call option after 25 years, which it can only exercise with the consent of The Financial Services Authority. If the issue is not called, the coupon resets to yield 1.835% above 6-month LIBOR.

The full amount of tier one notes is permitted for inclusion within Tier 1 for regulatory capital purposes.

The Company has provided funds to the trustees to enable them to purchase Northern Rock plc Ordinary Shares, which are used to satisfy options granted by the Company or to meet commitments arising under other employee share schemes. The cost of providing these shares is charged to the profit and loss account on a systematic basis over the period that the employees are expected to benefit. In accordance with the rules of The Northern Rock Qualifying Employee Share Ownership Trust, dividends on shares held by the trust are waived. At 31 December 2004 this trust held 2,054,261 shares (2003 2,056,063). With effect from the 2004 interim payment, dividends on shares held by The Northern Rock Employee Trust are waived. 37. Derivatives and other financial instruments

The Group's approach to risk management and the related use of derivative instruments is described below.

Risk management

Management of risk is fundamental to the business of banking and is an integral part of the Group's strategic focus. The Group's risk management governance structure begins with oversight responsibility by the Board of Directors. Assisting the Board, the Audit Committee of Non-Executive Directors advises the Board on all matters relating to regulatory, prudential and accounting requirements that may affect the Group and reports to the Board on both financial and non-financial controls. The Risk Committee comprising three Non-Executive and the Executive Directors reviews the key risks inherent in the business and the system of control necessary to manage such risks.

In addition, the Management Board Asset and Liability Committee, which comprises the Executive Directors, the Company Secretary and ten other senior executives, has been delegated the responsibility to oversee the management and review of the balance sheet risk and liquidity profiles. The Management Board Asset and Liability Committee is supported by the director of Risk.

The director of Risk reports on and monitors risks throughout the Group and assists operational business areas in the formulation and implementation of appropriate risk management policies, methodologies and infrastructures. Each business area is responsible for the identification and quantification of their particular operational and credit risk exposures and implementing risk management policies and procedures agreed by the Board.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the potential risk of financial loss arising from the failure of a customer or counterparty to settle its financial and contractual obligations.

The overall day-to-day management of credit risk is delegated to individual business areas. Each business area utilises various qualitative and quantitative techniques to measure and manage their respective credit risk exposures. This includes the use of various credit risk mitigation techniques such as netting.

The customer loan risk management process incorporates sophisticated credit scoring systems to differentiate the credit risk associated with residential mortgage loans and unsecured loans, both at individual transaction and portfolio levels.

Credit exposure limits for corporates and financial institutions are primarily based on the credit ratings assigned by the rating agencies. Credit limits are monitored by the Management Board Asset and Liability Committee to ensure they remain within authorised counterparty credit limits as detailed in the Credit Risk Policy Statement approved by the Board of Directors.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the mismatch in the cash flows generated from on balance sheet assets and liabilities, and the interest flows of off balance sheet instruments.

The Board of Directors has approved a Liquidity Policy statement which is compliant with the supervisory framework set by The Financial Services Authority ("FSA"). These policies ensure that the Group is able to meet retail deposit withdrawals – either on demand or at contractual maturity – to repay wholesale borrowings as they mature and to meet current lending objectives. This is achieved by managing a diversified portfolio of high quality liquid assets, and a balanced maturity profile of wholesale and retail funds. Regular reports are made to the FSA detailing the Group's sterling stock liquidity.

Operational risk

Operational risk is the potential risk of financial loss or impairment to reputation arising from failures in operational processes or the systems that support them. To minimise operational risk, the Group maintains a system of control commensurate with the characteristics of the business and markets in which the Group operates, best practice principles and regulatory considerations. Where necessary, the Management Board Asset and Liability Committee will establish a project team, comprising senior business line managers, to devise and implement a suitable action plan to mitigate specific operational risk exposures.

37. Derivatives and other financial instruments (continued)

Market risk

Market risk is the risk to earnings arising from changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates and the price of financial securities.

(i) Interest rate risk

As a UK based mortgage institution, Northern Rock offers numerous banking, mortgage and savings products with varying interest rate features and maturities which create potential interest rate exposures.

The Board of Directors has approved a Balance Sheet Structural Risk Management and Hedging Policy Statement that details the policies, procedures and controls for managing risk, including interest rate risk and the use of derivatives. This policy is reviewed regularly by the Management Board Asset and Liability Committee which is responsible for ensuring that balance sheet exposures are managed within the Group's policies and operational limits.

All structural interest rate risk positions and interest rate sensitivity tests are reported to the Management Board Asset and Liability Committee on a regular basis.

(ii) Currency risk

In addition to raising funds through the sterling money markets, capital markets and domestic retail savings market, the Group raises funds through issuing Euro Commercial Paper, US Dollar Commercial Paper, non-sterling denominated medium-term debt securities (including covered bonds) and non-sterling denominated retail funds. The Group's policy is to fully hedge any exchange rate exposures by using cross-currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts, or to match exposures with assets denominated in the same currency. Any non-sterling denominated assets are also fully hedged in this manner or matched with non-sterling denominated liabilities.

Derivatives

The Board of Directors has authorised the use of derivative instruments for the purpose of supporting the strategic and operational business activities of the Group and reducing the risk of loss arising from changes in interest rates and exchange rates. All use of derivative instruments within Northern Rock is to hedge risk exposure, and the Group takes no trading positions in derivatives.

For the purpose of reducing interest rate risk and currency risk, the Group uses a number of derivative instruments. These comprise interest rate swaps, interest rate options, forward rate agreements, interest rate and bond futures, currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts. The objective, when using any derivative instrument, is to ensure that the risk to reward profile of any transaction is optimised. Where either an off balance sheet derivative instrument or an on balance sheet asset or liability could be used for a specific purpose, or where more than one derivative instrument could be used, the Group will select the instrument which optimises the following conditions:

- Minimise capital utilisation;
- Maximise income or minimise cost;
- Maximise liquidity;
- Minimise administrative and accounting complexity; and
- Minimise the Group's tax liability.

37. Derivatives and other financial instruments (continued)

The benefits of using off balance sheet derivative instruments are measured by examining the anticipated consequences of not hedging the perceived risk in terms of revenue or capital loss.

The following table summarises activities undertaken by Northern Rock, the related risks associated with such activities and the types of derivatives used in managing such risks. Such risks may also be managed using on balance sheet instruments as part of an integrated approach to risk management.

Activity	Risk	Type of hedge
Management of the return on variable rate assets	Reduced profitability due to falls in short-term interest rates	Receive fixed interest rate swaps Purchase interest rate options Sell forward rate agreements Purchase interest rate futures
Fixed-rate lending	Sensitivity to increases in interest rates Sensitivity to decreases in medium/long-term interest rates, resulting in prepayment	Pay fixed interest rate swaps Purchase interest rate caps Impose early repayment penalty charges
Fixed-rate retail and wholesale funding	Sensitivity to falls in short-term interest rates	Receive fixed interest rate swaps
Fixed-rate asset investments	Sensitivity to increase in interest rates	Pay fixed interest rate swaps
Re-financing of wholesale funding	Sensitivity to increase in interest rates	Sell bond futures Purchase forward rate agreements Sell interest rate futures
Investment in foreign currency assets	Sensitivity to strengthening of sterling against other currencies	Cross-currency swaps Foreign currency funding
Issuance of bonds in foreign currencies	Sensitivity to weakening of sterling against other currencies	Cross-currency swaps
Interest earned on foreign currency denominated debt securities	Sensitivity to strengthening of sterling against other currencies	Forward foreign exchange contracts Purchase currency options

37. Derivatives and other financial instruments (continued)

Derivatives which are combinations of more basic transactions (such as swaps with embedded option features), or which have leverage features, may be used in circumstances where the underlying position being hedged contains the same risk features, for example medium-term note issues based on equity indices or a multiple of an underlying floating market rate. In such cases the derivative used will be structured to match the risks of the underlying asset or liability. Exposure to market risk on such contracts is therefore fully hedged. Credit risk on these contracts is monitored within tightly defined risk limits on the basis of the contractual terms of the instruments, rather than the face or contract amount.

