Independent Auditors' Report

To the Member of Newcastle Distributors, LLC:

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Newcastle Distributors, LLC (the Company) as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related statements of operations and changes in member's equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Newcastle Distributors, LLC as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplemental schedule is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplemental information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Newcastle Distributors, LLC
Notes to the Financial Statements
For the Years Ended December 31, 2007 and 2006

Note 1 - General

Organization - Newcastle Distributors, LLC (the Company) was formed in December 2005 as a limited liability company under the laws of the State of Connecticut. As such, the owner (the Member) is not liable for the debts of the Company. The Company is a registered broker-dealer located in Avon, Connecticut.

Description of Business - As a securities broker and dealer and an investment advisor, the Company is engaged in various securities trading and brokerage activities, servicing a diverse group of individual and institutional investors.

The Company does not hold funds or securities for, or owe funds or securities to customers. The Company is involved in investment banking activities and is subject to the reserve requirement provisions of Rule 15c3-3. However, to conform to the exemption provision under Rule 15c3-3, the Company has established a segregated cash account for the exclusive benefit of customers and is exempt from the calculation of a reserve requirement within Rule 15c3-3 under the exemptive provision Section (k)(2)(i) of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934.

The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (NASD) and Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). The Company is subject to federal and state security laws, as well as the NASD.

The Company began operations as a broker-dealer upon receipt of its certificate of membership into the NASD effective September 27, 2006. The Company is primarily engaged in sales of limited liability partnerships and the private placement of securities as authorized by the NASD.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation - The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - The Company classifies all securities with original maturity dates of three months or less as cash equivalents.

Income Taxes - The Company has elected to be treated as an LLC under the Internal Revenue Code, having the Company's income treated for federal income tax purposes substantially as if the Company were a partnership. The member's respective equitable shares in the net income of the Company are reportable on the individual's tax return. Accordingly, the financial statements reflect no provision or liability for federal income taxes.

Newcastle Distributors, LLC

Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, along with the disclosure of certain contingent assets and liabilities as of the financial statement date. Actual results in the future could vary from the amounts derived from management's estimates and assumptions.

Note 3 - Trading Activities

The Company's trading activities include providing securities brokerage and investment advisory services to third-party clients. The Company takes selective proprietary positions based on expectations of future market movements and conditions.

The Company is exposed to market risk on the various investments it holds. Market risk is the potential change in an instrument's value caused by fluctuations in interest rates, equity prices or other factors. The level of market risk is influenced by the volatility and the liquidity of the markets in which financial instruments are traded.

The Company is also exposed to credit risk, which is the risk of loss if an issuer or a counterparty fails to perform its obligations under contractual terms and the collateral held, if any, is deemed worthless (default risk). The Company has established policies and procedures for mitigating credit risk on principal transactions, including reviewing and establishing limits for credit exposure, maintaining collateral, and continually assessing the creditworthiness of counterparties.

At December 31, 2007 and 2006, the Company did not have any exposure to credit risk associated with non-marketable securities. The Company held no investments at December 31, 2007 and 2006.

Note 4 - Net Capital

The Company, as a registered broker-dealer in securities, is subject to the uniform net capital rule under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (SEC Rule 15c3-1). The Company must maintain a minimum net capital of the greater of 6.67% of aggregate indebtedness or $5,000, and the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, may not exceed 15 to 1. The rule also requires that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends be paid if net capital is less than 120% of the Company's minimum net capital requirement or its ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital exceeds 10 to 1.

Newcastle Distributors, LLC
Notes to the Financial Statements

At December 31, 2007 and 2006, the Company had net capital of $45,631 and $23,062, respectively, with a minimum net capital requirement of $5,000 for both years. The ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was .11 to 1 and .01 to 1 for December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Note 5 - Commitments and Contingencies

During the course of its operations, the Company grants credit to certain institutions under commission arrangements. Credit granted to these institutions is unsecured and subject to losses. Management closely monitors the institutions to whom it grants credit and does not see this risk of loss as significant.

Note 6 - Other income

The Company received a one-time special payment of $35,000 from the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority as benefit of the consolidation of NASD and the NYSE Member Regulation.

Supplemental Report on Internal Accounting Control
Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

To the Member of Newcastle Distributors, LLC:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Newcastle Distributors, LLC (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2007 in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the propose of expressing an opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with general accepted accounting principles such that there is a more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statement that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.
