INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
Detwiler Fenton & Co.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Detwiler Fenton & Co. (the "Company") as of December 31, 2010, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Detwiler Fenton & Co., as of December 31, 2010, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying computation of net capital under SEC Rule 15c3-1, statements of computation for determination of reserve requirements under SEC Rule 15c3-3 and information relating to possession or control requirements under SEC Rule 15c3-3 are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Employee Receivables — The Company carries employee receivables, which primarily represent loans extended to certain employees under terms of their employment agreements. The principal is forgivable on an annual basis over a four-year period ending in October 2013 subject to each respective employee remaining in good standing with the Company. The forgiveness of the principal on the loan receivable is recorded within compensation and benefits expense (see Note 11).

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONCLUDED)

Fair Value of Other Financial Instruments — The Company does not record any assets or liabilities at fair value on either a recurring or non-recurring basis.

Bonuses Payable — Bonuses are recognized as earned and/or vested to employees.

Commissions and Execution Costs — Commission revenues and expenses and related execution costs are recorded on a trade date basis as securities transactions occur.

Investment Advisory and Private Placement Fees — Generally, investment advisory fee revenues are based on a percentage of asset balances at the end of each calendar quarter. Private placement fees result from the direct sale of securities to investors.

Income Taxes — Income tax assets arise from credits to the statement of operations for the estimated income taxes receivable by the Company for the current year.

Deferred income taxes receivable are recorded for future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of assets and their respective tax bases. Deferred income tax assets are measured using enacted income tax rates and a valuation allowance is established if it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the deferred income tax assets will not be realized. The Company participates in the filing of the consolidated federal income tax return of its Parent and records federal income tax expense using a 34% income tax rate. The deferred tax provision and a related receivable are recognized to the extent of timing differences attributable to the Company.

The estimated tax impact of tax positions which do not meet the more-likely-than-not criteria is required to be recognized in the financial statements. There are no provisions for uncertain tax positions as of December 31, 2010.

Use of Estimates — The preparation of the Company’s financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported in the accompanying financial statements. Actual results could vary from the estimates that were used.

Matching contributions vest to the employee equally over a five-year period. 8. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Company from time to time is subject to legal proceedings and claims which arise in the normal course of its business. Management believes that resolutions of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations or financial condition.

In the normal course of business, the Company may enter into contracts and agreements that contain a variety of representations and warranties which provide general indemnifications. The maximum exposure to the Company under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Company expects the risk of loss to be remote.

9. CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK AND OFF-BALANCE SHEET CREDIT RISK

The Company clears all of its securities transactions through a clearing broker on a fully-disclosed basis. Pursuant to the terms of the agreement between the Company and the clearing broker, the clearing broker has the right to charge the Company for losses that result from a counterparty's failure to fulfill its contractual obligations.

DETWILER FENTON & CO.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (CONCLUDED)

9. CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK AND OFF-BALANCE SHEET CREDIT RISK (CONCLUDED)

As the right to charge the Company has no maximum amount and applies to all trades executed through the clearing broker, the Company believes there is no maximum amount assignable to this right. During 2010, the Company paid no claims to the clearing broker related to these guarantees.

In addition, the Company has the right to pursue collection or performance from the counterparties who do not perform under their contractual obligations. The Company monitors the credit standing of the clearing broker and all counterparties with which it conducts business.

10. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company provides certain executive, financial, computer systems and support, insurance, professional services, human resources and compliance services to certain affiliated companies of its Parent. The affiliates reimburse the Company on a monthly basis in the form of a management fee. The Company's Parent has an equity incentive plan in which it grants options on the Parent's common stock to employees of the Company. Accordingly, the Company absorbs the stock-based compensation and records a corresponding capital contribution from the Parent related to these option grants totaling $28,809 for the year ended December 31, 2010.

Due to the aforementioned related party transactions, the financial statements of the Company may not be indicative of the financial position, results of operations or cash flows that would have been reported if the Company had conducted its operations as an unaffiliated entity.

for a Broker Claiming an Exemption from Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission

To the Board of Directors of
Detwiler Fenton & Co.:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Detwiler Fenton & Co. (the "Company") as of and for the year ended December 31, 2010, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by Detwiler Fenton & Co. in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A deficiency in design exists when a control necessary to meet the control objectives is missing, or when an existing control is not properly designed so that, even if the control operates as designed, the control objective would not be met. A deficiency in operation exists when a properly designed control does not operate as designed, or when the person performing the control does not possess the necessary authority or competence to perform the control effectively.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2010, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