The vast majority of the Group's derivatives activity is contracted with banks and other financial institutions.

The table below shows the underlying principal amount and positive and negative fair values of derivatives by type of contract.

The positive fair values above represent the gross replacement cost of the Group's derivatives and hence equate to the maximum gross loss it would incur if any party to the derivatives contract failed to perform to its terms. At 31 December 2004 the potential credit exposure after allowing for collateral received was £269.1m (2003 £194.0m).

In addition to the derivatives disclosed above, there are a number of derivatives that have been entered into by the securitisation companies (see note 16). These consist of interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps all with a term of over 5 years. The underlying principal amounts at 31 December 2004 were £1,636.1m and £14,810.2m (2003 £1,257.1m and £10,365.4m). Positive book values amounted to £nil and £270.6m (2003 £nil and £192.5m) and negative book values amounted to £nil and £1,368.5m (2003 £nil and £1,057.8m). Positive fair values were £42.7m and £275.4m (2003 £19.6m and £192.1m) and negative fair values were £0.3m and £1,367.1m (2003 £0.1m and £1,042.6m).

The above tables show the gains and losses on off balance sheet derivative instruments used for hedging by the Group. The gains and losses do not therefore represent absolute gains or losses expected by the Group as they will be substantially offset by corresponding losses or gains from on balance sheet instruments.

Currency risk

No analysis has been provided of the Group's structural currency exposures on the grounds of materiality. Where the Group has transactional currency exposures, it uses a variety of derivative products to eliminate this risk and therefore has no material transactional currency risk.

38. Fair values of financial instruments

The table set out below details the book and fair values for some of the Group's financial instruments. This analysis excludes those financial assets which are not listed or publicly traded, and for which no liquid and active market exists. It therefore excludes loans and advances to customers, retail deposits and certain other balance sheet items.

Fair value is the amount at which a financial instrument could be exchanged in an arm's length transaction between informed and willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale and excludes accrued interest. Where available, clean market prices have been used to determine fair values for securities converted at the spot rate of exchange where appropriate. For short term and floating rate borrowings the book value approximates to fair value because of short maturities and reset periods. For longer dated fixed rate borrowings where a market price is unavailable, the fair value has been estimated by adjusting the book value to reflect the effect of related hedging derivatives. The fair values of derivatives have been estimated by calculating the present value of estimated future cash flows.

In addition to the financial instruments above, there are a number of financial instruments within the securitisation companies (see note 16) for which the above disclosures are appropriate, which are currently contained within the linked presentation. These are debt securities in issue with a book value of £21,023.6m (2003 £14,023.9m) and a fair value of £21,123.2m (2003 £14,043.1m), derivatives receivable with a book value of £270.6m (2003 £192.5m) and a fair value of £318.1m (2003 £211.7m) and derivatives payable with a book value of £1,368.5m (2003 £1,057.8m) and a fair value of £1,367.4m (2003 £1,042.7m).

39. Non-sterling assets and liabilities

The aggregate amount of all assets and liabilities included in the balance sheet denominated in a currency other than sterling was as follows:

	2004 £m	2003 £m
Assets	2,966.5	2,362.3
Liabilities	13,496.2	9,463.9

The above assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than sterling do not indicate the Group's exposure to foreign exchange risk. The Group has no material net currency exposures as all borrowings in foreign currencies are either hedged with cross currency swaps or forward foreign exchange agreements, or are matched by assets denominated in the same currency.

40. Related party transactions

(i) At the end of the year the aggregate amounts outstanding from Directors, their connected persons and Officers, in relation to loans from and other credit transactions with the Company, and the number of persons concerned, were as follows:

	Directors		Officers
	2004	2003	2004	2003
Number of persons	5	6	15	13
Aggregate amount	£2.0m	£2.7m	£2.4m	£1.9m

(ii) The Company's total contribution payable under deed of covenant to The Northern Rock Foundation for the year ended 31 December 2004 amounted to £21.6m (2003 £19.3m; 2002 £16.3m). At 31 December 2004 the commitment in respect of amounts not yet paid was £11.6m (2003 £10.0m; 2002 £8.7m).

(iii) Except for the contribution to The Northern Rock Foundation, the Company has made no promotional and benevolent donations to organisations in which certain Directors and their connected persons hold positions of influence such as Directors, Trustees and Governors (2003 £nil; 2002 £nil).

(iv) The Company has mortgage loans outstanding from its related companies. Movements in these loans and provisions in respect of them during the year were as follows:

	£m
Cost:
At 1 January 2004 and 31 December 2004	0.1
Provisions:
At 1 January 2004 and 31 December 2004	0.1
Net book amount:
At 31 December 2004 and 31 December 2003	–

(v) Northern Rock plc is a listed company and its shares are held by a large number of investors. No investor acting individually has the ability to control the activities of the Company. Consequently it is considered that there is no ultimate controlling party as defined in FRS 8 "Related Party Transactions".

45. Differences between U.K. GAAP and U.S. GAAP

The financial statements prepared in this report have been prepared in accordance with U.K. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("U.K. GAAP"). Such principles vary in significant respects from U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("U.S. GAAP"). The differences applicable to Northern Rock's accounts are summarised below.

U.K. GAAP	U.S. GAAP
Loan origination fees	Loan origination fees
Loan origination fees received in respect of services rendered are recognised in fees and commissions receivable in the profit and loss account as the services are performed. Where loan origination fees or costs are in the nature of interest, they are recognised in the profit and loss account over the life of the loan.	Under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 91, "Accounting for Nonrefundable Fees and Costs Associated with Originating or Acquiring Loans and Initial Direct Costs of Leases" ("SFAS No. 91"), to the extent that loan origination fees are not offset by related direct costs, they are deferred and amortised through the profit and loss account as an adjustment to net interest income over the life of the loan.
Mortgage incentives	Mortgage incentives
In accordance with the British Bankers' Association Statement of Recommended Practice ("BBA SORP") on Advances, recoverable mortgage incentives are amortised through other interest receivable and similar income over the period during which such costs can be recovered. The BBA SORP on Advances does not allow the amortisation period to exceed the repayment charge period.	All mortgage incentives are deferred and amortised through the profit and loss account as an adjustment to net interest income over the life of a loan in accordance with SFAS No. 91.
Pension cost	Pension cost
Where pensions are provided by means of a funded defined benefits scheme, annual contributions are based on actuarial advice. The expected cost of providing pensions is recognised on a systematic basis over the expected average remaining service lives of members of the scheme. Variations from regular cost are spread over the average remaining service lives of current employees, on a straight-line basis.	Under SFAS No. 87, "Employers' Accounting for Pensions", the same basic actuarial method is used as under U.K. GAAP, but certain assumptions differ, assets are assessed at fair value and liabilities are assessed at current settlement rates. Certain variations from regular cost are allocated in equal amounts over the average remaining services lives of current employees.

