Bradford & Bingley plc agrees to sell its Housing Association loan book

Bradford & Bingley has agreed to sell its entire housing association book to Dexia, following a review of the growth potential and capital utilisation of these assets.

The book comprises £2.2bn of assets and is being sold for cash proceeds representing the book value of the loans transferred, adjusted to reflect break-funding charges. In 2006, these assets contributed approximately £21m to Group profits.

Selling these assets enables the Group to focus its activities on profitable growth in the core business of residential mortgage lending and retail savings. The cash proceeds of £2.2bn will further increase the Group's liquidity and provide funding for attractive, higher margin opportunities in these markets.

Commenting on the sale, Steven Crawshaw, Group Chief Executive said:

"The Board concluded back in April that the sale of our housing association book was a natural step in the development of Bradford & Bingley's strategy. It enables us to improve returns by redirecting our capital and funding resources to take advantage of the significant opportunities that exist in the UK mortgage market today".

Bradford & Bingley will provide restated H1 2007 and 2006 numbers to take account of this disposal with its pre-close trading statement on 29 November 2007.

Bradford & Bingley plc agrees to sell a portfolio of Commercial Property loans

Further to today's earlier announcement, Bradford & Bingley has agreed to sell a portfolio of commercial property loans of £2.0bn to GE Real Estate, following a review of the growth potential and capital utilisation of these assets.

The portfolio of assets is being sold for a small discount to book value. In 2006 these assets contributed approximately £26m to Group profits. Following the sale, Bradford & Bingley will retain around £800m of commercial property assets.

As with the sale of our housing association book, selling these assets enables the Group to focus its activities on profitable growth in the core business of residential mortgage lending and retail savings. The cash proceeds of £2.0bn will further increase the Group's liquidity and provide funding for attractive, higher margin opportunities in these markets.

Combined with today's earlier announcement, these disposals are expected to produce a loss on disposal in the range of £15-40m.

Commenting on the disposals, Steven Crawshaw, Group Chief Executive said:

"These disposals are a natural step in the development of Bradford & Bingley's strategy. The £4.2bn proceeds will enable us to improve returns by redirecting capital and funding resources to take advantage of the significant opportunities that exist in the UK mortgage market today".

Bradford & Bingley will provide restated H1 2007 and 2006 numbers to take account of this disposal with its pre-close trading statement on 29 November 2007.
