Skanska starts three commercial projects in Poland and Czech Republic totaling about SEK 620 M

Skanska is starting three new commercial development projects in Central Europe.

In Warsaw, the second phase of Marynarska Point is being developed and built. The investment amounts to about SEK 300 M. The office building comprises approximately 14,000 square meters and is located in the expansive Mokotov business district.

Skanska has also started its first office project in Wroclaw. The first phase of the Grundwaldzki Center in central Wroclaw comprises about 11,000 square meters. Skanska's investment amounts to about SEK 200 M.

With a population of some 640,000, Wroclaw is Poland's fourth largest city. The city is a regional center for business, industry and higher education in southwest Poland.

At the same time, a 5,000-square-meter office project, Vysehrad Victoria, is being started in the Czech capital, Prague. Skanska's investment amounts to SEK 120 M.

Construction work has begun and the three projects are scheduled for completion in spring/summer 2008. Leasing activity has also been started.

"We note increased interest in our projects and demand is strong in these markets. Vacancies have been declining in the past quarters in Warsaw and Prague," says Lars Vardheim, President of Skanska Commercial Development Europe.

The newly started projects are all designed with a focus on energy efficient solutions to achieve environmental and costs advantages in the operation phase of the buildings.

Skanska already has two ongoing investment projects in Central Europe. The first phase of the Marynarska Point project is being constructed in Warsaw comprising about 13,000 square meters and will be completed during the first quarter of 2008.

In the Hungarian capital, Budapest, Nepliget Center, a 10,000-square-meter office center, is under way. It will be completed for occupancy during the first quarter of 2008.