45. Differences between U.K. GAAP and U.S. GAAP (continued)

Impairment of tangible fixed assets	Impairment of tangible fixed assets
Property is held on the balance sheet at a value not exceeding recoverable amounts. In 1998, FRS 11, "Impairment of Fixed Assets and Goodwill", ("FRS 11") became applicable. This introduced detailed measurement rules to calculate impairment, specified trigger events to initiate impairment reviews, and details specific circumstances under which past impairments should be reviewed and revaluations booked. On the implementation of FRS 11, there were no circumstances which required Northern Rock to review previous impairments. Impairments are recognised as a charge against profit in the year of identification.	SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" ("SFAS No. 144") addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment or disposal of long-lived assets. This Statement requires an entity to (a) recognise an impairment loss only if the carrying amount of a long-lived asset is not recoverable from its undiscounted cash flows and (b) measure an impairment loss as the difference between the carrying amount and fair value of the asset. Accordingly no impairment has been recognised under U.S. GAAP as the first step of the impairment test has not resulted in any asset carrying values being irrecoverable.
Stock-based compensation	Stock-based compensation
Stock-based compensation cost, arising from the award to employees of shares and options, is recognised through the profit and loss account over the period of the employee's performance. The cost of awards is measured on an intrinsic value basis (market value at date of grant less any employee contribution or exercise price). Costs of equity based instruments, such as share options, issued to employees under compensation schemes (except Inland Revenue approved Save as You Earn ("SAYE") schemes), must be recognised through the profit and loss account over the vesting period. For Inland Revenue approved SAYE schemes, equity based instruments are accounted for within the called up share capital and share premium accounts on the balance sheet when exercised. Provision should be made for employer payroll taxes on outstanding share options that are expected to be exercised, calculated at the latest enacted rate applied to the difference between the market value of the underlying shares at the balance sheet date and the option exercise price. This charge should be allocated over the period from the date of grant to the end of the performance period.	SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation", encourages companies to account for equity based instruments issued under compensation plans at their fair value, measured at the date at which the instruments are granted. However, the statement also permits the intrinsic value-based method of accounting, under which the compensation cost, being the excess, if any, of the quoted market price of the stock at measurement date over the exercise price, must be recognised in the profit and loss account over the period for which the employee provides service, which is generally the vesting period. On the balance sheet this is recorded as a corresponding adjustment to share premium. Northern Rock has adopted the intrinsic value-based method for the purposes of the reconciliation between U.K. and U.S. GAAP. Emerging Issue Task Force Issue No. 00-16, "Recognition and Measurement of Employer Payroll Taxes on Employee Stock-based Compensation", addresses how an entity should account for employer payroll taxes on stock based compensation. Costs incurred by companies for employer payroll taxes on employee stock-based compensation should be recognised when the tax obligation is triggered (generally the exercise date in the U.S. for a non-qualified option).

45. Differences between U.K. GAAP and U.S. GAAP (continued)

U.K. GAAP

Derivative financial instruments

All derivative financial instruments are used for hedging purposes. Transactions are initially recorded at cost and are accounted for on an accruals basis in accordance with the item or items being hedged. The related interest income and expense is accounted for on a basis in conformity with the underlying hedged position, primarily on an accrual basis. A portion of the Group's risk management activities are conducted on a portfolio basis without specifically designating derivative contracts as hedges of individual assets and liabilities.

Foreign currency transactions that are hedged with currency swaps are synthetically accounted for, resulting in assets and liabilities being recorded on the balance sheet at the exchange rate implicit in the swap contract.

Derivatives embedded with financial instruments are not required to be separately analysed. Products which contain embedded derivatives are valued with reference to the total product inclusive of the derivative element.

U.S. GAAP

Derivative financial instruments

Under U.S. GAAP, derivative financial instruments must be designated to a specific asset or liability or group of similar assets or liabilities in order to be accounted for as a hedge. Derivative financial instruments, which are not designated to specific assets or liabilities that are accounted for as hedges under U.K. GAAP, are accounted for as trading derivatives and recorded at fair value with changes in fair value reflected through the income statement. Derivatives used to hedge or modify the interest rate characteristics of debt securities which have been classified as available for sale under U.S. GAAP are carried at fair value with unrealised gains or losses deferred as a component of shareholders' equity.

Under U.S. GAAP, SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS No. 133") established accounting and reporting standards for derivative financial instruments, including certain derivatives used for hedging activities and derivatives embedded in other contracts. SFAS No. 133 requires all derivatives to be recognised on the balance sheet at fair value. The recognition of the changes in the fair value of a derivative depends upon its intended use. Derivatives that do not qualify for hedging treatment under SFAS No. 133 must be adjusted to fair value through earnings. For fair value hedges that qualify under SFAS No. 133, the changes in the fair values of the derivatives will be recognised in earnings together with the change in fair value of the hedged item attributable to the risk being hedged. For cash flow hedges that qualify under SFAS No. 133, the changes in the fair value of the derivatives will be recognised in other comprehensive income until the hedged item affects earnings. For all hedging activities, the ineffective portion of a derivative's change in fair value will be immediately recognised in earnings.

SFAS No. 133 further requires derivatives that are embedded within financial instruments to be separated from the host contract and fair valued if it is not deemed clearly and closely related to the host. If the derivative cannot be separated, SFAS No. 133 requires the entire instrument to be fair valued.

Northern Rock uses interest rate swaps to reduce interest rate exposure to fixed rate mortgages and to fixed rate savings bonds, as noted above. In economic terms, these swaps provide an effective hedge against interest rate movements. However, under the terms of SFAS No. 133, these swaps do not qualify as effective hedges. In the case of the swaps hedging fixed rate mortgages, this is because the swaps only cover the periods for which mortgage interest rates are fixed, not the full life of the mortgage loans. In order to mitigate the impacts of this on its earnings as measured under U.S. GAAP, Northern Rock has chosen not to treat swaps against fixed rate savings bonds as hedges. This is because the valuation of these swaps will tend to move in an opposite direction to those transacted as economic hedges against fixed rate mortgages, thus lessening the impact on earnings. As a result of the above, there is a risk of volatility within reported profits under U.S. GAAP. Northern Rock does not believe that it is appropriate to alter its hedging policies and procedures specifically to comply with SFAS No. 133. Therefore many derivatives are deemed to be non-hedging instruments for U.S. GAAP purposes despite eliminating either completely or substantially the interest rate risk associated with these fixed rate products and continuing to qualify as hedges within U.K. GAAP.

