Skanska reaches financial close for M25, London's Orbital Road

Skanska, as part of Connect Plus, has reached financial close for the widening of the M25 orbital road around London. The project is being carried out as a Public Private Partnership (PPP) and Skanska is part of the team responsible for the Design, Build, Finance and Operate (DBFO). This means that:

- Skanska receives a construction contract amounting to about GBP 500 M, about SEK 6 billion, which will be included in order bookings for the second quarter.
- Skanska will invest GBP 80 M, about SEK 965 M, throughout the construction period, corresponding to a 40-percent interest in Connect Plus Connect Plus, in addition to Skanska Infrastructure Development with 40 percent interest, includes Balfour Beatty with 40 percent as well as Atkins and Egis, each with a 10-percent interest. The design-build project is being carried out by Skanska UK and Balfour Beatty in a 50/50 joint venture.

"We now have the financing in place, despite the prevailing economic situation. This is highly positive for us for a number of reasons," says Johan Karlström, President and CEO of Skanska. "It makes new investment for our Infrastructure Development operations possible as well as securing a major construction assignment for our UK construction operations. Moreover, Skanska is breaking new ground for transport infrastructure in the PPP segment in the UK, where to date we have been successful with regard to hospitals and schools."

Skanska, as part of Connect Plus, will be responsible for the design, construction, financing and operation and maintenance of the M25 motorway for 30 years for the British Highways Agency. The operation and maintenance undertaking will be carried out by joint a venture between Balfour Beatty, Atkins and Egis.

The project comprises renovation and widening of two sections in the North East and North West quadrants of the M25 north of London. A total of 63 km is being widened from three to four lanes in each direction. The widening is between junctions 16 to 23 and 27 to 30. The assignment covers design and construction of the roadways, including on- and off-ramps and related undertakings such as motorway control systems, drainage and landscaping.

The project also includes complete refurbishment of the 1.2 km long Hatfield Tunnel on the access road A1(M).

The main construction work will begin this summer and is scheduled to be fully completed in July 2012.

The M25, also known as the London Orbital Motorway, connects the entire Greater London and is one of the world's busiest motorways.

Skanska Infrastructure Development is a leader in the global Public Private Partnerships (PPP) market. The business unit invests in, develops and operates roads, hospitals, schools, power plants and other social infrastructure in partnership with the public sector.

Skanska and Platzer enter into property transaction in Gothenburg generating a gain of SEK 97 M for Skanska

Washington, DC

Skanska and Platzer have entered into a property transaction agreement in which Skanska will divest two parking garages and an office building in Gothenburg and acquire four development properties. Skanska will receive a net amount of SEK 168 M, generating a gain of SEK 97 M which is reported in the second quarter. Occupancy will be in June 2009.

Platzer will acquire the Gullbergsvass and Gårda parking garages in central Gothenburg and an office building in Högsbo, south of Gothenburg. The three properties comprise a total of 2,500 square meters of office premises and about 950 parking spaces.

At the same time, Skanska will acquire four development properties from Platzer, including the property adjacent to Skanska's Gothenburg office at Lilla Bommen in central Gothenburg. The others are located in the Orrekulla industrial park north of Gothenburg. The acquisition comprises a total of 21,000 square meters of building rights.

"We net acquire properties in locations we prioritize and consequently strengthen our presence in these areas, in accordance with Platzer Fastigheter's stated growth ambitions. The properties provide a stable cash flow today, but also represent significant future possibilities," says P-G Persson, President of Platzer Fastigheter.

"We are divesting completed properties and acquiring strategic building rights for future projects. This will enable us to develop modern, efficient and green buildings that appeal to tenants and investors," says Cecilia Fasth, President of Skanska Fastigheter Göteborg.

Skanska is currently developing a new office building with a strong environmental profile in Gårda. The property will be LEED certified and it is Gothenburg's first property certified under the EU GreenBuilding scheme. This means that the building's energy consumption will be at least 25 percent lower than the level stipulated by the Swedish National Board of Housing, Building and Planning in its standards for newly constructed properties.

Skanska Commercial Development Nordic initiates and develops property projects involving office, logistics and retail buildings. Office buildings are concentrated in the three major metropolitan regions in Sweden, the Copenhagen region in Denmark and Helsinki in Finland.

The business unit pursues the development of logistics and high-volume retail properties at strategic locations in Sweden, Denmark and Finland.