Deferred tax	Deferred tax
Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more tax in the future or a right to pay less tax in the future have occurred at the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that, on the basis of all available evidence, it can be regarded as more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing differences can be deducted. Provision is calculated at rates expected to be applicable when the liability or asset crystallises. Deferred tax is provided on a non-discounted basis.	Under SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes", provision for deferred tax under the liability method is required in full for all temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised in full with valuation allowances provided where it is considered more likely than not that some portion of the deferred tax asset will not be realised.
Investments in securities	Investments in securities
Securities held for investment purposes are stated at cost less provision for diminution in value. Cost is adjusted for any amortisation of premium or discount and excludes accrued interest. All securities not held for investment purposes would be stated at market value and profits and losses arising from this revaluation would be taken to the profit and loss account. Northern Rock only holds securities for investment purposes.	Securities are classified as trading securities, available for sale securities, and held to maturity securities in accordance with SFAS No. 115, "Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities". Held to maturity securities are accounted for in the same way as securities held for investment purposes under U.K. GAAP. Trading securities are accounted for in the same way as securities not held for investment purposes under U.K. GAAP. Available for sale securities are reported at fair value, with unrealised gains and losses excluded from earnings, but reported in Other Comprehensive Income. Unrealised gains and losses on derivative financial instruments hedging available for sale securities are also reported in Other Comprehensive Income.

	If an available for sale security is redesignated as held to maturity, any unrealised holding gain or loss at the date of transfer continues to be reported in other comprehensive income. This unrealised gain or loss is amortised over the remaining life of the security.
	Available for sale and held to maturity securities are reviewed to determine if a decline in fair value below amortised cost is other than temporary. If the decline is judged to be other than temporary, the cost basis is written down to fair value as a new cost basis and the amount of the write down is included in earnings.
Treasury stock	Treasury stock
A company may purchase its own shares provided the laws on capital maintenance are adhered to and such shares must be cancelled on redemption or repurchase. Where the redemption or repurchase is paid for from profits, an amount equivalent to the nominal value is transferred from share capital to a non-distributable capital redemption reserve. An exemption is available for shares purchased by an employee benefit trust. Such shares are recorded at cost and shown as a deduction from shareholders' equity.	When a company's own shares are repurchased, the shares are recorded at cost and shown as a deduction from shareholders' equity. Any profit or loss on the subsequent sale of the shares is shown as a change in equity.
Dividends payable	Dividends payable
Dividends declared after the period end are recorded in the period to which they relate.	Dividends are recorded in the period in which they are declared.
Reserve capital instruments	Reserve capital instruments
Following the publication of UITF 33, "Obligations in financial instruments" in February 2002, reserve capital instruments ("RCIs") are now reported on the balance sheet as a liability and the gross coupon payable recorded as interest payable. Previously, RCI's were part of shareholders' funds and the coupon payable was shown as an after tax appropriation of profit.	Reserve capital instruments are included in shareholders' funds in the balance sheet.
Reserve capital instruments appropriations are accounted for on an accrual basis except where ultimate payment is deemed remote. The appropriations are included in the determination of profit on ordinary activities and earnings per share.	Cumulative dividends on reserve capital instruments are not accounted for until declared, and are not included in the determination of net income. Cumulative reserve capital instrument appropriations are deducted however from net income when computing income available to ordinary shareholders for earnings per share calculation purposes.

Consolidated cash flow statement	Consolidated cash flow statement
Cash flow statements are prepared in accordance with FRS 1 (revised), "Cash Flow Statements". Cash flows do not include cash equivalents. Cash flows are presented under the headings of Operating activities, Returns on investment and servicing of finance, Taxation, Capital expenditure and financial investment, Acquisitions and disposals, Equity dividends paid and Financing.	In accordance with SFAS No. 95, "Statement of Cash Flows", ("SFAS No. 95") cash equivalents are included within cash flows. Cash flows are presented under the headings of Operating, Investing and Financing activities. A cash flow statement has been prepared under SFAS No. 95 and is included in note 46.
Securitised assets	Securitised assets
Under FRS 5, "Reporting the Substance of Transactions", ("FRS 5") where assets are financed such that Northern Rock's potential loss is limited to a fixed monetary amount and it retains significant rights to benefits and exposure to risks, then provided certain specific criteria are met, the assets remain on balance sheet and the non-recourse finance received is deducted from the assets. This treatment is known as "linked presentation". Where the financing utilises a special purpose vehicle such that the risks and rewards to the Group are similar to those that would be obtained from a subsidiary, it is treated as a quasi-subsidiary and is consolidated into the Group results using linked presentation in accordance with FRS 5.	Under U.S. GAAP, SFAS No. 140, "Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities – a replacement of FASB Statement No. 125", ("SFAS No. 140"), prescribes accounting for securitisations, other transfers of financial assets and collateral. SFAS No. 140 provides accounting and reporting standards for transfers and servicing of financial assets and extinguishments of liabilities. Those standards are based on consistent application of a financial-components approach that focuses on control. Under that approach, after a transfer of financial assets, an entity recognises the financial and servicing assets it controls and the liabilities it has incurred, derecognises financial assets when control has been surrendered, and derecognises liabilities when extinguished. This Statement provides consistent standards for distinguishing transfers of financial assets that are sales from transfers that are secured borrowings. Northern Rock's securitisation qualifies as a secured borrowing, and it therefore recognises the assets and the associated financing on its balance sheet
Capitalisation of interest	Capitalisation of interest
Capitalisation of finance costs directly attributable to the construction of tangible assets is neither required nor forbidden under FRS15 "Tangible Fixed Assets". If a policy of capitalisation is adopted, it must be consistently applied to all such directly attributable finance costs.	Under SFAS No. 34, "Capitalization of Interest Cost" as amended by SFAS No. 42, "Determining Materiality for Capitalization of Interest Cost", interest costs on borrowings and other obligations associated with assets, which are prepared for use over time, are capitalised as part of the historical cost of the assets.

Goodwill	Goodwill
Goodwill arising on consolidation as a result of the acquisition of subsidiary undertakings is capitalised as an intangible fixed asset and is amortised through the profit and loss account on a straight line basis over its expected useful economic life. The expected useful economic life is determined at the time of an acquisition by considering the nature of the business acquired and the period of time over which the value of the business is expected to exceed the value of its net assets.	Under SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations" and SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets" goodwill resulting from acquisitions should be capitalised and is not amortised but tested for impairment annually. Such goodwill should be written off to the extent that it is judged to be impaired.
Goodwill is subject to impairment reviews in accordance with FRS 11 "Impairment of fixed assets and goodwill". The carrying value is written down by the amount of any impairment, and the loss is recognised in the profit and loss account in the period in which this occurs.
Extinguishment of liabilities	Extinguishment of liabilities
Under FRS 5, "Reporting the Substance of Transactions", a liability is extinguished if an entity's obligation to transfer economic benefits is satisfied, removed or is no longer likely to occur.	Under SFAS No. 140, "Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities – a replacement of FASB Statement No. 125", ("SFAS No. 140"), a debtor may de-recognise a liability if and only if either (a) the debtor pays the creditor and is relieved of its obligation for the liability, or (b) the debtor is legally released from being the primary obligor under the liability either financially or by the creditor.
Future developments	Future developments
International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") The European Parliament and Council of the European Union issued a regulation in 2002 that will require all EU listed companies to prepare their consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS rather than the existing national GAAP. The regulation takes effect for accounting periods beginning after January 1, 2005 and consequently the accounting framework under which the Group reports will change. The Group will produce its consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS for the year ended 31st December 2005.	Statement of Position 03-03, "Accounting for Certain Loans or Debt Securities Acquired in a Transfer", ("SOP 03-03") was issued in December 2003. SOP 03-03 addresses accounting for differences between the contractual cash flows and cash flows expected to be collected from an investor's initial investment in loans or debt securities acquired in a transfer if those differences are attributable to credit quality. SOP 03-03 is effective for loans acquired in accounting periods beginning after December 15 2004. The adoption of SOP 03-03 did not have a significant impact on the Group as there were no loans acquired during the period for which accounting under the SOP would be applicable.

IFRS includes a number of areas, principally financial instruments, where fair values are required to a far greater extent than under U.K. GAAP. This will create greater volatility in reported results and have an associated impact on other financial measures. Northern Rock is currently evaluating the impact of this change on its US GAAP reconciliations.	EITF Issue 03-01 "The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and Its Application to Certain Investments" was issued in January 2004. The EITF requires certain additional disclosures to other-than-temporary impairments for investments accounted for under the cost method or the equity method, classified as either available-for-sale or held-to-maturity under SFAS No. 115 (including individual securities and investments in mutual funds) and investments accounted for under SFAS No. 124. In September 2004, the FASB issued FSP EIFT 03-01-1 which delayed the effective date of EIFT 03-01 until the FASB staff addresses additional measurement issues affecting the consensus. The issue and the deferral of the EITF did not have a significant impact on the Group as the Group currently measures impairment using the principles embodied in the EITF. In March 2004, the SEC issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 105, "Application of Accounting Principles to Loan Commitments", ("SAB 105"). SAB 105 addresses the initial recognition and measurement of loan commitments that meet the definition of a derivative and is effective for all applicable loan commitments entered into, or substantially modified, on or after April 1 2004. The adoption of the SAB did not have a significant impact on the Group as the Group does not enter into any loan commitments that would meet the definition of a derivative. In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS 153, "Exchanges of Non-monetary Assets, an amendment of APB Opinion No. 29", ("SFAS 153") which provides for a general exception from fair value measurement for exchanges of non-monetary assets that do not have commercial substance. The Statement is effective for fiscal years beginning June 15 2005. The Group does not believe that the adoption of SFAS 153 will have an affect on its financial position or results of operations.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004), "Share-Based Payment", ("SFAS 123") which requires compensation costs related to share-based payment transactions to be recognised in the financial statements. The compensation cost will be based on the grant-date fair value of the equity issued and will be recognised over the period that an employee provides service in exchange for the award. SFAS 123 (revised 2004) will be effective for the Group from January 1 2006. Entities that use the fair value method for either recognition or disclosure under SFAS 123 will apply the revised Statement using a modified version of prospective application whereby for that portion of outstanding awards for which the requisite service has not yet been rendered, compensation cost will be based on the grant-date fair value calculated under SFAS 123 for either recognition or pro forma disclosures. For periods before the effective date, entities may elect to apply a modified version of retrospective application under which financial statements for prior periods are adjusted on a basis consistent with the pro forma disclosures required by SFAS 123. The Group currently makes pro forma disclosures of the effect on net income of compensation costs determined under the fair value method of SFAS 123.

In June 2005, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 154 ("SFAS 154") Accounting Changes and Error Corrections a replacement for APB Opinion No. 20 and FAS Statement No. 3. Opinion 20 previously required that most voluntary changes in accounting principle be recognized by including in net income of the period of the change the cumulative effect of changing to the new accounting principle. SFAS 154 requires retrospective application to prior periods' financial statements of changes in accounting principle, unless it is impracticable to determine either the period specific effects or the cumulative effect of the change. This Statement is effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005. Northern Rock does not currently expect this statement to have a significant impact on results of operations or financial position as they do not have or anticipate any changes to accounting principles that would fall to be accounted for under the standard

Under U.S. GAAP, the Group adopts the provisions of SFAS No. 87, "Employers Accounting for Pensions" ("SFAS No. 87"), as amended by SFAS No. 132, "Employers' Disclosures about Pensions and Other Post-retirement Benefits" and SFAS No. 132 (revised 2003), "Employers' Disclosures about Pensions and Other Post-retirement Benefits", in respect of the Northern Rock Pension Scheme, a funded plan as at 31 December 1995. The U.S. GAAP pension cost for the funded pension scheme, including the cost of guaranteeing the benefits of members within the defined contribution scheme approaching retirement, for 2004 of £14.0m (2003: £10.7m; 2002: £8.3m) compares with £7.7m in 2004 (2003: £7.5m; 2002: £6.9m) under U.K. GAAP.

The Accumulated Benefit Obligation was calculated based on Approach 2 disclosed in EITF 88-1 "Determination of Vested Benefit Obligation for a Defined Benefit Pension Plan". In this approach, the actuarial present value of the vested benefits to which the employee is currently entitled is based on the employee's expected date of separation or retirement, as opposed to Approach 1, where the Vested Benefit Obligation is the actuarial present value of the vested benefits to which the employee is entitled if the employee separates immediately. The Accumulated Benefit Obligation at 31 December 2004 was £185.3m.

Under SFAS No. 87, the excess of plan assets over the projected benefit obligation at the transition date totalled £5.4m and was recorded as a net asset and increase to shareholders' funds. This net asset is recognised as a reduction to pension expense on a prospective basis over approximately 8 years.

Principal financial assumptions

The financial assumptions used to calculate the projected benefit obligation for the Company's pension scheme at 31 December 2004, 2003 and 2002 were as follows.

	2004 % pa	2003 % pa	2002 % pa
Discount rate	5.30	5.40	5.60
Rate of pay escalation	4.50	4.40	4.05
Rate of pension increase	3.10	3.00	3.00
Rate of expected return on plan assets	6.70	6.80	6.70
Price inflation	2.75	2.65	2.30

The assets of the plan are invested primarily in equity and fixed interest securities.

The overall expected return on plan assets assumption is derived as the weighted average of the expected returns from each of the main asset classes. The expected return for each asset class reflects a combination of historical performance analysis, the forward looking views of financial markets, as suggested by the yields available, and the views of investment organisations.

Plan assets

The Trustees of the Northern Rock Pension Scheme determine their investment strategy with regard to the liability profile of the Scheme. The Trustees have determined the following benchmark which they believe provides an adequate balance between maximising the return on assets and minimising the risk of failing to meet the liabilities over the long-term.

Asset category	Target allocation at 31 December 2004 %	Percentage of scheme assets at 31 December 2004 %	Percentage of scheme assets at 31 December 2003 %

Bonds	42.5	40.3	41.7
Property	5.0	6.0	4.1
Cash	–	0.5	0.7

Overall, the Trustees of the Northern Rock Pension Scheme aim to have a sufficiently diversified portfolio.

Staff who joined the scheme before 1 July 1999 participate in the funded, contracted-out, defined benefit section of the scheme unless they opt out. Retirement benefits of this section of the scheme are based on the individual's final year's pensionable salary and the number of years pensionable service with the Group at retirement. Other staff, including those employed at 1 July 1999 but not members of the defined benefit section of the scheme at that date, together with staff employed from 1 July 1999, participate in the contracted-in defined contribution section of the scheme unless they opt out. Retirement benefits of this section of the scheme are based on the individual's periodic contributions to the scheme and the relative market performance of the investments. The U.S. GAAP pension charge for this section of the scheme, excluding the cost of guaranteeing the benefits of members approaching retirement, is the same as the U.K. GAAP charge and amounted to £1.3m (2003: £1.1m; 2002: £0.8m).

b) Gains/(losses) on tangible fixed assets

During the year ended 31 December 1997, the Group recorded restructuring provisions of £11.6m in connection with the planned closure of certain branches and head office premises. Under U.S. GAAP the restructuring costs did not meet the criteria for recognition under SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of". This statement has now been superseded by SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets".

Disposal of branches during the period 2002 to 2004 resulted in amounts relating to restructuring provisions recorded during 1997 under U.K. GAAP being recognised in income under U.S. GAAP in those periods. This resulted in a decrease to net income under U.S. GAAP of £0.3m in 2002, £0.8m in 2003 and an increase to net income under U.S. GAAP of £0.8m in 2004.

Stock Option Schemes

Employee Share Option Scheme
The Employee Share Option Scheme is an incentive scheme established in 1998 under which eligible employees may be granted stock options. In accordance with the scheme, options are granted at an exercise price equivalent to market price on the grant date with a vesting period of 3 years. Upon vesting, options may be exercised up to ten years from the grant date. An initial grant of options was made in 1998 and a second grant was made in 2002.

Employee Sharesave Schemes
Qualifying employees may participate in the Employee Sharesave Schemes which are qualified Save as You Earn ("SAYE") schemes, as defined by the Inland Revenue. Under these schemes, employees may contribute a portion of their monthly salary, up to a specified maximum amount, and at the expiry of a fixed term, have the option to use the savings to acquire shares in Northern Rock plc. The fixed terms outlined in the schemes for option vesting are three, five and seven years. Options can be exercised up to six months after vesting. Employees who leave the Company prior to becoming fully vested may be able to exercise their options, for up to six months, if they meet certain specified criteria. Options are granted to the employees at a discount from the market price. This was 20% for the first two grants and 10% for the third grant. The vesting period for the options is equivalent to the fixed terms in accordance with the schemes' rules.

Three Sharesave schemes are currently in operation resulting from options offered to employees during 1997, 2000 and 2003. Employees can save in any number of the schemes up to an overall specified maximum amount.

The following tables summarise the movement in the number of stock options between those outstanding at the beginning and end of the year, together with changes in weighted average exercise price over the same period. The number of shares authorised for grant under each scheme was equal to the actual number of shares granted in all years presented.

Other Equity Instruments

Employee Share Ownership Scheme

The Employee Share Ownership Scheme was established in connection with the conversion of Northern Rock Building Society to a stock form U.K. licensed bank on 1 October 1997 ("conversion"). Each employee of the former building society was granted rights to shares, free from any consideration, following the conversion. These rights vested immediately and the shares were transferred to an independent trustee company upon grant date. The shares were transferred to the employees by the trustee company on the third anniversary of the grant date. Compensation expense related to this scheme was £nil for all years presented.

Share Incentive Plan / Approved Profit Sharing Scheme

The Share Incentive Plan ("SIP") was established in 2003 and is available to all employees who have completed a minimum of six months of service. Provided that the Company meets certain performance criteria annually as outlined in the SIP, eligible employees are granted rights to shares in Northern Rock plc for an amount not in excess of 5% of their annual salary, free from any consideration. The rights to shares vest immediately. The Company subsequently purchases shares to satisfy the shares vested and transfers them to an independent trustee company. Shares are transferred to the employees by the trustee company on the fifth anniversary of the grant date. The SIP was introduced following changes to UK legislation regarding employee share compensation schemes. Prior to this the company operated an Approved Profit Sharing Scheme ("APSS") for employees. The qualifying conditions for and operation of APSS were the same as for SIP except that shares were transferred to the employees by the trustee company on the third anniversary of the grant date rather than the fifth anniversary. Compensation expense related to these schemes was £1.8m, £1.7m and £2.4m for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Long Term Incentive Plan

Executive Directors and certain other senior executives, who are not within 2 years of retirement age, are granted rights to shares under the Long Term Incentive Plan ("LTIP"). Rights to shares are granted under the LTIP to eligible employees free from any consideration. The vesting period for the shares is 3 years from the date of grant and is subject to certain performance targets for the Company over the vesting period. If certain performance criteria have been met by the Company, the employees may exercise their options within a 3 month window immediately subsequent to the vesting period. Compensation expense related to this scheme was £3.6m, £2.9m and £2.7 for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Share Matching Schemes

The Company operates two Share Matching Schemes which entitle certain employees to use their annual bonuses to purchase shares in Northern Rock plc. The first scheme applies to Executive Directors and other senior executives (Share Matching Scheme 1). Originally, for every four shares purchased by the employee, the Company granted the employee the right to one additional share, free from any consideration. This scheme was altered during 2000 such that the Company now grants the employee one additional share for every share purchased. Rights to these shares vest over 3 years from the grant date. The Company has purchased shares on behalf of the employees for the amounts allocated by them from their annual bonuses together with shares equivalent to the related rights granted and has transferred them to an independent trustee. The shares will be transferred to the employees at the end of the vesting period. Compensation expense related to this scheme was £2.1m, £1.3m and £0.7m for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

The second scheme (Share Matching Scheme 2) was introduced during 2001 and applies to Assistant Directors and senior managers. Under the scheme, employees are entitled to use their annual bonuses to purchase shares in Northern Rock plc. For every two shares purchased by the employee, the Company grants the employee the right to one additional share, free from any consideration. Rights to these shares vest over 3 years from the grant date. The company has purchased shares on behalf of the employees for the amounts allocated by them from their annual bonuses together with shares equivalent to the related rights granted and has transferred them to an independent trustee. The shares will be transferred to the employees at the end of the vesting period. Compensation expense related to this scheme was £0.3m, £0.2m and £0.1m for 2004, 2003 and 2002 respectively.

Deferred Bonus Plan

An Executive Director or senior executive who receives a bonus under the short term cash bonus scheme may, at the absolute discretion of the Remuneration Committee, be granted an award of shares under the plan with a pre-tax value equal to the pre-tax value of his bonus under the short term cash bonus scheme. A participant who is granted an award must normally continue to hold those shares and remain an employee of the Group for a period of three years from the grant date in order to retain the full number of shares so granted to him, although shares will be released earlier in certain "good leaver" circumstances. Compensation expense related to this scheme was £1.4m, £1.0m and £0.5m for 2004, 2003 and 2002 respectively.

Pro forma net income and basic and diluted earnings per share data

Northern Rock has adopted the intrinsic value based method to measure stock-based compensation, for the purposes of the reconciliation of net income between U.K. and U.S. GAAP.

If stock-based compensation for the stock-based compensation schemes had been determined based on the fair value at the grant dates, consistent with the method encouraged by SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation", net income and earnings per share would have been as shown on a pro forma basis below.

The fair value of each option granted under the five primary stock option schemes has been estimated as at the grant date using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following assumptions for 2004, 2003 and 2002. The fair values of rights to shares granted under the LTIP have been estimated as the market price of shares at the grant date. Note that if the fair values for shares granted under the other share compensation schemes had been calculated under the Black-Scholes model, they would have equated to the intrinsic value.

d) Deferred tax

In the reconciliations of U.K. to U.S. GAAP above and U.S. GAAP financial statements in note 46, the Group's deferred taxes have been recalculated following the guidance of SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes" ("SFAS No. 109"). The effect of this calculation is shown in the reconciliations of U.K. to U.S. GAAP in the line item "deferred tax".

The principal components of the Group's net deferred tax asset/(liability) calculated under SFAS No. 109, are as follows.

	2004 £m	2003 £m
Deferred tax liabilities:
Excess of capital allowances over depreciation	(9.3)	(8.8)
Contribution from mortgage indemnity insurance subsidiary	(49.9)	(35.3)
Pension fund prepayment	(6.1)	(4.1)
Other timing differences	(2.1)	(2.5)

Deferred tax assets:

Less: valuation allowance	(4.2)	(6.7)
Deferred tax assets less valuation allowance	35.6	31.7
Net deferred tax liability under SFAS No. 109	(31.8)	(19.0)
Net deferred tax asset/(liability) arising from differences in U.K. and U.S. GAAP	64.8	(11.6)
Net deferred tax asset/(liability) under U.S. GAAP	33.0	(30.6)

The valuation allowance against deferred tax assets at 31 December 2004 and 31 December 2003 principally relates to unrealised capital losses arising on the write down of property upon restructuring and realised capital losses on the disposal of care homes.

e) Earnings per share ("EPS")

Under U.S. GAAP, SFAS No. 128, "Earnings per Share" requires certain disclosures relating to earnings per share in addition to the presentation of basic and diluted earnings per share on the face of the Group's profit and loss account. The following tables provide reconciliations of income and number of shares used in the calculation of basic and diluted EPS for the years ended 31 December 2004, 2003 and 2002.

Basic EPS from net income	42.3	76.7	35.0

f) Goodwill and other intangible assets

Upon acquisition of Legal & General Bank Limited and Legal & General Mortgage Services Limited, on August 1, 2002, the Group adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 141 "Business Combinations" and SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets", ("SFAS No. 142"). The Group was not required to adopt the provisions of these standards prior to this date as the Group did not have any existing goodwill or intangible asset balances. In accordance with SFAS No. 142, goodwill arising on the acquisition of Legal & General Bank Limited and Legal & General Mortgage Services Limited of £29.9m has been capitalised and is subject to an impairment test at least annually, whereby impairment test reviews may result in annual goodwill write-downs. No other intangible assets were recognised on acquisition.

Since the date of acquisition, the acquired entities have been subsumed within the Group's normal trading operations. Consequently, in accordance with the impairment testing provisions of SFAS No. 142, goodwill arising on acquisition has been assigned to the consolidated Group level, being the Group's single business segment and reporting unit. If the fair value of this reporting unit is less than its carrying value, a goodwill impairment loss would be recognised equal to the excess, if any, of the net carrying value of the reporting unit goodwill over its implied fair value. In determining the estimated fair value of the reporting unit, the Group has used its quoted market share price as of the date of testing.

The Group performed its goodwill impairment test as of 31 December 2004 and deemed that there were no indicators of goodwill impairment existing.

The changes in the carrying amount of goodwill for the year ended 31 December 2004 are as follows:

	£m
Balance as of January 1, 2004 and December 31, 2004	29.9

The value of goodwill acquired under U.S. GAAP represents the difference between the cost of the investment in Legal & General Bank Limited and Legal & General Mortgage Services Limited and the fair value of the assets acquired as measured under U.S. GAAP. The carrying amount of goodwill at 31 December 2004 is £2.8m higher under U.S. GAAP as compared to U.K. GAAP. This is due to the fair value of assets acquired being £5.9m higher under U.S. GAAP resulting from different amortisation periods for mortgage incentives acquired (see page F-50), net of cumulative amortisation charge of £8.7m under U.K. GAAP since acquisition not required under U.S. GAAP.

g) Investment securities (continued)

At 31 December 2003 the book value of corporate debt securities guaranteed by banks or other financial institutions amounted to £1,901.2m, comprising £1,601.2m classified as available for sale and £300.0m classified as held to maturity. Their market value at this date was £1,919.5m, comprising £1,612.6m classified as available for sale and £306.9m classified as held to maturity.

At 31 December 2003 available for sale investment securities pledged to creditors amounted to £671.6m. Their market value at this date was £688.1m.

An impairment charge of £6.7m was recognised in net income during 2002 in respect of an investment within equity securities where a decline in its fair value below amortised cost was judged to be other than temporary. The book value of equity securities at 31 December 2004 and 2003 includes this investment at its fair value.

The movement during the period in shareholders' funds in relation to the net unrealised gains or losses on available for sale securities, excluding the effect of derivatives held as hedges against these securities, was an increase of £10.1m for 2004 and a decrease of £17.7m for 2003.

h) Consolidated cash flow statement

Under SFAS No. 95, "Statement of Cash Flows" as amended by SFAS No. 104 "Statement of Cash Flows – Net Reporting of Certain Cash Receipts and Cash Payments and Classification of Cash Flows from Hedging Transactions", the Group experienced an outflow of cash and cash equivalents of £194.2m during the period ended 31 December 2004. Under FRS 1 (Revised), "Cash flow statements", the Group experienced an outflow of cash of £705.8m over the same period.

FRS 1 (Revised) is broadly consistent with IAS 7, "Cashflow statements", with the exception of the definition of cash and cash equivalents which is disclosed below.

Cash equivalents under U.S. GAAP are defined as "short term, highly liquid investments which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash without notice and which were within three months of maturity when acquired".

The following table summarises the movement and composition of cash and cash equivalents for each of the years ended 31 December 2004, 2003 and 2002.

The following table presents loans and advances which are defined as impaired in accordance with U.S. disclosure requirements. Under this definition loans and advances are classified as impaired if they are accounted for on a non-accruals basis; are in arrears for more than 90 days, irrespective of whether interest has been suspended or a specific provision has been made; or have been restructured and meet the requirements for classification as a "troubled debt restructuring" under SFAS No. 15, "Accounting by Debtors and Creditors for Troubled Debt Restructurings" as modified by SFAS No. 114, "Accounting by Creditors for Impairment of a Loan".

j) Segmental information

The Group's operations are treated as a single business segment for management reporting purposes, therefore no segmental information is presented in accordance with SFAS No. 131, "Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information".

k) Significant group concentrations of credit risk

Under SFAS No. 105, "Disclosure of Information about Financial Instruments with Off balance-Sheet Risk and Financial Instruments with Concentrations of Credit Risk", group concentrations of credit risk exist if a number of counterparties are engaged in similar activities and have similar economic characteristics that would cause their ability to meet contractual obligations to be similarly affected by changes in economic or other conditions.

The Group's significant exposures to credit risk arise mainly in the residential mortgage portfolio. Residential mortgages (excluding securitised advances) represented 63% of total assets at 31 December 2004 (2003 62%). All of the Group's residential mortgage lending is concentrated in the U.K. Other secured advances and unsecured loans represented 14% of total assets at 31 December 2004 (2003 11%).

The overall day-to-day management of credit risk is delegated to individual business areas. Each business area utilises various qualitative and quantitative techniques to measure and manage their respective credit risk exposures. This includes the use of various credit risk mitigation techniques such as netting.

The customer loan risk management process incorporates sophisticated credit scoring systems to differentiate the credit risk associated with residential mortgage loans and unsecured loans, both at individual transaction and portfolio levels.

Credit exposure limits for corporates and financial institutions are primarily based on the credit ratings assigned by the rating agencies. Credit limits are monitored by the Management Board Asset and Liability Committee to ensure they remain within authorised counterparty credit limits as detailed in the Credit Risk Policy Statement approved by the Board of Directors.

Investments in U.K., German and Spanish Government securities amount to more than 10% of shareholders' funds. At 31 December 2004 the book value of investments in these securities amounted to £737.2m, £235.6m and £161.0m respectively. Their market value at this date was £752.8m, £236.2m and £164.6m respectively.

l) Derivatives

On January 1, 2001, for U.S. GAAP purposes many derivatives were deemed to be non-hedging instruments and were marked to market through income accordingly. Such instruments relate primarily to derivatives hedging the fixed rate mortgages and fixed rate bonds issued by Northern Rock, for which it has not been possible to obtain hedge accounting treatment under the terms of SFAS No. 133. However, these derivatives eliminate either completely or substantially the interest rate risk associated with these fixed rate products. The impact of adoption of SFAS No. 133 was a decrease of net income of £67.3m and to shareholders' equity of £70.7m.

The effects are primarily attributable to movements in the fair values of interest rate swaps used to reduce the risk associated with fixed rate products. It has also impacted assets and liabilities recorded on the balance sheet. The release in 2004 attributable to the fair value adjustment to the hedged item for the 12 month period was £4.3m (2003 £5.4m, 2002 £12.5m).

Under SFAS No. 133, the gain or loss on a derivative instrument designated and qualifying as a fair value hedging instrument as well as the offsetting loss or gain on the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk shall be recognised currently in earnings. Derivative values for qualifying and non-qualifying hedges were (£202.8m) and (£1,026.0m) respectively (2003 (£258.5m) and (£812.0m) respectively, 2002 (£148.6m) and (£496.4m) respectively).

Those derivatives which have qualified as fair value hedges under SFAS No. 133 have no ineffectiveness recorded in income for the years ended 31 December 2004, 31 December 2003 or 31 December 2002.

m) Fair values of financial instruments

Disclosures in the table below are in accordance with SFAS No. 107, "Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments", ("SFAS No. 107").

The fair values have been estimated using quoted market prices where available. Where no ready markets exist and hence quoted market prices are not available, appropriate techniques are used to estimate fair values which take account of the characteristics of the instruments, including the future cash flows, market interest rates and prices available for similar instruments. Unless otherwise specified, fair values of financial instruments have been estimated by discounting anticipated future cash flows using market interest rates offered at 31 December 2004 for similar instruments.

By its nature, the estimation of fair values is highly subjective and the results will depend largely upon the assumptions made. Considerable caution should therefore be used in interpreting the fair values, particularly if comparing with fair values presented by other financial institutions.

The Group attaches great value to its distribution network, its profile in the U.K., its personal financial services market and its relationships with its customers. However, such intangible assets are not recognised for the purposes of SFAS No. 107. Furthermore, the concept of fair values assumes that the financial instruments will be realised by way of sale. However, with the exception of certain non-trading securities, the Group intends to realise its assets through collection over time. Consequently, the Directors believe that the fair values significantly understate the true value of the group as a going concern.

m) Fair values of financial instruments (continued)

SFAS No. 107 does not apply to non financial assets and liabilities. Accordingly, tangible fixed assets and other non financial assets and liabilities are excluded from the table below.

The carrying values and estimated fair values of financial instruments are as follows:

Carrying amounts in the table above are as calculated under U.K. GAAP.

Under the Group's accounting policy, foreign currency assets and liabilities that are hedged using forward foreign currency contracts or currency swaps are translated at the contracted rates. Consequently the book value of the relevant asset or liability effectively includes the fair value of the hedging instrument.

Where quoted market prices are not available, fair values of on balance sheet financial instruments incorporate the discounted value of the principal amounts, whereas for associated hedges of the underlying interest flows, fair values of derivatives do not reflect principal amounts. Consequently movements in the fair values of on balance sheet financial instruments are not necessarily matched by equal and opposite movements in the fair values of related derivatives.

Other assets, prepayments and accrued income, other liabilities and accruals and deferred income may contain financial instruments which fall within the scope of SFAS No. 107. Unless specifically included, these financial instruments have been excluded from the above analysis as their fair values approximate to carrying values.

The approach to determining fair values for specific categories of financial instruments is described below.

m) Fair values of financial instruments (continued)

Assets

Debt securities

Where available, securities and investments have been valued using quoted market prices. Where market prices are not available, a valuation based on discounted cash flows, market prices of comparable securities and other appropriate valuation techniques has been used.

Loans and advances to customers

Loans and advances to customers are made both at variable and at fixed rates. As there is no active secondary market in the U.K. for such loans and advances, there is no reliable market value available for such a significant portfolio. However, if a market value could be ascertained, the Directors believe it would reflect the expectation of a long term and continuing relationship with a majority of the customers. Although substantial, this value is intangible and it cannot therefore be included in the fair value under SFAS No. 107. Consequently the Directors believe that, for the purposes of SFAS No. 107, the carrying value of the variable rate loans may be assumed to be their fair value.

Certain of the loans secured on residential properties are at a fixed rate for a limited period, typically two to five years from their commencement. At the end of this period these loans revert to the relevant variable rate. The fair value of each of these loans has been estimated by reference to the interest rate swap rates available at 31 December 2004 for maturities equal to the remaining fixed period. The fixed element of such loans is substantially hedged such that any movement in the value of the loan as a result of market interest rate changes will be offset by an equivalent movement in the value of the instrument used as a hedge.

Liabilities

Deposits by banks and customers

SFAS No. 107 states that the fair value of deposit liabilities payable on demand is equal to the carrying value. However, given the long term and continuing nature of the relationships with the Group's customers, the Directors believe there is significant value to the Group in this source of funds. Although substantial, this value is intangible and it cannot therefore be included in the fair value under SFAS No. 107. The fair values of term deposit liabilities are estimated by discounting the expected future cash flows using the rates currently offered for deposits of similar remaining maturities.

Debt securities in issue and subordinated liabilities

Where available the fair value of debt securities in issue and subordinated liabilities has been calculated using quoted market prices. For unquoted debt securities in issue and subordinated liabilities, fair values have been estimated using other valuation techniques.

Guarantees and other financial commitments

The Directors believe that, given the lack of an established market, the diversity of fee structures and the estimation required to separate the value of the instruments from the value of the overall transaction, it is generally difficult to estimate the fair value of financial commitments and contingent liabilities. These are therefore excluded from the above table. However, since the majority of these are at floating rates the book value may be a reasonable approximation to fair value. The book values of these instruments are disclosed in note 38.

Off balance sheet derivative financial instruments

The Group uses various market-related off balance sheet financial instruments, as explained in note 37. The fair value of these instruments is measured as the sum of positive and negative fair values at the balance sheet date, which is estimated using market prices where available or pricing models consistent with standard market practice.

46. U.S. GAAP financial statements

The following are the Group's consolidated balance sheets as at December 31, 2004 and 2003 and related profit and loss accounts, statements of cashflows and statements of changes in shareholders' equity for the three years ended 31 December 2004, prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP presentation requirements and adjusted to reflect all U.S. GAAP adjustments in the tables shown on pages F59 and F60.

Certain classification differences exist in financial reporting under U.K. GAAP and U.S. GAAP. For the Group, such differences primarily arise in the profit and loss account and cashflow statement.

The following comparison lists the line items shown on the Group's consolidated profit and loss account as reported under U.K. GAAP and the corresponding line items as reported under U.S. GAAP.
